GERMANY IS TOLD TO "GIVE IN OR DIE"

Reds Carve New Gains Near Gomel

German Reserves Fail To Dent Frontlines

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Dec. 3—(AP)— While German infantry and tank divisions, heavily reinforced by mechanized troops rushed from Western Europe, battered in vain against the Russians' Cherkasy bridgehead on the Dnieper river, Red Army troops carved out new gains yesterday northwest of Gomel, where they captured more than 80 tons, a Soviet communique announced today.

Fighting continued with unabated ferocity all along the front, despite the prevalence of rain, slush and snow, field dispatches said.

The Russian communique reported gains along the lower Pripet river, southeast of Zhlobin, and in the direction of Znamenka, a rail centre southwest of Kremenchug and key to lateral communications between the Kiev bulge and the Dnieper bend.

The war bulletin said the Germans were throwing troops against the Russian lines without consideration for large losses," especially in the Cherkasy sector.

Both the Russian and German communiques were silent concerning the bloody fighting in the Kiev bulge east of Zhitomir and Korosten, where tank battles of unparalleled intensity were said to be raging.

German broadcasts, however, reported a fresh Soviet offensive surging southwest along the Smolensk road toward Orsha and Minsk capital of White Russia, at the intersection of the Moscow-Warsaw and Libu-Kharkov railways. Berlin said the Red Army drive had pierced the German lines in two places.

Gen. Constantine Rokossovsky's drive for Lobin further decimated the enemy's strength, the war bulletin said.

Red Army vanguards pushing southwest of Kremenchug captured the townsof Dmitrovka and Fedorki, respectively six and 15 miles north of Znamekna, the communique said. Znamekna itself was reported within Red Army artillery range.

Army Refuses Tim Buck's Son

MOOSE JAW, Sask., Dec. 3 — (CP). — Tim Buck of Toronto, national leader of Labor Progressive Party, said in a public address here last night that his eldest son had been discharged from the Canadian Army nine days after enlistment because he was a "relative of Tim Buck."

The commanding officer asked the boy if he was a relative of Tim Buck, the speaker said, and when the reply was in the affirmative the officer asked him if he had the same ideas as his father, and again the reply was "Yes."

"You can turn in your uniform immediately," Mr. Buck quoted the Army officer as saying.

The former Communist leader stated that his son tried once a month to get in the Army from July, 1941, until October, 1942, and had been turned down each time until 10 days after Tim Buck's release from internment. "He then joined the R.C.A.F." Buck said.

"If he comes back safe and sound, he is not going back to the conditions he lived under before the war, if there is anything I can do about it."

No More Dishpans

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 3 — (AP).—Back to the dishpan after the war? Never! Say 75 per cent. of the working women answering a questionnaire circulated by a Los Angeles personnel conference. Of those planning to remain in industry, 10 per cent. said they hope to set up their own business firms when peace comes.

Ground Crew Demand Cut To Minimum

OTTAWA, Dec 3—(CP).—Air Minister Power today announced drastic reduction in the recruiting of men for R.C.A.F. ground crews.

"We have in the United Kingdom, in Canada or in training a sufficient number of ground crew for all Canadian squadrons now formed or to be formed," Maj. Power said.

Ground crew would only be needed in the future to replace casualties, men discharged, or men who remuster to aircrew.

The Minister also announced an R.C.A.F. transport command will be inaugurated next week to ferry mail to Canadian servicemen in the Mediterranean area.

With headquarters in Ottawa the new service will use a number of Flying Fortresses, obtained from the United States, and fly direct from the national capital to Britain or perhaps by other routes to the war areas.

80,000 On Ground.

The ground-crew recruiting is to be practically ended, the Air Force will continue recruiting aircrew men and its needs in that respect are as great as ever, said the Minister. Canada's commitments under the British Commonwealth air training plan call for 50 per cent. of all the recruits needed to keep the air training schools in Canada operating at capacity.

More than 80,000 persons, civilian and service, are employed on the ground in connection with the air training plan and the greater number are in uniform. In addition, the Air Force has had to recruit ground crews for home war establishment squadrons of the Air Force operating on both coasts and on Atlantic anti-submarine patrols.

The creation of all-Canadian squadrons overseas, not contemplated when the air training plan was drawn up, necessitated sending large numbers of ground crew overseas.

Maj. Power said it is not intended entirely to discontinue ground-crew recruiting. But all applicants

Food Disorders Sweeping Italy

AT THE SWISS - ITALIAN FRONTIER, Dec. 3.—(AP).—Germany has sent Brig.-Gen. Zimmerman of the SS troops to industrial Turin in northern Italy to suppress food disorders which have become more serious since Wednesday's Allied air raid, it was reported today.

Zimmerman's first act was a proclamation that his task was to restore order "at all costs" and promising food would be supplied to the people.

Libera Stampa at Lugano, Switzerland, said a factory at Croce Di Morone was attacked Nov. 7 by "Partisans," who included approximately 40 former Allied prisoners, headed by an American, Lieut Alberts, who lost his life in the battle. German casualties were said to have been 70 dead and 150 wounded, while the Partisans lost 36 dead and 58 wounded.

Finns Decide To Stick With Nazis

Cannot Surrender Unconditionally Will Fight To End

By EDWIN SHANKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 3.—(AP). — Finland has quietly dropped the propaganda line that she is fighting a private war disassociated from the world conflict and apparently has decided to continue the fight against Russia as a full-fledged partner of Germany.

This decision, following a period in which some Finnish leaders showed a tendency toward trying to get out of the war, was taken as the only practical alternative to plans formulated at the Moscow conference, which the Finns interpreted to mean they would have to surrender unconditionally, a reliable informant said.

In line with the new policy, which also refuected growing Nazi pressure, a directive was said to have been sent to the controlled Finnish press, instructing it that thereafter there should be no mention of a separate war.

Won't Surrender.

According to information reaching Stockholm, Premier Edwin Linkomies and Foreign Minister Sir Henrik Ramsay called the tune in a debate on future policy following the meeting of the representatives of Great Britain, the United States and Russia at Moscow.

They decided they could never accept unconditional surrender, preferring rather to fight on alone even after the Axis capitulated, it was reported.

Called to Helsinki for consultation following the Moscow conference, Toivo Kivimaeki, minister to Berlin, was quoted as telling a secret session of the Parliamentary Foreign Affairs committee that "we must please the Germans. There has been too much pro-ally tendency and too much anti-German demonstration."

So Germany appears to nave received what she wanted. She has agreed to furnish Finland tens of thousands of tons of grain and sugar by Jan. 1, and official Nazi newspapers are printing laudatory articles about "Finland's example" in which they emphasize that Finland is a "comrade in arms."

EXTRA!

NEW YORK—The United States may maintain a standing armed force of 2,500,000 men at the close of the war, Donald H. Davenport reported today, to cut unemployment.

OTTAWA—The revised Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act, extending benefits of the act to Manitoa as well as Saskatchewan and Alberta and replacing boards or review with hearings before courts, will come into force Dec. 15, it was learned today.

TORONTO—Bart G. Sullivan, Ontario regional superintendent of employment and selective service, announced here today that all part-time help presently employed in the retail trade may be taken on for full time by their present employers from Dec. 13 to Jan. 5, without a permit from selective service.

Many Like Him

ATLANTA, Dec. 3—(AP). —A Negro was arrested by the Federal Bureau of Investigation on charges of failing to sign up for selective service. "Why didn't you register?" asked Assistant U.S. Attorney Raymond W. Martin. "I did," the man replied, "but I don't know whether it was for the draft or for sugar."

Suggests Benes Mediator At Big 3 Meet

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3—(AP)—Czech President Edward Benes may act as mediator between the Poles and Russians, who are not on diplomatic speaking terms, at the Churchill-Roosevelt-Stalin conferences.

That suggestion cropped up in responsible quarters here today as the Red Army's advance toward the Polish frontier made the problem of severed relations between Poland and Russia increasingly acute.

Benes departed quietly from London several weeks ago and has been reported in the European press as having arrived at Moscow. Whether or not he is attending the Allied war councils as an adviser, it is generally believed the "big three" will discuss the question of administering liberated territories in Central Europe.

Czechoslovakia, it was pointed out, is about to sign a 20-year mutual defence pact with Russia and has often discussed the possibility of a Central European federation with Poland.

While Benes would not be likely to present a formula for solution of problems between Poland and Russia, it is known the Czech president has shown great interest in a reconciliation between the two neighbors.

Even before the treaty negotiations were disclosed, the warmth of Russo-Czech relations was evidenced when Benes revealed he would not push his cherished idea of Central European collaboration if it took on the tone of an anti-Soviet bloc.

The proposed treaty between Czechoslovakia and Russia contains a clause providing for adherence of bordering states—principally Poland. Should Polish-Russian difficulties be ironed out and Poland sign the pact, it may become the cornerstone for the eastern defence line against future German aggression.

Clark Orders 5th Army Into Advance

Artillery Paves Way For Substantial Gain

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press War Correspondent

ALGIERS, Dec. 3 (AP)—The British left flank of Lt.-Gen. Mark W. Clark's 5th Army, after a long stalemate on the western Italian front, hsa cracked forward through machine-gun-raked fields and barbed wire in the Calabritto area in the wake of a rolling barrage of artillery shells and aerial bombs, Allied Headquarters announced today.

The British 8th Army also continued to smash the Germans back beyond the Sangro ridge, and captured Castel Frentano, on a lateral road west of the important German defence town of Lanciano, and pushed on toward San Vito on the Adriatic coast, six miles beyond Wednesday's line. But Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's drive showed signs of slowing down.

Take Prisoners

Both the 5th and 8th Armies took prisoners in their advance.

The air force reported heavy attacks around San Giorgio, Rocca and Cervano on the 5th Army front where the Germans were said to have "mounted guns on every strategic height around the road to Rome."

Allied air attacks were the heaviest in many days and 17 German planes were destroyed for a loss of eight Allied planes.

The Germans made a particularly determined effort to halt the 8th Army in the Lanciano area where they held a 900-foot ridge which dominates the surrounding country. The Nazis were reported yesterday rushing reserves from Nor-

Down 257 Planes

LONDON, Dec. 3—(AP)—British-based planes of the United States Eighth Army Air Force established their best monthly record in November by dropping more than 7,670 tons of high explosives and incendiaries on Germany and Occupied Europe and shooting down 257 enemy aircraft, A.A.F. headquarters disclosed last night.

30 Four Ton Blockbusters Terrorize Bomb-torn Berlin

41 Aircraft Lost In All Sweeps During The Night

By GLADWIN HILL
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 3.—(AP).—Britain's block-busting armadas flew against Berlin last night for the fifth time in two weeks and fought their greatest battle yet in the relentless campagn to erase the Nazi capital. Squadrons of the R.C.A.F. bomber group took part in the raid.

Shooting toward a city already one-third demolished, where fires still flared from the previous attacks, the squadrons of four-engined bombers drove through flare paths lighting the approaches to the city from as far away as 50 miles, pierced exploding walls of heavy anti-aircraft fire and fought with scores of night fighers massed over the arena.

The Air Ministry announced the loss of 41 aircraft in this and other operations, but at the end they left great geysers of flame shooting up from the stricken city, the world's fourth largest, and billows of smoke and flame which climbed to heights of three miles. One of the missing planes was Canadian.

Early In Evening.

The fierce attack lasted half an hour and was over by 8 p.m. During this time at least 30 four-ton blockbusters—which can obliterate everything for hundreds of yards around —hurtled down. The telephone lines to Sweden were knocked out almost at once, but they were shortly restored.

The bombers dropped nearly 2,000 tons of explosives and incendiaries. This brought to about 15,000 the total dumped this year on the world's most-bombed city.

The Germans in their broadcasts acknowledged that the attack blanketed the whole Berlin area, already in a state of disruption with only a few transportation lines restored to service from previous attacks, with the streets still filled with debris and the people living from hand to mouth from temporary stores established in cellars and street stands.

Attacks Spread

Simultaneously with the Berlin attack, Mosquito raiders hit targets in Western Germany.

Indications were that the R.A.F. had achieved a destruction in Berlin to the extent that it was now spreading out its attacks to avoid bombing what had been hit before.

This was reflected in the German reports that the raid extended over the whole metropolitan area, and corroborated by Swedish correspondents' dispatches which said new fires were blazing all through the north, central and southern sections.

One of the greatest night air battles of history was fought in relatively clear weather in which the capital was only half covered by clouds and lit up by hundreds of searchlight batteries.

The Germans said the attack blanketed the whole greater Berlin area and returning fliers said "very large" fires were seen with smoke rising to great heights.

The raid probably brought the total bomb load dumped on the German capital since the start of the campaign to well over 15,000 tons, with more than 1,000 tons falling on the city last night.

The attack hit the city while it still was in a great state of disrup-

Diplomats Resign

BERNE, Dec. 3 — (AP).—Vichy Ambassador Admiral Francois Bard's diplomatic staff in Berne, resigned today in what was described as a protest against the Vichy Government's political attitude. The resignations were said to have resulted from dissatisfaction with the general policy of the Vichy Government and not from any specific recent event.

Three Reporters Lost In Raid On Berlin

LONDON, Dec. 3.—(CP)—Three war correspondents failed to return from last night's great R.A.F. raid over Berlin—Lowell Bennett of the International News Service, Norman Stockton of the Sydney, Australia, Sun, and another whose name was withheld temporarily.

Stockton, who reported the war in New Guinea and once served as deputy editor of the South China Morning Post, flew in the raid on the German capital with an Australian squadron of Lancasters.

Bennett was officially reported missing by the Air Ministry when the bomber in which he was a passenger failed to return.

Bennett made the flight as a representative of the "American Pool," and was to have written an eyewitness account of the bombing of Berlin for the three American news services—The Associated Press, the United Press and International News Service.

No Details Yet.

In announcing that Bennett was missing, the Air Ministry was able to furnish no details but said the Royal Air Force Bomber Command was making every effort to obtain further information.

In making one place available for an American correspondent to go on the raid, the air ministry invited the three American news services to draw lots. International Nesw Service, Associated Press and United Press balloted, and the lot fell to INS.

Bennett and William W. Wade, also of INS, both expressed a desire to make the trip and tossed a coin to decide the assignment.

Loss of Bennett, Stockton and the other newspaperman brought to 115 the casualties suffered by the Anglo-American-Canadian Press contingent in this war. Of this total 27 have been killed, 33 wounded, 10 are missing and 45 are prisoners of war or interned.

Edward Murrow, London correspondent of the Columbia Broadcasting System and Alfred King, London editor of the Sydney, Australia, Morning Herald, went on last night's raid and returned safely.

Crews All Ready For Ocean Hops

OTTAWA, Dec. 3 —(CP)—Fifteen crews of pilots, co-pilots, wireless air gunners and navigators have been training in Canada for month, preparing for the job of ferrying mail to Canadian troops in the Mediterranean area, it was announced today by R.C.A.F. headquarters.

The men will begin their ocean-hopping flights next week in a new mail squadron set up under the R.C.

Must Quit War Or Be Bombed Out Of Existence

By E. D. BALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 3.—(AP). — The London Star said today a Churchill-Roosevelt-Stalin conference in the Middle East has drawn up a final "give-in-or-die" ultimatum to Germany.

"Stalin is at war parley; meeting with Churchill and Roosevelt; give in or die to Germany," was the way the afternoon newspaper headlined the article.

(Earlier, Chairman Tom Connally of the United States Senate foreign relations committee had declared in Fort Worth, Texas, that "another great conference is taking place in the Middle East" among the three United Nations leaders, and described the meeting as "of paramount significance.")

Meet In Persia

"The Churchill, Roosevelt, Stalin meeting, about which there has been so much speculation, has taken place," the London Star said.

"The three statesmen now are conferring somewhere in the Middle East. Some reports, Axis and neutral, say the meeting place is Teheran; others say it is Tabriz, in the Russian military zone of Northern Persia.

"The first definite news of this new conference was given to the world by Connally in a radio address from Fort Worth."

Official London and Washington maintained silence, while continental radios told the world that Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and Premier Joseph Stalin were in Iran drawing up an ultimatum calling upon Germany to surrender under pain of being bombed to destruction.

The German-controlled Paris radio asserted that the conference was being held at Tabriz in northwest Iran, across the border from Russia.

Similar reports emanated from Berne, Vichy and Turkey. All agreed that the conferees were meeting somewhere in Iran, but some expressed belief the conference was being held in the capital at Teheran.

Turkey Reports.

Confirmed press dispatches from Turkey asserted that a demand to Germany to surrender or be bombed to destruction was being prepared and that the ultimatum would provide for stripping Germany of all her war gains.

"It is certain the Allies will make an unconditional surrender

Priest Describes Cruelty Of Japs

TORONTO, Dec. 3 (CP)—Father Charles B. Murphy of Sydney, N.S., told interviewers here today that he did not believe stories about Japanese bayoneting children, because "Japanese are very fond of children," but described one of his bad moments during internment near Hong Kong as a time when "they took some Canadians out and bayoneted them" at a part of the camp later named Death Gully.

Father Murphy, who was repatriated on the Swedish exchange ship Gripsholm, arrived here today.

Describing the bayoneting of the Canadians, he said: "They took four out of our section; men who had been in the Hong Kong reserves or regulars. We heard....the cries of the men."

He said that in general the women in Camp Stanley were able to stand the poor conditions better than the men, and related that although there were more than 50 deaths in the camp there were many marriages and several babies were born.

Soldiers' Mail Gets Preference

OTTAWA, Dec. 3 — (CP). — Inauguration next week of a new R.C.A.F. transport service to ferry mail to Canadian soldiers, sailors, and airmen in the Mediterranean area, was announced to-day by Air Minister Power.

The job will be carried out by a new mail squadron under Wing Cmdr. Bruce Middleton, young Winnipeg airman with long trans-ocean flying experience earlier in the war with British overseas airways.

At the same time Maj. Power disclosed at a press conference that all transport operations of the R.C.A.F. have been grouped into a new transport command, headed by Wing Cmdr. Z. L. Leigh.

Wing Cmdr. Middleton until recently was officer commanding a transport squadron ferrying supplies from Moncton, N.B., to Goose Airport in Labrador.

The new mail service, [illegible] will have headquarters in Ottawa, will operate its planes out of Ottawa for the duration of the war. The mail will be flown to the United Kingdom and then to the Mediterranean.

Decision to inaugurate the service was made after complaints had been received that mail deliveries to troops in the Mediterranean area were unsatisfactory.

"That was not due to the fault of anyone," Maj. Power said. "We did not have the machines to carry mail and I don't think the R.A.F. had.

"But we now have obtained from

Hitler Squirms After Cairo Conference

Edict Concerning Japan Worst Possible News For Head Of Nazi Party

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The grim Allied edict of Cairo that the Japanese Empire is to be dismembered is, by indifection, the worst possible news for Herr Hitler because it means that his own day of doom is hastened—a warning which the Nazi Fuehrer had driven home again last night in the roar of the great bombs with which the Royal Air Force deluged stricken Berlin.

When we stop to ar.lyze the implications of the Allied decision regarding Japan, we immediately encounter an all-important fact. This is that the operations in the various theatres of our global war are broadly speaking interdependent.

We cant' just say that we are going to render Nippon impotent, and then willy-nilly fling all our resources into that alluring adventure. We have to remember that we've reached the critical stage in our drive to destroy Hitler's great and still dangerous fighting machine, and that if we relax our efforts by an infinitesimal fraction, we shall do our global cause great harm.

The corollary is that we must finish off the Nazi Fuehrer before we can stage an all-out offensive in the Orient. This doesn't mean that we can't pursue major operations against the Japanese while still pressing for the kill in Germany. Such attacks are boiling up and will be intensified.

Much remains to be done along with the air offensive in order to crush the life out of Hitler, and that's the establishment of the second front in France, so as to get the Nazi gangster's army—his strongest remaining weapon— between two powerful Allied forces. That's the essential for early victory—barring a collapse of German morale, which we have no right to bank on, although it's legitimate to hope that it may happen.

Threatens Roosevelt's Life

Deranged Michigan Man Grabbed By F.B.I.

DETROIT, Dec. 3—(AP)—William A. Carlson, supervisor of Secret Service agents in the Michigan-Ohio district, said today agents last month thwarted a plan by a mentally-deranged Pontiac, Mich. man to assassinate President Roosevelt.

The man, Harold Best, 38-year-old former worker in Pontiac and Detroit factories, was adjudged insane Nov. 23, 10 days after his arrest, Carlson said, and is in Gallinger Hospital, Washington, awaiting removal to a Michigan Mental Hospital.

Best's wife informed Oakland county authorities of her husband's plan, Carlson said, after receiving a letter from him disclosing his intention "to get rid of Roosevelt" and relating how the President had left Washington and that he would wait for his return.

He described how he got inside the military guard at the White House while soldiers were busy unloading a truck and that he was deliberating whether to steal a soldier's gun on the ground nearby when he was discovered," Carlson said.

Best was said to have told Secret Service agents that "I had electrodes running through my brain, and they told me to get rid of Roosevelt." A gun was found in his room in a Washington Hotel, agents said.

Japs Do About Face On Ship Sinking

SYDNEY Australia, Dec. 3. —(CP Cable.)—A Tokyo denial that a Japanese submarine sank the Australian hospital ship Centaur May 5, 1943 was "subtle propaganda decided upon when Japan realized that world public opinion condemned her cowardly sinking of an Allied hospital ship," Francis Forde, Australia's Army Minister, said yesterday. His statement followed the denial, made Wednesday in a Tokyo broadcast by Sadao Iguch, spokesman for the Japanese Board of Information, who said the Tokyo government had rejected an Australian protest over the incident.

Montreal Jury Blames Boy

Say 14-Year-Old Murdered Mother

MONTREAL, Dec. 3—(CP). — A coroner's jury today held 14-year-old George Webster criminally responsible for the death of his mother in their exclusive Westmount home following an attack with a baseball bat three weeks ago.

The jury reached its verdict after inquest testimony was taken at the bedside of Miss Sylvia Cust of Australia, house guest of the Websters at the time, who is recovering from head injuries suffered in the same early-morning attack.

Miss Cust in her evidence today identified the youth as the person who struck her over the head with a baseball bat the morning Mrs. Andrew R. Webster was killed.

George Webster had been held by Westmount police since the day of the tragedy, first at police headquarters and later in hospital after he had developed a cold.

Two other victims of the early-morning attacks are recovering slowly in hospital after operations for head injuries. They are eight-year-old Andrew Webster, Junior, and 12-year-old Mina Webster, brother and sister of George.

Bulgars Revolt After Serbian Victory

LONDON, Dec. 3 (CP)—Bulgarian soldiers brigaded with Marshal Erwin Rommel's Nazi troops on the Bosnian-Serbian border have revolted and have been disarmed, headquarters of the Yugoslav Army of Liberation reported in a broadcast today.

The revolt climaxed a fortnight's heavy fighting in which Rommel's drive into Serbia was stopped by Yugoslav Partisans with heavy losses, the Yugoslav communique said.

At the same time the war bulletin reported new victories over the Germans and Chetniks on various sectors of the spreading Yugoslav front. The Axis forces were said to be retreating before fierce Partisan attacks in Bosnia and Croatia while roving bands of Yugoslav patriots wrecked large segments of the enemy's communication and supply lines.

Fighting was especially bitter during the last two weeks of November in the Pryjepolje-Sjenica-Nova Varos area, southeast of Sarajevo. The Partisans fought the attacking Germans to a standstill, the communique reported, and then went over to the offensive, driving a column of Chetniks back across the Uvac River.

Further north in central Bosnia, guerilla bands cut the strategic Deventa-Doboj Pailway line at several points, the communique said, while German forces in the province of Gorski Kotar, in northwestern Croatia, were driven back toward the town of Ogulin.

Pacific Forces Stage New Gains

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, IN SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Dec. 3 — (AP). — Allied bombers, prowling the Pacific skies from the Marshalls to New Guinea, have sunk a troop-laden 10,000 - ton Japanese transport and a large tanker, damaged two destroyers, blasted enemy bases with more than 200 tons of bombs, and downed 21 Japanese planes in battles at both ends of the 2,400-mile arc.

These latest reports covered actions from Monday through Wednesday.

New successes also were scored on the ground. In the inland jungles of New Guinea's Huon peninsula, Australians are converging on Wareo, a Japanese strong point more than 10 miles northwest of Finschhafen.

On the west-central coast of Bougainville in the Northern Solomons, where American forces since November 1 have been widening a bridgehead and establishing an air strip, more than 600 marines made a two-day raid on enemy lines.

Reconnaissance bombers, attacking convoys in the vicinity of Kavieng, New Ireland the night of November 30 and the morning of December 1, set off explosions in the transport which was abandoned before it went down; they left the large tanker a mass of flames; they hit one destroyer amidships and another astern with 500-pound bombs.

for enlistment in other than aircrew will be referred to the army; any men required for ground crew will be drawn from among those unfit for overseas service with the army.

The Minister recalled that he told the House of Commons last May that the satisfactory position of the ground crews—with between 75,000 and 80,000 men trained—would make possible a slowing up in recruiting.

Must Have Aircrew.

He repeated, however, his statement made at that time about aircrew:

"I wish to warn the people of Canada that as long as this war lasts we of the R.C.A.F. have an open-ended commitment to our Allies and associates for aircrews, requiring a special type of manpower, and these must come in a steady stream every month."

No more men are needed in the major ground-crew trades of aero-engine mechanic and airframe mechanic, said the Minister.

A few men and women are needed for service as chefs, equipment assistants, hospital assistants, radio telephone operators, stationary engineers, diesel engine fitters, laundrymen, machinists, seamen, shoemakers, marine boiler mechanics, pumpmen, and telephone and tractor operators.

Curtin Confers With MacArthur

CANBERRA, Dec. 3—(CP)—Prime Minister John Curtin of Australia announced today he had just completed an important conference with Gen. Douglas MacArthur in which they had discussed the results of the Anglo-American-Chinese conference at Cairo.

Rabaul, New Britain, has become a precarious naval and air base which the enemy uses at great hazard, Curtin declared on his return to Canberra from several days conference with the Allied commander in the Southwest Pacific.

(Rabaul, its harbor and air bases, have been heavily attacked by Allied aircraft in recent months. It is the main Japanese base for the southwest Pacific theatre.)

Curtin, referring to his talk with MacArthur regarding the Anglo-American-Chinese conference at Cairo, commented:

"The Cairo declaration tells the Australian people quite clearly there is no short cut to victory in the Pacific."

"My discussions with General MacArthur had particular reference to 'prolonged operations' and were conditioned by joint realization that final victory in the Pacific must largely wait on the events in Europe," Curtin declared.

The Australian war effort now is entering a new phase, he said. "The defensive stage has passed. The initative has been gained from the enemy."

The Prime Minister added MacArthur had expressed full agreement with general principles laid down by the government in rebalancing the Australian war effort to prepare for the period of offensive.

"I have again expressed to him (MacArthur) the gratitude of the people and the government for the great service he is rendering."

11 Charges Given Long Adjournment

Five charges against B. R. Strano and six charges against Mrs. Strano under the War Time Prices and Trade regulations of charging more than the ceiling price for potatoes were adjourned until January 17 in police court this morning.

These charges arose out of the sale of a total of ten bags of potatoes to six local retail stores some time ago.

Magistrate E. A. Gee dismissed the first charge against Strano some time ago and Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., who is prosecuting for the War Time Prices and Trade Board has appealed against the judgment.

On that account he asked for an adjournment in the eleven other charges until the appeal has been disposed of by the county judge.

Mr. Gordon stated that he had the consent of defence counsel W. J. Arthur Fair to an adjournment.

The bombers apparently arrived early in mid-evening, and the telephone lines to Sweden soon were out. They were restored about 10 p.m.

Find Elephant Tusk

BERKELEY, Calif., Dec. 3—(AP)—A "long, white rock" used as a scouring soap by workmen excavating for a housing project at nearby Millbrae is in reality the 8-foot tusk of an elephant that died some 100,000 years ago, University of California scientists agree. The find, they commented, ranks in importance with that of of the famed labrea fossil pits in Los Angeles.

the United States a number of Flying Fortresses, and we will use them on the mail service."

The planes will not carry any mail to civilians overseas, but eventually they will carry both parcels and letters, bearing only ordinary and not airmail postage, to Canadian troops in Italy and the Middle East. Now, letters and parcels bearing ordinary postage are carried on surface vessels.

Speed Christmas Stuff

The first job of the command will be to see that Christmas mail for the troops in Mediterranean area reaches them on time. Maj. Power said all Christmas letters to the troops will likely reach them on time, but some parcels may not reach them until shortly after Christmas.

He said he believes most of the Canadian Christmas mail now has reached the United Kingdom. The command will have to move it from there to the Mediterranean.

The command expects to make about two round-trip flights a week, Maj. Power said.

R.C.A.F. also was trying to work out a scheme to improve the mail service to Canadians in India and Burma.

The new command would not be a "common carrier," said Maj. Power in explaining that the planes would not carry passengers if there was enough mail to take up all available space. The command might however, on return trips carry some Canadian wounded out of the Mediterranean area, if their removal were urgent. Some mail from the troops mail also be carried on the return flights.

Children Die In Fire

AMOS, Que., Dec. 3—(CP).—Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Belair were burned to death when fire destroyed their home at the nearby mining town of Cadillac yesterday. The victims were Edouard, aged 3½, and Helene, 11 months. Mrs. Belair was visiting a neighbor at the time, and the father was at work. The cause of the blaze is not known.

Gardiner Raps Bracken On Bacon Issue

WINNIPEG, Dec. 3 — (CP). — Agriculture Minister Gardiner in a statement here last night named John Bracken, National Progressive Conservative leader, as "the chief advocate of lower quality bacon for Britain during the war as a means to provide quantity."

Mr. Gardiner's statement was in reply to one made by Mr. Bracken in Ottawa Wednesday regarding Britain's bacon contract.

The Federal Minister said in part:

"Mr. Bracken is quoted in the press as stating in Ottawa on December 1, 1943, "the Federal department of agriculture encouraged our Canadian farmers to expand their production of hogs to fill the contract with Britain without giving proper consideration to the important matter of quality . . .

"I am sorry to have to say that 'a full and frank statement' as demanded by Mr. Bracken involves the necessity of branding him as the chief advocate of lower quality bacon for Britain during the war as a means to provide quantity. His representatives at the last inter-provincial conference were the only advocates of that policy.

"How about 'adequately supplying markets faithfully?'

"In 1939, Britain asked for not more than 291,000,000 pounds. We supplied 330,000,000. In 1940 we persuaded Britain to contract for not less than 425,000,000 pounds. We supplied more than 440,000,000 pounds. In 1941 we contracted to supply not less than 600,000,000 pounds and we barely supplied it. In 1942 we contracted to supply 675,000,000 pounds by the end of the calendar year 1943. We expected to supply it.

"In 1943 we began to make contracts which extend at least two years into the future . . . to plan for the future we are assuring Britain that we can supply 900,000,000 pounds in two years, of good long lean Canadian bacon which will show full value for its cost. We are not passing off heavies as good bacon. If Britain wants our heavies at their value or if we produe only good bacon hogs we will send Britain all that can be shipped. If Britain does not want our heavies we are providing the best possible market in Canada for them until our grading regulations restore the quality which will compete with Danish bacon . . .

"Farmers would be well advised to continue to produce all the high quality hogs they can."

appeal to the Germans," said the Turkish newspaper Cumhuriet.

In London it was thought a "big three' declaration might assure the German people that they would not be enslaved, regardless of how heavily Germany must pay for the war.

Significantly, perhaps, Stalin's 1941 assertion that "we have not and cannot have such war aims as forcing our will and our regime on Slavonic or any other enslaved European peoples who are expecting our assistance, was republished yesterday in the Soviet War News Weekly.

A Swedish dispatch quoted a German spokesman as saying, meanwhile, that a German capitulation was impossible because, while Germany has been fighting on the defensive since 1942, her armies still are battling outside the borders of the fatherland. The German aim, he was quoted as saying "is to exhaust the enemy to the point where he will be willing [illegible] the position o[illegible] defender and make peace [illegible] him."

Expect Record Fruit Crop At Niagara In '44

TORONTO, Dec. 3—(CP). — A bumper fruit crop in the Niagara fruit belt is indicated for next year, Alex MacLaren, director of farmers' services, Ontario Department of Agriculture, today told the special committee of 22 meeting at Queen's Park to arrange details for Ontario school children to work on farms next summer. This year, Mr. MacLaren said, the Niagara fruit crop had been a disappointment, but present reports indicate next year's crop will be big.

The committee endorsed last year's regulation limiting release of students only for work on farms and in cheddar cheese factories, though an attempt was made to have the tobacco industry included.

"Tobacco is no more necessary than liquor," Fred Avery, Ontario Department of Labor, argued.

Mr. MacLaren declared last year about 25,000 school children worked on farms and cheddar cheese factories, from a total of 105,192 registered secondary schools. There were 22,280 boys, who worked, with an additional 3,000 girls in canning and cheese factories. Of these figures 26 per cent. of the boys worked in April, 27 per cent. in May, and 5.2 per cent. in June, or a total of 58 per cent. of the boys worked on farms before examination time. Of the girls, 15 per cent. worked in April; 24 per cent. in May and 5 per cent. in June, or a total of 44 per cent. were working before examination time.

Worked 13 weeks

Mr. MacLaren said all reports indicated the aid given the farmers by both boys and girls made the difference between operating or going into bankruptcy. Farmers reported they never had better help. Mr. MacLaren questioned whether the 13-week period of last year should be increased.

It was also stated the vegetable crop will be good for next year, though last year the canning industry faced a disastrous situation. Question of providing seed for the vegetable industry is being considered, though it was stated if seed has to be sent to European countries it might make the Ontario situation difficult.

The committee is also determining dates for closing schools in spring. Opening in the fall, as it was pointed out where schools reopen early, mothers and sisters also leave their work in canning factories to return to aid the children.

Return Fur Coats To Two Dancers

BUFFALO, N.Y., Dec. 3—(AP).—Expensive fur coats given to two girls in Dante's magic show by Canada's Mr. X—Harry F. McLean of Merrickville, Ont.—have been returned to the performers by the United States Customs office which took them and four others for appraisal when they were declared at the U.S.-Canadian border.

F. J. Quigley, deputy collector of the Customs service, said the coats were returned yesterday when it was learned the girls, Victoria Lopez and Eugenia Montez, were Mexicans. Customs regulations permit non-residents of the United States to bring in clothing for their stay duty free, he explained.

One of the recovered coats were mink, appraised at $1,995, and the other an otter, valued at $712.50.

E. J. Cannon, Customs appraiser, placed a wholesale valuation of $8,170 on all six coats, but Dante said they were worth $18,000 at retail. The duty is 50 per cent. of the Customs valuation.

Dante said he was confident the four other girls in the troupe would regain possession of the coats, but he was unsure when.

The magician said the coats were given the girls in Toronto two weeks ago by McLean, who has gained international fame for gifts presented to persons met in Canadian cities.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 3 — (CP). — Rye gave an irregular display yesterday on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, scoring advances in the first half hour of the session on buying by locals and commission houses and losses later when scattered selling found thin support.

Futures finished ¼ to ½ cent a bushel below the previous close.

Wheat transactions during the session included the purchase of 650,000 bushels of No. 2 Northern for shipment to American destinations.

United Kingdom and Portugal interests were inquiring for Canadian wheat, but no business was confirmed.

TORONTO POULTRY

TORONTO, Dec. 3 — (CP). — Receipts of fresh dressed chicken have been much lighter than last week, the Dominion Department of Agriculture reports. Local demand continues fairly good. Supplies of fowl are sufficient for the local trade only. The quality of both chicken and fowl is improving. Demand, both locally and out of town is good for turkeys, ducks and geese but dealers are not accepting orders for this kind of fowl for future delivery. Out-of-town enquiry for chicken and fowl is being taken care of from frozen stock. A few local turkeys are being bought by small dealers who are holding them for the Christmas trade. No offerings of turkeys or geese from Western dealers is reported and larger dealers are not expecting receipts of much, if any, poultry from west of Manitoba.

Quotations are unchanged. The dealers paying producers and country shippers for fresh dressed poultry:

Identity Cards Must Be Shown To Buy Liquor

TORONTO, Dec. 3 (CP)—St. Clair Gordon, chairman of the Ontario Liquor Control Board, today warned authority holders that their beer gallonage must be allocated so that the beverage rooms will be open some time during each week day.

Mr. Gordon said in a statement that recently there has been a "great deal" of criticism by the public of the fact that some hotels sell out their quota in two or three days and then remain closed for the balance of the week, while the Liquor Board requires that beverage rooms be opened each week day.

The Liquor Board has issued instructions to all alcoholic beverage retail sales outlets that on and after Dec. 6 "no sale of liquor, beer or wine shall be made to any permit-holder or holder of individual beer or wine ration coupon book until he or she produces and exhibits to the sales clerk at time of purchase his or her national registration certificate or in the case of the armed forces proof of identity and status in the armed forces," Mr. Gordon said.

Where evidence is obtained that persons are purchasing or attempting to purchase alcoholic beverages in name other than their own the matter will be handed to police authorities with a view to taking appropriate action under provisions of the criminal code and the Liquor Control Act, Mr. Gordon said.

With regard to the sale of beer in hotels Mr. Gordon's statement said the Liquor Board is insisting that the beverage rooms be cleared of patrons by 2.30 p.m. after the two o'clock sale, by seven after the 6.30 sale and by 10.30 after the ten p.m. closing hour.

Corsica Given Mail Service

OTTAWA, Dec. 3—(CP). — Postmaster-General Mulock announced today that mail service has been resumed to Corsica for "letters and postcards on strictly personal and private matters." The mail will be dispatched by "surface conveyance only, for the present," said the Minister.

In another statement Col. Mulock said mail to be carried by ship now reaches the United Kingdom in an average of 28 days after it is posted in Canada. Average time for surface conveyance between the United Kingdom and the Mediterranean war theatre is 21 days.

The "blue" armed forces air letter forms are reaching the United Kingdom from Canada in an average of six to eight days, he said.

Col. Mulock disclosed that shortly after Canadian troops reached the Mediterranean area a ship carrying 800 bags of mail for the Canadian forces was damaged by enemy action and had to put into port, resulting in delay of at least three weeks in delivery of the mail.

Rudy Vallee Tries Desert Honeymoon

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 3 —(AP)—Rudy Vallee, who forsook crooning for the life of a U.S. Coast Guard lieutenant, and his bride, Bettyjane Greer, one of screendom's newer glamor-girls, have chosen the desert for their week's honeymoon. It was Vallee's third marriage.

Vallee, 42, and the 19-year-old actress from Washington, D.C., were married last night in Weswtood Community Church by Capt. J. E. Johnson, Navy chaplain. Some 200 friends attended the ceremony.

Chinese Leader Escapes Falling Roof

NEW DELHI, Dec. 3 (AP)—Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, Allied commander in southeast Asia, returned to India from the Middle East tri-power conference today and held an immediate conference with his military commanders.

A U.E.-Chinese Base in Eastern India, Nov. 30 —(delayed)—(AP)—Seven hours after General and Mrs. Chiang Kai-Shek had lunched with Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten and a score of high ranking military men in the Officers' Club here, the heavy tile roof of the dining room collapsed, burying in a mass of debris, the table at which they had sat. No one was injured.

An imemdiate investigation was ordered although there was no evidence sabotage caused the cave-in.

Lord Louis and the Chiang Kai-Sheks had paused here enroute to New Delhi and Chungking respectively after attending the Cairo conference.

Otonabee Man Is Fined $25

Convicted of careless driving after a trial that ran well into the afternoon session, John C. Edwards, Otonabee, was fined $25 and costs by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in police court Thursday afternoon.

Edwards was charged by Provincial Traffic Officer L. A. McClure after an accident on Highway 7, four miles east of Peterborough, in which a car driven by the accused crashed into the rear of another car driven by Clair O'Brien of Indian River, who had stopped on the highway when his engine heated up. The crash occurred before he could get his car moving again.

Edwards was defended by W. C. Grant, while Traffic Officer McClure handled the prosecution himself.

A charge against O'Brien of parking an automobile on the travelled portion of the highway was adjourned. O'Brien was represented by W. J. Arthur Fair.

Murder-Suicide Likely Police Report

HALIFAX, Dec. 3 — (CP). — Working on a "murder and suicide" theory, police pressed a search today for the bodies of Cmdr. F. M. Johnson of the Royal Navy and his nine-year-old daughter Naida, missing from their home here for two days amid indications of foul play.

The search centred on Halifax harbor's Northwest Arm where a man resembling the British Navy's senior officer here was seen in a canoe Wednesday — the day the pair vanished — and the Arm's tree-girted shore where police yesterday found bits of human brain tissue and strands of golden hair near the Johnson home.

The investigation, city police J. J. Conrad said last night, is centred on "the possibility of it being a case of murder and suicide."

Chief detective James Baker said police believed the bodies of father and daughter were in the Arm, but they were not disregarding "other possible causes for their disappearance."

Wife Very Ill

Meanwhile, Johnson's wife, the Russian-born former Countess De Paris Gumeneck, remained in a critical condition in a New York hospital. She was struck by an automobile nine days ago in that city, where she had gone November 15 to do work with "Bundles For Britain."

So far as was known here the wife had not been advised of the disappearance of her husband and only child.

At a boathouse the bits of human tissue and hair were found, along with bloodstains and an impression that police said might have been made by a hand axe.

A canoe missing from the boathouse later drifted ashore, empty, some miles from the spot. An Arm resident reported Wednesday that she had seen an canoe containing a man dressed about the same way Johnson was when he vanished.

Tribute Is Paid To Capt. Meiklejohn

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 3. — (ENS). — Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Meiklejohn, Rawdon Township, are in receipt of a letter paying tribute to their son Captain Grant Meiklejohn, who until recently was serving with the Canadian Army in England. Grant, who went to school in Campbellford and later attended Queen's University, was inducted as a minister of the United Church, but his ordination had been too recent to permit him to enlist in the chaplain services, so he joined up as a private, but later in July, 1942, was given the honorary rank of Captain and transferred to that branch of the Army. The letter received by his parents was from Major T. H. Jermyn of the R.C.E., officer in charge of the unit to which Captain Meiklejohn was attached. Major Jermyn paid tribute to Captain Meiklejohn for "his quiet manner and efficient way of doing a job which impressed us all very much, and we were very sorry when he had to leave to join another unit."

Heavy Hitting By City 5 Pinners

The pins flew to the tune of 3787 for the Cleanrites and 3696 for Jay's when both teams clashed last night in what was considered one of the best played matches in the history of the Men's City Bowling League. A big 1395 middle game plus a matter of 9 pins in the third game gave the Cleanrite gang a 2 to 1 decision while Jay's rolled 1200 or better each team to only win a single point.

Jack Playford was top man for the evening with 858 while Doug Abraham rolled 821.

4 Members Resign

REGINA, Dec. 3—(CP)—Mr. Justice P. M. Anderson, chairman of the Saskatchewan War Mobilization Board, yesterday refused comment on the resignation of four members of the Board. A. C. Stewart, Yorkton; G. R. Bickerton, Saskatoon; Thomas Hill, Swift Current, and W. J. Lawless, announced their resignation.

City Bylaw Restricting Homes Fails In A Northend Appeal

Members of the city council had heard of barristerial skill expressed in the classic figure of driving a coach and four through a statute, but last night they stood by in assent as T. J. Carley, K.C., thrust a north end house through the city's building bylaw.

The house, suspended in incompletion at the southeast corner of Aylmer street and O'Carroll avenue, up in the Classic Hill district, is owned by John W. Paris of the London Life Insurance Company. Unable to rent a house after his transfer to Peterborough, Mr. Paris decided to build one.

Mr. Carley told the council his client submitted a ground plan of the dwelling at the office of City Engineer Parsons, received a building permit, and proceeded to have the work done. When the walls were up and the roof taking shape, Mr. Paris was notified by a letter from Mr. Parsons that the building did not conform with certain restrictions which were applied to that area a few years ago at the request of citizens who wished to protect their investments in homes by requiring houses of certain minimum values and also types.

City Engineer Parsons' halting order declared that the Paris house was not "a one and a half story" building, and it was on that point Mr. Carley trained his argument.

"Mr. Parsons contends that the upper half story should have a wall of at least four feet," Mr. Carley said, "but the bylaw does not specifically say so. If the bylaw was to provide for a four or six or eight foot wall in that upper story, then it should have said so. But, there is no definition of what a story and a half building should be."

Floor Fixes Story

Mr. Carley quoted opinions of several British judges indicating their interpretation of a story as a part of the building related to a floor and not to any height of wall. Mr. Paris had acquired a lot 68 feet by 100 feet, and had selected a design of house from an architectural magazine. It provided for four rooms on the ground floor and two on an upper floor. The windows to these two upper rooms were set in gable form into the roof.

"Whether it was described rightly or wrongly," said Mayor Hamilton to Mr. Carley, "there is no question in your mind as to what we wanted."

Mayor Hamilton's argument was to the effect that by long custom a definite type of house was contemplated in the phrase "one story and a half." There are many of these houses in Peterborough, most of them probably built before the bungalow design appeared and sliced off the second story. Their vertical walls extended above the first story four feet or more, and the roof slanted down over these side walls.

His Worship said he had consulted M. R. Sloan, former builder and present assistant assessor, who had confirmed the opinion that the story and a half house was of a special type long recognized by the building trade in Peterborough.

Quotes Contractor

Mr. Carley, on the other hand, said he could produce a contractor "who says the Paris house complies with your bylaw. He is a former member of your council, and he believes that it is a story and a half house as required by the bylaw." Mr. Carley showed the council a magazine photograph of a house similar in design to that of Mr. Paris and pointed to the describing words in the caption "a story and a half house".

The building bylaw of London, Ontario, took care to define the terms, "but your own bylaw did not suggest it."

Mr. Carley declared that a court would construe the Peterborough building bylaw on its exact wording and not on some concept at the time of its drafting which was not written into the bylaw.

Mayor Hamilton tried to hold out for the spirit of the bylaw, but Alderman Gordon said it lacked an interpreting section defining a story and a half.

"Let us charge it to experience and amend the bylaw as soon as possible," Alderman Glover suggested, and Alderman Sullivan said, "I feel inclined to agree with Alderman Glover."

Alderman Gordon remarked that the London bylaw required at least a four foot vertical wall in a half story. Sometimes a concept developed that was not in the council's original thought in drafting a bylaw.

Not Stopped In Time

Alderman Dutton said Mr. Paris was allowed to go on with the building of his house until the roof boards were up, and the fair thing to do now was to let him finish the house and in the meantime the council should amend the bylaw to cover this experience.

"Either finish it, or a law suit," said Mr. Dutton.

"I hate to head off a law suit," Alderman Gordon laughed.

"I can't see where we have a leg to stand on," said Alderman Cotton. "And I'm not blaming the City Engineer. We had a certain idea when it was drafted, and we now find that our idea was not exact enough."

Alderman Dutton's motion lifting the suspending of the work on the Rylstone W.I. Plans Gifts For Soldiers

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 3. — (ENS).—A report on the Belleville convention presented by Mrs. Fred Barnum, was a highlight of the December meeting of Rylstone Women's Institute which took place Wednesday afternoon. According to her report the keynote of the convention concerned meeting the challenge of to-day, and its theme was "save, serve and share."

Members answered the December roll call by bringing gifts suitable for soldiers' parcels and at its conclusion a table was heaped high with such items as candy, gum, cheese, canned goods, soap, tooth powder and many other articles. The business was in charge of the president, Mrs. F. M. Rutherford.

Following readings by Mrs. Andrew Thompson, Mrs. Lillian Anderson, Mrs. Charles Meiklejohn, members joined in packing ten overseas parcels. The first aid supplies authorized for district schools were brought in during the afternoon and Mrs. Thos. Red and Mrs. S. G. Meiklejohn, who had been authorized to procure the articles apportioned them to the various schools.

Two Men Hurt As Truck Upsets

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 3 (ENS) —Two Campbellford men are in the hospital after their panel milk truck somersaulted and landed on its side as they were driving towards town on the Hastings road at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Harold Petherick and Vincent Dainard, both employees of Anderson's Dairy, had gone to Hastings in the morning to deliver milk and were little more than half way home when the accident occurred. Dainard who was allegedly driving at the time, was unable to account for the accident, which threw his companion through the roof to land unconscious 15 feet away. Dainard was tossed into the rear of the truck and had sufficient presence of mind to reach the instrument panel and turn off the engine which was still running after the vehicle landed on its side.

After crawling from the wreckage he located Petherick and then made his way to Mark Moore's house where he phoned Campbellford for assistance. Dr. W. W. Baker arrived to treat Petherick for slight concussion, shock and minor injuries and Dainard for cuts and bruises. He ordered both men to the hospital. Provincial Constable C. G. Hayes is investigating the accident. Damage to the truck was estimated at over two hundred dollars.

Judgment Deferred

COBOURG, Dec. 3 (ENS)—Due to the fact that defence counsel had failed to file a written argument in time for the case's disposal, Magistrate R. B. Baxter yesterday further deferred his decision in regard to the charge against Thomas J. Sproat of Grand Valley. Sproat, a Jehovah Witness, was in court two weeks ago on a charge of failing to keep his divisional national mobilization registrar informed of his change of address. At that time a lengthy hearing was held after which the Magistrate reserved his decision until Dec. 2, defence counsel to file a written defence in a few days.

DAMAGED SUPPLY LINES

At least 300 enemy supply ships were sunk by British submarines in the first three years of war.

Remanded One Week

COBOURG, Dec. 3 (ENS)—Charged with having two registration cards, Donald Ellis of Jasper, Ont., was remanded for a week when he appeared in police court yesterday. He was arrested in Brighton by Constable Frank Atkinson and according to police Ellis had a registration card in his own name and a card which was in another name.

Bad News For Japan

The announcements following the Cairo Conference are more comprehensive in their scope than most people had expected; everyone hoped that decisions regarding the Pacific war would be announced, but very few can have thought that such a complete program would be made public. The Allied leaders must be very sure of what they can do or they would not take the dangerous line of calling their shots. They have said that they will reduce Japan to the size of her holdings before 1895, and we must assume that they are able to carry out their promise, and have laid plans to do so.

Such news will be received with the utmost enthusiasm in Australia and in the United States. Those two countries have felt for many months that the Pacific war was being shelved in favour of the European fight, and they were quite correct. It was decided that Germany and Italy would have to be beaten before serious attention could be given to Japan; perhaps the United Nations' leaders now feel that Germany is near enough to defeat for them to make definite plans against Japan. No news could be more welcome.

Until now our efforts against Japan have been sporadic and weak. Bitter fighting has taken place on outposts, and some islands have been wrested from the Japanese with the greatest difficulty. But as several critics have pointed out, that sort of fighting could go on for a quarter of a century, and Japan would still be in control of vast areas and resources in the Pacific. Japan made her great dash for conquest in a matter of five months. We cannot give years of fighting to the job of defeating her.

Speculation about the plans to defeat the Japanese are fruitless. We can only assume that steps will be taken to engage the enemy, and beat him, in theatres of war where his losses will be great and fatal, and not in scattered Pacific islands, of which he possesses many, and of which he can easily spare a few as the cost of defending his real holdings. The island-hopping phase of the Pacific war is done; we must wait to see what the new moves will be. We shall wait perhaps for many months before the outline of Allied strategy begins to be clear.

It must be a matter of great satisfaction to everyone that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek was an important party to the Conference. The Chinese were the first to be drawn into the great fight against Fascism and wanton aggression, and in many ways their struggle has been the hardest, as well as the longest. We have been their allies for a long time now, but the actual help and relief which we have been able to give them has been trifling. Better days are coming for China, and none too soon.

Politeness Toward Youth

Not long ago we wrote in these columns a recommendation that young people should learn the value of courtesy, as a smoother of the rough places of life. We also put forward our belief that most young people learn their manners from the example set them by their parents. Today we should like to add a little more to what we said then.

Children copy the manners which their parents show in their relations with one another, and they are also deeply affected by the manners which their parents show in dealing with them. Many people who are polite to other adults do not think it necessary to be polite to children. On Monday last an example of this sort of rudeness was seen on a Peterborough bus, and we are delighted to be able to record it: an elderly woman was sitting near a little boy who was snuffling and clearly needed to blow his nose; at last she, rudely, "Say, haven't you got a handkerchief?", to which the boy replied politely, "Yes, but my mother said I wasn't to lend it to nobody". We hope that this unexpected rebuke was taken to heart; if the woman had asked the boy politely to blow his nose he would probably have done so.

It is often necessary to be firm in dealing with children, but it is never necessary to be insulting or derogatory. Unless they have been calloused by discourteous treatment, children are sensitive, and if they are treated rudely they adopt an equal rudeness as a form of self-defence. When such rudeness persists into adult life it is a severe handicap. Politeness (when it is not confused with servility, or a desire to please at any cost) is an oil which makes all the machinery of life run smoothly, and with a minimum of wear on the bearings.

Music Needed In Wartime

The Peterborough Community Concert Association opened its series on Wednesday night, and its members filled the P.C.V.S. Auditorium; there are reported to be more than five hundred members of the Association for the 1943-44 season. This is a decided increase over last year's membership, and leads us to hope that the Association will go on from strength to strength, until it is able to present not three, but five or six concerts of high quality every winter, and extend its influence in other directions, fostering the appreciation of music in this district.

We are not surprised by the striking increase in membership. Every month of the war that passes increases our need of stimulation and spiritual refreshment. The strength which keeps people at war jobs and voluntary work must be found somewhere, and music has for ages been a source of strength and inspiration to mankind. The intense musical activity which the war has brought about in Great Britain provides conclusive evidence of this. Concerts of all kinds are being given everywhere in Britain now, many of them subsidized by the state, and these concerts are being attended by people who never listened attentively to music before; now they feel the need of it, and now they find that it gives them the energy, determination, and serenity which they need in order to keep on with their demanding daily tasks.

A city with the large population of Peterborough is able to support a much more intense and varied cultural life than is to be found here. In many cities of Ontario the materialism which was common in the twenties of this century has persisted into the forties, when we have found that materialism is an unsatisfactory social creed. In conservative Ontario changes come gradually, but at last they do come, and we hope that the increased enthusiasm for the Concert Association is a sign of a change to a keener and more widespread intellectual life.

About The Cavan Blazers

We reprint in our third column today an article from the Millbrook Mirror-Reporter about the mysterious group, the "Cavan Blazers", who flourished in Cavan a century ago. We do this because we think it will be of interest all through the county and also because we think that it is a newspaper's duty not only to record the news of today, but to find some space for the recollections of yesterday. The most interesting portions of the history of such a district as Peterborough county are not to be found in textbooks but in the memories of men and women whose families have lived here for generations. The stories which they have to tell should not be allowed to perish, but should be given some permanent form. This newspaper is willing to print interesting material relevant to the history of the district whenever it is available, and we should be glad to think that our files might some day be a rich storehouse for the historians of a coming generation.

The Cavan Blazers were apparently a group of young men who liked to play the Robin Hood game, dispensing the sort of justice which they felt was most needed in their neighbourhood. Their legend should not be allowed to vanish in obscurity, and we are glad that E.S.C. has recorded all that he has been able to find out about them. If anyone knows anything more about the Blazers they would be doing a service to the history of the county by putting it on record, by a letter to this paper or any other means.

As we have said in these columns many times, a great future is built upon a fine appreciation of the past. We must take care that the lore of pioneer days is not forgotten.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Only one umbrella is now made for every hundred people in Great Britain. The end of appeasement?

Perhaps the best thing about this Christmas will be that the radio crooners have stopped dreaming of a white one.

Says the Dunnville Chronicle: "Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth—less 26 per cent. of the gross for inheritance taxes."

Deeds of the Cavan Blazers

By E.S.C. in
The Millbrook Mirror-Reporter)

THE name Cavan Blazers, as assumed by a group of young men who lived for the greater part on the 9th, 10th and 11th concessions of Cavan in the 1840's and '50's has come down through the years as a term derisively applied to all natives of the township. It is most surprising how it has survived. Even today, a century after the deeds and exploits of the Blazers were common talk of the countryside and far beyond people in various parts of Canada, if in talking to one who may have disclosed the fact that he was born in Cavan, will most likely make the remark, "So you are a Cavan Blazer!" It was really a striking name they adopted; one that seemed to imply daring deeds, recklessness and even acts of satanic nature. They were young men of iron strength, full of mischief, who displayed a sense of humour and, at times, a sense of Christian charity towards the more unfortunately situated in their community. They held a violent antipathy towards people of the Roman Catholic faith. This may have been a carry over from the bitterness that existed between Catholics and Protestant, particularly Orangemen, in Ireland in those days for it must be remembered that the township of Cavan was settled for the much greater part by people from the northern counties of that country, and this settlement developed in the two decades just prior to the springing into prominence of the organization that became known far and wide as the Cavan Blazers.

THERE are no written records of the organization to be found even if records did exist. A well-known Canadian historian, who has compiled much interesting data on the early days of the Newcastle district, was asked one time why he had not written a story on the Cavan Blazers. His reply was that there were no official records of the organization; its objects, its worthy accomplishments or the devilment it performed. This is all quite true. A historian must have some official data on which to base his story. However, there has come down through the years, since the 1840's and early '50's — told by parents to their children for several generations —stories of the glamorous and thrilling deeds of the Blazers and the name has become as legionary as the James boys and other daring characters of bygone days.

I am of the opinion that the Cavan Blazers and their deeds were, to a degree, on the pattern of the Klu Klux Klan of the southern states many years ago. That is, they did not rely on the long drawn out process of the law of their country to punish what they considered evil doers in their community. They assumed the responsibility for the righting of any wrongs that, in their opinion, existed within their territory and action was swift and without ceremony. At the same time they themselves, it would appepar, had no compunction in breaking any law they wished. There seems to be no doubt, however, that they displayed a keener sense of humour than could be credited to the members of the Klu Klux Klan. But the latter was actually an organized body with elected officers and a central authority. The Cavan Blazers, as far as the most reliable information at this late date is available, were a band of dare-devil young men who met in the barnyards of their members or in the woods or swamps of their neighborhood, had chicken roasts or meals of other appetizing foods, invariably stolen from neighbours' farms, and there they planned their exploits and proceeded to put them into effect.

THE question has often been asked as to the origin of the name. A number of explanations have been offered. It has been said by some that before the land was cleared of its dense growth of woods, the early settlers had to "blaze" the trees to mark their way from outside points into their homesteads. They thus became known as the Blazers. Others claim that a number of young men had driven to a chair factory operated by Thomas and Mark Hetherington at Silver Creek on the road running east of and a few miles distant from Millbrook. After getting their load of chairs they started home through the village. The floor of the wagon was covered with straw, the boys were smoking, the straw caught on fire and for a brief while there was a rip-roaring blaze. An onlooker remarked, "There go the Cavan Blazers," and it is held that under these circumstances the name was established.

Another story is that the name originated right at Cavanville corners, where a collection of small cabins or shacks were one night deliberately set on fire by the young men of the district. The circumstances in this connection, if true, are interesting. The first postmaster at Cavanville was John Knowlson, a druggist by profession and a well educated and cultured gentleman. To the amazement of his fellow citizens, he embraced the Roman Catholic faith. He became enthusiastic over his new found religion and endeavoured to build up a Roman Catholic settlement at the corners. This was in the early 1840's. Peter Robinson, some years earlier, had established at Peterborough a large colony of Irish Roman Catholics. Some of them became dissatisfied and Mr. Knowlson induced a number of them to come over to Cavanville to re-establish themselves and he built a cluster of cabins for their accommodation. The young men of the district became enraged at this and one night there was a grand blaze at the corners. The cabins were burned to the ground and the new Catholic settlers were driven from the township. From then on, so this story goes, they were known as the Cavan Blazers. The fact remains that there is today absolutely no reliable source of information that could definitely establish the reason for the loosely knit organization being called the Cavan Blazers. It may be, however, for any one of the three reasons recited above.

AS to their deeds of valour, their devilment or their acts of mercy, there are many amusing and thrilling stories. Down through almost one hundred years that have elapsed since they were at the zenith of their glory, some of their exploits have, no doubt, been exaggerated or embellished to make them appear more glamorous. They are, for instance, credited with having swooped down on Port Hope one night and destroyed by fire the Roman Catholic church there. They are credited, and perhaps with some degree of truth, with burning down toll gates that once existed one concession north, as well as one concession south of Millbrook.

Take-Home Pay

(THE PRINTED WORD)

WHATEVER may be the volume of taxation collected by Ottawa in time of peace, a sheer necessity for the future will be a reduction—a real reduction—in the rate. There is some argument that Mr. Ilsley stepped the rates up too quickly even for wartime. Production is more important than taxes; yet most authorities agree that tax rates have had something to do with absenteeism in war plants. The take-home pay declines rapidly, in proportion, as a man works longer hours, and especially, if there is a penalty rate for over-time. This is contrary to the trend in industry for long year. Time-and-a-half and even double-time have become tradition. The Ilsley rates made them a contradiction.

For a number of years prior to the war-boom, many a workman was getting along on part-time. Today, with his rate of pay higher despite ceilings, he is perhaps inclined to continue part-time, especially as there is little on which he can spend his money.

Subject to more expert interpretation, the figures relating to a skiled worker on a payroll at $60 per week for a six-day week would be as follows: Assuming that he is a married man with no dependents, and is subject to the full compulsory savings, his take-home pay out of the $60 would be $42.80, less unemployment-insurance deduction, war-savings pledge, bond pledge, etc., etc., if any. If he works just half a week, his take-home pay would be $25.60, which is perhaps what he was making before the war. His argument is likely to be that he gets $8.53 per day to take home if he works three days per week. But if he works the second three days, his take-home pay is just $5.73 per day for those days.

It can be argued that no man working in a plant producing a vital, or even semi-essential war material, should be so unpatriotic as to argue it out this way as an excuse for him to loaf half the week. A great many workers—men and women—are working steadily, earnestly, wholeheartedly, patriotically. But humans are human and the percentage who use the tax rate as an excuse to take it easy in these times is sufficiently large to have aroused the interest and championship of some of the C.C.F. members of the House of Commons and to cause managers of war plants more than a little worry.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS....

DEAR MISS DIX: I have always been the type of mother who gave generously to her children, but expected nothing in return. I only wished them to be happy and have their love. My son is 30, married, and has one child. He is a good business man and has a large income, so it is natural that I should turn to him for help and service.

Recently my income has been shot to pieces and I have had to ask for some help from him to tide me over, but always with the assurance that he would be paid back. He does not have to support me and I hope never will, but I am too old to get a job. I have not been well and must have assistance from someone. Is it asking too much of him to help me in time of need, or should I turn to an outsider?

The situation has made a strained feeling between us. He treats me as though I were a client and I miss the human interest in me he once had. What should I do?

MOTHER.

ANSWER: Surely you must misjudge your son, for it is hard to conceive of a man who is so hard-hearted and callous that he begrudges even lending his mother a few dollars when he is rich and prosperous and she is pressed for money. Any man of even ordinary decent, natural feelings would consider it a privilege to be able to help her, and thus pay a small part of the debt of gratitude he owed her.

However, when mothers weep upon my shoulder and tell me of how disrespectful and even abusive their children are to them; of how their children neglect them and show them no appreciation or affection, I do not feel like mingling my tears with theirs. I want to tell them that they are just reaping as they have sown and that they are to blame far more than the children are.

For a mother writes her own price tag with her children and they treat her just exactly the way she has taught them to treat her. If she has put herself upon a pedestal, as long as they live they will bow down before her and do her reverence. But if she has made herself nothing but a doormat for them, they will kick her about and have a contempt for her.

Look about you and you will see that this is one of the rules in human conduct to which there is no exception. It is so true that it has passed into a proverb that selfish mothers have unselfish children, and that the more a mother sacrifices herself for her children, the less they think of her.

It is the mother who dresses herself up and looks pretty whose children are proud of her. It is the mother who goes dowdy that her children may have finery whose children are ashamed of her.

And it is perfectly logical. Babies have no high ethical standards. They are little savages who have to be taught the amenities of life. They only give what is demanded of them. If their mothers ask no return for all they do for them, they feel that they have no duties nor obligations to them.

The child who is never permitted to talk back to Mother when it is little doesn't insult her when he is grown. The child who has been taught from his infancy up to help Mother with her chores, to save his money to give her little treats, to carry her bundles, always feels he has a responsibility to her, and that he must look after her and make things as pleasant as possible for her. Whether children look up to their mothers or down upon them depends upon the way they were trained. You can't cultivate selfishness in a child for twenty years and then have him turn out an altruist.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: What do you think of children and pets? Don't you think that parents are often unintentionally cruel to a youngster when he comes home with a kitten or puppy, only to be told to get rid of it immediately? My young son has been reared with a dog and two cats to which he is devoted, as well as to all animals that he sees. Having been taught to be kind and gentle with them and never to take their toys and food from them, he not only obeys these rules but plays with other children with the knowledge that their possessions are also not to be snatched.

I think that their four-legged companions play a valuable part in the development of the characters of children.

J. B. S.

ANSWER: I agree with you a hundred per cent. Especially do I think that any child who has not had the privilege of growing up with a dog has not only missed one of the best sources of earthly happiness, but has had his early education neglected. For a dog is the finest exponent of many of our major virtues, such as loyalty, faithfulness, patience, and the love that forgives ill-treatment and licks the hand that strikes it.

Certainly there is some sort of occult affinity between little boys and dogs that you must have noticed if you have ever watched Tommy and Towser with their heads together and an expression of perfect peace and contentment upon their faces. A kind of communion that had no need of words was going on between them, and the boy, at least was the better for it. No boy who has ever loved his dog grows up into being the kind of man who is cruel to weaker and defenseless creatures, and who is hard and callous in his feelings.

Of course, pets are troublesome. They track in mud and are not regardful of satin cushions, but they mean so much in the lives of the children who get more pleasure out of a mangy cat or dog than they do out of the finest mechanical present that parents should be willing to make the sacrifice of putting up with them. A child without a dog is like the Scotchman who said that he felt so naked when he didn't have a dog at his heels.

A Bible Message

I am the Lord, and there is none else, there is no God beside me: I girded thee, though thou hast not known me: that they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the west, that there is none beside me. I am the Lord, and there is none else....

Thus saith the Lord, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker, Ask me of things to come concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands command ye me. I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded. (Isa. 35: 5, 6, 11, 12.)

Lo, The Poor Eskimo

A group of jolly officials from the Income Tax Department recently left Ottawa to spread their gospel of joyous giving on the Arctic coast and, incidentally, collect some income tax from the Eskimos.

The Eskimos proved remarkably slow in comprehending what an income tax was, and even after they did comprehend they were reported slow in approving of it.

A strange people!

We must bear in mind, however, that the Eskimos are advanced barely beyond the stone age of culture. Only by patient education over a long period can they be taught to appreciate these advantages of civilization, as we do, and to love them.—Montreal Herald.

"ATHABASKAN" DAMAGED BY GLIDER BOMB IS BACK AT SEA — Damaged by a glider bomb in a battle with a score of Nazi planes last August, H.M.C.S. Athabaskan, Tribal class destroyer, is back at sea again. Her losses in the engagement were five dead and 12 requiring hospital treatment. The bomb passed completely through Athabaskan's hull from port to starboard, through the petty officers' mess, exploding in the water 20 feet clear of the ship. Pictured ABOVE is the Athabaskan, before the action. LOWER LEFT shows Commander G. R. Miles of Rothesay, N.B., commanding officer of the Athabaskan, chatting with Writer Petty Officer Peter J. Bates of Windsor, Ont., one of the injured. LOWER RIGHT is Lieut. R. B. Hayward of Vancouver, B.C., navigator, who helped bring the disabled ship to port.

Amazing Glider Bomb Kills Five On Canadian Ship

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Dec. 3.—(AP).—One of the new Nazi glider bombs punched a hole through the Canadian tribal destroyer Athabaskan last August, killing five men and injuring 10 others, but the vessel is back in service again, Naval Headquarters announced to-day. The dead were buried at sea.

In the first detailed account of what happened to the new destroyer, the navy lifted the veil of semi-secrecy which has prevailed about the operation and the effect of the new German aerial bombs — now called "Chase Me Charlie" by naval ratings who have watched them fly and follow their target.

Cmdr. G. R. Miles of Rothesay, N.B., piloted his second damaged ship into safe harbor in this war when he took the Athabaskan to a British port from the Bay of Biscay after the bombing. With one boiler flooded, the ship proceeded first at 12 knots and then got up to 15 knots, taking three days to reach port after fighting off swarms of enemy planes during the attack.

Piloted Saguenay.

More than two years ago he brought the old destroyer Saguenay home with a piece shorn off by a torpedo. That time a German submarine got a decoration for "sinking" the Saguenay. Following the Athabaskan incident the German radio, referring to it, claimed a British cruiser and a destroyer were sunk.

(The Tribal class destroyers are the largest type of destroyer and approach the size of a light cruiser.)

When enemy planes were sighted, the Athabaskan was steaming with the ships of the Royal Navy.

"There were some 20 planes," the Navy quoted Miles as saying. "Our guns set up a terrific barrage. Then the enemy formation split up and five aircraft came down our port side and we concentrated on them.

Wen Through Ship

"The three leading planes of this group dropped their bombs simultaneously, the Athabaskan being the target. Two of them dropped into the sea but the third came straight at us. We didn't have a chance to dodge.

"The bomb struck the port side, passed under the plot room, through the pett officers' mess and came out on the starboard side, exploding in the water 20 to 30 feet clear of the ship. All the officers and men in the plot room were casualties."

This was the hit which was reported in general terms Nov. 5, when the Navy said an un-named Canadian destroyed had been damaged by a bomb. For security reasons, neither the name of the ship nor the details were disclosed until now.

Describing the action of "Chase Me Charlie," Cmdr. Miles said:

"It proceeded ahead in the direction of flight of the aircraft for a second, then backed gracefully and came straight for Athabaskan in a glide at an alarming rate of speed. It looked at first as if it would pass overhead but in the last split second it dipped and struck us. It seemed to be under power up to the moment of striking."

As the Athabaskan emerged from the pall of smoke caused by the bomb explosion, another plane dropped a bomb but it failed to take up the chase of the target and dropped in the sea.

Able Seaman Thomas B. Smith of New Westminster, B.C., was blown overboard by the explosion while manning his gun and never was seen again, and Acting Able Seaman William Pickett of Lowe Kars, N.B., at the same gun-post was killed almost instantly.

Three others—Acting Petty Officer Ernest Latimer of Vancouver in charge of the gun, Able Seaman Joseph McGrath of Saskatoon, a bridge lookout, and Leading Cook Frank Prudhomme of Halifax died later from their wounds.

Cmdr. Miles and the officers and men with him on the bridge were knocked down by the impact and several were injured, including Lieut. Dunn Lantier of Montreal. Sub. Lt. John A Brebner also of Montreal, was in the port room and suffered severe wounds.

Lieut. Whitely J. Eastwood of Ottawa, the gunnery officer, who kept the shells popping until the last plane disappeared, said the blast put the fire control out of commission but each gun started its own individual barrage.

Several Burned

"B" gun, where the crewmen were killed or injured, got back into action with the rest with Leading Seaman J. O. Gordon of Hamilton taking charge, although injured and in pain.

Some members of "A" gun crew were burned and Lieut. Eastwood praised the work at the post of Leading Seaman J. Forbes of Victoria and Able Seaman Thomas Crews of St. John's, Nfld., and Able Seaman Henry Perrin of Windsor, Ont., were in action all the time and were wounded by splinters.

The Athabaskan picked up the commander and other survivors of an enemy submarine smashed by aircraft and Cmdr. Miles looking for the German submarine captain who got the decoration for "sinking" the Saguenay, satisfied himself it was not the same man.

After the action the Athabaskan's gunners received a compliment from a British destroyer which signalled to Cmdr. Miles:

"Your gun flashes showing through the smoke and fire, which was all we could see were a proud sight."

"Thank you very much," replied Miles. "Am burying two of "B" gun's crew shortly."

The gunners buried immediately were Picket and Latimer.

RECTAL SORENESS AND PILE TORTURE
QUICKLY RELIEVED

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from McDermid & Jury or any I.D.A. or other drug store and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small easy to take tablet will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money —(Advt.)

Tariff On Coats To Cost $4,000

BUFFALO, N.Y., Dec. 3 (AP).—Six girls in Dante's Magic Show who were given expensive fur coats by Canada's Mr. X will have to pay a total of $4,000 for the privilege of wearing them in the United States.

The coats, three mink, two beaver and one otter, were valued today by E. J. Cannon, appraiser for the U.S. Customs office here at $8,170. The duty is 50 per cent of the coats' value.

Mr. X—Harry F. McLean of Merrickville, Ont.,—gave the garments to the girls in Toronto two weeks ago, Dante, the magician said. McLean has gained international fame for his lavish gifts to persons he has met in Canadian cities.

"The girls expected to pay some duty, but not what is beyond their purse," Dante said.

The coats were taken by U. S. custom agents of apprisal when they were declared at the U. S.-Canadian border.

Two mink coats were appraised at $1,995 each and the third at $1,852.50. The beaver garments were valued at $807.50 each and the otter at $712.50.

Big Moose McCready Ready To Deal With Davis

Peterborough wrestling fans have seen some of the outstanding wrestlers of this continent during the past season but on Tuesday night they are due for one more rugged character in the person of Karl "Krippler" Davis of Houston, Texas. Davis showed here this week against the clever and speedy Pierre De Glane who has been regarded by many as a pretty capable wrestler. But the huge Davis simply made mincemeat out of the hard-hitting Frenchman.

The big Texan (he stands about six foot three and weighs two hundred and fifty pounds) has now been matched with none other than Earl McCready. Big, strong and very popular here, Earl McCready is just the man to match this huge Texan and fans locally are expressing satisfaction over the probability of what the powerful Aurora Farmer will do if the Texan tries any of his rough stuff. However, Earl might well be unusually wide-awake for in the short and one-sided match against De Glane, this Karl Davis proved how terribly tough he really is.

Davis has earned the nickname "Krippler" throughout the length and breadth of Texas because of the many men he has sent to the hospital. On his present northern tour, he has pulled the cartilages out of the legs of a round dozen wrestlers and temporarily lamed a half-dozen more with his cruel step-over toe-hold. McCready possesses probably the most powerful legs in wrestling so it will be quite a test of the effectiveness of Davis' pet grip. If the leg holds "the Earl" has yet to be stopped by anyone.

Here and There in Sport

Free-scoring games in U.S. College football during the scheduled season resulted in a points average per game which was exceeded only in the record years of 1922, according to an analysis by The Associated Press on the accomplishments of 87 teams in 1943. These major squads ran up a grand total of 11,263 points in 666 games for an average of 16.91 per match, compared with the record of 19 points in the peak season 21 years ago. The 1942 figure was 15.04, which was the best since 1930, but that mark was far below the scoring rampage of Navy-packed college crews last fall.

Scout for the Boston Red Sox for the past two years, George Toporcer, one-time second baseman of St. Louis Cardinals, yesterday was announced as manager of the Red Sox farm system, succeeding Herb Pennock who has become general manager of the Philadelphia Phillies under youthful President Bob Carpenter.

Promoters Lucien Gregoire and Mathias Larose of Montreal yesterday was ordered by the Superior Court in Montreal to pay $3,500 damages and costs to Mark Maritzer who is alleged to have suffered a fractured skull when a pro wrestler fell on him.

Robert Carpenter, new president of the Philadelphia Nationals, told the baseball executives at New York yesterday he had seen his team play only two games and he did not know the players. He added he would continue to operate the Wilmington, Del., Bombers in the Eastern Pro Basketball League but would drop the promotion of prize fights.

SPORTS-Day by Day

By FRED D. CRAIG

Few wrestlers have managed to get themselves so thoroughly disliked by Peterborough followers of the game in such a short space of time as Karl Davis, the tall and ornery Texas grappler who meets Earl McCready here next Tuesday night in the main bout of the Tunney weekly 'rassling fest at Brock Street Arena. It only took the big-hatted Texas product 12 minutes on Tuesday night to cause every man, woman and child around the ring to howl for his head on a platter. He is big, strong and rough and unlike some of the bad men who have been seen in action here who try to pretend that they are really good fellows who are misjudged by the crowd, Davis seems to take a great delight in kicking the other fellow around. Perhaps it is because he feels that his size protects him and that he is big enough to get away with anything. Anyway he handed out a full line of rough stuff to unfortunate Pierre DeGlane the other night until the dapper Frenchman looked like as if he had taken the count from a cyclone. And then just to put the finishing touches on a bad man performance that made Katan, Gotch, Hogan and Company look like characters out of the Elsie books, Davis feigned a handshake with his beaten rival and then booted him in the groin.

* * * * * *

Incidentally the Texan who has just arrived from south of the border hasn't much of an opinion of Canadian wrestling. "From what I have seen of the game up here it looks like panty-waist stuff to me," Davis growled the other night. "Just as soon as a bout begins to develop some action there are complaints about it being too rough. We play it tough down in our country and a fellow has got to be able to take it and dish it out to get anywhere. That Frenchman was too easy altogether. He didn't have no defence and he was wide open all the way. I hope if I get another match in Peterborough it will be with somebody who will make me work. There's no fun knocking off pushovers." Well the Texas Terror is getting his wish. His opponent next Tuesday is the Aurora farmer, Earl McCready himself and by the time the Moose gets through Mister Davis will probably have decided that after all Canadian wrestling is not such a panty-waist proposition he imagined. McCready has softened up a lot of tough babies in his time.

It's A Gem, All Right

In a season that has few bright spots we suppose we should all be grateful for anything so funny as the N.H.L.'s new gag on players were it not for the fact that the embargo on talk seems so ridiculous that it makes most sport writers see red. Among them is Doug Vaughan of the Windsor Star who hits right from the shoulder as follows: "You can always depend on those deep-thinking gentlemen who run the National Hockey League to come up every year with at least one ponderous gem of legislation. But this time they have topped all previous efforts. Always keeping abreast of the times, the N.H.L. fathers have discovered that there is a war on by reading those posters which warn common folk to beware of loose talk and not give anything away to the enemy. Not to be outdone by any mere war publicists, the N.H.L. brain-trusters decided something similar should be written into their rule book. And so the following 14-karat classic was agreed on: "Any player who gives to the press for publication any statement reflecting in any way on the conduct or performance of any official, any club official or any player shall be subject to a penalty of not less than $200 and not more than $1,000."

* * * * * *

"Charlie Edwards, conductor of a column for The Canadian Press, labels the rule 'stupid.' That, Charlie, is a mild word for it," continues the Vaughan comment. "The N.H.L. has long squawked about the lack of co-operation it gets from the press—how hockey is crowded off the sport pages by football in the fall and even by baseball throughout the winter. For that, of course, the hockey moguls have no one to blame but themselves and the stupid way in which they do things and treat people. In future, unless they smarten up, they are likely to get a whole lot less co-operation from the press. Nine times out of ten the juiciest bit of any story is a direct quote. If players are to be barred from mouthing anything but honeyed words, they won't be worth quoting. Athletes aren't built that way. It's a blast or nothing. Reading the rule you'll notice that only players are mentioned. It doesn't say anything about managers. Now, in the opinion of this department, it would be a vast improvement if they were included. Then a hockey writer wouldn't have a thing to worry about."

In Everybody's Hair

The clash between Transports and Generals in the second game of tonight's double-header in the Ladies' Basketball League at the Y.W.C.A. should be the best battle in the loop this season. The two outfits have rounded up most of the high-scoring performers in town and on paper they look very evenly matched so that when they tie into each other there should be plenty of action all the way. A victory for the Generals in this all important tilt will probably leave three clubs all in a heap so far as the leadership is concerned. St. John's meet Normal in the opening fixture on the bill and if they come through with their third win of the campaign may find themselves out in front of the parade in the event of a Transport defeat in the second game. In that event the other two teams would be only half a game off the pace. Both games tonight are therefore decidedly important in their effect upon the league standing and the twin-bill should attract the biggest crowd of the campaign.

The two Canadian clubs in the N.H.L. had a good night last night. At Montreal the Flying Frenchmen, unbeaten in thirteen starts this season, finished like champions by scoring four goals in the last five minutes to tuck away the Chicago Black Hawks 6 to 2. It was a tight argument until the Canadiens went mad in the dying stages and rapped the puck past Highton four times without a reply from the bewildered Hawks. Toronto Maple Leafs also finished strong to grab off a 6 to 5 decision from Jack Adams' Detroit Red Wings. The game looked like an easy win for the Wings in the early stages. They outplayed the Leafs badly in the opening period and led 2 to 0 at the end of the 20 minutes. With the second session three-quarters gone the Detroiters were still in front 3 to 1 and they had a 4 to 2 advantage at the close. When they ran in another goal early in the last stanza to make the figure 5 to 2 it was apparently all over. Then the Leafs ganged up to produce four goals in a hurry and pull the game out of the fire.

WITH THE R.C.A.F. SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Dec. 3 — (CP).— The Krauts swept through as victory pathfinders — although they didnt play as a unit— when the Canadian bomber group made its seasonal hockey debut with a double-header on an ice surface that featured unnatural hazards.

Milt Schmidt, now a pilot officer, and LAC Bobby Bauer, two-thirds of the crack Boston Bruin forward line, paced a team of blues from the station of Group Capt. A. D. Ross, Winnipeg, to a 9-0 triumph over the Reds, representatives of a station commanded by Group Capt. H. Carscallen of Hamilton, Ont.

LAC W. G. Hainsworth, son of George Hainsworth of National League fame, starred in the Red nets despite the score. Like the Krauts, his home is in Kitchener, Ont.

In the second game, Cpl. Porky Dumart, the third member of the erstwhile Bruin combination, led his Whites to a 3-1 win over the Maroons, from another Canadian station.

Two Together.

Earlier reports had been that the Krauts would be stationed with three different squadrons by the time the season rolled around, but the luck of posting kept Schmidt and Bauer together. Last of the trio to arrive overseas Bauer was making his ice debut in England. Schmidt and Dumart opposed each other last season.

Schmidt and Bauer scored si[x] of their team's goals while Schmid[t] asisted on another. Two o[f] Schmidt's tallies came on solo ef[f]orts. Other scorers included LAC Fred Vickery of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Dumart, playing defence, mad[e] scores of rushes throughout th[e] second game and set up the opening goal just 30 seconds after th[e] face-off when he placed a perfec[t] pass on the stick of LAC G. A. Duhaime of Geraldton, Ont., his defence mate. Dumart scored th[e] final goal. LAC J. Sumner of Niagara Falls, Ont., scored one fo[r] the losers.

Facing off the puck to start th[e] season was Air Vice-Marshal G. E. Brookes, officer commanding th[e] bomber group. He thanked the Y. M.C.A. War Services which mad[e] the league possible.

Under the present arrangement each team will play each othe[r] once before Christmas in a round robin tournament. Further plan[s] will be made before the New Year.

TORONTO, Dec. 3 — (CP). — Death of John Leslie in Edmonton on Monday lessened chances of revival of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada. As secretary for 15 years, Leslie was one of the few men who retained interest in the Amateur Union which practically died when the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association withdrew its support in a dispute over the definition of an amateur. Flt. Lt. Syd Halter of Winnipeg is A.A.U. president. Chances are we shall hear little more of the A.A.U. unless and until the Olympic Games are revived after the war.

Aftermath:

Jimmy Simpson, captain of Hamilton's football champions, the Wildcats, believed he was the only man to play with four Canadian championship grid teams— Hamilton Tigers in 1928-29-32 and Wildcats this year. This thought was publicized and information from fans showed Pep Leadley topped that record with five title teams—Queen's in 1922-23-24 and Hamilton in 1928-29. Red Batstone made the grade four times, first with Toronto Argos in 1921, then with Queen's the following three years ....Tommy Moore of the Hamilton Spectator says Wildcats may take the old name of Tigers in 1944, with the 1943 executive remaining.

Incidentally:

As expected, Lachine's showing in the Eastern football final was a fillip to interest in Montreal. Already the Quebec Rugby Football Union has formed a boosters committee to get the leading grid figures in the prvince behind the game. Myer Insky heads the com-

Gate Receipts Climb At N.H.L. Games

By HAROLD FREEMAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL, Dec. 3. — (CP).— More people have paid more money to watch National Hockey League games so far this season than in any comparable period in the long history of the league.

Official figures tell the story—a story not only of bigger crowds at games but also of crowds buying more high-priced seats than in other years. If the trend continues—the league officials believe it will grow rather than decline—the 1943-44 season of the N.H.L. will go down as the best in its history.

Which would be really something considering the tough fight the league had to get started this season, paying customers totalled 324,017 compared with 298,612 in the same period last year—and last year the league set a new attendance record of 1,446,827 exclusive of playoffs.

Gate receipts are up $47,359 so far, at $423,561 compared with $376,202. And tax receipts on figures like that aren't doing the Dominion treasury one speck of harm.

Take Montreal Canadiens for example. In seven home games they've dropped down to 8,500 only once—their second game of the season—and the average attendance is around the 12,000-mark, which is just about tops considering that the seating capacity of the Forum is only 11,700.

HOLDS TITLE—Beau Jack of Atlanta and New York who holds the lightweight title, having recently defeated Bob Montgomery of Philadelphia.

Baseball Meet Quietens Down

NEW YORK, Dec. 3—(AP)— There wasn't a man biting a dog anywhere in sight as the Winter baseball meetings went into their final sessions today. The only thing left was today's joint major league session, which figured to be practically a love feast except for a request of St. Louis Browns and Cardinals for a green light to play more night baseball in 1944 than the maximum 14 game apiece the law allows.

In fact, so far as anything popping was concerned, there was no wind left in the week-long hot-air derby. And the most "windless" thing around was the chance of a player trade, now that the United States Army has its eye on Lefty Al Smith, the bellcow of the Cleveland Indians' staff.

Word that Lefty Al's St. Louis draft board has put him in 1-A caused the Tribe to pull the tastiest trading bait of the entire sessions, Jim Bagby, right out of the showcase, because he's one of the few competent curvers still handy.

Giants Lament Loss Of Carl Hubbell

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—A great baseball career was ended with the appointment of Carl Hubbell as "field director" of the Giants' minor league organization, but perhaps one was started that will be equally successful.

For the baseball men in attendance at the league meetings applaud the selection and believe that Prexy Horace Stoneham has made a very happy choice. They appreciate the sentimental gesture the appointment represents, but are certain, too, that the old screwball maestro is perfectly equipped to handle the job.

As one of the veterans expressed it, "for the first time since Mr. McGraw's day the Giants have somebody to talk for them who can impress young players. Youngsters are bound to be flattered by any attention a man like Hubbel pays to them, and his name and reputation will give him an entree where other scouts won't be received."

Ott Pleased.

Nobody was more pleased with Hub's promotion than his old roomie and recent boss, Mel Ott, but he did express one regret.

"It's not going to be the same at the Polo Grounds without Hub," he declared. "Through all the years I've been there he's been the Giants' No. 1 pitcher and meal ticket, and there will be a lot of days next summer when I will wish I had him to call on."

"Meal ticket" is the word that describes Hub's relationship to the Giants for more than a decade. Many observers rate him as the greatest of the modern-day pitchers, and certainly only Matty was his equal or superior in all the history of the Giants.

Hill Exploits Recalled.

His pitching exploits were the talk of all the baseball lobby and hotel-room gatherings last night. The boys recalled that he won 257 games for the Giants, including four world series triumphs, and that in his prime he was invincible in National League competition. He won the 1936 pennant for the Giants by stringing together 16 successive victories through the late season, and started them toward the 1937 flag by bagging his first eight starts.

But what was undoubtedly his most spectacular performance was reserved for the All-Star game at the Polo Grounds in 1934. That was the afternoon he struck out in succession the five greatest American League thumpers—Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Jimmy Foxx, Al Simmons, and Joe Cronin. Old-timers insist there never was a pitching exhibition like that one.

Perhaps as significant as Hub's appointment is the fact that it marks their full-scale entry into farm-system baseball. Heretofore they have been only casually interested in that type of promotion, and as a result they haven't enjoyed much luck in the development of young players.

Plan Big Chain.

Hub has only two clubs with which to start, the Jersey City club and the Bristo club of the Class D Appalachian League, but his first job at the current meetings will be to make connections with two more Class D clubs and one in the "A" classification. Ultimately, Stoneham said, the Giants expect to add eight or 10 clubs to the chain.

Need More Clubs

HAMILTON, Dec. 3.—(CP).—Provincial Secretary George H. Dunbar, addressing the Hamilton Women's Progressive Conservative Association, yesterday emphasized the need for boys' clubs in urban communities to counteract juvenile delinquency.

The Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 3—(AP)— Judge W. G. Bramham emerged as the dominating figure of the four-day gouging and slugging match known as the minor baseball league meetings. Nearly everybody admits Bramham has done a swell job as head of the minors.

Lobby Patrol

Although Luke Appling is in the army, the White Sox feel that he will be out again by next season. His right ankle, where it was broken a few years ago is held together by wire...For the same reason Cardinal officials aren't worried about Marty Marion's 1-A classification. He fell off a cliff when he was a kid and his right leg is wired up like a radio set.

Cleaning the Cuff

Joe Reardon turned down an offer to take Herb Pennock's place as Red Sox farm boss and the current report is that he'll follow Pennock to the Phillies...When yesterday's league meeting ended, President Will Harridge asked if there were any further suggestions. Jack Zeller of the Tigers spoke up: "Yes, let's all sit here until some one makes a deal."...If any one had agreed they probably still would be sitting.

Canadiens Hold Top Spot; Leafs Nip Wings

(By The Canadian Press)

Chicago Black Hawks and Detroit Red Wings could hardly be blamed today if they levelled charges of collusion against Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs.

Not only did Canadiens crush Chicago 6-2 at Montreal last night while Leafs edged Detroit 6-5 before 9,484 home fans, but in each case the Canadian clubs achieved victory on a four-goal rally in the third period.

Results of the night's play left Canadiens undefeated in 13 games (10 victories, three ties), moved Toronto into a 2nd-place tie with Chicago, two points ahead of Detroit and Boston Bruins and nine behind Canadiens, and stretched to 12 the number of consecutive games which home teams have played without defeat. The last triumph by a road club was recorded Nov. 21 when Toronto trimmed New York Rangers 5-2.

4 in 5 Minutes

Canadiens crammed their four-goal jag into a five-minute stretch compared with the 11 minutes Leafs required, but Leafs waged a more dramatic battle. They trailed 2-0 at the end of the first period, lagged behind 4-2 at the end of the second and appeared beaten when Joe Carveth made it 5-2 at 1:14 of the third period.

Then Leafs started their uprising, George Boothman caging Reg Hamilton's pass. Lorne Carr scored two six minutes apart and Mel Hill sank the winning tally at 14:23.

Early Toronto scores were supplied by Ted Kennedy and Elwin Morris, while Syd Howe, Carveth and Adam Brown with two rounded out Detroit scoring.

Don Grosso, Detroit, centre, suffered a wrenched knee in the first period and is expected to miss the next Detroit game.

For 2 periods, Montreal and Chicago waged a tense battle before 12,000 fans. Goals by Fern Majeau and Buddy O'Connor of Montreal against tallies by George Allen and Mush March of Chicago sent the teams out for the third period tied 2-2.

Mike McMahon set off the Montreal explosion at 14:49 of the last period. In quick succession, Maurice Richard, Leo Lamoureux and O'Connor stormed upon Hec Highton for goals.

Billiard Champion Buried In Chicago

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—Funeral services for Charles Cowboy Weston, one-time pocket billiard champion of the world, were held here Wednesday.

Weston, whose right name was Oliver Rectanus, died last Friday at the Wesley Memorial Hospital of a heart ailment. He was 67 years old. Born in Pittsburg, Weston became a star pocket billiard player in his youth.

He won the world's championship in 1909, terminating one of the many reigns of the Cuban star, Alfredo de Oro, and he lost his title the same year in a challenge match to Johnny Kling, who was still active on the baseball front as catcher for Frank Chance's famous Cubs.

In the 20's he turned his attention to three-cushion billiards and played in several championship meets. Veteran Chicago billiard fans still recall a match Weston played with Willie Hoppe, which Hoppe won 50 to 49. The game is remembered as a defensive masterpiece, both players resorting to safety after safety, with Hoppe winning in the 71st inning.

Johnny Conick Takes Top Spot

TORONTO, Dec. 3.—(CP).—Johnny Conick of the league-leading Hamilton Majors this week took over top spot in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior "A" scoring parade, records issued by Secretary W. A. Hewitt showed today.

The Hamilton forward has seven goals and eight assists for 15 points, one better than Red Hamill of Kingston Frontenac Army, last week's leader. Two other Hamilton players, Doug Runions and Dillon Brady, took third and fourth places on the list with 13 and 12 points, respectively.

Blink Bellinger, St. Catharines forward, is fifth with 11 points and Norm Tustin of the tailend Toronto R.C.A.F. Flyers rounds out the first six with 10.

Jap Soldiers Masters At Camouflage

MONTREAL, Dec. 3.—The story of the war in Japan came haltingly from Mrs. Hugh T. Macklin and what she didn't tell with her lips was revealed in the depths of her eyes.

Young and attractive, she came down from the steps of the repatriates' sealed train yesterday with her 7-year-old daughter Bonnie, and what she said was always said reticently because her husband still is behind in Japan. But her eyes were dark and they frequently flashed when she talked.

"The last time the Gripsholm brought people to America, there was much talk," she said. "One man even wrote a book about Japanese atrocities. The Japs made it tougher for us in the camp and I know, because the man who wrote the book had come from our camp.

Atrocity Stories Not Lies.

"I can't tell you much, but I can assure you that none of the stories were lies. I read the Reader's Digest and Collier's on the ship and I can assure you none of it was exaggerated."

She stood there thoughtfully for a moment.

"The man you want to talk to, my friend," she said at length, "is the last man to come away from Japan. I suspect he will have a story for you."

Mrs. Macklin's husband was a British Army officer at Hong Kong. She had known many Canadians there, she said. She and her husband had entertained them often.

Did she see any fighting?

"Yes, I saw much fighting. I saw them fighting in the streets, and I saw them fighting outside my front door. It was very bad.

"We were evacuated to a hospital which they told us wouldn't be bombed. It was bombed continuously. It was bombed 19 times one day and the noise of the bombs became a sort of silly symphony."

Soldiers who survived told her that they weren't fighting men, they were fighting trees and shrubs.

"The camouflage was wonderful, as camouflage goes. The soldiers didn't know if they were shooting at trees or men. They never knew if there were men behind the shrubbery.

"I hate the Japs intensely, but I must admit nothing stops them," she said grimly.

Outnumbered, Overpowered.

She said she was in no position to judge whether Canadian troops were poorly equipped or poorly trained. "But I know the British were at the absolute peak of their training. They were simply outnumbered and overpowered by force of numbers."

The siege of Hong Kong Island lasted two weeks and during that time they underwent almost continuous bombing.

When she was asked about treatment in internment camps her lips said it was all right and her eyes said it wasn't. Mrs. Macklin doesn't like the Japs. She doesn't like them at all.

Women's Auxiliary Honors Patron Saint

LAKEFIELD, Dec. 3 — (ENS)— The W.A. of St. John's Anglican Church held Corporate Communion in the Parish Hall on Saint Andrew's Day, as St. Andrew is the patron saint of the Women's Auxiliary.

The rector, Rev. S. A. R. Wood was the celebrant for the Communion. Following the service the afternoon was spent in quilting and making garments for the Anglican mission in the Northwest. The bale of clothing was sent by the Dorcas to the white settlers in the west. Tea was served by Mrs. B. Q. Dench, assisted by Mrs. R. Touchburn and Mrs. William Armstrong.

IT'S DIFFERENT NOW

In the 20 years preceding the present war, Canada did not produce a single seagoing merchant ship.

and equipped for combat duty.

Later Gen. Chiang, delighted with the training program, told the station personnel: "It's your good fortune that you have been placed under the joint command of Lord Mountbatten and Gen. Stilwell. Destroy the enemy and a bright era of true equality will dawn upon you in the world to come. The price to be paid for victory is the price to be paid for the glory of our country."

Lord Louis told the trainees: "I promise that you will go into battle when the time comes. I know you will fight, I know you will advance, and I know you will kill Japs." Our motto will be, 'Advance and kill Japs, advance and kill Japs.'"

Chiang declined to discuss the Cairo conference. It was obvious, however, he was satisfied with what had been accomplished at Cairo.

Minister Addresses Missionary Club

LAKEFIELD, Dec. 3 — (ENS). —Mrs. J. McKerchar entertained the members of the Missionary and Service Club for the November meeting and Mrs. Clare Chittick presided for the devotional period.

The scripture reading was given by Mrs. C. Hunter, followed by prayer by Rev. George Kelly. Mrs. W. W. Yale gave a humorous reading "Thumbing a Ride."

Rev. Kelly gave an address on the Lord's people. During the business period final arrangements were made for the bazaar to be held at Mrs. J. Brown's. Lunch was served and a social hour enjoyed.

David Wellman Has Ninetieth Birthday

MARMORA, Dec. 3 — (ENS).— Mr. David Williams formerly of Toronto, but now residing with Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Caldwell (the latter being his niece) celebrated his 90th birthday this week.

He received a number of messages of congratulation by mail. One of special interest was a birthday card from the Bible Class of College Street United United Church, Toronto, signed by every member. Mr. Williams before coming to Marmora in October was a regular attendant at the class meetings for many years.

Crowd Attends Supper

MARMORA, Dec. 3 — (ENS).— A meat pie supper was held in St. Andrew's Hall Thursday evening under the auspices of Saint Andrew's Women's Association. The C.G.I.T. girls held a white elephant table in connection with this event.

Mrs. Easterbrook W.A. President

HAVELOCK, Dec. 3 — (ENS)— Mrs. T. Easterbrook was returned as president for the fifth year, of the Women's Association of the United Church at their annual meeting.

The pastor, Rev. J. W. Wilkinson presided for the elecetion of officers, resulting as follows:

First vice-president, Mrs. Annie Anderson; secretary, Mrs. C. Price; treasurer, Mrs. R. McCutcheon; correspondence secretary, Mrs. J. Freeman; Christmas and Floral Cheer, Mrs. F. Rogers and Mrs. C. Spencer; auditors, Mrs. S. J. W. Clarke and Mrs. G. Chiles; pianist, Mrs. J. W. Wilkinson.

Reports of the year's activities of the three groups were read, showing a good financial balance to start off the new year. Christmas cards are to be purchased and mailed to the boys and girls in Canada, serving in the armed forces. The new Honor Roll for the church has been purchased, and as soon as it can be inscribed and framed it will be formally dedicated to the church.

The Association voted to donate $25 to the Missionary and Maintenance fund of the church; $10 to the Peterborough British War Victims fund; $10 to the Red Cross and $10 to the Eastern Star Patriotic Association.

The devotional exercises were in charge of Mr. James Freeman, opening with Christmas hymns. Mrs. Annie Anderson led in prayer, after which Mrs. Freeman gave a short talk on "Peace On Earth, Good Will to Men." She pointed out how this song seems out of place and has a strange unaccustomed sound, when war and hate predominate. She said it is sometimes hard to remember Jesus died that all might be brothers, but there is still an opportunity to make a new start.

Mr. Wilkinson complimented the Association on its fine achievements throughout the year, and for co-operation they had received since the parsonage fire, and he closed the meeting with a prayer of thanksgiving. A hot supper was served to about 50 members and friends.

thern Italy in an attempt to stem the drive.

Stampede Refugees.

Frontline advices said the Germans were trying to use crowds of refugees to block and hamper the Allied advance. They were reported to be taking the populations of the small towns and driving them out toward the advancing 5th and 8th Armies, then blowing up bridges behind them in an attempt to create conditions similar to those in France during the Nazi blitz.

Calabritto, which is five miles south-west of Mignano at the strongest part of the German line defending the main road to Rome, was the scene of the heaviest 5th Army fighting and reports were extremely reserved on how far Clark's Army had progressed.

A force of United States heavy bombers, escorted by fighters, pounded Bolzano, on the Brenner Pass line in Northern Italy, while the British destroyers Queensborough and Raider bombarded Nazi installations in the Albanian port of Durazzo at night.

The aircraft were engaged by strong formations of Messerschmitt 109s and Focke-Wulf 190s and shot down four for a loss of three.

Pilots flying over the 5th Army battle area reported "fierce fighting" and great clouds of dust rising over large areas enveloped by battle.

MORE MILK PRODUCED

In the first six months of 1942, British milk production was 10,000,000 gallons above the average for the first six months of each pre-war year; this despite the great increase in ploughed land.

Revenue Trebles From Whiskey Across Canada

OOTAWA, Dec. 3—(CP)—Canadian consumption of spirits, malt liquors and wines is estimated to have reached a new high point in the year ended March 31, 1943, and the Dominion Government's revenue from such beverages now is three times greater than at the outbreak of war, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported last night.

Reports for the eight Provinces in which liquor control boards operate showed revenues to have reached the highest point on record. Prince Edward Island has prohibition.

Tax Revenue Soars

The bureau estimated that in the year ended March 31, 1943, Canadians consumed 4,903,023 proof gallons of spirits, compared with 4,348,440 in the previous year and 3,433,664 in the fiscal year of 1939.

Estimated consumption of malt liquors for the past year was 97,610,326 gallons, against 85,505,475 the previous year and 63,302,752 in 1939. For wine, the consumption for 1942-43 was estimated at 6,627,000 gallons, compared with 4,167,243 gallons in 1941-42 and 3,461,867 gallons in 1939.

Total Dominion revenue from the manufacture and sale of liquor, exclusive of sales tax,, during the fiscal year 1943 was $80,952,000 against $60,710,000 in 1942 and $25,669,000 in 1939. The revenue is made up of excise duties, excise taxes, excise duties on malt and customs duties.

The production of spirits, including unmatured spirits, for the fiscal year of 1943 was reported by the bureau as "the largest in many years," totalling more than 19,000,000 proof gallons. For the previous year it was 17,569,476, and for 1939, 9,642,830.

Beers Also Higher

Production of malt liquors was 108,980,613, against 101,081,682 in the previous year and 63,331,620 in 1939.

Wine produced during 1941, the most recent year for which figures were given, but placed in storage for maturing, totalled 4,841,000 gallons and the amount of fermented wine bottled or sold in bulk during that year was 4,189,000 gallons. This was slightly less than in 1940, but exceeded previous years, with the exception of 1929 and 1930.

Gross sales of Provincial Liquor Control Boards, with net revenue in brackets for the most recent fiscal year were: Nova Scotia, $15,136,831 ($4,885,365); New Brunswick, $8,070,651 ($2,950,957); Quebec, $24,645,117 ($9,474,417); Ontario, $33,035,844 ($15,068,065) (this was supplemented by sales of $45,547,177 from breweries and brewers' warehouses and $2,903,584 from native wine sales offices); Manitoba, $9,983,323 ($2,740,498); Saskatchewan, $10,094,457 ($2,407,066); Alberta, $13,197,621 ($3,897,175); British Columbia, $20,956,955 ($5,928,444).

Back To Land Program Well Underway

By C. R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—(CP).— A back-to-the-land opportunity for American veterans of the war is expected to be ready when the boys come home, probably something along the lines of the Canadian veterans' land settlement legislation, but observers here fear it will be handicapped by the swiftly-soaring values of farm property.

This has prompted James Patton of the National Farmers' Union to suggest that the government appropriate $5,000,000 with which to take options on suitable farm lands for a future tenant-purchase scheme to benefit the service people.

The Washington Post quotes Agricultural Department statistics to show the average acre value of farm lands and improvements last July 1 was 23 per cent. above the 1935-39 base. It is estimated to have risen another four per cent. since July.

Lucky Fellow: Under the heading, "Those Poor Canucks," Bascom N. Timmons, veteran Washington correspondent in the Philadelphia Record, discovers that American money costs Canadians a premium of 10 per cent., and is hard to get. He tells of a "prominent Canadian business man" who could get only $250 for a week's stay in Washington and was "practically stranded here." If he got $250 for one week in the United States he was lucky. Even at Washington's inflated prices, he would live pretty well on better than $25 a day.

Cattle Prices Up 15-25; Sheep Up 50

TORONTO, Dec. 3 — (CP). — Prices were 15 to 25 cents cwt. higher on the few good slaughter cattle offered on the Livestock Market here this week. Calves and hogs were steady. Sheep and lambs were 50 cents cwt. higher.

Small number of choice weighty steers brought $12.50 to $12.65 and other steers sold downward to $11. Butcher steers and heifers were $10 to $11.60 and boners sold down from $7 to $8.50. Butcher cows were $6.75 to $8.75. Canners and cutters were $5 to $6.50 and bulls $7.50 to $9.25. Fed yearlings were $11.50 to $13.50 and common to medium stockers sold slowly at from $7.50 to $9.50. A few good feeders brought $10.25 to $10.75. Milkers and springers were steady at $130 to $160 for top quality.

Calves were at $15 to $15.50 for choice vealers with common downward to $10. Grass calves were at $7 to $7.50.

The small lot of lambs were $12.25 to $12.60 for good ewes and wethers with the bulk at $12.50. Bucks were $1 cwt. discount and culls $8 to $10 cwt. Sheep sold at $3 to $7.50.

MARKET RECEIPTS

November market receipts amounted to $135.72, as follows: inside, $45.42; outside, $44.30; scale tolls, $31.65; and parking, $14.35.

ARRIVES OVERSEAS

Word has been received that Frank Adam, who is serving with the R.C.N.V.R., has arrived safely overseas. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. Adam and prior to enlisting he was employed at Braund's north end store.

APPEARING EARLY

Christmas trees promise to be rather scarce this year, but an ambitious merchant in Ottawa made a beginning. During the week he had two loads of trees ranging in price from $1 to $1.50 a tree. None were large, the $1 ones being about 4½ feet high. Sales were slow.

DIRECTORS ELECTED

Directors elected at the annual dinner meeting of the Peterborough Club last night were H. T. Cranford, T. O. Donaldson, T. A. Mackay and F. S. Potter Their term is for three years The directors appoint the officers for the coming year on Saturday.

COMMENDED BY MAYOR

"I'm glad to get a little credit for something," said Alderman Curtis, chairman of the park committee, when Mayor Hamilton commented that a good job was done in clearing the salvage out of the lacrosse box on Townsend street. "I helped put it there, and I wanted to see the place cleaned up properly," the chairman said.

ACCUSED IN HOSPITAL

Harry Little, Havelock, was to have appeared in police court this morning to face charges of drunken driving and driving while his license was suspended. When the cases were called, however, T. J. Carley, K.C., who appeared for Little, asked for an adjournment, stating that he had learned that his client had had to go to St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment, as the result of injury to his ribs. The case was adjourned for a week, with the understanding there would be a further adjournment then.

TWO CARS STOLEN

An automobile belonging to Major James McGrath of the Prince of Wales Rangers was stolen from in front of the Armouries Thursday night. This is the second car to be taken here in the last day or two, a machine belonging to Art O'Halloran, 319 McDonnel street, disappearing the previous night. The Army was hit hard Thursday night for in addition to the theft of Major McGrath's car, seven gallons of gas were stolen from a car owned by Sergt.-Major Kennedy and parked at the Y.M.C.A.

CHRISTMAS MARKETS

Peterborough Christmas produce markets will follow the customary midweek extra on Wednesday, December 22 and Friday December 24, and in the last week of the year only on December 31, Friday.

NO COMPLAINTS

"The incinerator is working fine; no complaints; and the garbage is being burned in good time," Alderman Swanston, chairman, reported to the members of the property committee of the council yesterday.

NOW HELPING.

Capt. V. Graham of the Salvation Army in Toronto, and Mrs. C. Norman, of Red Deer, Alta., are now helping in the Uptown Recreation Centre. Capt. Graham is in charge of the canteen and Mrs. Norman is assisting with hostess duties.

STORES BUSIER.

Wth the beginning of December shoppers appear to have become more Christmas conscious and many of the clerks remarked on Thursday that it was one of the heaviest days to date for making Christmas purchases.

MEETING MONDAY

Vegetable growers have a number of important items for their annual meeting Monday night in the office of F. C. Paterson. Purchase of baskets, seed, and so on with election of officers should bring out a full attendance. Fred Stinson is president.

NORTH END RINK

A public rink, especially for children, will be laid out in the north end of the city if a city lot is available the parks committee of the council decided yesterday, on Alderman Swanston's motion, seconded by Mayor Hamilton. The general locality is in the vicinity of the Normal School.

CHARGE IS WITHDRAWN

When a charge against Manson Lindsay of assaulting William Keller causing actual bodily harm was called in police court this morning, Keller the complainant asked that the charge should be withdrawn. Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., stated that he was satisfied with that disposition of the case.

U.E. PRESIDENT HERE

Albert J. Fitzgerald, international president of the United Electrical, Radio & Machine Workers of America, will be the chief speaker at a meeting sponsored by the local U.E. branch in the Collegiate Institute auditorium Saturday afternoon beginning at 2.30 p.m. C. S. Jackson, Canadian president, will also be present. N. Hamblin will be chairman, and the program will include several films, a one act play and dancing by the pupils of Marion Perry Laird.

Obituaries

MRS. JOHN G. MORTON

The death of Mrs. John G. Morton, 266 Wolfe street, occurred in her fifty-sixth year early this morning at St. Joseph's Hospital after a short illness.

Mrs. Morton was born in Durham, England, Ethel May Watson, daughter of Mrs. Sarah Watson and the late William Watson. Coming to Peterborough three and a half years ago from Brampton, Mrs. Morton is survived by her husband, one son John George of 570 Sherbrooke street, and a grandson six years old; also by her mother, two sisters, and one brother all living in England. Mrs. Morton was a member of L.O.B.A. 650, Star of Bethlehem.

The funeral will take place Monday at 2 p.m. from the Belleghem Funeral Home, 190 Hunter street to Little Lake Cemetery; and the service will be conducted by Rev. W. A. Filer of All Saints Church of which the deceased was a member.

MRS. FRANK SANDY

Mrs. Emma Sandy, widow of Frank Sandy, who was for years station agent in Peterborough for the C.N.R., died at the home of her niece at Aylmer, Ontario, Thursday, December 2. After Mr. Sandy's retirement from active service with the railway, the family moved to Lindsay where he died. Many Peterborough friends of those days remember both him and Mrs. Sandy with kindly thoughts of years that disclosed their fine qualities as neighbors and citizens.

The funeral will take place at Little Lake Cemetery Saturday afternoon following service at the cemetery chapel at 2.30 o'clock.

MRS. JENNIE CATHARINE O'SHEA

The death of Mrs. Jennie Catharine O'Shea, widow of the late Jeremiah O'Shea, occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. A. Coughlan, Hastings, after an illness of nine days.

Mrs. O'Shea was born in Geneva, New York, on December 3, 1863, the second youngest daughter of the late Bartholomew Mahoney and Hanorah Walsh, and in 1868 came with her parents to Ontario. After teaching school for some years she was married in Campbellford on February 7, 1893, to Jeremiah A. O'Shea, who predeceased her on October 6, 1942.

Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Coughlan (Olive) and her son, M. A. O'Shea, Hastings, and ten grandchildren, also one brother, Richard E. Mahoney, and sister, Mrs. T. J. Horkins, Campbellford.

The funeral was held to Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, Hastings, where requiem mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. J. J. Garvey, assisted by Rev. J. F. Coughlan, St. Augustine's Seminary, Toronto, grandson of the deceased. Also present in the sanctuary were the Very Reverend Dean J. B. Ferguson, P.P., Warkworth; Rev. C. J. Carroll, P.P., Norwood, and Rev. J. P. Collins, P.P., Campbellford

Interment was made in the Roman Catholic Cemetery, Hastings, where the prayers at the grave were offered by Rev. J. J. Garvey and Very Reverend Dean J. B. Ferguson.

Fire Inspector Is Criticized

Judgment has been reserved by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., until next Wednesday in the case in which Frederick Stadnik, Belmont Township farmer, was charged with attempting to obtain under false pretences a sum of money from the Farmers' Central Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

It was one of the longest cases heard in police court for some time, the taking of evidence running over the greater part of two days. The case arose out of a fire which destroyed Stadnik's barn in September last and the crown sought to prove that the accused had made a false claim in regard to the articles and goods lost through the fire.

In his argument T. J. Carley, K.C., defence counsel, criticized the methods used by an inspector from the Fire Marshal's department in obtaining a statement from Stadnik. He said that the accused had been taken into Havelock by the inspector and a constable of the Provincial police and kept there all day while the statement was being obtained.

"If the Fire Marshal of Ontario cannot carry on his investigations without that kind of thing he had better resign and make room for some one who can", said Mr. Carley.

Dances At Cavan Total $253 For War Victims

Dancing has always been a symbol of light-heartedness, joy and pleasure for all those who participated, and is quite extreme from the feeling of desolation that would prevail to those who had passed through the terrifying stages of an air raid attack and seen the destruction of their homes, with injury and possibly loss of life to those nearest and dearest to them.

Nothing would seem more appropriate than that the former should be made the occasion for giving some help to the latter, and in this respect it can be said with all sincerity that the efforts of the Cavan community have been most successful during the current year, for with the latest contribution listed in today's receipts for the Peterborough and District British War Victims' Fund through Mervin Kinsman, who represents the fund in that place, they have now contributed the splendid sum of $253.20 in that space of time.

All kinds of pleasure, no matter what their form may be, add a great deal to the happiness they give to all concerned, when those who share in its delights can think of others less fortunate than themselves, so as to make it the means of putting a silver lining into the dark clouds which loom so big to those in distress.

This same group is holding another dance in the Community Hall at Cavan on Friday, December 10, in order to give further assistance to the special donations for the Christmas season.

Get-Together Club Repeats

The Get-Together Club came into existence purely from a desire on the part of a very small group of people to give a helping hand to the sufferers from air raids over Britain, and for a little over two years they have been steadily working through the holding of small parties in the homes of the members to carry this into effect.

Their latest contribution of $10.50 through Mrs. William Youdell was made through parties held in the homes of Mrs. Babbs on Stewart street, Mrs. James on Bolivar street, Mrs. Youdell of R.R. 4, Peterborough, and Miss Hope on London street, which now gives them a total credit only a few cents short of the $300 mark, and they plan to make a special contribution towards the Children's Christmas Cheer Fund.

Stamp Out Hitler Clubs

Another group worthy of special mention is that headed by Bob Everitt under the name of the "Stamp Out Hitler Clubs," who have a further $8.00 to their credit today, bringing their total at the moment up to the nice sum of $212.50.

The Canada Packers and Kiwanis Club hold the limelight in this latest amount raised, with V. Gady, who won twice, and E. Driscoll being the winners in the former, and J. J. Collins, J. A. Bradshaw and P. Comstock proving winners in the latter, while D. Flynn won in the Empress Hotel club and F. McCormack was the winner in the Men's Bowling League club.

Some time ago, Bob Everitt received a cheque from Bette Davis of Hollywood fame, which he deposited the cash for with the fund, and kept the cheque as a souvenir. He has now decided to give this as a personal contribution to the Christmas Cheer Fund, and suggests that others might like to be associated in a personal way in the same list on the same day, and if so, he will be glad to accept the contribution for turning in at the same time.

One personal donation of $10.00 from E. L. Sackville is listed, following a similar one last year for the same purpose of giving Christmas cheer, and the South-End Group of St. John's Women's Friendly Bible Class are listed with a gift of $3.00 for the same purpose, they too having helped on a number of occasions previously.

Havelock Man Fined For Careless Driving

Abraham Aboud, Havelock, was fined $7.50 and $2.50 costs in police court this morning on a charge of careless driving to which he had entered through Sergt. G. T. Puffer a written plea of guilty.

Sergt. Puffer informed the court that Aboud had been backing up his car just as the wind blew the hat off the head of a woman pedestrian. The woman had chased after the hat and Aboud who failed to notice her kept on backing his automobile until it struck the pedestrian and knocked her off her feet. She was not hurt, it was asserted.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3—(AP)—The Senate Finance Committee last night directed Drew Pearson, Washington columnist, to appear before it today to explain a statement in his column that Ellsworth Alvord, counsel for the United States Chamber of Commerce, "boasts that he has Senator Georges (Dem.-Ga.) vote on taxes in his pocket."

REACHES ITALY—Mrs. Leslie J. Field, 137 Lock Street, has received word from her husband, Gnr. Leslie J. Field, that he has arrived in Italy. He will have been overseas four years in January, having enlisted on the first day of war in 1939. Although he is with the 11th Field Regiment, R.C.A. of Guelph, he lived in Peterborough for a long time.

Many Categories Open In Navy

Although recruiting for the Navy has been slowed down temporarily there is of course no truth in the report that it has been completely stopped, H. B. Cowan, Jr., points out.

As a matter of fact men are still urgently required in a number of capacities in the R.C.N.V.R. Among the personnel required at the present time are stewards who must have at least a high school entrance and preferably experience as steward or bell boy or waiter. The age limit is from 18 to 45 years.

Supply assistants who have had the necessary experience and who are between 21 and 35 years, patrol men, 25 years or more and well built physically, with some police experience preferred, cooks, engine room artificers, sick bay attendants, shipwrights, engineer's writers, and stokers 2nd Class are among the classes that will be accepted.

Milkman's Horse Killed In Crash

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 3—(ENS)—Southend residents of Campbellford failed to get their milk this morning because the milk wagon was in collision with a car driven by Wellington Green. The wagon was parked on the west side of Grand Road headed south when the car going in the same direction hit the wagon. The horse was instantly killed, the wagon completely wrecked, and the milk being spilt all over the pavement. The milkman, Wayne Gunther, was making a delivery at a nearby house at the time of the crash.

Lot To Be Bought For The Utilities

Immediate purchase of the lot on the west side of Aylmer street south of the office of the Utilities Commission was authorized by the finance committee of the city council last night on Alderman Gordon's motion seconded by Alderman Glover.

Mayor Hamilton explained that all Utilities property is vested in the name of the city, with the Commission only administrators, and for that reason a property purchase must be made by the council, but the Commission actually provides the money.

The Commission wrote that they had a $3,000 option on the lot until the end of December. It is 132 feet by 114 feet, and is owned by the Chamberlen Estate.

Battered Body Of Child Found In Water

HALIFAX, Dec. 3.—(CP).— The battered body of nine-year-old Nadia Johnson, a deep wound in her head, was recovered to-day from the waters of the northwest Army by navy divers who pressed ther search for the blonde child's father Cmdr. F. M. Johnson of the Royal Navy, who had been missing with her since Wednesday morning in what police believe is a murder-suicide.

The child's body, clad in a grey ski suit, was found about 100 yards offshore and about 200 yards down the Arm from the Johnson's Marlboro Woods home. Her head was gashed by a deep wound that police said had apparently been inflicted by a sharp instrument.

Supporting the murder-suicide theory is a letter found in the Johnson home after father and daughter first were reported missing.

Contents of the note, addressed to Cmdr. Johnson's second-in-comman, Lieut. W. Kibble, were not revealed, but city chief detective James Baker said it started out, "this is finis for me and mine." Detective Baker said the letter then went on to the effect the commander had put his affairs in order.

Early this afternoon no trace had been found of the body of the senior British naval officer here, but divers were scouring the area where the grim discovery of the child's corpse was made, and where a man resembling the commander was seen in a canoe Wednesday.

Annexation Is Discussed

Warden Mather and other members of Otonabee Council, including Deputy Reeve Harry Reid, consulted the finance committee of the City Council last night about the petition received by the township from residents of the eastern fringe of the city to be annexed to Otonabee.

This area lies east of the road extending northerly from Downer's Corner to the old Norwood road and along No. 7 highway, on its north side, to the turn of the old Keene road. The eastern border of the city is close to the home of Mark Burnham.

"We have not committed ourselves, but we would like to know what you think of it," said Warden Mather.

Signatures of the petition to Otonabee include Norman McConkey, V. E. Crebar, J. T. O'Connell, W. T. McDonnell, the Dickson estate, John McMahon and others.

Mayor Hamilton said he thought the Council would not object to this annexation if the township would take steps to prevent anything developing in the nature of a shack community.

"If the city is agreeable I think perhaps we will take it in," Warden Mather said, and Mr. Reid added that present opinion in the Township Council was to pass a building bylaw that would apply to the area.

"We had once agreed tentatively to the Dickson farm going back," Mayor Hamilton said.

The proposal will be discussed by the legal committee and the Township Council will be consulted again.

Want To Erect Overhead Walk

Permission to erect an overhead walk across Murray street between the factory building of Canadian Ventilating Shades Limited and the former office of the Wm. Hamilton Company was asked of the Finance committee of the council Thursday night by A. G. Shallhorn, manager of the company.

Ventilating Shades intend to buy the old office building, and Mr. Shallhorn said they wished merely to replace the walk which had been erected during the Hamilton Company ownership. Murray street from Reid to Downie street is only twenty feet wide, used chiefly for pedestrian purposes toward the west end of the city. It can also be used by small trucks but not by the big ones.

The walk, Mr. Shallhorn said, would be about fourteen feet above the centre of the roadway, and Alderman Cotton, chairman, stated that the Highways requirement was at least twenty-three feet. The request was referred to the Legal committee for their consideration.

Committee Votes $1,000 To BWVF

"Most people have good earnings and I think we can well afford to be a little bit generous," said Alderman Gordon, in moving a gift of $1,000 to the British War Victims' Fund at the meeting of the finance committee of the Council Thursday night.

"We owe them overseas a very great deal," said Ald. Gordon, and as an amen Alderman Dutton remarked "more than we'll ever know." Alderman Glover seconded the motion.

"Some people are not giving much to anything, and others and their families are giving out of all proportion to these others," Alderman Gordon said.

Shortly afterward Fred G. Mann tapped on the committee door and looked in, hopefully and brightly expectantly like young Bill around Christmas time, wondering whether Santa Claus is really going to bring him a train that runs by itself. And what a pleasant surprise rose up to meet him as he learned that the committee had peeled off a $1,000 bill to send to the Old Country to help relieve the distress of war and German air raids which are still continuing.

"Peterborough has gained an enviable name overseas," Mr. Mann said. "We get letters telling us our men are received with open arms, and I think that is something well worth while to us."

Now it can be told that Mr. Mann had built up such hopes on the City Council that he had actually prepared a little speech of appreciation, but when he found out what the finance committee had actually done every word of it suddenly faded from his mind. This morning he could not remember what he said, and all that fluster is a most unusual commotion of the generally well poised F. G. Mann. He beamed like young Bill after Santa Claus has left the electric train and confirmed his faith in the warm heart of the world.

28 Per Cent Of Electors Voted

Only 28 per cent of the electors of Peterborough voted at the municipal elections on New Year's Day 1942, and in Toronto the percentage was 32.

Peterborough was slightly more attentive to its municipal duties on voting day 1938 when 31 per cent turned out and on New Year's Day 1939 it was 33 per cent.

The finance committee of the council Thursday night instructed City Clerk Outram to write to municipalities which have departed from the January 1st balloting, and find out definitely from them whether the change to the first week in December resulted in bringing more ratepayers to the polls.

Alderman Cotton, chairman of the finance committee, introduced the subject, referring to the recent elections in many parts of the province, and to the suggestion that Peterborough might consider whether it was advisable to advance the polling date for its own people.

"I'm sure the council would do anything to encourage more of the voters turning out on election day," Alderman Cotton said.

Alderman Dutton said his information was generally that the change had brought only a slight improvement. "A few more came out, but not to the extent was hoped," he said. "In the Old Country the municipal elections are on November 9."

Alderman Gordon proposed that Mr. Outram make enquiry from other municipalities, and the information he would obtain as to voting results in those places which reply would be an indication of what Peterborough might expect.

Doctors Hear C.C.F. Leader

E. B. Jolliffe, M.P.P.-elect, provincial leader of the C.C.F., was guest of Peterborough County Medical Society at a dinner meeting at the Kawartha Club Thursday evening. Doctors of the district were also invited, and attended from Port Hope, Norwood, Hastings, Bethany and other local centres. Dr. R. S. Chenoweth, president of the county society, was chairman.

It is understood that this meeting was one of a series which is intended to include a similar invitation to Hon. Dr. R. P. Vivian, Minister of Health in the Drew Government, and probably a Liberal representative speaker. At the request of Mr. Jolliffe, it was said, the meeting Thursday night was a private session at which the leader of the C.C.F. Opposition in Ontario discussed his party's ideas for the future of medicine.

Flandin In Trouble

ARTILLERY TAKES TO THE AIR—The largest weapons ever mounted in an airplane, 75 mm. cannon, have been installed in North American B-25 Mitchell bombers and have been used in action against the enemy for the past several months. The cannon is shown here in the lower section of the nose while the two 50-calibre machine-guns are located above. The 75 mm. cannon can best be compared with the famous French 75, the field-gun used with such devastating effect in World War I. The shells fired from the cannon are 26 inches in length and weigh 20 pounds each. In tests, three shells were fired in 10 seconds.

Spiritual Conference Is Held By Ministers Of United Church

A spiritual conference of the Peterborough Presbytery was held in Knox Church Thursday, with Rev. W. J. Wilkinson in the chair.

Letters of sympathy were ordered sent to Revs. J. E. Glover, B.A., and H. L. Roberts, M.A., B.D., who are convalescing, also to W. F. Fallis of Millbrook and George Garbutt of Warsaw, who were unable to attend through sickness. P. I. Bentley of Millbrook was introduced as a new member.

Rev. A. L. Sisco reported for the finance committee that had examined several new ideas for assessing the charges, but had decided that the present method was the best. The total of the resident members, plus the number of families on the charge is divided by two, and the assessment per unit is 14 cents. The report was accepted.

The secretary, Rev. E. D. Snelgrove, reported that R. G. Kitchen was supplying the Wesley charge, and that arrangements had been made for transportation. A representative committee had been appointed on the pension fund, with J. H. Keefer as convener.

Permission was given to Fraserville charge to rent the manse.

Spiritual Conference.

The spiritual conference was presided over by Dr. E. W. Young, who introduced Rev. W. A. Filer of All Saints' Anglican Church.

What shall we preach asked Mr. Filer. "Ministers are ordained to preach the word, and administer the sacraments, the word first, the sacraments second. Laymen quickly recognize whether one preaches from library shelves or from the word. The preacher must listen to God," he declared.

"Gladstone said the greatest malady of his age was the feebleness of the sense of sin. What must be the result of preaching? Do we expect anything to happen? The lawyer speaks for conviction. Do we? To change the world we must change human nature. The result is not in our hands, so we should not be discouraged. Jesus believed in the better nature of people, so must we. We must believe that we are Christ's messengers."

The discussion was led by Revs. G. E. Pugsley, J. F. Everson, W. E. Honey, E. W. Rowland and Mr. F. Rogers.

Dinner was served at noon by the ladies of Knox Church, who were heartily thanked by Revs. George Murray and A. L. Sisco.

Dr. Jessie Arnup of Toronto opened the afternoon session with his address on "The Modern Outlook of Foreign Missions." Some of the greatest missionary enterprises, he said, were begun during the Napoleonic war. In 1792 the Baptist Missionary Society was begun. Carey went to India in 1793. The London Missionary Society originated in 1795. Britain was pressed hard at home in those days. Missions have a global objective and strategy. They are the result of the creative and redemptive energy of God. We have transferred authority today to the churches on the mission field, and they are responding splendidly. We are making an attack on illiteracy; 90 per cent. of the non-Christian world is illiterate, over 1,000 million people in the world cannot read or write.

Dr. Arnup was thanked for his addresses by Rev. J. W. Wilkinson. It was announced that the Moderator, the Right, Rev. J. R. P. Sclater, M.A., D.D., will visit the city on Tuesday, January 18, and the executive was asked to make arrangements.

BEAUTIFUL BEAVER — Wherever one goes it is the beaver coat that seems to be the favorite fur. This isn't astonishing, for beautiful beaver is geared to every day use and yet can go forth for a gay time and look absolutely right at night. Lovely Irene Manning models her coat of beaver made on wrappy lines, with a notched collar and turned-back cuffs, the fur beautifully striped for contrast.

THE EXPERTS SAY . . .

OTTAWA, Dec. 3 (CP) — Green grows the Parsley-oh!—At least we hope it does for Nutrition Service tells us that a pot of parsley, flourishing on the kitchen window sill, is a veritable vitamin mine.

Families are sometimes funny about eating something they regard as decoration and a sprig of vitamins on a plate doesn't do anyone any good. However, turn the decoration into an ingredient by chopping it finely as the French do and sprinkling it over vegetables just before serving and it is accepted without comment.

JAM-JAMS — Here's a recipe coming from the Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture testing kitchen which you'll want to clip and keep handy for holiday entertaining. You'll like the Jam-Jams because the recipe makes about six dozen delicious cookies without undue strain on rationed ingredients:

½ cup mild flavored fat; 1 egg; 3¼ cups pastry flour or 3 cups all-purpose flour; ¼ teaspoon baking soda; 1 teaspoon baking powder; ½ cup sour milk; ½ cup thick jam.

Cream the fat with the sugar thoroughly Beat the egg and add, beating well. Mix and sift the flour with baking soda and baking powder. Add to the fat, sugar and egg mixture alternately with the milk. Chill dough thoroughly. Roll out ⅛ inch thick and cut in two-inch rounds using a doughnut cutter for half the rounds.

Put together in pairs with the jam between and showing through the hole in the top round. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees Fahrenheit for about 20 minutes.

Precious Vitamins and Minerals—Appearance and flavor can be preserved during the cooking of fresh vegetables by using little water, as short cooking time as possibile. Green color can be retained by cooking quickly in an uncovered pot, rather than by using soda which, although it retains green color, destroys some vitamins.

"Takes to Water like a Duck"—is a simile that might apply to most cottons but not to all rayons. The wise woman reads her labels and if washing is definitely discouraged, she'll use the dry cleaning on her rayons. But there are any number of smooth weaves, the kind used in undies, blouses and sport clothes that wash easily and beautifully. Moreover, white rayon is superior to white silk in that it will remain white no matter how often it is washed.

Use plenty of mild soap suds, don't scrimp on the rinsing and no soaking. Roll in a turkish towel and dry away from the radiator and your rayons will be kept fresh looking and new.

Rivers—Westover

LINDSAY, Dec. 3.—(ENS)— St. Mary's Roman Catholic church was the scene of a wedding of interest when Florence Kathleen, daughter of Mrs. R. A. Westover and the late George W. Dagg, became the bride of Flt. Sgt. Lancelot A. Rivers, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Rivers. Nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. Meagher and Miss Ruth Shannon was organist. Given in marriage by Mr. Westover, the bride was gowned in white satin with floor length veil caught up in sweetheart style. She carried a white prayer book with streamers of red roses. The bride was attended by Mrs. Lawrence Gaynor, who wore a floor length gown of tea rose chiffon with head trimming of satin and chiffon and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations. Flower girls were the bride's two young sisters, Alvina and Ruth Westover, who wore dresses of turquoise taffeta and carried bouquets of pink and white carnations and mums. Mr. Joseph Ryan was groomsman.

For Saturday, December 4

THE ASTRAL operations ruling on this day must be interpreted as generally adverse and unpropitious. While there are some phases making for extreme activity and excitement, this in itself may prove to be the menacing factor. Indeed sudden upheaval and disruption may be at the bottom of futile efforts and enterprises, with overdoing, reckless and impulsive moves, ending in defeat. There may be no cooperation from superiors, friends, or those in influential positions, either in business, social, domestic or sentimental relations. Going it alone may prove aggravating, tempestuous and frustrating.

Those whose birthday it is may be on the brink of a year in which it may take a determined array of restraints, skills and initiative, to attain any sort of constructive progress or objective. There may be excitement, uprooting and sudden changes of place, plans and programs, which may cause disturbance, disintegration, estrangements, and probable regret. The want of approbation or support, in home and business, may incite to wild reckless and extravagant outbursts of temper and temperament. With extreme precaution and personal poise and restraint there may be a surprising and profitable turn.

A child born on this day may have much energy and versatility, with skill and criginality, but a tempestuous, erratic and wayward disposition may prove its undoing. It should have rigid early discipline and direction.

Gaiety Keynote Of Decorations

Gaiety is to be the keynote of the Christmas table decorations this year, and war motifs are definitely "out." A table, set with a cloth in a pastel shade, and decorated with greens, is to be the fashionable design this year, and white pine, blue spruce, and hemlock are the loveliest of greens for the table. A bright touch can be gained by arranging red berries among the green, and small cones and burrs can also be worked into the pattern.

Candles, of course, are a "must" on the Christmas table, and it is surprising the graceful effect which can be obtained from using tall candles in low candlesticks whose bases are artistically covered with greens. This idea also gives the housewife a chance to use her originality in planning decorative designs.

In addition, the table is to be planned in such a way that a minimum of hopping-up will be necessary. A great many hostesses will be without help this Christmas, and consequently a great deal of the fuss usually connected with Christmas dinners will be lacking this year. A gay table, simply set and decorated, will be the prevailing style, and should certainly be most popular.

A small extra table placed nearby usually aids the hostess in serving because extra dishes can be kept there, and thus a great many steps can be saved.

Pte. J. H. Ireland Wed In Lakefield

The marriage took place Thursday, in Lakefield United Church, of Audrey Ileen Stata, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Stata of Gelert, Ontario, to Pte. James Herbert Ireland, who is stationed at the Peterborough Training Centre. Rev. George Kelly officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Gnr. Kenneth Lee Stata, wore a floor-length gown of white sheer, with a tight-fitting bodice and leg-of-mutton sleeves. Her finger-tip veil was caught closely to her head, and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

The bride was attended by her niece, Mrs. Doris Buchanan, matron of honor, and Miss Mavis Birch, bridesmaid. The matron of honor wore a floor-length gown of pink taffeta, trimmed with lace and black ribbon, a pink veil, and carried a bouquet of red roses. The bridesmaid was similarly gowned in blue taffeta trimmed with lace and black ribbon, a blue veil, and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Pte. George Robinson, who is stationed at the Peterborough Training Centre, was best man, and Mr. Ernest A. Ruttle was usher.

At the reception held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Clarence Ruttle, Mrs. Ruttle received in a navy blue frock, and navy accessories. The groom's grandmother also received in a gown of black crepe with matching accessories. Following the reception, the young couple left for a trip to points west.

Girl Sailors Demand Tattoo Souvenirs

CHICAGO, Dec. 3 (AP).—Tattooing Waves is "not a big business but it is money in the pocket, nevertheless," in the eyes of Jake Kasper, eminent tattooer of South State Street.

Enthusiastically he said today that the United States girl sailors have been coming in for personal ornamentation at the rate of one daily for the past two months—fee $1.50 for prices are reduced for anyone wearing a uniform — but observed glumly that requests of most clients were not original.

"In the past two months," Kasper said, "I have had about one girl daily in uniform wanting an anchor here or a flag there"—pointing to various parts of his anatomy—"all very routine stuff."

His interest brightened when he discussed some of his more artistic achievements. "Now there was the girl who was most original," he said, "and it should be pointed out she was not in the service of her country.

"She is a burlesque queen, so she says, and wished me to disguise the scar resulting from her appendicitis operation.

"Most girls who wish to hide such a scar request twining roses or similar flowers. But not this client. Because it is near the holiday season she asked that I cover this blemish with the likeness of a Christmas tree.

"That I did, complete with ornaments."

ROYAL NAVY TUGS BUILT FAR INLAND — War has brought many startling changes to Canada but none more amazing than the construction of salt water tug boats at Trenton, far inland from both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts. The Central Bridge Construction Company's 200 employees in Trenton turn out an average of one tug a week for the Royal Navy. LEFT, a tug under construction. TOP CENTRE, a completed tug is hauled away from the Trenton yards by a locomotive. BOTTOM CENTRE, these tugs can double as fire fighters if necessary. Demand More Meetings Among Nations

LONDON, Dec. 3 (CP Cable).—P. Emrys-Evans, Dominions Under Secretary, yesterday suggested in House of Commons that one way to improve the system of empire consultation might be annual meetings of the ministers of external affairs.

"Thye might possibly meet once a year before meetings of the new international organization which it is contemplated will be set up after the war," he said.

"At such meetings not only general lines of foreign policy would be laid down but also strategic plans adn military measures to put them into effect. But no machinery is effective unless there is a will to make it so."

Emrys-Evans told the House that it had not yet been possible to arrange a conference of the Dominion prime ministers but "it is very much hoped it will be possible to do so in the not too far distant future."

He was answering Sir Alfred Beit, Conservative, who moved an amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne regretting that it had not yet been possible to arrange such a conference.

Emrys-Evans said that calling an Imperial conference was impossible in wartime conditions but said the Government had endeavored to call a meeting of the Prime Ministers.

The present system of Empire consultation had stood the strain, Emrys-Evans said, but that was "no argument for maintaining it in the present form."

Must Grow.

"The Commonwealth is not static," he added. "Change and development are essential to its health and vigor. The wider the discussions the better. Time is ripe for examination of methods of consultation."

But any decision to make a change must be a decision not only of Britain but of all the Dominions, he said, and would have to be decided by an Imperial conference or by a meeting of the Prime Ministers.

"It is clear, I think, that a Federal parliament would not by itself provide a solution, nor would it receive concurrence of the Dominions. The way to closer co-operation lies along other lines. The best methods of course would be regular meetings of the Prime Ministers but it is not so easy for Prime Ministers to leave their own countries.

"On the other hand it should not be so difficult to arrange meetings of the Ministers of external affairs."

English Evacuees Ready For Home Regret Leaving Friendly Ontario

TORONTO, Dec. 3—It's just too bad that those British schoolgirls who came to Branksome Hall on Elm Avenue, three years ago can not each be two persons at once. Today the girls are preparing to return home with mixed feelings, tastes and accents, and their affections waver daily between Canada and Britain. They have effected a compromise by prefacing good-byes with: "We'll be back."

More than 100 schoolgirls from British public schools came to Branksome during the summer of 1940. Now only 50-odd are left and the number is being whittled down as quickly as the girls can arrange passage. If they wait until their 17th birthday they can leave immediately for England. Otherwise they can go to New York and take the longer trip via Portugal. But every month or two some girl leaves Branksome.

Typical War Guests

Pamela Church is typical of the war guests at Branksome Hall. She looks exactly as an English girl named Pamela should look—blond, hair, clear pink and white complexion and blue-grey eyes. She's returning in a few weeks.

"I guess my accent has changed,'" she said yesterday with a broad British cast of speech. "I can't really tell," she added lamely. "My parents probably will notice all right."

She's picked up Canadian slang, but doesn't use it intentionally — it just happens. "We don't notice when we use it, so a lot of our friends in England will be surprised." Pam is 18¼, old for an English girl at Branksome. She's been waiting until her brother, at Lakefield School, is ready to travel.

Wants to Visit Friends

Now he's 12, so they'll return to Bedford. Her home is undamaged, except for shattered windows. She wants to visit her friends, most of whom are in uniform, to see her father in his Home Guard uniform and to learn dispensing. "And come back to Canada some day."

Shiela McCloughry was 17 two weeks ago and is ready to leave on a moment's notice. She's luckier than most of the girls, who haven't seen their families for three years. Her father, an air commodore in the R.A.F., came to Canada last year on a special mission and visited her for one day. He complained about her Canadian accent. When she gets home, she'll go back to Sherbourne School in Dorset.

Elizabeth Tusting came with Pamela Church, and also is from Bedford; has a brother at Lakefield School who is too young to travel. Her father is in the Home Guard. Elizabeth, dark-haired, will be leaving soon and hopes to enlist when she gets home. The last Branksome girl to return to England wrote back that enlistment in the women's services was closed as they were "full up," but Elizabeth hopes they'll need reinforcements.

Principal Pays Tribute

Miss Edith Read, principal of Branksome, loves her English girls and hates to see them go. "They've been wonderful," she said, again and again. "They've nearly all got some one close in the services, but they never let on they're worried. Brothers have been killed, mostly in the Air Force, and I have had to break the news to the girls. It's been a strain, but the girls are just wonderful."

Parents and friends who meet the ex-Branksome girls in England write Miss Read of the "astonishing change" in them. Their accents are distinctly Canadian, they write, and the girls talk so much more freely than they ever did before.

Elizabeth Capener and Anne Howitt are two other of the older girls who will be leaving soon. Elizabeth's sister, who left Branksome a few months ago, is at Oxford University and her brother is at Cambridge. Anne wants to go to London University when she gets back. Her father is in the Air Ministry, one sister is with the W.A.A.F. and a brother is in Italy in the army.

Their conclusion is that Canada is wonderful. They love it. But England is home. "We'll certainly be back," they chorused. "We'll never forget the hospitality, the sense of space and freedom—and Niagara Falls."

Britain May Be Unable To Buy Bacon After War

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (CP). — Dr. J. A. Scott Watson, agricultural adviser to the British Embassy in Washington, today said he feared Britain would lack Canadian exchange for the purchase of bacon in the Dominion after the war although "sentiment in Britain is all in favor of buying Canadian bacon."

"The whole question is Britain's ability to pay, not a question of what she wants," Dr. Watson said in a 150-word statement amplifying his recent remarks about Britain's post-war bacon purchases at the annual meeting of the Saskatchewan wheat pool in Regina.

The statement followed a statement by Dominion Agriculture Minister Gardiner in Regina yesterday that "with the advice representatives of the British Ministry of Agriculture have given farm organizations we would not be justified in asking farmers to produce (hogs) to the level of last year, until the end of the war."

The Minister said that Dr. Watson told the wheat pool that Britain would practically be forced to choose her postward customers from among countries that would accept her goods and that Danish bacon would come into direct competition with Canadian bacon.

Dr. Watson's statement:

"The thought I meant to convey at Regina was that Great Britain will want Canadian wheat and also a great deal of Canadian cheese after the war. Cheese is a good poor man's food.

"What I fear, is after we have bought Canadian wheat and cheese we will be hard up for Canadian exchange to buy bacon. The whole question is Britain's ability to pay, not a question of what she wants. Britain will be a poor nation after the war.

"This raises the question of whether she will be able to import any bacon. In exchange for Danish bacon, Britain could exchange coal, bicycles and the like. It is my fear that there will be nothing similar that would be acceptable exchange for Canadian bacon. We would sooner buy from Canada and we are grateful for all that Canada has done in boosting her bacon production. Sentiment in Britain is all in favor of buying Canadian bacon."

Forecast Big Drive On Singapore

By WILLIAM FRYE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP). — A new strategic pattern for the war against Japan, minimizing the importance of Burma and predicating a major drive in China on the recapture of Singapore and the Philippines, was suggested in Washington to-day in the wake of the Cairo conference.

In the opinion of informed observers, the Burma road—or its alternate, the Ledo road now under construction—is completely inadequate to supply major military operations. Only sea transport can do the job, and the China sea and China's south coast can be opened to Allied shipping only after Singapore, Java and the Philippines are retaken.

If this is the strategic plan, the Philippine portion of it would seem to be clearly the job cut out for Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Admiral Chester W. Nimitz.

Some element of mystery lingers, however. Singapore lies within the southeast air command of Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, who was at Cairo; Java is in the southwest Pacific theatre of MacArthur, who was not; yet any attempt to retake Singapore would seem to call for a simultaneous move against Java, requiring—if not a single command—at least close co-ordination.

Mrs. Edgar Buck Is Hostess To Red Cross

NORWOOD, Dec. 3—(ENS)—At the December meeting, Mrs. E. T. Buck was hostess to a group of Red Cross war workers of the community at her home, Hastings Road, for sewing and knitting with a good attendance.

During the afternoon, one large quilt was quilted for one of the members, for which a donation was received for the Red Cross funds and a crib quilt was quilted for the Red Cross.

During the social hour a delicious hot luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Miss E. Buck, which completed a very enjoyable and successful meeting.

Mrs. Philip Fitzpatrick invited the ladies to meet at her home for the January meeting which is to be arranged for early in the month.

Australian Papers Laud Cairo Edict

SYDNEY, Australia, Dec. 3 — (CP Cable). — Decisions of the North African conference, particularly the pledge to strip Japan of territory gained by aggression, drew enthusiastic support from the Australian press. The general feeling was that the news is distinctly bad for Japan.

The Sydney Sun said in an editorial that "if the German Empire is doomed, the fate of the Japanese empire is no less irrevocable." The paper added that "Tokyo's official broadcast warning her people Japan must fight alone is a significant sign that doubts of victory already beset the criminals who made the Pacific war."

Cree Indians Have Perfect Teeth

TORONTO, Dec. 3 (CP)—Dr. P. W. Arkle of the University of Toronto yesterday told 450 dentists attending the Academy of Dentistry's winter clinic that Cree Indians in the James Bay district enjoy "almost perfect" dental health.

Bush and hunting Indians have "virtually no decay at all," said Dr. Arkle, who has completed a five-month tour of the territory. The few Indians whose teeth had to be treated usually had associated with whites.

Summer diet of bush Indians was 75 per cent. fish, augmented by coarse bannocks spread with lard, an occasional rabbit stew and berries. "In the winter they eat everything they hunt—moose, caribou, deer, fox, squirrel, mink, bear and beaver," said Dr. Arkle.

Dr. Wallace Mitchell of Hamilton Ont., described dental operations whereby a patient may walk into a dentist's office, have teeth extracted and walk out shortly after with a new set of teeth.

Guild Holds Euchre

MARMORA, Dec. 3.—(ENS). — Group 1 of St. Paul's Ladies' Guild held a successful euchre in the parish hall Wednesday evening with ten tables in play and several visitors from Bonarlaw were present. The prize-winners were Mrs. Sanford Lawrence (playing as a man) and Mrs. Lottie Langley.

Famous for flavour since 1892 — the 'Salada' name assures you of a uniform blend of quality teas.

IN MEMORIAM

BUTLER — In loving memory of our loving daughter and sister, Reta, who passed away December 3, 1942.

She passed away like morning dew,
Before the sun was high,
So brief her time, she scarcely knew
The meaning of a sigh.
As round the rose its soft perfume,
Sweet love around her floated;
Admired she grew—while mortal doom
Crept on, unfeared, unnoticed.
Love was her guardian angel here
But love to death resigned her;
Tho' love was kind, why should we fear
But Holy Death is kinder.

—Fondly remembered by Mamma and Daddy, Sisters Edna and Shirley.

Three Ladies' Teams Tied For First

The race in the Ladies' City Bowling League is one of the keenest on record. After this week's games three clubs the Brintons, Outboard Marines and Westclox were found to be tied with 18 points each. The standing of the other teams is: Commandos 15, Lucky Strikes 13, Corvettes 11, Maple Leafs 9, Generals 7, Five V's 6, and Beavers 5.

Betty Castle is leading the league with a high average of 214, while R. Pearce had the high three for the season with 854 and the high single of 369.

The blind score this week was 657 and the prize was won by Isobel Bullock of Westclox was 662.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

COUNTING MADE EASY

BIDDING by the opponents can furnish a positive guide to the play of a hand, both in showing the location of certain high cards and in exposing suit lengths. The latter factor sometimes enables you to get an exact count of the cards in the hand of one defender and by deduction just as accurate a count of the holding opposite him. It is a case of continual counting up to 13 and then subtracting. Thirteen is an unlucky number in bridge only for those who will not count that high often enough.

South: ♠ K J 9 8 5 ♥ Q 8 4 3 ♦ 8 7 ♣ K 4

(Dealer: West. East-West vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
1 ♦	Dbl	Pass	1 ♠
2 ♣	2 ♠	Pass	3 ♠
4 ♣	4 ♠

Off hand, when you see that dummy, you can count one loser in spades, one or two in hearts and one or two in diamonds—a maximum of five, a minimum of three. The job is to hold them down to the minimum of three. To begin with, the diamond A is pretty well marked with West from his vulnerable bidding, probably limiting the losers in that suit to one. Hearts are not quite so sure at first, however, but that situation clears up quickly.

After the club Q lead to the K, South led the spade K to the A and topped the club J with the A, then used the spade J That was the fourth trick, and the heart A on the fifth made the reading exact. The bids by West of diamonds, then clubs, followed by a club rebid, showed ten cards in those suits, leaving only three in the majors, all of which West had played. Hence, East had the remaining three hearts. So, when he put the 7 under the heart 9 lead from dummy, South under-played the 4 and let the 9 win. On the next heart East came in with the K and returned a club, which South ruffed. A lead toward the diamond K then completed the contract safely, due to simple card reading. Yes, simple enough, but only a very small per centage of social players would have done it. Using the Q on the second heart lead would have set them.

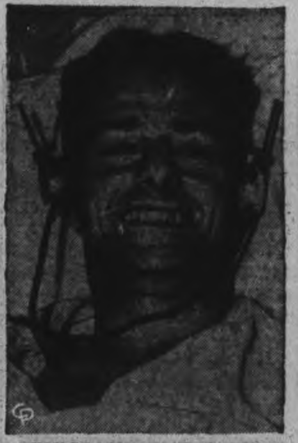
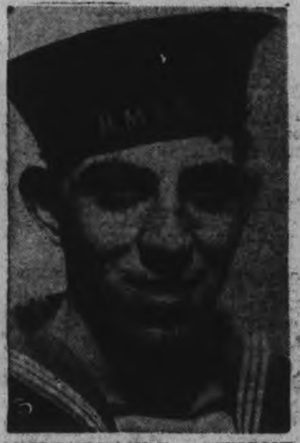
SURG.-LT. W. B. WALLACE



TELEGRAPHIST CHAS. KENT



ABLE SEAMAN E. J. MENGONI

SAILOR ASSISTS IN OPERATION PERFORMED AT SEA—For three full days Surgeon-Lieut. W. B. Wallace, R.C.N.V.R., of Toronto, labored unceasingly attending to the wounded after H.M.C.S. Athabaskan had been hit and disabled by an enemy bomb. He used the commanding officer's cabin as an operating theatre and performed a double amputation operation on Charles Kent, telegraphist, of Calgary, Alta., whose legs were crushed when the bomb struck. He was assisted by Able Seaman Eric J. Mengoni of Dartmouth, N.S., who administered the anaesthetic. "He had never seen an operation performed before but did a wonderful job," says Surg.-Lieut. Wallace. Quick action on the part of the patient at the time his legs were sliced off when the bomb tore through the ship, saved his life. He slashed the straps from his lifebelt and gave them to a shipmate who quickly applied tourniquets.

Will Train Men To Govern ConqueredLands

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Dec. 3 (CP)— Canadian civil administration staff course to train men to govern land freed from the enemy, will open Dec. 6 at Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont., it was announced today on behalf of the defence and external affairs departments.

The training will be along the lines given to officers preparing for posts with Allied Military Government (AMG) by the United States Army at the University of Virginia, the United States Navy at Columbia University, and the British Army at Wimbledon, Eng.

"The object of the (Kingston) course will be to train selected military officers to carry out various tasks of local administration, including aid, relief and restoration, in certain areas of continental Europe during and immediately after the period of hostilities in those areas and until local civil authorities assume responsibility," it was stated officially.

All Services

While the course will be under army administration, it is intended to include a number of naval and air force officers in the first class of 24. While a final decision has not been made, it is not intended now to accept any aplicants from outside the three services.

Some Canadian officers trained in the British school of administration at Wimbledon are already serving in administrative posts in Italy, it was stated. It is likely Canadians selected for the work from the overseas army will continue to be trained at Wimbledon while those selected from the forces in Canada will go to R.M.C.

Officers for the course are being chosen from the active forces and will be men of 35 to 50 years of age, with "ability and experience in administration at the executive level."

Many Available.

It is understood there is a considerable number of suitable men in the Canadian forces too old for combatant service in the ranks they now hold.

"The experience of the present war has shown that advancing Allied forces face many problems which are of a non-operational character but which they must be prepared to meet," said the official statement.

Plans for the course are flexible and designed to meet changing circumstances. An advisory committee consisting of representatives of the defence and external affairs departments has been set up and the instructional staff has been appointed.

"The civil subjects taught in the course are designed to give an understanding of political and economic conditions and of certain technical questions, which the civil affairs officers will require in their work," the statement said. "The military subjects will be primarily designed to ensure the co-operation of civil administration officers with operational staff.

"Instruction will be given by lectures and in study groups, with the emphasis on the latter as at the Royal Military College and at many Canadian universities."

Coal Situation Improves; Weather Mild

By JACK WILLIAMS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Dec. 2 (CP) — No Canadians will go cold this winter from a coal shortage if everyone is careful, Munitions Minister Howe said today at a press conference.

He said the coal situation is "much better than we had any right to anticipate" and had been helped by a mild autumn which resulted in a saving of 10 per cent of the normal coal consumption up to December 1.

Dealing with war industry in general, Mr. Howe and H. J. Carmichael, his co-ordinator of production, said war employment in Canadian industry this month is at its peak and there is no unemployment in sight.

Mr. Carmichael said highest priority industries at present have places for 65,000 men and 16,000 women.

Mr. Howe described the gasoline supply situation as "very tight" but said the asphalt situation has eased and some relief is in sight for industrial users of heavy fuel oil.

Need More Scrap

Looking to the future of war production, Mr. Howe said he sees no indication it will come to "an abrupt end." There was strong pressure from civilian industries seeking to resume production, but no stockpiles of metals were yet available. Available supplies may be increased in the future through recoveries from scrap.

It was proposed to relieve civilian shortages "to the fullest possible extent," but there was little material available yet for that purpose. Immediate problems in disposing of war materials concerned such things as over-age naval craft, airplane parts and machine tools.

Mr. Howe had a sharp retort to questions on unemployment resulting from contract changes. Reports of present unemployment were "purely a newspaper fiction," he said.

"Our problem is to find workers; we have never been able to find as many as we wanted," he added.

Mr. Howe said H. R. MacMillan of Vancouver, president of Wartime Merchant Shipping Ltd., is retiring from an active role in the government's ship building program but will be a director of the new crown company being formed to merge Wartime Merchant Shipping with the naval shipbuilding branch of the Munitions Department.

Farm Committee Named To Secure Facts

OTTAWA, Dec. 3 (CP).—Formation of an "agricultural and food machinery committee" to assemble facts and recommend necessary action on "all problems concerning requirements, supplies, production and distribution of agricultural implements and machinery and food processing machinery" was announced today.

J. S. Duncan, of Toronto, president of Massey-Harris Co., Ltd., is chairman of the committee for the Combined Production and Resources Board of the United States, United Kingdom and Canada which made the announcement. Herbert H. Bloom, administrator of farm and construction machinery for the Prices Board, represents the Canadian section of the Combined Food Board.

Other members are:

United States — M. Lee Marshall, chairman of board of directors of Continental Baking Co., representing the C.P.R.B.; and J. W. Millard, director of materials and facilities of the war food administration.

United Kingdom — Hon. T. H. Brand, British executive officer, of the C.P.R.B., and Maurice I. Hutton, British executive officer of the Combined Food Board.

"One of the committee's primary concerns will be to make recommendations for the production and distribution of the agricultural implements and machinery, and the food processing machinery required by the war effort, including the needs for the liberated areas as they may be developed by the appropriate agencies," said at Wartime Information Board statement.

Mr. Duncan and Mr. Bloom were to arrive in Washington today to attend the initial meeting of the committee, opening tomorrow. Work of the committee is expected to tie in closely with that of the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration.

On 53 Flights Without Scratch

GUELPH, Dec. 3 (CP). —A tale of tenacity and courage was revealed today in the saga of Flt. Lt. George Crabtree, D.F.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crabtree of Guelph, who is back in Canada with 53 operational flights behind him as a member of the R.C.A.F. which turned him down in 1940 after he travelled from Vancouver to Halifax to enlist.

In Halifax just before Christmas, 1940, penniless and told by the Air Force they were not enlisting men then, Crabtree met A. E. Ettinger, Halifax superintendent of public welfare. In Ettinger he found a sympathetic listener to his story of being informed in Vancouver the Air Force was taking men on in Halifax and how he had beaten his way across the country to join.

Ettinger took Crabtree to his home and eight months later, after continuous effort, the Guelph man became an aircraftman second class. Before the war he had been a civilian pilot, but was told by the Air Force this training was a handicap rather than an asset, so Crabtree trained as a navigator and air gunner.

He went overseas in 1941 as a sergeant and has continued to advance in rank. Not once has he been wounded in his 53 operational flights, but has walked away from three crash landings.

His trips have taken him over France, Germany, The Netherlands, Belgium, North Africa, Sicily and Italy.

ITCHING SCALP
A Simple Home Treatment
If your scalp has broken out with ugly surface rashes or irritations — DON'T DIG with fingernails as that only serves to make it worse— and spreads it. Go to your druggist to-day —get a bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil and use this mixed with an equal quantity of olive oil. It's easy to use—all you do is apply to the scalp with your finger tips gently rubbing into the roots of the hair. Do this at least once a day and about every fourth day shampoo using a good soap. Soon you'll find this combination start right in—promoting faster healing. Continue the treatment until relieved and the loose floating dandruff has disappeared.
Continue for 2 weeks, and if then you are dissatisfied get your money back. McDermid & Jury, Lynch's Drug Store, and every druggist sells Emerald Oil on this guarantee.—(Advt.)

Christmas Parties

TORONTO, Dec. 3—(CP). —Toronto's citizens' committee for troops is planning a series of Christmas parties for an estimated 20,000 mothers and children, families of men on active service from the Toronto area. Unit auxiliaries of all local regiments, the R.C.A.F. and H.M.C.S. York, naval training centre, are assisting.

Americans Lose Aircraft Carrier

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP). — The United States escort aircraft carrier Liscome Bay, was torpedoed and sunk by a Japanese submarine during the Gilbert Island operations, and was the only American vessel lost during the engagement, the Navy announced to-day.

Rear Admiral Henry M. Mullinnix, reported missing, was said by the navy to have been aboard the carrier. Captain Irving D. Wiltsie, commander of the Liscome Bay, also is reported missing in action.

The total casualties have not yet been disclosed.

The Liscome Bay was the first American escort carrier reported sunk since U.S. entry into the war. An escort carrier is a small one, normally used to escort convoys.

Fight Disease

OTTAWA, Dec. 3 — (CP). — A national conference on venereal disease—the largest of its kind ever held in Canada—has been called for December 6-9 to plan means of combatting "a situation which has become the greatest single public health problem in the Dominion," Pensions Minister Mackenzie announced last night.

MILLBROOK, Dec. 3—(ENS).— Mr. and Mrs. W. A. O'Brian were host and hostess for a social gathering at their home on Wednesday evening in honor of LAW Esther Might, R.C.A.F. (W.D.), who is being posted to a new station, and who has been home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Might, for the past week.

More than 70 guests were in attendance, and for the earlier part of the evening the program included a quiz, with ex-Warden Percy Stinson giving out the questions. Euchre and other games were later enjoyed, and the highlight of the evening was reached with Margaret Smith reading an address and Mrs. J. McKnight, on behalf of a wide circle of friends, presented the guest of honor with a billfold in Air Force blue leather, with a sum of money enclosed.

Candle Service Held By W.M.S.

WESTWOOD, Dec. 3.—(ENS). — A Christmas program featured the Women's Missionary Society meeting of St. Andrew's United church Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Hilliard Neilson loaned her home for the occasion and the meeting was in charge of Miss Jessie Davidson. The service of worship and the candle-lighting ceremony were presided over by Mrs. E. W. Sargent, assisted by Miss J. Davidson and Miss M. Cameron.

Prayer was offered by Miss Davidson and a reading, 'Night and Morning,' was given by Mrs. J. Humphries. Mrs. W. Morris sang 'March of the Ages,' and Mrs. A. Wood sang 'The Race That Long in Darkness Pined' during the candle-lighting ceremony.

The treasurer's report by Miss Mary Cameron showed a successful year and though not yet complete, was encouraging. Mrs. J. Clysdale, retiring president, thanked the members for their fine co-operative spirit during her four year term of office. The results of the election of officers for the coming year are as follows:

President, Miss Jessie Davidson; 1st Vice, Mrs. William Morris; 2nd Vice, Mrs. Hilliard Neilson; Secretary, Mrs. J. G. Manley; Treasurer, Miss Mary Cameron; Missionary Monthly Secretary, Mrs. J. S. Sargent; Associate Helpers' Secretary, Mrs. Gordon Warner; Press and Christian Stewardship Secretary, Mrs. E. W. Sargent; Pianist, Mrs. J. Sargent.

Chinese Rout Japanese Force

CHUNGKING, Dec. 3— (AP).— Chinese troops were reported to be tightening a noose around a Japanese force in Northern Hunan Thursday after occupying 6 towns and driving the enemy out of the important city of Changteh in the fierce fighting.

It was disclosed that the Chinese defenders of Changteh were aided Tuesday by American fighter planes which dropped food and ammunition into the besieged city and also destroyed Japanese supply barges on Tungting Lake.

Invasion Jitters Hit France In Wake Of War Conference

MADRID, Dec. 4—(AP).—Paris correspondents of Madrid newspapers reported today France is being swept by the conviction an Allied invasion is imminent.

The correspondent of Pueblo in a dispatch to his newspaper cited "great movements of American and British shipping, troop concentrations and an increase of observation flights over France" as a basis for the belief.

This and similar press dispatches from Paris coincided with a reported increase in German military activity both along the Atlantic wall and in the still incomplete defences of the Mediterranean, from the Pyrenees Mountains north to Marseilles and east to the Italian border.

Aussie Captain Kills 40 Japs

SEATTLE, Dec. 4 — (AP). — A United States naval officer brought back from the Solomons today told the story of a rugged Australian who recruited his own little private army on New Georgia—and won his private war with Japan.

"You'll run into a guy named Kennedy up there," Lt. Cmdr. William Parker of the Seabees said he was told. "Captain Kennedy they call him; he doesn't say much, but he acts real nasty when there's a Jap in sight. If only half of what they tell about him is true, he's the greatest character to come out of this war yet."

So, sure enough, Parker met the legendary Captain Kennedy.

"I never did find out whether the Australians sent Kennedy up there or whether it was his own idea," Commander Parker said.

"But, anyway, he moved into a vacated plantation, took over the former occupant's store of spirits, and began to devote himself to serious drinking and to organizing a 10-man native army.

None Came Back

"The Japs from time to time sent in patrols to look over Segi Point. None ever reported back. As soon as Kennedy got word from his natives that the Japs were headed his way, he mobiliz-

Fighting 8th 16 Miles From Pescara

Hun Prisoners Insane From Bombing

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press War Correspondent.

ALGIERS, Dec. 4 — (AP).—Lt.-Gen. Mark Clark's Anglo-American 5th Army has smashed a wedge into German defences after the heaviest artillery and aerial bombardment of the Italian campaign pulverized many strongpoints, and has driven ahead two miles along the Via Casilina toward Rome, Headquarters announced to-day.

(The Algiers radio reported the 5th Army had taken the important town of Calabritto, about seven miles south-west of Mignano.)

British and American troops of the 5th Army launched their full scale offensive on mountain positions guarding both sides of the Via Casalina, a main road to Rome, on Thursday night, it was disclosed. The assault, aimed in the direction of Cassino, drove the Germans from the important Camino and Maggiore heights, respectively south-west and west of Mignano, front-line dispatches said.

On the Adriatic front, the British 8th Army knifing ahead toward the "back door" road to Rome, reached the outskirts of San Vito, south-east of the port of Pescara, and also swept up the towns of Lanciano, Treglio, Orsogna, and Casoli, al in inland country beyond the Sangro Ridge. Orsogna, the farthest point of advance inland, is about eight miles north-west of the Sangro.

In reaching the vicinity of San Vito, the 8th Army was within 16 miles off Pescara, from which port a good highway cuts across the Italian peninsula to Rome.

Lanciano, which the Germans announced yesterday they were evacuating, lies some five miles from the coast, one the same highway as Casoli, further inland. Between the two cities is Castel, Frentano, capture of which was announced yesterday.

These successes gave the 8th Army firm control of most of the eastern end of a lateral highway running southwest from San Vito to the mountains where Canadian and British troops of the army's left flank have been reported engaged in patrol activities for more than a week.

Lt.-Gen. Mark Clark's 5th Army, after one of the heaviest barrages of the campaign, also mounted a drive toward Rome with full-scale offensive power. It thrust the Germans back two miles and gained important high ground near Mount Comino, four miles southwest of Mignano.

Huns Go Insane

An R.A.F. statement reported that several German prisoners taken when the 8th Army smashed the lower Sangro River line had gone insane from the effects of the relentless Allied air raids and most of the others were shaken and exhausted from the ceaseless bombing which paced the attack.

"Terrific demoralization" of the enemy troops was brought about by the incessant air attacks, the statement said.

AN ALEUTIAN BASE, Dec. 4 — (AP). — The meanest Aleutian wind of the season blew an outhouse smack through the wall of the general's hut. The general, Lt.-Gen. Simon B. Bucker, Jr., commander of the United States Army's Alaskan department, fortunately was absent. The year's record wind: 112 miles an hour was recorded last April 8—before the instrument flew apart and the whole observation hut was blown off the hill.

Italian Drive Secondary In Allied Plans

LONDON, Dec. 4.—(CP).—Even as the 8th and 5th Armies strike furiously at the Germans and slowly advance through Italy, military observers here are wondering whether the campaign in Italy has not already been marked down as a subsidiary to the great Allied offensive to come.

An expert in a semi-official position admitted this week tnat even the assumption that the Italian campaign represents the main spearhead of Anglo-American power in the Mediterranean may be erroneous.

"For the space of a few weeks about the time the Fascist government collapsed, there was a fleeting chance of making Italy the scene of a great German catastrophe," he said. "The German command dodged the blow by quickly throwing into the country some 25 to 30 divisions. They now are being held there by a much smaller Allied force."

Not Using Ships.

This military observer continued: "It is conceivable the Germans are hoping the Allied Command will be induced to launch a major invasion of Northern Italy, and so tie up troops at more vital targets. It is equally conceivable the Allies are satisfied the Italian campaiagn is serving its purpose as a 'holding' attack, and are not disposed to allow it to draw off troops and transport needed for the forthcoming grand assault.

"In short, the role of the forces in Italy as part of the concerted and converging Anglo-American-Russian attack upon Germany's European fortress may become a subsidiary one.'

In support of the theory that Italy has been relegated to a se-

Soviet Units Close In On Zhlobin

Cherkasy Battles Bring Reds Substantial Gains

LONDON, Dec. 4 (CP)—Red Army troops, sloshing forward through knee-deep snow and mud were closing in from two directions today on Zhlobin, important German-held rail and communications hub at the juncture of the Gomel-Minsk and Leningrad-Odessa railways in White Russia.

Far to the south other Soviet forces plunged deeper into German lines west of their Dnieper River bridgehead below Kremenchug, and hurled back fierce counter-attacks aimed at the up-river Soviet positions in the Cherkasy area, a Russian communique said.

Gen. Constantine Rokossovsky's white-clad troops were reported raising havoc with the German railway network northeast of Gomel, and the army communique said more than 100 populated places were overrun in Friday's steady advance. Keypoints taken in this two-pronged drive, aimed at enveloping Zhlobin, were Sverjen and Vosk to the north and Soltanovka and Staraya Rudnya to the southwest. The latter town is only nine miles from Zhlobin.

Dovsk is a junction on the Gomel-Mogilev and Rogachev-Roslavl railways, 18 miles northeast of Rogachev. Sverjen lies seven miles further west.

In the Dnieper Bend, Soviet troops were said to have blasted their way westward 15 miles from their Kremenchug bridgehead, to reach Novo-Georgievsk. The movement apparently was designed to relieve the pressure on Soviet units in the Cherkasy salient, 70 miles to the north. Here numerous Nazi counter-thrusts were repulsed, according to the Soviet communique.

Koristovka, rail junction 21 miles east of Znamenka, and Klochkovo were reported in Soviet hands after heavy fighting. Red Army troops were said ti be shelling Znamenka, key to German lateral communications between the Kiev bulge and the Dnieper Bend.

Discuss Long-range Program Spelling Doom of Germany

1,500 Tons Of Bombs Hit War Plants; 23 Bombers Lost

By ROBERT STURDEVANT
Associated Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, Dec. 4 — (AP). — The R.A.F. Bomber Command, tricking the Germans with a well-timed shift of targets, sent Mosquitoes roaring over scorched Berlin and heavy bombers feinting at the Nazi capital last night, then struck with devastating effect at the great German trading and railway centre of Leipzig where 1,500 tons of explosives were unloaded.

The reception drew off the great majority of German night fighters which rose once more to give battle when a part of block-busting squadrons headed for the expiring capital.

Then just as the main attack seemed about to break over Berlin, the major armadas streaked southward 90 miles and hit Leipzig, from where the Nazis have been trying to succor the capital with food and supplies.

23 Planes Lost.

The Air Ministry, which first announced 24 bombers were missing from the night attack, later corrected the figure to 23, as compared with the previous night's losses of 41 in the 1,500-ton attack on Berlin.

Halifaxes and Lancasters of the the R.C.A.F. bomber group took part in the Leipzig raid, and R.C.A.F. Mosquitoes on intruder patrols attacked enemy airfields over a wide area, R.C.A.F Headquarters announced. No Canadian planes are missing.

Battered Berlin did not escape new destruction.

As the heavy bombers made their abrupt turn toward the south, swift two-engined Mosquitoes darted in to strike selected targets and keep the weary capital under siege for the second successive night following five heavy blows.

Striking well after midnight in a quick change of procedure, the heavy bombers dumped high explosives and incendiaries on Leipzig's industry and on her freight yards already strained to the limit to accommodate Russian-bound war traffic currently forced this way by Berlin's mangled communications.

Aircraft Plants.

First reports from crews told of a concentrated and effective bombing of the city of more than 700,000 population.

Leipzig is one of the world's largest railway terminals. Main rail lines from Regensburg, Berlin and Kassel intersect there and it is one of the gateways to the Eastern front. More than 20 firms there are engaged in the manufacture of aircraft components and it also is the home of assembly plants for Junkers and Messerschmitt planes.

Reports reaching Spain from Germany said Leipzig was one of the several big cities in the Berlin area now being drawn on heavily to support the capital's bomb-battered millions.

The raid was the eighth of the war on Leipzig, last battered by the R.A.F. on the night of October 20 after a long respite lasting since late in 1940.

A Swedish business man told the Stockholm correspondents only today that the industrial city appeared back to normal when he was there a few days ago.

Bit Of Canada Located On Fifth Avenue

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 —(CP)—Hard by St. Patrick's Cathedral on Fifth avenue in midtown Manhattan is a "lamp post" for New York's thousands of expatriate Canadians. Here in the eight-months-old Canadian consulate-general at Rockefeller Centre is a tangible link with their homeland, which they are taking advantage of in increasing numbers.

"We're not only a lamp post but there's also the matter of making ourselves useful in telling Canada's story because there is an abundant field for it," said Hugh Scully, consul-general, in an interview.

The consulate has centralized Canadian feeling in a way that the various Canadian societies and college alumni organizations can't do. Rarely does one enter the building housing it without seeing a serviceman hunt its location on the office index board or hear someone asking for this bit of Canada in New York.

Canadians Like It

Canadians here welcomed its establishment, feeling there should be some visible link with the Dominion. Of course it's a mecca for anyone in trouble and for others wanting advice about Canada. Sometimes, said Scully, there are so many people in the spacious waiting room that not a seat is vacant. It is hard to conceive of a warmer welcome than the Americans have given us.

Before the office was opened last May, the British consulate handled Canada's consular duties but the Dominion had a trade commissioner here. The commissioner, Douglas Cole, now carries on that work in the consulate where he holds the rank of consul.

"The British couldn't be expected to bring to bear an intimate knowledge of Canadian conditions, policy and plans," Scully explained. "They did their work well but didn't have the Canadian background."

Soldiers Fares Paid In Full

OTTAWA, Dec. 4 —(CP)— Air Minister Power announced today on behalf of the three defence services that fares of servicemen returned from overseas and going home on disembarkation leave will be paid in full.

Up to now the men were required to pay one-third of single fare — the reduced service rate—from their district headquarters to their homes.

Bid Axis Satellites To Shake Off Bonds With Germany

By E. C. DANIEL
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 4 — (AP)— The Moscow radio announced to-day that the long-awaited Churchill-Roosevelt - Stalin conference has been concluded at Teheran, Iran, and in London it was expected that historic decisions applying both to the battlefield and to the political questions would be made public soon.

The declaration which will surely present faltering Germany the choice of unconditional surrender or certain bloody defeat by history's greatest land and air offensive awaited only completion of arrangements for its simultaneous release at all three capitals.

British and American authorities were understood to be in conference on the arrangements.

Moscow's broadcast that the conference actually has been held was the opening gun of what is expected to be the biggest barrage rage yet aimed by the Allies at the apprehensive Axis in a nerve war offensive.

Expect Early Report

As a result of the Thursday night broadcast by U. S. Senator Tom Conally and the subsequent Moscow announcement that the conference actually had been held, the decisions doubtless will be published earlier than originally intended.

Considerations for the safety of Premier-Marshal Joseph Stalin, Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt, the main reason for delaying an announcement, were obviated by the Moscow radio statement. It said the heads of the three great Allied powers met "a few days ago."

Reuters News Agency said in a Moscow dispatch that a British Embassy spokesman announced that the British and American Ambassadors to the Soviet Union, Sir Archibald Clark Kerr and W. Averell Harriman, left Moscow a fortnight ago to attend the Stalin-Roosevelt-Churchill conference. It said they were accompanied by the heads of their military missions.

Sir Archibald and Harriman attended the earlier Cairo conferences of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and President Chiang Kai-Shek, and it was speculated then that they made the trip to the Middle East primarily to sit in on a conference with Stalin.

"A few days ago in Teheran, a conference took place between the leaders of the three Allied powers, President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin. Diplomatic and military representatives took part in the conference.

"At the conference, questions on the conduct of the war against Germany were discussed as well as a number of political questions. "Corresponding decisions were adopted which will be made public later."

The announcer introduced the statement thus: "I am about to broadcast a statement to be inserted in every newspaper."

The Soviet Monitor said full details of the conference might be announced between noon and 2 p.m. E.D.T. today, basing his prediction on the customary routine of the Moscow radio when announcing future broadcasts.

In the absence of an official communique, it was believed these steps probably will stem from the conference:

Possible Decisions

1. A formal ultimatum to the German people to overthrow Hitler and his Nazis or take the brunt of the growing Allied war power.

2. Bigger aerial blows on Germany, especially Berlin.

3. The promised second front, involving Allied land operations on the

Webster Boy Held For Murder

MONTREAL, Dec. 4 (CP)—A formal charge of murder was read to 14-year-old George Webster in a small room in the criminal court building today, 24 hours after a coroner's jury had held him criminally responsible for the baseball-bat slaying of his mother, Mrs. Andrew R. Webster, three weeks ago.

The high school student of neighboring Westmount made a brief appearance before Judge Omer Legrand, heard the charge against him, had the judge fix Dec. 9 as the date of preliminary hearing and then was taken from the room. He appeared shy and embarrassed during his brief appearance.

The coroner's jury brought in its verdict of criminal responsibility in a hospital room yesterday after taking the wheel-chair evidence of Miss Sylvia Cust that it was George who attacked her with a baseball bat the morning Mrs. Webster's beaten body was found in her bedroom of the Webster home in the exclusive boulevard district of Westmount.

Two other victims of attacks in the home the same morning are recovering in hospital after operations for head injuries.

Conference Cheers Russians

Welcome News That Stalin Attended

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Dec. 4 — (AP). — The Russian people were informed today that their Premier, Marshal Stalin, had left the country in the midst of the war and had held a momentous conference with Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt at Teheran in neighboring Iran.

The news of the conference, which was generally supposed to have dealt with the most far-reaching matters concerning not only immediate battlefields but also matters of high political import, was received with wholehearted welcome by the Russian people who acclaimed it as the best sign yet of over-growing friendly relations among the three nations.

The announcement Marshall Stalin had found time in the midst of his direction of the war to meet the chiefs of the two great Allied governments was conveyed to the Russians by the Soviet press in a Tass news agency dispatch from Teheran.

The press confined itself to this bare announcement.

But the radio repeated the news at frequent intervals, and it became the topic of conversation everywhere throughout the Soviet capital at once.

Europe Faces Epidemic of Civil Wars

Status Of Throne Issues In Balkan Countries; Communism Growing Strong

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

If there's anyone so cynical as to lack faith that in happier days to come we shall have a shining new world, based on the brotherhood of man, then I think he should be marooned on a desert isle for his pessimism.

The way things look now, when we've smashed German and dismembered the Japanese empire, we shall just have started to climb heights. We shall have knocked out military aggression (at least temporarily), but we shall have released violent political passions both in Europe and the Orient. That isn't a happy forecast, but we shouldn't refuse to examine possibilities.

It will be more than passing strange if Europe and Asia don't suffer an epidemic of civil wars. Indeed, these bitterest of all human conflicts are under way.

Balkans Seething

Take the case of Yugoslavia, the most fiery of the Balkans. There the forces of General Drug Tito, a Yugoslav Communist leader, and the army under General Draja Mihailovitch, war minister in young King Peter's cabinet, have been at loggerheads. Without much doubt this argument will be carried to a finish as soon as the Germans have been thrown out of Yugoslavia.

In neighboring Greece there's a similar situation. There we have strife between the politico-military organization known as Elas, which is said to oppose the return of King George to the throne, and the Edes, a military outfit supporting the King.

The neighboring states of Bulgaria and Rumania are seething politically. In each case the status of the throne is one of the issues. German repression is the only thing keeping the lid on.

Down in Syria, little Lebanon has declared its independence from France, and unless the French recognize this fully there will be more trouble.

Italy is a political volcano, with the throne rocking dangerously and almost anything can happen in France as soon as the Germans are knocked out.

Many problems will arise in the Orient when Japan has been dismembered and there is a completely new Asiatic set-up. One of the greatest of these is the issue between the Chinese Communists and the government of President Chiang Kai-Shek.

Slaughter Order Clarified

Order Effective December 6 On Meat Carcasses

OTTAWA, Dec. 4 (CP). — The Prices Board's Foods Administration today issued an order, effective December 6, clarifying livestock slaughtering regulations in several particulars.

The new order provides that no one may sell or buy carcasses, sides, quarters and certain wholesale cuts of meat unless they are stamped as required by a Board regulation issued last July 6. This provision does not apply to sales of carcasses by a non-permit-holder to permit holders in cases where such sales are authorized, but the permit-holding purchaser must stamp such carcasses.

The requirement that an employee must slaughter only on the premises of his employer is removed under the new order, which provides that such killing may be done anywhere by the employee of a permit-holder, but the employee must not slaughter for anyone but his employer.

The ban is continued on the slaughtering during June, July and August of lambs weighing less than 75 pounds and, at any time, of hogs weighing less than 100 pounds. These minimum weights apply at places of slaughter, and the operator of an abattoir is made responsible for observing the weight limit.

Kuanko Falls Aussies Storm Wareo

Terrific Barrage From Planes Piles Casualties

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Dec. 4—(AP)—Wareo, strategic juncture of jungle trails forming the line of Japanese retreat, is tottering before Australian forces pressing a campaign to drive the enemy from the Huon Peninsula of Northeastern New Guinea.

Aussie elements advancing from the south have reached a point within half a mile of the native village and old mission station after investing the outling settlement of Kuanko.

Simultaneously, a second Australian force made fresh progress against Wareo, a mountain redoubt resembling captured Sattelberg, by pushing along a river bank from captured Bonga, five miles east on the coast. Wareo is more than 10 miles northwest of Finschhafen.

Stiff fighting was reported by Allied Headquarters today. The Australians brought up artillery to blast defensive positions. Supporting the ground operations, a score of medium bombers pounded the enemy supply area near Kamlagidu point north of Bonga on Thursday. That same day more than 50 bombers, covered by fighters, heavily bombed and strafed Borgen Bay on nearby New Britain island.

In the Northern Solomons, more than 100 divebombers and torpedo bombers struck at two airdromes southeast of the United States beaches at Empress Augusta bay.

Germans Threaten Terrible Reprisals

LONDON, Dec. 4—(AP)—Again threatening retaliation for the air war upon Germany, the Berlin radio asserted today the German High Command "intends by one fell, drastic stroke to end the unbridled mass murder," and added that "mankind is not far from the point where it can at will blow up half the globe."

The broadcast quoted the periodical Das Reich as saying:

"The commencement of retaliation no longer depends on technical matters, but solely on the object which is to be attained by it.

"The retaliation will be so powerful and will be started at the psychologically opportune moment to influence the development of the war. It would be superfluous to retaliate for ruins with ruins. The sense of retaliation will find quite a different and surprising expression spiritually as well as politically."

Coal Shortage Unprecedented

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4—(AP)—Interior Secretary Harold Ickes has told Congress the United States faces a fuel crisis unparalleled in its history as a result of the loss of 40,000,000 tons of coal production through miners' strikes.

He made this statement, it was learned today, in asking for a $3,550,000 special supplemental appropriation to carry out a plan of allocating available coal supplies this winter. The Senate sub-committee on deficiency appropriations approved the amount. District allocation offices would be set up in 65 cities under Ickes' plan.

In a letter to the sub-committee Ickes' office said the latest series of strikes, in late October and early November, cut coal production 10,000,000 tons on top of a production loss of 30,000,000 tons during earlier work stoppages growing out of the contract dispute between John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and operators.

Ickes' letter said in part: "... allocation will involve such diversions of coal as may be necessary to meet the most critical needs.

"Critical needs can be met only by such diversions and allocations and the thorough understanding by consumers of the need for every possible conservation."

tween sundown and sunup, keeping them out of areas which the Germans consider of military importance, and workers are mounting guns and sandbagging windows and doorways of buildings, these reports said.

One of the main reasons behind the new fear of invasion, the Paris dispatches said, was the news of decisions arrived at in Cairo by the tri-power Allied conference. Both Germans and French, they added, were quick to note that the Chinese were absent from the parley's most important military sessions on Nov. 26. That fact convinced many Frenchmen that France might again be the scene of war.

The Pueblo correspondent advanced the suggestion that any invasion would take the form of a multiple attack along the Atlantic coast, preceded, perhaps, by a full-scale invasion at Norway or Denmark. Many Frenchmen and Germans, alike, he said, are convinced that the really decisive battle for Western Europe will be fought in France or in Belgium.

"The Japs finally got to wondering why none of their patrols ever came back, so they sent out 40 infantrymen in a landing barge.

"Kennedy heard they were coming and put out in a 20-foot sloop. He lay behind a small island and let tthe Japs pass to the other side. Then he bore down on them, firing his machine-gun. He killed all 40 of them and got only a bullet through the leg in doing it. He was recovering from his wound when we got there.

"Kennedy was promoted to major and moved to another assignment. His army had deserted him anyway. He was paying each of his soldiers a pound a month but after we went in a pound a month looked like small potatoes, and they all wanted to fight for us."

Boost Allowance For Soldiers

OTTAWA, Dec. 4 —(CP)— The clothing allowance on discharge for all three armed services has been increased to $65, irrespective of length of service or time of year at which discharge takes place, Air Minister Power announced today at a press conference.

The allowance formerly was $35 for those with more than six months' service; $17 for those with less than six months' service, but if they were discharged between October and April they received an extra $10.

Reports from Berlin through countries said that three of Berlin's biggest bakeries had been destroyed in Thursday night's assault and that bread now was coming in from Leipzig and Madgeburg. Berlin's Funkhaus (broadcasting house) situated in the far west end of the city, was hit, A Swedish dispatch said, and an eyewitness reaching Stockholm reported "there was hardly anything left" of the borough of Charlottenburg, also in the west end. The eyewitness said the once thriving square, Alexander-Platz, in the heart of the capital, had been virtually destroyed in the deluge of high explosives.

The steady raids have cut five hours out of the average Berliner's day, it was said. Most are home now by 5 p.m. compared to 10 p.m. previously. Factories and offices are functioning from 7 a.m. through 2 or 3 p.m.

The badly - affected transportation system was said to have been further crippled by the raid, making idel the trains that had run through the Potsdamer and Stettiner railway stations.

Killed 4 People Now Free Man

CHICAGO, Dec. 4—(AP).—Paul Harrison, who was sent to the Illinois security hospital at Menard in 1932 after he allegedly confessed four hammer slayings, was free today because of a set of strange legal circumstances.

Harrison, who was adjudged insane at the time of the slayings and who therefore could not be placed on trial on murder charges, was released yesterday when Prosecutor Gordon Nash moved to strike murder charges with leave to reinstate them if new evidence is found.

This action followed a recent finding by a jury in Judge Rudolph H. Desort's court that Harrison now is sane, and thus entitled to freedom from a mental hospital or to a hearing on the murder charges. Since he was adjudged insane at the time of the slayings, his alleged confession then could not be used as evidence.

Nash said the alleged confession was the only evidence available now. Hence he moved to strike the charges. During his recent sanity hearing Harrison denied the killings.

Harrison, now 38, was alleged to have confessed in 1932 hammering to death Dr. James Shaffer, a dentist; Earl Davis, a watchman; Charles Pagel, and Miss Norma Newby.

The mass of shipping used in the Sicilian invasion and in the Salerno landings is not being used for further offensive moves in Italy;

No major invasion has been attempted in the region of Leghorn from newly-liberated Corsica;

Yugoslav guerillas were ready to aid in an invasion of the Balkans from Italian ports and airfields facing the Adriatic, yet no such undertaking developed.

On the other hand, it is known that the Allies have been reinforced in Italy of late. Newly-arrived Canadians presumably include a division and, with the 1st Division, will form a Canadian corps.

Bracken Accuses Gardiner Of Bacon Error

OTTAWA, Dec. 4.—(CP).— John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative party, said in a statement last night that Agriculture Minister Gardiner has now found "still another reason for the government's failure to provide a fair price for bacon hogs—he now suggests that it is the probable lessening market in Britain after the war."

Mr. Bracken said the statement concerning Canadian hog production issued by Mr. Gardiner in Winnipeg last night was one which "glosses over the government's error and which leaves the producer just where he was."

Mr. Bracken's statement said in part: "The Minister says he was advised by representatives from the province of Manitoba to increase the bacon exports to Britain by raising the weight of bacon hogs This is only a half-truth and therefore deliberately misleading. "It won't fool the farmer who has lost confidence in the government's policy, not because of qualitp or volume of production, but because the government has deliberately let the price of hogs fall below a right relationship to the price it fixed for barley.

Need Heavier Hogs.

"It is true that some people, of whom I was one, pointed out last year when Britain was asking for more bacon, that unless heavier weight hogs were accepted the British contract could probably not be filled.

"This was not urged as a peacetime policy; insofar as I was concerned it was suggested only in the circumstances of the great need in Britain for bacon, and the huge crops of feed grains in Canada, and then only if the British preferred a greater volume of heavier bacon rather than a limited volume of lighter bacon.

"If the government has sent forward low quality bacon without the knowledge and approval of the British it has only itself to blame. The matter of quality is of interest at the moment, because the present policy of discrimination against hogs in the government's price policies will result in both a lesser production and a lower quality than would otherwise be forthcoming.

"I hope none will be deceived into thinking that I favor low quality bacon or any other food produce for Britain or any else, either in peace or war. It was not a question of favoring poor quality, it was wholly a question of whether Britain preferred to have her contract filled or not filled.

By accepting heavier bacon the contract would probably be filled. But not accepting it the contract probably would not be.

"No amount of side-tracking of the main issue will explain to the satisfaction of the farmers of this country the irrational policy of increasing the price of feed grains without at the same time increasing, to a relative extent, the price of hogs to which these grains are fed.

"The government will yet have to answer for a policy which discriminates against the diversification of Canadian agriculture and tends in the direction of again increasing our surpluses of grain products. The net effect has been to produce an indiscriminate slaughtering of brood sows and a sabotaging of Canada's hog industry, as well as the program of expanding food production so necessary for Britain, as well as for the rehabilitation of the world."

Editors Protest Release Of Cairo Story

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4—(AP).—United States editors have protested to the White House and to the United States Office of War Information over the broadcasting by Reuters News Agency of news of the Churchill-Roosevelt-Chiang-Kai-Shek conference more than 24 hours ahead of the release time in the United States.

A protest also was made by War Information Director Elmer Davis to Brendan Bracken, Britain's Minister of Information.

Roy A. Roberts, managing editor of the Kansas City Star and president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, in protests on Thursday to the White House and the O.W.I. said:

"The whole episode hurts the war effort. Our war correspondents have too fine a record of devotion and sacrifice in this war in keeping the public at home informed to be brushed off as they were. The breaking of faith, if not the release by Reuters, destroyed much of the effect of what should have been one of the epochal highspots of the war."

Neither the White House nor the O.W.I. had any immediate comment on Roberts' message.

Davis complained to Bracken over what he called loopholes in British censorship. He also deplored the "premature" Reuters release as a "flagrant and possibly dangerous breach of the basic rules of security."

Bracken was urged by Davis to do something to "make sure that British censorship from now on keeps Reuters in line."

Reuters has contended its report of the tri-power conference, circulated from Lisbon, was simply journalistic enterprise.

zations, will cease operating for those purposes, but other use will be made of their facilities. Certain service flying training schools devoted to the advanced training of pilots will change the character and nature of the training carried on, said the Minister.

Maj. Power said there has been "a considerable reduction" in operational manpower wastage rates in all commands other than bomber command.

"This has had the result that a considerable surplus of aircrews has been accumulated in fighter command as a result of the absence in 1943 of operations involving heavy casualties," he said.

"Aircrew training will still be required and in large numbers. Canada's aircrew commitments will not be affected.

"Fortunately, due to the intense recruiting campaign of last summer and this autumn and to remustering from ground crew, Canada has in hand and ready to undergo training in all categories a substantial reserve of aircrew material.

Flier Survives Bancroft Crash

BANCROFT, Dec. 4 (ENS)—In a blinding snow storm shortly after eleven o'clock this morning, LAC D. B. Potts of Uplands airport, Ottawa, flying a Harvard training plane, crashed about one-quarter of a mile from the village on the farm of John McCormick suffering injuries of his head which Dr. Lumb told the Examiner did not appear to be serious.

Within ten minutes after pancaking his plane amid poplars and maples, the young airman was in the local Red Cross Hospital. He had circled the village several times with his landing gear down, and many of the villagers realized that something was amiss.

The plane was badly damaged and will have to be hauled out of the McCormick bush.

White House Expects No Early Statement

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4—(AP)—White House Secretary Stephen T. Early told reporters today that he did not expect any announcement to be made soon on the results of the Churchill-Roosevelt-Stalin war conferences at Teheran, Iran.

Commenting on press and radio reports from abroad that some official announcements were expected momentarily, Early said:

"Frankly, I don't see them as coming that quickly. If they were I think I would know about it."

When this attention was called to a statement by Elmer Davis, director of the Office of War Information expressing surprise over the official Moscow announcement that the "big three" had met and agreed on military and political questions without simultaneous disclosure in the other allied capitals, Early said:

"We knew nothing about it."

TORONTO, Dec. 4 — (CP). — Weighed by salvage workers, the greater Toronto waste paper contribution to the war effort in Thursday's scrap drive totalled 725 tons. Canucks Ready To Drive Into Mountains

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press War Correspondent

LONDON, Dec. 4 (CP Cable) — Orders for an advance by Canadian troops on their sector on the left wing of the 8th Army's Italian front likely won't be long in coming.

For once the 8th Army formations which have captured Lanciano and are thrusting at San Vito on the extreme right of the line work their way through to the main roads leading to the big Adriatic port of Pescara, 16 miles northwest of San Vita, and Chieti, eight miles southwest of Pescara, the whole 8th Army should move forward to straighten the front.

The Canadians will have a tough task when they march north through the snow-capped mountains because they are in probably the worst mountain country of any 8th Army formation. It will be an infantry and artillery job with mule trains lugging up supplies where trucks can't go.

Such campaigning will be nothing new for the Canadians, however, for they are now rated as mountain troops.

Frequent patrols on the Canadian front probing German positions along the Sangro and its mountain tributaries are a build-up for the attack, with ammunition, reinforcements and supplies being brought forward in the cold, muddy weather.

Canadian 1st Division regiments, veterans of the Mediterranean fighting, will share in the next advance as it is improbable that any new contingent in Italy will be at the front yet. It generally takes at least a month to prepare such a force for action and new arrivals have scarcely had enough time to be assigned to a battle task.

Several good main roads leading north to Pescara and a lateral road to Rome could be used by the Canadians in the advance from their present positions but these highways doubtless would be blown up by the Germans every few miles when the attack is launched and progress would be slow.

Class of 13 is Confirmed At Cornwall Military Camp

KINGSTON, Dec. 4.—In the little white Protestant chapel at the Officers' Training Centre at Brockville, upon the door of which is inscribed "Enter, Rest and Pray," thirteen members of the Canadian Army were confirmed this week by Bishop John Lyons, M.A., D.D., of Kingston, Bishop of the Diocese of Ontario.

It was the first confirmation service ever to be held at the Officers' Training Centre, and those confirmed included four officer candidates and seven members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps, who are on the training centre sub-staff.

Bishop Lyons was assisted by Hon. Maj. P. J. Dykes, chaplain of the centre, and Rev. S. G. Jackson of St. Peter's Anglican Church, Brockville. Present at the service were Col. T. E. Snow, camp commandant, and Mrs. Snow, and Hon. Lt.-Col. W. C. Mawhinney, district chaplain (P.) of M.D. 3.

The confirmation class included Cadet Douglas James Boyd, Toronto; Cadet James Henry Allen Fennell, Toronto; Pte. Clifford Henry Lalande, Kingston; Sgt. Edwin Richards, Mahone Bay, N.S.; Cadet John Thistlewaite, Winnipeg, Man.; Cadet George Lloyd Tomlinson, Toronto. Members of the C.W.A.C. confirmed were Privates Olive Cookman, Peterborough; Lena Millie Ernst, Lunenburg, N.S.; Marion E. Hurley, Bishop's Falls, Newfoundland; Muriel Eleanor Jennett, New Kiskard, Ont.; Helen Kathleen Leggott, Swift Current, Sask.; Katherine Lemky, Saskatoon, Sask.; and Muriel Margaret Nellie Loner, Halifax, N.S.

The Sin Of Covetousness

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

(The International Uniform lesson on the above topic for Dec. 5 is Exodus 20:17; Luke 12:13-34, the Golden Text being Exodus 20: 17, "Thou shalt not covet . . anything that is they neighbor's.")

"THOU SHALT not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor anything that is thy neighbour's."

Covetousness, envy, being discontented with our own lives and possessions so much that we want the things our friend or neighbor has and try to get them, even to the point of stealing, is one of the greatest if sins because it leads to others. It may lead even to murder, if it is not crushed in the heart of the envious person.

Nations are envious as well as persons. This terrible war in which we are embroiled really was brought on by envy — great nations coveting the possessions of other nations, not being content with their own, and being willing to murder and torture the inhabitants of the other lands for the things they owned.

It really was covetousness, or love of money, that made Judas Iscariot betray his Lord and Master for a few paltry dollars — about $15. It probably seemed like wealth to him, but what did the possession of the money mean to him when he had it? Nothing, and less than nothing. When he realized what he had done and how unspeakbaly vile was his action, he wanted to give the money back, and in despair he took his own life.

Man Covets Inheritance

Luke tells us that while Jesus was teaching, a man who was in the company came to Him and said, "Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me." Whether this man's claim against his brother was just or not we do not know. He was evidently wild with envy of this brother who had more than he. That inheritance seemed to him more important than anything else in the world, and he was going to try every way he could think of to get some of it. Jesus' reply was a rebuke to that envious spirit: "Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you?" And to the others He said, "Take heed and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth."

If we could only remember that. We may possess all the riches of the earth. We may ride in a high-priced car, have marvelous clothes, live in a beautiful house, but be unutterably miserable. On the other hand, we may be what the world calls miserably poor in worldly goods, and be superbly rich—in the things that really matter— in health, love, content, the joy of living.

To illustrate this Jesus told a parable. There was a man, said He, who was rich. He had much land and the land bore a wonderful harvest, so large a harvest, in fact, that his barns would not store it all.

He looked at the barns and he wondered what he should do, and decided that he would tear them down and build larger ones. Then he would stop working and eat, drink and be merry,'" for the rest of his life.

But God said to him "Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee: then whose shall those things be which thou hast provided " Whose indeed. He could not take them with him, all he could take to that other world was his soul, and that soul of his looked very poor indeed.

His Soul Required

"So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God," said Jesus.

Jesus taught us that we should not worry about things we do not have or that we fear we will not have. We may make ourselves unhappy, even ill, fretting about providing food, clothes, housing, etc. Jesus told His followers not to do this. "Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on."

He reminded them of the ravines—the whole crow trible—who do not sow nor harvest, and have no barns to store food, yet they are fed: "How much more are ye better than the fowls?"

"Consider the lilies how they grow; they toil not, they spin not and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these."

If God, then so clothes the grass of the field which tomorrow is "cast into the oven, how much more will He clothe you, O ye of little faith!"

If human beings could only learn this lesson. Work, provide for ourselves and families as well as we can, and then trust God that all will be well. We may never be rich or powerful, and if we were we might not be happy, but if we have this trust in Our Father, we can lead good, unselfish lives, sharing what we have with other, not envying any man, but living serenely in that thrust.

Joint Forum Is Held

A joint meeting of Stewart Hall and Central Smith radio forums was held at S.S. No. 2 school house for review night with over 25 present.

M. Clarke was chairman and a short address was given by W. Dawson, in which he outlined the advantages of such gatherings and how they are helping the farmers to-day. Bruce Clarke, accompanied by Mrs. C. Westlake, led in community singing. C. Moore outlined the events and speeches of the U.F.O. convention in Toronto.

The recent convention featured three speakers, and all three recognized credit union activities, not only in the United States, but in Canada, particularly Quebec. Some of the outstanding thoughts of the session were related by Mr. Moore. "Farm people must know where they have been and were they are going, and to do this must work together co-operatively. We must have an economized aim and plan with agricultural credit remaining flexible. The overall desire of all farm people is that the boys coming back from this conflict return to home of peace and contentment. Never again must farmers be permitted to face peasantry owing to the lack of farm organization.

All the speakers of the convention, stated Mr. Moore, gave credit to the higher and guiding power of the Creator of the Universe, as do our leading soldiers and statesmen, and King and Queen.

This fine report was followed by tall tales from Mr. L. Reynolds and Mr. Savigny. "Indians' views on farming and the white man" was then presented, in an amusing way by Roland Scott. "Plan for hospital care" was explained by Bruce Clarke. This plan is one of the forum projects for this year..

Miss Staples of Stewart Hall, followed by a group contest conconducted a quiz and this was ducted by Mrs. Roland Scott. Lunch wa sserved by the ladies of both forums, after which a vote of thanks was tendered by both leaders of the evening. The next regular meeting will be at Mr. and Mrs. Reynold's. Topic for the month, "Planning For Health."

The Attractive Personality

REV. E. R. JAMES

THE DISCIPLES OF JESUS MARVELLED THAT HE TALKED WITH THE WOMAN. Sy. John 4; 27.

A devout Jew writes these words more than forty years after the event. He can still feel the shock. As a Jew he has been trained to recognize the barrier between men and women. As a devout "son of the Law" he opened his prayers with these words:—"Lord Jehovah, I thank Thee that Thou hast not made me a woman". With such a background you can clearly understand how much greater was their horror to see by her dress that she was a Samaritan.

There must have been something very attractive in the Personality of the great Prophet that the Samaritan woman with her own share of national prejudice should speak so freely with Him and later work for Him. It was Our Lord's overwhelming love and sympathy for all men. He is truly "The good shepherd" and His smile must have been most alluring. It is an acid test of our religion to be able to attract or draw men and women with whom we have very little in common. Only "the love of Christ can constrain us".

The ordinary man in our churches does not believe in foreign missions or missions to the under privileged in our great cities-the broken earthenware of lives through our so called civilization. In upholding such missions we must not forget that our forefathers living in an island off the west coast of France in the days of the Roman conquest. How much do we owe to the missionaries of that period, men who went into the backwoods of the Roman Empire to convert our forefathers. In these terrible days Christians must be the "cells" of Christian sympathy and unselfishness. Some man or woman will only be drawn to the Christ through your personality, which is being indwelt by the Holy Spirit of the Lord Jesus. The Holy Spirit is the only true source of attraction revealing the indwelling Christ in you.

A little later Our Lord is passing through Jericho. He invites Himself to Zaccaeus' home the chief publican or tax gatherer in Jericho. This man is a social outcast, though a wealthy man. Every devout Jew would be glad to say that he wouldn't sit down to dinner in the house of this rich tax gatherer. The Lord knows this social rule and so invites himself. There may be conditions of life when the servant of Christ should invite himself in the spirit of Christian courtesy into the home of a poor man. In such a home, you will be very humble, ver couteous, very thoughtful. Above all there must be no patronage. It is your opportunity to leave a deep impression of real fellowship and brotherhood in that home.

One Saturday morning, the Jewish Sabbath, a rich Pharisee invites the Lord to dinner. He does not treat Him as an honored Guest. The guests are reclining at the table with their feet on couches behind and not under the table. A woman who had been attracted by His charm and sweetness comes behind Him and washes His feet with her tears, anoints them with ointment and kisses his feet. One of the most beautiful stories ever written. Naturall the respectable Churchman is shocked beyond words. At once Our Lord comes to her defence. He always cares for the litle ones of His flock. The outstanding thought in this narrative is that the Lord's Face must have been full of compassion and love which enabled her to invade that respectable company and offer Him her homage. Are You approachable? If not, why not?

In all these stories Our Lord develops faith, which is an universal and Catholic faculty. Faith is found in every man. When men see such charm and sweetness in you it deepens their faith in your religion. In a very humble way it is your privilege to say "He that hath seen me hath seen something of the Lord Christ".

Before you make such a visit let this be your prayer:—"O Christ, the King, give me mercy and favour in the sight of this man (woman) for I am Thy cupbearer."

HE THAT BELIEVETH IN ME OUT OF HIS BELLY SHALL FLOW RIVER OF LIVING WATER.

Augments Funds

MILLBROOK, Dec. 4—(ENS.—The Women's Institute sponsored a euchre at the home of Mrs. J. W. Hilton, with four tables in use for play, and prizes going to Mrs. H. M. Trick for ladies' high score, to Mrs. Bell, who played as a gentleman, and to Mrs. J. Sloan who had the consolation.

Refreshments were served at the close, and it is expected that members who live in the other end of the village, or those in the country, will entertain in a similar manner, in order to add to the funds. The branch wishes to send Christmas cards, and to remember the sick, at Christmas.

Realizes $60

MILLBROOK, Dec. 4—(ENS)—Grace Presbyterian Church Ladies' Aid Society held a hot supper and sale this week, over $60 being realized from the undertaking.

Mrs. H. A. Kerr and Mrs. S. E. Eakins were in charge of the table of home baking, aprons and other fancy work, and the country store, where fresh vegetables, fowl, and eggs, made up the wares.

The supper tables were filled, those in charge being: Mrs. J. R. Thompson, Mrs. J. Armstrong, Jr., Mrs. M. W. Kinsman, Mrs. C. Thorndye, Mrs. J. N. McGill, Mrs. A. Coyte, Mrs. W. Patterson, Mrs. M. Weatherup, Mrs. H. C. Lord and Mrs. Fred Whyte.

Owing to the prevalence of flu in the village attendance was not as large as usual.

War Club Makes Quilt

SELWYN, Dec. 4—(ENS).—Mrs. Clifford McIlmoyle opened her home for the monthly meeting of the Selwyn War Workers, when one quilt was quilted and two others tied down. There were 18 present, and a pot luck dinner was enjoyed. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Reg. Bell on December 15.

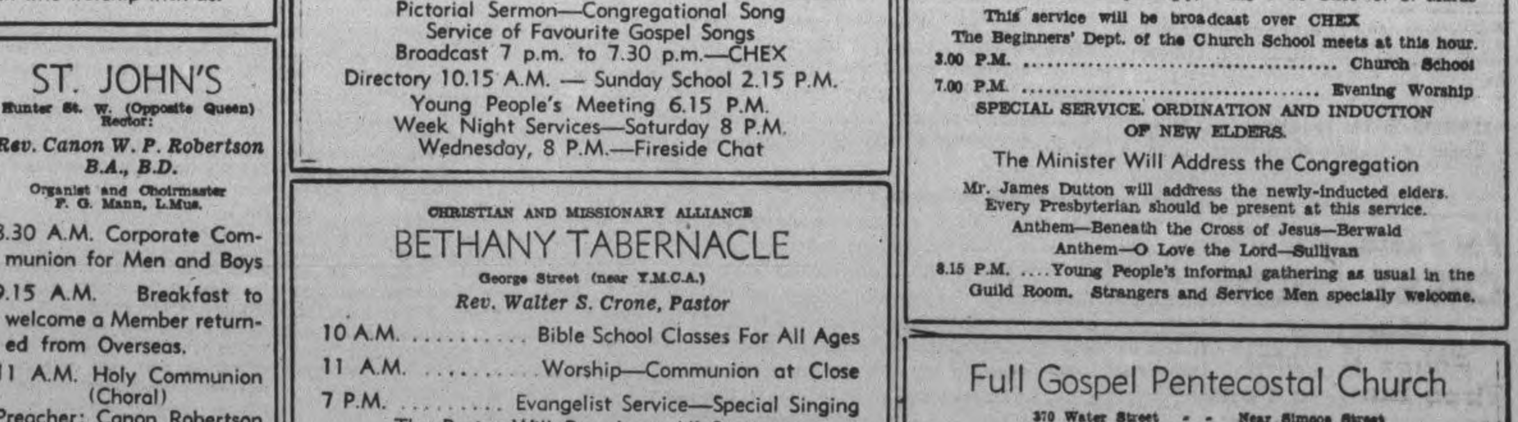
The Sin of Covetousness — ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON — Scripture—Exodus 20:17; Luke 12:13-34. — By Alfred J. Buescher



Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, nor his wife, his ox, nor anything that is his, said the Lord.

Jesus said, "Take heed and beware of covetousness; for a man's life consisteth not of the things which he possesseth."

Consider the ravens; for they neither sow nor reap; and God feedeth them; how much more are ye than the fowls.

Sell that ye have and give alms, provide a treasure in the heavens that faileth not. GOLDEN TEXT—Exodus 20:17.

Our Great Playground

Many people in Peterborough have been amazed at the growth of the tourist industry in the Highlands of Haliburton. The trade was pioneered by a few of the natives, and in ten years Haliburton has blossomed into one of the outstanding resort areas in the whole of Canada. The amazing thing about it all is that many of those people who stay at these resorts do not care about fishing, swimming, sailing or canoeing, but instead devote their time to tennis, golf, dancing, horseback riding, table tennis, lawn croquet, and campfire parties.

The resorts have a waiting list, and each year sees an ever increasing army of young and old heading north along the Lindsay-Minden highway to the resorts that dot the lakes between Minden and Haliburton, and Minden and Dorset.

While it is true a great many are after good fishing and get it, nevertheless, the resort owners don't put the emphasis on fishing, and on Lake Kashogawigamog, which has at least 12 major resorts, few people fish at all. In fact enquiries indicate that even the resort owners have little knowledge about fishing conditions in this lake. They are more interested in making fun for their guests.

The big resorts all have large recreation rooms, equipped with a fireplace, nicolodeon, and comfortable chairs. At night the crowd gathers in this room for dancing, singing, games, and all have a grand time. Then they sleep in next day, except for a few hardy souls who rise at dawn for a plunge before breakfast.

Every resort in Haliburton is making money, but few in the Kawartha district can say the same thing.

From the standpoint of scenery, Stoney Lake surpasses the finest scenery Haliburton possesses; the water is cleaner, fishing is at least as good, and far better than some Haliburton lakes. Then why are the resorts not making money?

Is it not true that the resort owners have failed to keep abreast of the times. In the old days, Americans, seeking maskinonge, kept the resorts in business. They wanted good food, comfortable lodgings, a good guide, and that's all. They made their own fun, and asked to be left alone.

As the fishing petered out, the Americans moved to other lakes, or else took their families to resorts where there was recreation for the wife and children. Hence the popularity of Muskoka and Haliburton.

It is reasonable to believe that if some enterprising resort man took over a Stoney Lake resort, put in tennis courts, built a large recreation room, built several cabins for sleeping quarters, made facilities for swimming and diving, and hired a man or woman who can plan a program for guests so that they are kept entertained all the time, he would undoubtedly have a gold mine. If two or three started up, it would be even better, because parties could commute from one to the other for evening dances, bacon snack parties, corn roasts, weiner roasts, and all the rest. With the fishing steadily improving, Stoney Lake would soon come into its own, and become a top ranking summer hotel resort area, in the same high bracket it now enjoys as a summer cottage area.

Child Labor

More than ten per cent. of the boys and girls who passed their entrance examinations from the Peterborough Public Schools did not enter the Collegiate Institute in September. Some of these were sixteen years of age, and hence under the laws of Ontario, could not be made to go to school; but on the other hand there was a very large number who were between fourteen and sixteen years of age. The parents for the most part were so indifferent to the welfare of their children that they readily assented to the child's plea to be allowed to work. There was nothing the truant officer could do for on investigating he was always told they were needed for the support of the home.

Perhaps many of them were, but allowing them to leave school at such an early age does not speak well for our democracy and our standard of society. In two years time, and perhaps less, a large number of these boys and girls will be out of work, for they will be expected to make way for the boys returning from the services. They will then have been out of school so long, that they have lost all inclination for study and even if they do they will find themselves placed with boys and girls several years their junior. It is a difficult problem, but it is a problem that has to be faced and solved satisfactorily if we wish to make men and women out of them, who will be a credit to Canada.

Standing at our office window today we saw a pair of boys, who we doubt very much if they had entered their 'teens, riding on a garbage wagon. Both had cigarettes in their mouths and both were having a "high time" as they thought. On investigation we found they were out of school because their teacher was ill so they had a legitimate excuse to be away from school, but the smoking rather got us, and we ask the question just how many of these juveniles who are out of school today are learning habits which never should be permitted among boys and girls of their age.

You just have to walk down George Street late at night and see the large number of boys and girls, yet in their early 'teens; some are returning home from the night shifts in local factory while others are simply "bumming" the time away, to make any thoughtful and conscientious citizen ask when is this going to stop.

There is no objection to boys and girls taking on jobs they can do between leaving school at four and supper time, or a Saturday job, but when every night of the week, or even only a few nights they are engaged in jobs that deprive them of home study of their lessons and of reasonable time for recreation, their welfare comes in question. There is a group of boys and girls in this class who attend school in the daytime and work at night. Their exact number is not known, but they have been giving school authorities a great deal of worry. Teachers report that some of the pupils fall asleep during school hours. Obviously they are in no condition to assimilate their education.

In normal times the wages that boys and girls command are small, but in these days when labour is at a premium, young people are being offered fancy sums to work and their urge to leave school or even work in the evenings, where the family income is small, is a big temptation. The advantages are only transient, whereas the loss of education and impairment of health may be permanent. The whole matter is a question for the provincial legislature when it meets.

His Majesty Deserts Us

For many a long day reigning monarchs and newspaper editors have spoken of themselves in the first person plural. "We are not amused", says the editor of the Times. And the great world, which has come to regard monarchs with familiar affection, has never quite lost its awe of editors. When a monarch says "we", every one of his loyal subjects thinks "me, too", but when an editor says "we" his readers suspect that he is talking about himself and the mysterious persons with whom he takes counsel in the still watches of the night.

Who would not be an editor? To write
The magic WE of such enormous might;
To be so great beyond the common span
It takes the plural to express the man.

Thus the poet pays his tribute to the editor, perhaps in return for substantial tribute paid by the editor to the poet.

But now, to our alarm, we discover that His Majesty has deserted us. In the Speech From the Throne with which he opened Parliament recently he spoke of "my Government", "my allies" and "my navies", and when he asked God's blessing on them all he said "I pray". Presumably His Majesty did not take this step without due thought and consultation with men who are deeply learned in these matters. After all, a great ancestress of his, no less a person than Queen Elizabeth herself, dropped the Royal "we" when she wanted to be particularly emphatic.

But editors will never drop it. As we sit here in our office, reflecting on these matters, we realize our plurality with the utmost solemness. Like a pair of scissors, or a pair of trousers, our usefulness depends on a union in plurality. The King may do as he pleases with the King's English, but we shall stick to the old custom.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Although the Berlin Zoo was bombed, we hear no rumours of the leopards changing their spots.

A gentleman, says a contemporary, is one who is embarrassed when a woman tells off-colour stories in mixed company.

A Journalist's Journal

SUNDAY, Nov. 14. A cold day; Winter, having heard about the coal strike, has decided to get down to business, and has sent little draughts through every crack, and has ruined radio reception for the day. This is a pity, as Sunday is one of the few days when good programs are broadcast in quantity....Got writer's cramp, an ailment which I believe is unusual these days; it ranks with housemaid's knee, tennis elbow, clergyman's sore throat and dowager's hump in the list of ills which are also badges of honourable application to one's calling. For any others so troubled—application of hot, moist cloths relieved my cramp.

MONDAY, Nov. 15: I see that "The Phantom of The Opera" is in town today, but I shall be unable to go to it. How many people have read the novel by Gaston Leroux on which the film is based? They don't write thrillers like that any more. I remember seeing the earlier film, with Lon Chaney as the Phantom; what a satisfactory monster he was! I have a Gothic passion for horrors. "Direness, familiar to my slaughterous thoughts, cannot once start me." But I see that in the new version the emphasis is laid on Nelson Eddy, as the hero, and not on the hideous "Erik," the Opera ghost; Nelson Eddy is not the kind of horror in which I am interested. It is characteristic of our age that this change in emphasis should have been made, for as real life becomes more frightful, popular art becomes more sentimental, creamy and indigestible.

TUESDAY, Nov. 16: Am having great trouble finding a man with a circular saw to cut two cords of wood for me; I may have to do it myself with a bucksaw—a dreadful prospect! The sawyers are either too busy to touch it until after Christmas, or have given up sawing to go into the factories. One told me that he had decided not to saw any more as people did not pay him for his work; he did not seem to think that this might be remedied by an application of elementary business methods...Oddly enough, I heard a harrassed shop-steward say today, "I'm just waiting till after the war, when there are more men than jobs; that'll be the day!" He was a union man, but he told me that he thought that industrial work was impossible if labour enjoyed too much independence; he seemed to think that humanity functioned better under gentle compulsion than under complete freedom. Maybe he is right; but political progress seems to demand that we ignore the plain fact that a lot of people are no good for anything, and assume that every living creature is an industrious angel.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 17: Saw an article by Lee Simonson in a New York paper in which he recommends that successful production of plays be taxed to support 'artistic' production which cannot pay for themselves. What rot! That would result in nothing but a general impression that a play which succeeds is necessary a poor piece of work, and that every failure is a neglected masterpiece....This evening saw a Shakespearean Recital by a couple of actors at a nearby school; the children were excited and interested. A pity they cannot have something a little less academic. Fifteen years ago an excellent amateur group from Hart House went to several schools and played "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Elaine Wodson, who later went on the stage in London, played Puck very well.

THURSDAY, Nov. 18: To Toronto today for the first time in almost two years. Did some business, and then a little Christmas shopping. I had been told to expect crowds, and shops with nothing to sell. Instead I found plenty to see and buy in the shops, and no crowds to speak of. In the best bookshop in the city I found several shelves filled with the Penguin and Pelican books, selling at twenty cents each. That system of cheap publication will, in time, break the back of the expensive book racket, and a good thing, too. Several attempts have been made to produce cheap reprint libraries on this continent, but they have all conspicuously lacked the taste and comprehensiveness of the Penguin books. As it usual in America, the publishers have underestimated the intelligence and taste of the public.

FRIDAY, Nov. 19: A Professor William E. Gye thinks that he has discovered a sure cure for the common cold, called 'patulin'; it is one of those nasty things which grows on bowls of cold gravy, like penicillin. I wouldn't mind betting that his cure is no good, for I am convinced that the common cold is a psychic and metaphysical ill, resulting from a disturbance of the soul, and I am ready to back my view....A book called "An Anthology of Russian Life And Humour" has just come out. Doubtless it is interesting. How long will it be before we can bring out an anthology of Canadian life and humour, I wonder?

SATURDAY, Nov. 20: At last a man has cut my wood, with a saw which I think he must have made out of the works of an old alarm clock, it is so small. He blew out the house fuses twice with his electric motor, but at last he finished the job, and this afternoon I conveyed about a cord of it to my cellar, and piled it. One of our pioneer ancestors would probably have split the two cords and piled it some time before breakfast, but I am no pioneer: on the contrary, if a pioneer had been faced with the job of doing all the reading and writing I do in a day, he would probably have swallowed his quid in dismay, foreseeing brain-fever as the inevitable result. Each generation to its task: I wish I had a few pioneers to finish piling my wood; they would think it was fun.

Our Nickel Abroad

A five-cent piece recently issued by Canada is likely to prove troublesome over here. It resembles too closely our own copper three-penny bit. It is twelve sided and is exactly the same size, except that it is a little thinner.

When seen head upwards the coin is virtually undistinguishable at a glance from the British three-penny bit, and a shopkeeper tells me, in fact, that he has been handed one of these five-cent pieces, probably in all innocence.

This new Canadian coin, incidentally, has some interesting features. The specimen before me shows on the observe side a torch and a V which presumably stands for victory as well as five, while round the edge, are dots and dashes which resemble a message in Morse, though with my mere smattering of that system I can make nothing of it.—Leeds Yorkshire Post.

Hope Against Hope

(OTTAWA CITIZEN)

SOME weeks ago there was a "vagrant whisper" that federal income taxes might be slightly reduced next year. The rumour never got beyond a whisper, however, and the probability is that this state of affairs will continue until Mr. Ilsley presents his budget.

But an Ottawa article in the Financial Post pursues the prospect farther and comes up with some encouraging deductions. It says that at this time Canada's expenditure for war purposes is falling about 13 per cent behind the estimated level and that this reduction may be carried through the remaining months of the fiscal year.

If it happens, the next budget might shrink by as much as five hundred million dollars, or 9 per cent. There are indications that war production is beginning to decline as a result of output reaching a level where it can safely be curtailed. By a combination of putting two and two together and hopeful if not wishful thinking, the conclusion is arrived at that the 1944 financial demands of the country will fall substantially below the current peak of $5,500,000,000 a year.

But whether this will permit a slight lightening of the taxpayer's load depends upon the advice Mr. Ilsley gets from his financial experts, most of whom are dedicated to the axiom that we should "pay as we go" and impose taxes as high as possible in order to counteract inflationary tendencies. They might decide that if any saving is possible it should be made in the realm of debt. So the best advice of those who foresee a decline in taxation as a result of passing the peak of war expenditure is, "Keep four fingers crossed"

DOROTHY DIX SAYS....

DEAR MISS DIX: For twelve years I have been married to a good, upright man who doesn't drink or gamble, but who is utterly without ambition. He earns only a small salary, just enough for us to barely scrape along on from hand to mouth, but he makes no effort to better his position. He doesn't work long hours and could easily secure extra jobs, especially as he doesn't work at all on Saturdays, but he refuses to do so. Says that he is not going to kill himself for a few dollars.

When we married, I looked forward to our being able to some day own a little home of our own and to have a few luxuries, but now I know that I am doomed to spend my life just living in two rooms and staving off the bill collector. And the thought maddens me, because I am an energetic, up-and-coming woman who wants to get somewhere in the world. Is there anything I can do about the situation?

AMBITIOUS SUE.

ANSWER: Among the countless matrimonial tragedies none is more hopeless of a happy solution than that of the go-getter woman with a sitter-down husband, for she can no more stimulate him into action than she could breathe life and pep into a corpse. Love for his wife has reformed many a drunkard and turned many a philanderer into a fireside companion, but the purposeless, ambitionless man never loves any woman enough to get out and hustle for her.

His ruling passion is love of his ease. His only desire is to get through life with the minimum of effort. He has no craving to sit in the seats of the mighty. He only wants to be left undisturbed where he is. He wouldn't work at all except that even a little labour is less unpleasant than starvation, or tramping. Good clothes, a nice car, owning his own home, making a name for himself, the things for which most of us sweat and toil, leave him cold. He would rather sit on the do-nothing stool and twiddle his thumbs.

So there is nothing in such a man to which his wife can appeal. She can't rouse his ambition because he hasn't any. She can't appeal to his affection for her and his children because he thinks that if they have enough to eat and clothes to cover them they should be satisfied. She can't give him initiative, or teach him how to recognize an opportunity when he sees one. She can't supply him with good judgment, or brace up his flabby backbone with her own stiff spinal column. She can't do anything to change him.

He is as he is, and she only wears herself out beating up against the stone wall of his personality, and makes him hate and fear and dread her; and the sooner she recognizes this and gives up the fight to change him, the better it is for both parties.

What, then, is the poor woman to do? She has two choices. One is to realize that not all men have the faculty for what we call "getting along" any more than all men have tenor voices, or Greek profiles. The talent for making money is just as definite a one as is the ability to be an actor, or an artist, or a military genius, and it may be just as unjust to blame your John for not getting a better job as it would be to blame him for not being Clark Gable or General Marshall. So a woman whose husband is no go-getter has to accept the situation as it is, and quit dreaming of the things she would like to have that he will never get for her.

Or she can go out and get them for herself. The world is full of opportunities for smart, ambitious women who are up on their toes, and if George can't, or won't, do it, very often Georgina can. Many a wife has the thrift and energy and business faculty her husband lacks, and she is far happier working outside of her home than she is within it, nagging her husband because he lacks the qualities she possesses.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: For two years I have been going with a boy and I was positive that I was in love with him when he enlisted. However, when he came home on his last furlough we decided not to see each other because we had different religions and our parents on both sides objected to our marriage, and we also differed in our ideas on so many subjects.

I considered the affair off, then I met Tom, who is all I ever dreamed of. We are of the same religion, and think alike in every way. He can give me all the things I have ever wanted. But my problem is that the boy with whom I had been going has written to me and asked forgiveness and wants me to go back to him.

Although I still have that certain feeling for the old boy friend, I feel that I could grow to love Tom very much if I saw more of him. What shall I do? I cannot keep leading both boys on. Which one should I take?

E. R. D.

ANSWER: Tom, by all means. When you and the first boy friend broke up, that ended all of your obligations to him. That set you free to make any other matrimonial alliance you chose. Evidently Number One recognized that your having different religious faiths and the opposition of your families, would be a bar to your having a happy marriage, and he very wisely broke it off. The circumstances have not changed, but his being far from home and lonesome has awakened tender memories of you and made him think that he is more in love with you than he is. Lots of soldier boys these days are mistaking homesickness for love.

Congeniality is the basis of every happy marriage. So take Tom with whom you have so much in common.

Britons Give Blood In Large Quantity

At the end of 1942 donor panels in Great Britain totalled 861,000 names. During that year 375,000 people were bled, and of them 187,000 by mobile teams. After meeting the needs for whole blood, 294,000 pints of blood were sent for filtration as plasma and serum. Fifty-two thousand bottles of blood were sent to the services, and small quantities were also sent to Malta, China, the Far East and to prisoner-of-war camps in Germany.

By Request

Australian Commandos in September killed 200 Japanese in Kaipait, New Guinea, and drove another 300 out of the village. Lieut. Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of the Allied Air Forces in the Southwest Pacific, asked them what kind of present he could give them as a reward. "Beer, mail, food and women," the commandos chorused. The general did his best. On the next plane flown in he sent them fresh meat, cigarettes and five pounds of chocolate.

This Little Pig

The handsome 250-pound corn-fed pig, "Red Points," which Governor O'Conor of Maryland won from Governor Griswold of Nebraska during the Third War Loan drive, gave its all for the war effort last week. It was dished up as the main dinner course for a hundred hungry sailors.

A Bible Message

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God unto the shepherds; Woe be to the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves! should not the shepherds feed the flocks? ....The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost....

Therefore, O ye shepherds, hear the word of the Lord.... For thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I, even I, will both search my sheep, and seek them out.... I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick. (Ezek. 34: 1, 2, 4, 9, 11, 16.)

And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people. But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd.

Then saith he unto his disciples. The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest.... And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease. (Matt. 9: 35-38; 10, 1.)

Unconsidered Trifles

Luigi, an Italian munition worker, return[ed] home to find a very watery stew for his supp[er] for the fifth night in succession. Irritable a[nd] nervous from the recent war reports and the R.A.F.'s non-stop bombing, he turned on his wife, Maria!

"Stew, stew, always you give me stew," he cried.

"But it is all I can get Luigi," said his wife. "All the time I stand in the queues for it. All the day!"

"At last it has come," muttered the poor Eyetie. "I am going to shoot Mussolini, he is to blame for the war!"

He pocketed his revolver and marched out of his house. Maria waited fearfully all the night for him; he returned at dawn and wearily threw himself into a chair.

"Did you do it, did you do it?" cried his wife.

"No," said Luigi, disgustedly, "there's a queue for that too!"

Italian Prisoners of War

Twenty thousand Italian prisoners of war work on British farms. Besides these there are some 500,000 in British hands scattered in different places from India to Rhodesia and North Africa.

At present it is an offence to communicate with Italian prisoners of war when one meets them. This is a curious position for a co-belligerent to be in, but are all the 20,000 cobelligerents! Doubtless many are and would like some opportunity of joining Badoglio's army? Others, according to reports from the countryside, showed some glee when Mussolini was rescued by Hitler.

The Hague Convention hardly foresaw the possibility of co-belligerent prisoners of war. One wonders what Marshal Badoglio thinks about this. Meanwhile Mr. Bevin has announced in the House of Commons that he is considering the possibility of relieving the manpower shortage by making further use of Italian prisoners of war. This opens many questions in view of the la[rge] numbers involved and the undefined status they now have.—Manchester Guardian.

SHATTER TRADITION—Two girls who have made outstanding records in their school careers are pictured ABOVE. Adele Fitzgerald (LEFT) was named head girl at Commencement at the Collegiate Friday night, and in addition was winner of the Middle School Latin and French prizes. Mildred Spicer (RIGHT), who has been active on the Echoes staff for many years, is the first girl to be president of the Students' Council.

George Green, Adele Fitzgerald Top Boy And Girl At P.C.V.S.

In a moment packed with drama when the students had been brought to the highest peak of excitement, C. S. Browne, principal of the Collegiate announced the names of Adele Fitzgerald and George Green as head girl and head boy of the Collegiate, at the annual commencement exercises, held Friday night at the school.

Amid a tumult of swelling applause. Mr. Browne announced that Miss Fitzgerald, who this year was the winner of the Middle School French and Latin prizes, and an active worker on the school year book, had qualified for the honor of Academic head girl, and presented her prize from Mrs. Downey. He also outlined the athletic activities and scholastic work of George Green who won the place of head boy. He was also awarded the Melville C. Robinson Memorial prize.

Study People

"If you are going to be prepared to meet the needs of the next 25 years, then you must return to the humanistic side of education. Go back to languages and to philosophy and history and learn the stories about people, their successes and their failures," Dr. Walter Brown, M.A., Ph.D., chancellor of Victoria University, Toronto, told members of the graduating class.

He declared that the value of education was to give young people a self starter whether in commercial or industrial life. He outlined the three types of employees, those who had to be told what to do and supervised; those who had to be told what to do and not supervised; and those who needed neither telling nor supervision. He pointed out that the latter was the most desireable and the hardest to get.

Continuing Dr. Brown stressed that education was to awaken the people intellectually and morally and to make them responsible citizens. Irregardless of subjects studied, if that is accomplished, then a student has been educated, he said. While he admitted that scientists and technicians played an important role in life to-day, the Chancellor emphasized that too little thought was being given to the training of administrators, who must be versed in the ways of mankind. Only training in a liberal education which includes languages, history and philosophy can fill this predominant need.

Master One or Two

"Not all students are brilliant and it does not matter particularly what subject is studied and the marks may not be 1st. It is much better to take one or two subjects and master them and get 2As and 3Cs and know those two subjects form top to bottom. While it is not easy to master languages, go back and learn them. If they were easy, they would not be worth bothering with."

Pointing out that in studying people students learn something of the wisdom of the race, Dr. Brown said that history shows the courses to success and failure and that following desires is not always right. He divided a university education into the same two classes as high schools, vocational which includes engineering, dentistry and medicine, and the Arts colleges which deliver the liberal and humanistic training.

As an ex-graduate of the Collegiate, the Chancellor paid tribute to Dr. H. R. H. Kenner under whom he studied, and to the principal before him, C. Fessenden, whom he said taught him the first real sense of mastery in a subject in his trigonometry class, which has never left him and carried him to his present position.

Dr. C. M. Scott, chairman of the Board of Education presided.

The Valedictory address was given by Robert Carley, head boy of last year's graduating class and who tied for the Edward Blake Scholarship in English, History, Algebra and Geometry given by the University of Toronto. He paid tribute to the work of the teaching staff and told what high school had meant to him.

92 Graduates Present

Diplomas were given to 92 out of 138 graduates, many of the remainder having enlisted in the forces or working in other cities. The Academic certificates were presented by H. L. Bamforth and announced by L. J. Pettit; the Commercial and Special Commercial diplomas were given by Miss M. A. Lees and announced by A. Shearer and F. A. Johnston announced while Miss V. W. Burgess presented Industrial Arts and the Home Economic certificates. The class receiving honor diplomas and Special Commercial were the hardest hit by lack of numbers, with only 12 out of 32 present in the former and 11 out of 20 there in the latter.

Throughout the program several students performed Norman Lowes played Chopin's "Polonaise in A Major" Joy Edgar sang "Love Was Meant to Make Us Glad," a violin solo was given by Mary Jane Wharry, "Obertasse Mazurka," and Paul Moore played Scharwenka's "Polish Dance."

Special scholarships were presented by members of the Board of Education. Nicholls scholarships were awarded by C. A. Sollitt; W. G. Morrow scholarships by G. W. Craw; special scholarships and prizes by D. V. Canning; and Inspector K. S. Wightman, inspector of public schools, awarded the language scholarships and prizes.

REACHES ENGLAND — Flying Officer Clinton Norton Crowe has arrived overseas according to a cable received by his wife, formerly Lou Norrad, Stewart Street. FO. Crowe enlisted in the Air Force December 12, 1940, as an air gunner.

THREE SCHOOL LEADERS — Three of the boys who have entered fifth form have been very active during their High School years. LEFT to RIGHT, they are Stanley Feneron, English boy, who has made the highest marks of any English guests at the school and who won the Nicholls scholarship and the Middle School mathematics and science prizes. Allan Boate (CENTRE) is president of the Dramatic Club and has earned a reputation for humor. RIGHT is George Green, who was chosen by the students as head boy for the year. He is president of the Boys' Athletic Association.

English Boy Wins Three Prizes One Of 5 Outstanding Students

The past year has been an unusual one of achievement in the annals of the student body at the Collegiate Institute and a climax was reached at Commencement on Friday night when five of the students who have stellar holes, received public recognition for what they have contributed to the school since they first entered the building as frightened High School students.

Each has done something outstanding in his or her way and the teaching staff has viewed with pride their progress scholastically, athletically, and in activities in the school organizations. George Green who was chosen by the students as head boy, has climaxed his school career by serving as president of the Boys' Athletic Association for 1943-44.

During his first year he began to make his presence felt when he was connected with the Form News in 1940. During 1943 when he was in Grade XII. he was a member of the P.C.I. basketball team in the City League and in addition to his other activities, he has been serving as quartermaster for the Air Cadets. His school work too was better than average.

Made Head Girl.

Tiny Adele Fitzgerald, who is beloved by her schoolmates and the teachers alike, has been a Nicholls Scholarship winner in 1940 and 1942 and has maintained high grades throughout her course. Her High School career was climaxed Friday night when her companions chose her as head girl. A hearty supporter of the Echoes magazine, she joined the advertising staff in 1941-42 and did such splendid work that she was made manager of the advertising staff of the Echoes in 1942-1943, and according to the staff, did one of the best jobs in years. She is now joint editor of the magazine. Adele Fitzgerald also won the Latin prize for Grade XII and shared the French prize for Grade XII.

First Girl President.

The other outstanding girl in P.C.I. this year, who was also a candidate for head girl, is Mildred Spicer, who is unique in that she is the first girl to ever have served as president of the Students' Council. She was head of the Torpedo Party which took part in the recent election and three of her group were elected.

Miss Spicer came to Peterborough and entered Grade X, where she served as a form representative to the G.A.A. and was also on the Echoes circulation staff. The following year, 1941-42, when the circulation manager left suddenly, she filled in and did such good work that her colleagues named her circulation manager for 1942-43, and was also on the school news staff.

Takes Three Prizes.

One of the most brilliant students to have attended the Collegiate is Stanley Feneron, who arrived from England and entered Grade X in 1941. Since then he has made some of the highest grades on record. This year he won the First Nicholls Scholarship for general proficiency, the new C.G.E. Middle School Mathematics Prize, and the new Outboard Marine Middle School Science Prize. Since his average for six mathematics papers during the year was 96 and in science 90, the rest of the students didn't stand much chance.

But following the path of knowledge has taken up only part of his time. He has been active in all school activities. During his first year he was Form reporter, and was managing editor of the Echoes during 1942 when he was in Grade XII. His write-ups and editorials in the 1943 magazine earned the praise of the staff. In spite of all his activities, Stanley Feneron is only 16 years of age.

Likes Drama.

The fifth member of the all-star cast is Allan Boate, who is president of the Dramatic Club, and who is active in many organizations, and has earned a reputation as the school funnyman. In Grade IX he earned fame as their head boy, and the next year he made his first appearance in the Dramatic Club, playing a comic role in "She Stoops to Conquer." His stage career continued when he played the role of the Chinese mandarin in the special night of plays put on for war work, followed by a comic part in "Fanny and the Servant Problem." It was while he was in Grade XI that he also joined the Humor Committee of the Echoes. In Grade XII he again took a role in "The Bo'sun's Mate" and was made head of the Echoes Humor Committee.

Another thing which the entire school views with pride are the two framed scrolls hanging in the halls with the names of the 710 ex-students who are serving in the armed forces. In contrast to this record, on the debit side of the ledger there are 32 casualties, killed and missing.

The names of the casualties are as follows:

Killed.

Pilot Officer Russell Barton, Pilot Officer Ross Allen, Driver Christopher Mason, Sergeant Pilot Roland Rennie, Sergeant Pilot Sam Rogow, Sergeant Observer Albert Leether, Corporal George Ebbs, Petty Officer Tom MacDonald, Flight Sergeant Jack Arundel, Ser-

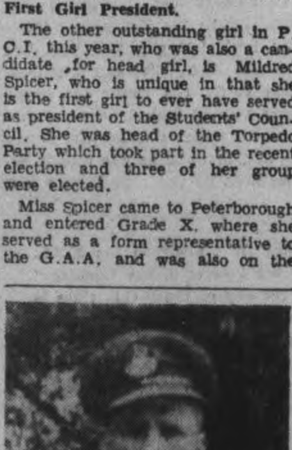
VALEDICTORIAN — Robert Carley, who won a Nicholls Scholarship for general proficiency in Grade XIII, was valedictorian for the graduating class at the Collegiate Commencement Friday night. He was named head boy a year ago, and at the end of his year won the Edward Blake Scholarship given by the University of Toronto, in Algebra, Geometry, English and History. Mr. Carley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Carley.



WINS D.F.C.—PO. Frank Haddlesey of Norwood, whose wife resides at 472 Edison Avenue, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for sticking to his guns in a bomber and driving off a German fighter although wounded three times. Before enlisting in the R.C.A.F. he and his wife, formerly Jean Lee, lived in Central Dummer. PO. Haddlesey trained in Toronto, Jarvis, Trenton and Macdonald, Man., where he received his commission. He has one son Frankie, and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Haddlesey of Norwood.

Transports Trim C.G.E. Team; St. John's Win

The standing at the top of the Ladies' Basqetball League at the Y.W.C.A. remained unchanged as a result of last night's double-header. The Transports shook off the challenge of the C.G.E. team to remain unbeaten at the head of the column and the St. John's girls hung on to second place half a game behind the leaders by taking the Normal team into camp 19 to 11. Transports won their argument 32 to 6.

St. John's had to come from behind to turn the trick against winless Normalites. The future school teachers had the edge in the first half and outscored the ultimate winners 8 to 4 at half time. However the Saints finally got moving after the rest and sparked by Marg. Hawthorne of Westclox baseball fame, who tossed in five baskets in good style they scored 15 points in that final session while the only comeback from the Normals was a three-point effort.

Marg. Hawthorne's ten points made her the scoring leader of the game and Eva Clarke was next in line with five points. R. Chapelle with two baskets from the field and two successful free throws was tops for the losers.

St. John's 19—Teresa Heslip 2, M. Dyer 2, Marg. Hawthorne 10, Eva Clarke 5, Edith Harte-Maxwell, Essie Wright, Mary Vosburg.

Normal 11 — R. Chapelle 6, J. Griffin 2, F. Sexsmith, M. Duffett, Rita Heffernan, P. O'Donell, M. Hawes 2, H. Baird 1.

Referee—Hymie Smith. Umpire—Mary McPherson.

Transports were too good, going both ways for generals in the second game and the expected close argument failed to materialize. Using two complete teams the league leaders set the pace all the way, checked closely and cashed in when they got scoring opportunities. On the other hand Generals failed to capitalize on their chances and their shooting was off the target throughout.

Transports ran in nine points before the losers broke into the scoring column and were in front 15 to 7 at the half. Generals' offensive failed to function at all in the second period, one successful free throw being the extent of their scoring.

Dot Bestard who checked very effectively also found time to lead the Transports in the scoring department with nine points while Jessie Morrow and Isobel Crary contributed six each.

For the Generals Mary McPherson and Eleanor Craig were checked too closely to do much scoring. The former led the losers with three points. Isobel Bullock played well defensively and did a lot of helpful checking.

Transports 32—Jessie Morrow 6, Beryl Dobbin 4, Helen Miller 2, Dot Bestard 9, Joan Castle, Ruth Hewitt 3, Janet Collins, Irene Stewart, Isobel Crary 6, R. Fleming 2.

Generals 8—J. Moore, J. Hickey 1, M. Lawless, J. Rahmel, Isobel Bullock 2, Mary McPherson 3, Eleanor Craig 2, D. Allen.

Referee—Bob Dyer.

SPORTS—Day by Day

By FRED D. CRAIG

There will be a double-header in the Y.M.C.A. House League for the Dominion Life Trophy tonight and both games should be interesting. Harry Currie's Destroyers meet Joe Stewart's Algerines in the opening fixture called for 7.15 o'clock and both teams will be gunning for a win in this battle. The Destroyers need a victory to stay up in the running while the Stewart outfit have to grab off a win to remain at the top of the heap for Pete McArthur's Fairmiles won their third straight victory last night and they would be alone in the No. 1 spot if the Algerines should happen to come to grief tonight. In the second game Gord Johnston's Cruisers who came through with a win over the Military Training Centre No. 1 team the other night will be back looking for another victory. They meet Jim Ferguson's Corvettes who are also in need of a win so that the clash between the two should be a pretty fair sort of contest.

* * * * * *

Herb Payne's Transports, coached by Hymie Smith, are spreadeagling the field in the Ladies' Basketball loop at the Y.W.C.A. and there does not seem to be any mystery as to which outfit is going to finish at the top of the heap. The Transports have two complete teams and they pack too much scoring punch, team work and checking ability for the rest of the loop. It was expected that Generals would give the unbeaten leaders a real battle for the honors last night but the Transports won in hollow fashion by 32 to 8. So completely did they have the Generals smothered that the losers were only able to toss in two baskets from the field during the entire action. Transports have the weight, speed, experience and reserve strength necessary for a championship outfit and it doesn't look as if there is much danger of them missing the senior title this season. In fact the real battle in the loop race now would seem to be between the St. John's and Generals for second place. Just now the Church team hold the spot with three wins out of four starts and they are playing good ball.

A Real Test

Krippler Karl Davis the big hombre who battles Earl Moose McCready here on Tuesday night in the main bout of the Tunney show has been noted for his ability to seriously injure his opponents with the painful step-over toe hold that is his specialty. He's going against the right bird here Tuesday to give the Davis toe hold technique a real test for McCready is noted as the possessor of probably the strongest pair of legs in captivity. They are not in the Grable class for looks but they are plenty tough and the Texas Terror is going to waste a lot of time if he thinks he can subdue the Moose by working on his underpinnings. McCready will probably get a chance, too, to show the power in his legs in another way for he has developed that rocking-chair cradle hold of his until it is a thing of beauty and Peterborough fans will be hoping to see the Texas bad man taken for a ride around the ring with the Moose's pet grip. The Aurora farmer, too, has a flying scissors hold that is as spectacular as it is effective, as well as a lot of other wrestling lore that should enable him to take care of the boastful grappler from the Lone Star State.

* * * * * *

However Davis is evidently just as tough and as mean as he claims he is and the Canadian star can look for a rough passage. There is nothing that the Killer will not try and he showed the other night that he is capable of all the underhand stuff some of the other badmen have been showing here and that he can execute it all about twice as viciously. In other words the Moose has a battle on his hands and he can look for everything except straight wrestling from the Killer. The latter has been sneering at Canadian wrestling as too soft but he is likely to get a lesson from McCready that may change his opinion in a hurry. The Moose has been around a long time. He has met all the villains in the game on this continent as well as in South Africa, Australia and England and so far as he is concerned Davis is just another rough-house battler. "I have slowed down and softened a lot of those rough guys," said McCready when asked to meet the Killer "and this bird from Texas who has been doing so much sounding-off is probably not nearly as ornery as he imagines." It all adds up to one of the best battles of the season and will of course be supported by two other good bouts.

They're Rare Birds

Owen Griffith, Montreal sports writer, has been going to bat for Joe Desroches of the Montreal Royals who is one of those oddities of hockey known as a switch-shooter, that is he can shoot either right or left-handed. It seems that in his last five games Desroches has fired four goals, two from his port side adn two from his starboard. There are plenty of player, of course, who shoot left-handed and car back-hand accurately from the other side and vice versa but not one in a thousand can shoot either way. In all the years this column has been covering hockey doings in Peterborough we only recall one ambidextrous player. He was the late Hughie Burritt who starred at centre for the old Strathconas in the City League before the First Great War. Burritt was just 15 years old and weighed but 115 pounds when the Strathconas introduced him to City League hockey after he had been playing with Jack Thirnbeck's kids' team. In spite of the fact that junior and intermediate O.H.A. players were allowed to play in the city league the paperweight youngster led the loop in scoring with 28 goals in seven games. He could shoot either way. It didn't matter which side he took a pass on; all he had to do was shift his grip and fire, and he was equally accurate left-handed or right. There has been no one around here with that uncanny knack since.

The Hamilton Majors go rolling right along in the N.H.L. senior race and the feeling that the leaders of the "amateur" group would be tough opposition for any of the N.H.L. clubs is getting stronger. Last night the Hamilton smoothies invaded St. Catharines and paced by Doug Runions came out with a neat 3 to 1 win. The Runions-Brady-Conick line, one of the most potent attacking divisions in the game today was responsible for all three Hamilton goals, Runions being the gunner on two of them and having an assist on the third. Meanwhile the Kingston Frontenacs who lost one hockey team a short time ago and have come back with a second edition won themselves a useful victory in Toronto where they outscored Pick Hines' Sailors 5 to 3 in a rough, hard-hitting battle. The Navy had a lot of the play but the Kingston outfit with Red Hamill spear-heading the attacks were better around the nets.

Say, who do you like in the Kentucky Derby of 1944?

Sorta stumped on that one, eh?

We are, too, and so are most of the other followers of the sport of kings.

Where, oh where, is the Count Fleet of 1944?

He isn't, brother, he isn't.

Two-year-old championship this year is in one heck of a muddle and instead of a confirmed Derby favorite bobbing up there are a dozen choices lined up for the winter book, each rating a claim on the 1943 juvenile title.

In fact, it's been a strange year for the two-year-old in that the fillies have grabbed much of the glory themselves.

Not that there aren't some classy two-year-old colts about, for there are, and we can begin with Platter, the chestnut colt by Pilate-Lets Dine, owned by George D. Widener.

Platter, brother in blood of Eight Thirty, stepped out at Belmont Park for the first time Sept. 23 and ran second. In two stakes at Belmont he finished fourth and third and then he grabbed two stakes at Pimlico in a row, the Pimlico Futurity and the Walden Stakes. And both were distance events.

No. 1 two-year-old money winner of the year is Occupy, brother of Occupation, who was the leading money winner of 1942, but who failed to impress as a three-year-old. A sprinter like his brother, Occupy is a son of Bull Dog-Miss Bunting, and owned by John Marsch of Chicago. He won five of nine starts, including the rich Belmont and Washington Park Futurities, to bring $109,600 in purses. Whether Occupy can run the distances remains to be seen.

Alorter, black colt by The Porter-Sun Bijur, by Sun Briar, and owned by A. C. Ernst, was picked in midsummer as the horse to beat in the Derby. Alorter won five races this year, $33,750 in purses, and has shown the necessary finishing qualities of a champion. He can finish like the wind, and twice won events at Chicago and New York with remarkable stretch runs to win going away.

Pensive, a chestnut colt by Hyperion-Penicuik II, owned by the Calumet Farm and trained by the veteran, Ben Jones, was the colt loaded with fanfare in midsummer. In his first appearance, Sept. 20, he romped home in a three-quarter outing by three and one-half lengths and then came right back, galloping home by five lengths. But in the Futurity he was well backed and fniished fourth.

Black Badge, a big black colt by Cohort-Pennant Girl, and owned by Abe Hirschberg, set the Detroit track afire with six straight victories, went to Chicago to win a couple of stakes, and then did well in the east. He was one of the busiest and best campaigners among the two-year-olds.

Other Glamor Boys

Rodney Stone, another Bull Dog-sired colt bred by Sam D. Riddle, finished second to Occupy in the Futurity and won the Sanford and the Albany stakes.

Boy Knight, with a couple of stake victories, and Professor Lee, won his first two starts at Jamaica and Aqueduct by five and eight lengths, are other colts well liked. Bellwether and Bell Reigh are stakes' winners in New York.

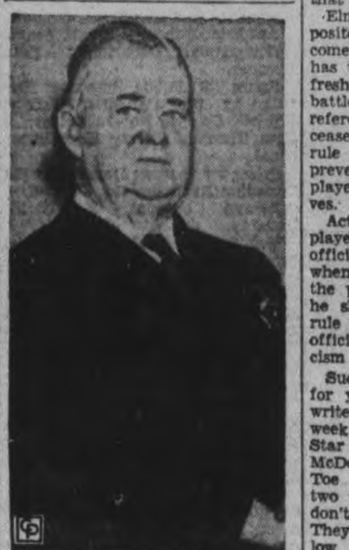
Other glamor boys among the two-year-olds are By Jimminy, Blue Larkspur colt; Broadcloth, black colt by Good Goods-Anacreon; Dance Team, gelding by Cohort-Theme Song and owned by the Longchamps farm; Director J. E., two-year-old son of Sickle and named for J. Edgar Hoover; Pukka Gin, by Firethorn-Craunean, and owned by Lieut.-Col. C. V. Whitney; Nelson Dunstan, by Ariel-Poseur and owned by the Dearborn Stable, and Ravenala, Coldstream studcolt which has campaigned in midwest and east.

As to the glamor gals, the two outstanding fillies may be Ben Jones' pair, Miss Keeneland and Twilight Tea, who ran one-two in the Lassie Stakes in Chicago and then repeated twice in Pimlico.

Chief eastern support went to Boojiana, dark bay filly by Boojum-Foxiana, and owned by C. V. Whitney. Boojiana won five out of her first nine starts, including the Matron Stakes. She is bred for speed.

Bee Mac, the War Admiral filly bred by Colonel Bradley's Idle Hour farm and later given to Mrs. Beatrice MacGuire, won three straight races at Belmont to become one of the most-talked-about glamor gals of the year. Her earnings stand at $44,900.

Bold Anna, by Bold Venture, is highly considered. Mrs. Ames, by Johnstown-Catalysis, has won upwards of $30,000. Whirlabout, by Pompey-Lost Horizon, is another frequent winner. Cocopet, gray filly and winner of Saratoga Special, also is a threat.



WAS RETURNED—William G. Bramham, 63, who was returned as president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues. He faced a battle for his job. Fight over government of the minor leagues had been brewing for weeks and at the baseball meeting in New York the International League, one of the three AA loops in organized ball, came out flatly for its own president, Frank J. Shaughnessy, to succeed the white-haired North Carolinian. Job pays $25,000.

TORONTO, Dec. 4 — (CP). — The National Hockey League's rule providing a maximum $1,000 fine for players criticizing officials or other players to the press drew varied reactions. Andy Lytle of the Toronto Star describes the rule as "gag law" while Doug (Windsor Star) Vaughan says it is just another example of the league's disinclination to co-operate with the press. Doug writes: "The sooner the hockey feather stop resenting criticism and co-operate more whole heartedly with the scribes who can help them sell what they have to offer for public approval, the sooner a grand game will attain its rightful place in the sport sun."

Ken Johnson of the Owen Sound Sun-Times raises this moot point: "Allowing the players to speak their minds keeps a lot of coaches and managers on their toes. People have a little faith in an organization when voices come from all ranks but when just one stereotyped announcement, comes from the top they get suspicious that all is not as it should be."

Elmer Ferguson takes the opposite view. He writes: "When it comes to the time a sports writer has to take the word of a player, fresh out of the heat of a losing battle, as to the efficiency of a referee, this observer will wish to cease being a sports writer . . the rule isn't designed so much to prevent criticism as to prevent players making asses of themselves.

Actually, the press ignores the players' usual routine criticism of officiating but there are occasions when the public wants to know the player's side of a story. Then he should be free to tell it. The rule is not limited to criticism of officials but applies also to criticism of other players.

Such criticism has been quoted for years by the best of sports writers. An example occurred this week in Baz O'Meara's Montreal Star column, referring to Bucko McDonald's bodycheck which put Toe Blake of Canadians out for two weeks. Baz writes: "Canucks don't feel any too good about it. They claim McDonald has laid low three of their players this year with his heavy charging . ."

The "they" apparently referred to Canadiens players. They were not named but if identified they are liable to fine.

This corner believes players should be free to speak their minds. I'll string along with Voltaire who wrote: "I disapprove of what you say but I will defend to the death your right to say it."

Judge Landis To Hear Betting Case

NEW YORK, Dec. 4—(CP).—High Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis of baseball today will hear the case of William D. Cox, recently resigned president of the Philadelphia Phillies. Two weeks ago, Landis ousted Cox from baseball for life for alleged betting on Philly ball games, and now Cox says there was positively nothing to it.

The hearing was requested by Cox to clear himself. Through an attorney—Lloyd Paul Stryker—Cox asked for the hearing last Saturday, saying he never made a cash wager on the Phils' games, despite Landis' statement that he had been told that Cox made "between 15 and 25 bets of from $25 to $100" from the time the 1943 season started through May 20. And in a radio broadcast, Cox said he had made a few "sentimental bets" on the Phils. These admissions came, Landis said, weeks after Cox, at the first hearing in the Commissioner's investigation in mid-August, had denied betting.

On Nov. 23, Landis announced Cox's banishment from baseball, and the same day the Phillies' directors approved the sale of Cox's stock in the club to Robert R. M. Carpenter, Jr., young Wilmington, Del., sportsman, and the election of Carpenter to the presidency. Landis said Stryker, in asking for today's hearing, told him Cox originally made admissions of betting to a certain man in the Phillies' organization in order to test his fellow's loyalty, and it was on this premise that he came to the hearing today.

"Stryker said he was convinced Cox had never made a bet," Landis explained yesterday in announcing the hearing.

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 4 — (AP).—Robert B. Caldwell, attorney, found a woman in the parlor car seat that was assigned to him. She wouldn't move. Another man also claimed the seat—so Caldwell retired to the dining car and let them argue. Baseball Man Denies Charges

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 — (AP).—Baseball commissioner K. M. Landis yesterday said that William D. Cox, who resigned as owner of the Philadelphia Phillies during Landis' investigation of betting on ball games, had denied statements he made to the commissioner concerning wagers he had on ball games and asked for a hearing December 4.

Landis said that through an attorney Cox has notified him the original remarks Cox made about his supposed betting were made to test the loyalty of "a certain man in Philadelphia," and that these remarks concerning wagering were not true.

As a result Cox asked for a hearing to clear himself in the matter and the commissioner notified him to appear before him today.

Kingston Army In Second Place

TORONTO, Dec. 4 — (CP). — Kingston Frontenac Army moved into a second-place tie with St. Catharines Saints in the Senior Ontario Hockey Association race last night by defeating Toronto Navy 5-3.

The soldiers built up their margin in the first period, attaining a 2-0 lead on goals by Red Hamill and Gus Giesebrecht. They held the Navy even through the last two periods, both teams scoring twice in the second and once in the third. Scotty Mair, Joe Klukay, and Hugh Barlow scored for Navy, who now are tied with Toronto R.C.A.F. in the league's cellar spot. Kingston scores, in addition to Hamill and Giesebrecht, went to Vic Grigg, George Galbraith, and Gar Peters.

The lineups:

Kingston — Goal, H. Mortimer; defence, Phillips, Galbraith; centre, Doran; wings, White, Peters; alternates, Giesebrecht, Foster, Hamill, Tisdale, Grigg and Booth.

Navy — Goal, Evans; defence, Milne, Garrett; centre, Barlow; wings, Klukay, Livingston; alternates, Ogston, Mann, Mair, Gee, and Thompson.

Officials — Referee, Ken Holmshaw. Linesman, Eddie Mepham.

134,785 See Games

TORONTO, Dec. 4—(CP)—Ontario Rugby Football Union teams played to 134,785 cash customers in 29 league games and one play-off, Secretary Harold Bailey announced last night. The largest attendance was recorded Oct. 30 when 14,074 fans watched a doubleheader between Ottawa Combines and Toronto Balmy Beach and Hamilton Flying Wildcats and Toronto R.C.A.F. Hurricanes.

Hollywood—Carlos Malcara, 141, Mexico City, and Jerry Moore, 141, New York, drew (10).

Expect Scoring To Be Shattered

(By The Canadian Press)

Unless Bill Cowley and Modere (Mud) Bruneteau start slowing down at all intersections, two scoring standards will be shattered when the National Hockey League completes its 4½-month schedule next March.

In a little more than a month's play, Bruneteau has collected 15 goals to imperil the all-time mark for goals in one season set in 1917-18 when Bullet Joe Malone of Montreal Canadiens sank 44 pucks in 22 games. Bruneteau's current yield scarcely threatens Malone's two-a-game average, but the 29-year-old left wing of Detroit Red Rings could easily topple the full season's record in his remaining 39 games.

Within easier range is the Detroit club mark, established in 1930-31 when Ebbie Goodfellow scored 25 times.

Cowley, long a successful exponent of the axiom that it is more blessed to give than to receive, stands better than an even chance to improve the league mark for assists in one season, which he set himself in 1940-41 and equalled last year. Now third in the individual scoring race behind Doug Bentley and Bill Mosienko of Chicago Black Hawks, the 31-year-old centre of Boston Bruins already has 18 assists compared with the 45 he compiled in 1940-41 and 1942-43.

Cowley and Bruneteau have a chance to pad their averages this week-end, both against Montreal Canadiens. Detroit meets the undefeated league leaders in Montreal Saturday while Boston plays host to the flying Frenchmen Sunday. The only other team besides Canadiens to play two week-end games is New York Rangers, who play at Toronto Saturday and at Chicago Sunday.

CHORUS OF MASSEY HARRIS MUSICAL VARIETY SHOW

Outstanding Music - Dancing and Singing

"Combines of 1944" is a pleasing show. The sparkling fast moving action plus comedy and treats for the music lovers has made it a hit wherever it has been shown. They have given over 100 performances and have played to 140,000 people since October 1942 and everywhere it has been a huge success. Betty Robertson, the versatile mistress of ceremonies plays the piano accordian. June Barrett has a voice that sings its way right into your hearts. Pat McIntosh, comedian and manager of the show has a good selection of songs and stories that bring out those deep-down laughs. Beth Watson very capably provides instrumental music on the bagpipes, drum and saxaphones and Dorothy Moncrief, a wizard on the piano, plays accompaniments and specialty numbers. Acrobatic and novelty dances which are excellent and real thrillers are presented by Meta and St. John. The chorus of nine vivacious girls tops of the whole show with precision dance routines.

More Prisoners Cut Off In 8th Advance

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press War Correspondent

WITH THE 8TH ARMY IN ITALY, Dec. 1,—(Delayed)—(CP).—More than 1,000 shivering German prisoners have been gathered in by the 8th Army in three days and Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery's men pushed on past Rocca San Giovanni with new words of praise from their commander.

The Germans contested the British advance bitterly at some points and at 3 a.m. counter-attacked in the region west of Mozogrogna. The attack was unsuccessful and was regarded as an effort to prevent the British forces from exploiting their gains too rapidly rather than an attempt to regain lost ground.

At one point where 100 enemy prisoners were taken 50 Germans were found dead.

However, much of the fighting today was in the nature of mopping-up operations as the Germans withdrew to prepare for the next blow.

The number of prisoners is expected to grow as Germans continue to drift into British dugouts to give up the struggle, or find themselves cut off by the advancing Allies.

Among the enemy equipment captured was a field gun found abandoned with its muzzle cap still in place, showing that the crew had no opportunity to use it.

The German 65th infantry division has been badly crippled by the battle of the Sangro.

LETHAL LOAD OVER BREMEN — An unusual picture made from an Allied bombing plane during the raid of Flying Fortresses and Liberators on the Nazi submarine yards and installations at Bremen, Germany. Over the target these bombs were pictured dropping swiftly on to the ground below. From the ground hundreds of searchlights pierce the sky to guide anti-aircraft fire.

W. BENNETT, whose appointment as executive head of the Order of St. John in Canada has been announced. Formerly of Montreal, he will now have his headquarters in Ottawa with direction over all activities of the St. John Ambulance Association and the Brigade. He has had over 30 years' experience in First Aid work.

Omemee W.M.S. Elects Officers

OMEMEE, Dec. 4 — (ENS). — The Women's Missionary Society of the United Church met in the basement of the church on Thursday afternoon, with a good attendance of members and visitors. Mrs. Pogue was in charge and an interesting Christmas program was given. Rev. R. M. Patterson sang a solo which was much enjoyed and readings were given by Mrs. Rea, Mrs. Shield, Mrs. Deyell, and Mrs. Rehill. Everyone joined heartily in the singing of the Christmas carols. Mrs. Vernon Lang gave a Christmas mesage on the subject "Christmas in a War-torn World."

Following the election of officers for 1944, Rev. Mr. Patterson installed the new officers: President, Mrs. Vernon Lang; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Moyer; 2nd vice-president Mrs. Patterson secretary, Miss L. Race; assistant secretary, Mrs. Bradley; treasurer, Mrs. Bradley; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Williamson; finance secretary, Mrs. Overholt; Reserve Fund secretary, Mrs. Shield; Associate Helpers secretary, Miss Veals; literature secretary, Mrs. Vaughan; Missionary Monthly secretary, Mrs. Morcombe; Friendship secretaries Mrs. D. Weir and Mrs. Patterson; pianist, Mrs. Morcombe; assistant pianist, Mrs. Moyer; Mission Band leader, Mrs. Patterson; assistant, Mrs. L. McQuade; Baby Band leader, Mrs. Deyell; assistant, Mrs. McConnell; Supply Committee, Mrs. Rea, convener, Mrs. Overholt, Mrs. McBain and Mrs. Morcombe; group leaders, Mrs. H. Deyell, Mrs. Rehill, Mrs. Williamson, Mrs Rea, and Mrs. McBain. At the close of the meeting lunch was served by Group 5 ladies.

Angry Berlin Mob Threatens Britisher

LONDON, Dec. 3 —(CP). — An angry Berlin mob which was fighting fires after a recent raid almost lynched a British Fascist who broadcasts for the Germans when the broadcaster, during the excitement, spoke in English to another fire fighter, the German radio said yesterday.

The broadcaster possibly may have been "Lord Haw Haw" the American-born William Joyce.

A warden arrested the broadcaster and the fire fighter, the radio said, adding that while they were being taken to the police station "it was only with difficulty that people in the streets were prevented from lynching both of them."

Japs Behaved Well Prisoner Says

KINGSTON, Dec. 4 (CP).—S. W. Wolfe, 71, who spent two years as a prisoner of war of the Japanese declared on his return to Kingston last night he saw no ill-treatment on the part of the Japanese during internment in Manila.

Wolfe was among the group of Canadians repatriated by Japanese who returned to this continent aboard the steamer Gripsholm. Wolfe here met for first time his granddaughter, Carol Smith, two-year-old daughter of Mrs. L. C. Smith, Wolfe's daughter, who was in the Far East when the United States declared war on Japan.

Mrs. Smith escaped with her infant child from Singapore. She with her daughter Carol, and son Michael made their way to Australia and later came to Kingston. The whereabouts of her husband is unknown. Months ago Mrs. Smith was advised her husband was a prisoner of war and well, but his location was unannounced. He joined the reserve army at Singapore and fought the Japanese there.

Lived At Shanghai

Wolfe spent 35 years at Shanghai as representatives of the George T. Fulford Company, Brockville, and returned to that city on business and was caught there when Japan entered the war.

Wolfe said he reached Manila from Shanghai and made reservations on two different steamers which would have brought him back to Canada when war was declared. He spoke of looking up into the skies following the declaration of war against Japan and seeing large numbers of silver colored planes.

"At first I thought they were United States planes but found differently when they started dropping bombs on harbor installations," he remarked.

He said Japanese fliers made a thorough job of wrecking dock naval installations and caught many of the United States planes grounded while United States officers were in conference.

He said the arrival of the invading Japanese soldiers into Manila was marked by orderly conduct.

70 When Taken

Wolfe and others were taken to the large University of Santo Tomas where they were kept under guard by the Japs for 28 hours. He said he thought that due to his age (he was then 70 he was released and taken to another point. Class room benches were broken up to make beds. He said Americans and the Canadians interned at this place were able to buy canned food and fruit from Phillipine looters.

Wolfe praised efforts of George T. Fulford, M.P., Brockville, son of his former employer, who was responsible for getting him returned to Canada.

Asked about conditions in Manila when he left, Wolfe said the damage done by bombing had been erpaired and things were going along well although there was a shortage of food.

17th Baby Dies Of Malnutrition

MONTREAL Dec. 4 — (CP). — Two-month-old John Latreille died in hospital during the night of what authorities said was gastronic trouble and infection brought on by malnutrition. He was removed from a private nursery here 19 days ago.

The death brought to 17 the number of deaths of infants following their removal from private nurseries in the district in the last few months, and to 11 the total since a provincial investigation of nurseries started several weeks ago. Three persons are at present facing charges of criminal negligence in connection with some of the deaths.

WEIGHTED DOWN

Knights of the Middle Ages often wore armor weighing as much as 200 pounds.

LYNN BARI WEDS—Lynn Bari, ABOVE, brunet film star, and Test Pilot Sid Luft are married, the ceremony taking place in Hollywood. Miss Bari's divorce from Walter Kane became final recently.

"Here's our wartime plan of finance"

"ACTUALLY, we're not doing too badly today. We've cut our spending to essentials only—and I really mean 'essentials'.

"We're buying War Savings Certificates and Victory Bonds. Some of these we're going to use after the war to get things we're doing without now.

"We're buying more life insurance because our bonds and other savings wouldn't keep the family very long if I should die.

"For less than $100 a year I'm buying another $10,000 life insurance. The second year it will not likely cost me more than $80."

This is the London Life Earning Power Series 15 Year Term policy. Premium for $10,000, age 30, is $96.50, other ages in proportion. (First year dividend, 1943 scale, $20.20.) For lifetime protection, this policy may be changed to a permanent plan any time within ten years.

If interested in rounding out your financial program along these lines, see a London Life representative.

WILL BE HEARD MONDAY

The case in which Richard Hall Limited is charged with an offence against the city bylaw providing for early closing of stores is to be heard Monday. It had been set for Friday morning but was subsequently enlarged until the beginning of the week.

CHRISTMAS TREES

A truck load of Christmas trees was offered for sale on the market this morning. Before the Yuletide they will probably be worthless, as they dry out in a few weeks after they are chopped down, and the "needles" become brittle and fall off. The usual unrestricted cutting and selling begins again, with the likelihood that some vacant lots around the city will be piled with remnant and unsold pine saplings for months after the holiday season.

SMOKE TROUBLE

The fire department answered a call from the Charlbond Apartments at 10:51 Friday night when the stoker on the furnace got plugged and caused the building to be filled with smoke.

WOMEN FINED

Two women, Frances Stevenson and Gabrielle Drohout, were each fined $10 and $2.50 costs when they appeared before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C. in police court today on a charge of having been intoxicated.

THE MODERN WAY.

Even the smaller youngsters are showing the trend of the times. A three-year-old girl who has been attending Sunday School regularly, recently astonished her mother with a song which went "Jesus Loves Me, This I Know—Lay That Pistol Down."

BACK FROM CHINA.

Miss Joan Reed and Mr. John Reed of Peterborough are in New York to meet their father, J. T. S. Reed, who was expected to be among the repatriates who arrived there aboard the Gripsholm. Mr. Reed was manager of the New York National City Bank branch in Shanghai.

TO STAY OPEN

H. Swartz, manager of Pattenick's store on George street, has written the council that he has been directed by the proprietor to remain open Saturday nights as a departmental store. The letter was read at the legal committee meeting yesterday, and at the same time City Solicitor Huycke outlined his preparations for court action next week in defense of the bylaw which it was said is being tested by the Richard Hall Store.

Pipeline Breaks Much Oil Wasted

HAMILTON, O., Dec. 4 — (AP). A break in "Big Inch," recently completed transcontinental oil pipeline, spread an unestimated but serious flow of oil through a section of country near here yesterday. Initial reports said at least "40 miles of the oil have been lost" and that immediate efforts of engineers and repair crews were concentrating in staving off the hazard of fire.

The eastward flow of oil through the line was halted immediately.

Christmas Fund Gets $100 From Lions Club

It is only since the beginning of this century that service clubs came into existence, undoubtedly born of a desire for the betterment of civilization, since their object was to serve others rather than themselves, since which time, from the nature of their unselfish objective they have done much good, therefore justifying their position so as to become almost an institution.

Thus any movement than has the benefit of mankind can count at least on their moral support, and in most instances this takes a very practical form, for above all in movements of this kind, there must be sincerity of purpose behind their professions, or eventually they will fade away and die.

On a number of occasions the Lions Club of Peterborough have demonstrated this sincerity of purpose as a service club in helping a number of things which stand for the public good, among which the Peterborough and District British War Victims' Fund has had a good share, and when the fund made a special appeal at this time a year ago, they immediately responded with practical help in the shape of a cheque for $100.

To them the fund appealed this year in like manner for the special donations for Christmas now being raised, and just as promptly as on the former occasion, they have again given assistance in a like amount of $100, which heads today's list of receipts for the fund, which means that each member of the club will be Santa Claus to at least two boys or girls in Britain for this year, when the fund is disbursed under the jurisdiction of the Lord Mayor of London.

Capitol Theatre Box $10

The penny boxes placed at the theatres have proved among the best producers in this type of fund ectivity, no better witness to this statement being required than the $10 contribution listed in the name of the Capitol Theatre today, which was made up of almost 800 coins, $7.50 of which was in coppers, a few of which were planted back in the box as seed in the hopes of a harvest at a later date, when the box should again be called into action for its deed for good.

Once caught, a vision of the good one can do in a personal way has from experience proved mostly to be of a character which gives the urge to follow it up until the need no longer exists, and this is surely so with three personal gifts listed today. One of these cames from an old friend of the fund in the person of "E.M.F." who is credited with a gift of $3.00, another from "M.E.M." for $5.00, and one from "A Friend" for $3.00.

Queen Elizabeth School

Bearing the name they do, that of an illustrious Sovereign of days both past and present, and also of the heir presumptive, Queen Elizabeth School would naturally wish to have a part in the donations to give cheer to boys and girls in Britain, this being represented in today's receipts from their senior room for $3.60, through their teacher, L. H. Bird, who said it represented a collection taken up from the pupils in that room, who were glad of the opportunity to help with the Christmas Cheer for Children's Fund.

Sea Cadet Parade Is Attended By Parents

Parents of the boys of Trafalgar division of the local Sea Cadets attended by invitation the parade Friday night, especially to observe their sons in training and the ship quarters that have been developed in the Old Victoria Hall. Refreshments were served and the visitors were shown motion pictures of the Kiwanis Sea Cadet camp at Georgian Bay last summer.

This is the first of a series of such evenings, that have been planned to enable the parents to become acquainted with the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps "Howe". Parents of the boys of the other divisions will be sent invitations at a later date. The first visitors last night were enthusiastic about the accommodation of the "Howe" and also for the interest of the officers in the boys who comprise the Corps.

Claims On Band Are Forgotten By City

The legal committee of the council, with Alderman Sands in the chair Friday afternoon, decided to forget any real or fancied claim on some of the instruments of the former Peterborough Brass Band.

"We gave them several grants," said Mayor Hamilton, "but I feel they more than made up for that by concerts in the park, and elsewhere. Some of the men bought their own instruments, and I think we might as well call the account balanced."

Alderman Glover said he fully agreed with Mayor Hamilton's opinion and seconded the motion which was recommended to the council.

Military Chiefs Ask Susex Pub Owners Not To Sell Whiskey In Bottles To Canucks

LEWES, England, Dec. 4 (CP Cable). — Mr. Justice Charles today told the Lewes Assizes that Canadian Army authorities had ordered that Sussex publicans must not sell spirits to Canadian soldiers.

But before any controversy could arise over the army's right to issue such an order, Canadian military headquarters in London put the matter straight.

C.M.H.Q. said there apparently had been a misunderstanding growing out of a 1940 request — not order — that publicans should discourage the sale of spirits by bottle to the troops.

"The Canadian Army has no control over public houses in Britain," C.M.H.Q. added.

Mixing of beer and whisky also drew comment from the Justice who was hearing the case of a Canadian solider charged with robbery with violence.

"I have had dozens of cases of Canadians and Americans mixing beer and whisky and getting drunker and drunker, yet they continue to be served," he said.

A C.M.H.Q. spokesman commented: "We have no complaints of drunkenness through men mixing whisky and beer. It is a North American custom . . . and many Canadian soldiers like to do it. But on the whole it is done within reason."

Chancellor Victoria University Is Honored By County Council

The self-reliance of the pioneer settlers of Peterborough was recalled with simple eloquence and indirect recommendation to the generation of today by Dr. Walter Theodore Brown, M.A., Chancellor and President of Victoria University, Toronto, in reply to the gracious welcome and congratulatory address extended to him by Peterborough County Council at the Kawartha Golf Club last night.

Representatives of the county participated in the dinner arranged by graduates of Victoria in conjunction with members of the City Council, Peterborough Board of Education, the village council and School Board of Lakefield, where Dr. Brown was born, and a beautifully enscrolled address was read and presented to him by Warden Peter J. Mather who presided as chairman. It briefly referred to the traditions which the first generation of people in this county had imparted to its continuing life, and Dr. Brown accepted that thought as the theme of his invigorating response to the kindly sentiment of his welcome.

"Without an industrious self-reliant people you can never get a great citizenship," Dr. Brown said, "and I rejoiced at the movement of farmers in the United States not to take a subsidy from the government. You can never have a people of independence if a large section of them are content to live off the government."

Dr. Brown recalled the seemingly meagre measure of assistance given to the pioneers who came into Peterborough at the time of the Peter Robinson immigration in 1825. Each family was allotted one hundred acres of land, a cabin that cost $10 to build, one cow, an ax, handsaw, hammer, one hundred nails, five bushels of seed potatoes, eight quarts of Indian corn, an iron pot, hoe, kettle and frying pan, the bare necessities of housekeeping and the rudest working of the land.

The chronicles of Peterborough relate that in the following year Sir Peregrine Maitland, the Governor of the province, held a court of enquiry in a rough building that is said to have been situated somewhere near the present market. The purpose of his visit was to ascertain how the settlers were faring. Their reply, Dr. Brown said, was that they had no complaints, but they had two requests, one was for teachers for their children and the other was for ministers of religion, he rather pointedly emphasized that spirit of making the best of their circumstances. They began with nothing and they built up a community of comfort and security. That spirit was native to Peterborough county.

Dr. Brown said that he had been thirty-four years at Victoria College and University, and among its most generous benefactors were Peterborough men, Sir Joseph Flavelle, Senator George A. Cox and W. George Morrow.

Sir Joseph Flavelle had once told him that he had asked for only one job in his life. As a young lad his mother had taken him to a corner grocery to apply for work as an errand boy. And when he received his first pay his mother instructed to set part of it aside for himself, part for the church, and a third portion for his party. He agreed quite readily to the first two, but he could not understand the third. His mother replied to him that she hoped some day he would become a prominent and influential citizen, and if he did not put aside something for his party the administration of the country would eventually fall into less worthy hands and there would be bad government. The men of those days were willing to carry social responsibility, to give their gifts in order that right principles would have a chance.

"I am glad that has been a tradition in this country," Dr. Brown said.

The County's Address

The address read to Chancellor Brown by Warden Mather was as follows:

On the occasion of your first visit in an official capacity to Peterborough County, we wish to express the pride and deep satisfaction with which our citizens have watched your progress in your chosen profession.

In and about Lakefield, where you were born and grew up, there are still many who remember you as a boy. As the years have passed, this circle of friends has been enlarged by many of our number who have come to know you through your achievements. We have observed with great interest the course of your education in the public school at Lakefield, in the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, at Victoria College and at Universities in the United States. We were gratified when you returned to Canada to lecture at your Alma Mater in 1913. When, after four years at Yale University, you came again to your old college as Principal in 1932 and were appointed Chancellor and President of Victoria University in 1941, we rejoiced that your great talents as a teacher and administrator would again be devoted to the training of Canadian youth. Your steady ascent to the position of high responsibility in the field of education presents both a challenge and an example to the young people of the County of Peterborough, who now in our schools seek equipment for the voyage of life.

We, the citizens of this county, like to think that the educational facilities provided here gave opportunity for growth to a keen and

Eight Criminal Cases Set Down For Hearing At General Sessions

The circumstances of four highway fatalities will be reviewed in the hearing of charges of reckless driving listed in the docket of the General Sessions of the Peace which open at the Court House Monday December 6 at 1 p.m. with Judge Sheldon Smoke on the bench.

The criminal list comprises eight cases with five civil actions also set down for trial, the heaviest assignment Judge Smoke has faced in a long time.

Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., will be in charge of the prosecution in the criminal cases which will be tried by jury.

Helen Girard is charged with false pretences in application for insurance of some household goods alleged to have been destroyed in a fire at Norwood last May. She is defended by G. N. Gordon, K.C.

The Crown is prosecuting Laura Storms on a charge of reckless driving on No. 7 Highway, east of Peterborough, September 6, 1943, on the occasion when Private Fred Hinton of Toronto was fatally injured after his motorcycle was passed by the defendant's car. Mr. Gordon is acting for the defense.

Robert Hawley is also charged with reckless driving in the allegation of responsibility in the accident on Park Hill Road, June 19th, in which a little girl Barbara Fry was fatally hurt. Mr. Gordon is acting for the defendant.

A similar charge of reckless driving is laid against William Locke arising out of the death of Grover Kerr of Hastings in a fatal accident in Asphodel on July 18 last. Mr. Gordon is defending the accused.

The fourth accident on the docket is of recent occurrence in which James Brook a boy of six years was killed on Park Hill Road in the path of a truck driven by William Fawcett. Reckless driving is the charge. Mr. Gordon is the defending counsel.

John D. McIntosh is charged with breaking and entering A. and P. Store January 22. John A. Bradshaw is acting for the defendant.

Indecent assault against a girl of thirteen is the charge on which Theodore Desautel will be tried. It is alleged to have taken place on September 13. John A. Bradshaw is defending the accused.

In the civil jury list is an action by Hagar against John Murray claiming $500 damages for injuries suffered in a traffic accident; J. Arthur Fair for the plaintiff and T. J. Carley, K.C., for the defendant.

An automobile accident on August 8 was the background of the suit by Herbert and Zaida Jones against Charles Frederick of Norwood for $500 damages; Mr. Fair for the plaintiff and Mr. Gordon for the defendant.

Lillian May Collins is claiming damages from Frank Hiller for alleged damages to cabins owned by her on the east side of the river north of the Douro bridge; Mr. Fair for the plaintiff and Mr. Gordon for the defendant.

Two apeals against police court acquittals under the Wartime Prices and Control Board regulations are also shown in the list. One is against the acquittal of B. Strano in connection with the sale of potatoes, and the other is against acquittal of John Drummond in regard to distance driven by him in his taxi service. Mr. Gordon is acting in the first case and W. F. Huycke in the latter. T. J. Carley, K.C., is acting for Mr. Drummond and Mr. Fair for Strano.

Dieppe's Lesson Saved Many Soldiers

Written for The Canadian Press
By ARTHUR R. FORD

SYDNEY, Australia, Dec. 3—(CP Cable)—A pleasant surprise for The Canadian newspaper delegation during its visit to the Australian operational area was meeting the Australian air officer who was in charge of the forward operations in the Canadian-led raid on Dieppe, France, in August, 1942.

He is Air Vice Marshal A. T. Cole, known to Australians and flying men throughout the world as "King Cole." An Australian airman with a great record in the last war, Cole was on the command ship with Maj.-Gen. J. H. Roberts, Canadian commander of the Dieppe show, and his tactics helped save the Canadian expeditionary force from terrific bombing by the Germans.

In an officers mess hidden in tropical growth in the area in which he now is Air Officer Commanding, Cole gave his views of the Dieppe raid.

Despite the heavy casualties, the raid was a great success accomplishing 10 of the 11 set objectives, he said.

None More Brave

"Dieppe made possible the safer landings in the North African, Sicilian and Italian campaigns," he said. "Lessons learned at Dieppe have proved and will continue to prove invaluable.

Cole was enthusiastic in praise of the Canadian troops and airmen. A typical story of heroism he saw with his own eyes involved a number of troops left on the beach without barges.

A destroyer made a desperate effort to go in and pick them up. When the men on the beach saw certain disaster faced the destroyer if it continued they flashed the following message: "Sorry, we have had to surrender."

Cole also told of five officers who held a beach with tommy-guns while their men were taken off. All these five young officers gave their lives for their men.

"These are the traditions that make a great fighting force," he said.

Cole now commands an international air force consisting of Australian, British, American and Netherlands fliers. He had the highest praise for the Canadian airmen he commanded in Britain.

James A. Feir Passes Away

James Albert Feir, for over forty years a resident of Peterborough, and well known throughout the entire district through his connection with several milling companies passed away at his home, 88 Aylmer Street, on Friday, in his 79th year

Mr. Feir has not been in the best of health for several months, but his actual illness was only of a week's duration. Born at Feir's Mills, Victoria County, son of the late Alexander Feir and his wife Jane Best, he was a descendant of the first settlers of that county and had a very wide circle of friends and relations.

A miller by trade he served his apprenticeship at Cambray, later going to Fenelon Falls. Coming to Peterborough he became connected with the Campbell Milling Company, later the Maple Leaf Milling Company. In more recent years he has been with the Meldrum Milling Company. He was regarded highly by his employers and was always considered a most capable miller.

Prior to church union he was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, and since has been a member of St. Paul's Church. He also has been an elder in the Presbyterian Church for over 40 years. He took a great interest in his church and its welfare and was a most regular attendant.

He is survived by his sorrowing widow and two brothers Walter Feir of Basswood, Manitoba, and Rev. Harry Feir of New Westminster, British Columbia.

The funeral will be held from the family residence, 88 Aylmer Street, on Monday afternoon at three o'clock, with interment in Emily Cemetery. Rev. Dr. J. D. Smart will be in charge of the services.

Club Quarters Of Old T.A.S. Have Been Sold

St. Alphonsus Lyceum, the former club quarters of St. Peter's Total Abstinence Society of years ago, has been purchased by Meyer and Harry Cherney, Hunter street furniture dealers.

The property was once all or the major part of the spacious drygoods store conducted forty and fifty years ago by the partnership of Hall and Innes. After the firm had changed to Richard Hall & Son and moved to George street, where it is continuing under the old name, the premises were vacant for a time, and the building was bought by the T.A.S. for $11,000. Reports of the recent sale mentioned $6,500 as the amount paid by Cherney Brothers.

During the Ontario Temperance Act days opinion in the T.A.S. drifted toward the notion that possibly state regulation was sufficient for the society's purpose, and gradually its purpose and interest began to relax and eventually the building became part of the property of St. Peter's corporation.

The last sale of church property in the city was the transfer of the old remnant of the Charlotte street Methodist Church to the Jewish congregation in the city for use as synagogue. It was one time the Sunday School building, and is situated on Reid street south of the Standard Medical Clinic. It was bought from the trustees of Trinity Church for $5,500.

The Lyceum has been used of late as quarters by the young people of St. Peter's Cathedral and it was also placed at the disposal of the Civilian Defense Committee for its A.R.P. classes and organization.

12 Men Arrested In East City Raid

As the result of a police raid on a house at 88 Douro street early this morning, James Chalmers was charged in police court today with keeping a common gaming house at that address and twelve other men were charged as having been "found in."

Chalmers pleaded not guilty and was remanded until Saturday next on bail of $250.

The twelve who also pleaded not guilty to the "found in" charge were William Beggs, Pte. Rocco De Carlo, Norman Sanderson, Ross Kearns, Jack Patte, Charles Grozelle, Tony Depellaro, William Martin, Aubrey Crowley, Holly Jewell, Edward Alberico, and Neil Harrington.

They were all remanded until Tuesday on $100 bail.

The raid was conducted by Sergt. W. E. Wigg and Officers John Naples, Leo Murphy, Harold Mealey and Ernest Beatty.

Prescott Girl Takes Vows Marries John Freeburn

YOUNG'S POINT, Dec. 4. —(ENS).—A wedding of local interest took place recently at St. Paul's United church, Prescott, when June Gardner Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Robinson, Prescott, became the bride of John Freeburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Freeburn of Young's Point. Rev. Dr. D. N. Coburn officiated. Miss Ida B. Elliott, organist, played the music and Mrs. George Ellis sang "O Promise Me" before the wedding party entered the church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white sheer over taffet, with finger-tip veil caught with white gardenias in her hair. She carried a bouquet of white roses and fern.

The bridesmaid, a close friend of the bride, Miss June Adams, wore a floor-length gown of pink taffeta with taffeta coronet and shoulder length veil. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and fern. The best man was Mr. Roy Longa and the ushers, Delmar Adams and Arthur Peterson.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. Ellis sang "All Joy Be thine." At the reception held in the church parlour to thirty-five guests, Mrs. Caroline MacLean, aunt of the bride, received (owing to the bride's mother being ill). She wore a blue crepe dress, black accessories and corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Raydon Harvey, sister of the groom, assisted and wore a rose crepe dress, brown accessories with corsage of white carnations.

The bride's table was decorated in pink with pink tapers in silver holders, centred with a three-tiered wedding cake banked with pink mums.

The groom's gift to the bride was an Arctic fox fur, to the bridesmaid a gold necklace, organist and soloist gold brooches, best man, collar pin and tie clip, and ushers silver tie clips.

Immediately following the reception the bride and groom left on a wedding trip to Toronto, Peterborough and Young's Point. The bride travelled in a black tailored suit with matching top coat and accessories. Upon their return they will reside in Prescott.

Out of town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Keeler, Lisbon, N.Y.; Mrs. George Ellis, Ogdensburg, N.Y.; Miss Mary Maitland, Jasper, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. David Bovaird, Brockville; Miss Olive Freeburn, Mrs. R. Harvey. Mrs. E. Pearson, Mrs. M. Crapp and Mr. Edward Freeburn of Young's Point.

Prior to thier marriage, the bride to be was entertained and presented with gifts by the choir of St. Paul's, the Young People of St. Paul's, the Social Club and also by the community of Prescott.

Women Named To Hold Office

SELWYN, Dec. 4 —(ENS)—The monthly meeting of the Women's Association of the United Church was held at the home of Mrs. William Elliott.

Rev. H. H. Mutton was present and presided for the election of officers which resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Melville Crapp; vice president, Mrs. George McIlmoyl; secretary, Mrs. Harold McIlmoyl; treasurer, Mrs. Wilfred Nichols; organist, Mrs. Gilbert McIlmoyl; flower conveners, Mrs. Lou McIlmoyl and Mrs. Wilfred Nichols; group leaders, Mrs. Bruce Fitzgerald and Mrs. William Elliott for the north group, and Mrs. William Purdy and Mrs. Elton Miles for the south group; auditors, Mrs. Clifford McIlmoyl and Mrs. Gilbert McIlmoyl.

Representatives for the W.A. were appointed as follows: official board, Mrs. Melville Crapp; parsonage board, Mrs. Elton Miles; missionary maintenance, Mrs. Bruce Fitzgerald.

The scripture lesson was read in unison from the 129th Psalm and Mrs. Seymour Sweeting discussed "A Christmas Story." Mrs. Gordon Fitzgerald invited the W.A. to come to her home for the January meeting. Refreshments were served and a social half hour enjoyed.

Donald Peterick Wed In Toronto

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, at the People's Church, Toronto, when Gwendolyn Jean Stafford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stafford of Elora, became the bride of Donald Roy Petherick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Petherick, Havelock.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Isaac Page, Prayer Union Director of the China Inland Mission, Toronto, assisted by Dr. H. A. Ironside, pastor of Moody Memorial Church, Chicago, and cousin of the bride.

The organist played Lohengrin's "Wedding March" as the bride entered the church with her father, and during the signing of the register, "I Love You Truly."

Becomingly gowned in white taffeta and lace with a long veil held with a coronet of orange blossoms, the bride carried a bouquet of "Better Times" red roses, blue sweet peas, bouvardia and maiden hair fern. She was attended by her sister Blodwyn of Delhi, who wore a gown of wild rose with short veil and matching flower cluster, and carried Briercliffe roses and white chrysanthemums.

The groomsman was the bride's brother, Thomas of Elora. The groom's gift to the bride and the bridesmaid were dresser sets and to the groomsman a fountain pen.

A reception at Walter Cole's, Yonge Street followed. Later the couple left for points west.

Mr. and Mrs. Petherick will live in Havelock where the bride has been for some time in charge of the eastern district of the Faith Mission in Canada.

Theatre in Wartime is Subject of Address

"The Theatre in Wartime," and the need for the emotional stimulus and release that drama and music provide, was the topic chosen by Mrs. Robertson Davies, who addressed the Women's Art Association meeting, held in the Green Room of the Y.W.C.A. Friday afternoon. In her address, Mrs. Davies reviewed the world of entertainment in England and Russia, and described the difficulties of "carrying on" during blackouts, air-raids, and the privations of war.

Speaking of entertainment in England, Mrs. Davies first dealt with the musical world. She explained that since the beginning of the war, recorded music was played in the factories for the entertainment of the workers, and it was found that this idea helped production, and also kept up the morale of the working people. This idea is now in use in the United States and Canada, she said.

The speaker, in discussing the two features of wartime entertainment music and drama, also told of the concerts which were put on in the National Gallery in Trafalgar Square in London during the noon-hour, with a low admission charge. The best artists in England entertained at these concerts, and played to capacity audiences. The people themselves, living under the strain and stress of war, seemed to realize the need for the relaxation that the theatre provided.

Boom In Plays

There was also a great boom in plays in England after the outbreak of war, Mrs. Davies explained, and told of the difficulties experienced by these groups while presenting their production during blackouts, air-raids, and also while touring other towns and cities in England.

In speaking of Russia, Mrs. Davies explained that the Russian theatre was supported by the government, and that tired and rushed though they were, the people of Russia always attended the theatre, and that the government, realizing the emotional lift that music and drama gave the people, always had entertainment.

In conclusion, Mrs. Davies told her audience that the theatre was doing a marvellous service to countries at war, by relieving, for a little while at least, the strain that war exerts on people, thus giving them new strength to return to the fight.

Mrs. J. E. R. Munro, president, presided and thanked Mrs. Davies for addressing the group. Mr. Robertson Davies, who was scheduled speaker, was absent, due to illness, and Mrs. Davies spoke in his stead.

Y.W.C.A. Club Doings

Thoughts in "Y" Clubs this week have been turning to Christmas and plans for special programs. Christmas exams and the "flu" epidemic took their toll of members.

On Tuesday the Vagabonds held a bowling party planned by Mary Talyor and returned to the "Y" for supper and their business meeting.

The "So-Serv" Club cancelled their regular meeting on Wednesday as a number of the members were attending the Kapell concert. The meeting was held on Thursday in the Club Supper Room. Shirley Mortimer, the chairman, presided. Miss Verna Burgess was introduced as Club Advisor. The club is sponsoring Miss Miller of the Norma La Marr Cosmetic firm as a money raising project for the Mrs. Winston Churchill Fund. The following committee in charge of this project will meet on Monday: Eleanor Taylor, Joan Pitchford, Wylma Goodwin, Maye Lambert, Hazel Hore, and Dorothy Mitchell. The meeting was devoted to the making of oilcloth toys. The next meeting will be held on December 15th when the toys will be completed for Christmas giving; and the election of officers will take place. A large attendance of the members is expected.

The Thursday and Friday Supper Clubs have cancelled their regular meetings until the New Year.

The Friday Supper Club executive and sub-committees are making plans and completing arrangements for the Christmas formal to be held in the "Y" gymnasium on December 30.

The Gym-Swim Club held a roller skating party after gym, returning to the "Y" for supper and their business meeting.

The first meeting of the newly formed Advisors' Council was held in the Supper Room on Tuesday at 6 o'clock. Those present were: Misses Isobel Wray, Flora Metcalfe, Verna Burgess and Eileen Sellon. Greetings were sent to Lena Dewart who is confined to her home. Miss Roberta Kiefer, presided.

Girls' Council held their regular monthly meeting in the Supper Room at 6 o'clock. This was the first meeting of the newly elected council members and it was very well attended. Miss Flora Metcalfe presided and Ina Robinson was in charge of supper. Those present were: Monday Gym-Swim: Maye, Lambert, Christine Whatley; Tuesday Advanced Gym: Ada Smith, Iris Hopkins; Thursday Gym-Swim: Doris Royea, Opal Robinson; Thursday Intermediate: Anna Heffernan, Marguerite Lynch; Swimming: Iris Forbes, Shirley Moldaver; '38 Club: Leona McMillan; So-Serv: Eleanor Taylor; Friday Supper: Jean Ferguson; Gym-Swim Club: Ina Robinson, Isobel McCamus: Badminton: Jean Elcombe, Betty Detcher; Vagabonds: Dorothy Hepburn, Doreen Lord; Residence: Jean Carew.

Miss Brownscombe, General Secretary, welcomed the new members and spoke of the purpose of the Council. Miss Roberta Kiefer led the after-supper "sing" Betty Detcher gave a report of the Trans-Canada "Y" Ways Committee and asked that all reports be in by Saturday, December 4th. Miss Kiefer gave a brief report on the Canadian Youth Commission Conference held in Toronto last week-end. The "findings" will be published shortly when a more complete report will be available.

The "Hanging of the Greens" Christmas program will be held on Friday, December 17th from 8 to 10 p.m. The following committees were appointed: Decorating: Dorothy Hepburn, Anna Heffernan, Doreen Lord; Program: Eleanor Taylor, Jean Ferguson, Ada Smith; Publicity and Invitations: Jean Elcombe, Maye Lambert.

The December Fireside Tea Hour is being held next Sunday, December 5th from 4.30 o'clock. The program will consist of a "carol-sing" of new carols and a play-reading of "The Shepherd's Cottage" from Dorothy Sayers' Book, "The Man Born to be King". Supper will be served by Ina Robinson, Jean Carew and Lily Taylor.

Lindsay Boy Is Wed In Amherst

LINDSAY, Dec. 4 — (ENS). — A wedding of local interest took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bell, Amherst, N.S., when their daughter Barbara Joyce was united in marriage to Pte. Orlin McGill, R.C.O.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin R. McGill of Lindsay. Rev. H. C. Olsen officiated.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was gowned in heavenly blue crepe with matching accessories. She carried a bouquet of pink Talisman roses. Her attendant, Mrs. W. C. Moffat, wore ruby wine crepe and carried an old-fashioned nosegay of yellow and white 'mums. Pte. Stanley E. Paddison of Toronto was groomsman.

Women's Group Raises $497.12

MILLBROOK, Dec. 4—(ENS)—Mrs. A. L. Sisco was hostess, at the parsonage, for the annual meeting of the Women's Association of St. Andrew's church this week, the president, Mrs. P. I. Bentley, taking the chair, and the worship period featuring the Christmas story.

Mrs. H. R. Edmunds read the story of the birth of Christ from Matthew's gospel; Mrs. Edmund Ball gave the talk on "The Light of the World", and Mrs. F. J. Smith offered the prayer.

The secretary reported 48 members enrolled and money raised by holiday cards, canvasses for subscriptions to the fowl supper and hostess tea funds, by moving pictures, donations, pot luck suppers, and a bazaar. The treasurer reported a total raised during the year of $497.12, with a considerable amount yet to come in from canvassing not finished.

Expenditures totalled $276.88, including a gift of $100 to the church thankoffering; taxes of over $80 paid on the parsonage, and other expenses in repairs to the minister's home. Over $101.40 was raised at the recent bazaar, and two members gave a donation of $10 each to the funds.

Good Results

Since war conditions have made it impossible to hold the usual teas and suppers, the financial figures for the year were held satisfactory, and the thanks of the church board were extended by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Sisco, who presided for the election of officers, the slate for 1944 being: President, Mrs. Bentley; vice-presidents, Mrs. Edmunds and Mrs. Percy Stinson; secretary, Miss Josie Sutton; Mrs. J. McKnight; other appointed officers will be named at the January gathering, which will be at Mrs. Edmunds' home on the first Wednesday in the month.

Christmas cards will be sent to the shut-ins, and fruit to the sick, at the Yuletide season, and all money outstanding from holiday cards, fowl supper canvass, is asked to be sent in before the end of the year so the books may be audited before the January meeting. Mrs. H. J. Armstrong and Mrs. Edmunds are the auditors; the minister closed the gathering with prayer. At present, the balance on hand is over $220.

Dorothy Tully Weds Fred Anderson

Rev. H. H. Mutton, of Bridgenorth United Church, officiated at the ceremony in the manse recently, when Dorothy Tully, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tully, of Smith township, became the bride of Frederick Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Anderson, Smith township.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of turquoise blue crepe with matching shoulder-length veil, and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and white rose buds. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Marianne Cocks, of Peterborough, who was gowned in rose crepe and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Neil Tully, brother of the bride, was best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception for the members of the family was held at the bride's home. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left on a trip, the bride travelling in a two piece rose wool dress, a Queen's blue coat trimmed with grey squirrel, and matching accessories.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, December 5

SUNDAY'S HOROSCOPE holds predictions of upsets, disagreements, ungracious of belligerent conduct, together with obstacles and impediments almost impossible to negotiate. There may be much resistance or antagonism from elders or superiors. Treat these with tact and amiability as they have power to be of substantial assistance.

Those whose birthday it is may have a difficult and disagreeable year, with the final outcome dependent upon individual restraint, good nature and tactful management of obstacles, disputes, and opposition, particularly from elders or superiors. These should be placated as they have power to confer real benefits and friendly cooperation. Be careful with all writings and documents lest misunderstanding cause trouble. Nervous or emotional impulses should be controlled, being at the root of all reverses and disagreements.

A child born on this day may be highstrung and temperamental, antagonizing its best interests. With due control there are opportunities for marked success.

For Monday, December 6

Monday's astrological forecast promises a definite and dramatic swing into expanding channels for promotion, preferment and substantial cooperation from powerful sources, probably in connection with public, community or other collective groups. Dealings with large institutions may best be done by secret agreements or by tact or diplomacy rather than above-board tactics. Work for highest of goals with courage and determination, as the judgment is excellent and impulses and intuitions dependable. Dare to be original.

Those whose birthday it is should be at the threshold of a year of great progress and prosperity, with promotion, honors and solid support from those in power and authority. With courage, ingenuity, originality, determination and brilliant ideas and with discretion, diplomacy and tact, excellent results are foreseen. Undercover understandings, even worthy intrigues, are prolific and dependable. The bold, new, and ingenious, are bound to reach high spots of progress and approbation. It would be wise to safeguard the energies and funds, shunning all forms of extravagance.

A child born on this day may have splendid prospects for high achievements and possible renown, although original, independent and freethinking.

Doris G. Scriver Weds Donald Kennedy

The Pentecostal Church was the scene of a pretty wedding today when Doris Grace Scriver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Scriver, 164 Aylmer street, became the bride of Donald Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Kennedy, of Havelock. The Rev. F. J. Cunningham, of Cobourg, officiated in a church decorated with ferns and palms.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white brocaded satin, with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves, a full skirt, and fastened from neck to waist at the back with tiny satin-covered buttons. Her shoulder-length veil of embroidered silk net was caught to her head with gardenias, and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. F. Cunningham, of Cobourg, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and was frocked in pale blue silk net, over taffeta, a matching silknet hat, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Sgt. Major Harold Kennedy was best man, and the ushers were Mr. G. Kennedy and Mr. T. Kennedy, brothers of the groom.

At the reception, held at the home of the bride's parents, the bride's mother received, dressed in blue silk crepe, a matching hat, and a corsage of roses. Also receiving was the groom's mother, wearing rust brown crepe, a brown hat, and a corsage of roses.

After the reception, the young couple left for a short wedding trip, the bride travelling in a gold wool dress, and brown coat and accessories.

AWAITS HUSBAND—Mrs. E. Saitzeff with her daughter, Ann, back in Canada from a Japanese prison camp, who will make her home in Toronto, pending her husband's release. She is Russian born and married a Canadian.

Board Members Hold Reception

A reception, in honor of Dr. Walter T. Brown, was held in the dining-room of the Collegiate and Vocational School Friday evening after the Commencement exercises. Members of the Board of Education, and the teachers taking part in the Commencement exercises were present, and coffee and sandwiches were served. Mrs. C. M. Scott poured tea.

A dance was held in the school gymnasium for the pupils of Grades 11, 12 and 13, and the graduating classes, and a good crowd danced to the music of Stan Northrop's four-piece orchestra. Sandwiches, cookies and doughnuts were served to those present, and everyone had an enjoyable time.

Bracelets, Clips Popular Gifts

Christmas time is also Christmas buying time, and presents the problem of "what to give her." Jewelry makes a most welcome gift, and is always good, so here's the latest news from the jewelry front.

Costume jewelry is still the tops in style, and nothing will be received with more pleasure than a dainty charm bracelet, a heavy silver banded bracelet, or a smart, glittering set of clips.

Charm bracelets can be made to order, and are always popular with collegiate and college girls. Service charms are popular too, and army, navy and airforce charms will ever be precious to the receiver, and mark her as a "serviceman's sweetheart."

Clip Arrangements

Clips are also good style, and are worn in graduated sets of three to six. Another new idea is to match a lapel pin worn on the shoulder with a set of clips worn at the belt, giving a chic effect to any outfit.

The clips and bracelets come in a wide variety of colors and generally take their style from Mexican and South American designs. The colors are not restricted to the well-known turquoise and silver, and now jade, carnelian, moonstone and lapis are in popular use again.

Costume jewelry is smart with any outfit, and can change the whole appearance of a dress or suit. Most women love planning different ways of wearing jewelry, and a Christmas gift of something new in costume jewelry will gladden any woman's heart.

Home-Mixed Syrup Relieves Coughs Quickly

Saves Big Dollars.

So Easy. No Cooking.

A pleasing surprise is waiting for you, in your own kitchen, when it comes to the relief of coughs due to colds. In just a moment, you can mix a cough syrup that gives you about four times as much for your money, and is splendid for quick results.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) No cooking needed—it's no trouble at all. Then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (obtained from any druggist) into a 16 oz. bottle. Add your syrup, and you have 16 ounces of really effective cough medicine. It never spoils, lasts a family a long time, and children love it.

This home mixture takes right hold of a cough. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and quickly eases soreness and difficult breathing. You'll say it's very satisfying in its action.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Red Hot Bill Arranged For Next Show

It's Earl McCready and Karl "Krippler" Davis in the main bout at the Brock Arena wrestling on Tuesday. These are two of the biggest men in the grappling sport and between them they possess just about the most power of any pair of wrestlers on this continent.

McCready is well known here but apparently his Texan rival is due to make a bid to challenge Earl's well-known supremacy in these parts. Davis is one of the hardest looking athletes to ever show in this city and his merciless attacks in which he uses feet and knees as well as firsts and elbows, are something to stand up to. It is hard to think of many grapplers who would have a good chance against the Krippler, but McCready has often proven that he is in a class by himself when it comes to handling these big badmen. In any case here is a pair of physical giants and when they clash the sparks should fly.

That mysterious grappler who calls himself The Czar will be back on Tuesday but this time he meets Dick Hogan, a character fully as tough as himself. If the main bout should be terrific, that semi-final should also cause a few explosions.

Completing the card will be a third battle between Pierre De Glane and Al Bunny Dunlop. These two latter behemoths wrestled in Toronto last week and the match ended with De Glane winning by the disqualification route. Dunlop is out for revenge and pressed for the return go. As the card now shapes up it looks like a hot evening all-around.

Reporters Leave For New Zealand

Written For The Canadian Press
By ARTHUR R. FORD

SYDNEY, Australia, Dec. 4 (CP Cable).— The Canadian newspaper delegation has completed a 10,000-mile air hop around the rim of Australia and through much of the interior. We have seen Australia at war from the south tip of Tasmania to much-raided Darwin on the northern frontier looking toward the Japanese on Timor, several hundred miles away.

(The delegations is made up of Mr. Ford, editor of the London, Ont., Free Press and president of The Canadian Press; B. T. Richardson of the Winnipeg Free Press and Lorenzo Pare of L'Action Catholique, Quebec).

It is obvious to us the war has shaken Australia out of easy-going isolationism into stern realization of potential Pacific eruptions and her role in preventing them.

Australia is extremely anxious to co-operate with Canada in the Pacific with a common aim of preserving peace and bettering economic and social conditions in depressed Pacific countries.

Australia is impressed by Canada's close, practical friendship with the United States and she is hopeful the three countries will work together in the Pacific in the interests of all the democracies.

Immediately after the fall of Singapore there was some criticism of Britain here but this has completely passed away. Australia is determined to remain a member of the British Commonwealth while standing on her own feet as a nation.

The delegations now is leaving for a week in New Zealand, returning here for a further visit in Queensland prior to a trans-Pacific air crossing from Brisbane.

Ladies' Guild Holds Election Of Officers

MARMORA, Dec. 4.—(ENS).—The annual meeting of St. Paul's Ladies' Guild was held in the Parish Hall Thursday evening, with the retiring president, Mrs. A. B. Caldwell, occupying the chair.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: President, Mrs. L. R. Rundle; vice-president, Mrs. P. Gray; secretary, Mrs. W. D. Lavender; treasurer, Mrs. R. E. Bonter; group conveners: group 1, Mrs. E. Brady; group 2, Mrs. A. Eggleton; sick and visiting committee, Mesdames A. Eggleton, G. Kerr and J. B. Nichol; chancel guild convener, Mrs. R. G. Winters.

Reports of the year's activities will be presented at the January meeting.

Poisoned Baby

ALMA, Neb., Dec. 4.— (AP). — Dale L. Cramer, 24 year old Orleans, Neb., farmer, was sentenced yesterday to hard labor for life in the state penitentiary for the poison death of his month-old daughter, Janice Mae, last June 10. In a confession Cramer related he placed "just a pinch" of poison in the baby's bottle because it kept him awake and because caring for it affected his wife's health.

HUSBANDS STILL THERE—Mrs. Jean Stokes of Vancouver, B.C., and her four-and-a-half-year-old daughter, Elizabeth Stokes, who arrived at Montreal en route from Chapei prison camp, Shanghai, to Vancouver. Travelling with her is Mrs. Phyllis Tingle, RIGHT, also of Vancouver, who was interned in Ash prison camp, Shanghai. Both women were forced to leave their husbands behind.

Hamilton Beats St. Kitts 3-1

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Dec 4 — (CP). — Hamilton Majors strengthened their hold on first place in the Ontario Hockey Association's senior series last night by defeating St. Catharines Saints 3-1. Saints earlier this week handed Hamilton its first defeat of the 1943-44 season.

Majors won in stereotyped fashion, relying as usual on its ace line of Johnny Conick-Doug Runions-Dillon Brady to furnish all the scoring. Runions scored twice, sandwiching markers around a goal by Blink Bellinger for Saint Catharines, and Conick completed the scoring at 9:50 on Runion's pass.

Lineups:

Hamilton: Goal, Childs; defence Dinning, Scherer; centre, Davey; wings, Shillington, Liscombe. Alternates: Robertson, Runions, Brady, Conick, Manorek, Sherry.

St. Catharines: Goal, Grosskurth; defence, Backor, Fritz; centre, Noble; wings, Mundrick, McAttee. Alternates — Delmonte, Boston, Reynolds, Mason, Bellinger.

Referee, F. W. (Dinty) Moore, Port Colborne; linesman, Jack Boyd, St. Catharines.

Summary

Execute 5 Danes In Sabotage Wave

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 4— (AP).— Five Danes, ranging in age of 18 to 27, have been executed by the German occupation authorities at Aarhus in an attempt to check a mounting wave of sabotage in Denmark, advices reaching Stockholm today said.

News of the executions coincided with reports a machine shop in Copenhagen had been wrecked and a nearby shoe factory damaged by a heavy explosion last night. The blast was described as one of the most serious acts of sabotage yet committed in Denmark.

More than 300 acts of sabotage were committed last month, with 65 per cent directed against factories producing materials for the Germans, the Danish News Service said.

Bumble-Bee Gun

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 4 (AP). —Germany's newest weapon against a sea-borne invasion of the continent is a "bumble-bee" gun, the Berlin correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyeheter reported today. The gun is so-called, he said, because it fires shells of "extraordinary explosive force" which hum over the water like a bee. The shells were described as a sort of "super-surface torpedo." First pictures of the guns, the correspondent said, show them in emplacements in "the southeastern anti-invasion wall."

Commends Work Of Women's Auxiliary

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 4—(ENS) —The Women's auxiliary of Christ Church was commended on Thursday by Rev. J. W. Lennox who presided during the election of officers. He told members at a meeting held at Miss Edith Archer's that the missionary work done by organizations of their type were one of the main functions of the church. Reports of officers will be presented at the annual meeting slated for January 6, however it was pointed out that most of the money turned over by the branch came from voluntary givings and the sale of Christmas cards by members. The officers for the ensuing year were named as follows: Honorary Presidents, Mrs. J. W. Lennox, and Mrs. E. C. West; President, Mrs. Frank Chapman; vice president, Mrs. J. P. Archer; secretary, Mrs. M. H. West; treasurer, Mrs. J. A. Linton; Dorcas Secretary, Mrs. E. C. West; Living Message Secretary, Miss Annie Bedford.

Murder Count

GENEVA, Ill., Dec. 4.—(AP). — Paul Albert Peters, a 32-year-old cripple, yesterday was sentenced to life imprisonment for strangling his mail order bride of 19 to death with her stocking Oct. 31. After the marriage he had been unable to find work.

Up The Danes

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 4— (CP).— An engine factory at Copenhagen was blown up last night in a huge explosion described as one of the most serious acts of sabotage yet committed in Denmark, according to reports reaching Stockholm.

The Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 4. — (AP).— Look for another explosion from Judge Landis's office before the winter is over with the recent warfare in the minor league convention serving to light the fuse.... The Jedge's decision when the insurgent group appealed to him was that if they had succeeded in tossing out the votes of the non-operating leagues, he would have stepped right in under that "conduct-detrimental-to-baseball" provision ....And instead of merely saying yes or no on a question of rules interpretation, Landis began making pointed queries about whether the major league owners and big minors had used their working agreements as a club over the little fellows and who helped entertain that southern sheriff—reported to be the most popular guy in town because he held the controlling vote in one league.

The Big Question.

What apparently puzzled Landis about the whole affair was why a Class "D" club for example, would vote to deprive itself of voting power in the National Association ....And if the most popular answer is right—well, the Jedge's favorite targets are the "chain store" operators....And some of the men on the inside of the recent scrap (who might, of course, be prejudiced) say there are plenty of bull's eyes to hit if Landis can see them.

Cracking the Whip.

The minor leaguers voted (and rightly, we thought) against the amendment to the major-minor agreement that would make them responsible if ineligible players appeared in exhibitions in their parks ....Their stand was that Landis could fine the players and it wasn't their job to "act as policemen".... Yesterday Landis told the big leaguers (and presumably the minors are included) that the rule would be enforced "whether you pass it or not."

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

In reply to criticism by A. C. Stewart of Yorkton, Sask. who had resigned from the Saskatchewan War Mobilization Board Thursday regarding border crossing permits, Mr. Justice P. M. Anderson, chairman said at Regina last night all authorities granted hockey players to proceed to the United States with one exception, had been granted because the category of each applicant was so low "the army would not take them." Mr. Stewart had said the previous chairman, the late Mr. Justice J. F. L. Embury, had consisitently refused such permits to hockeyists.

Mr. Justice Anderson explained the only exception to the low category class had been Doug Bentley who is now with Chicago Black Hawks. He had been given a permit as an "agriculturist" by the former chairman, Mr. Justice Anderson revealed, adding he had been guided by this precedent in giving a sanction to Bentley again this year.

President Tom Richardson of the Eastern Baseball League announced last night at New York that Quebec City had applied for a franchise in the circuit but, owing to transportation difficulties, there was little chance the application could be granted.

Judge George B. Harris at San Francisco yesterday dismissed a charge of assault against catcher Ernie Lombardi of the New York Giants on the ground that there was provocation when the player struck a war worker during a night club dispute. The complainant, Wade Jones of Richmond, Calif., has sued Lombardi for $20,000 damages in civil court because of the alleged "slapping."

The $7,000 all-star national individual bowling tourney opens at Chicago today with 132 participants who have been divided into 12-man squads for competition purposes. One of the headliners is Joe Norris of Detroit, among the top trundlers of the game. Another is John Stanley of Cleveland, singles champion of the American Bowling Congress.

WASHINGTON—You could almost hear a hoarse railbird crying "Come on, number two" in the staid halls of the United State Senate yesterday. Two committees met to talk about taxes and juvenile delinguency and wound up in a free-for-all discussion of horse racing and the two-buck window where you pays your money and you take your choice. As to taxes—the finance committee heard all kinds of testimony against a proposed five-per cent increase in the levy on betting but not one in favor of it.

CURLING NOTES

We have been looking through all of our scrap books and curling annuals for something that might be interesting to our readers, and especially the curlers, and after spending considerable time we ran across an article, "Curling as a winter sport and some of its lessons." It was printed in the annual of the Ontario Curling Association, 1907.

It is rather lengthy and we do not intend to print it all, but there are a couple of paragraphs that we will quote. This might be of particular interest to the many who are joining our club, this year, for the first time:

"Curling is not too violent an exercise to prevent anyone from indulging in it, yet it affords all the exercise anyone needs, if he will only follow the stones from end to end and be ready to "Sweep distemper from the busy day
And make the chalice of the big round year
Run o'er with gladness."

But, if we are to get all out of the game that it has for us, we must aim to become artists at it. A recent writer says that "to turn work into play is the highest achievement of active life." If so, then play when properly played must be a real art, for as the writer continues, "a full nature, putting itself forth with ease and power, and expressing that which is distinctive and individual in it, in the work of mind and hand—this is what the worker becomes when he is transformed into the artist."

So we ought to aim to play the game with ease and freedom, that through it a delicacy of touch and grace might be added to our whole life, and thus get from the game all that it has for us. It has been well said that a man may get to his journey's end by the light of a lantern, but he is less secure than the man who travels by daylight, and he loses the landscape; so in like manner there are many fine features of the game that we may miss if we go into it half-heartedly or with our eyes shut or even half-shut.

Our lady curlers are back from Toronto, and while they did not reach the "coupon" department, they made a mighty fine showing. They were pitted against some of the best lady curlers of the province and then take into consideration the fact that they have been curling up in the city for three weeks, whereas our local curlers have had no curling since last March, their showing is all the more creditable. However, we are predicting that before the season is over our ladies will be right in there and who knows but they may land the Tankard this year.

The new curlers are reminded of the annual meeting to be held in the club rooms on Monday, Dec. 6th at 8 p.m.

Lost In Raid Reporter Writes Last Yarn

(Lowell Bennett of International News Service was missing Friday with two other war correspondents who flew with the R.A.F. on Thursday night's Berlin attack. Bennett, representing the combined American press, wrote this story before the takeoff, delivering it to a representative of the British Ministry of Information for use if he did not return.)

By LOWELL BENNETT
Representing the Combined American Press.

A BRITISH BOMBER STATION IN THE MIDLANDS, Thursday, December 2. — Berlin is going to be attacked again to-night by hundreds of four-engined bombers which will avalanche down tons of explosives and incendiaries into the Nazi heart and capital.

It may be one of the most concentrated raids of the war.

I am flying in one of three Lancasters which alone will drop hundreds of incendiaries as well as 4,000-pound "cookies."

With scores of others rising from surrounding airdromes we are about to take off in the late afternoon to join a vast stream thundering toward the European coast in the darkening sky. This report is being made after our briefing meeting.

It is written before we leave in the event that "B for Bolty" (Bennett's plane) and myself do not return to make a fuller eye-witness account of the raid and its effect.

That the attack will be carried out as planned and prepared, it seems certain to this observer, for the thoroughness with which the whole aspect of defences, route and weather was studied precludes failure.

And much more important to the airmen who are leaving— among some thousand who are participating in the vast offensive—was their own certainty that the raid would be a success.

The captain of "B for Bolty" is a Scottish flight lieutenant. The rest of the crew of seven, with the exception of one Scots-Canadian, also are from Scotland.

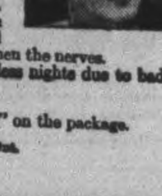
Wants Bilingualism

MONTREAL, Dec. 4.— (CP). — Canadians who are to be leaders of post-war Canada would help the cause of national unity by learning the Dominion's two official languages, Justice Minister St. Laurent said in an address last night.

Had Another Bad Night? Couldn't You Get Any Rest?



To those who toss, night after night, on sleepless beds. To those who sleep in a kind of a way, but whose rest is broken by bad dreams and nightmare. To those who wake up in the morning as tired as when they went to bed, we offer in Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills a tonic remedy to help soothe and strengthen the nerves.

When this is done there should be no more restless nights due to bad dreams and nightmares.

Price 50c a box, 65 pills, at all drug counters.
Look for our registered trade mark a "Red Heart" on the package.

energetic mind. Without disparagement of the unusual intellectual gifts with which you are dowered, we believe that the influence of a deeply religious home life in a Christian community, and the ministry of natural beauty among the lovely Kawartha Lakes with which you were so intimately familiar, helped to cradle those noble ideals of service which have been the mainspring of your endeavors. We cannot help but feel proud that all those high attributes which have come to so rich fruition in the wider world beyond the borders of this county were planted first deep in its soil, were rooted in its strong traditions, were shaped in its vigorous and abundant life; and in this faith we claim you as one of ourselves."

Corsage flowers were presented to Mrs. Brown by Miss Mildred Bailey of Lakefield, a member of the staff of Peterboropgh Collegiate Institute and Vocational School, who mentioned that Mrs. Brown attended the Collegiate at the same time that Dr. Brown was a student. "And so we may say that was the beginning of his romantic education. They were graduates in the same year at Victoria. Her father, George McCrae, was connected with the Canadian General Electric Company, and is still living with Chancellor Brown in Toronto."

Mrs. Brown thanked the ladies for their remembrace of her. "I lived here seven years and got part of my Public School education here and completed my High School course. Then my father decided to leave Peterborough, and I went on to the University."

The occasional sallies of humor in the after dinner program were sustained in Mrs. Brown's reply. She said she had no idea of going to the University at the same time as Dr. Brown, and some friend interjected the laughing remark "You tell that well."

Mrs. Brown recalled the principal of the Collegiate Institute in her student days, the late Cortez Fessenden, from whose teaching she had received great help.

F. D. Kerr, K.C., and Rev. H. J. Mahoney led the gathering in the singing of "On Old Ontario Strand," the historic song of Victoria College students back to the days when it was situated in Cobourg.

At the conclusion of the dinner most of those who attended went on to the Collegiate commencement exercises at which Dr. Brown was the principal speaker.

Among those present at the Kawartha Club were: Rev. Dr. George S. Easton and Mrs. Easton; Mrs. F. Brown, Lakefield; Rev. Dr. E. W. Young and Mrs. Young; Rev. H. J. Mahoney and Mrs. Mahoney; Senator J. J. Duffus; Gordon K. Fraser, M.P., and Mrs. Fraser; H. R. Scott, M.P.P. and Mrs. Scott; Mr. and Mrs. R. Philp; W. F. Huycke, K.C., and Alderman Adam Sands; Mrs. Jennie A. Spurway, County Clerk and Treasurer; Dr. C. M. Scott, chairman of the Board of Education, and Mrs. Scott; Rev. George Kelly of Lakefield and Mrs. Kelly; Ralph Cowan of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Tanner and Miss M. Tanner; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Charlton; E. H. Northey; and Thomas Crawford of Lakefield; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Garner; Lorne Mitchell of the Grove School, Lakefield; H. B. Cowan, Jr.; Reeve J. Mahoney of Douro; Reeve M. H. Johnston and Deputy-Reeve A. W. Archibald of North Monaghan, and others.

Auxiliary Names 1944 Officers

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 4 (ENS). —St. John's Evening Auxiliary held its annual meeting which took the form of a supper given in honor of Mrs. Morley Petherick's group on Thursday evening. The winning group ran up a total of 196 points based on attendance, new members, visitors, etc., while the next highest group headed by Mrs. M. B. Sayers, had 177 points. During the business period Mrs. Carl Johnston presided in the absence of Mrs. Petherick, and reports from various officers covering the year's activities were read. The treasurer, Mrs. M. B. Sayers, revealed the branch had raised about $200 in 1943, and most of this had come from quilts made and sold, a play sponsored by one of the groups and voluntary givings. Group leaders gave more comprehensive reports of their activities during the year and it was pointed out that membership of the Auxiliary now stood at 60.

Rev. G. N. Maxwell delivered a brief but inspiring message prior to the reading of the report of the nominating committee by Miss Stella Keir. Officers for 1944 are: Honorary President, Mrs. G. N. Maxwell; Past President, Mrs. Carol Johnston; President, Mrs. H. Pierce; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Charles Davidson; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Fred Phillips; 3rd Vice-President, Mrs. McMaster; Secretary, Mrs. Douglas Cochrane; Treasurer, Mrs. M. B. Sayers; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. O. Mason; Friendship Secretary, Mrs. Gerald Kellogg; Press Secretary, Mrs. V. Cochrane; Pianist, Mrs. George Nichols; Assistant Pianist, Mrs. C. W. Turner.

The program of the evening was in charge of the winning group and Mrs. Fred Phillips presided. It included the singing of Christmas hymns, led by Mrs. Watson; musical numbers by Miss Nola Green, Miss Helen Young and Mrs. Roy Young; a vocal duet by Miss Constance McKelvie and Miss Carolyn Archer; reading, Miss Dorothy Kingston, and vocal solo by Miss Doris Waters.

Woman Headed W.M.S. 12 Years

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 4 (ENS) —The retirement of Mrs. E. C. Roberts who for the past twelve years has headed St. John's W.M.S. was announced at the annual Christmas luncheon meeting here on Thursday. Rev. G. N. Maxwell, who presided for the election of officers, paid high tribute to the retiring president for her untiring efforts on behalf of the society. Further expression of the feeling members held for her was seen in the address read by Mrs. A. D. Bennett prior to the presentation of a lovely hymn book. Mrs. Bennett described the past president as a "sincere, quiet, faithful leader with high ideals held before us."

Mrs. A. G. Watson's group, which headed the attendance contest during the year, were guests at the luncheon provided by the three losing groups, and as her last official act Mrs. Roberts presided to extend a hearty welcome to the visitors and guests.

New Officers

Mrs. A. L. Malcolm brought in the report of the nominating committee while Rev. Maxwell presided. Officers for the ensuing year were named as follows:—Honorary presidents, Mrs. H. B. Longmuir, Mrs. G. W. Hammond, Mrs. W. Ranney, Mrs. W. H. Ashton; past president, Mrs. E. C. Roberts; president, Mrs. J. D. Mills; 1st vice-president, Mrs. W. F. Scott; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. A. D. Bennett; 3rd vice-president, Mrs. C. W. Palliser; 4th vice president, Mrs. J. J. O'Brien; recording secretary, Mrs. G. A. Ironside; treasurer, Mrs. M. Sykes; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. A. Mitchell; Christian Stewardship secretary, Mrs. C. W. Turner; temperance secretary, Mrs. A. E. Wragg; supply secretary, Mrs. H. Free; Missionary Monthly secretary, Mrs. J. Sanders and Mrs. G. N. Maxwell; press secretary, Mrs. E. A. Sloggett; flower fund secretary, Mrs. C. W. Palliser; pianist, Mrs. A. G Watson; assistant pianist, Miss Grace Payne; Mission Band leaders, Mrs. D. M. Meyers, Mrs. M. B. Sayers, Miss E. Cole; C.G.I.T. leader, Mrs. W. G. Ward; auditor, Mrs. George Hammond and Mrs. S. L. O'Hara.

On taking over as president, Mrs. Mills expressed thanks for the gesture of confidence members displayed in electing her to that important office. She suggested that "advance" should be the keynote of their program during the coming year. At a meeting of the executive called by the president the following group leaders were named:—Mrs. E. C. Roberts, Mrs. W. F. Scott, Mrs. J. J. O'Brien, Mrs. W. A. Kingston, Mrs Charles K. Stephen, Mrs. E. A. Sloggett, Mrs. A. G. Watson, Mrs. A. E. Burgis, Miss Stella Keir, Mrs. A. D. Bennett.

Saguenay Used As Training Ship

OTTAWA, Dec. 4 (CP). — The Canadian Navy, reporting today how the destroyer Athabaskan was damaged by one of the new Nazi glider bombs, revealed for the first time that the Saguenay, one of Canada's oldest destroyers, has been withdrawn from the fighting line and is being used as a training ship.

A Navy statement said the Saguenay, damaged by a torpedo in December, 1940, was turned into a training ship after she collided with a freighter late in 1941. This also was the first public mention of the collision. No details were given.

The statement did not indicate whether any casualties resulted from the collision.

You May Still Advertise For Help or Employment

IF YOU FOLLOW THIS PROCEDURE:

First you must register your need for help (or employment) with the National Selective Service Office, Barrie Building, Peterborough.

Then, if an advertisement is desired, two copies of the wording should be presented to the National Selective Service Office; and, after obtaining their stamp of approval, one copy should be delivered to The Examiner.

Restrictions Above Do Not Apply:

To female domestic help and employment wanted ads where not more than one servant employed, nor to advertisements for ministers, teachers, casual labor, part time subsidiary employment which is not a regular occupation, nurses, farm hands, hunters, fishermen, trappers, students at work after school or on holidays other than long summer vacation and any kind of "Help Wanted" advertisement from any Provincial Government.

All such advertisements may continue to be published in the usual fashion and without approval.

Soldiers Plead For More Blood Man From Battlefield Writes

In an article entitled "This is Your Blood in Action," written from a letter of Edgar L. Jones while serving with the American Field Service in North Africa and condensed by Readers' Digest, the following is quoted: "The final push was on and we had been evacuating casualties since the first light that morning. No one at home can imagine that war in the desert is like. None of us here want you to know. The wounded at the forward dressing station lay in the hot sun, plagued by flies and stinging gusts of sand. They were exhausted from 72 hours of fighting without sleep, but they were too much on edge to sleep, with the sounds of battle so close by. They were inexpressibly thirsty and dirty, but the only water we had was the meagre pint issued daily to each of us.

"Above all else these men needed new blood to give them strength. This they could get at the field hospital 16 miles across the desert. It takes a driver about four hours to go the 16 miles, when he is carrying patients who invariable scream at each jolt of the springs. Hours of grinding through deeply rutted sand, picking your way over boulders, edging into wadies and pulling out again, all the time listening for that raspy intake of breath, which means the patient is still alive, and feeling like a murderer every time there is a bad jolt. The blood stains on the bandages grow larger as the man's life seeps slowly out and stains the floor. One wonders how much longer he can hold on.

"At the field hospital every serious case goes immediately to resusciation. Here in a crowded tent in the desolate desert, is where the blood donors come in. Men are dying. They need blood—it alone can save them.

50 Men Kept Alive

"I was in a hot dusty tent one day where 50 men were being kept alive by blood alone. I stood beside a man whom I had brought in dying and watched new life in steady drops from a bottle above his cot trickle, trickle down a thin tube into his arms. As the color began to return to his deadly white lips, I wanted to thank God and all the blood donors for giving this man another chance to live. I was fond of that man.

"Often we are sent on rush calls for more blood. The order may come in the middle of the night. 'Quick,' the medical officer says, 'we must have more blood and I hope to God they have some left for us.' We rush off through the impossible blackness and drive many miles to load up with our precious cargo.

"Our fear is always, 'Will there be enough blood?' It takes so much these days, and the biggest battles are yet to come. Some men must have five or six pints of new blood before they have a chance to recover. They die except for new blood. You people at home have in your arteries the power to give men a second chance to live.

"On behalf of the many men who have been born again through blood donors, I express grateful thanks. Our plea is that you do not stop at two pints or three, but that you keep it flowing until it's over, over here."

The number of donors at the Peterborough clinic have been dwindling badly of late. Many more can be handled every week, so call the Red Cross Blood Donors' Clinic and offer your blood.

Coincidence

NEW BERN, N.C., Dec. 4—(AP).—A service man, Roy Anenda, visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge S. Mitchell, telephoned his mother in San Francisco. He mentioned he was calling from a Mrs. Mitchell's home in New Bern. It developed that Eldridge Mitchell, Jr., sailor son of the New Bern couple, was at that moment in the Anenda home on the west coast.

CUE BID ON SOME HANDS

EVEN WHEN your side is using the Blackwood slam bidding convention, there are plenty of times when some other method should be applied to a hand. That is true when you have a blank suit and are more interested in learning about some particular ace or king than about knowing how many of them your partner holds. An ace in the suit in which you are void is of no quick use to you, where the ace of some other suit may make your slam contract airtight. Cue bidding is best for such hands.

Plain straightaway bidding was used at the first table, so the best that South could do was guess his best spot, and 6-Diamonds seemed to be it.

At Table 2, where this duplicate hand was dealt, South used his Blackwood 4-No Trumps to find out that North had one ace. He then decided there should be as many tricks in No Trumps as in Diamonds. West scored his heart A quickly to hold the declarer to just his contract.

At Table 3, the North-South pair also had the Blackwood convention in its equipment, but South decided this hand called for specific information. He wanted a grand slam if North had the club A, and only a small slam if he did not. Bidding 4-Spades to show that A invited North to show his A which was most cheaply showable. When he called the club A in reply, South bid the grand slam. There was no danger North would misunderstand the spade bid and leave it in; with four of them he would have rebid hearts.

Your Week-End Lesson

Under what circumstances should a member of a pair, which is using the Blackwood slam convention, bid five in the already agreed upon major suit instead of using the convention or showing aces by cue bidding?

Canada's Cattle Healthiest Yet On Record

OTTAWA, Dec. 4 — (CP). — Canada will enter 1944 with the largest — and healthiest — cattle population ever reported at the opening of a year, officials forecast today.

Since 1937, when western Canadian drought conditions led to severe reductions in herds, the cattle population has increased by about 500,000. Beef cattle, prospering on ample feed available from the 1942 crop, are averaging many pounds heavier than in past years. Dairy cattle are in good condition, with the average milk production per cow higher.

On June 1, cattle and calves on farms totalled 9,600,000 compared with 8,080,000 in 1937. The second yearly count comes on December 1, when there is usually a falling off due to autumn marketings. But authorities said it was probable that the number on December 1 would be about 9,500,000.

The December statistics now are being tabulated and will be issued in a few weeks, officials said.

Holding Calves

In spite of enlarged marketings of cattle generally this fall, more calves are being retained on the farms, statistics showed. Inspected slaughterings of calves in the June to August period this year numbered 171,900, from an estimated total of 2,600,000 calves on farms. In 1940, 204,200 calves were slaughtered in the same period, although there were only 2,007,000 on farms.

The existing price policy favors raising calves to maturity, authorities said. Under the price ceiling policy, the prices of beef are allowed to rise during the late fall and winter months and it is advantageous for farmers with adequate feed supplies to feed their animals for longer periods.

The enlarged cattle production is looked on with satisfaction by Federal authorities. Surpluses of beef above home requirements now are being bought by the Canadian Meat Board for shipment to the United Kingdom, and some shipments—believed to be less than 1,000,000 pounds—have gone forward within recent weeks.

Export of live beef cattle to the United States were made subject to license in June, 1942, when a beef shortage was experienced in several Canadian centres, and almost no licenses have been granted since that time.

If the surplus is such that both Canadian and United Kingdom demands can be met, the movement of cattle across the border again becomes a prospect.

Nursery Probe

QUEBEC, Dec. 4.—(CP).—Premier Godbout in a statement issued here last night announced that a health commission, appointed Wednesday, will hold a public inquiry into nurseries and on the protection of children. He did not say when the inquiry would be held.

Lucky Canadian Crashes 3 Times

SOMEWHERE IN SICILY, Nov. 17—(Delayed)—(CP)—Don Nicolson, 22-year-old warrant officer from Winnipeg, has had so many thrills and spills since he joined the R.C.A.F. in December, 1940, that he has to refer to his diary to refresh his memory. And it's a diary any Canadian flier would be proud to possess.

Nicolson, a Kittyhawk fighter-bomber pilot, bailed out once from a flaming aircraft, crash-landed three times, made two emergency landings, and turned over on his back once. He almost forgot to mention the time the engine of his flak-riddled Kitty stopped just after he had put the wheels down. A half-dozen other times he brought back his aircraft with flak holes in it.

Not once has a bullet touched him, although he has weaved his way through some of the heaviest ack-ack the enemy can throw up. He suffered a fractured ankle when he bailed out and he found a bump on his head after his Kitty turned upside down.

All of his operational flying has been with an Australian squadron in the Middle East, Sicily and Italy.

2. A plan for the occupation and policing of Germany.
3. A broad outline on how the peace may be kept secure in Europe.

It was believed the chief concern of the parley centred on military questions, since all three leaders are fully aware the Allies still face a formidable enemy, whose power in some ways becomes more consolidated as his armies withdraw into a smaller space.

For President Roosevelt and Premier Stalin the conference, held close to Russia, was their first meeting and it was the first time the marshal had left the Soviet Union since the revolution. Mr. Churchill met Stalin last year when he flew to Moscow.

Dog Travels 500 Miles To Find Owner Shipped Back Home Express By Friends

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 4 (AP).—Pete, the pomeranian, was back home today—happy but too tired to bark at an alley cat.

And on his return the little brown dog that had followed his 13-year-old mistress from Norfolk to Patchogue, N.Y., a distance of nearly 500 miles, received the Prodigal's welcome.

Pete started hs trip on Oct. 29 when Mrs. Alfred H. Staud and her daughter, Barbara Ann, had returned after an absence of two years to visit friends in Patchogue where they had lived before coming to Norfolk.

Left behind with Mr. Staud was Pete, who had been with the family for four years. But the Pomeranian got lonesome and two days later he disappeared from the Staud home.

Several days ago a tired and slightly bedraggled Pete showed up in Patchogue. But Barbara Ann and Mrs. Staud had returned to their home here.

Pete was recognized by friends of the family who got in touch with the Stauds and then was returned by express to Norfolk.

Next Parliament Session Will Be One of Most Active In History

By JOHN DAUPHINEE
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

OTTAWA, Dec. 4 — (CP). — The expectation of Parliament Hill is that the session of Parliament opening at the end of next month will be the most active in several years.

Many observers believe it will be the last before a Federal election. If that is correct the Government is likely to bring forth considerable important legislation, getting its fences in order, politically speaking, for the hustings.

The Opposition parties also are expected to be unusually active in the House. Both Progressive Conservatives and C.C.F. have been keeping themselves before the public during the recess and probably will continue to do so within the House of Commons after Parliament reconvenes.

The Throne Speech debate, as in recent years, is expected to be very lengthy, as it provides an opportunity for all parties to put their views on the official record, and, incidentally into the newspapers.

Too Much Trouble.

Number please: Along with budgetary and other financial problems one of Finance Minister Ilsley's headaches is regulating the number of telephones in the various departments. It's a job that's plagued Finance Ministers for years.

Just for the record, this is the procedure that has to be followed when a civil servant thinks he is entitled to a telephone:

1. He gets the approval of the head of his branch.
2. The branch head gets the approval of his Deputy-Minister.
3. The Deputy Minister makes out a set of forms asking for the phone and sends it to the Finance Minister.
4. The Finance Minister turns it over to a special telephone official who provides a report, which is sent back to the Deputy Minister of the Department concerned.
5. If the Deputy still thinks the phone is needed he gets the approval of his own minister.
6. The document than goes back to the Finance Minister who—if he approves—takes it before Treasury Board.
7. If Treasury Board's half-dozen Cabinet ministers think the phone is needed they pass a formal Treasury Board order.
8. The phone is installed.

Obituary

MRS. MARGARET GREENLY

WARKWORTH, Dec. 4—(ENS)—Margaret Gow, beloved wife of the late William A. Greenly passed away Thursday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Claude Duneau, west of Warkworth. She was born in Percy township, August 23, 1876 and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Gow. Mrs. Greenly spent most of her life in the Wilson Settlement where she and her husband farmed. She was a good mother and kind neighbour and her passing will be mourned by a large circle of friends. While health permitted she was a valued member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church and was a member of the Ladies Circle of that church. The late Mrs. Greenly has been in poor health for about three years.

Surviving are two daughters (Anna), Mrs. Claude Duncan; (Clara), Mrs. Sidney Meacock of Percy township, also five sons, Lorne with the R.C.O.C., Ottawa; Lloyd, Can. Army Overseas; William, Kingston; Ross, Peterborough and David on the homestead, also one sister, Mrs. George McCubbin, Norham. Her husband and a son Robert were victims of a hit and run motor accident in October, 1940.

The funeral service was conducted today at 2:30 from the residence of Mrs. Claude Duncan. Interment will be in Warkworth cemetery.

Builds Powerful Army

NEW YORK, Dec. 4 (CP)—The Indian Army now is 2,000,000 strong "and growing at the rate of 60,000 a month," the BBC reported last night in a recorded broadcast. The broadcast added that India also has 5,000,000 war workers.

CENTRES OF WORLD ATTENTION—Among the many vital developments anticipated from the Roosevelt-Churchill-Stalin meetings are those indicated by the map: (1) The end of Turkish neutrality; (2) Action from the satellite states of Rumania and Bulgaria toward pulling out of the war; (3) Germany will be told to surrender or be given the "Berlin treatment."

New Brunswick Premier Wants Changes

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Dec. 4 — (CP). — Premier J. B. McNair of New Brunswick said to-day before the House of Commons Reconstruction Committee that he thinks confederation can be made to work "but there must be substantial adjustments."

The Premier spoke after presentation of a brief in which he said decentralization of industry, financial assistance and further consideration of Maritime needs was needed to bring the social services of New Brunswick up to a level enjoyed in other provinces.

The 35-man House Reconstruction Committee today concluded sittings which lasted almost two weeks, with discussion of briefs presented by Mr. McNair and by Professor Norman MacKenzie, chairman of the Provincial Reconstruction Committee.

During the fortnight, the Committee also heard briefs from Alberta and Nova Scotia and from labor, construction and other interests, all dealing with reconstruction proposals.

J. G. Turgeon, Liberal member of parliament for Cariboo and committee chairman, said consideration would be given to compiling a report before the new parliamentary session begins in January.

Any such report would be of an "interim nature" since Prince Edward Island, Quebec, Ontario, Saskatchewan and British Columbia provincial briefs still have to be presented. They may be heard early next year.

37,000 Railway Workers Get Holidays

OTTAWA, Dec. 4 (CP). —The National War Labor Board today approved an application for one week's vacation with pay for some 37,000 railway workers.

The board's ruling was given in a decision on applications by the Brotherhood of Maintenance-of-Way Employees (A.F. of L.) for employees of seven Canadian railways; the International Brotherhood of Firemen and Oilers, Roundhouse and Railway Shop Workers for 3,000 Canadian Pacific Railway employees; and the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other transport workers (C.C.L.) with some 9,000 employees of Canadian National Railways.

The board said it was reserving any finding on wage-increase applications of the C.B.R.E. and the maintenance-of-way employees until it heard the general wage application now pending from 17 other brotherhoods. In granting vacations to the firemen and oilers a previous ruling, given September 15, 1943, refusing vacations pending disposition of an application for wage increases, was withdrawn.

The board dealt at some length on its reasons for decision in this case and referred to it in its decision on the other applications.

"The fact is that the condition (vacations with pay) is steadily becoming more and more prevalent and there seems no good reason why the class of railway worker concerned in this application should not enjoy the privilege merely because the employer does not approve," the board said.

"Accordingly, effective January 1, 1944, the privilege of one week's vacation with pay in the calendar year will be extended to the hourly-rated employees covered by this application. In the case of employees, whether hourly-rated or otherwise, already enjoying a week's vacation or more there will be no change."

HAMILTON, Dec. 4 (CP).—Dr. J. E. Davey, Hamilton M.O.H., today said that influenza epidemic here was of such proportions that he warned Hamiltonians to stay out of crowds and to stay at home at the first sign of illness.

It was learned that the hospitals are crowded and that friends and relatives of patients have been asked not to visit them. Many doctors and nurses are said to be influenza victims.

Authorities are carrying out a check of persons handling food in hotels and restaurants, to be sure none is a 'flu-carrier.

Kingston Man Named Acting Brigadier

LONDON, Dec. 4 (CP Cable).—Promotion of Lt.-Col. D. G (Ben) Cunningham of Kingston, Ont., who won the D.S.O. as a brigade major of an infantry brigade at Dieppe Aug. 19, 1942, to the rank of acting brigadier was announced last night by Canadian military headquarters.

Brig. Cunningham, 35, will command an infantry brigade.

Brig. Cunningham, born in Kingston, was educated at the Collegiate Institute and Vocational School there, the Royal Military College and Osgoode Hall law school, Toronto. In civilian life he practises law in Kingston.

He was first commissioned with the Princess of Wales Own Regiment in Kingston in 1932 and served with that unit until the outbreak of the present war. He was appointed adjutant in 1936 and promoted to rank of captain in 1938.

In 1940 the then Lt.-Col. Cunningham accepted an appointment on the staff of the Director of Internment Operations at Defence Headquarters Ottawa and shortly afterwards was transferred to the 2nd Canadian Division as liaison officer.

He went overseas and was appointed staff captain late in 1940. In 1941 he was promoted major with the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders of Canada and later that year was appointed brigade major. Subsequently he was promoted to rank of lieutenant-colonel. His wife lives at (6 Maitland St.) Kingston.

Allied Units Dominate Road To Rome

Many Germans Cut Off As 5th Advances

ALGIERS, Dec. 6 — (AP). — The Anglo-American 5th Army, by-passing German strongpoints, has captured new heights commanding the road to Rome west of Mignano, while the British 8th Army's drive has carried to the Moro River, 10 miles north of the Sangro, Allied Headquarters announced to-day.

The Nazis launched strong counter-attacks against British and American infantry storming the heights in bitter hand-to-hand battles, and threw in new reinforcements including mechanized grenadiers against the 8th Army in a desperate attempt to halt the Allied drives. A flamethrowing tank was captured by British troops.

Heavy Losses.

A counter-attack west of Venafro was hurled back by the 5th Army with severe losses.

Lt.-Gen. Mark Clark's Headquarters announced that the enemy, who is fighting stubbornly for every inch of ground, had been driven from three commanding elevations by Americans who are smashing into Nazi fortifications in the area of the rugged slopes of Mount Maggiore. British infantry of the 5th Army are rooting out Nazi defenders in the equally-rough area of Mount Camino.

From their newly-won positions the Allied troops could gaze out across the valley to Cassino, and beyond it to the valley which leads north-west into Rome.

In one sector, small units of Germans still holding out on the summit of a ridge were cut off by the Allied drive well beyond.

British warships, steaming within range of enemy shore batteries, were disclosed to have supported the 8th Army's drive up the Adriatic coast

Farm Problems Highlight Of Conference

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Dec. 6.— (CP).—Dominion and Provincial agriculture authorities in conference here today received assurance of Arthur MacNamara, Director of National Selective Service, that 1944 production programs can be planned without "undue concern that a shortage of farm labor will be a serious limiting factor."

Mr. MacNamara spoke at the opening session of the annual Dominion-Provincial agriculture conference at which provincial ministers of agriculture, their deputies and other agriculture representatives consult with federal authorities.

Mr. MacNamara said he did not suggest the farm labor problem had been solved.

"We know that there are thousands of high producing dairy and livestock farms requiring permanent help," he said. "We considered this is the phase of the problem which must receive our most concentrated attention this winter."

Mr. MacNamara said an intensive campaign is being conducted to encourage farmers and farm workers, who can leave their farms during the winter without reducing dairy and livestock production to accept work in other essential industries.

More men were being sent to the woods. Canada was short some 200,000,000 board feet in lumber required for Britain.

Must Return.

From labor available in the slack farm season, the urgent demand or extra help in meat-packing plants had been met in the nick of time. Demand of may of the base metal mines were being taken care of by the campaign and many farm workers had been recruited for coal mines.

"All will be required to return to agriculture next spring," said Mr. MacNamara.

Opening the conference, A. M. Shaw, chairman of the Agricultural Supplies Board, said discussions later to-day and to-morrow will deal with production objectives for various farm products.

These discussions will be in camera. The meeting will be open to the press Wednesday when it is expected the aims for 1944 will be announced.

Agriculture Minister Gardiner is expected to address the conference, in camera, this afternoon.

Mr. MacNamara said that during September and October nearly 12,000 men from all branches of the Red Armies Threaten 3 Fortresses

German Reserves Inadequate At Several Points

LONDON, Dec. 6—(CP)—Smashing ahead northwest of Propoisk, the Red Army today was threatening Mogilev, one of the last important German-held rail centres in White Russia, as other Russian units squeezed the Nazi defence lines near Zhlobin and Rogachev in the Gomel area.

A Soviet communique said the Red Army hurled back German counter-attacks and swept forward northwest of Propoisk to capture the heavily fortified strongholds of Varodol, Bahki and Zabluka.

Front dispatches, telling of deep Russian penetrations from one end of White Russia to the other, said the Germans were beginning to show signs of lack of reserves and were using engineers as first line troops in some sectors of the snow-swept front.

To the south in the Kremenchug area the Russians war bulletin said, Soviet units captured several strong points after fierce engagements which often developed into hand-to-hand fighting.

Repulse Counters

The communique said the Nazis were continuing to attack in the Cherkasy area, between Kremenchug and Kiev, but all their assaults were repulsed.

A German communique said yesterday that the Russians had launched fierce new attacks in the Crimea from their bridgehead northeast of Kerch, but were hurled back. Rumanian satellite troops, the Nazi bulletin said, broke through Soviet positions south of Kerch and dashed for the coast. The Russians made no mention of action in the Crimea.

The Soviet communique said the Germans had landed on Kindurin-Skaya Kosa, at the mouth of the Dnieper River a few days ago, but the force was wiped out yesterday The Germans had taken Vortadt and Pokrovskey Khutara before the Red Army launched the counter-attack, the communique said.

A Moscow dispatch said the worst snowstroms of the season were sweeping White Russia, making the Red Army's advance difficult.

The dispatched pointed out, however, that Russian troops were on three sides of Kalinkovici, Mozyr. Zhlobin and Roagchev—strung out along the Leningrad-Odessa railway.

Hold Peninsula

MOSCOW, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Red Army today took a firm hold of the Timburg peninsula, closing the mouth of the Dnieper River, after beating off a German landing party on that southern tip of the Russian front.

The Russians disclosed they had occupied the narrow strip of land soon after they reached the east bank of the lower Dnieper. The Germans made a landing there a few days ago, but a Soviet communique last night said their bridgehead had been eliminated with Nazi losses of more than 500 prisoners and 600 dead.

Possession of the peninsula by the Red Army prevented the Germans from using the ports of Kherson and Nikolaev and put the Russians within 40 miles of the port of Odessa.

FACED FIRING SQUAD—Count Galeazzo Cianno, the 40-year-old son-in-law of Benito Mussolini, was executed today—shot in the back by a firing squad. Ciano was sentenced to death by a special court of Mussolini's Republican Fascist government sitting in northern Italy to try "traitors." At the last fateful meeting of the Grand Council last July 24 Ciano was one of the 19 members who voted in favor of Mussolini's re-resignation. He was greatly disliked and distrusted by the Nazis.

Stalin Receives Sword For Stalingrad

By LLOYD STRATTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

TEHERAN, Nov. 29 (Delayed)—(AP).—The story of the meeting between Prime Minister Churchill, Premier Stalin and President Roosevelt which will last the longest probably will be the story told in picture.

Nearly every significant feature of the meeting and its personalities were photographed. But to me the most outstanding and graphically colorful ceremonies of all were those held today in the Russian Embassy shortly before the termination of the conference. Gathered there was the greatest concentration of global power ever assembled under the same roof.

First came the solemn, impressive presentation of a Stalingrad sword to Stalin.

The sparkling crimson sheathed sword lay across a table made especially for the occasion and placed in the centre of a 50 by 75-foot room used for all conferences.

The Stalingrad sword was wrought in London by Tom Beasley, a veteran artisan who has made all the ceremonial swords in Britain for several decades. It was inscribed to the Soviet heroes who defended the city.

The domed, sky-lighted room carried a bluish-gray color scheme with four draped windows on the south side of the opposite wall broken by two big fireplaces.

16 Imperials.

In filed 16 British soldiers, specially chosen from the Buff Regiment, who lined up in front of the fireplaces. They were followed by an honor guard of 22 Russian officers. Each was armed with a tommy-gun and wore black boots, blue breeches, olive drab tunics with red shoulder boards and black visored caps circled by red bands and with a gold star in front.

The highest military figures of this war and the diplomats grouped themselves around the room. Sud-

Churchill, Roosevelt, Stalin at Teheran Agree on All-out Offensive, Chart Post-war Peace Era for World

Invasion Date Set During Talk In Final Strategy

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6—(AP).—President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin fixed the time for an Anglo-American invasion of Western Europe at their conference in Teheran, and also apparently agreed upon a secondary assault on the Continent from the south.

This "big three" agreement on final victory strategy, calling for coordinated attacks on three sides of Hitler's vaunted European fortress, may make it possible now to try for knockout blows against Germany this winter.

Britain and the United States have been massing troops and munitions for many months in preparation for such grand scale attacks, and it seems likely that the plans of this conference can be put into operation in less than the six months which Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt usually have had to allow for their high strategy decisions.

Those are the main points of military implication noted by Washington observers in the Teheran declaration announced today.

Further disclosures about accomplishments of the momentous meeting are considered possible. It has been custom of the President and Prime Minister on some past occassions to enlarge in subsequent speeches up on the initial statements of conference achievements.

The enemy will have to find out for himself on the battlefields of Europe, however, the time, the strength and direction of the military actions agreed upon, so that any further specific amplification will probably be of a political nature.

Both Washington and London had expected that an "unconditional surrender" ultimatum would be considered at Teheran. But if it was, the three leaders either decided to issue it at a future moment more propitious for a German crack-up or voted against it altogether.

The declaration must remove from the German leaders and the masses any lingering hope they hold of employing the strategy of divide - and - conquer. It confronts them with a combination of powers which they must surely realize is invincible.

More Than 2 Millions In Army Air Corps

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6—(AP)—The Army air forces, now numbering more men than all United States branches were able to move into Europe in the First Great War, have destroyed or damaged 13,500 enemy planes since the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor two years ago. The air arm has swelled to 2,300,000 men.

Gen. H. H. Arnold, Army Air Chief, disclosed the magnitude of the air operations in an article written for the Army and Navy Journal issue dedicated to the second anniversary of the Pearl Harbor attack.

Claim Count Ciano, Mussolini's Son-in-Law Executed By German Firing Squad In Italy

LONDON, Dec. 6—(CP).—A Reuters News Agency dispatch from the Swiss-Italian frontier said today that Count Galeazzo Ciano, former Fascist Foreign Minister of Italy and Benito Mussolini's son-in-law, was shot this morning by a firing squad, according to reports reaching the frontier.

The reports, which were not confirmed, said Ciano was shot in the back after being accused of high treason and sentenced to death by a special court of Mussolini's "Republican Fascist" government, a German puppet organization. The execution was said to have taken place somewhere in Northern Italy.

Mussolini's son-in-law turned against him in the Grand Council meeting last July which ousted the discredited Duce as Italy's dictator.

Premier Attacks Inflation Gives Labor Concessions

OTTAWA, Dec. 6 — (CP). — Canadian management and labor today studied Prime Minister Mackenzie King's broadcast announcement of a new labor code and a revised wage-control board, and awaited further details of the measures, expected within a few days.

The address was delivered Saturday night over the National network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation under the title "The battle against inflation."

Keystone of the wage-control announcement was Mr. King's statement that existing cost-of-living bonuses will be added to basic wage rates, with Government action to hold living costs at their present levels obviating any need for further bonuses.

Details of the new labor code, based on the National War Labor Board's public inquiry some months ago, are expected to be announced Tuesday or Wednesday by Labor Minister Mitchell.

Here are other major announcements in Mr. King's half-hour address:—

Accepts Proposals

1. The Government is prepared to accept the main proposals on which there was agreement in the majority and minority reports of the National War Labor Board's public inquiry as a "basis for a revised labor policy."

2. The new labor code will provide for compulsory collective bargaining and will include formation of a new National War Labor Relations Board, separate from existing War Labor Boards.

3. The government believes it can hold living costs at their present levels. But it will review the whole program of price and wage control and take "appropriate" action if the costs rise more than three per cent and remain at that level for two consecutive months.

4. The government will propose at the next session of Parliament legislation for a floor for farm prices after the war.

5. The Prime Minister will outline on another occasion plans for a "national minimum of human welfare," embracing useful employ-

Allied Leaders Beat Goebbels

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press War Correspondent

The most significant fact about the Teheran declarations, from the view-point of their effect upon German morale, is the absence of the words "unconditional surrender."

It was wise statesmanship to omit these words.

We on the United Nations side all know that the phrase is not intended to reduce the adversary to slavery, but, on the contrary, to enable the victorious United Nations to make democracy accessible even to the defeated enemy.

Goebbels and his henchmen, however, have for months insisted that the United Nations demand unconditional surrender as a means of creating a coolie colony in the heart of Europe.

The German people, or rather, that large section of it which is fed up with Nazism, militarism, imperialism and master race psychology, has been listening in vain for some message from the United Nations that would help them in their struggle for freedom. The phrase "unconditional surrender" was for months permitted to stand as the only method for Germany.

The Teheran declarations are calculated to bring hope to those German martyrs for liberty who are filling the Himmler concentration camps, to that underground that I know exists despite terrorism and torture, and to those millions of workers of the hand and brain who were "sold down the river" by the industrialists, the Junkers and the militarists when they swung over to Hitler.

Secret Weapons

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Dec. 6 — (CP).—Secret Allied weapons have been responsible for lopsided victories over the Japanese in the Pacific, Rear Admiral Ingram C. Sowell, U.S.N., commandant of the United States Navy operating base here, disclosed at the Legislative Assembly Speaker's annual dinner here. He did not reveal the nature of these weapons.

Re-affirm Principles Of Atlantic Charter In Iran's Capital

By JOHN F. CHESTER and WILLIAM McGAFFIN
Associated Press Staff Writers

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 6 — (AP). —Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and Premier Joseph Stalin have agreed completely on "the scope and timing of operations" to smash the German army from three sides, an announcement signed by the three statesmen in an epic four-day meeting in Teheran, Iran, and released here today disclosed.

The Allied leaders also charted a peace era in which all nations would be invited to join "a world family of democratic nations" based on the reaffirmed principles of the Atlantic Charter.

The history-making conference, of the heads of the world's most powerful military and political was held in the Iranian capital from November 28 to December 1, attended also by scores of military leaders and diplomats from Britain, Russia and the United States.

Returned to Cairo

Heavily underscoring the urgency of the military phase, the combined British and American genearl staffs, subsequently returned to Cairo, scene of the November 22-26 meeting of the Chinese president, Chiang Kai-Shek, with President Roosevelt and the Prime Minister, and staged concentrated planning sessions from last Friday through today.

Mr. Churchill joined in these and other sessions, leading to the probability that other disclosures of paramount international importance are still to come.

President Roosevelt's whereabouts since the Teheran conferences were not disclosed.

Two Teheran declarations signed simply "Roosevelt, Stalin, Churchill," and dated Dec. 1 announced these results:

War—"Our military staffs have joined in our round-table discussions and we have concerted our plans for the destruction of the German forces. We have reached complete agreement as to the scope and

British Bombers Smash Salonika

CAIRO, Egypt, Dec. 6.—(AP). — British four-engined bombers, flying from bases in the Middle East to the head of the Aegean, attacked the Salonika railway station in Greece last night and started fires in the freight sheds, it was announced to-day.

American bombers yesterday raided shipping off the Dodecanese Islands of Leros, hitting three ships and forcing the crew to abandon one of them.

He Banged First

YAKIMA, Wash., Dec. 6 — (AP). — Wooden gun in hand, seven-year-old Billy Mallory announced he was going pheasant hunting. His parents smiled tolerantly. Their eyes bulged when he returned carrying a pheasant. He explained: "Oh, there were lots of hunters, but I said 'Bang' first so it was mine."

C.C.F. Supports Jewish Move

TORONTO, Dec. 6 (CP)—G. M. A. Grube, vice-president of the Ontario C.C.F. party, last night told the annual conference of Toronto committee for a labor Palestine that the C.C.F. opposition in the Ontario legislature will take a positive position "to do away with those external signs of racialism which we find even in this country."

In an interview later, he told reporters his comment might indicate "the possibility of legislation" which might be initiated by the C.C.F. to help stamp out racial propaganda.

The conference, attended by more than 200 delegates and observers representing 71 organizations, passed a resolution calling for support of Histraduth and other Jewish agencies in Palestine.

Commando Raid

LONDON, Dec. 6—(CP) — The Swiss radio quoted advices from Sweden today as saying that an Allied landing party had blown up a foundry at Arendal in southern Norway in a daring raid the night of November 20. The broadcast was recorded by Reuters News Agency.

Allies Have Strength to Enforce Edicts

Hitler May Employ New Weapons, But None Can Win War For Him

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

There's one overwhelming fact which neither Germany nor Japan can escape in connection with the verdicts of the Allied conferences, and this is that the big three—Russia, the British Commonwealth of Nations and the United States—have the power to enforce any edict, no matter how extreme, which they may issue.

The Allied resources tower over those of the enemy like a mountain over a mole hill. And the United Nations now have the actual equipment to get ahead with the job.

We have to make one reservation here. Our resources aren't sufficiently developed at the moment so that we can deliver a quick knockout to both Germany and Japan simultaneously. But we have the strength to hold the one while we smash the other speedily. There's no longer any question about that.

Huns Greatest Menace

Since Nazidom provides the greater immediate menace, it must be crushed first. Herr Hitler recognizes his danger fully, as is clear from the frantic efforts Propaganda Minister Joe Goebbels and his dummies are making to blind the German public to the truth.

The Fuehrer is fighting like a rat in a corner, and like a doomed rat he is highly dangerous. We shouldn't overlook that. Despite the fact that it now is clear he can't escape, he may do a lot of damage. Berlin is persistently threatening to employ a secret weapon in retaliation for the Allied bombing of Germany, and the Nazi radio says the German high command "intends by one fell, drastic stroke to end the unbridled mass murder," adding that "mankind is not far from the point where it can at will blow up half the globe."

This sounds like tall talk—but we shouldn't dismiss it as such, for these are days not only of tall talk but of tall deeds. The Germans may have a secret weapon which may cause much death and destruction. We can take it for granted that they haven't anything that will win the war for them, but they still may inflict grievous hurts.

Japs To Sacrifice 5 Million Men

CANBERRA, Dec. 6.—(CP).—The fanatical fighting of the Japanese soldier lends credence to the theory that Japan is prepared to sacrifice 5,000,000 men in a war of attrition against the democracies, Prime Minister John Curtin of Australia declared to-day.

In a war review statement calling for greater attention to the Pacific front, he noted one estimate which placed five years as the period Japan would need to become the world's most powerful military nation if allowed to develop its vast resources and slave labor.

"That is why the offensive against Japan must not only be maintained but increased in tempo," he added.

Axis Satellites Warned

Finland, Hungary, Rumania Singled Out

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Dec. 6—(AP).—While publication of the results of Premier Stalin's Teheran conference with Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt was awaited here, the Russians applied new pressure today to persuade Germany's satellites to quit the war.

The Soviet trade union journal, "War and the Working Class," delivered a strong warning that Finland, Hungary and Rumania would suffer worse consequences the longer they lingered in the battle.

"It is clear," the publication said, "that the vassals of Germany which continue the robbers' war against the Allies and delay their withdrawal from the Hitlerite coalition will seriously worsen their fate."

The article severely criticized Polish circles in London and quoted a Polish newspaper there as reporting that Polish guerillas would fight the Red Army unless the Russians renounced the provinces of Vilna in the western Ukraine and western White Russia.

"Soviet public opinion expects the creation of a new, strong democratic Poland will be one of the fruits of victory," the magazine said. "But Poland has no choice. To go with Hitler means to share Hitler's fate. To remain neutral also means to go with Hitler."

Ralston At Italian Front

Visits Wounded In Sicily Hospital

By MAURICE DESJARDINS
Canadian Press War Correspondent

With Canadian Forces in Italy, Dec. 6 (CP Cable)—Col. J. L. Ralston, Canadian Minister of National Defence, who has been visiting Canadian troops in Italy spent some time at the front where some of the Dominion's most famous regiments and other 8th Army troops have been administering to the Germans the "colossal crack" Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery promised them.

Col. Ralston was accompanied by Lt.-Gen. Kenneth Stuart, chief of the Canadian general staff. They flew from Britain and before coming to Italy visited Canadian troops in Africa.

On their way back from the front they paused at Catania, Sicily, to inspect a Canadian general hospital quartered in a big Italian hospital formerly used by the Germans.

The minister has been in the Mediterranean since mid-November, but his visit was not announced until today, for security reasons.

He was greeted upon arrival by senior Canadian officers who accompanied him to various units where he saw tough, bronzed Canadian troops, keen, fit and enthusiastic. The last time Col. Ralston saw them they were still in training in England.

National War Labor Board Criticises Royal Commission

By JACK WILLIAMS—Canadian Press Staff Writer.

OTTAWA, Dec. 6—(CP).—The National War Labor Board today granted wage increases of $1 a day and holidays with pay to some 12,000 Nova Scotia miners, in line with recent awards to miners in the west, but it expressed sharp criticism of the Royal Commission which boosted the western rates and of the mine union's western executive.

The increase of $1 a day granted British Columbia and Alberta miners by the O'Connor Royal Commission 'once again demonstrated that outlaw methods properly timed make quite an impression,' the National Board said, in apparent reference to the western strike which led to the commission's appointment by Labor Minister Mitchell.

The Commission's decision had "not enhanced the prestige" of the National Board.

The drive to higher wages could "not be allowed to ramble on—otherwise the price ceiling will break."

Fear Inflation.

Sane labor realized the consequences of inflation, but "the trouble is that sane labor is in the process of being swallowed in a vortex as is also the work of this Board."

The decision in which these statements appeared was on an application from employees of Dominion Coal Co., Acadia Coal Co. Ltd., and Old Sydney Collieries, Ltd., a case in which evidence was submitted a fortnight ago. To-day's judgment provided:

1. Increase of $1 a day in all day wages, and for contract and other employees not above rank of foreman. (District 18 of the United Mine Workers of America had asked an increase of $1.25.)

The increase granted is effective from Nov. 1. The Nova Scotia basic rate thus becomes $4.90 a day.

2. One week's vacation with pay each year—not requested by the union but granted in view of the O'Connor Commission's action in granting two week's holidays to Western miners.

3. Decision was reversed on the miners' application for certain other adjustments.

The Board said it had noted "with a considerable degree of alarm" the spread of increasing wages resulting from wage increases granted steelworks after a strike early this year, and continued:

Policy In Error

"If it was proper for the O'Connor Commission to base its decision — frankly stated to be a compromise one—to any extent on comparison with United States coal mine wages and shipyard and

Japs Report Marshall Raid

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 — (AP). — A Tokyo broadcast quoted Japanese Imperial headquarters to-day as saying a fleet of 100 carrier-based planes had raided the Japanese-held Marshall Islands Sunday morning and admitted the attack, unconfirmed by Allied sources, had caused some damage. The broadcast, recorded by Federal communications commission monitors, claimed 20 planes had been shot down.

The Tokyo communique also claimed that Japanese naval airmen had pursued the Allied task force and had sunk one medium-sized aircraft carrier and a large cruiser. A large aircraft carrier and a cruiser were damaged, the bulletin added.

Canadian Unit Reaches Italy

By WILLIAM STEWART

AN ITALIAN PORT, Dec. 6 (CP)—Headquarters personnel of a Canadian armored unit, tankmen and motorized troops have landed in Italy after an uneventful sea voyage.

Fresh from Britain, these newest arrivals in the Italian theatre followed troops who stepped ashore several weeks ago after surviving an attack in the Mediterranean by enemy torpedo bombers. There were no Canadian casualties in that attack, in which a ship carrying Canadian nursing personnel, among others, was torpedoed.

The troops, who belong to one of the best-trained Canadian formations overseas, suspected they were bound for a theatre of operations, but for security reasons they were told on departure they were to take part in a big manoeuvre.

Among the headquarters personnel are Major W. L. Dutton, Chatham, Ont.; Capts. A. Burrit and Wilf Morgan, Toronto; Lieuts. Lloyd Hales and Jim Black, Toronto.

Among N.C.O.'s are: Troop Sgt. Bill Brash, Toronto; Cpls. Willie Allan, Timmins, Ont.; Benjamin Vaughan and Bud Reed, Toronto.

denly Vyacheslav Molotov, Soviet Foreign Commissar, entered, walked to the table, surveyed the scene and departed.

Then came Stalin, appearing noiselessly and clad in a plain khaki beige uniform with gold starred epaulets. He was wearing a single decoration, the Order of Lenin.

A few seconds later Prime Minister Churchill walked in wearing the uniform of an R.A.F. commodore.

A 22-piece Russian Army band, at a signal sounding like "Brrnsk," played the "Internationale" and then "God Save the King," while Mr. Churchill stood to salute Stalin with right arm raised and hand half-clenched.

King's Message.

A British officer picked up and held the sword rigidly before him while Mr. Churchill spoke on behalf of the King about the "steel-hearted citizens of Stalingrad."

Stalin replied with a low-voiced expression of appreciation.

Stalin took the sword from Mr. Churchill's outstretched hands, kissed the naked blade and handed it to Marshal Klementi Y. Voroshilov. A Russian officer, using the arm-swinging, stiff-legged Soviet ceremonial march, took the symbol from Voroshilov, wheeled and with snap and precision marched from the room.

The gathering then moved out to the white-pillared portico where a large number of news and motion picture photographers had a field day.

Re-affirm Principles timing of operations which will be undertaken from the east, west and south.

"The common understanding which we have reached guarantees that victory will be ours.

Plan Peace For Years.

"No power on earth can prevent our destroying the German armies by land, their U-boats by sea and their war plants from the air. Our attacks will be relentless and increasing.

Peace— "We are sure that our concord will make it an enduring preme responsibility resting upon us preme responsibility restin upon us and all the United Nations to make a peace which will command the good will of the overwhelming masses of the peoples of the world and banish the scourge and terror of war for many generations.

"We shall seek the co-operation and active participation of all nations, large and small, whose peoples in heart and mind are dedicated, as are our own peoples, to the elimination of tyranny and slavery, oppression and intolerance. We will welcome them as they may choose to come into a world family of democratic nations."

After expressing their respect for Iran's independence and territorial integrity, and promising economic aid to that country which has facilitated the flow of Allied supplies to Russia, the three leaders said:

"They (Britain, the United States and Russia) count upon the participation of Iran together with other peace-loving nations in the establishment of international peace, security and prosperity after the war in accordance with the principles of the Atlantic Charter, to which all four Governments have continued to subscribe."

The Atlantic Charter declaration by Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt after their historic sea rendezvonus in August, 1941, set out these general Allied principles and post-war aims:

1. They seek no territorial or other aggrandizement.

2. No territorial changes that do not accord with the "freely expressed wishes of the peoples concerned."

Respect All Nations.

3. Respect for the right of all peoples to choose their own form of government; restoration of "sovereign rights and self-government" to those "forcibly dperived of them."

4. Endeavor, "with due respect for existing obligations," to promote a better distribution of raw materials and trade to all states, "great or small, victor or vanquished."

5. Full collaboration among nations in the economic field in order to improve labor standards and social security.

6. "After the final destruction of Nazi tyrany," a peace established to assure all men "freedom from fear and want."

7. Freedom of the seas for all nations.

8. Abandonment of the use of force and disarmament of nations "which threaten, or may threaten, aggression outside of their frontiers."

"We came here with hope and determination. We leave here friends in fact, spirit and in purpose."

It was the first time President Roosevelt and Premier Stalin had met.

On the first day of the conference Stalin, accompanied by his foreign minister, Vyacheslav Molotov, walked up the steps of the Russian embassy compound, which was the president's residence during his stay. He left Molotov talking in an ante-room with Harry L. Hopkins, the president's official adviser, and strode on alone to come face to face with the American leader who had flown thousands of miles across ocean and desert for the rendezvous further cementing Allied unity in war and peace.

Stalin's First Venture

It was believed to be the first time Stalin had left Russia since the Communist revolution in 1917.

The Russian embassy conference area, and Teheran itself, swarmed with Russian tommygunners, and even embassy servants carried pistols.

Security measures were heightened because it was learned a number of German saboteurs had been dropped by parachute in Iran a few weeks before the big three arrived. Most of them reported captured.

A number of Iranians whose loyalty was questioned, including at least one army officer, were locked up during the conference.

One of the ceremonious highlights of the conference at the foot of the snow-capped Elburz Mountains was the presentation by Prime Minister Churchill of the "Sword of Stalingrad" to Premier Stalin— a British recognition of the Russian heroes who turned the Nazi tide at Stalingrad last winter.

Details of the military decisions reached were naturally not disclosed, but dispatches from Teheran said there was no talk of "a second front" circulating at the conference — an indication that that subject already had been disposed of except for final details.

Nor was anything specific concerning a multitude of post-war problems, such as the Russian-Polish boundaries, dealt with in the general declarations except for the reference to the principles of the Atlantic charter and the desire to recruit a world wide "family of democratic nations."

The statement on Iran spoke of post-war "conferences of international agencies" to deal with all economic matters.

The "surrender-or-die" ultimatum, which some had expected, was not forthcoming. Instead, the big three calmly and confidently told Germany they were going to crush her armed forces in a three-sided assault and multiply the devastating air raids on her home soil.

Well Protected

Surrounded by the most extraordinary security measures in history, the gray-mustached, calm, impassive Stalin was flanked at Teheran only by Foreign Minister Molotov and Marshal Klementi E. Voroshilov.

Obviously pleased and gratified Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt were encircled by their staffs of approximately 60 each, Gen. Sir Alan Brooke, Chief of the British Imperial General Staff; Field Marshal Sir John Dill, Chief of the British Military Mission to the United States; Air Chief Marshal Sir Charles Portal, British Chief of Air Staff; Admiral of the Fleet Sir Andrew Cunningham, Chief of the British Naval Staff; Anthony Eden, British Foreign Secretary; Sir Archibald Clark Kerr, British Ambassador to Russia; Gen. George C. Marshall, Chief of Staff of the United States Army; Gen. Henry H. Arnold, U.S. Army Air Chief; Lt.-Gen. Brehon H. Somervell, Chief of U.S. Army Service Forces; Admiral Ernest J. King, Commander in Chief of the U.S. Fleet and Chief of Naval Operations; Admiral William D. Leahy, President Roosevelt's Chief of Staff; Harry L. Hopkins, the President's official advisor; W. Averell Harriman, U.S. Ambassador to Russia, and John G. Winant, U.S. Ambassador to Britain.

The first momentous meeting of Marshal Stalin and Mr. Roosevelt occurred at 3 p.m., Nov. 28, in the tree-circled Soviet Embassy, the main building of which had been given to the President as his conference. An hour later Mr. Churchill arrived to complete the triumvirate.

From then on the conference assumed an intimate, almost family aspect, with the three dining together nightly.

These talks were punctuated by full dress discussions with the military chiefs, the first of which lasted from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. on Nov. 28. Preceded by separate Anglo-America staff sessions on Monday and Tuesday mornings, the military meetings reached a smashing climax long after sunset on Tuesday.

The most powerful gathering of military brains of this war opened its final plenary session at 4:30 p.m. that day and concluded at 7:30 p.m., with plans full drawn to concentrate the total military might of Russia, Britain and the United States on a "relentlessly increasing" basis guaranteeing that "victory will be ours."

Satisfaction approaching exultation with the tragedy drawn at Teheran was evinced the night of Nov. 30 at Mr. Churchill's 69th birthday dinner at the British legation. More than 50 toasts were drunk with Marshal Stalin ambling amiably around the table clinking glasses with each man toasted, and himself raising his glass to:

"My fighting friend Churchill."

"My fighting friend Roosevelt."

Significantly, not a single mention of a "second front" was made then or on any other time during the conference, so far as could be determined from outside the guarded walls. It was assumed this question had been settled, even to the details.

Newspaper observers closer to the session than others—most newsmen were held at Cairo during the conference—had reason to believe that the Teheran meetings had filled the gaps in the Moscow conference of foreign ministers and in fact gone well beyond it.

Ontario Office Planned For London

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 6 (CP Cable)—An Ontario office will be established in London within a reasonably short time, Premier George Drew announced today in an interview.

The office will prepare plans for the sale and distribution of Ontario products after the war and will assist the armed forces from Ontario, he said. In addition the office will make available to British manufacturers Ontario's plans to assist industrial production in the province.

Drew, who flew to England and will be here about two weeks, said the office will endeavor to stimulate outlets for Ontario products with emphasis on specialized lines of agricultural produce.

He mentioned bacon, cheese and honey specifically and added Ontario fruits would be an important export, particularly in view of the new quick- freezing methods.

Quick-Freeze Fruits

"With quick freezing there is no reason why we cannot lay down fruit in Britain as fresh as the day it came off the tree," he said.

The premier said Ontario has the European market in mind as well as that of the United Kingdom and the Ontario office will provide guidance on European outlets also. This will involve co-operation with the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration, he said.

The office's work regarding personnel will concern information and contacts with particular attention to return to Canada and demobilization.

Drew is conferring with the executive of the British Federation of Industries and plans to explain industrial opportunities of Ontario and explore the extent to which British industry is interested is establishing branch plants in the province.

"I believe possibly the largest industrial expansion in the world is likely to take place in Ontario in the next few years," he said. "Development in Canada and particularly Ontario will be much greater even than in the '20's. Rather than be fearful of the lack of jobs, we will need all the skilled hands we can get."

British Subs Sink 17 Craft

LONDON, Dec. 6 (CP). — An Admiralty communique said today that submarines of the British Mediterranean fleet, continuing their offensive against German shipping, had sunk 17 vessels, including two medium-sized and 15 small supply vessels, in forays into the Aegean Sea.

In addition, warehouses on Naxos Island off Greece were shelled, and a seaplane and a 300 foot floating dock were sunk nearby, the bulletin said.

Another submarine ranging the western Mediterranean sank a landing craft loaded with motor transports in the Gulf of Genoa, and a medium-sized tanker was torpedoed off Toulon.

The announcement did not say when the attacks took place.

Aussie Forces Surround Wareo

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, The South Pacific, Dec. 6 (AP)—Australian troops with the aid of artillery and air cover pressed steadily toward Wareo on the strategic Huon peninsula on New Guinea today after repulsing three Japanese counter-attacks.

The Aussies, victors of Sattelberg four miles to the south, turned back the counter-thrusts Saturday with the help of artillery. Attack planes ripped up the Japs' rear positions.

These Australians were spurred on by the likelihood of early support from two other Digger elements also closing in on Wareo's strongly-defended heights. One unit captured Bonga four miles to the east last week and pushed inland, and the other was coming up from the south-east.

Bombers of the south and south-west Pacific commands likewise pushed their ceaseless offensive, dropping heavy bomb loads which left targets aflame on Bougainville and New Britain islands, while the United States 7th Army Air Force reached deep into Japan's defence perimeter to start fires at Hare Island in the lonely Central Pacific atoll of Kapingamarangi, only 400 statute miles southeast of the major Japanese base of Truk.

Four-engined aircraft also bombed Mili atoll in the enemy-controlled Marshall group, starting fires and destroying a grounded medium bomber, and set an oil dump afire on Nauru Island southwest of the newly-conquered Gilberts.

Farm Problems

armed services were doing farm work, most of them on compassionate leave and working on their home farms. There were 2,500 soldiers out on the farm duty plan, under which men are detailed for emergency farm work as part of military duty.

"We had some apprehension about the quality of work which might be done by soldiers who were sent out to farm work," he said.

"Reports from all over the country indicated much greater satisfaction by farmers with this plan than we anticipated."

It was estimated 400,000 men, and, probably, at least 100,000 women, had left the farms since 1939. But thousands had returned from retirement to assist farm production.

It was not pretended the application of Selective Service regulations had entirely prevented the people leaving agriculture. However, the drain had been checked. Had the regulations not been administered as they were, there would have been fewer people on farms today.

Coastal Planes Sink 6 Subs In Convoy Battle

LONDON, Dec. 6 (CP)—Six German submarines were destroyed in the Atlantic in eight days by R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. Coastal Command planes and United States naval planes smashing a renewed outbreak of U-boat warfare, the Air Ministry announced today.

In all, 15 attacks were made on U-boat wolf packs seeking to attack three Atlantic convoys recently, a communique said, and one R.A.F. heavy bomber was lost.

The convoys were brought safely to port, and so intense was the battle against two large U-boat packs that not a single torpedo was fired against the merchantmen.

Only bad weather saved the U-boats from further losses, the Air Ministry said.

Wing Cmdrs. L. W. Skey of Toronto and L. G. Archambault of Quebec City led the R.C.A.F. Coastal Command squadrons. Wing Cmdr. P. A. Gilchrist of Weyburn, Sask., commanded one of the R.A.F. squadrons.

Bagged by Canadian

The sixth submarine was destroyed by a Sunderland flying boat in which FO. A. H. Russell of Edmonton was making his first attack as captain.

Victory Club Meets

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 6. — (ENS). — An energetic winter sewing program is being projected by the 10th Line Victory Club, according to the report of the December meeting given by the secretary, Mrs. George Brown on Saturday. Eight members met at Mrs. Owen Brahoney's in Seymour West, and during the afternoon pieced a quilt for a lady in the community. They will use the money to provide material so that they may continue their plan of each month giving a quilt to either the Salvation Army or I.O.D.E. During the winter months they are planning to do a considerable amount of sewing on items for refugees.

Priest 44 Years Msgr. French Dies

PEMBROKE, Ont., Dec. 6. — (CP).—Msgr. Isaiah A. French, 73, who had served 44 years in the Roman Catholic priesthood, 24 of them as pastor of St. James' church, Eganville, Ont., died here to-day. Born in Renfrew, Ont., he was educated there and at Almonte, studying at Ottawa University before taking his theological course at the Grand Seminary, Montreal.

After his ordination in 1896, Msgr. French was secretary to the late Bishop N. Z. Lorrain. He then served as curate at Douglas and Brudewell, Ont., before being appointed to organize Killaloe parish. In 1914 he was transferred to St James' parish, Eganville. In recognitnon of his long service he was was made a domestic prelate in 1938, with the title of monsignor. Mrs. F. P. Dunne, Edmonton, is a sister.

Fan Mail Flood Comes To Mr. X

MERRICKVILLE, Ont., Dec. 6—(CP)—His distribution of largesse in Halifax, Toronto, and other centres has posed a problem for Harry MacLean, wealthy construction man who lives in this village 45 miles south of Ottawa.

MacLean, who has given money to war veterans, taxi drivers, bell boys and others he has met in his travels, now is receiving a "fan mail" rivalling that of Hollywood stars—and he said in a statement last night that it must remain unanswered. He's unable to cope with it.

Newspaper readers from Mexico to the sub-Arctic, attracted by the publicity given MacLean's openhandedness, have written him. Each day he receives nearly 1,000 letters, some of them with service discharge papers, military rejection certificates, national registration cards and personal photographs enclosed.

Letters with such enclosures will be returned, MacLean said, as soon as it's possible for him to "catch up" with the mail.

Some of the letters he described as "heartbreaking" others as "brash," and still others as "fantastic." Not all of them are "begging" letters—a number simply praise his generosity and contain no overt requests for financial help.

In his statement MacLean said he was "deeply touched" by most of the letters he had read, and regretted his inability to answer them personally. A good deal of this correspondence comes from the United States.

If he enjoyed "the wealth of the national mint," said MacLean, he would still be unable to accommodate the "deserving thousands" telling him of their troubles via the mail.

Burnbrae Ladies' Aid Elects New Officers

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 6. — (ENS).—Friday marked the close of a successful year for Burnbrae Ladies' Aid according to the financial report given by the treasurer, Mrs. J. A. Murray, at the annual meeting. She disclosed the branch was carrying over a bank balance of $233.00 which was $78 more than they had a year ago, but this was due mainly to the fact there had been no major improvements undertaken at the Manse during the season.

Mrs. Clayton Wallace, who was re-elected for her second term as president, presided for the meeting which took place at Mr. W. Mathew's. rMs. George Craighead was in the chair during the election of officers which resulted as follows: Honorary Presidents, Mrs. Herbert Watson, Miss Emma Wilson and Mrs. M. Eagleson; President, Mrs Clayton Wallace; Vice-President, Mrs. George Craighead; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Thomas Watson; Secretary, Mrs. Donald Walker; Treasurer, Mrs. J. A. Murray; Auditors, Mrs. Jonathan Thain and Mrs. Alfred Linn.

A short program followed and included readings by Mrs. George Craighead, Mrs. E. C. Pollock, Miss Lela Linn and Mrs. Donald Walker.

Members of the W.M.S. who met jointly with the Ladies' Aid likewise held their annual meeting and heard encouraging reports from their officers Mrs. Stewart Bedford and Mrs. William Mathews assisted with the devotional period, after which Mrs. Earnest Eagleson gave the treasurer's annual report.

Mrs. William Hutcheson presided during the election of officers and those named for the ensuing term were: President, Mrs. William Hutcheon; Vice-President, Mrs. George Craighead; Secretary, Miss Hazel McKenzie; Treasurer, Mrs. Ernest Eagleson; Supply Secretary, Miss Emma Wilson; Gladtidings Secretary, Miss Dorothy Eagleson.

An employee of the Canadian General Electric Company in the armature department for nearly 32 years, Thomas Baxter Henry died Sunday in his 93rd year after being ill for only a day. His home is at 595 Douglas avenue.

Mr. Henry was born in Williamsburg, N.Y., now known as Brooklyn, and was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Henry. At the age of ten, he left New York city and moved to Hope township and then to Peterborough 43 years ago. The late Mr. Henry was a member of L.O.L. Lord Nelson 1175, and R B. Perceptory of Peterborough. He also attended Knox church.

The funeral will be held Tuesday from the Nisbett Funeral Home, 347 Charlotte street, at 2.30 p.m Rev. H. J. Mahoney and Rev. William MacDonald will officiate and interment will be in Little Lake cemetery.

MRS. WALTER DENSTON.

The death occurred suddenly on Friday evening in Peterborough of Flora Frances Denston, wife of the late Walter Denston and second daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Collins of Peterborough. She leaves to mourn her death one Stepson and one stepdaughter, Eric Denston of Toronto and Mrs. John Day of Montreal, three sisters, Miss Mabel Collins and Mrs. Norman G. Hatton of Peterborough and Mrs. George H. Greening, Montreal; four brothers, Robert of Vancouver, Alexander of Walkerton, Fred and Durham of Peterborough.

The funeral took place this afternoon from her late residence, 194 McDonnel Street. Canan W. P. Robertson of St. John's Church, officiated. The pall-bearers were: Eric Denston, John Day, Kenneth Shook, Robert McClellan, Walter Perry, Terence Hall. Interment was at Little Lake Cemetery.

JOHN HUXLEY

After an illness of several years, John Huxley, 126 Fradette avenue, died at his home Sunday evening at the age of 67.

Born in Shropshire, England, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Huxley, he came to Peterborough in 1909 and for a time was an employee of the Canada Packers. During the last war he served overseas for 2½ years, having enlisted with the 109th Battalion in Lindsay.

Surviving are his widow, formerly Edith Wynn, one daughter, Mrs. Fred Dorrell (Amelia), of Peterborough, and one son John, in England. A second son, Harold, was killed in the First World War.

The funeral service will be held Tuesday from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Fred Dorrell, 317 McGill street to St. George's church for service at 2 o'clock. Rev. E. C. Moore will conduct the service and interment will be in Little Lake cemetery.

Bingo And Dance Held By Roseneath Lodge

ROSENEATH, Dec. 6 (ENS) — A bingo and dance was held on Friday night by L.O.L. 261 in the Orange Hall. James Webb's special, a bag of potatoes was won by Mrs. S. Thackeray, and Gordon Parker's special, $2.00 worth of merchandise, was won by Mrs. Norman Forman. Other prizes were won by Mrs. Harold Mouncey, Mrs. George Mouncey, Mrs. E. Noonan, Misses Doreen Nichol and Ila McCracken, Earl Braithwaite and Perry Brisbin.

Merriam's orchestra from Cobourg supplied music for dancing. A spot dance prize was won by Mrs. Francis Minor and Ivan Thackeray. Receipts were approximately $40.00.

Cobourg Is Asked $5,000 By Red Cross

COBOURG, Dec. 6 — (ENS). — Objective for Cobourg is $5,000 in the 1944 Red Cross campaign, it has been announced, and the local Red Cross has authorized purchase of several more cases of cod liver oil for distribution among families with children attending the Public and Separate Schools.

The work room report reveals that during the month 730 articles were shipped away, made up of 205 knitted articles, 22 large quilts, 7 small quilts, 269 hospital supply articles, 19 sewn garments, 4 layettes, and 40 leather jackets. The work room has been requested to make 100 sweaters for women on shore duty in England, also 35 navy turtle-neck sweaters, and 50 long-sleeve sweaters in khaki Due to the fact that the work room was out of wool for so long a period, the knitting is just starting to come in again from district workers.

Twenty-four bottles of cod liver oil were distributed to families with children attending the Separate and Public Schools. On motion of J. E. Skidmore and Fred Slade it was decided to buy further supplies of cod liver oil for this purpose.

Berlin Loses Banks

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 6.—(AP). — Nazi leaders have suffered heavy losses through destruction of the main offices of virtually all Berlin's big banks except the Reichsbank by Allied aerial bombs, information from Berlin said Sunday. Loot accumulated from occupied countries and in 10 years of rule over Germany was said lost in bank vaults.

Escaped Man Is Captured

COBOURG, Dec. 6—(ENS)—William Martyn who escaped from Cobourg jail last September was brought back to Cobourg on Saturday in custody of Chief W. J. Carey, Provincial Constable Alex MacLeod and jail governor Fred Wight.

Martyn was in Cobourg jail last September on a remand and while exercising in the jail yard with the other prisoners, in charge of jail guard Tom Mulhall, Martyn got around to one corner of the jail building, scaled the wall via the windows bars and then made an impossible leap to the adjoining wall and got away.

Martyn was arrested in Toronto recently when detectives found him working in a toy shop. He has already received terms amounting to three years in penitentiary and will appear in court here this week for jailbreak.

Missionary Group Handles Bazaar

LAKEFIELD, Dec. 7 (ENS) — A tea and bazaar was held by the Missionary and Service Club at the home of Mrs. Jack Brown.

Gaily colored stuffed animals, aprons, doll's clothes, bridge covers and knitting bags were among the many articles sold at the gift table. At the homecooking table reposed a lone chicken beside delectable buns, cakes, cream puffs, tarts, pies, jams and pickles.

Mrs. C. Bullock and Mrs. D. Davis were at the door and the guests were received by Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Alex Graham. Tea was poured by Mrs. J. McKerchar and Mrs. W. Leonard. The tea table was covered with a lace cloth, pink white and yellow baby mums, with tall ivory tapers in silver candlesticks.

The lunch committee was made up of Mrs. D. Davis, Mrs. J. Hull, Mrs. T. Downs, Mrs. C. Hunter, Mrs. S. A. Grylls. The homecooking was in charge of Mrs. W. Whetung, Mrs. W. Frankish, Mrs. E. Allen and Mrs. Dora MacMillan. Mrs. R. Little, Mrs. George Graham and Mrs. S. Grylls presided over the bazaar table. Those who served during the tea hour were Mrs. E. Northey, Mrs. F. Erskine, Mrs. E. Rosborough and Miss O. Waterman. Mrs. S. Millage, Mrs. S. Richardson and Miss Irene Darling also assisted.

Sunday Evening Service Inspiring

A splendid audience greeted the Rev. John McLeod of Stratford as he addressed the "After Church" evangelistic service held in the Centre Theatre Sunday evening. "What Shall I Do?" was the subject of his address, based on the question of the young man who asked Christ "What shall I do to inherit etrenal life" and the question of the Phillipian jailer who asked the Apostle Paul "What shall I do to be saved?" The speaker in very definite terms gave the answer "Believe in the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved."

"There is no salvation in 'doing' it is 'believing' that saves, after that the doing will follow." This the speaker said is the very heart of the gospel. Throughout the centuries this has been man's eternal question, "What shall I do?" and the answer is the same today as in the days when Christ walked through the streets of Jerusalem. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ."

A vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. G. Hartshorne of Peterborough, a trombone solo by Bernard Aldridge of Toronto and splendid singing by the audience helped to make the service a real inspiration to all who were present.

Institute Plans Supper Dishes

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 6 (ENS)—Wartime supper dishes provided an interesting demonstration in connection with the December meeting of Seymour East Women's Institute on Friday. Mrs. John Thompson and Miss Elsie Rannie prepared the dishes which formed a part of the course being taken up by the Institute. While corn and sausages en casserole and tea biscuits were baking the business and program of the meeting were taken up. The vice-president, Mrs. E. C. Pollock, presided, and announced the branch would accept the invitation of Mrs. J. A. Murray to be guests for a pot luck supper in January. Husbands of members will also be invited, and the Janie Canucks were named program convenors.

Though the main item during the afternoon concerned various points in the preparation of the wartime dishes there was also a short program of Christmas carols led by Mrs. Donald McKay and readings by Mrs. Jack Rannie, Mrs. George Craighead and Mrs. Carmen Gunning.

Away Goes The Bonus

No more cost of living bonuses are to be paid and the existing bonuses are to be incorporated in the basic wage rates which really means an increase in wages. This in effect is the announcement made by Prime Minister Mackenzie King on Saturday night.

Labour has long wanted this concession, and while it must not be taken that the principle of freezing prices and wages and paying the cost of living bonus has been a failure there has been a great deal of public criticism, much of which has been unwarranted.

Mr. King also gave an undertaking to ask for legislation to ensure a floor under main farm commodities, to safeguard the farmer against the danger of low prices after the war.

One of the chief complaints of the farmer against pegged prices was that there was no floor or bottom on the prices and when the war was over he would get no protection. This announcement should be hailed by the farmer as an added protection to him for post-war days.

A new code of labour relations was also announced by Mr. King but this will not come into effect for some time. For when it is finally approved and passed by the Cabinet Council it will have to be sent to the provinces for their ratification. This code is being designed to define and prohibit unfair labour practices and, subject to wage stabilization policy, will provide for compulsory collective bargaining.

Soil Erosion

Over a century has passed since the early British settlers arrived in Hope township, Durham county. One hundred years later the descendants of some of these original settlers continue to till the soil from which their forefathers cleared the oak and the maple.

But in those hundred years a vast tract of the land of this township has passed through the stages of great forests, then fertile farming lands, then the loss of the permanent top soil through erosion which slowly but relentlessly stole the fertility from the land until today fields have become abandoned for agriculture purposes.

Under natural conditions the soil in Hope township supported a protective cover which allowed the top soil to develop more quickly than normal erosion could carry away. After the protective cover was removed and the area subjected to cultivation, erosion in its various forms began to gnaw at the steep hillsides and rolling fields. The loss of the fertile top soil was recognized as a serious menace to the agricultural permanency and prosperity of the area. This was due, primarily, to the process by which erosion slowly but relentlessly steals the wealth from the farm lands. So slowly may the erosion forces act, that it is difficult to detect the gradual removal, but over a long period this loss reaches alarming proportions. Gullies develop and interfere with cultivation. Unless attention is directed to the control of the growing gullies portions of fields become abandoned. Further, areas which once supported valuable stands of oak, maple and beech, now lie idle-mute testimony of the ravages of erosion. Low unprofitable yields eventually resulted in farmers using this land for pasture and this is the condition that now prevailed in this neighbouring township.

Cognizant of this problem, a soil erosion and land use survey was instituted in a sample area of Hope township in 1942 by the Ontario Agricultural College in co-operation with the Experimental Farms Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture. The results of the survey have now been published and from these findings much benefit can be derived for other areas, where the erosion is all the time going on, but possibly not to so great an extent. The report declared erosion can be controlled and greater returns can be obtained from the land if soil saving and soil improving measures are carried out.

The whole territory is divided into five classes that are suitable for cultivation without special practices; that suitable to cultivation with simple practices; that suitable for cultivation with complex or intensive practices; that not suitable for continuous cultivation and that not suitable for cultivation and for which forest cover is recommended.

The Victoria Cross

The Victoria Cross, the most signal honour that any sailor, soldier or airman, officer or man, of the British Empire can win has been awarded 69 times in the present world conflict. This bronze cross bearing the Lion of England over the Crown and words "For Valor", takes precedence of all British orders and decorations and is never bestowed except in cases of exceptional bravery and great valor. And of the 69 awards at least 27 have been awarded posthumously.

The Cross was instituted by Queen Victoria in 1856, and only 1,101 awards had been made between that date and 1920.

The United Kingdom Information Office has published a booklet entitled the "V.C." which carries the stories of these acts of bravary and valor. It is a well printed booklet, beautifully illustrated, with the pictures of the winners and an art sketch showing the scene of battle in which the Cross was won.

Forty of these 69 awards have gone to the Army, with 16 going to the Navy and 13 to the Air Force, and everyone of them is a story in itself of how men on the field of battle, or in the air or on the sea gallantly endeavoured with no thought to their own safety and a complete disregard of danger risked their lives to save those of many of their companions.

The youngest winner is Sergeant J. Hannah, a mere boy of 18, when the award was made, and a member of the Royal Air Force, but it is surprising the number of awards which have gone to men in their early twenties. While it is natural that men from Great Britain should be foremost in the winning of the Cross, however, the deeds of valor and gallantry of the Australians have played a prominent place and to them have gone nine awards, four native Indians and five men born in India have also won the Cross, six New Zealanders, and two to South Africans. Canada's winner is Lt.-Col. C. C. I. Merritt.

The first award was made to Captain B. A. W. Warburton-Lee at Narvik on April 10, 1940, but the long line since then covers air actions over Germany, fighting in Belgiuh, France, Somaliland, in the Middle East, Tobruk (3), Greece, Crete, Syria, Sidi Rezegh (3), in the Mediterranean, Straits of Dover, St. Nazaire (3), Dieppe (2), Oran, Tunisia, and practically every place on the face of the globe where Empire men have been fighting.

Shooting a White Deer

There appeared in many newspapers last week the picture of a Minnesota hunter standing beside the carcass of a white deer which he had just shot. We confess, our feeling on seeing this picture, was certainly not one of admiration for the hunter. This beautiful white animal sprawled across the bonnet of the car did not raise in us any desire to grab a gun and beat it to the woods, for we would much prefer going to the woods without a gun and seeing this animal in its natural state.

There are some hunters whose fingers itch at the trigger whenever they see something alive in the woods. We are not opposed to the deer hunts, by any means, but we do believe that something should be done to prevent hunters from killing rare specimens. If white deer could multiply their kind they would add greatly to the attractiveness of our woods. There should be a law prohibiting the killing of white deer.

A King's Publicity Campaign

At a salary of $35,000, Russell Birdwell, a New York and Hollywood press agent, has been hired to supervise a publicity build-up for ex-King Carol of Rumania. The campaign is intended to convince the American people that Carol is a clean, decent, capable, pro-democratic person, who should be invited to set up a pro-Allied Free Rumanian government. The result of Mr. Birdwell's efforts should be interesting.

Nobody can take exception to the plan. It is quite out in the open. All it amounts to is that a publicist has been hired to present the former king's case in the best possible light, to offset what is described as a story "full of Nazi lies". However, the reaction of most people will be indifferent skepticism. They will feel that the war can be won without Carol, and that the Rumanians themselves, after their unconditional surrender has been received, should be the ones to decide whether or not he will again rule that country. However, if Carol wants to present his case to the American people and is willing to pay $35,000 to have it done favourably, that is his business and his alone. He has at least been fair enough to announce his intention.

Farming News and Views

By HON. DUNCAN MARSHALL

AS we near the end of the year farmers may reflect that they are about to enter a period that will be fraught with many changes in agriculture, which will have a lasting effect on the lives of people who live on the land. The problems in Ontario will be different from those in some other provinces. We have watched a struggle going on in the West against drought, low wheat prices, and other disabilities which greatly reduced the income of farmers in the Prairie Provinces, but this year of 1943 will see perhaps the largest cash receipts by farmers in Alberta that they have ever received before. Manitoba will also be well up in the lists, and parts of Saskatchewan will show profits for the year. Ontario, the province which has the most equitable weather conditions, as a rule, of all the provinces, finds itself suffering more than usual, over quite a long period, from a very bad crop season.

We are making quite a fair finish, however, and the few days of Indian Summer which centered around November 25 and 26 were about as pleasant as most of us have ever seen. I recently read "Sick Heart River" by John Buchan (Lord Tweedsmuir) and from it I learned that the Arctic Indians call this fine weather period "White Goose Summer." It appears that the white geese of the North are the last to fly south, and with the unerring sense which guides birds and beasts of the wilds, they never fail to start their journey south during this good spell of weather, which precedes winter, that we are accustomed to call Indian Summer.

This is being written on the last day of November and on this date last year some parts of Ontario had experienced a full month of winter, so this is a decided improvement. The good fall weather has resulted in the completion of threshing on the prairies which was far from being finished last autumn. Let us hope we are catching up on the weather and the result may be a good seed time and harvest in 1944.

NEWS comes from the Dominion Experimental Farms that Dr. L. H. Newman, Dominion Cerealist, is on the way to the production of a Spring wheat which will defy the ravishes of the saw-fly. The saw-fly works in the hollow stems of our varieties of wheat which are grown in Canada. There are Durum wheats with a solid stem, and so the task was undertaken to breed a solid stem wheat with the flour qualities of Marquis, and the rust resisting powers of Thatcher. A search was made for a bread wheat with a solid stem and a promising one was found in New Zealand which had originally been obtained from Portugal. Dr. Newman is now working on the production of a high quality spring wheat that will be rust resistant and will have a solid stem to fool Mr. Saw-Fly. He considers that his object is now in sight, but figures it will take three years further work to perfect it, and multiply the seed for a first distribution.

I doubt if we ever quite give to the scientists in agriculture, the credit due them for the research work they perform for the improvement of crops, and the defeat of the enemies of food production in our country. Canada got its first awakening to these outstanding services in the production of Marquis wheat. The results, to the farmers in the West, cannot yet be estimated in value, and this, followed by the defeat of the plague of rust, are outstanding events in the history of our prairie production of the world's best wheat.

PIG rearing in Canada is not on as sound a basis as it should be. This is not a good time for so many breeding pigs to be sent to packing plants. Stories come in about small pigs selling at ridiculously low prices, which may be only in few localities, and so may not have too much significance. There is no doubt, however, that the Canadian Bacon Board has never made it quite clear to farmers as to either what they want or what they will pay for it. As I understand, Britain does not expect as much bacon from Canada this year as was shipped in the year recently ended, but that the Ministry of Food in Britain will take an extra amount if we can send it. Our pigs are now rail graded, and as the purchasers got everything in that respect, that they wanted, it should not be too much to expect that a definite price should be fixed on pigs as graded, and the farmer given to understand what he will get. We have now nearly four years of the operation of the Bacon Board in this country and we do not seem to have had anything like an adequate report of what this Board has done, and any report now will be of such an elaborate nature, covering four years, that farmers would not be able to make much out of it. There are a number of advisory members of the Bacon Board and from any of them I have talked to, it does not appear that they know exactly what has been done. We have not only a great responsibility in the matter of a present adequate supply of bacon for the Fighting Forces; but we have the fate of our future market for pigs in the balance, and I am somewhat fearful about the results.

IF, as we expect, the victorious march of the Allies through Italy will result in a demand for food in that country which will be an Allied responsibility and will call for larger shipments across the Atlantic, probably to a large extent in grain, this will mean greater efforts for Canada to do her full part.

Italian prisoners have been working on farms to quite an extent in Britain. It is now said that many of these men desire to remain as alien laborers on the land, in which case they will be paid the going wages and probably, as British farmers say, perform a better day's work and help materially in farming in England.

A STRIKE among creamery workers in County Kerry, Ireland, has caused 20,000 gallons of milk per day to be returned to be used as the farmers may devise.

Four acres of apples in Herefordshire, England, was sold by auction, in the orchard, in September for £985, about $4,300. Herefordshire has been an apple producing shire for many years. It is a great cider county also, and there are many orchards of "cider apples"—These are so sour that there is no other use for them. A cider apple is so sour it would make a pig squeal to step on it. Hereford is a great hay district and cider is the favorite drink for the men during haying. One commentator remarked, after a visit to Hereford in haying, that the workers were busy tossing up the yellow hay and tossing down the golden cider.

In Lancashire, England, some 2,600 servants came out from their offices and helped with the potato lifting.

STABLES, or buildings, in which farm livestock are housed during winter, should be well ventilated. Using almost air tight buildings for any kind of animals on a farm is a very great mistake. Pure air is important to anything that breathes and it is better to have housing for stock too cool than too hot. Cattle and horses should be turned out every day. There is the exception, such as dairy cows making milk records, but the exercise animals get when freed from the confinement of chains, staunchins and stalls, will help to keep them in better condition. Good ventilation without drafts is highly important. Sheep require more freedom than most animals and do best when they can runt out and into their shelter. Many farmers make a practice of feeding their brood sows at a place a little distance from where the latter sleep, so that the pigs will get some exercise every feeding time by walking a few rods for their meals. Good living conditions are highly important for farm animals during an Ontario winter. Taking a little pains to afford the stock comfortable and healthy conditions will pay dividends.

'Miscarriage of Justice'?

BACK in 1937 C. H. Cahan, Jr., now living at Agassiz, B.C., was arrested in Vancouver and charged with the robbery of a bank. He was tried before a county court judge, convicted, sentenced to seven years' imprisonment with hard labour. The B.C. Court of Appeal denied leave to appeal. Mr. Cahan declared his innocence vigorously.

Five years later Mr. Cahan was released on ticket of leave, and immediately began to press for a new trial. If he were innocent, as he stoutly maintained, nothing could give him back those lost years or reimburse him for the hideous wrong done him, but at least he could clear his name. That became his aim.

During his imprisonment Mr. Cahan had prepared a brief of his case, and this he sent to the Minister of Justice, Mr. St. Laurent, with a transcript of the evidence, and the request that the Minister exercise his power and order a new trial. The Minister did not reply, but in the Commons he told an inquiryiing member that so far as he was concerned the case was closed—that administration of justice was a matter for the provinces.

Thereupon Mr. Cahan presented his brief to Mr. Gordon S. Wismer, then Attorney General of British Columbia. Mr. Wismer studied the records, and wrote Mr. St. Laurent to say that in his opinion there had been "a serious miscarriage of justice in this case and that Mr. Cahan has good grounds for a new trial." He added these strong words:

"There is every doubt in my mind as to the propriety of his conviction....I am of the firm conviction that it was physically impossible, on the day in question, for Mr. Cahan to have committed the crime of which he was found guilty."

The Minister of Justice replied that he had no intention of reopening the case unless on a formal request from the Attorney General of British Columbia. By that time Mr. R. L. Maitland had succeeded Mr. Wismer, and Mr. Maitland took the ground that officialy his hands were tied by the decision of the B.C. Court of Appeal. However, he pointed out that the discretionary power of the Minister of Justice in the matter of a new trial was absolute and did not rest upon "any request or action" by any attorney general. But so far as Mr. St. Laurent is concerned the case is still closed and Mr. Cahan still is denied the chance to prove his innocence.

The Fortnightly Law Journal, of Toronto, now discusses the case at some length and reaches this conclusion:

"It appears to us that justice has not been done. We feel sure the (legal) profession generally is behind us in making, as we feel it our duty to do, our protest against the action, or rather lack of action, that has been taken in this case. Under the circumstances the good name of the administration of justice in Canada requires that a new trial should be ordered. The mere determination of the Minister of Justice not to order the case reopened is not a good ground for the excercise of his discretion."

This is a disturbing case. Here we have a former attorney general of British Columbia asserting flatly that Mr. Cahan's conviction was a serious miscarriage of justice, and the Fortnightly Law Journal in full agreement with that opinion. In the face of this the only man who can order a new trial, the Minister of Justice, refuses to move. It seems to us a question Parliament should explore thoroughly at the earliest possible moment. The law machinery of this country, terrible to evil-doers, should be just as diligent in protecting the innocent and righting injustice.—Ottawa Journal.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS....

ONE of the reasons why so many woman fail to give satisfaction as wives is because they do not know what their husbands expect of them. Courtship, which should be a sort of preparatory school for matrimony, has not given them a single helpful hint on the subject. For a man on one side of the altar differs from the man on the other side of the altar even as a fourth of July illumination does from a blackout.

It is literary true that the average bride hasn't the slightest notion whether her husband wants her to continue to be glamorous, or turn into a first class cook; whether he wants her to spend her life weaving spells about him, or darning socks; whether he wants her to pinch pennies, or throw money to the birds; whether he wants her to be a scintillating companion, or a yes-yes woman. And by the time the poor creature has worn herself out trying to find out why her husband has lost his taste for her it is too late to do anything about it.

But today there is good news from the front. The mystery has been solved. The Sphinx has spoken. A married man has risen in meeting and told the world what he feels he has a right to expect of his wife. He says he expects his wife to be healthy and not run him in debt for doctors' bills and sanitariums and such like expenses. He expects her to remain perpetually beautiful and young looking and not to go fat or thin on him, or lose her complexion.

He expects her to always be fresh and rested looking and not to acquire that tired, dragged out appearance that makes so many wives hard on their husbands' eyes. He expects her to be a thrifty manager who can conjure good meals out of the air in spite of points and the high cost of living, and to be a cook who would put a French chef to shame.

He expects her to be always beautifully dressed and to make a show that will reflect credit upon him. He expects her to run the social end of their marriage and to gather about them a circle of people who will be desirable to know, but they must be men and women who would be congenial to him. And she must always be ready to step out, or stay home, as he happens to feel like doing.

He wants a family, but he wants his wife to devote herself to him when he is around and do all her baby-tending on the side, and especially she must keep children gagged and shut up in a closet where he won't be annoyed by their noise when he is at home.

And, above all, he expects his wife to be always overflowing with gaiety and high spirits and to be able to pep him up and smooth out the kinks in his nerves and disposition when he comes home cross and tired after a bad day at the office. He says that he feels he has a right to expect all of these things from the woman he supports.

So there you are, ladies. Now that you know what your husbands expect of you, there is no excuse for your not turning out a satisfactory performance. All you've got to do is to be combination saint and martyr and stooge and slave and miracle-worker, and surely any woman, even the most common, or garden, variety, kind should be able to pull off a little trick like that.

No doubt the man who made out this little list of what a husband has a right to expect of his wife did it with his tongue in his cheek. But, after all, is it such a merry jest? Aren't there more tears than laughter in it, more of the biting acid of truth than good, clean fun? For isn't it, in a way, although he may never have realized it before, what practically every husband expects of his wife?

Doesn't he expect her to look like a pin-up girl after a hard day's washing and wrestling with the children, and to do the family cooking, yet never smell of the cooking? Doesn't he expect her to look like a million dollars in a hand-me-down from a basement bargain counter? Doesn't he expect her to be a little ray of sunshine, while he grouches around the house? Doesn't he expect her to stay in love with him, no matter if he never gives her a pleasant word?

And when a man complains about his wife, and his marriage being a failure and his wife not understanding him, isn't it, nine times out of ten, because she hasn't been able to be a dozen different kinds of woman, instead of just one poor human female? Don't we see old men every day divorcing their old wives because they failed to discover the Fountain of Perpetual Youth? Isn't the favorite alibi of the philanderer that his wife isn't a combination domestic drudge and wisecracker?

And isn't the reason there are so many divorces is because husbands expect their wives to be stand-ins for a whole harem, and the job is too big for any one woman to fill.

A Bible Message

My son, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my commandments with thee; so that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom, and apply thine heart to understanding: yea, if thou criest after knowledge, and liftest up thy voice for understanding; if thou seeketh her as silver, and searchest for her as for hid treasures; then shalt thou understand the fear of the Lord, and find the knowledge of God.

For the Lord giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding. (Prov. 2: 1-6.)

But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God. For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God. (I Cor. 2: 9-12.)

Grabbing Again

Chicago is at is again. Another act of the drama of the Great Water Steal is unfolding. Secretary Hull has communicated to the Rivers and Harbors Committee of the United States House of Representatives opposition of the State Department nad of the Dominion of Canada to an increase on the diversion of the water of Lake Michigan to help solve Chicago's sanitation problems.

Already 3,200 cubic feet a second are being diverted, 1,500 for navigation purposes and 1,700 for domestic users in Chicago. The proposal is for a further diversion of 3,500 cubic feet a second, which is greater than the total present diversion.

It is estimated that this would have a definite effect on the navigation and power facilities of the whole Great Lakes chain below Lake Michigan.—London Free Press.

A.D.C. to the King

General Sir George James Giffard, who has just been appointed A.D.C. General to the King in succession to Lord Wavell Viceroy of India, is the present G.O.C., West Africa. He is 57.

A brilliant student of his profession, this tall, fair-haired general who won the D.S.O. for gallantry in the field in the last war and was created a K.C.B. two years ago, has served for many years in the Colonies.

Formerly G.O.C. British Forces in Palestine and Transjordan, General Giffard was previously Military Secretary to the Secretary of State for War.—London Daily Sketch.

On Republican Government

I know indeed that some honest men have feared that a republican government cannot be strong; that this government is not strong enough. But would the honest patriot, in the full tide of successful experiment abandon a government which has so far kept us full and firm, on the theoretic and visionary fear that this government, the world's best hope, may, by possibility, want enough to preserve itself? I trust not. I believe this, on the contrary, the strongest government on earth. I believe it the only one where every man, at the call of the law, would fly to the standard of the law; would meet invasions of public order, as his own personal concern.—Thomas Jefferson, Inaugural Address 1801.

This Lamp SPEEDS UP THE DRYING OF PAINT

SPEEDING the production of vital war equipment is this Edison Mazda Infra Red Drying Lamp. By drying paints and varnishes in a fraction of the normal time, it is cutting down delays in the finishing of military equipment—from tanks to steel helmets, from land-mine cases to ammunition boxes. On duty in the war plants today, Infra Red Drying Lamps will find many peacetime uses—in paintshops and foundries, in the homes and on the farms.

29,000 Refugee Children Cared for in Palestine

Mrs. Max Furman, wife of the assistant attorney-general of the State of New York, was in Peterborough Sunday to address a meeting of the Jewish community. She came to Peterborough under the auspices of the Hadassah organization, and is making a tour of Canada in the interests of the "Youth Aliyah" movement.

MRS. MAX FURMAN

Mrs. Furman has volunteered her time to the Youth Aliyah movement, and in speaking of this movement, told a little of its history. Youth Aliyah was begun in Germany in 1933, and was originally planned to take young Jewish children between the ages of 14 and 17, to Palestine, where they were given two years training, generally in vocational skills.

However, with the outbreak of war, children of all faiths, and all ages, were accepted and looked after by the organization. Before a child can be taken into Palestine, a certificate must be obtained from the British government, giving him permission to enter, a sum of money must also be deposited with the government, and a guarantee must be given that the child will be cared for and educated until he or she reaches the age of 14.

Refugee children from Europe have made their way to Palestine, and have been put in the charge of the Hadassah groups there. One group of children covered an estimated distance of 3,000 miles, in approximately three years, before reaching Iran. However, their problems were not over, because they had to cross some 200 miles of Iraqian territory before reaching Palestine, and the government of Iraq refused to give them permission to cross the border.

Finally, the British government put the children in ships, and going by way of Arabian and Red Seas and the Suez Canal, a distance of around 5,000 miles, landed them at a port in Palestine. Here they were given medical care and put in foster homes.

Their education is the responsibility of Youth Aliyah, and each child is questioned as to his religious and educational background before being placed in a home. Every attempt is made to place the child in surroundings similar to those to which he was accustomed.

However, Hadassah has no way of helping the children until they reach Palestine, and the Red Cross, the Joint Distribution Committee, and Religious Order of Friends do all they can to help them reach the borders of Palestine. These groups, realizing that the organization which had been set up by Hadassah was capable of handling all the refugee children, donated funds to help them.

Twenty-nine thousand children are now on their way to Palestine and safety and a drive is under way to provide funds to place with the government so that they can enter. Mrs. Furman is touring Canada and the United States in an effort to raise a sum large enough to cover the cost.

A great many people are also donating money and time to this cause. The late Sarah Delano Roosevelt, mother of the president of the United States, was keenly interested in Youth Aliyah, and Mrs. Furman brought her to Toronto in the interests of this organization three years ago. Dorothy Thompson and Eddie Cantor are two of the many who are helping, and donations from many friends and well-wishers are swelling the fund.

Peter Robinson Chapter Holds Successful Tea

The Green Room of the Y.W.C.A. was gaily decorated Saturday afternoon, when the members of the Peter Robinson Chapter I.O.D.E. sponsored a tea and bazaar. Lighted Christmas trees, evergreen, and tables decorated with green and red, lent a festive air to the rooms, and cheerful groups of ladies served the guests.

Mrs. J. H. Hughes, regent of the Chapter, received the ladies, assisted by Miss Florence Adams, and Mrs. W. A. Hinds was treasurer. There were several tables of articles for sale, and business was very brisk, in spite of the somewhat inclement weather.

Mrs. W. C. McCreery and Mrs. C. L. Upper supervised the novelties display, which included pink, blue, and brown eiderdown bunnies, little dogs, oilcloth puppies, and little novelty pins, called "Peter" pups. These articles were all hand-made under the supervision of Mrs. McCreery.

Mrs. W. T. Belleghem and Mrs. N. Hamley were in charge of the white elephant table, and Mrs. Kenneth Currie and her group were supervising the home-cooking table.

A highlight of the afternoon was the "chicken draw," and tickets for this draw changed hands very quickly during the afternoon. The holder of the winning ticket received a full course chicken dinner, all prepared and ready to cook. The complete dinner was there, from the seven-pound chicken, all dressed and garnished with parsley, through four vegetables, all ready to cook, cranberry sauce, celery, to plum pudding and a sauce. The draw was conducted by Mrs. C. A. Sollitt, and Miss Doris Burgess, and won by Mrs. D. H. Hunter, 548 George Street.

Tea was served from a beautifully decorated table, centred with a large basket of red roses, in memory of Mrs. R. W. Frank, a former member of the Chapter. Dainty sandwiches and cakes were served by ladies of the Chapter, and Mrs. W. Derry, Mrs. H. T. Cranford, Mrs. H. R. Scott and Miss A. Howson poured tea.

Mrs. Stanley Braund was in charge of the tea room, and Mrs. J. Graham supervised the tea table. The decorations were in charge of Mrs. B. Burns and Miss Hazel Buller, and the work of these ladies and their groups made a most attractive setting for a successful tea.

HERE'S HOW I MAKE COFFEE GO FURTHER

FIRST of all—buy coffee for flavor! I use super-rich Chase & Sanborn Coffee!
Then I make it a rule to keep coffee in an air-tight container. And to get the right strength, I always measure the coffee and water carefully. Of course, I keep the coffee pot scoured clean, and make only the exact amount of coffee needed—never more. And I serve it as soon as possible.
But getting plenty of flavor in the first place is most important! So I say—be sure you get super-rich Chase & Sanborn Coffee. More flavor ounce for ounce. Remember—quality coffee goes further.

SWIFT'S WEEKLY WARTIME FOOD HINTS

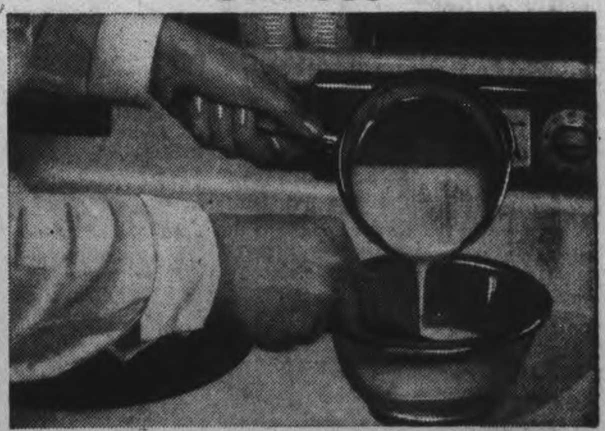
Sauces



A good sauce can make a party dish of leftovers

Now that we all must learn to make do with less meat or less familiar meats the importance of knowing how to make appetizing sauces is more important than ever.

So this week's Food Hint tells you how to make the basic 'Mother Sauce' or Béchamel. Once you can do this perfectly you can turn out a wide range of appetizing sauces, for instance:

In each case add ingredients to 1 recipe Mother Sauce.

Barbecue Sauce (Brown base) Add 1 tbsp. Worcester Sauce, ½ tsp. mustard dissolved in 1 tsp. vinegar.

Bearnaise Type Sauce (White base) Boil 1 cup cider vinegar with one onion chopped fine, until vinegar is reduced by a quarter. Allow to cool slightly. Add to Mother Sauce with 1 tsp. chopped parsley. Beat the yolk of 1 egg, stir in part of sauce, return to remaining sauce and stir 2 minutes in double boiler. Season with salt and pepper.

Brown Gravy (Brown base) Simmer meat trimmings and 1 small onion in 1¼ cups of water for 1 hour. Add to Mother Sauce.

Hollandaise Type Sauce (White base) Stir sauce into beaten yolks of 2 eggs, return to heat for two minutes stirring constantly and slowly adding 1 tbsp. lemon juice.

Experiment yourself with other flavourings and ingredients, tomatoes, pickles and herbs can all be used.

MOTHER SAUCE

1¼ cup milk or stock
1 small onion
1 sprig parsley
1 bay leaf
4 or 5 pepper berries
Pinch of mace or thyme
1½ tbsps. butter
2½ tbsps. flour
Salt and pepper

Simmer milk or stock, (use meat stock for brown sauces) with onion and herbs for 30 minutes. Melt butter, stir in flour (for brown sauce allow mixture to brown slightly). Stir in hot milk (or stock). Stir and cook over boiling water until thick and smooth. Strain. Season.

The amateur world softball series, a feature that has attracted many Canadian teams in recent years, has been awarded to Cleveland, O., in 1944 to be played at the Lakewood Elks Club. The date of the round-robin tournament has not been set, but the series will likely be played in September after local associations in both the United States and the Dominion have declared winners for the season. Last year the tourney was staged at Detroit.

The tournament, sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, will be limited to 32 teams, 16 in the men's group and 16 for women.

Pte. Max Bentley piled up five goals as Calgary Army whipped H.M.C.S. Tecumseh 13-4, Saturday night in the Alberta Services Senior Hockey League at Calgary. Ptes Bobby Carse and Alex Kaleta, also former N.H.L. players, indulged in generous scoring.

The world baseball series reached the U.S. base an Anchorage, Alaska, yesterday, when five major leaguers, headed by Manager Frankie Frisch of the Pittsburg Pirates, brought a film of the Yankees-Cards tournament. The warfront tourists included Stan Musial and Danny Litwiler of the Cards, Hank Borowy of the Yanks and Fred Walker of the Dodgers.

Green Bay Packers scored a 38-29 verdict over Philadelphia-Pittsburgh Combines in one of the two scheduled National Football League games Sunday. In the other engagement, New York defeated Washington 14-10.

L. di Benedetto of New Orleans was re-elected for the fifth straight year at the closing session of the Amateur Athletic Union in its 55th annual convention at Columbus, O., yesterday. The records committee accepted as a new indoor record the pole-vaulting mark of 15 feet, 8½ in., by Cornelius Warmerdam.

Two tie games were played in the Quebec Senior Hockey League out of three fixtures staged over the week-end. R. C. A. F. of Montreal and Commandos wound up with a 3-3 score at Ottawa Saturday night but in the return game at Montreal Sunday afternoon Air Force turned back Ottawa 5-2. Quebec Aces and Montreal Royals each scored six goals in the other Sunday engagement.

Landis Refuses To Reinstate William D. Cox

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.— (AP) — Most reading for hot stove league fans this winter is the testimony at the William D. Cox hearing here Saturday before Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis at which Cox, former president of the Phillies, sought without success to be cleared of the charge he bet on ball games.

The testimony brought out many hitherto undisclosed details in the turbulent 1943 career of the 34-year-old New York banker who purchased the Phillies last January and on Nov. 23 was banned from the game for life by Landis. It is fascinating reading.

The reason, Cox testified, that he stated to Landis Nov. 3 and Nov. 6 and to the public in a radio broadcast Nov. 23 that he "made a few small and sentimental bets on my team to win" was because it was part of "an ill-advised plan to play detective and smoke out a certain group of Philadelphians in the organization about whom he was suspicious.

Changes Story.

"The truth is he did not bet," Cox's attorney, Lloyd Paul Stryker, declared. "When Cox first saw you, Judge (on Aug. 14), he told the truth. He did not bet. In the absence of truth the least that can be done is to exonerate him of the charge of betting on games"

At the end of the seven-hours long hearings, however, Landis declared "there is no help I can give Cox . . . There is an utter impossibility to connect this plan with the repetition of his story on Nov. 3 and Nov. 6."

On those two dates Cox said he made "approximately 15 to 20 bets of from $25 to $100 per game on the Phillies to win." He said he ceased on May 20 when he learned of the rule against betting.

Cox declared he planned to "give out false information to test the loyalty of a man so that if this information came back to me through other channels I would discover who the people were."

Question by Landis: "What was the name of the man to whom you told this false information?"

"Mr. Randolph" (L. Wister Randolph, vice president, stockholder and director of the club). I told him on Aug. 10 that I made a few small bets on the team in the early part of the season . . . This information came back to me on Oct. 15."

This was the date of a stormy Board of Directors meeting at which Nathan (Babe) Alexander, assistant to Cox, called on Cox to resign as president and sell his stock because of "his obvious bad record in running the club."

Cox later did resign as president and sell his stock to Robert R. M. Carpenter, of Wilmington, Del., who installed his 28-year-old son as president.

Alexander, called as a witness by Landis, testified he had preferred "some 50 charges" against Cox at the meeting Oct. 15."

SPORTS—Day by Day

By FRED D. CRAIG

Fans who like their wrestling rough—and that would seem to be about everybody—should be able to get plenty of their favorite brand in the Tunney show at the Brock Street Arena tomorrow night. In fact the night air should be filled with folk getting tossed through the ropes, drop-kicked out of the ring and generally abused. In the first place one of the biggest and toughest badmen to be seen here this season is a principal in the main bout. He is the ornery Karl Davis who didn't earn his battle names of the Texas Terror, the Killer and the Krippler by Boy Scout deeds of kindness and service. Mister Davis will trout out his 250-pounds and his mean disposition and use them both against one of the most popular exponents of the mat game, Earl Moose McCready—and most fans are going to the Arena in the hope of seeing the Aurora farmer give the boastful giant from the Lone Star State a lesson in wrestling. Bad men are nothing new in the life of the Canadian grappler. He has met and beaten a whole tribe of them and he expects to do exactly that with the Houston plug-ugly. Of course Davis has quite a different slant on the whole affair. He declares that wrestling science doesn't mean a thing against a battler who can hand it out and has the size, strength and endurance to keep punching. It should be a riot all the way.

* * * * * *

But formidable as he is the Texan hasn't got the bad man stuff cornered. There are a few other performers on the card who are villains in their own right. One of them is Al Bunny Dunlop who takes on the French stylist Pierre DeGlane in the opener. Pierre got a decision over the pugnacious Dunlop in Toronto last week but only because the Queen City strongman got so strenuous in his methods that he was disqualified after 25 minutes of torrid wrestling. He hopes to get his revenge here tomorrow night which should mean that Monsieur DeGlane can be prepared for a bad half hour. And if that wasn't enough Promoter Tunney has come along with a pair of beauties in the semi-final bout. He has matched Rowdy Dick Hogan against the Czar. The latter is the bulky individual in the red mask and the red flannels who was seen in action against Jack Reeder and who pulled of a lot of unorthodox stuff in his first appearance here. It has been intimated that the Czar is a "mad Russian." This column hasn't any line on his nationality but we will hazard a guess that after a few minutes going over by the belting Hogan he will probably be mad anyway. The boys should make the battle something just a little short of murder.

Conn Next Champ

To diminutive Johnny Ray, a former fighter himself, this business of making a livelihood with your fists has always been his most arresting subject to talk abuot, writes Gordon Headley in the Ottawa Journal. Ray is the manager of Billy Conn and despite the fact his protege missed winning a world's heavyweight championship in his first and only meeting with Joe Louis, Ray still has his eye on that title. After Louis and Conn had both entered the army, plans were under way to bring them back in a return bout until the War Department stepped in and cancelled it. But that still doesn't deter Ray from discussing the future for Conn and putting in a vote of confidence for the Pittsburg fighter. In a recent interview, Ray made no bones about it. Conn, he firmly believes, has four more good fighting years left and in any one of those years he will strip Louis of his title. This is something to be expected from the manager of Conn but Ray doesn't hesitate to enlarge on his theory. "Irish kids," says Ray, "mature late and Billy, who is only 26, is far from his peak. He hasn't fought much and he hasn't taken any bad beatings. Louis didn't give him a bad beating in their bout except for a flurry of punches in the 13th round."

* * * * * *

On the other hand, Ray thinks, continues the Ottawa sports writer, Louis is past his peak but hastens to add that Conn and Louis will climb through the ropes again when they return to private life. "The public will always go back to that last fight," says Ray. But five years from now is a different matter. Ray is of the opinion by that time there may be a lot of good fighters who can lick Conn and Louis and asserts "Conn will be through with the ring by that time if I have anything to do with it." To have a manager take this attitude of his fighter before the latter reaches a stage what is known in the ring as being "punch-drunk," is something new in boxing for the majority of managers will continue to let a man fight as long as he is capable of acting as the "meal ticket." But the case of Ray is different. He has told many a pupil to hang up his gloves when it appeared they were at the point of absorbing bad beatings. And if they didn't heed his advice they had to get another manager. Boxing needs more men of the type of Ray. "Pop" Foster, manager of the great Jimmy McLarnin, was another like Ray. Foster looked on McLarnin as his son. When he decided McLarnin had fought long enough and had his share of success, he wisely ordered him to quit the ring while he was still sound in mind and body.

Canadiens Stopped

The winning streak of the Montreal Canadiens stopped abruptly at Boston last night when the Bruins nosed out Dick Irvin's Flying Frenchmen 5 to 4, after they had gone 14 games without a loss. Bill Calladine and Dit Clapper set up the play for the winning goal by Bep Guidolin. Thus Canadiens failed to set up any records in their long march without a defeat. They were nine short of the league mark held by the Boston Bruins and in fact failed to catch up, with their own club record of 18 games without a loss. The New York Rangers who are setting up a different kind of a long distance record have now gone 14 games without a win although they came close to it last night in Chicago where the Black Hawks just managed to fire the winning goal in the last minute of play to win 7 to 6. On the previous night the Rangers were swamped 11 to 4 in Toronto which naturally causes considerable speculation as to how a club could possibly be bad enough to be beaten by such a margin by the Leafs.

* * * * * *

While the quality of basketball being played in the Y.M.C.A. House League naturally falls below the standard of some past seasons because most of the stars of the cage game in recent years are in the armed services and scattered all over the map the loop is serving its purpose of developing youngsters and already some of the "kids" have made an impressive showing. Jim Ferguson has a pair of young snipers on his Corvette team who give promise of developing into real performers. They are Warren Smith and Eddie Nicholls. Between them the two were responsible for 55 points in Saturday night's game against Cruisers and while the opposition was admittedly weak that is a lot of scoring to make under any circumstances. Smith is a sophomore, breaking into the game last season but Nicholls is a freshman who is making his debut this season and has already rung up a fine scoring total. His 33 points Saturday night was the best effort of the season.

Sporting Chili Con Carne: Oshawa Generals came down in front of the Brantford Lions Saturday night, George Campbell's proteges winning 9 to 2....Bill Thoms is now reported out of danger at Chicago....Jack Adams must have been fit to be tied at Montreal Saturday night....His Red Wings were beaten 8 to 2 by the Canadiens and the fiery Jawn would not like that a little bit....Bryan Hextall scored a pair of goals for the Rangers last night, the first noteworthy scoring effort in some time, from one of the best right wingers in the game....Providence Reds lost their first home game of the season last night losing 4 to 2 to Cleveland after winning seven in a row before the home customers....Kingston Frontenacs walloped the Navy Saturday night for the second night in succession....The final count was 11 to 6 and the figures suggest that the two clubs must have checked their defence systems in the dressing-room. ....At that eight goals were scored in the last 13 minutes of play.

JOHNANNESBURG, — (CP) — According to a new estimate by the medical officer of health, the total population of Johannesburg has risen to approximately 600,000 of whom 291,500 are Europeans, and 256,000 natives.

Moose Faces Acid Test In Davis' Tilt

Big Earl McCready (240 pounds) wrestles Karl "Krippler" Davis (250 pounds) in the Brock Arena tomorrow night and the management might well be advsied to put special support under the ring. With some five hundred pounds of brawn and bone being hurled around the mat, besides the referee, the ropes and posts are in for a gruelling evening.

It's a big match in every way that mat maestro Frank Tunney has lined up this week. McCready needs little extolling here. The Aurora Farmer is one of the greatest wrestlers in the whole world and although Whipper Billy Watson today holds the Empire title there are many who think McCready will regain his championship the next time they meet. But tomorrow night big, good-natured Earl meets a foe who is certain to give him one of the acid tests of his great career. Karl Davis has only appeared here once but in the bout with De Glane the other night he showed himself a formidable, ruthless mat giant who knows how to break opponents up in short order. Davis has a record of hurting and even crippling his man, that no other wrestler possesses.

If it were not for the calibre of the main bout principals, the semi-final tomorrow night might well have proven the feature bout. With such a pair as the masked Czar and Rough-house Dick Hogan meeting for the first time in their rugged careers, the results should be far from sluggish. And still another explosive setting will exist when Bunny Dunlop and Pierre De Glane resume where they left off in their bout at Maple Leaf Gardens last week. Dunlop was disqualified in that match and immediately screamed for another chance. The courageous De Glane is fully prepared to accommodate him.

Boston In Deal

CLEVELAND (AP)—Roger Peckinpaugh of the Cleveland Indians stated yesterday the Boston Red Sox had made an offer for outfielder Jeff Heath and pitcher Ray Poat, with Boston players involved in the proposed deal.

Week-end Stars

By The Canadian Press

Gerry Heffernan, Montreal, who sparked Canadiens Saturday night by banging four goals into the Detroit nets when his team defeated Red Wings 8-2. He collected an assist during the same game and last night he added three more points to his week-end record when Bruins defeated Canadiens 5-4.

Herb Cain, Boston, who tallied once and teed up the puck for two more last night.

Bill Cowley, Boston, who scored one goal and collected points for two assists.

Fernand Majeau, rookie Canadien, who made two of the Montreal counters last night.

Fido Purpur, Chicago, who scored three goals last night when Black Hawks defeated New York Rangers 7-6.

Ab Demarco, Rangers, who got one counter unassisted and collected two more points last night.

Jack Hamilton, Toronto, who scored four goals and one assist as Leafs licked New York 11-[illegible] Saturday night.

Oana Sold

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Pitcher Henry (Prince) Oana, who spent part of last season with Detroit Tigers, has been sold by Milwaukee Brewers, American Association pennant winners, to Buffalo of the International League, no trade being involved. Brewers have purchased second-baseman Alex Kampouris from the Washington Senators.

Toronto Wallops Rangers 11-4; Hawks Win 7-6

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The slender margin of a goal left Montreal Canadiens and New York Rangers companions in misery today.

This strange union of anything but kindred spirits developed from the National Hockey League's sixth week-end of competition, which saw four contests draw a cumulative paid attendance of 50,243.

The to Sunday contests provided the link between Montreal and Rangers, the league leaders losing 5-4 to Boston Bruins on foreign ice for their first defeat in 15 league games while New York succumbed to Black Hawks at Chicago Stadium.

The loss extended New York's string of games without victory to 14. The only point Rangers have acquired in that stretch—derived from a 2-2 tie against Canadiens a week ago Sunday—saved them from threatening the longest losing sequence record, established when Philadelphia Quakers dropped 15 consecutive games from Nov. 23, 1930, to Jan. 8, 1931.

Canadiens, on the other hand, could rationalize the interruption of their undefeated string by pointing to a record of 11 victories and three ties in previous starts, good for a 4½-game lead over Chicago and Toronto Maple Leafs, joint holders of second place. One of the victories came Saturday as the Habitants crushed the Detroit Red Wings 8-2 at Montreal while Rangers bowed 11-4 at Toronto.

Individually, week-end highlights were provided by Jackie Hamilton, Gerry Heffernan and Cliff (Fido) Purpur. Hamilton, 18-year-old rookie elevated in mid-season last year from Toronto Junior ranks, collected four goals and one assist in Saturday's victory over Rangers while Heffernan matched the output for Canadiens over Detroit. Purpur had three goals for Chicago Sunday.

Bruins in 4th

Heffernan also scored once against Boston Sunday while teammates Majeau and Elmer Lach connected twice, but Bruins hung on grimly for a verdict which lifted them into sole possession of fourth place, two points ahead of Detroit, and which partially atoned for the humiliation of their 13-4 loss against Canadiens last month. Boston goals were evenly distributed between Johnny Crawford, Al. Palazzari, Herb Cain, Bep Guidolin and Bill Cowley, who has scored at least one point in all 14 games Boston has played.

At Chicago, Rangers appeared safely in port for the first victory when they seized a 6-5 lead in the third period on goals by Ossie Aubuchon and Grant Warwick. But Purpur, whose two second-period goals had given Hawks a 4-4 tie, knotted the count 6-5 with little more than two minutes to play. Then, 59 seconds from the finish, George Allen combined with Earl Seibert and Bill Mosienko to beat hard-working Ken McAuley for the goal that stretched Chicago's string of home victories to six.

Bisons Buy Pitcher

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher George Jeffcoat has been acquired from the Indianapolis Indians of the American Association by the Buffalo Bisons in a trade for shortstop Pat McNair and cash, it was announced yesterday at New York. Jeffcoat formerly played for Boston Braves.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By CHARLES EDWARDS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Dec. 6 — (CP). — B. L. Anderson, secretary-treasurer of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, writes in the Canadian Annual Golf Review that "if the war does not appear headed for early conclusion next spring, I believe many clubs will fold for the duration, although some clubs which hung on this year may be able to continue for another season.".....To prevent a ball shortage in 1944, Anderson urges that all available old balls be returned to manufacturers for re-covering during the winter months.

They rise again:

Withdrawal of the Cornwall Army hockey team from the Quebec Senior Hockey League because of the Army's soldier-first policy has had a beneficial result. The Army now is entering a team in the Cornwall Intermediate League, formed to provide winter entertainment for the city. Jack Park of the Cornwall Standard-Freeholder writes: "To use the words of Lt.-Col. Rodolphe Larose, who sums the situation up in one sentence, service hockey in Cornwall now will be played to entertain and interest the masses instead of the few."

Track topics:

Jockey Robert Summers, the former Winnipeg hockey player who became a top rider on both western and eastern tracks this year, has contracted to ride for the Four Oaks Stable in Ontario next season....Johnny (Vancouver Province) Park says Austin Taylor has not forgotten his dream of sending the Kentucky Derby winner to the post some day. The Vancouver breeder disposed of most of his thoroughbreds when war broke out. But when his more serious duties are finished Taylor, whose Indian Broom finished third in the 1936 Derby, will be back shooting for the classic again.

Incidentally:

Commenting on Reg Thelfall's assertion his Winnipeg Bombers would beat Hamilton Wildcats four games out of five, Walter (Hamilton Spectator) McMullen writes: "He should have had them leave that losing game to the last.".....Dink (Montreal Gazette) says Montreals famous girl skiers and swimmers, the Wurtele twins, Rhoda and Rhona, will be subjects of magazine articles in both Canadian and United States publications shortly....Tiger Mitchell, the goalkeeper for Regina Army Caps last winter, has obtained his discharge from the Army owing to a bad back. And Bill (Red) Tilson, a forward star with caps, now is serving overseas. Bill is a brother of the Red who played or Oshawa Generals.

Gunder Haegg Given 3 Records

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 6—(AP)—The Records Committee of the United States Amateur Athletic Union approved a host of time-shattering 1943 performances by athletes at its 55th annual session Saturday.

Among the marks given official sanction were three American standards established by Gunder Haegg, Swedish runner. They were his mile clocking of 4:05.3; 3:47.8 for 1,500 metres; and 8:51.3 for two miles.

New American indoor records which went into the books included Cornelius Warmerdam's pole vault of 15 feet 8½ inches; Hugh Short's 1:10.2 performance for 600 yards, and Greg Rice's time of 8:51 for two miles.

Johnny Weismuller's long standing record for the 100-yard free style swim went by the boards with the approval of Alan Ford's mark of 50.6 Weismuueller swam the distance in 51 flat in 1927.

Kingston Raps Toronto Sailors

By The Canadian Press

Kingston Soldiers sank Toronto Sailors 11-6 in Saturday night's senior O. H. A. fixture for a repeat victory in home-and-home games against the Tars on two successive nights. As a result, Frontenac Army nosed ahead of St. Catharines to take exclusive possession of second spot in the league standing only one game behind the leading Hamilton Majors whom they are to meet at Hamilton in their next outing.

Frontenac and Navy were even 4-all at the second recess but, after that, the puck flew past netminder Evans six times in a row between the two last Navy scores. Seven Frontenacs figured in the goal column with Jim Peters four, and Red Hamill and Red Doran accounting for a pair each.

Tisdale accounted for one goal and four assists and other Kingston scorers were Giesebrecht, Foster and Booth. For Navy, Art Thomson performed the hat trick, two of the goals being unassisted while Benson, Scotty Milne and Joe Klukay each scored one. By getting three points during the evening, Coach Hamill went up to league leadership once more in the individual standing.

Boston Upsets Canadiens' Winning Streak

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—(CP).— Boston Bruins waged a grim battle all the way to subject Montreal Canadiens to their first setback in 15 National Hockey League starts by a 5-4 margin Sunday night before a crowd of 13,500.

Bruins, determined to wipe out last month's 14-4 slaughter in Montreal, their most humilating defeat in history, gained the lead after two minutes of play, but were forced to drop back in deadlocks twice before Bep Guidolin riffled the deciding tally through Goalie Durnan early in the final.

Defenceman Jack Crawford sent Bruins off to a flying start. Before the first period ended Bill Cowley, who has registered at least one points in each of Bruins' 14 starts, and Rookie Al Palazzari also tallied. Herb Cain broke a 3-3 deadlock less than a minute before Guidolin angled in his "clincher" after taking a long forward pass from Dit Clapper.

Call Two Back.

Rookie Fernand Majeau collected two of the Montreal goals in the first and second periods, before and after Elmer Lach drove a 20-footer through Goalie Bert Gardiner. Before Gerry Heffernan sent the fourth puck into Gardiner's net, Canadiens had two goals called back.

Heffernan made one of them and Maurice Richard the other. It was ruled that those players had taken their passes over the red line and therefore were offisde.

While putting together their long string of successes, Canadiens played two tes with Bruins and one with lowly New York Rangers. As a result, Boston has the only rink that has not witnessed a Canadiens' victory this season.

The Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.,
Associated Press Sport Writer.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 — (AP). — From India Sgt. John Derr, former Greensboro, N.C., sports editor, sends a harrowing report of the hazards of golf in the Far East that makes our shortages of caddies and golf balls sound like minor league stuff....The tale is told in the "C.B.I. Roundup" involves sun-baked fairways that will send a well-hit drive bouncing crazily into a rough that really is jungle, greens with 'more lumps than an Indian mattress' and caddies and ball boys —you need at least two of the latter—who pay even less attention to their duties than those at home.... To this the cheerful Sgt Derr adds a pencilled comment: "Only lost four balls, two caddies last week" ....The same paper reports that a bomber squadron in China is seeking a new baseball diamond because the one now in use is so situated that "if you over-run third, you're liable to land in Jap-occupied territory."

Real Giants:

Six of the eight managers of National League baseball clubs used to play for the New York Giants under John McGraw and four of them—Mel Ott, Billy Southworth, Frank Frisch, and Freddie Fitzsimmons— were members of the same club in 1925. The other two are Casey Stengel and Bill McKechnie.....Wonder where you'll find another record like that?

Albert J. Fitzgerald Outlines Progress Of Electrical Union

Some phases of the origin and progress of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America were related by Albert J Fitzgerald, international president, speaking here on his first visit to Peterborough at the Collegiate Institue auditorium Saturday afternoon.

Neville Hamblin presided, and Mayor Hamilton extended a welcome to Mr. Fitzgerald on behalf of the citizens. An audience of between two and three hundred men and women greeted Mr. Fitzgerald and C. S. Jackson, Canadian president of the association. Entertainment features presented a group of young girls, pupils of Marion Perry Laird, in dancing numbers, and a series of interesting films from the National Film Board. A one-act play had to be omitted on account of time allotment.

One of the flims was a striking review of the rise of Japan from an obscure Oriental nation to an empire seeking hegemony in Asia and the Pacific. Associated with its showing was a timeliness in view of the declaration of the Allied leaders only a few days ago to the effect that Nippon must be stripped of all its ill-gotten possessions. The pictures emphasized the rigorous training of the Japanese from childhood, the complete subordination of the subject to the state, and an accumulated military power that seemed a tremendous challenge to the world militant democracy.

Harshness of Living

The subservience of the people to the ends which its military autocracy has revealed and the harshness of living imposed by Japan's war lords seemed to be expressed in one of significant captions: "Life is but a candle in the wind; there is no painless exit from this world."

"We are all proud of Peterborough as a place to live," said Mayor Hamilton in addressing Mr. Fitzgerald. "We are proud of our industries and we are happy in the friendly co-operation that has existed between management and employees, and we hope those good relations will continue. We are proud of our fine type of citizens, of our city's work in the production of war munitions, and of the large number of our young men and women who have enlisted in the active forces. Many of you are new-comers, and I sincerely hope you will be able to express yourselves as favorably of Peterborough as we do."

Appreciation To Mayor

"I wish to express my appreciation to Mayor Hamilton for his welcoming address," said Mr. Fitzgerald. "I think you should all appreciate his being present with us today. I can tell you he has displayed more courage than a lot of public officials in the United States who wouldn't have shown their faces in ten miles of a hall where a union meeting was being held. I think it indicates that your civic officials will support you as long as you conduct yourselves as responsible citizens of your community.

I feel quite a bit at home in Peterborough, because I am talking to Canadian General Electric employees. I was one myself for fifteen years. The other reason is because of my acquaintance with a man who served for some years as works manager at the Peterborough plant, Mr. Carl Salmonsen. He sits across a table as the Lynn representative of "G.E." whenever negotiations are being conducted between the company and the union. There has not been a single instance of friction, and there is never a social affair conducted by the union that is not honored by his presence. I want to say to you honestly that Mr. Salmonsen is as fine an employer as any union or group of employees would care to deal with. I told him several weeks ago I was coming up to Canada, and he told me I would find the people here very similar to ourselves in the United States, and I gathered that negotiations in Canada were about where we were ten years ago. Mr. Salmonsen said he felt we would be able to solve our problems, and that employees and employers in this country were reasonable people."

Ten years ago, Mr. Fitzgerald continued, industry in the United States was engulfed in the depression of two or three years progress. People were laid off because there was a lack of work. Many who had been with the General Electric up to twenty-five and thirty years were stricken from the payrolls. Some were given an allowance of $200 or $300. The Lynn plant's 12,000 employees went down 80 per cent. They felt the necessity of some method of joining together to protect their interests and to place themselves in a position to bargain collectively with the officials.

There used to be a time when the employer with up to 10 men knew them all by their first names, their personal and family problems, and they had a more or less happy existence. But, industrial plants today run all the way from the hundreds of employees up forty or sixty thousand. It is impossible for the management to know all the problems affecting employees. The only substitute for those old conditions is organization and collective bargaining to put forward your problems."

Mr. Fitzgerald briefly reviewed the efforts in 1933 to form an organization in the G.E., the shop union and then finally the employees' decision to have the C.I.O. represent them.

"We spread our organization throughout the G.E., and today we have thirty-four of them in the United States under contract and employing something like 140,000 persons. We have carried on relations with G.E. for the last eight years and we have not lost one minute, and there has been no serious work stoppage in any one plant. The minimum wage when we started was 40 cents an hour and the highest paid was 80 cents. The lowest wage is now 78½ cents and some are earning up to $1.80 and $1.90 an hour. The average hourly wage is $1.14 an hour. That will give you an idea of the progress the employees of that company in the United States has made."

One of the Great Companies

Mr. Fitzgerald said he liked the "G.E." . . . "It is one of the good companies in your country and in mine," but if they could get away with a 40 cent wage they would do so; and the same applied to such benefits as vacation allowances. "They are in business to make money so they can present the most favorable business report possible at the end of the year; and we're in business for the same purpose. General Electric is a world wide organization. You and I can't deal with them individually, but we can deal with them collectively. That is what they do because they maintain a connecting link between all their plants in other countries, especially as they did before the war. That is what we are a link connecting all our employees together."

Labor was fortunate at that time, having at Washington a friendly administration and one of the greatest Presidents the United States ever had in Franklin D. Roosevelt. "He aided with legislation enabling organization without any reprisals and I can tell you we have one of the finest organizations of all the unions in the United States.

You people have nothing to fear by organizing, and you needn't think your company will be placed in a position where it will no longer continue in business. The last ten years of G.E. have been its most prosperous. They have contented employees getting decent wages, and General Electric has been able to make most outstanding contribution to the United States war effort. There is not one of our G.E. plants that has not been complimented by the Government authorities. The government and the Company both admit that our union has made a great contribution to the war effort of General Electric. The shop stewards take on the job of running war bond drives, blood bank details and so on. Every plant has subscribed more than its quota of bonds and some of them have gone 40 to 85 per cent beyond what they were asked to raise. I noticed the same thing in Hamilton and Welland where I have been for several days. In fact, as we go along we are trying our hardest to be a responsible part of our communities, and I think we have been doing so with a great deal of success."

Coastal Planes

Russell, flying the big plane, bore through rain and fog and into the heavy fire from the U-boat's conning tower and deck guns. His depth charges blew the conning tower several feet into the air. Russell flew back again, dropping flame floats to mark the survivors for rescue craft.

Describing the attack, he said: "We saw the conning tower rise several feet at the height of the explosion and when the plumes subsided there was no trace of the U-boat. Later we saw oil and about 15 bodies."

Three of the subs fell victim on the sixth day, all being sent down by heavy bombers' depth bombs.

In each of the six confirmed sinkings, wreckage and bodies were seen afterward on the surface, and a total of 80 to 90 survivors were seen following some of the successful attacks. Results were not observed in the other nine attacks.

On the first of the eight days, the communique said, three submarines were attacked by planes from Iceland escorting convoys. No U-boats were seen near the convoys themselves, but they were found by aircraft sweeping the approaches.

On the second day United States heavy planes swept the neighborhood near the convoys, and one plane attacked with unobservable results. Later another United States plane straddled a surfaced U-boat with depth charges, and it sank by the bows, with 30 survivors left in the water. That was the first confirmed sinking.

Sinks Stern First

A heavy bomber on the same day exploded depth charges under another U-boat, and it went down stern first, leaving 20 to 25 crewmen afloat. Another heavy bomber led by Wing Cmdr. R. M. Longmore, signalled that it was attacking a submarine, but no further word was heard from the plane.

Medium bombers ended the second day with another attack near nightfall, but results were not seen.

A medium bomber bagged the third sub on the third day, leaving a patch of oil, debris and bodies.

"Later a third convoy was threatened by a concentration of U-boats," the communique said, "and on the sixth day a Liberator attacked a surfaced U-boat near this convoy. An hour afterward the Liberator renewed the attack on the U-boat, which had re-surfaced. The submarine went down stern first, leaving wreckage and bodies in the water."

Four heavy bombers joined in the fifth kill, made that same day. One sighted a submarine, and another attacked, but the U-boat crash-dived. Later this second heavy bomber, joining a third, attacked with depth charges and the submarine crew ran on deck, inflating dinghies. The U-boat was destroyed. Fifteen to 20 survivors took to the dinghies.

Russell's Sunderland got the sixth U-boat later in the day. From then on there were no further incidents.

logging wages in Canada as invited by District 18, U.M.W.A., then who is to say to the railway worker that same method of comparison is not open to him? This Board's policy seems to have been in error."

(Canadian railway workers now have an application on file with the national board seeking to have Canadian railway rates brought up to the higher level paid to railway workers in the United States.)

The companies, in opposing the union's application for increases in Nova Scotia coal mine rates, had estimated that the over-all cost of the increases sought by the union would be $15,460,225 a year — an increased cost on 1942 production figures of $3.44 a ton.

The Board said it presumed increases granted Nova Scotia miners would have to be met in the same way as had been done in the West—by increases of from 10 to 65 cents a ton in the retail price of coal— and it was doubtful whether the price increases could be held to coal alone because of coal's importance in the costs of other industries.

Second Suicide Note Found

HALIFAX, Dec. 6—(CP)—The hunt for Cmdr. F. M. Johnson of the Royal Navy spread afield today as police pressed their investigation into his mysterious disappearance and the slaying of his young daughter here.

Circulars describing the officer were sent out to law enforcement agencies in Canada and the United States as city police, though convinced Johnson took his life after killing the girl last Wednesday, did not neglect the possibility he might still be alive.

The battered body of his daughter, nine-year-old Naida, was found by divers Friday in Halifax harbor's northwest arm, near the Johnson home. The girl's skull had been bludgeoned.

Her father, who vanished with her Wednesday, was believed to have drowned in the arm. A note suggesting suicide was found in his house, and later residents, reported seeing a man resembling him in a canoe, later found empty.

Another note indicating Johnson planned to kill himself and Nadia was published today by the New York Daily Miror. The Mirror said it was dated Dec. 1—the date of their disappearance—and received at New York by Cmdr. E. A. Wills of the United States Navy, retired, an old friend of the British officer.

The note expressed Johnson's despondency at the condition of his wife, a Russian-born former countess, who was critically injured a couple of weeks ago in a New York automobile accident.

The British destroyers bombarded the coastal road between Pescara and Giulianova, sent shells screaming into the coastal towns of Ancona and San Benedetto, and sank three enemy coastal craft and a merchant vessel.

Aerial support of the Allied ground forces was limited by bad weather, but the enemy-held Yugoslav port of Split was bombed yesterday by medium bombers and a floating dock at Orbetello, on Italy's west coast, was hit and left burning.

The British 8th Army's drive to the Moro River represented a gain of about 2½ miles from San Vito, capture of which was announced yesterday, and carried the Adriatic offensive to within 14 miles of Pescara.

ment for all willing to work, standards of nutrition and housing, and social insurance against unemployment, accident, death of the breadwinner, ill health and old age.

Calling upon farmers and labor to hold the line in the battle against inflation, Mr. King said the winning of the war still was the major problem. Until victory was achieved, no amount of planning would solve post-war problems, although Canada was giving attention to such problems as could be foreseen.

Road Will Be Rough.

Mr. King said it was possible the war against Germany would end next year but if it was not won before the end of this winter, the next summer would see British, American and Canadian forces engaged in the most severe and costly campaigns yet fought.

He reviewed the fight against inflation—"one of the quickest and surest ways" of weakening the home front, and said:

"The battle of inflation is being waged by the people of Canada in co-operation with their government. The price ceiling is the front line of that battle. If we fail to hold that line the whole structure of our war effort will be impaired.

"We would endanger the continued and uninterrupted production of munitions of war and of foodstuffs. We would be lessening the value of war savings and indeed of all savings, both compulsory and voluntary.

"We would be cutting down the value of allowances to soldiers' dependents and of the pensions of disabled soldiers themselves.

"Worst of all, by jeopardizing production through industrial strike, we would be adding further risk to the lives of our fighting men. If the battle line begins to crumble, if the price ceiling breaks down, in the long run all stand to lose."

Obituary

MRS. DAVID MORRISSEY

DOWNEYVILLE, Dec. 6 (ENS). —After a sudden illness of about four days, Mrs. David Morrissey of Downeyville passed away Sunday on the old homestead where she was born. She was in her 93rd year and her main interest had always centred in her home. Mrs. Morrissey was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Lucas, pioneers of the district.

She leaves to mourn her loss, one daughter, Mrs. John O'Reilly of Lindsay, and two sons with whom she lived, Thomas and Timothy J. Morrissey, both of Downeyville. Her husband died 15 years ago.

The funeral will be held Tuesday morning at 9:30 to St. Luke's Church where she was a member and interment will be St. Luke's Parish Cemetery.

BUSINESS enriches the NATION and YOU

The 5th Freedom

TO freedom of religion and of speech, to freedom from want and fear, we add a fifth, a special freedom—the liberty of personal initiative, the freedom of private enterprise.

Because Canadians have been free to conduct their industrial, commercial and financial establishments unregimented by the state, personal initiative in Canada has flourished in the service of Canada's people. Aside from temporary wartime restrictions, no one dictates to you what you shall eat or wear or enjoy—and in the operation of your business no autocratic overlord specifies what goods you shall make or what services you must offer.

Through the free interplay of commerce, business sets out to meet public demand. For whether the public buys or not depends on whether business offers what it wants. Thus free enterprise is controlled by the one really effective factor—the needs and wants of the people. 4D-40

TWO CHIMNEY FIRES

There were two minor fires reported to the Fire Department on Sunday. At 10:40 a.m. they went to 580 Downie street, residence of Kenneth Jones. When the chimney took fire, clothes which had been stuffed in a pipe hole to keep out the draft also ignited. At 4:50 in the afternoon F. C. Paterson, 629 Rubidge street, summoned firemen for a chimney fire. There was no damage.

AN IMPRESSIVE SERVICE.

Five men were inducted into the eldership of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening by the minister Rev. Dr. J. D. Smart. The five new elders are David Miller, William Young, David Todd, Thomas McMillan, Sr., and J. M. R. Fairburn. James Dutton addressed the newly inducted elders and Dr. Smart the congregation. In connection with Mr. Fairburn, he becomes an elder in the congregation of which his grandfather, Rev. J. M. Roger, was the first minister. Mr. Roger came to Peterborough from Scotland 110 years ago to minister to the Presbyterians in the settlement and wide area surrounding.

CREATED A DISTURBANCE

John Dugan, Westcott street, who pleaded guilty in police court this morning to causing a disturbance in North Monaghan was fined $5 and $2.50 costs by Magistrate E. A. Gee.

TURKEYS 45c A POUND

Hen turkeys were quoted at 43 to 45 cents a pound on the local market Saturday, and gobblers were 40 to 42 cents. Only a few were noticed. Ducks and geese were scarce, and chickens were fairly plentiful. In fact their supply tended to weaken the price which was down to 32 and 33 cents. Other prices were unchanged.

WINTER'S ARRIVAL.

Snow from the east this morning was generally accepted as evidence of winter's definite approach and the end of the long "open" fall extending through the first week of December. Some of the down-town merchants shovelled the sidewalks in front of their stores twice before noon as sign of fresh industry that will probably weaken and settle into a routine choring before the season is far advanced.

Defence Claims Hall's Is Not Drygoods Store

"We admit that we were open for business and say that we were quite entitled to be open. We are not a drygoods store," declared K. B. McLaren, K.C., of Toronto, in police court this morning in the course of the hearing of a charge against Richard Hall, Limited, of a breach of the city's early closing by-law.

Mr. McLaren appeared on behalf of Richard Hall, Limited, and City Solicitor W. F. Huycke prosecuted.

The Hall store was charged as a drygoods store with being open during prohibited hours, and it was indicated early that the defence would be that the store was not a drygoods store but a variety store and thus entitled to remain open.

When Mr. Huycke called City Clerk E. A. Outram to prove the by-law Mr. McLaren interrupted.

"We will admit the validity of the by-law," he said.

Found Store Open.

Inspector James F. Reid testified that he visited the Hall store on the Saturday night in question, with Constable Mesley, and that they had learned from a woman they saw carrying a parcel that she had bought some towels and towelling in the store. Inspector Reid stated that C. E. Saunders had stated to him that they had a right to keep open because they were a variety store.

"What do you call a drygoods store?" asked Mr. McLaren in cross-examination.

The witness explained that in his opinion that it was a store that sold dress goods and towels, ladies' clothing, etc.

"Would you call jewellery, chinaware, rugs, etc., drygoods?" asked Mr. McLaren, and witness said that he would not.

Inspector Reid said that the police department had had a complaint from J. H. Jamison about the Hall store being open and also a telephoned complaint from some one else who refused to give his name.

"I consulted the Chief Constable," said the witness, "and he instructed me to take another officer with me and visit the Hall store to see whether or not they was selling going on."

Assessors Called.

Max R. Sloan, assistant city assessor, told on inpecting the Hall store recently with a view to ascertaining the percentage of floor space, etc., devoted to different lines of goods. He gave it as his opinion that 53 per cent. throughout the whole store was devoted to drygoods.

Bert Graham, also of the assessment department, corroborated that evidence.

John McIntyre, manager of the dress goods department of the Hall store, was the last witness before lunch. He said that 10 per cent. of the first floor was devoted to his department.

To Mr. McLaren the witness told of various lines carried by the store, including rugs, window hardware, jewellery, china, and said that Woolworth's, Kresge's and similar stores carried most of those lines, too.

"The only difference between Kresge's and us," said the witness, "is they have a lunch counter and we haven't."

I.O.D.E. Chapter Helps Fund For Christmas

It was in the final year of the last century that the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire was founded, one of the prime objectives being to stimulate and give expression to the sentiment of patriotism which binds the women and children of the Empire around the throne and person of their gracious and beloved Sovereign.

With many objectives, all of a service nature, among which is the forwarding of every good work for the betterment of their country and its people, they have since that time played an important part in many enterprises which aimed at this, which more than ever has come prominently to the forefront since the present war commenced.

The Peterborough and District British War Victims fund can in a sense lay claim to almost similar objectives, for undoubtedly the work it has been doing must more than ever help to bind this country to the motherland, and it can be said that in this they have had the assistance of a number of the Chapters of the I. O. D. E. of this city and district.

Among these, the Otonabee Chapter has been quite outstanding in the support it has given to the fund, having helped on quite a number of occasions in a substantial way, which in one instance amounted to $300. and in the latest appeal made on behalf of the special donations for Christmas, they have sent in another $50. to add to their good record in this respect. This Chapter is now headed by Mrs. A. Leach as Regent, while Mrs. W. R. Davern is the treasurer.

St. Paul's Group Assists

Today's gifts largely go to the credit of ladies groups, for another from St. Paul's Church known as the "Cheerful Workers" of the Ladies Aid, have made a nice contribution of $25. through Mrs. Gordon Hall and Mrs. Mahood who is their treasurer, and one can hardly refrain from noting that that in a great many ways, Christmas would indeed be very barren but for the part played by the ladies in its celebrations in more ways than one.

Another Church group, the W. A. of St. Mark's Anglican Church of Otonabee is also listed in today's list having wade a donation through Mrs. Jack Collins their treasurer. This is a missionary group whose funds are used entirely for that purpose, so this represents another type of Christian work, in the sending of help to those in need.

Then another group largely composed of ladies, but who had the active support of the men of the district, added another $3.00 to their market stall effort of Saturday November 27, when Mrs. L. McClenaghan brought this amount in, which came as the result of cash contributons from Mesdames K. Larmer, R. Wood, B. Snelgrove and W. Lunn to give the Fraserville Community Service Club a total credit of $24.25, of which a total of $5.25 was represented in cash contributions.

Loblaws Head Office Helps

Two years ago, the fund made an appeal to the head office of the Loblaws Groceterias Co. Ltd. through the local management, and received help on that occasion. Having made a similar appeal through the same channels, another contribution for $10 appears also in today's list towards the special Christmas Cheer for children fund.

Obituary

MRS. MARY KEARNEY

A life-long resident of Peterborough and district, Mrs. Mary Kearney, 569 Elm street widow of the late James J. Kearney, died at her home Saturday in her 69th year. She was born in Ennismore, daughter of the late James Cavanagh and Mary Ann Flood, and belonged to the Catholic Women's League and the Altar Society at St. Peter's Cathedral. Her illness lasted only a short time.

Surviving are two daughters, Camilla of Toronto and Lorenda at home, and one brother, William F. Cavanagh of Peterborough.

The funeral will be held Tuesday from the family residence, 569 Elm street to St. Peter's Cathedral for requiem mass. Interment will be made in St. Mary's Cemetery Young's Point.

Court Lenient In Beer Case

"We will have to charge this to John Barleycorn," said Magistrate E. A. Gee in police court this morning in dismissing a theft charge against Wheeler Windsor of stealing a parcel containing a number of articles from Mrs. Irene Kirk.

W. J. Arthur Fair defended the accused who pleaded not guilty.

Mrs. Kirk testified that Windsor came to the table in the Hotel Champlain beverage room at which she was sitting and sat down. She had a parcel containing some things she had just bought and Windsor who had been drinking said he was going to take it and put it in his car. She said that she ordered him not to touch the parcel, but when she came back from a visit to the washroom both Windsor and the parcel were gone.

Thomas Hughes, North Monaghan said that Windsor worked for him and the other day when an old car was being turned over to remove some of the parts the parcels fell out. Hughes notified the police who obtained the parcel which turned out to be the one taken from Mrs. Kirk.

In the witness box Windsor swore that he did not remember seeing the parcel in the beverage room at all. He had been drinking, he said, and when he saw the parcel the other day it did not recall anything to him.

Magistrate Gee said he would give the accused the benefit of the doubt.

Fuel Controller Clears Up Subsidy

The following confirmatory letter has been received by the city from J. S. Whalley, wood fuel controller, and is of special interest to the dealer-producers of wood fuel:

"To avoid any further misunderstanding, I would say that a bona fide wood dealer who is also a producer and who has a Wartime Prices and Trade Board license may obtain the $1.00 production subsidy, provided he can produce receipts signed by his employees, showing payment to such employees for fuel-wood cut after March 5, 1943, and before March 1, 1944."

Bus Agreement Is Ready For Council

The city's agreement with Peterborough Bus Lines providing a ten year franchise will probably be passed by the council tonight, and referred to the electors for their endorsation at the municipal elections.

The legal committee of which Alderman Sands is chairman has scrutinized the clauses one by one several times of late, following the negotiations of a year ago, and about all that remains for the council is to signify its assent and leave the rest to the people.

One of the important clauses sets forth the basis of compensation by the company for the right of operating on the city's streets:—

The company will pay a percentage of its gross revenue beyond $50,000, the schedule of percentages being as follows:—

On gross revenue exceeding $50,000 and less than $75,000, the payment will be at the rate of 2 per cent a year; from $75,000 to less than $100,000, the rate is 3 per cent; from $100,000 to less than $125,000 the rate is 4 per cent; and on all revenue over $125,000 the rate is 5 per cent.

Payments will be made in two instalments on July 31 and January 31, and the City Auditor shall audit the company's gross revenue account and supporting records each year.

The only other reference to payments indicates the license fee of $500 in two instalments. And the company is also paying an increased rental for the car barns on King street.

Fares are set at the present charges: adults eight cents cash or 4 tickets for 25c; students, 8 tickets for 25c; children under 12 years 3 cents. The company undertakes to operate not less than fourteen buses on the present routes.

One of the members of the council mentioned the Sunday schedule, but this and the holiday accommodation remain on the existing service arrangement.

On holidays buses leave Simcoe and George streets for all routes every 30 minutes from 9.45 a.m. until 11.15 p.m. The Sunday schedule begins at 10 a.m., and is apparently intended chiefly for citizens attending church. The last bus in the morning is at 11.20 o'clock, and the middle hours of the day are inactive until 6.15 with the last of the evening at 7.45 p.m.

It is understood that the council intends to publish the agreement if it is adopted by the council.

Two Men Are Injured In Toronto Explosion

TORONTO, Dec. 6 (CP).— Two men were seriously injured Saturday when an explosion of undetermined origin blew apart the two-storey building housing the Canadian Distributing Company, a chemical factory on Niagara street in downtown Toronto.

The two, Charles Rushwood, manager, and Frank Gelling, an employee, were rushed to hospital suffering severe cuts and lacerations.

Windows in nearby houses were shattered and a number of residents were knocked from chairs or bowled over from the concussion.

Message From Queen

WOODSTOCK, Dec 6.— (CP).—Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ingle of Woodstock, have received a message from Queen Elizabeth expressing "warmest and most grateful thanks" for opening their home to British war guests. Roy and Rita Davis, teen-aged children from Middlesex, Eng., have made their home here since their arrival in Canada three years ago.

BELLS RING AGAIN

COVENTRY, England — (CP). —The bells of Coventry's ruined Cathedral tolled for the first time during the war at the election of Councillor Alec Turner as mayor. The edifice was blasted during a raid three years ago.

War—4 Years Ago

(By The Canadian Press)

DEC. 6, 1939—Commons gave British government vote of confidence on conduct of war. Russians claimed Finnish main defence line broken while Finns claimed Soviet invaders repulsed on all fronts.

Turks Cooling Towards Germany

LONDON, Dec. 6 — (CP). — Turkey's future role in the European War was the subject of anxious Axis speculation to-day following an assertion by a German news agency yesterday that Turkish President Ismet Inonu had conferred with Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt in Cairo on Saturday.

The conference, about which a communique is expected Wednesday or Thursday "after the return of the Turkish statesman," followed the history-making Iran conference of the chiefs-of-state of Britain and the United States with Russian Premier Stalin, the Nazi news agency Transocean said, quoting Ankara dispatches.

The Germans said that Inonu was accompanied by Numan Menemenciglu, Turkish Foreign Minister and the General Secretary of the Turkish Foreign Ministry. They asserted also that Emir Mansur, son of King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia, and Imir Fahad, nephew of the King, arrived in Cairo Saturday presumably "to take part in some Cairo conference."

Eden's Groundwork.

The German news agency DNB said no change in Turkish policy was expected as a result of the alleged conference, but the Nazi-controlled Vichy radio, significantly perhaps, quoted Franz Von Papen, Nazi ambassador to Turkey, as saying on his arrival at Istanbul from Berlin that "Germany is anxious to continue its friendly collaboration with Turkey so that this country can be saved the horrors of war."

A Turkish declaration of war against the Axis, which would afford the Allies new air bases for operations in the Black sea, the Balkans and the Mediterranean, has been believed by some to be increasingly possible since Menemencioglu conferred with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden after the Moscow conference.

7-Day Wonder

OMAHA, Dec. 6—(AP).—The lady in the post office examined the pen closely and approached Clerk Neil Chapman who braced himself for the customary gibe at "post office pens that nobody can write with...." Instead she asked him to take the pen apart so she could get the name and number of the point, saying it was one of the best pens she had ever used. "Well, it happened once," Chapman said.

Canada Big Cog In Allied Aerial Machine

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

OTTAWA, Dec. 6 — (CP). — Canada's war effort in the air paid rich dividends to the United Nations in 1943.

The dream of the founders of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan in 1939 of an Air Force of "overwhelming strength" became a reality as immense fleets of heavy bombers carried almost nightly loads of explosives to German industries, long-range aircraft hounded submarines in the Atlantic and air support proved a vital factor in ofensives in the Mediterranean area, the South Pacific, and the Aleutians.

The mass-production training organization of the R.C.A.F. in Canada produced many of the men. Canadian airmen played a major role in air operations on many fronts.

More than 30 per cent of R.A.F. Personnel sent on bombing missions to Germany from the United Kingdom are Canadians. They are either members of the 36 Canadian squadrons operating there or of the R.A.F. squadrons which, in all contain 11 Canadians to every one in an R.C.A.F. squadron.

Growing Strength.

Early this year the Air Training Plan's schools turned out their 50,000th trained aircrewmen. Since then training has gone on but the R.C.A.F. won't tell how many more have been produced.

The strength of the R.C.A.F. is reported as more than 200,000. Just how many are overseas is a military secret, but the number grows each month. It took a special jump as the year-end approached when a number of home war establishment squadrons moved overseas intact.

Canada is committed to provide half the recruit taken into training school in Canada with Britain, Australia and New Zealand providing the other half.

Last summer recruiting dropped to a level which R.C.A.F. authorities considered dangerous, but the crisis passed and in November Air Minister Power was able to say the supply of aircrew was assured until well into 1944, and perhaps until the end of the war.

Women Take Over.

Making possible the remustering of some 10,000 men from ground to air crew was the steady enrolment in the R.C.A.F. Women's Division which took over an increasing number of ground jobs in a wide variety of trades.

Formation of the Canadian bomber group in Britain was one of the important organizational developments of 1943. It was followed by organization of Canadian fighter wings and establishment of all-Canadian fighter stations. Some Canadian bomber and fighter squadrons moved to North Africa before the invasion of Sicily and Italy.

The City of Windsor fighter squadron moved from Malta to a captured airdrome in Sicily, the first Canadian squadron to operate from a European base.

The R.C.A.F. home war establishment assumed increased anti-submarine duties during the year, taking charge or air patrols in the Western Atlantic.

Civil Servants Plan To Organize Council

In order to study problems which are facing Civil Service employees, a meeting of all federal civil servants located in Peterborough will be held Sunday, December 12, at 2.30 p.m. in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. This will be under the auspices of the Federated Association of Letter Carriers and the Canadian Postal Employees Association, and a District Council will be formed.

The object of the council is to operate within the Civil Service Federation and to include all federal civil servants in the city, and it is hoped that it will help solve some of the problems now arising and which may involve them in the future.

An outline of these problems will be discussed and it is hoped that a representative from the headquarters executive committee of the federation will be the speaker.

Aiding Italians

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(AP).—The U.S. Office of War Information quoted Swedish dispatches from Berne Sunday as saying Nazi-controlled newspapers in Northern Italy complained that Italian resistance groups in mountain hideouts are being supplied by Allied airplanes and by Italian manufacturers.

SAILORS ON HORSEBACK—Uncomfortably mounted on a make-shift saddle, and with a rope halter to guide his charger, this officer, one of a party of visiting British navy men, is on his way to a Yugoslav mountain village to meet the local commander of the Yugoslav Patriot Partisan army. Some of the local inhabitants who turned out to cheer the visiting Allies, can be seen in the picture.

Lots Of Turkeys

MEAFORD, Ont., Dec. 6—(AP). — No turkeys for Christmas? You can't prove it by agriculture authorities here, who say Grey county breeders have raised 75,000 more birds than last year. Leslie Shepherdson, who farms at nearby Walter's Falls, will offer 600 turkeys for sale.

Smith Farmer Struck By Car

Fred Steinkrauss, 45, of R.R. 2, Peterborough, sustained a scalp wound, a bruised right leg and an abrasion of the right shoulder when he was struck and knocked down by an automobile on Water street, just north of Charlotte street, on Saturday night.

The car involved in the accident was driven north on Water street by Bernard Lee, 31 Park street north. Lee told police he was driving at ten miles an hour and that he did not see Steinkrauss, who walked diagonally across from the west side of Water street to the east until it was too late to prevent striking the man.

In addition to his other injuries Steinkrauss was found to be suffering from a slight concussion but his condition is not considered serious.

Inspector Dies

TORONTO, Dec. 6.—(CP).—Harold Joseph Richards, inspector for the Ontario Fire Marshal's Department for the last four years, died suddenly yesterday at hi shome. Born in Cranbrooke, B.C., he was with the Ontario Provincial Police for six years before joining the Fire Marshal's Department.

Recover Four Stolen Cars; One Stripped

Four automobiles stolen in Peterborough in the last few days have all been recovered but in two cases the owners have suffered serious loss.

The car owned by Major Jas. McGrath, stolen from in front of the armouries, was found Saturday in North Monaghan. It had been driven well off a side road and stripped of its four wheels and battery.

Another machine owned by George Walton, Bonaccord street, and stolen from where it had been left parked on Albert street, outside the C.G.E. plant, was located in the same district and a brand new battery had been stolen.

A third car, belonging to Mrs. Melville Morrow, taken from in front of the Legion Hall, was picked up by Lindsay police. It was not damaged.

The fourth stolen automobile, belonging to Art. O'Halloran, McDonnel street, was found by Provincial Traffic Officer L. A. McClure a mile south of Bailieboro on Highway 28. It had been abandoned after it had run out of gas.

Wants Veterans Home

TORONTO, Dec. 6.—(CP).— The executive committee of the Veterans of South Africa passed a resolution here Saturday deploring the conditions which permitted a 98-year-old Imperial army veteran, RSM. Charles W. Hughes, to die in a House of Industry here last Thursday. The protest, which will be forwarded to the Dominion government, asks for the establishment in Canada of a home for aged war veterans.

HOW TO GET A LOAN AT NEW REDUCED RATE

Household Finance cuts rate on all loans over $300— No endorsers needed—Convenient monthly instalments

IF YOU need a loan of $350, $400 or $500, you should learn about Household's new reduced rate—2% per month on loan balances of $300 or less and 1% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $300. This new rate cuts the cost of every loan of more than $300. Our business has steadily grown as more and more families have learned about Household service. The increased business has cut our operating costs. Now we have reduced our rate so that customers may share in these savings.

What to do

You are welcome to apply for a loan of any amount from $20 to $500. Just tell us about your problem and choose a convenient payment plan. You need no endorsers or guarantors. We lend largely on character and earning ability. So if you have a steady job or other source of income, don't hesitate to come to Household. Loans are arranged privately and quickly—in 24 hours or even sooner if necessary. Monthly payments shown in the table include principal and interest. You pay nothing more. We have no hidden charges of any kind. The sooner you repay the less your loan costs.

Cash for most any purpose

You may borrow at Household to clean up old bills, pay your doctor or dentist, make repairs, help a relative—for almost any purpose. If you have a money problem, phone, write or visit Household Finance.

IN MEMORIAM

In fond and loving memory of our dear son, Donald, who entered into rest, December 6, 1930.

Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days;
Sincere and kind in heart and mind,
What a beautiful memory he left behind.
— Ever remembered by Dad, Mother, Sister and Brothers.

DAVIS — In loving memory of Gertrude, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis of Ennismore, who passed away December 5, 1935.

'Tis sweet to know we'll meet again,
Where troubles are no more,
And that the one we loved so well,
Has just gone on before.
— Ever remembered by Mother, Father, Sisters and Brother.

YORK—In loving memory of my dear daughter Annibell who passed away four years ago, December 4, 1939.

No morning dawns, no night returns,
But that I think of you,
Those left behind are very dear,
But none replaces you.
— Ever remembered by her Mother, Mrs. E. York.

BLEWETT—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Jean Blewett, who passed away December 6, 1942.

Surrounded by friends we are lonesome,
In the midst of our joys we are blue,
With a smile on our face we've a heartache,
Longing dear mother for you.
Home in the beautiful hill of God
By the valley blessed so fair,
Some day when our task is o'er
With joy we shall meet you there.
— Ever remembered by Husband and Daughter June.

Catholic Church Raps Socialism

TORONTO, Dec. 6. — The Catholic Church is opposed to Socialism in the sense that it means the denial of the right of private property, the assertion that all wealth belongs by right only to all the people collectively through the State or Government.

This view is expressed in a statement issued by the Bishops' Committee for Social Action, under the signature of Most Rev. J. C. McGuigan, Archbishop of Toronto, and released over the week-end.

"The Church defends the right of private property because this right is essential to private liberty," the statement says, in part. "The individual has nothing he can call his own if the State has the right to control the material things man needs for his life and happiness.... Right is more than fact and property is more than possession. If the State defies me my right to property but promises me the use of more wealth, or more money to spend, I am not reconciled to this condition of abject dependence. If the individual has no right to anything he cannot be robbed of anything. The State can do no wrong. Such is the logic of Socialism which denies the right of private property. It is a logic against which we feel our human personality rise in protest and the Church, which has been the defender of human rights throughout the ages, voices our protest and makes it her own."

The Archbishop points out that the word Socialism "is used to connote everything from Lenins Communism down to the Canadian National Railways." Writers who accept the designation of Socialist for themselves have learned to avoid giving definitions of Socialism, the Archbishop continues. The Church, when using the word Socialism herself, reserves it for a doctrine or system which she has condemned.

Ridicules Motto

WINDSOR, Dec. 6—(CP).—"Nothing is so silly as the saying 'Nothing matters now but victory'," Lt.-Col. C. E. Reynolds, national president of the Canadian Corps Association, told a Corps rally here on Saturday night. He said there are things which should be done now, "which will in no way retard the victory, but will aid the period of transition between war and peace."

Marignys Reach New Home In Cuba

HAVANA CUBA, Dec. 6 (AP).—Count Alfred de Marigny arrived here yesterday, intending to make Cuba his home.

Accompanied by his wife Nancy, he came from Nassau, Bahamas, where he was asked to leave or face deportation following his acquittal of the murder of his father-in-law, wealthy Sir Harry Oakes.

The de Marignys travelled in a small, uncomfortable freight boat chartered for the trip of two nights and a day. Nancy, dressed in a tweedy plaid suit and sneakers and stockingless, complained of two nights without sleep in the cabinless motor ship.

Their arrival here was unexpected, and there was a delay of two hours while customs and immigration officials were rounded up. Their hosts, leading yachtsmen of Havana, were not present.

The couple will stay temporarily in a suite at Hotel Nacional and expect later to take a home in suburban Varadero.

Meanwhile, Marquis Georges de Visdelou, de Marigny's close friend who also was invited to leave Nassau, was on his way to Haiti.

He boarded a sailing vessel at Nassau Saturday night.

De Visdelou shared a cottage with de Marigny at the time Sir Harry was slain, and at the trial testified for him.

Yugoslav Force Repels Germans

LONDON, Dec. 6.—(CP).—Bitter fighting raged along almost the entire length of Yugoslavia's irregular front to-day as fresh reserves of German and Bulgarian troops were thrown into the struggle to smash guerilla opposition, a communique from the forces of Gen. Josip Broz (Tito) said.

The broadcast announcement said reinforcements being rushed to Yugoslavia included two divisions from Austria. It asserted Polish, French and Russian prisoners were being used to plug the Nazi ranks, and repeated the charge that Chetnik guerillas of Gen. Draja Mihailovic were fighting alongside the invading armies.

Particularly bitter fighting was reported from Slavonia, where the communique said the [illegible] failed to break through into [illegible] territory after achieving [illegible] successes in the capture of [illegible] a town on the Zagreb-Osyek [illegible] way.

Another guerilla success was reported from Bosnia, where Tito's forces said they captured Irnovo, near Sarajevo.

At other points along the mountainous positions held by the guerillas in the Hinterlands, Tito's forces said they had repelled all enemy attacks.

Victory Garden Tops

BELLEVILLE, Dec. 6.—(CP).— a three-acre victory garden started by members of the R.C.A.F. Training School here, produced 2,100 cabbages, 500 dozen corn, 800 head of lettuce, 12 tons of tomatoes, 40 bags of potatoes and other greens. The voluntary gardening was done Saturday afternoons, on off-duty hours and even on 48-hour passes.

Hershey Bears Retain Top Spot

By The Canadian Press

Hershey Bears today remain atop the American Hockey League as a result of their 4-2 conquest of Indianapolis Capitals last night and their 2-2 draw with Buffalo Bisons Saturday night.

The Bisons defeated Pittsburg Hornets 2-2 last night, while Cleveland Barons whipped Providence Reds 4-2. In the other two games Saturday night Hornets defeated Reds 4-3 and Barons gained a 2-1 decision over Indianapolis Capitals.

In the Bear's entanglement with Capitals, Captain Wally Kilrea scored the 100th goal of his A.H.L. career. His counter at 11:29 in the first period but Bears in the lead.

Other Hershey goals were counted by Bill Hudson, Johnny Harms and Peggy O'Neill. Alex Titson and Nakina Smith were the Indianapolis marksmen.

Saturday night the Bears rallied in the third period to score two goals and give them a tie with Bisons.

Bison scorers were Maury Rimstad and Dede Klein and Bears' goalgetters were Fred Hegert and Billy Moe.

Former Canadien

In the Bison-Hornet encounter at Buffalo, Bob Walton — down from Montreatl Canadiens — drove home Walt Ataas' rebound early in the first period. Fred Hunt scored Bisons' second counter 12 minutes later.

Wendell Jamieson bagged Hornets' only goal in the second period.

After seven home games without a defeat, Reds bowed to Barons 4-2 at Providence last night.

Defenceman Dan Sprout gave Barons an early lead, but Harold Cooper tied it up. Just before the end of the first period Lou Trudel's goal kept Cleveland ahead for good. Pete Horeck added another counter in the second and about half way through the third Tommy Burlington tallied the fourth.

Jack Toupin scored Reds' second goal late in the third round.

A reshuffled Hornet lineup handed Reds another 4-2 defeat at Pittsburg Saturday night. Hornets jumped into the lead early in the first period. They were tied for a few minutes in the second but Tony Hemmerling's count gave them a 3-1 start in the final period. Bill Gauf registered their fourth counter at 19:47.

Bowling Record

GUELPH, Dec. 6.—A five-pin bowling mark of 1,700 for five consecutive games, which has been unofficially claimed as a world record, stands to the credit of George Hall, one of Guelph's top-notch trundlers.

Hall's outstanding performance was brought to the attention of Canadian Bowling Congress officials by Fred Whyte, secretary of the Guelph senior five-pin league. A communication received Saturday confirmed the score as the highest ever listed in world records.

The Guelph bowler made the high mark in a local competition in which he topped the 300-mark in five consecutive strings. His scores ranged from a low of 308 to a high of 380 for an average of 340.

Scores Topheavy In House League

Contrary to expectations the Y.M.C.A. House League double-header Saturday night failed to produce two close arguments. As a matter of fact the winner in each case took the decision by a city block. Joe Stewart's Algerines swamped the Destroyers 36 to 4 in the opening game and Jim Ferguson's Corvettes ran up the record score of the season in the second half of the double bill, beating the Cruisers 78 to 27.

Harry Currie, captain of the Destroyers, was an absentee and his team, showing little signs of an effective attack, was smothered by the Algerines. It was a close-checking affair in the first half with the winners blanking Destroyers 9 to 0 but the Stewart team began to click after the rest and ran in 27 points in the second half, with two baskets by the Destroyers as the only comeback. Stewart led his club with 18 points. Shadgett and Northcott each tossed a basket for the losers to save a shutout.

Algerines (36)—J. Stewart 18, Kidd 9, Al. Stewart 4, Jones 2, Griffin 2, Thompson, Thomas 1.

Destroyers (4)—Fallon, Matthews, Seabrook, Shadgett 2, Allcock, Northcott 2, Higgins.

Referee—Bill Edgar.

Defence was thrown to the winds in the second game when the Corvettes rand wild to pile up a total of 78 points. Eddie Nicholls, with 33 points, the high single of the season, Warren Smith with 22 and Jim Ferguson with 17 were the big three of the Corvette attack, passing the ball smartly and doing some expert sniping. The result was that they opened up a lead of 29 points in the first half, to lead 36 to 7 and they kept up the scoring pressure all through the second session.

Cruisers had plenty of scoring chances themselves but their shooting was inaccurate. Grierson led the losers with eight points.

Corvettes (78)—Smith 22, D. Ferguson, J. Ferguson 17, Brown 6, Nicholls 33.

Cruisers (27)—R. Johnston 5, Hardill 4, Ketcheau 6, Grierson 8, Sisson 4, Geraghty.

Referee, Steve Csumrik; umpire, R. Kidd.

In a Friday night game Pete McArthur's Fairmiles who share with the Algerines the honor of being the only undefeated teams, won their third victory in a row at the expense of the Military Training Centre, winning 27 to 16.

It was a close hard-checking battle. The Fairmiles were in front 10 to 7 at the half and increased their margin in the second session, despite a hard fight by the Military team who had the ball a lot of the time but failed to cash in.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

INVITING BY AN OVERBID

PROPER employment of the Blackwood convention by a skilled pair does not preclude using either ace-showing cue-bids or direct jumps above the game level as slam invitations. In fact, the presence of the Blackwood convention in the pair's kit of tools gives an even more precise meaning to the other methods. Cue bidding one ace indicates desire to know about some particular other ace. And jumping a major suit bid to five proclaims the apparent certainty of only two losing tricks in some one non-controlled suit and the desire for small or grand slam if the partner can stop it on the second or first round respectively.

North: ♠ 9 8 7 6 ♥ 4 ♦ A 8 7 3 ♣ 7 5 3 2

West: ♠ J 4 3 ♥ A K Q 8 ♦ 9 5 4 ♣ Q 10 6

East: ♠ 10 ♥ J 10 9 5 3 2 ♦ 10 6 2 ♣ J 9 4

South: ♠ A K Q 5 2 ♥ 7 6 ♦ K Q J ♣ A K 8

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
4 ♣	Pass	4 ♦	Pass
5 ♠	Pass	6 ♠

Here was a case of South combining cue-bidding and overbidding as a slam invitation in the most exact manner—better for this particular hand than using the straight Blackwood convention as most players employ it, to find out only about the number of aces and kings held by the partner. If South had used the Blackwood and North indicated his single ace, South would still not know whether or not to gamble on a slam, and gamble is just what it would have been.

By cue-bidding, South gave himself a chance to sign off at 4-Spades by passing if North showed no first round controls by bidding 4-Spades. He could have answered 4-Hearts, denying the diamond ace, but showing the heart one, with 6-Spades. But 4-Diamonds showed the control about which he was most desirous of hearing. That made the scoring of 5-Spades a certainty, so he bid it. North knew that all tricks should be taken by the declarer as soon as he could get the lead in hearts. Holding a blank or that ace, he could have bid grand slam, with a singleton or king-queen he could bid small slam, so he did.

Germans Name Balkan Leader

LONDON, Dec. 6 (CP).—A provisional government headed by the civilian leader of the National Liberation authority has been formed to rule Yugoslav areas liberated from the Germans, the Free Yugoslav radio announced today. The action was taken at a meeting of 140 delegates, it was said.

Dr. Ivar Ribar, who was the first president of the first Yugoslav Constitutional Assembly in Belgrade after the last war, was elected president of the newly-formed parliament and head of the liberated territories, the broadcast said. He was titular head of the National Liberation Authority before formation of the Provisional Government.

A new constitution is to be drafted as soon as possible, the broadcast added.

Gen. Josip Broz (Tito), commander of the Yugoslav Army of Liberation, was raised to the rank of marshal by the new government and was appointed head of the Committee for National Defence.

Fighting Heavy

Today's war bulletin, issued from Broz' headquarters reported exceptionally heavy fighting between Yugoslav Partisans and German forces between the town of Glina and Petrinja in western Croatia, and said more than 300 of the enemy were slain. Broz reported a Partisan setback in Macedonia, where his forces were forced to evacuate the town of Debar near the Albanian border.

British commentators, describing the Partisans' political action as an embarrassing challenge to the government of Dr. Bozhidar Puric, at Cairo, said it was likely to prove equally embarrassing for the Allied Powers which recognize the Cairo government as the legitimate one.

The Free Yugoslav radio's announcement of the provisional government without mentioning King Peter, the Puric government of Gen. Draja Mihailovic, war minister in the Puric cabinet and leader of the Chetnik forces inside Yugoslavia, came as a complete surprise to British authorities.

They assumed that the Partisans, dissatisfied with the Cairo government and at loggerheads with Mihailovic, took matters into their own hands in an attempt to solve Yugoslav internal problems.

Terrific Barrage Dazes Germans

By DON WHITEHEAD
Associated Press War Correspondent

WITH THE 5th ARMY NEAR MIGNANO, Italy, Dec. 3—(Delayed)—(AP)—Behind the mightiest artillery barrage since the British 8th Army smashed Marshal Erwin Rommel's Africa Corps at El Alamein in Egypt, the 5th Army has attacked and driven a wedge into the Germans' socalled "winter line" at Mignano.

British and American troops brought up hundreds of guns to blast at the enemy on the Camino and Maggiore Heights west of Mignano in a savage resumption of the drive on Rome.

And tonight those heights are held by the Tommies and Yanks giving them control of this vital sector with observation of the enemy's movements in the Liri Valley below and beyond Assino.

All day yesterday the guns rumbled and the fury of their thunder increased to reach a climax at 2 a.m. today. Then four hours later Americans left their slit trenches to open the assault on Mount Maggiore.

Ground Shakes.

Never had American troops gone into an attack behind such an artillery barrage. The ground trembled and a storm of demoniac sound filled the valleys and poured over the mountains.

The artillery of one group alone hurled 4,000,000 pounds of explosives and steel into the narrow sector which had given the Germans observation of Allied movements in the valleys below.

German prisoners trapped in their foxholes by the steady pounding were dazed by the concussion of exploding shells.

In one sense the barrage was heavier for the enemy than at El Alamein because it was concentrated on a far smaller area.

As a result American troops advancing up the Maggiore Mountain sides found little resistance from those Germans who remained alive.

This sudden storm of activity broke the stalemate which had held the front line almost stationary since the heavy rains began almost three weeks ago and gave Lt.-Gen. Mark Clark a strong position within the winter line.

Extra $1,000 Spent On Roads In Emily

The Emily municipal council met in the Farmers' Club rooms, Omemee, on Tuesday. Members present were Paul J. McGuire, Reeve, in the chair and Councillors Vincent Fee, George Magee, Thomas Morrisey and Milton J. Thurston.

Communications were read from C. A. Poynton, district engineer, agreeing to a suggestion from the Emily council that members of the township council might assist or oversee operations on the township roads without the township being penalized thereby in the matter of subsidy during the man-power shortage, and stating that he had forwarded their suggestion to the auditor for the Highways Department with the request that it be given the most favorable consideration that the circumstances will allow.

From J. A. B. Marshall, chief municipal engineer, approving of an additional $1,000 being expended on the township roads.

From the Canadian Automobile Service Association, re the claim of Stewart Morrison for claim for compensation for damages to a truck while gravelling Emily township roads. Liability admitted.

Reports of livestock valuers were received from Leonard Atwell, D. M. Costello and M. McInnes.

A tender for the purchase of part Lot 10, Con. 11 at $25.00 was received from James C. Lucas.

The road accounts as presented by Walter Herlihy, road superintenlent, were ordered pair, $800.10.

Motions Passed.

The tender of James C. Lucas for the purchase of north part Lot 10, Con. 11 at $25 was accepted and the Reeve was authorized to sign the papers necessary to the transfer of this property.

The Reeve was authorized to sign the documents necessary in connection with the bonding of the collector-treasurer.

By-law No. 721 appointing deputy returning officers and poll clerks for the municipal election and other details necessary was given its several readings.

Council adjourned to meet on December 15th next at ten o'clock.

Missing 4 Months Girl Returns Home

TORONTO, Dec. 6 — (CP). — After four months of "seeing what it was like to be on my own," pretty 16-year-old Mary Elizabeth Harvey is home to-day, found through a Canadian Press story December 1 reporting her disappearance. The girl disappeared from her home last July 31 without explanation, and was working in a St. Catharines, Ont., restaurant when located yesterday.

Her father, Stewart Harvey, who went overseas with the Medical Corps nearly four years ago, died overseas of pneumonia in November. Mary Elizabeth did not know of his death.

Mary Elizabeth's young brother, eight-year-old Jimmy, was so glad to have his sister back that he "sat up all night telling her what had happened while she had been away." Young Jimmy has taken on the important position of man-of-the-house since his father died and he couldn't understand why "Sister Mae" didn't come home.

Mary Elizabeth said she took a boat to Port Dalhousie on July 31. She went to St. Catharines by the trolley and got a job in a restaurant there.

Police Start Drive

W.I. Prepares For Christmas

ROSENEATH, Dec. 6 (ENS). — Two quilts were quilted at meeting of Women's Institute recently and will be forwarded to the Salvation Army, Cobourg.

The president, Mrs. Earl Waldie was hostess and the meeting was held in the town hall which was decorated with Christmas ornaments and a tree holding gifts later exchanged by the members. During the business $5 was donated to a fund for a family suffering loss through fire, and $5 to the Christmas Cheer Fund for British Children. A progressive euchre party will be held January 7, the proceeds to go to the Milk for Britain Fund. A third quilt pieced and quilted since the previous meeting was sold for $4 and the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. S. Thackeray, reported $34.95 in the treasury.

Mrs. Thackeray was appointed to interview the council regarding an entrance key. Mrs. J. W. Pacey and Mrs. B. Thackeray were named the quilt committee for January and shut-ins and the older folk in the community will be remembered at Christmas. Mrs. Frank Adams will be hostess for the January meeting and Mrs. J. W. Pacey and Mrs. James Timlin form a program committee.

Mrs. A. Halstead in a paper entitled "My Greatest Blessing," declared building for God's kingdom, having a home in Canada, happiness and health were among the ingredients in "The Greatest Blessing." Mrs. Charles Sandercock, presenting current events, dealt with the life of General McNaughton as a man, a soldier, and a noted scientist, the greatest gunner in the British Empire, and his training of Canadian soldiers ever since the last war.

The president read "Little Towns of Canada." Miss Clarice Atkinson played a piano solo, and all sang Christmas carols. Mrs. S. Thackeray, program convener, arranged a musical contest.

Congratulations were extended to Mrs. Alfred Braithwaite on her 41st wedding anniversary. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Bingham, Peterborough.

To Use Warships

OTTAWA, Dec. 6—(CP).—Some discussion has taken place on the possibility of sending a restricted number of male Britons of ages at which they could be used in national service home on British warships, it was learned last night. One source said he thought the number so transported would be "only a trickle," and that trips made by war guests on British warships had been envisaged only because of the great pressure upon other means of transport.

Y.P.A. Visitors Give Program For Group

PLAINVILLE, Dec. 6 — (ENS).—About 35 members of the Plainville Young People's group motored to Baillieboro where they were guests of the Y.P.S. at the United Church. The visitors presented the program which consisted of a topic "Am I My Brother's Keeper,'" given by Edgar Buttar; the scripture explanation by Rev. M. C. Fisher and a piano solo contributed by Miss Doreen McKinley, also a duet with their own guitar accompaniment by Mrs. Stuart Herriott and Miss Evelyn Brisbin. Later the Baillieboro group entertained with recreation and lunch, which was much enjoyed.

A Pimple Covered Face Kills Many a Romance

The lives of many young people are made miserable by the breaking out of pimples, and you probably know of cases where a promising romance has been spoiled by those red, white, festering and pus filled sores on the face.

"War Far From Won"—Ralston

By DOUGLAS AMARON—Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH CANADIAN FORCES IN ITALY, Nov. 24 (Delayed)—(CP Cable).—Canada's fighting men in Italy are "a tremendous inspiration and a tremendous challenge," Col. J. L. Ralston, Canadian Defence Minister, said today after a tour of infantry and artillery units. He said the men by their performances here and in Sicily "justified the confidence" placed in them.

(Since this dispatch was written, Col. Ralston has arrived at Allied headquarters in Algiers, having concluded his visit to the troops in Italy and a base hospital in Sicily.)

The Minister came to the Canadian area after "a most helpful and cordial" meeting with Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery, commander of the British 8th Army, of which the Canadians form a part.

He said he had given Gen. Montgomery renewed assurances from the Dominion Government that "there are no strings attached to the Canadian Army."

The 8th Army commander had given him, he said, "the benefit of his wide, successful experience."

First Visit.

This was Col. Ralston's first visit to the Mediterannean theatre and he told this correspondent, whom he met after a long tour of the Canadian camps, that he hoped he might return again if unable to see all the troops on this visit.

Some units were engaged in patrol activity along the Sangro River front, and although Col. Ralston was anxious to see them before he left, so far he has had to bow to the divisional commander's request to stay away.

"They probably think a Minister's presence would take the men's mind off the battle," Col. Ralston said, laughingly.

Col. Ralston's meeting with the press was informal and dealt more with personal problems of the newspapermen than with war. But in talks with the troops the Minister paid the men the highest tribute for what they had done so far and for what he said they were going to do in the future.

"I, as an old sweat, have not gone through the things you have done and gone through," he said. "We at least had a dugout," referring to the fact the troops on the Italian front

Britain Will Demand Bacon But Careful Grading Imperative

OTTAWA, Dec. 7.—(CP).—Col. J. J. Llewellin, newly-appointed British food minister, to-day assured Canadian producers of continued British demand for their bacon in wartime when he spoke briefly at the Dominion-Provincial agriculture conference in session here.

"No one here need have any fear that by going extensively into hog prfoduction now that their market will slip away from them," Col. Llewellin said.

"But when the war is finished it will be well to look around to see if the time has not come to grade bacon more carefully and not to send overseas excessively fat hogs."

Col. Lllewellin said he would ask the conference to make a "real drive to maintain the present British bacon ration."

Col. J. J. Llewellin, British food minister, verified this suggestion today by telling Dominion-Provincial agriculture conference delegates here that if no more than 450,000,000 pounds of bacon is obtained next year he might have to cut weekly British bacon ration from four to three ounces.

"Otherwise, if we cannot get more than 450,000,000 pounds of bacon from Canada next year I may be put in the position where I have got to cut the (weekly) ration from four to three ounces," he said.

(Under an agreement announced in October, Canada undertook to ship the United Kingdom not less than 450,000,000 pounds of bacon a year for the next two years, compared with 675,000,000 pounds it proposed to ship this year. In addition to the 450,000,000 pounds annually, Canada will ship whatever further supplies of bacon can be provided.)

German Officers Make Peace Overtures

LONDON, Dec. 7—(AP).—A Reuters News Agency dispatch from Zurich quoted "reliable circles" in Berne today as saying that a group of deposed German army officers of high rank had recently made peace overtures to the Allies.

The officers, it was said, were acting in close collaboration with a number of leading German industrialists.

The dispatch recalled other recent reports from various sources, including London, that certain elements within Germany—convinced that defeat is inevitable—had made tentative approaches to the Allies with the hope of obtaining less drastic peace terms than might be expected later. Such reports never have been confirmed.

Bitter Push Takes Hill Position

5-Mile Breach Punched By Fifth Army

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Correspondent

ALGIERS, Dec. 7.—(AP).—Fifth Army infantry has crashed through Nazi defences in bitter assaults to capture the most dominating positions in a 25-square-mile area overlooking the road to Rome, it was announced to-day, while on the east coast of Italy British tanks of the 8th Army rammed across the Moro river.

A Headquarters officer, describing the battle in the vital Monte Camino and Monte Maggiore area on the western sector, declared: "We now hold the most important features in that area roughly five miles long and five miles wide."

Battle in Fog.

On the Adriatic side of the German 10th Army line, Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomerys' tanks and infantry drove across the Moro river, 10 miles above the Sangro, in a tank battle fought in a fog. Four German Mark IB tanks were wrecked.

American troops wading flooded areas, with water up to their necks at many places, marked the second anniversary of the United States' entry into the war with bloody fighting.

Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, realizing the importance of the 1,500-foot and 2,800-foot peaks dominating the road to Rome running through Cassino, threw the full weight of his divisions into desperate counter-attacks.

But despite these heavy blows, U. S. troops captured a mountain point six miles west of Mignano, overlooking the swollen Garigliano river, and farther inland plunged a mile west of Filignano, taking 40 prisoners in a localized assault.

South of the American positions on the ridges of Mount Maggiore, British forces were driven off a ridge by a furious assault, but in a nearby sector seized a German strong point.

South of the American positions on the ridges of Mount Maggiore, British forces were driven off a ridge by a furious Nazi assault, but in a nearby sector seized a German strong point.

The 8th Army punch across the Moro river met less difficulty than anticipated, but the tank action was one of the few fought in mountainous Italy. It occurred at San Leonardo, 2½ miles northwest of San Vito, and two miles inland.

North of the Moro, the Germans threw in two counter-attacks that were beaten off.

The fighting on the Adriatic flank now runs from the mouth of the Moro river to a point four miles north-east of Orsogna, and then south to Casoli.

Heavy rains swept the 8th Army front. Again, as for the past several days, there was no report from the left flank of the 8th Army where Canadian and British troops were last reported carrying out patrol activities in the Apennine mountains at the head waters of the Sangro river.

Supply Trouble.

Both the Germans and the Allies are having difficulty bringing up supplies all along the front across

BITTER PUSH

Churchill, Roosevelt Confer With President Inonu at Cairo

LONDON, Dec. 7 — (CP). — A conference between Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and President Ismet Inonu of Turkey has been in progress in North Africa, it was learned today, and the results will concern Turkey's future position in relation to the Allies' war against the Axis. The participation of the Turkish president in conferences with Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt apparently was based on the never - implemented British-Turkey pact of 1939 which pledged Turkey to aid Britain in the event of aggression leading to war in the Mediterranean.

The diplomatic correspondent of Press Association wrote: "Churchill and Roosevelt are in conference with President Ismet Inonu of Turkey and their deliberations may in due course have almost as important an effect upon the course and conduct of the war as the great inter-Allied talks which already have taken place in Cairo and Teheran."

The Berlin radio said that the conference had been completed in Cairo and that Inonu had returned to Ankara, where the Turkish Cabinet would meet in special session.

German spokesmen meanwhile told Swedish correspondents "the Allies are exerting heavy pressure to force Turkey to join the war."

(A Budapest broadcast heard by U.S. Government monitors said Bulgarian Premier Dobri Bojilov had conferred with the Turkish Minister to Sofia after a meeting of the Bulgarian Cabinet last night. It declared that "well-informed political circles in Sofia connect this Cabinet meeting with the Turkish-Anglo-Saxon-Soviet conference.")

Franz von Papen, the German Ambassador, talked for nearly an hour yesterday with Turkish Premier Sukru Saracoglu, Reuters News Agency reported today in a dispatch from Ankara.

Reports reaching Budapest from Sofia, however, indicated that the Nazis, preparing to meet any change in Turkey's status, were moving troops through Bulgaria in the direction of the Turkish border. Three motorized German divisions were said to have passed through the Bulgarian capital in recent days.

Such troop movements in Bulgaria—the first of the satellites to fall from the Kaiser's orbit in the First Great War—might be incidental, however, to reports of mounting tension within that country.

Taking a Turkish-British-American conference for granted, George Schroeder, political correspondent of the German overseas news agency, a Nazi propaganda organ, asserted the "Whilhelmstrasse does not think it fit to consider this Turkish-Allied meeting as just a routine trip of the Turkish president."

Bulgaria Wobbly

"Anglo-American sources," he declared, "hint at the possibility that the Balkans campaign was discussed in Teheran and if that was the case it would be imperative to know what Turkey's attitude would be."

In London there was little speculation on a Turkish change of status. Wilson Broadbent, Daily Mail correspondent, wrote, however, that "now that the climax seems to have arrived and the Germans are beginning to bluster and show their hand. I believe the Turkish government will not hesitate. They will declare themselves for the Allies and assume all the responsibility which that entails."

If Turkey should cast her lot with the Allies, she could play an important role in the offensive which Mr. Churchill, Stalin and Mr. Roosevelt plotted at Teheran to crush Germany from the east, west and south. Allied armies in Italy already are moving toward Germany from the south, but Turkish participation would open the way for a full-scale assault on the Balkans, also from the "south."

45,000-Ton Super-Battleship Wisconsin Cost $90,000,000; Built At Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 7—(AP) The super battleship Wisconsin, 45,000 tons, is ready to slide down the ways at the Philadelphia United States Navy Yard today.

The floating fortress will hit the waters of the Delaware River after being officially christened by Mrs. Walter S. Goodland, wife of the governor of Wisconsin.

The Wisconsin, a sister ship of the New Jersey launched at the same yards a year ago, is listed by "Jane's Fighting Ships" as displacing 45,000 tons without crew and normal equipment. Loaded for sea duty she will displace 52,000 tons.

A ship of the Wisconsin type would normally carry nine 16-inch guns in her main battery, be approximately 880 feet in length and have top speed of more than 30 knots, the publication states.

The super shpi cost approximately $90,000,000 and was under production for more than two years.

Canadian Naval Units Aid Blockading Bay Of Biscay

OTTAWA, Dec. 7—(CP).—Canadian destroyers and corvettes helped the Royal Navy and R.A.F. blockade the enemy's main submarine fleet in the Bay of Biscay just before Britain's acquisition of new bases in the Azores—a blockade so successful that the modest Allied losses in the North Atlantic were "more than balanced by the heavy toll taken on U-boats in the Bay of Biscay alone."

This announcement was made last night by Navy Minister Macdonald. He announced that the Canadian ships in these offensive sweeps included the Tribal destroyers Iroquois and Athabaskan and the corvettes Edmunston, Snowberry and Calgary.

"The losses inflicted on the U-boats this summer were so great that on some occasions the sea seemed literally alive with submarine survivors, some of which eventually found sanctuary on Iroquois and Athabaskan," said the Minister's statement.

"Many of these submarines had been destroyed by aircraft, among the crews of which were several Canadians."

During one sweep the two Canadian patrols chased three enemy destroyers sighted at a distance but the enemy fled to the French coast.

The corvettes dropped depth charges "wherever U-boat contacts were obtained," but "no concrete evidence has been obtained of U-boats destroyed by the corvettes."

It was while engaged in the Biscay patrols that Athabaskan was hit by one of the new German glider bombs. All the other Canadian ships escaped damage. "The fact Canadian corvettes now are engaged in offensive action against U-boats is one indication that something went miss recently in Hitler's undersea warfare plans," said Mr. MacDonald.

Look for Battle

He quoted one corvette captain as saying:

"Hitherto we had always been on the defensive, protecting the convoys along the North Atlantic routes, and sometimes I almost despaired of seeing the day when we would assume the offensive against U-boats.

"That day seems to have arriv-

Russia Satisfied Over Conference

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Dec. 7 (AP) — The Soviet government through its newspaper Izvestia indicated in the most emphatic terms today its complete satisfaction with the results of the Teheran meeting of Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and Premier Stalin.

This full approval was expressed after Premier Stalin had returned safely to Moscow after a hazardous round trip of 1,700 miles during which his plane braved snow and zero temperatures.

"For four days over a round-table," said the Izvestia editorial, which before nightfall was available to millions of Russians from the German front to the Pacific Ocean, "the most eminent statesmen of our day conferred and reached complete agreement on questions of war and the most important problems of post-war organization of peace."

The editorial was spread over three columns of the front page, together with page-wide photographs of the three leaders.

"He who reads carefully Roosevelt's, Stalin's and Churchill's declaration will understand that the fate of the war has been decided verbally," the editorial declared.

It referred in broad, friendly fashion to the accomplishments of the British and American armies in North Africa, the Mediterranean and Southern Italy and gave Russia's Allies due honors for their contribution toward winning the war.

"The success of the Red Army and the success of the Allies quick-

Russians Cut Railway In Ukraine

New Offensive Splits Two Hun Armies

LONDON, Dec. 7.—(CP).—Driving across the bleak central Ukraine southwest of Kremenchug in an offensive apparently aimed at clearing the great Dnieper Bend, Red army troops under Gen. Rodion Malinovsky have severed the Germans' vital railway line between Smela and Znamenka to threaten the important stronghold of Kirivograd, 23 miles further west, a Russian communique said to-day.

A powerful Soviet artillery and air barrage crumbled German defences in front of the infantry and tank advance, which stormed into the town of Tsibulevo astride the 50-mile-along Znamenka-Smela rail division, 14 miles northwest of Znemanka.

Twenty other towns, including Alexandriya and Dikovka, east of Znamenka, were overrun.

Capture of Tsibulevo and Olumpiadovka, southwest of Alexandriya, placed Russian columns only 23 miles from Kirovograd and apparently sealed the fate of Znamenka, where Soviet advance units were reported battering the town's outer defences.

Other Soviet troops were less than six miles from Smela after an attack which had by-passed the Dnieper river city of Cherkasy. Juncture of these forces with those advancing on Kirovograd apparently was regarded as imminent.

The developing Red army offensive, which has already split large German forces guarding their lateral rail and supply lines, now threatens the security of all enemy positions in the lower Ukraine from the Black sea to the Rumanian frontier, including the stoutly-defended manganese centre of Krivoi-Rog, 60 miles below Znamenka.

Yugoslavs Kill 200 More Nazis

LONDON, Dec. 7 — (CP). — Yugoslav Partisans have scored a success over German forces in Southwestern Slovenia, killing more than 200 officers and men, including the German commander of one enemy column, a communique of the Yugoslav Liberation Army said today.

Fierce fighting raged around Kobarid, where the Germans were forced to retire after a four-day pitched battle. Another action near Veliko Lasce lasted two days and it was here that the German commander was slain, after the Partisans practically wiped out an enemy column, the broadcast declared. Other Slovenian units stormed Turyak, near Ljubljana, and defeated another enemy column near Lestovec with heavy losses.

The Partisans swept up war material including 180 rifles, 10 machine-guns, 500,000 rounds of ammuntion, 800 hand grenades and 15 army trucks.

Sharp clashes between Partisans and German troops were continuing near Konjic, important town on the Mostar-Sarajevo railway in Herecegovina.

Invasion Quick Way to Finish Hitler

Stalin's Reaction Indicates Land Campaign To Be Undertaken Soon

BY DEWITT Mackenzie
Associated Press War Analyst

The first Allied move, now that the Teheran conference is out of the way, naturally will be to implement the announced agreement for concerted action against Hitler from the east, west and south.

What is the most expeditious way of administering the coup de grace to the Nazi Feuhrer? We can't get at him the way the Hitlerites reportedly have done in the case of Count Ciano, Mussolini's turn-coat son-in law, who is said to have been shot in the back by a firing squad.

There probably are numerous ways Hitler could be defeated—if we are prepared to drag the war out. For one thing, it likely could be done by air, provided the Red land forces could keep the German armies engaged in fierce and bloody combat over the long period necessary to destroy the resources of the Reich by bombing. Of course, you could gamble that the bombardment would break German civilian morale—and admittedly it might—but it nevertheless would be a gamble and should be supplemented by other more certain measures.

The experts generally are agreed that there's only one quick way to do the job with certainty, and that's the opening of a second land front in France, across the English channel. Since Stalin is essentially a man of tremendous action, and since he apparently is satisfied with the outcome of the Teheran parley, we may take it for granted that his persistent demand for the early opening of a second front in France has been satisfied.

Speed Essential

Therefore, one would expect to see the Western Allies achieve this with the greatest possible speed. And speed is essential if we are to save lives and conserve our national resources which now are being poured into the bottomless hopper of war.

It's essential for another thing, too, and that is to get this European upheaval over so that we can tackle the Japanese. Every moment of respite we allow the little men of Nippon gives them just so much more chance to dig-in and get established in conquered territories. Every moment of delay increases the risk of China being knocked out.

Will Register Objection

Labor Code Irks Ontario Leader

TORONTO, Dec. 7 — (CP). — Acting Premier T. L. Kennedy said to-day he had been informed by Prime Minister Mackenzie King that Ontario will be given opportunity to register its objection before the Federal Government moves in establishing a National Labor Code.

Ontario will proceed to prepare its objections to the code which is planned to include only war industry and not industry as a whole, as asked by Ontario, Col. Kennedy said.

"We are insisting all industry be included in the National Labor Code," Col. Kennedy said. "Our objections will be made along this line for we contend one plant adjoining another cannot be excluded from the code. We have seven other provinces suporting this stand."

He declined to comment on what steps the Ontario Government would take in the event Ottawa proceeds to include only war industry in the code.

Col. Kennedy announced the Cabinet will proceed with preparation of legislation in a special meeting next Monday. The meeting will determine bills to go before the Legislature.

Bomber Crashes Submarine

Pilot Suicides To Sink German Pigboat

OTTAWA, Dec. 7 — (CP). — The suicide crash-dive of a British bomber on the deck of a damaged German submarine to make sure the U-boat did not escape was described last night by the Royal Canadian Navy.

This R.A.F. exploit — the navy termed it "matchless" for heroism and daring—became an R. C. N. story when the sole survivor of the plane was picked up in the Bay of Biscay by the Canadian Tribal destroyer Iroquois.

Sgt. A. A. Turner, tail-gunner, had been floating several hours, wounded, in a rubber dinghy when rescued.

He told how his plane — a Wellington bomber — spotted a surfaced U-boat and dropped its bombs square on the target, but not before the submarine's anti-aircraft fire got in some telling shots.

"Finally, when our pilot realized we were going to crash into the sea, he decided the Nazis should go too. He manoeuvred his plane and crash-dived, right onto the U-boat.

"The U-boat and plane disappeared beneath the surface, locked in a death grip. I was the only survivor from our plane."

Reds Alone Outnumber Nazis In Men, Planes and Reserves

Take 2 More Years To Finish Off Armies Of Japan

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 — (AP). —Belief the war against Germany will be won within a year was buttressed to-day by the High Command accord reached at Teheran.

But the military and naval officials who hold this belief foresee at least two more years of fighting before Japan can be forced into the unconditional surrender decided upon at the Pacific War Conference in Cairo.

Studying the effects of the Cairo meeting and the European war conference at Teheran, announced yesterday, strategists here predicted the 12 months now beginning will see the launching of unprecedented offensives against both Germany and Japan.

As a result of these milestone meetings the Allied groups ranged against both foes have perfected the over-all pattern of their victory strategies, determining the time and nature of the final three-pronged assault on Germany as well as the advances designed to bring the full power of Britain, America, and China against Japan.

Never Gained Before.

Washington experts emphasize that this is an epochal accomplishment. Despite the long series of conferences between Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt and an increasingly free exchange of information with Russia and China, no such specific agreements on war plans and post-war objectives had ever before been achieved among the Allies.

Speculation is that the military actions to implement the Teheran decisions may start in the Balkans. For that reason officials here are awaiting further clues to Turkey's role with extreme interest.

The communique issued jointly by Mr. Churchill, Mr. Roosevelt, and Marshal Stalin contained an indication of possible developments in the Balkans area by announcing "complete agreement as to the scope and timing of the operations to be undertaken from the east, west and south."

This statement was interpreted to mean that the time has been set for invasion of Europe across the Channel. The time undoubtedly was chosen with respect to the progress of Russian offensives on the eastern front and the development of an attack in the south of Europe.

Combined Strength Of Big 3 Can Swing Victory

By LEWIS HAWKINS
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 7—(AP).—The Teheran promise of Allied drives from the east, west and south confronted Germany today with the problem of disposing her numerically inferior forces in an effort to avoid destruction by the mightiest military array the world has ever known.

Against the combined strength of Britain, the United States and Russia, Hitler finds his once proud military forces completely outclassed by land, sea and air. Moreover, the Allied power on land, sea and air daily is growing.

Germany at the outside now is believed able to muster 320 divisions which with non-divisional combat troops, would mean a fighting force of around 5,500,000 plus 3,500,000 to 4,000,000 in the supply service and administrative jobs.

Russia Powerful.

Almost certainly Russ'a alone can more than match this. Military observers here would be surprised if the Red Army numbered less than 350 divisions with a combat complement of more than 6,000,000.

The combined British and American ground strength in the Mediterranean and Britain is certainly in the neighborhood of 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 and growing steadily.

Because of the weight, fierceness and skill of the Red Army, the German high command seems committed inevitably to maintaining about two-thirds of its force on the eastern front.

About 40 Nazi divisions are known to be deployed in France and the Low Countries, 12 in Norway, seven in Finland, 25 in Italy and 23 in the Balkans and Greece — leaving virtually no strategical reserve in the accepted sense of a reservoir of trained first rate troops to be thrown in on any front.

The German air force, once the most dread of Hitler's weapons, is an even weaker link.

Best estimates here are that the German air force can present a front line strength of no more than 1,200 to 1,500 bombers and 2,500 to 3,000 fighters.

R.A.F. Growing

Here again Russia alone may be able to match all the German power, and it is obvious from the scale of the present aerial offensive that the R.A.F. fleet of heavy bombers must total upwards of 2,000 while the U.S. Army Air Forces, by Gen. George C. Marshall's own testimony, had upwards of 1,000 in the United Kingdom in early autumn.

Figures on fighters and medium bombers which will play such a great role in any invasion are much less easy to estimate, but if the combined British-American fighter strength were less than twice the German air force total it would be a great surprise.

Aside from its beaten submarine fleet whittled down substantially from its peak of 500 craft, Hitler has only a handful of hiding war ships in the way of a naval arm.

The balance sheet shows that—given a continuation of the unity and determination so dramatically affirmed at Teheran — the defeat of Hitler is as inevitable as the tides along the French coast.

Malaria Hits Army

Japanese Sweep Across Yuan River

CHUNGKING, Dec. 7 — (AP). —Reinforced Japanese troops have driven southward across the Yuan River in Central China in the general direction of Changsha, Hunan province capital, and the fight is raging near Tehshan, the Chinese high command announced Monday night.

For the second consecutive day the communique made no mention of fighting inside Changteh, suggesting the Chinese stand in that gateway city had failed.

Tehshan is on the 100-mile road from Changteh to Changsha.

ened the pace of the war and gave even greater strength to co-operation between the Allied countries in the war," Izvestia went on.

The agreement on concerted action was viewed here as the most important result of the historic parley, since, from the Soviet viewpoint, it settled the biggest question of the war—the "second front," or invasion of Europe from the west.

The Churchill - Roosevelt-Stalin communique was broadcast yesterday by the Moscow radio. Crowds standing in the snow-covered streets and squares listened to the public loudspeakers without cheering, but with evident relief.

Will Pay Duty Shivering Showgirls State

TORONTO. Dec. 7.—Six glamorous showgirls who help Magician Dante in his revue, "Sim Sala Bim," declared yesterday that they would "never, no never," give up hope of getting back from United States customs officials at Buffalo the expensive fur coats given them by Canada's Mr. X (Harry F. McLean. of Merrickville, Ont.). The girls, who are appearing at the Royal Alexandra Theatre this week, are saving thier money to pay the 50 per cent. factory valuation demanded by the United States customs. which totals around $4,000.

The girls received the fur coats after a supper party given by Mr McLean in Toronto about the middle of last month.

Because the coats were bought in this Dominion, the girls could have brought them to Toronto this trip. Afraid that they might not be allowed to take them out of Canada again, they left the coats with customs officials in Buffalo until they return to the United States in the new year.

A Toronto customs official said last night:

"'The coats can be brought into Canada, since they are Canadian coats, and there would be no objection from us to the coats being taken out of the country. There would be difficulty with the United States customs, though."

"I have to pay $800 on my mink coat," said Moi-yo Miller, lovely Australian illusionist, "but I do not intend to give it up. I shall pay the duty somehow. We have been the centre of so much excitement that I don't think one of us will dare wear the coats when we do get them back."

Lost Other Coat.

Blond Dolores Brandon of Hollywood will be chillier than the others. She not only lost her sheared beaver coat when customs officials sang "Take it off," but her other winter coat is lost somewhere between Toronto and Montreal.

Annie Jung, pretty Hollywood Chinese, said she did not like to think about how much duty she had to pay on her sheared beaver. Ruby Springer, brunette from Chicago, was thinking longingly of the silken beauty of her wild mink coat yesterday.

Happier than the other four were the two Mexican girls—Maria Victoria Lopez and Maria Eugenia Montez—who still have their coats of mink and otter. Their coats were not confiscated because they are not residents of the United States.

"Whatta ho! All thees peectures! Thees publeecity! What will my mother think?" sighed dark-eyed Victoria.

They had the coats for just one week—during four days of which the coats were being shortened by a furrier—before they were taken away, the girls said.

Low-lying clouds cloaked some mountain peaks on the 5th Army front, and attacking Anglo-American troops had to feel their way forward through fog.

Due to weather, aerial activity over Italy was slight, but American dive-bombers hit the approaches to a bridge at Capreno, southeast of Rome, and fighters attacked a bridge southeast of Cassino. Two Allied planes were lost in all operations.

United States heavy bombers knocked 10 German planes from the air in raiding two airfields near Athens, Greece—at Elesvsis and Kalamaki. A communique said the bombing was "very effective."

Waves of bombers escorted by fighters poured fragmentation bombs and explosives on the airfields, hitting parked planes and hangars.

Pearl Harbor Avenged Many Times

Marshalls Raided From Carriers In Latest Drive

PEARL HARBOR, Dec. 7—(AP). —Two years after Japanese planes touched off the Pacific War at Pearl Harbor, the expanding Air Force of the United States is raining heavy offensive blows which hint at early invasion of the Marshalls and New Britain, two vital links in the enemy's chain of outpost defences for Japan and the Philippines.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced that strong aircraft carrier task forces smashed hard on Saturday at the Marshalls — the same type of attack which immediately preceded the successful conquest of the Gilberts only two weeks ago.

Enemy air and shipping bases in the Marshalls 2,000 miles southwest of Hawaii and about 300 miles north-east of the Gilberts, form stepping stones on what United States Navy Secretary Frank Knox has termed "the more direct route to Japan."

Nearly 2,000 miles to the southwest of this action, New Britain Island, whose capture would burst open the sea lanes to the Philippines, was blasted Saturday night and Sunday from the fortress of Rabaul on the east to the air base of Cape Gloucester on the west, Allied Headquarters reported to-day.

The necessity for radio silence, in order to protect the movements of task forces, limited Admiral Nimitz's announcement on the Marshalls attack, one which followed a series of raids on bases there by any land-based heavy bombers

Allied bombers struck their biggest blow, 155 tons of explosives, at Cape Gloucester, but also hammered barges and ships along both the north and south coast and set fire to a 6,000-ton vessel at Rabaul.

The potential invasion springboards on New Guinea's Huon Peninsula was expanded by Australians pushing, with the aid of tanks and planes, along the coast north of Finschhafen.

War Far From Won

were living in vehicles or pup tents.

"The folks back home are proud of you and I will take back the knowledge that you will carry on," he said.

Road Is Hard.

Another message Col. Ralston said he would carry back was word that the war is still far from won.

He had seen enough of the difficult country and conditions under which the troops are fighting to know this was a false dream.

"People are making the mistake of their lives in thinking that this war is about over," he said. "Many people in Canada and other countries have this opinion and are playing right into the enemy's hands. Hitler is keeping up the fight in order to force as good terms as he can, thinking we will tire.

"I shall take back your message to the people of Canada and it will be: 'Don't give up, don't relax, don't get tired'."

Col. Ralston said the purpose of his visit was to confer with the commanders, see the troops and find out what Canada can do to help them. He instanced two minor points which he had discovered were troubling the men.

Speeds Up Mail.

The first concerned mail and he promised "herculean efforts" to get it here faster and in a steadier stream. He hoped this problem would be alleviated by addition of four planes to the T.C.A. transatlantic service, two in December and two in January.

The other problem was outdated movies being shown the troops, and the Minister said action had already been taken to try to provide more up-to-date films. Transport was the main hitch in both matters. No expense would be spared in overcoming it.

Honors Dead.

The Minister's first visit this morning was to the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, and from there to another western Canadian unit, the Loyal Edmontons. He stopped at the roadside grave of a lance-corporal of the 48th Highlanders, Toronto, killed in action October 24. Col. Ralston took note of the name and raised his hat in silent homage before the simple, flower-covered grave.

A pipe band greeted the Minister with "Blue Bonnets" when he arrived at the village camp of the Seaforth Highlanders of Vancouver.

A visit to a field regiment in another town where Canadian Victory Loan statistics were painted on a church wall completed the morning tour.

Col. Ralston thanked the troops for their "magnificent response" to the loan campaign, saying it was an inspiration to the people at home.

After lunch with senior Canadian officers who accompanied him on the tour, the Minister drove over winding mountain roads to the camp of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, from Ontario, where the men were drawn up in front of a memorial to the last war. Officers and the regimental sergeant-major, Angus Duffy of Trenton, Ont., were introduced to him.

Another long drive took him to the 8th Highlanders, where again he was greeted by a pipe band. Then he went to the Royal Canadian Regiment, where he had tea with the officers before returning to headquarters.

Col. Ralston was favored with one of the few fine days of the last two days but was unable to avoid the mud which was still ankle deep everywhere. He tucked his trousers into a pair of army boots and wore a warm sweater under his suit and trenchcoat to keep out the icy winds blowing down from snow-capped hills to the north.

The Danger of Coughs Among the Children

In young children a cold or cough is not a thing to be disregarded, as it is often of a grave matter, and unless attended to immediately may, eventually, cause serious trouble.

On the first sign of a cough or cold the mother will find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a remedy to help get rid of the trouble.

Its promptness and effectiveness in loosening the phlegm, and stimulating the bronchial organs is such that the cough may be checked before anything of a serious nature sets in.

Allies Seize Key Heights Across Italy

8th Army Tanks Cross Broad Moro River

ALGIERS, Dec. 7—(AP).—Anglo-American 5th Army troops have seized several key heights in the mountains guarding the road to Rome, while the British 8th Army has pushed armor across the Moro River on the eastern coast of Italy, it was announced today.

American units of the 5th Army lunged forward one mile west of Filignano in the Venafro area, and also captured a ridge six miles southwest of Mignano. British troops, however, were forced to abandon one height before a strong German counter-attack.

The 8th Army was maintaining heavy pressure on the Germans along a line extending from Ortona on the Adriatic coast through bitterly-contested Orosogna to Guardiagrele. Heavy rains fell on this front.

In fighting near San Vito, on the east coast 16 miles southeast of the important port of Pescara, four German tanks were destroyed.

In the air, U.S. heavy bombers knocked 10 German planes out of the sky while raiding two airfields near Athens, Greece.

Preliminary reports of the raids against the airfields—at Elevsis and Kalamaki—showed the bombing was "very effective," an air communique said. Poo weather reduced air support over the Italian battlefield. Two Allied planes were reported missing.

US Armed Forces Increase At Great Rate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (AP) — While President Roosevelt has set his face against any celebration of the day marking the second anniversary of the surprise blow struck by the Japanese at Pearl Harbor that forced the United States into the war, Americans could, however, today look back on their two years of warfare with considerable pride.

The United States army has grown from 1,500,000 to five times that size, with 2,300,000 in the Air Force. The Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard have reached a strength of nearly 3,000,000. The United States fleet is twice the size it was just before the war.

To arm and equip these mighty forces the industries, clerks and workers and management of the United States have performed industrial miracles.

All this began to happen immediately after the blow at Pearl Harbor, and it gathered momentum during the interval provided by the desperate resistance of men, too few in numbers and with too little equipment, who fought until they dropped, and delayed the aggressor, upset his timing, ruined his chance for a quick victory, and therefore his hope for any victory at all.

Car Batteries Found

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 7 (ENS) —A search by police here last night resulted in the recovery of two car batteries and a quantity of cigarettes stolen about three weeks ago from the C. N. R. freight sheds. The search was conducted by P.C. David Bowen who located one of the batteries in a car, and two local youths were later arrested and booked on a charge of theft. The pair were held in the local jail prior to being taken to Cobourg.

Port Hope Man Nicked For $50

TORONTO, Dec. 7 (CP) — Cecil Archer was fined $50 and costs Monday when convicted of driving his specially-constructed egg truck from Port Hope to Toronto twice a week for two weeks in October—a distance of more than 35 miles which is contrary to regulations.

Magistrate F. C. Gullen said: "A good many people are inconvenienced but these wartime regulations must be obeyed."

Archer said he brought 6,000 dozen of eggs to Toronto a week and took back "eight to ten ton of feed."

Cobourg Elects Douglas Glenn

COBOURG, Dec. 7 (ENS).—Elections held at Cobourg yesterday resulted in the following being elected:

Deputy-Reeve, Douglas Glenn, who defeated William Wenn by a majority of 74 votes. Council—Alan Field, 690; Edward Morton, 617; Mrs. Clara Delaney, 611; Judson Kennedy, 609; Reuben Jackson, 591, and James Rollings, 5[illegible]0. The defeated candidate, David Carr, received 275 votes.

Cecil Wilson defeated Harry McGuire, 1943 chairman, by 486 votes for Public Utilities commissioner. The voters polled 751 votes to 238 for the continuance of the garbage collection. All other municipal offices were filled by acclamation.

Pack Ditty Bags For Sailors Tuesday

The Auxiliary to the Navy's Christmas bags for Peterborough sailors will be packed and shipped to-morrow. The bags for overseas were sent out some time ago and now those for sailors with Canadian addresses are being sent. All last minute changes in address or any names not being listed should be telephoned to-night or before noon Tuesday to Mrs. F. D. Craig, Telephone 5591. In addition to the ditty bag list, the names are also required for an official list required by the war services committee.

HARMONY

INVENTIVE genius which has contributed so notably during the past century toward building and welding our country into a great and strong nation, thrives best in the atmosphere of individual enterprise as it is found in Canada.

Here, the business man and the working man, working together, are able to take advantage of many opportunities for advancement and success that would be impossible in a totalitarian state.

Though questions and differences may arise, both management and workers must stand united in defense of the maintenance of free enterprise and the preservation of the joint benefits which flow therefrom.

Merchants Are Warned No New Stock

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 7 — (ENS). — It will be a long time before the favorable war news is translated into additional stocks of merchandise on the shelves of Canadian merchants. This was the opinion expressed by William A. Congdon of the Management Service Division of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Toronto, who addressed a meeting of the Campbellford merchants here last night. Mr. Congdon visited this town with other WPTB officials for the purpose of discussing the problems faced by local retailers and it was the second meeting of this type held locally.

Following his argument regarding increased supply the speaker pointed out that with every bit of territory recaptured from the enemy it meant not so many more ships available for consumer goods but on the contrary a greater tonnage of supplies necessary for those who had been relieved of the enemy yoke. However, the production outlook was not altogether gloomy as quotas for textiles and footwear had been increased. And thanks to the fast rising birthrate the Board has found it essential to authorize the manufacture of an extra million pair of children's footwear during the coming months. One reason why the supply in these instances had not been increased sooner was that trained labour was not available having transferred to essential war industry. Making the picture a little more brighter was the fact war commitments had been caught up with in some instances.

Mayor Frank Long, chairman of the local ration board presided for the meeting and following Mr. Congdon's remarks a question period was held with W. Foley, head of the Peterborough District WPTB, Ross Payne and G. Houlden of Peterborough giving the answers to querrys that came in their various departments.

Alderman Supports Return Of Mayor

Referring to an editorial in the Examiner suggesting that Mayor Hamilton's tenure of office should be extended through 1944, Alderman Dutton, affirming that he was expressing his own personal opinion, said he was in complete agreement with the editor's idea.

"The article presented reasons with which, I believe, every member of this council will heartily agree," said Alderman Dutton. "I hope that it will receive the earnest consideration of all the people because we know that we are coming into a difficult year of the war. I hope, Mr. Mayor, that you will be able to see your way to carrying on, if other citizens are welling. You have a wealth of experience that means a tremendous lot to the council and the city. At no time have you failed in any way in the discharge of your duties, and you have kept high the credit and the honor of Peterborough and its people. The crucial period which we feel that is ahead of us will make big demands on the time of the Mayor, and as one member of the council I would like to see you carry on."

"You have said," Mayor Hamilton replied, "if other people are willing, and that is about the way it is."

"In a democracy that is so," Alderman Gordon remarked.

"It is certainly pleasant working with Mayor Hamilton," Alderman Glover added to the Dutton commendation.

Cobourg Has Light Docket

COBOURG, Dec. 7 — (ENS). — There were no criminal cases on the docket when County Court opened yesterday afternoon with Judge J. C. German presiding. Indicating the absence of any criminal docket, Sheriff John T. Field presented the presiding Judge with the customary pair of white gloves.

The action brought by C. Aunger of Cartwright Township against Robert Harris, Uxbridge solicitor, was settled out of court. The other case on the docket, Leon Rammel of Bowmanville vs. Central Wholesale Florists, Ltd., Toronto, was set down for hearing in County Court on Thursday of this week.

Judge German expressed pleasure with the fact that there were no criminal cases listed. He commented on the death Monday of ex-Sheriff D. J. Nesbitt of Brighton. Mr. Nesbitt served as sheriff for 21 years and was an able and very conscientious official. The present sheriff, John T. Field, was carrying out the duties of that office very capably, Judge German declared. His Honor also expressed his approval of the post-war plan of Counties Council in regard to enlarging the Counties Home. It was a worth-while project, Judge German stated.

Five applications for naturalization were heard yesterday and referred to Ottawa for final approval. The applicants were D. F. Houstan of Port Hope, formerly of the United States; Martin Budisky, of Hampton, Czechoslovak; Andrej Velic, Port Hope, Czech; Otto Freund, Darlington Township, Czech; Michael Karas, Bowmanville Czech; and Charles Edward Ott of Port Hope, formerly of the United States. In connection with Otto Freund, the question was asked by Judge German as to why one of his children was born in Germany. Freund replied that at one time he was an opera singer and had travelled through most of the countries in Europe. He married a German woman and a child was born while they were in Germany.

There was a motion heard in court which was brought by Harry Deyman on behalf of the Crown, asking for dismissal of the appeal of defendant in Rex vs. Emmery, a liquor conviction, on the grounds that the appeal had not been brought before the proper court within the specified time. A. R. Willmott appeared as agent for W. J. A. Fair of Peterborough, solicitor for the accused. Judge German reserved his decision to look up a number of citations bearing on the case.

Honor Roll Is Unveiled

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 7 (ENS) —Large congregations attended St. John's United church on Sunday when at two unusual services members of the armed forces from that church were honored. It was the second such service held since the outbreak of war and the committee in charge spared no effort in their desire to appropriately decorate the church for the occasion. Flags and evergreens predominated and in front of the pulpit was a raised dais centred by the Honor Roll, draped with a Union Jack.

During the morning service, which was conducted by the minister, Rev. G. N. Maxwell, B.A., B.D., the Honor Roll was unveiled by Mrs. Florence Stephens, who has three sons in the armed forces and a fourth who was honorably discharged. There was a brief ceremony of dedication of the Honor Roll in which both the minister and congregation took part. Rev. Maxwell delivered a thoughtful message on "Loyalty—to God, our Country, our Church, and to the Boys and Girls in the Forces." The hymns and music by the choir under direction of Charles A. Howey, were appropriate to the occasion, and special numbers were the anthem, "O Praise God in His Holiness" by the choir, and a solo, "Hear My Prayer," by Mr. George W. Lucy.

The evening service, which attracted an even larger congregation, was equally impressive. During this service the clerk of the Session, H. M. Donald, read out the names on the Honor Roll, and as each name was called a friend or relative came forward to place a flag on the dais before the pulpit. At the close of the service the names of four boys who had been honorably discharged were read by the minister—Samuel Castle, Roy Young, Clifford Wannamaker and Alvin Stephens; the name of one who is a prisoner of war—Fred McArthur at Hong Kong; and two who had paid the supreme sacrifice—Charles Buchner and Arthur Rowe. In honor of these latter two Bugler Blackbourn sounded the "Last Post" and "Reveille" and two minutes silence was observed.

The beautiful anthem "Plains of Peace," was rendered by the choir and a solo "His Grace is Sufficient" by Mrs. A. G. Watson were much appreciated and formed the special music during the evening. Rev. Maxwell expressed thanks to all who had contributed to the success of the services and especially those who assisted in the decorating of the church for the occasion.

General Staffs Relax Have Grand Time

JERUSALEM, Dec. 2 (Delayed). —(AP).— High chiefs of the combined British and American general staffs, after drafting war plans during nearly two weeks of tense conferences at Cairo and at Teheran, finally took a day off and "really had themselves a time."

The entire King David Hotel here was taken over. Choice food and liquors were brought up from Cairo and the generals and admirals who spearhead the entire war effort spent a day and night relaxing, dancing and sightseeing.

The party was pleasant and quiet, lasting until 2 a.m., said a spokesman.

Honor Drivers

TORONTO, Dec. 7 — (CP). — Ontario Highways Minister Doucett last night presented Legion of Safety awards to five Ontario transport drivers who have completed 500,000 accident-free miles. First prize went to Harvey Kester, Walkerton, who safely covered 985,196 miles. Others honored were John F. Chard, Weston, Joseph Park, Cooksville, William Christopherson, Long Branch, and Elmer Daye, of Cornwall.

Obituaries

ISAAC LEWIS

The funeral of the late Isaac Lewis of Fraserville was held at Dunsford United Church with the Rev. Robeson conducting the service.

Born in Victoria County, October 17, 1874, he was the son of John Lewis and Penelope Johns.

Mr. Lewis had a full and active life. He farmed for many years in Victoria County, later he moved to Peterborough where he worked for the Quaker Oats Co., until his retirement about four years ago. He was a Mason and at one time was Worshipful Master of the lodge at Bobcaygeon. For a number of years he was in the Verulam council.

In May 1902, he was married to Mary Purdy of Bobcaygeon who is left to mourn his loss with two daughters (Viola) Mrs. J. M. Beatty and (Lenore) Mrs. J. H. Drummond, and three sons, John, James and Lloyd. Three sisters also survive, Mrs. Martha Taylor of Lindsay, Mrs. Walter MacGregor, Bobcaygeon, Mrs. Harold Bate, Auroro.

The esteem in which he was held was shown by the tribute paid him by friends in Fraserville, Peterborough, Dunsford and Bobcaygeon and surrounding district. The pall bearers were: Two sons-in-law, John M. Beatty and Lieut. James Durmmond and four nephews, Lewis Taylor, Earnest MacGregor, Will Lewis and Russell Lewis.

MRS. ARCHIBALD CLARK

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 7 (ENC) —The funeral of the late Mrs. Archibald Clark who passed away at the family homestead in Seymour West on Saturday last was held Monday afternoon, as friends from over the district joined in paying final tribute to this esteemed resident. The deceased lady was born in Port Hope 90 years ago a daughter of the late Jesse Goheen and Margaret Ann Rubridge. Her maiden name was Ellen Elizabeth Goheen and she came to Seymour township fifty-eight years ago following her marriage to Archibald Clark.

A Methodist prior to church union, Mrs. Clark was subsequently a member of St. John's United church and in her younger days took an active part in various women's organizations, particularly the W.M.S. She had been in poor health for several months prior to her death. Predeceased by her husband eight years ago Mrs. Clark is survived by two sons, Howard and Walter, and one daughter, Mrs. David Durran, all of Seymour township. The funeral service was conducted from the family homestead on Monday by Rev. G. N. Maxwell of St. John's United church, and interment was made in Mount Pleasant cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. Charles Clark, Donald Clark, Robert McCulloch, Douglas Rutherford, John Kelly of Seymour and Charles Goheen of Port Hope. Flower bearers were Messrs. William Macoun, Gordon McCulloch, Archie Clark and Thomas Campbell.

Port Hope Theft Results In 3-Year Term

COBOURG, Dec. 7—(ENS)—Bernard William Martin of Toronto was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary when he appeared before Magistrate R. B. Baxter in court here yesterday. Martin was charged with breaking, entering and theft in connection with the robbery of the residence of F. Gorsline at Port Hope, July 13, for which he received two years and for breaking out of the counties jail here on July 24, he received one year. These terms are consecutive to one another and together run consecutively witn a 3½-year term received by Martin recently at Toronto.

Escaped From Jail

Fred Wight, governor of the counties jail, Cobourg, told the court that at the time of the escape he was in the jail with the other prisoners during the exercise period. He eluded the attention of his guard, got around the corner of the jail building, climbed the wall and then leaped seven feet to the outside jail wall and made his getaway.

Martin made an eloquent address to the court which failed to convince the magistrate, when he asked for a concurrent term with his jail sentence received in Toronto.

"I was afraid that my parents would take my boy away from my wife, they are so fond of him if I were not in a position to provide for her and the boy. I broke jail with the intention of giving myself up in a year or two after I had earned enough to guarantee the welfare of my wife and child and the baby we are expecting in a month, while I was in jail. I love my wife and family very deeply and I don't know who is going to look after them now," declared Martin.

"You should have thought of your wife before you got into trouble," suggested the magistrate.

Crown Attorney Harry Deyman produced his prison record, which started when Martin was 14 years old and had continued fairly steadily since that time.

"I will not make your terms concurrent. Not with a record such as you have," declared Magistrate Baxter.

Hamilton Elects First C.C.F. Mayor

By The Canadian Press

Most cities and towns in Ontario held municipal elections yesterday. There were no elections in Toronto, where office holders will be voted New Year's Day, or in Ottawa, whose appointees were elected last year for two-year terms.

Windsor held elections for the Board of Control, Council and for Public Utilities Commission. Its mayor, Arthur Reaume, was elected last year for a two-year tenure of office. Mayors in several other centres were elected by acclamation when qualifications were held last week.

One of the score or more of mayors elected yesterday was Samuel Lawrence, who became Hamilton's first C.C.F. - Labor mayor by gaining a majority of approximately 1,700 votes over Controller Donald A. Clarke, his only opponent. Lawrence succeeds William Morrison, who did not seek re-election because of health reasons.

Mrs. Anne Shipley, one of the few woman candidates for office, was re-elected reeve of Teck township.

William Hooton Has Plowed In 50 Matches

TORONTO, Dec. 6.—At the age of 63, William Hooton, R.R. 1, Ida. Durham county, has competed in over 50 plowing matches and has won prizes in practically all of them. He was the oldest competing plowman in the King and Vaughan township match of the Manny Feder farm near Temperanceville this year.

"I was 10 years old when I learned to plow," said the veteran plowman. "I can plow as much in a day now as I could when I was a young fellow."

Mr. Hooton has competed in over 15 of the big international plowing matches, discontinued now because of the war. At the last international match at St. Thomas in 1940, Mr. Hooton guided his plow to the second provincial prize — a valuable 60-piece silver set.

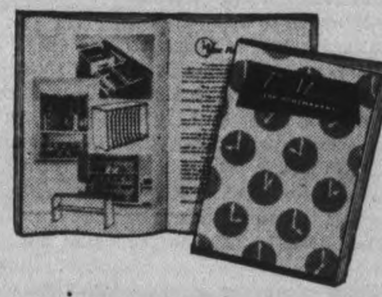
HOW TO SIMPLIFY YOUR HOUSEKEEPING



New book full of ideas to help homemakers in wartime

HERE'S a book for every woman who wants to make her housekeeping these days as simple as possible. You may be working in a war plant and have to take care of your home nights and mornings. You may want to cut your housekeeping hours in order to give more of your time to bond sales, the Red Cross or other war work. Perhaps you want to do more for the war effort than you are now doing but you don't see how you can add anything to your already well filled days.

Have more time for war work

In "Time Management" you will find scores of ways to save time and energy in the home in order to have more for war activities. "Practice intelligent neglect . . . stop doing unnecessary things and simplify the rest," counsels the booklet. To help you simplify your work it suggests a work calendar—"the most helpful tool you can have for saving time." The booklet tells how to make a calendar that will fit your home and your habits—and how to make your calendar work for you.

100 ways to save housekeeping time

Do you know the simplest way to do each housekeeping job? How to make a bed, for instance, so that the covers will seldom need more than spreading up between changes? Do you know how to work rhythmically in order to make many household tasks easier? "Time Management for Homemakers" is full of such practical pointers. It also brings you a check list of over one hundred "time saving practices."

These guides help stretch family income

"Time Management" is only one of Household's twenty-nine booklets on buying and budgeting. These are filled with practical suggestions for sound management of family funds and for smarter shopping for the home. They have already helped thousands of families to make their incomes go farther. The booklets were first prepared as a service to Household Finance customers. But so many other families have found them helpful in meeting wartime problems that we have decided to make them available to Canadians everywhere. You may obtain any or all for 2½ cents each in stamps to cover mailing costs. With your copy of "Time Management" you will receive a list of all the titles in the series. PATIENCE, PLEASE:..

Under new regulations issued by the Liquor Control Board of Ontario, a greater supply of beer for home consumption is being made available.

Due to the necessity of each brewer having to restrict sales to 90% of the year ending October 31st, 1942, under the Dominion Wartime Alcoholic Beverages Order, we must maintain daily quotas. During the month of December the breweries selling in Ontario will attempt to supply, through Brewers' Retail Stores, a case of beer to each holder of a beer ration coupon book.

In view of the obvious difficulties with which the Industry is faced, it hopes that consumers will understand if supplies are not immediately available to fill all demands each day.

Check Crime At The Source

We feel that the attention of everyone in this city and county should be directed toward the remarks which Judge S. L. Smoke addressed to the Grand Jury on Monday afternoon. The judge and jury face a heavy docket of criminal and civil actions, and Judge Smoke felt that the time was opportune to make an appeal to the fathers and mothers of Peterborough County to make the home a stronger influence for good and upright living than it is at present. The judge spoke at some length about the present increase in juvenile delinquency, and about crime and bad faith of a type which was traceable to bad influence, or lack of any sort of definite influence, in the home.

Frequently these pleas for stronger home influence are interpreted as demands for more punishment, more repression and more fear in the home. No one wants anything of the kind. The return to the sort of home which G. B. Shaw has described as "the child's prison and the woman's workhouse" could only result in worse conditions than we have at present. Home influence, to be effective, must be subtle; it is something which is taken in at the pores, rather than driven in at the ears in the form of constant precept. Beatings and sermons have their place in bringing up children, but they should be resorted to in exceptional circumstances. No, in order to exercise real influence on children it is necessary to provide them with a good example, and a home which is a more pleasant place than the streets.

Judge Smoke made particular mention of sex education in the course of his remarks, and we feel that in stressing that matter he put his finger on the root of much juvenile misconduct. Many people forget the intense curiosity with which adolescents regard anything which has to do with sex, and the lengths to which adolescents will go to satisfy that curiosity. If they are rebuffed by their parents when they want information, they will get it elsewhere. The information which they get will probably be wrong, and may be harmful; in any case it puts sex in an unwholesome light if parents refuse to talk about it, and friends of their own age will talk of little else. Considering the number of well-written books about sex which are available it is ridiculous that any child should lack information which it wants and needs; to give a child of twelve or so a book about sex is to do it a great service and spare it much anxiety.

If the home, as an institution, is to survive, it must become a more attractive and satisfying place than it usually is at present. And if home influence is to be active in moulding the lives of children for good, it must be a positive force, and not a negative one as it so often is now. The home will not survive merely because we have believed for centuries that it is a bulwark of good living and morality; it must continue to fulfil its function.

Scruples About News

The director of the United States Office of Wartime Information, Mr. Elmer Davis, has been loud in his complaint that the American press was double-crossed in the matter of news about the Cairo Conference. Reuter's news agency, it appears, sent out the story of the Conference before it was officially released for publication, and Mr. Davis and his colleague, Mr. Byron Price of the U.S. Office of Censorship, have been complaining that the British censors treated them unfairly in the matter. It now appears, however, that the British censors held up the story from Reuter's, and it did not appear in the British press until some time after it had been exploited in the U.S. So it seems that Mr. Davis and Mr. Price were not badly treated at all, and might have spared themselves much agony if they had waited for full information before they allowed their feelings to overcome them.

It is desirable that there should be the utmost scrupulousness about spreading news in wartime. Mr. Davis said that careless use of the story from Cairo while the Conference was still in progress might have put the conferees in danger. True, it might have done so. But before Mr. Davis' country went to war the press and radio of the U.S. was far from squeamish in these matters. When the Canadian Prime Minister flew to Britain the U.S. press and radio spread the news while he was still in the air, and seemed quite indifferent to the harm that such news might do. Touchiness on this score seems to have descended upon them since Pearl Harbour.

And while we are on this topic it might be in place to say that in a Sunday broadcast an American news commentator said that a convoy of Canadian troops bound for Britain had been attacked by fifteen German submarines; no such news was received in Canada, and the broadcaster was presumably basing his broadcast on rumour. Rumours of that kind can cause great anxiety and pain. We do not think it is becoming in any press or radio to expect a scrupulousness in others which it is not prepared to observe itself.

Advance In Plastic Surgery

Plastic surgery was responsible for many mercies during the first Great War. Men who were so wounded that they seemed to be condemned to lives of frightful disfigurement were patched up and sent back to civilian life with scars and eccentricities of appearance, it is true, but at least with the semblance of men. In some cases complete new faces had to be build up on men whose features had been destroyed by explosions or burns. Operations which were little short of miraculous were done by the plastic surgeons.

In the past twenty-five years there have been many advances in this branch of surgery, but for some reason most of the new methods and techniques have been kept secret. But now a body has been formed called the American Otorhinologic Society for the Advancement of Plastic Surgery, and its avowed purpose is to spread the knowledge of what plastic surgery is and what it can do. The New York Times comments thus on the announcement of the foundation of the Society:

"At the recent first annual meeting of the new society it was asserted that, contrary to established medical custom, little about new techniques in plastic surgery is permitted to appear in the professional press. Secrecy at a time when literally thousands of the wounded will need the most skillful surgical attention is deplorable. The new society deserves credit for trying to illuminate the old obscurity. So few are the institutions and men competent to perform plastic operations that the fullest publicity of the right kind should be given to approved old and new procedures. If specialists in diseases of the ear, nose and throat could benefit by the experience acquired by plastic surgeons, much could be done to meet a need that is bound to be pressing. The medical schools will have to cooperate in bringing about the necessary reform. Plastic surgery has expanded so rapidly since the last war that it should receive more attention in their teaching curricula than it does."

We cannot disguise the fact that the need for plastic surgery will be as great in this war as in the last, and probably greater. It is good to know that steps are being taken to make the best information on the subject available to all the surgeons concerned.

An Epidemical Distemper

It was on July 9, 1767, that the aloof and dispassionate observer of life, Lord Chesterfield, wrote to his son: "There reigns an epidemical distemper, called by the genteel name of l'influenza. It is a little fever, of which scarcely anybody dies: and it generally goes off with a little looseness". So far as we know that is the first mention of influenza; perhaps before Chesterfield's genteel friends caught it, it was known by some other name.

There is a great amount of this epidemical distemper about at present. We have had a mild autumn, and the first serious snowfall has been deferred later than usual. Perhaps we are paying for our bland and humid weather with an epidemic of influenza. The variety of that complaint which is going about is comparatively mild; it seems to bring with it headache, pains in the back and legs, a slight cough, and a general feeling of depression and lassitude. It responds well to rest, warmth and common sense. No one need suffer severely from it if they take the right steps to cure it, but if it is neglected, or dismissed as something which will pass off in time, it may have serious results.

The type of 'flu which is going about at present yields to two or three days of careful attention. It is not fair to neglect it, for not only does that increase its chance of harming yourself, but it also makes you a spreader of infection. The thing to do when you feel the first symptoms of influenza—and they cannot be mistaken—is to go to bed and stay there until you are cured. That is your duty not merely to yourself, but to the rest of the community.

A tobacco shortage is predicted for next year. But the cabbage crop will be up to expectations.

Exploits of the Cavan Blazers

By E. S. C.
The Millbrook Mirror-Reporter

PART II

A VIEW of the back wing of the fine old Paddy Maguire residence on the sixth line, just north of Millbrook—the property being today owned and operated by Mrs. Alice Johnston—shows evidence of having once been damaged by fire. Mr. Maguire was a devout Roman Catholic and once a month had a priest from Peterborough come out to his home to celebrate Mass. It is said that one day when the services was in progress, the Blazers came down from Cavanville and set fire to the rear of the house. The service was rudely interrupted as all present turned their efforts to extinguish the blaze, but not before considerable damage was done.

A THRILLING story is told of a one-day civil war that developed in Peterborough when the Cavan Blazers were in their prime. The Irishmen of the town and district undertook to stage a monster parade on the 17th of March. The Orangemen of the town decided they must not hold such a demonsration and they announced they would resist any attempt of the Irish Roman Catholics to do so by force of arms if necessary. Like the apostle Paul who heard the cry, "Come over to Macedonia and help us," the Cavan Blazers heard the appeal of their fellow Orangemen thirteen miles away to come over to Peterborough and help them. And they went; on horseback, in democrats and in lumber wagons. The Irishmen had their headquarters at Ned Phalen's hotel and the Orangemen planted a cannon on the street in front of it with the intention of shooting up the works. Charles Perry, the Mayor of the town, himself a Protestant, faced the cannon, officially read the Riot Act, and the crowd dispersed, but the parade was not held. The Blazers returned home delighted with their day's work.

Robert Kellet, a well-known resident of Millbrook expressed himself as disapproving of certain acts of the Blazers, such as robbing henroosts. One night they swarmed down on the village with a supply of straw and other inflammable material and lighted a huge bonfire in front of Mr. Kellet's residence. The cry went through the village that Kellet's house was on fire. Almost every resident of the village flocked to the scene and, while the crowd watched the bonfire, the Blazers cleaned out everything there was in Mr. Kellet's poultry house.

AT many of the chicken roasts the Blazers had in the swamps or in the houses of some of their members, it was not an uncommon thing for a member of the party to be unknowingly eating one of his own fowl. At one feast, a member of the organization was thrown a rooster to pluck. In glancing at the bird he remarked, "By Jove, he looks just like my Dick." The other members never batted an eye; they pretended to ignore the remark. Diligently the Blazer proceeded to make the feathers fly as he prepared the bird for the feast, occasionally muttering to himself, "Yes, he looks just like my Dick." Next day when he found his prize rooster was not around the barnyard he realized his fellow members had slipped one over on him.

The Blazers undoubtedly performed acts of charity and deeds of mercy, but their more daring, devilish exploits have been dwelt upon to the greater extent and have, therefore, found a more prominent place in local history. Nevertheless there are neighbourly and kindly deeds told of them. For instance, a certain farmer and his wife felt they had more worry to carry than anyone else in the district. The cause of their trouble lay in the fact that their daughter was in love with a young man of the township of whom they strongly disapproved. They resorted to every means in their power to prevent the sweet young thing becoming the wife of the young man. He was not allowed to visit her home, nor was she permitted to leave the farm unattended by her parents. In fact, she was practically a prisoner, although friends of the young couple saw to it that they were in communication with each other by letter. Through the good auspices of the Blazers, they were married. A ladder was raised one night to the window of the young woman's bedroom while her parents were fast asleep, she was carried down, placed on a saddle horse that had been provided; the party reached Peterborough early the next morning where the youth and maiden were joined in the Holy bonds of matrimony, and of course they lived happily ever after. It is further said, the parents of the girl, finding that their efforts to prevent the marriage had been frustrated, gave the young couple their blessing, belated as it might have been, and peace and harmony for ever after prevailed in the family connection.

A neighbouring farmer, during the harvest season, was stricken with illness and unable to harvest his crop. When his wife gazed out on their fields one morning she found the grain had been cut and stooked. It had been done by the light of the moon by the Cavan Blazers.

And so one might continue at great length telling stories of a similar type covering acts, both good and kindly as well as devilish, of the Blazers. They constituted an organization or gang of husky young men who established a place for themselves in local history, but it is scarcely likely they ever dreamed that one hundred years later the name Cavan Blazers would be applied to natives of their township. There being no records to indicate the complete membership of the organization, it is impossible to name all who belonged thereto, but it can be said that many of them were members of well-known families of the northern section of the township. Their parents were outstanding in the social, municipal and church life of the district.

There is reason to believe the name Cavan Blazers will survive throughout generations yet to come and no doubt each generation will add more details and glamour to their already thrilling recounted exploits. The letters "CB." after a person's name does not necessarily denote the rank of Commander of the Bath. If one is a native of a certain township in Durham County, it may mean "Cavan Blazer."

Churchill Street

Demonstrating afresh their power of resistance, their contempt for the Germans and their admiration of the Allies, the Poles have begun to rename the main streets of Warsaw.

A decision taken by the Directorate of Underground Fighting in Poland resulted in the changing overnight of the name of Zieleniecka avenue into Winston Churchill street; Saska Tepa square became President Roosevelt square; Jerusalem avenue was named after the late General Sikorski, and Bank square took the name of Stefan Starzynski, an heroic Lord Mayor of Warsaw.—London Daily Sketch.

Hating the British Costly Luxury

(FROM THE SATURDAY EVENING POST)

DURING the 1940 London blitz a group of chronic discussers was discussing the war. One of the participants varied the pattern by making a slighting reference to the English. "Yes," agreed another intellectual with a sigh, "and won't it be wonderful when it's all right to hate 'em again!"

It begins to look as if some people thought the achievement of that war aim was already here. Hardly had the Post printed Forrest Davis' article, "The British Get Out of the Doghouse," when it began to look as if they were about to be shooed back in again. The perambulating Senators made a few statements about bases and Lend-Lease and post-war shipping which started the Anglophobes off, and things went from bad to worse. When the Chicago Tribune dragged out the old chestnut, originally sponsored by George Sylvester Viereck, to the effect that the Rhodes scholars are back in a conspiracy to bring back the U.S.A. back into the British Empire, the nadir was reached. You might have thought that the war was over and America had no further use for its Allies.

The British are wise enough not to reply to most of this bilge. Mr. Churchill, to be sure, did make a gag about American politicians fighting as hard as the soldiers, and was promptly accused of "meddling in American affairs" by the same groups which habitually tell England what to do about her affairs, from the slums of London to the depressed classes of India. But for the most part they are silent, presumably on the theory tht you can't do anything about the Chicago Tribune, et al, anyway.

Nevertheless, there is no reason why Americans shouldn't rear up on their hind legs and ask some questions of these troublemakers. We know there are important divergences among the Allies, but they deserve a better fate than to serve as fuel for the flames of discord in the midst of a half-won war. Take the matter of bases, which agitated some of the Senators. Walter Lippman did a good job on that thorn in the flesh by pointing out that the only reason we have bases on other people's territory is that we are engaged in a co-operative enterprise with the peoples in question. Obviously, if the English or any other people gather the impression—from Senators or other critics—that the co-operation is not going to continue, they are not likely to provide bases, which might be used against them. In other words, the important phenomenon is the co-operation, not the bases made available for implementing it.

Most of the other reasons for resuming hatred of the British while they are still our indispensable Allies evaporate as quickly. Indeed, when the Senators discovered the use which was being made of their casual observations, several of them hastened to explain that they were merely commenting on some bugs in the war effort, not providing material for Doctor Goebbels' American branch. On the whole, we have a notion that the people who held out against all that Hitler could throw, while we were debating whether to win the war with Allies or lose it alone, are entitled to something better than the kind of behind-the-hand buzz-buzz-buzz that has been going round recently.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS....

NOT everybody is a gifted letter writer. Many people when they sit down and put pen to paper are smitten with an attack of dumbness and can think of none of the loving, tender, amusing things they would like to say if they were face to face with their correspondents, instead of being separated from them by oceans of ink. They are like the old father in James Whitcomb Riley's poem, who, when his adored son was leaving him to go on a dangerous mission in war and his own heart was breaking with anxiety, could find nothing to say but: "Good-bye, Jim, take keer of yourself."

Yet what a part letters play in our lives! Who can sum up the agony of waiting, day after day, month after month, for the letter that never comes? Who can count the tears that are shed over the letters that bring bad news, for somehow the written word always seems so much more final and desperate than the spoken one, and the sorrow that we must bear alone is twice as heavy as that which we share with another who has part in our grief. How it takes the last particle of courage out of us to get a letter that is one long wail! And how a gay letter, full of fun and laughter and hope and cheer, sets the sun in our heaven and makes all right with the world.

If this is true in peace time, how much truer it is in war time, how doubly and trebly true it is at Christmas time, when our loved ones seem nearer and dearer to us than they are in the rush of everyday life, and when our thoughts go back with longings for the old home.

So I am writing this to urge everyone who has a man at the front, or who even knows one, to sit right down this minute and write him a Christmas letter, and to put your soul as well as your fist in it. Believe me, that will be one time when your Christmas present will go to the right spot and make a hit, and you won't have to worry about whether Tom, Dick, or Harry will give the necktie you sent him to the ashman, or wear it himself as a proof of friendship, and what on earth he will do with another billfold when he has a dozen already and no folding money to put in one.

Don't bother about your spelling and your handwriting. If they say "I love you and I am proud of you and you are a swell kid," it will look better than any copy plate and sound better than anything Shakespeare ever wrote to the poor, lonesome, homesick lad who maybe hasn't any people of his own to write to him. Don't wait until you have something important to say before you write. He has read all the big things in the newspapers, or heard them over the radio, and what he wants to know is what's happening in the little neck of the woods that belongs to him.

Tell him about the cat's new litter of kittens, and how old Towser goes up to his room and nuzzles the bed he used to sleep in; what they are doing at the office and how they are keeping his job for him, and about the pretty redhead the boss has for a stenographer and the fussy old lady who is taking the place of the office boy.

Don't tell him any bad news. That will keep. Don't feel it your sacred duty to write him that his girl is going around with a draft dodger, or that people say that there is going to be a lot of unemployment after the war. Don't tell him anything that will depress him. Most of the things we fear, never happen, anyway, and when we get to the river we always find some way to cross over.

To mothers, who will not need to be urged to write a Christmas letter to their boys, I would say: "Please, ma'am, for heaven's sake, try to put as much cheer and spice in your Christmas letter as you do in the cake you are sending him. Don't make it sodden with your tears and heavy with your forebodings. Don't tell him how you are crying over the little socks he used to hang up when he was five years old. Don't complain about the rationing and say you won't have much of a Christmas dinner this year, what with the points and it being so hard to get food.

It isn't going to make a merry Christmas for him to think of his family sitting down to a table with a pork chop on it, instead of a turkey, and Mother sobbing into her ersatz coffee cup. It isn't true, anyway. So write him a bright letter, full of cheery gossip about the family, and give him something that will chirk him up and make him feel he still has something to fight for.

And if you are a girl writing to your "steady," or a wife writing to your husband—but there is no use in telling you what to say. Your heart will do that. Only no gobs of gloom about how you miss him.

Write that Christmas letter. And write it today. The deadline for mail is upon us.

Pattern Bombing

It may be far more desirable to bomb one roller bearing plant than a dozen steel mills, simply because it is a long way, industrially, with stock piles in between, from a steel mill to a finished engine mounted in a fighter plane, but only a short way from one roller bearing plant to a dozen aircraft, truck and tank factories which must have bearings at once. For similar reasons it is not worth while to bomb coal or lignite mines, or stretches of ordinary railroad, but decidedly worth while to strike at synthetic oil or rubber plants, or a locomotive works. The pattern is as scientific as it can be made. It represents calculated risks, for calculated results. There is nothing indiscriminate about it. Men are not being sent on guess-work missions. Theirs is the most precise work fighting men are doing in this war.—Providence Journal.

Sugar

The word production of sugar in 1940 and 1941 was about 30,000,000 tons each year; 11,000,000 tons were made from sugar beets and 19,000,000 from sugar cane.—Stratford Beacon Herald.

A Bible Message

Preserve me, O God! for in thee do I put my trust. (Ps. 16: 1.)

As for me, I will call upon God; and the Lord will save me. Evening, and morning, and at noon, will I pray, and cry aloud: and he shall hear my voice. (Ps. 55: 16, 17.)

And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are; for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward. But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly. But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking. Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him....

Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?.... And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin: and yet I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these. Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to day is, and to morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith? Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed?....

Unconsidered Trifles

"No wonder you're cold," he said. "You haven't any dirt on you."

Berlin Is Germany

Unlike Washington, Berlin is also a great industrial centre and the hub of the nation's railways. Of its population of four and a half million more than 50 per cent are workers—a fact which reveals its industrial importance.

It is also the centre of the scientific brains of Germany. The most important war research in the field of pure science is being worked out in the famous Kaiser Wilhelm Institute, in the suburb of Dahlem and in the research laboratories of such great enterprises as "Siemenstadt," the centre of the German electrical industry, which has been bombed.

In most countries, if the centre is annihilated, there still remains vast initiative other hands—in local governments, in industries, in trade unions and in the people themselves and the free instruments of public opinion through which they can be mobilized. But in the Third Reich, Hitler can truthfully say "L'etat c'est moi," and Berlin can echo that claim. Germany—and even Europe—is Berlin.—Dorothy Thompson.

Miss Medd Hostess To IODE Chapter

The regular meeting of the Jeanette Scott Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held at the home of Miss Mary Medd, with the regent, Mrs. W. B. Gordon, presiding.

During the business session a committee of three ladies from the Chapter was nominated to act on the local I.O.D.E. committee in connection with the drive for funds for camp libraries. The drive is country-wide, and the I.O.D.E. plan to supply camp libraries with books, magazines, and also to set up new libraries for the boys in uniform. The ladies elected were Mrs. J. E. Spurway, Miss Catherine Hodgens, and Miss Mary Medd.

The ladies of this Chapter will assist at the Blood Donors' Clinic during the week of December 20. The Chapter is sending individual Christmas boxes to each sailor aboard the Chapter's adopted ship, and Christmas cake, apples, magazines and books will also be sent.

Donations of $10 each were made to the following funds: British War Victims' Fund, Mrs. Winston Churchill Fund, Polish Relief, British Children and Clothing Fund, Prisoners of War Fund, and the Sailors' and Minesweepers' Fund.

The evening closed with the singing of carols, and refreshments were served by the hostess.

Gardiner—Peake

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 7. — (ENS)—A quiet but pretty wedding took place on Saturday, December 4, at the Seymour parsonage when Rev. J. R. Bick united in marriage Jean Isobel Peake, younger daughter of Mr. Fred Peake, and Earl Gardiner, son of Mrs. Ellen Whitton of Seymour Township.

The bride looked pretty in a two-piece Queen's blue silk alpaca crepe dress with black accessories, and she was attended by her sister, Mrs. Jack Rannie, who chose a green alpaca crepe with black accessories. Mr. Jack Rannie assisted the groom Following the ceremony the couple left for a short honeymoon to Toronto, and on their return they will reside in Seymour Township.

Walker—Webber

HARWOOD, Dec. 7—(ENS). — A quiet wedding was solemnized recently by Rev. J. E. Griffith at the United Church parsonage, Bowmanville, when Audrey Marion Charlotte Webber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Webber of Bowmanville, became the bride of LAC. Joseph Walker of Harwood.

The bride wore a white wool embroidered dress with brown accessories and carried a bouquet of red and white carnations. Miss Ferne Webber, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore a powder blue wool dress with black accessories, and carried a bouquet of pink sweetpeas. Mr. Harold Drope of Harwood was the groomsman.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold locket and bracelet. The bride's gift to the groom was a gold signet ring. The gift to the bridesmaid was a glamour pin, and to the best man, a billfold. After the ceremony, the wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents.

For travelling, the bride chose a brown tailored suit with topcoat. Mr. and Mrs. Walker left for a honeymoon to Toronto and London.

Canteen Girls Good Hostesses

The Sunday Canteen girl entertained a large number of soldiers from the local Training Centre Sunday afternoon and evening at the Uptown Recreation Centre, and games and community singing were enjoyed by all.

Major Bamsey conducted the first carol singing from the new song sheets, and all joined in with a will. Jimmy Abraham, Morris Duke and Barbara Nichols were at the piano. Cookies were served later in the afternoon by the girls.

Hostesses were as follows: Helen Lytle, Bernice Hillier, Beverly Miller, Yetta Fine, Sylvia Fine, Betty Detcher, Jean Elcombe, Jean Whatley, Nano O'Toole, Loretta Condon, Helen Hetherington, Jeannette McMorron, Jean Alexander, Pearl Sanders, Ruth Sedore, Mildred McFarland, Florence Hanwell, Betty McMahon, Marie Kearns, Estelle Collins, Norma Strickland, Eleanor Craig, Berdena Graham, Betty Goldie, Marjorie Goldie, Zoe MacDonald, Marion Weaver, Rita Duffus, Hilda Sharpe, Helen Peel, Naomi Manbeck, Jewell Scott, Pat Mackey, Jean Ball, Phyllis Marshall, Marion Foster, Elinor Shelby, Vivian Sullivan, June Allen, Marie Youdell, Pearl Foster, Marion Frosotto, Muriel Crouter, Viola Crouter, Doreen Hill, Alice Steenburgh, Kay Lavictoire, Gladys Perritt, Levina Riel, Yvonne Quirt, Joyce Gallagher, Faye Dunford, Ida Taylor, Frances Sergant, Florence French, Dorothy Veals, Phyllis Gardiner, Jean Warner, Elaine Green, Mary Ogden, Barbara Hay, June Moore, Belle Malowney, Mary Cassidy, Betty Estlick, Corrinne Coones, Dorothy Pearson, Muriel Genge, Mary Clancy, Kay O'Grady, Maye Lambert, Joan Pitchford, Jean Cranfield, Isabel Weaver, Jean Thomas, Florence Barry, Marie Thomas, Berta Belleghem, Louise Flynn, Helen Fleetwood, Phyllis Cowie, Ruth Pogue, Jean Munro, Audrey Brown, Jean Belch, Marjorie Armstrong, Alice Gallagher, Catherine McLeague, Bernice Allen, Isobel Milliken, Frances Bestard, Frances Haines, Mabel Adams, Mildred Mayhew, Olive Smith, Betty Blewett, Viva Clarke, June Steenburgh, Hazel Dafoe, Doris Horton, Irma Perdue, Norma Bellefeuille, Barbara Nicholls, Jean Murney, Mrs. Todd, Mrs. Deyman, and Mrs. Horton.

Out-of-town guests at the canteen were Mrs. G. McKenna of Toronto, Miss Doris Dafoe of Trenton, Ontario, and Miss Marion Buck of Toronto.

Murray Street W.A. Honors 1943 Brides

An informal gathering was held Sunday evening, after the service, in the school hall of Murray Street Church. This meeting is an annual affair, and is under the auspices of the Women's Association. As the guests entered, they were greeted by Mrs. S. J. Graham, president of the association.

One of the features of the evening was the honoring of the brides of the year. The brides were introduced by Mrs. Morris B. Pringle and Mrs. Douglas Loomis pinned an American Beauty rose on the shoulder of each one, as a gift from the association. Those honored were Mrs. Paul Lavictoire, Mrs. Allan Coones and Mrs. Clark Armstrong. Roses for the brides who were not present were given to friends who volunteered to deliver them, and cards of greeting were sent to brides who live out of town.

Those not present were: Mrs. Donald R. Caines, Mrs. Ronald Bishop, Mrs. Floyd Dafoe, Mrs. Howard Lawlor, Mrs. Donald Diplock and Mrs. Andrew Scott. Mrs. Stanley Northrop, wife of the organist, was also presented with a rose.

Three couples who have been married for over fifty years were also honored. They are: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yelland, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cottingham, and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Scott. Mr. and Mrs. Scott were unable to be present, due to illness.

Mr. Stanley Northrop played the violin, accompanied by Harry Northrop, and Mrs. Walter McCall sang a lovely solo. A male quartet, Dr. S. J. Graham, Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, Mr. H. H. Graham and Mr. C. S. Browne, members of the church, sang for the gathering, and Rev. Sutcliffe and Dr. Graham also rendered a duet.

Refreshments were served to the guests by the ladies of the association, and the singing of the National Anthem brought a most enjoyable evening to a close.

Port Hope Girl Weds D. W. Keeler

An afternoon dress of powder blue rayon chiffon, with matching accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses, formed the wedding costume of Florence Addie Louise Bamsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bamsey of Port Hope, when she became the bride of Donald Whitney Keeler, son of Mrs. James Darch, Newtonville, and the late T. C. Keeler.

Rev. J. W. Gordon officiated at the ceremony, which took place in the parsonage of the United Church at Port Hope.

Mrs. John Dew was bridesmaid and wore airforce blue alpaca weave rayon, and a corsage of Briarcliff roses. Mr. John Dew was best man.

At the reception held at the home of the bride's parents, the bride's mother received, dressed in Oxford grey McArthur spun rayon and a corsage of red roses. Also receiving was the groom's mother who was gowned in moss green crepe, and a corsage of tea roses.

For a wedding trip to points west, the bride chose a frock of medium blue crepe taffeta with gold trimming, a wine coat and wine accessories. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Keeler will live in Peterborough.

Home and School Association News

CENTRAL SCHOOL

A large group of parents and teachers attended the regular meeting of Central Home and School Association Monday evening, and heard three very interesting speakers. The first was Miss Ethel Richardson, the kindergarten teacher, whose topic was "How the Attitude and Work of the Child in School Reflects its Home Relationships."

Miss Richardson said that one of the most noticeable characteristics of the child was his complete genuineness and simplicity, and that the effect of lack of home training shows up in school. In kindergarten a child is given a chance to develop his individual characteristics and is helped to curb his worst ones.

Mr. O. S. Smith spoke about physical conditions at home and their effect on home relationships, and stressed the need for exercise, not only to neutralize overweight or underweight, but also to encourage keener minds. Exercise is taught to the young children in the form of sand boxes and swings, and as boys and girls become of teen age, their interest in hikes and out-door sports should be awakened.

Mr. Smith said that exercise eliminates and instills independence in the students. He urged the parents to encourage healthy sport.

Mrs. J. D. Smart was the third speaker, and her topic dealt with the problem of developing a happy home atmosphere. Mrs. Smart said that mother is the most important person in the home, and the happiness and welfare of the household rests with her.

The day should be planned so that she has a certain time to herself, and thus help her to overcome the somewhat dull and monotonous routine. If a mother can steer clear of family friction and petty arguments, she will be doing a great deal towards the happiness and health of her family.

Mrs. L. Groombridge presided at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. L. Raper and F. H. Dearborn gave a talk on current events. Miss Barbara Austin gave two delightful sepanied by Max Clark, sang two solos lections, Barabara Harris, accomand Marion Jones gave two piano solos.

Miss Richardson's class won the parents' attendance prize, and at the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

CONFEDERATION SCHOOL

Following the regular business meeting at the Confederation Home and School meeting Monday evening, a program in which members from each grade in the school took part was presented.

The program was varied, and vocal and instrumental solos, dances and recitations were given. There were dances by Jacqueline Hopkins, Raymore Turnbull, Rosemarie McColl, and by Miss Day's group, Miss Hanbidge's group and Miss Garbutt's group.

Helen Campbell, Joan Wildman, Mary Hunter, Katie Chesher and Donald Rose gave recitations, and Miss Squire's class also gave a recitation. Two plays, "The Little Stranger" and "Peter's Christmas Eve," were presented by Mrs. Jackson's class.

Violin solos by Norman Moffit and Joyce Wilson were another feature of the program, and piano solos by Christine Monks and Barbara Siddall and vocal solos by Joyce Mein and Gerald Crouter were also presented. Miss Johnson's group sang choruses as their contribution to the entertainment.

Mrs. F. G. White, vice-president of the association, presided at the meeting in the absence of Mrs. Walter White, the president. It was a Christmas program, and although no collection was taken, it was decided to take a silver collection as the audience left, and send the sum to the British War Victims' Fund as a contribution from the pupils of Confederation School. This gesture was acted upon, and the audience showed its appreciation of the evening's program by giving generously.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA SCHOOL

The Christmas meeting of the Queen Alexandra Home and School Association was held on Monday evening with Mrs. A. Nelson the president in the chair. This meeting is looked forward to every year by parents and children alike for the program is presented by the children under the capable supervision of their teachers. A capacity audience greeted the youthful performers who all excelled in their various parts. While the program was especially arranged for the evening by Miss Olive Armstrong, teachers' representative on the executive, it actually was the regular work carried on in the school and certain pupils were chosen to represent their class mates.

The program was opened by the singing of Christmas Carols and each teacher as her class was called on was introduced to the audience by the principal, J. E. R. Munro.

Grade I in charge of Miss Helen Staples gave a demonstration of verse speaking and the numbers were "The Bass Drum," "Skipping," "Grandfather's Clock" and "Tipty, Tip Toe."

Miss Gertrude Cox in charge of Grades I and II had her pupils present a "clap dance" and a "shoemaker's dance." Grade III under the direction of Miss Helen Bonnycastle did the playlet "The Sleeping Beauty" and Grade II under Miss Olive Armstrong sang three songs "Cock-A-Doodle-Do," "On a Frosty Morning" and "Merry Christmas."

Miss Fern Rahmel's class Grade V presented a Junior Red Cross Health play entitled "Christmas Eve Dream" and Mrs. Charles Pilon's room Grade VI did three Christmas Carols "Once Long Ago," "Whence O Shepherd Maiden" and "Bring a Torch Jeanette, Isabella."

Grade VII under Mrs. D. A. Roberston was represented by two members of the class reciting poetry which had been composed by the class during the month of October.

Two members of Mr. Munro's class Grade VIII presented a play reading which was both satarical and humorous.

Mrs. A. Olmstead on behalf of the association very suitably thanked all those taking part in the program.

A short business sesion was then held.

QUEEN MARY SCHOOL

Mrs. C. H. Crowe, president, presided at the December meeting of Queen Mary Home and School Association held Monday evening, and the meeting opened with the singing of Christmas carols.

Rev. E. W. Young, guest speaker for the evening, gave an interesting address on Religious Education. Rev. Young has conducted a weekly class in religious instruction at Queen Mary School, and introduced his subject for the evening by explaining that there are two methods of religious education. The first is the instruction given by the teacher each day, and the second is the systematic instruction given by the minister during a half hour period each week.

The speaker pointed out that the Christian religion is an historical religion, and therefore Grades seven and eight are taught a little of the history connected with the Bible, following a regular course of study as set out in a syllabus sanctioned by the Department of Education.

Rev. Young also spoke of the progress of religious education in Canada. The eastern provinces give time and thought to the Bible, but the instruction is mostly given by the individual teachers. In Quebec the schools are under direct control of the church, so half an hour each day is given to religious instruction. Instruction along these lines in the western provinces is left to the discretion of the trustees. Ontario has quite a favorable report, and about 800 schools now have religious instruction by ministers.

Mr. E. G. Wagar expressed the appreciation of all present to Rev. Young for his address.

During the business meeting reports were read by the secretary, treasurer, and the conveners of committees. Favorable mention was made of the recent art exhibit in charge of Miss Constance Wagar, and it was decided to send a letter of appreciation to Miss Wagar.

Mrs. Carley gave a talk on current events, having as her topic the two important conferences held recently. Grades two and seven were stressed at this meeting, and Mr. Wagar, representing grade seven, spoke briefly about his class this year.

The date for the next meeting was set for the first Tuesday in January, and will be preceded by a short executive meeting. In her remarks, the president told the meeting that Queen Mary School had been founded 30 years ago, December 6.

Mrs. Laurie Mitchell sang two very beautiful Christmas carols, accompanied by Mrs. H. V. Dobson, and during the evening Christmas carols were sung by all present. The meeting closed with the National Anthem, and refreshments and a social hour followed.

Sale Of Horses Grows As Season Ends

By ALLAN NICKLESON
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, Dec. 7 — (CP). — Britain's 1943 racing season—shortest of the war—hit the finish line in a whirl of booming bloodstock prices that coincided with fears this home of the thoroughbred would face the competitive post-war period short of quality stock. At the same time, the buying crowds at racing sales mirrored optimism concerning an Allied victory in 1944.

Generally, it was a better season than most turf followers expected. In thrills, to say nothing of attendance and wagering, it exceeded other wartime years, with each of the five classic races, including the world-famed Derby, providing a terrific finish.

Women, making heavy inroads on yet another industry, fared so well on the track that two of them may be principal rivals for the 1944 classics. They were the Hon. Dorothy Paget, who has poured more money into racing than any other person on record, and Mrs. Betty Lavington, a comparative newcomer.

Won the Derby.

Miss Paget, whose American grandfather, William C. Whitney, raced horses here, realized two of her greatest ambitions this season. She headed the list of winning owners and breeders and also won the Derby.

Running 16 horses, Miss Paget won 26 races that enriched her stud and training stables at Elsenham, Essex, by $59,152

Many two-year-olds were included among her winners, and her colt Orestes is favorite to win next season's Derby. Straight Deal gave Miss Paget her first Derby triumph this season.

Mrs. Lavington finished her first season as an owner by winning nearly $14,000.

Runner-up to Miss Paget was Lord Derby with winnings of $31,700 from 11 first-placers. The Aga Khan, resident in Switzerland, took third position on the list with seven winners and $27,000 in purses.

The King, with four horses carrying his silks, won six races and poured $10,000 into the Royal coffers.

Gordon Richards, 39-year-old perennial evergreen, emerged as champion jockey for the 16th time. He had 65 winners.

Compared with 1942, Britain had 67 racing programs as against 80, and 471 races compared with 540.

OUTPOINTED—Lee Q. Murray, ABOVE, South Norwalk, Conn., battler, has been in the ring for five years, beginning as an amateur in St. Louis in 1938. He turned pro in 1939. Among his kayo victims this year is Harry Bobo, the big Pittsburgh Negro. Jimmy Bivins, the No. 1 challenger for Joe Louis' heavy crown, outpointed Murray in their recent Cleveland bout.

Punch Galore On Bill As Giants Tilt Tonight

By the time the main bout gets under way, the ringsiders at the Brock Arena tonight may have had to move their chairs well back from the centre of hostilities. Seldom has Squire Frank Tunney lined up a card of mat mayhem with more "punch" than tonight's embroglio.

The main bout of course holds the spotlight with the two mat giants, McCready and Davis, geared for a herculean struggle. But the semi-final brings together hard-hitting Housepainter Hogan and that mysterious outsider who is known only as The Czar. Hogan is well if not favorably known here and The Czar proved on his only other appearance here that he is harsh as his former royal namesake. Putting those two in against each other is like throwing a pair of Kilkenny cats into a barrel. The dynamite should go off the minute they hook up.

More explosive material will also be seen when the excitable French wrestler, Pierre De Glane, resumes hostilities with Bunny Dunlop. Burly Bunny has for some time claimed distinction as the strongest man in Canada but the volatile Frenchman proved when they met in Toronto last week that it takes more than strength to win a wrestling match. But still capping the whole evening will be the first meeting anywhere of Karl "Krippler" Davis of Texas and Earl McCready of Aurora.

The "Krippler" is one of the most feared men in the game having hospitalized many an opponent with his murderous leg holds. Since Earl has the best pins in the sport Karl will set up a record if he can make the "Moose" say uncle in a leg-hold.

SPORTS-Day by Day

By FRED D. CRAIG

Will the science and courage and strength of Earl McCready prove enough to stand off the wild bull tactics of Texan Karl Davis in the main bout of the Tunney show at the Brock St. Arena tonight is the big question Peterborough fans have been asking. Davis is one of the roughest performers to be seen in action here and added to his meanness is the fact that he weighs 250 pounds and stands three inches over the six-foot mark. McCready of course is plenty big himself. He will tip the scales around the 240 mark and so he will not be giving much away to the Krippler whose specialty is putting toe holds on his opponents with so much gusto that he leaves them with damaged underpinnings. The Moose is noted for having the most powerful pair of legs in the wrestling game so that he should be able to take care of himself in that department too. But he will find the Texan plenty tough for he is one of those bruisers who take a supreme delight in belting his opponent around and using everything in the way of back alley tactics. McCready can look out for stormy weather and no doubt will have a lot of bad moments but the fans are counting on him coming through to give the Terror an artistic lacing. It shapes up as one of the hardest bouts of the entire season and should pack in the customers who like lots of action.

* * * * * *

It is almost impossible to believe that there is a chance of a Peterborough crowd installing Rowdy Dick Hogan as a favorite and yet there is a possibility that when the Housepainter meets up with the mysterious Czar in the semi-final, popular support will be with him. Somehow or other the fans took an instantaneous dislike to the masked grappler when he appeared here last week. His tactics got him in wrong early and Hogan can cut loose on him tonight in his best bad man style and be a hero for a change. That other arch villain Al Bunny Dunlop, of course, can expect nothing but the usual Bronx cheers when he makes his appearance in the opening bout. He is matched with Pierre DeGlane who in his previous appearances has shown himself a clean, clever performer and who will undoubtedly carry the popular vote. He'll need more than that, of course, to cope with Dunlop who is big, strong, and careless about how or where or when he hammers his opponents. All in all it shapes up as one of the most interesting cards of the season and rates a real turnout. Extra seats are being provided for the benefit of the big crowd that is certain to attend.

Doing All Right

Bill Walshe has been doing some gloating over the good work of the Kingston Frontenacs and he probably has a right to feel elated. Anyway here is some of his comments: "How would you like to have some of our players for the Maple Leafs?" a Kingston fan asked Hap Day last night and with a rather sad smile the Toronto coach said he could use them all. The director of the Toronto Leafs was only one of thousands impressed by the play of the Kingston Frontenac Army last night and the opinion of regulars around the Maple Leaf Gardens is that the Kingston soldiers are the team to follow for action and color. Toronto Navy, with a hard working, heavy hitting club, forced the Frontenacs to the limit in what is considered the best game in the big Toronto rink this year, with the result uncertain until Kingston clicked for an extra score in the last minute. Kingston played its best game but missed many sure goals by overpassing in close and the plucky play of Lorn Evans in the Navy port. Kingston set up some fancy plays from the long pass in the defence zone but many of the most promising attacks were spoiled in close to the Navy nets. Kingston's present pace assures a playoff place in the senior series with two up on St. Catharines, an even break with the R.C.A.F., one up on the Navy but one down to Hamilton. If Kingston can shoot another broadside into the Navy ship tonight the soldiers will be just a step behind Hamilton for the leadership with a good chance to catch up next week.

We have an idea that if John Ross Robertson and some of the other founders of the O.H.A. were to come back and inspect the organization they launched and see just what is happening today they would wonder what was the matter with the world. To old-timers who remember the strict insistence of the governing body in its early years on amateurism and adherence to the residence rule the present situation causes plenty of wonderment. Only the other day, for example, it was announced that Eddie Shore was shipping five of his former professional players to the Brantford Lions O.H.A. junior A club, and that the O.H.A. had reinstated the youngsters as amateurs and put its O.K. on them as Brantford players. Why Brantford or any other club for that matter should be bolstered up after the group race has started by the addition of five players in December, none of whom had ever been in Brantford before is something that can only be explained by stating that the O.H.A. has tossed its constitution completely out of the window. There is no longer any residence rule and practically everything goes. It will soon be as bad as baseball used to be in the early days of the Midland League when a club never knew just what opposition it would encounter in meeting a team from a neighboring town. Cobourg would have a battery from Rochester on Saturday and Port Hope would come back with three or four stars from Toronto the next.

Youngsters Get Break

Teen-age youngsters in Oshawa are getting a break this season with plenty of attention being given to minor divisions and the policy will undoubtedly pay rich dividends. Says George Campbell in his sport column: The "City League" teams swung into action on Thursday and Oshawa's hockey future is still in good hands. There were over a hundred Bantams on hand in the afternoon, divided into the four teams, Kiwanis, Kinsmen, Rotary and Coca-Colas and in the evening, more than 100 Midgets made their initial appearance with the four clubs and almost a hundred Juveniles were on hand for the "senior" section of the "City League." Team coaches have a tough job cutting down their squads but after a week or two, they'll be able to know where they stand. Only 15 players are allowed for each team and so the scramble for a place on the roster will be a keen one for each player. The first couple of Thursdays will be devoted to practice games and so the results of the games do not matter so much, as they are actually only workouts. The youngsters are all serious about this hockey business and the brand of hockey they display is surprisingly good. The Juveniles of course, are not far below the ratings of most Junior O.H.A. players and with just a little more polish and a season's competition, many of them will be ready for O.H.A. competition.

Peterborough Curling Club is evidently in for a most successful season so long as the weatherman provides the cushion on which the members will have to do their stuff. The December meeting last night was one of the most enthusiastic in the history of the club with over one hundred in attendance which is something new for a pre-season gathering. Another feature is the amount of new blood in the organization this season. It is evident that the membership committee has been doing some very effective missionary work. Apparently the Peterborough club is anxious that the year in which one of its veteran members has been honored by promotion to the presidency of the Ontario Curling Association shall be a red-letter one in local curling history—a sort of a tribute to Ray P. Best, as it were. Anyway with the membership complete and enthusiasm rampant there does not seem any reason why the winter's activities should not be about the best on record.

NOTRE DAME WINS SEVEN PLACES ON HONOR TEAM—The U.S. midwest, strongest football centre this season, dominates the 1943 Central Press Captains' All-American team. Seven of the 11 honorary positions on the 1943 All-American team, picked for the 13th straight year by the college captains themselves, represent mid-western teams, with the east getting two places and the south and west coast one each. There are no repeaters on the 1943 team, although several of the players on the first three squads made the squad last season. The Central Press team is a big one. The line averages 202 pounds and yet several boys on the forward wall are the fastest men on their teams. The backs average 184. Toughest position to fill was tackle. There were so many good tackles this season that any one of those named on the C.P. squads, plus several given honorable mention, could have made the first team. The team has everything. It has big, slashing ends, hard-hitting tackles and sturdy guards. The centre is a standout. The backfield has an able field general, a brilliant open field runner, line-smashing fullback and an all-around halfback. Only one player has been shifted, Bill Daley, Michigan's star fullback, being shifted to half to make way for the Purdue battering ram, Tony Butkovich, at full.

Interest In Curling Booms, Membership Shows Increase

With close to one hundred members in attendance, the Peterborough Curling Club held their winter meeting in thir club rooms, on Charlotte street, Monday evening.

Before one of the largest meetings ever to be held in the history of the club, President J. W. E. Thomas outlined the activities of the past year. He paid tribute to the boys who, on their own time, had done so much work during the early spring and summer nights in decorating the rooms. He spoke of the honour brought to the club and city through the election of Ray Best to the Presidency of the Ontario Curling Association. He named many of the new ideas that the committee is putting in force this season and asked for the fullest of co-operation from all the members.

W. M. Cruthers, O.C.A. delegate, gave a detailed report of the convention and enlarged on many of the useful ideas brought out at the meeting. J. W. Richmond also spoke along the same lines.

R. P. Best, newly elected President of the Ontario Curling Association, gave a brief outline of the experiences that he has already encountered as president of the association. He said that holding such an important office takes up a lot of time and incidentally gasoline, but he also said that if his health and coupons would hold out that he would try and stumble through.

Another bright light in the meeting was the increase of new members. Through the excellent work done by Chairman D. L. Davis and his committee forty-one names were added to the membership.

The matter of decorating the club rooms came in for a lot of discussion and it was finally decided that by popular subscription the boys would go 50-50 with the ladies in this undertaking.

At this stage of the meeting the rinks for the coming season were drawn for and then one of the best meetings ever held adjourned.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7 (AP)—Supporters of American League baseball are starting a move to get Clark Griffith voted into Baseball's Hall of Fame on the next poll . . . This dept. (with no vote) heartily supports the idea . . . Griff was one of the game's great pitchers in his younger days, a good manager, one of the main reasons why the American League successfully bucked the National some 40 years ago and the man who made a big success of the Washington club even though he operated on a badly worn shoestring . . . What more could you ask?

Shorts and Shells:

Word from the west coast brackets the Southern California-U.C.L.A.A. football game, in which there were 14 fumbles and the Manuel Ortiz-Benny Goldberg fight—which gives you an idea of what the fight fans got for their $27,500 . . . Billy Herman and Branch Rickey did some lengthy huddling over contract matters last week but the results, if any, apparently are being saved for Rickey's next press conference.

Hitting the Pace:

When Staff Sgt. P. R. Anderson, former Wisconsin runner, now a glider student at the South Plains, Tex., Army Air Field, decided to add a new field record to the four he already held, he dropped into the athletic office and asked another pilot to pace him in the 300-yard shuttle run . . . The pacemaker, Staff Sgt. Lowell Gamblin, not only did the job but broke the record himself by beating out Anderson in 46.6 seconds. He's a former Texas Tech sprinter who had held the old record . . . The next day, when Gamblin wasn't around, Anderson went out and busted the mark by three seconds.

PROVIDENCE — (AP). — Referee Tim Ferrick stopped a scheduled 10-round bout here last night in the sixth round and awarded the decision to Tona Costa of Woonsocket, R.I., after ruling that Jackie Wilson, former N.B.A. featherweight champion of Pittsburg, was "pulling his punches."

FOR him, that Long Distance call home at Christmas is the big event of the day. He's counting on it. Let's make sure that he, and thousands like him, won't be disappointed.

It means giving up our own Christmas telephoning, so that war-crowded lines will be freed to handle the flood of holiday greetings from naval, army and air force posts across the country. It means sending our Christmas messages by mail.

Should you find you must telephone out-of-town, try to do so as many days before the holiday as possible.

And especially avoid all non-essential calls to distant or war-busy centres. Winning the war is a non-stop job, and urgent messages must go through.

Detroit Slumps Boston Wobbly

By The Canadian Press

Six weeks ago few fans would have predicted that Boston Bruins and Detroit would be struggling to keep out of fifth place in the National Hockey League standings, but that's how matters stand today.

Detroit so far has failed to show the consistency which marked its parade to the Stanley Cup finals last season and a subsequent four-game sweep over Bruins, while Boston still has failed to strike the stride which kept it at or near the top of the standing after the first month of play last season.

But the club which Art Ross guided to a world's championship in 1940-41 has shown signs of life recently—Bruins are the only team in the league to have defeated Montreal Canadiens—and now hold a two-point lead over the fifth place Red Wings.

By defeating Detroit in the only N.H.L. game scheduled to-night, Boston could move into a second-place tie with Toronto Maple Leafs and Chicago Black Hawks. The game will mark Detroit's first visit to Boston ice. In the first meeting of the clubs this season, Detroit prevailed 6-4 on home ice.

Pitcher Wounded

PHILADELPHIA — (AP). — A twirler for the Philadelphia Athletics in 1942, Lieut. Bob Savage of the U.S. forces in Italy was wounded November 5 and has been awarded the Order of the Purple Heart, it was announced yesterday by Connie Mack.

Gets Top Weight

NEW ORLEANS — (AP).—Marriage, Texas-owned winner of the $25,000 New Orleans Handicap last winter, was yesterday assigned top weight of 124 pounds for the $15,000 Louisiana Handicap to be run at Fair Grounds December 16. Alsab, another prominent entry, was weighted at 122 pounds.

Williams Graduates

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By CHARLES EDWARDS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Dec. 7 — (CP). — Men with foresight in many Canadian cities are urging increased sports facilities as an antidote to juvenile delinquency. For example, Tony Allan of the Winnipeg Tribune suggests the ideal set-up is a community sports fund raised and administered in the same fashion as the community chest, a fund for charities....In Vancouver, the British Columbia branch, Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, has been responsible for a series of meetings to study the problem of juvenile delinquency. Eighty representatives of leading Vancouver organizations are studying possibility of establishing a recreation council whose objective would be erection of a stadium and auditorium for sports. The proposal for community houses is being studied. Vancouver is without natural ice most of the winter, and there isn't the same opportunity for hockey as in other parts of Canada. When Johnny Clark, former New York Rangers goalie, called for prospective players for his Juvenile Hockey League, 221 lads turned up. Owing to lack of ice, there can be only a four-team league.

Days of yore:

Harry (Calgary Albertan) Scott recalls Red Dutton, managing director of the National Hockey League, played with Calgary Tigers of 1922-23 in the old Western Canada League. Charlie Reid and Bill Binney were in goal; Dutton and Bobby Benson on defence, Ernie Anderson, Harry Oliver, Foley Martin, Jimmy Gibson, Al Fisher, Bill Speck and George Carey on the forward lines.

Tuesday topics:

Vancouver skiers will have an electrically-operated tow on Grouse Mountain this winter. Only other tow in operation in B.C. is at Princeton...... Tommy (Hamilton Spectator) Moore says Joe Krol still has a yen for professional football and will likely accept if he gets an offer next season. Krol had a bid for Detroit Lions this year.... Reg Threlfall says Art Stevenson, Nebraskan who played with Winnipeg Bombers, is the best football player he has seen in Canada. "He could do just about everything well—run, pass, kick, block and tackle. And on top of all that he had a great competitive spirit. He was a coach's idea of a football player." ....More than 12,000 German prisoners of war are reported to have taken part in a mammoth sports meet in a Southern Alberta prisoner-of-war camp.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

(By The Canadian Press)

President Maurice Podoloff of the American Hockey League yesterday took off his official gloves in a showdown with General Manager Eddie Shore of the Buffalo Bisons in which he issued an ultimatum the next manager to step out on the ice to abuse a game official would be automatically and indefinitely suspended. The circuit prexy pointed out Shore had already been fined $250 for a clash with the referee of the Buffalo-Cleveland fixture Oct. 30 and $100 for a similar offence at a Hershey-Buffalo game Nov. 28.

In a quieter moment at his office in New Haven, Conn., Podoloff released the league statistics yesterday which showed Wally Kilrea of Hershey to be well out in front in the individual points standing with 25 for 11 goals and 14 assists, followed by Gaston Gauthier of the same club with 21 and Burlington of Cleveland third with 20 points. The band man of the American loop is Bob Dill of Buffalo with 30 minutes in penalties, plus a major, with team-mate Paul Waldner of the Bisons second with 23 minutes in time off.

The Crescent Club of Brooklyn, N.Y., yesterday was named to replace the New Haven Eagles in the Eastern United States Hockey League, President Tom Lockhart announced at New York. The Eagles had lost 11 of 12 games before withdrawing. The Crescents, once famous in New York hockey, make the fourth club in the loop.

Mr. Justice P. M. Anderson, chairman of the Saskatchewan Mobilization Board at Regina, declared yesterday he had been in error when he stated last week Doug Bentley of the Chicago Black Hawks had been granted a permit to go to the United States last year by the late Mr. Justice J. F. L. Embury, former chairman. He added Bentley had not become eligible for military call until a few months ago because of his age and married status.

The Lakehead Senior Hockey League will operate with two clubs, it was announced yesterday at Port Arthur. The teams will represent the Port Arthur Shipbuilding Company and the Canadian Car and Foundry Limited. The Port Arthur Bear Cats have dropped from active competition.

Officers of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association will meet in Toronto December 28 and 29, it was announced last night by President Frank Sargent at Port Arthur. The business of the meeting will be the drawing up of tentative schedules for the Allan Cup and Memorial Cup playdowns next spring.

Rugby Innovation

Chairman Lou Little of the U.S. Football Coaches Rules Committee yesterday recommended at New York that forward passing be permitted anywhere behind the line of scrimmage in the college grid game and that a tee be adopted as a rest for the ball in kickoffs instead of being held in placement-style by another player.

After a long illness, Charlie Hall, 58, pitcher of the Boston Red Sox who won the 1912 world series, died at his home at Ventura, Calif., yesterday. His greatest feat was striking out Ty Cobb Sam Crawford and Jim Delhaney of the Detroit Tigers in one inning.

Earle Brucker, veteran coach and catcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, was given his unconditional release yesterday and appears to be in line for manager of the Oakland club in the Pacific Coast League.

Want Footballers To Fight Japs

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Dec. 7—Cmdr. Gene Tunney said today he still was convinced that football should be abandoned in the United States for the duration.

Reiterating his stand which resulted in a controversy last year, the retired world heavyweight boxing champion said: "If a man is physically fit to play football, then he is physically fit for the biggest game.

"We've got a bigger game on our hands—that of winning the war," he added.

Tunney, head of the navy physical training program, stopped here en route to New Guinea, where he will develop a training program.

Soldiers must be better fitted physically for action in this war than in the last war because of its mobile character, he said.

Tunney said he had met Tom Heeney, New Zealander whom he once fought, and had approved Heeney's request for a promotion from the Seabees into a naval physical training service. Heeney is now a chief petty officer.

Asked whether he had any program to revitalize war correspondents, Tunney grinned and replied: "Yes. Don't smoke. Don't drink. Go to bed early."

EIGHTH AND FIFTH ARMIES ADVANCE — American units of the Fifth Army have advanced a mile in hard fighting to reach and capture Castelnuovo, south of Alfedena. The British Eighth Army moved forward on a 14-mile front, taking Fossacesia and surrounding towns in the vicinity of Lanciano. This advance merges one bridgehead with another beyond Atessa.

Council Expresses Appreciation Of Assurance To Remove Oil Tanks

Apprceiation of the assurance by L. R. Beamish, Toronto, that the Canadian Oil Company would move their gasoline storage tanks from the centre of Ashburnham, as recently requested by a deputation of the citizens from across the river, was expressed by members of the council Monday night.

Mayor Hamilton reported that he had called on Mr. Beamish last week when in Toronto on other city business.

"Mr. Beamish was immediately ready to co-operate with us, and was exceedingly pleasant when we told him our mission," Mayor Hamilton said.

"It was a job well done," Alderman Gordon remarked by way of compliment, "and I think we ought to put it on record and write Mr. Beamish."

"What about the British-American Company?" Alderman Swanston enquired.

"We simply didn't have time to get around to them," Mayor Hamilton answered. "We were up at Queen's Park until five in the afternoon."

"Well, the job's only half done," Alderman Gordon humorously commented.

Mayor Hamilton said he would attend to the detail of interviewing the British-American Company as soon as possible.

Alderman Glover read the report on the Canadian Oil Company's reply. It was published in the Examiner last week.

No Ottawa Trip

Alderman Glover reported that he had accompanied Mayor Hamilton to the meeting Saturday afternoon of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, and was informed by two of its local representatives that they did not wish the council to proceed with the recent proposal to assist in an appeal to the Dominion Government for the allocation of additional war orders to the plant of Genelco Limited.

"I understand that they felt much the same about it as we do," Alderman Glover said, "that there is no substantial reason for pressing the Government at this time in view of the comparison of local conditions with other localities that have war contracts. They asked us to drop the matter of considering going to Ottawa."

Representatives of the "U.E." had proposed to the council that an effort should be made on behalf of the company and its employees to appeal to the Government to sustain the volume of work during the continuing critical period of the war. On the occasion of their visit to the council it was said that the decline in war contracts in this city was much less than in some other munition cities where other contracts had been fulfilled with consequent disturbance of employment.

Cumulative Sick Leave Plan Is Recommended By School Board

Using five years continuous service as a basis for cumulative sick leave for inspectors, supervisors, principals and teachers, the Board of Education evolved a scheme at a special meeting Monday night which has been put in the form of a resolution to be forwarded to the incoming board of 1944.

The recommendation which has been drafted for the study of the new board reads as follows:

1.—All employees who are included, in the following categories and who have completed five years continuous service shall participate in the Cumulative Sick Leave plan. They are inspectors, supervisors, principals and teachers.

2.—The sick leave credit that may be accumulated by the employees in these categories, shall be one-fifth of the unused statutory sickness allowance for the five years immediately preceding the current year. The accumulation of sick leave credit shall be assumed to have commenced January 1, 1939 and the calculation of sick allowance for the year 1944 shall be based on the accumulation made in the five years 1939-1943 inclusive; and in each succeeding years the allowances shall be based on sick leave credit accumulated during the five years period immediately preceding the current year.

3.—Cumulative sick leave credit may be used, in whole or in part, for sick leave in any year in addition to the statutory 20 days.

4.—For purposes of this plan, the date of appointment of any employee shall be considered as of January 1 of the years nearest to the date at which that employee was appointed.

It was also recommended that the incoming Board give consideration to sick leave and cumulative sick leave for other employees of the Board. This would include the clerical staffs and janitors.

The members studied plans for cumulative sick leave as they have been worked out in other municipalities and chose ideas which they deemed suited the problems in Peterborough and which were in the best interests of the teachers and other employees, who are in their employ. Every part of the resolution was given careful consideration so that when it is presented to the 1944 Board, a concise picture will be laid before it, and if it proves satisfactory, it can be immediately included in the estimates at the beginning of the year.

Although the members tried to give consideration to retiring ages and allowances, little progress was made and on a motion by D. G. H. Melton and T. J. Carley, K.C., it was decided to hold another meeting at an early date and have representatives of the Teachers' Federation and Inspector K. Wightman and C. S. Browne submit plans showing their ideas.

The retiring age which was mentioned at a previous meeting as 60 and 65 from women and men teachers was only tentative, and Mr. Carley and several other members felt that 60 years as a retiring age did not give women teachers sufficient time to put in their 40 years for superannuation. Mr. Carley continued saying that a plan from the teachers' viewpoint might furnish the board with valuable information. The results of the next meeting will be given in the form of a second resolution to be considered in the new year.

Miss B. L. Thompson of Queen Alexandra School, who has been in the Board's service of 41 years, having joined the staff in April, 1902, tendered her resignation to take effect at the end of the present term in December. In addition to her 41 years with the Board of Education in Peterborough, Miss Thompson also taught for seven years prior to that time. The Board accepted the resignation with regret and authorized the secretary to write her expressing their appreciation of her long and capable service.

No Christmas Baskets For Welfare Cases

No Christmas baskets will be distributed by the welfare committee of the council this season, Alderman Glover informed the council last night. Not that the welfare committee, of which he is chairman, has closed its heart to the little group of people who still need assistance.

"Food is rationed," the chairman explained briefly, "and we can't make up baskets; so we are asking permission to send out cheques instead. The total amount will not be large, $75 or so."

Alderman Gordon moved the formal resolution, seconded by Alderman Cotton.

HOW TO RELIEVE
PILE TORTURE
QUICKLY AND EASILY

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from McDermid & Jury or any I.D.A. or other drug store and use as directed. This formula which is used internally is a small easy to take tablet will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money. —(Advt.)

Bankers On Transition From War To Peace

Vital National Problems Discussed by Bank of Montreal President

George W. Spinney Gives "the Frank and Considered Opinion of a Banker" on Nationalization of Banking

126TH ANNUAL MEETING

Strongly Emphasizes Value of Victory Bonds Both During War and After

Problems of vital interest to Canadians in the transition from war to peace were discussed at the 126th annual meeting of Bank of Montreal shareholders yesterday by George W. Spinney, C.M.G., president of the institution. Among the subjects he dealt with were nationalization of banking on which he gave what he described as "the frank and considered opinion of a banker," the value of Victory Bonds in the war and after, and the need for a healthy, vigorous and flexible economy in attaining a high and increasing productivity essential for full employment and decent living standards.

Following a presentation of the profit and loss statement of the bank, as already published, Mr. Spinney spoke as follows:

"On the battle lines throughout the world, the past year has given us much cause for profound thankfulness. On the home front too the year has been one of achievement. But I think that any realistic view of the local scene must lead to the conclusion that the threat of inflation with all its attendant dislocation and hardship has in no way diminished in the past twelve months but has, if anything, increased. Moreover, I do not think it too much to say that by reason of the very successes of the Allied forces, we in Canada are peculiarly vulnerable to the dangers of complacency with a consequent relaxation of our energies at a time when our full efforts should be sustained. In brief, I think we have a situation in which it is necessary for Canadians to draw upon their reserves of sound common sense and their capacity for clear thinking and self-discipline. For it is at a time such as the present that these qualities, displayed by those at home, can have a telling effect on the duration of the struggle and on our ultimate ability to meet and to solve the problems of transition from war to peace.

"Much has been said, and rightly so, concerning the spectacular wartime achievements of Canadian industry—achievements which would not have been possible but for the co-operation and untiring efforts of millions of Canadian workers who have brought to the task of war production the fullest measure of their energies and skill. I should also like to pay tribute to those responsible for no less remarkable accomplishment in two other fields—agriculture and transportation. At no time in the war has food occupied so vitally important a place in the armoury of the United Nations as it does at present. The manner in which Canadian farmers have met, and are continuing to meet, the challenge of vastly increased demands upon them, under extreme handicaps of shortage of help and scarcity of machinery, is deserving of the praise and gratitude of the entire nation. I should like also to say a word concerning the services rendered by our two great railroad systems. Despite scarcity of equipment and manpower, the railways are handling freight and passenger traffic in all-time record volume. The performance of such a task, under trying conditions of operation, and with relatively little inconvenience to shippers of freight and to the travelling public, is an accomplishment of which the management and operating personnel of the railway systems may well be proud.

THE WARTIME WORK OF THE BANK

"I think it would be quite in order for me now to draw attention to the manner in which your Bank has endeavoured in a spirit of service to meet the changing needs of a nation at war. There has been little change in the volume of loans of both commercial and financial character, but in other directions the work has vastly expanded. Transactions in cheques and deposits, Victory Bonds and relative coupons, pouring through our hands, have been immeasurably heavier than before the war. Our safekeeping facilities have been under a severe strain. We have already opened thousands of ration coupon accounts and handled coupons running literally into hundreds of millions. The ramifications of Foreign Exchange control also have added to our responsibilities. It has been necessary to cope with these situations with a staff which, by reason of heavy enlistments, is seriously depleted in its experienced ranks. Of their diligence and loyalty the General Manager will have something to say later on in this meeting.

"In the year just closed, our acquisitions of Government securities were on a reduced scale as compared with the preceding year, notwithstanding a substantial increase in the Government debt. You will, I am sure, appreciate my point when I say this is a development we welcome, since it is a direct reflection of the national effort to control inflation by financing the war to the greatest possible extent by taxation and the sale of bonds to individuals and other non-bank investors. While the continued purchase of short term Government securities is a wartime duty which the Bank is glad to assume to the extent required, we are at one with the Minister of Finance in his desire to see that the necessity for this expansionary type of financing is kept to the practical minimum.

"Nor has our attitude in this regard been merely one of passive agreement. For our whole organization has focussed very special attention upon the matter of aiding in the sale of Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates. I am proud of our record in these great national undertakings. By written word and oral persuasion we have done everything within our power to encourage depositors in this Bank to use their funds to the utmost limit of their ability in the purchase of Government securities and to pledge their incomes to the same end. But

GEORGE W. SPINNEY, C.M.G.
President

that is not all. We have established low rates and special arrangements designed to direct these securities into our hands for safekeeping. The significance of this service goes beyond the elimination of the obvious risks in keeping securities in one's own home, for we know from experience that the investor who lodges his bonds at the bank for safe-keeping is thereby helped and encouraged to perpetuate his savings.

VICTORY BONDS IN THE WAR AND AFTER

"You probably have read public statements recently that would imply that the banks and other large institutions have an interest in depriving the individual of his Victory Bonds in accordance with some deep-laid and sinister scheme of concentration of wealth. Such statements, it seems to me, cannot be the result of a thoroughly informed and unbiased appraisal of the facts. First hand knowledge enables me to speak on this point with some authority. As Dominion Chairman of our Victory Loan organization for a period of two and a half years, I was able to observe at close range the thoughtful planning and tireless energy which the Banks, Trust and Loan companies, Insurance companies, Investment houses, together with all other responsible groups in the community, brought to bear in distributing Victory Bonds into the hands of small buyers and in endeavouring to have them kept there. The success which these efforts have attained can in some degree be measured by the increasing number of individual sales which have been made in Victory Loan campaigns. In the First Loan of June, 1941, there were 968,259 subscriptions. In the Loan just closed, there were over 3,000,000 sales, or say one sale for every four persons in the Dominion.

"In my view the widest possible distribution of Victory Bonds in public hands, apart from its necessity under present conditions, has tremendous post-war significance. For if the national debt is distributed among all sections of the community, the processes of repayment will be eased and facilitated. Moreover, the reserve of purchasing power, built up to-day by hundreds of thousands of Canadians through the purchase of Victory Bonds, can play a very real and important part in stabilizing the postwar economy and maintaining employment.

"I know there have been some fears expressed that there will be a rush on the part of individuals to cash their bonds at the end of the war and that the impact of this spending power on goods, which for some time will be limited in supply, will give rise to an even greater danger of inflation than now exists. This is a possibility I am not inclined to accept without reservation, for the desire to save and to provide for the future is a basic human instinct, and a habit which quickly takes root. It is true that in the pre-war years many people were either denied the opportunity, or lost the habit, of saving. During the war, saving has again become possible, and is now not only considered respectable but has been elevated to the position of a patriotic duty. Many people are enjoying for the first time the feeling of independence which only a reserve of savings can bring. I suggest that the will to save can, in large measure, be projected into the post-war years if Canadian see to it that the act of saving continues to be respectable and that the savings of the individuals will be respected.

THE INDIVIDUAL AND GOVERNMENTAL CONTROL

"At this point I think it would be quite in order to make some reference to the much discussed subject of nationalization of banking. For it seems to me that the frank and considered opinion of a banker, who like most other Canadian bankers has come up "the hard way," is at least as worthy of a hearing as the views of ardent exponents of theories of state ownership. Let me say, therefore, as a banker, and as a Canadian who has the interests of his country at heart, that I am at a loss to understand what good object nationalization of banking would achieve. Indeed I am convinced that such a move would be productive of consequences gravely detrimental to the community at large.

"To be more specific, I cannot see that under nationalization the many and varied banking services on which the entire business and comerical organization depends, and which everyone is inclined to take for granted, would be performed with greater efficiency and despatch than they are now. I find it difficult to believe that the individual in his dealings with a Government-owned Bank would have a greater assurance of privacy or personal attention to his particular problems than he has at present. May I say too that I can find no need for nationalization in order to place the nation's supply of money under governmental regulation, since the regulation of the money supply is a function already performed by the Government-owned central bank.

"Our position today is that there are ten banks actively competing with each other for business; and I can assure you that this competition is real and intensive. Under these circumstances if an individual has reason to believe that he is not being adequately served or that his proposals have not received due consideration by any one bank, there is nothing to prevent him from going to another. I think it is safe to say that under our competitive system a refusal of business by several banks would probably be sufficient evidence that the proposal was not one which, by any stretch of the imagination, could conform to good banking principles.

"The alternative which the proponents of nationalization offer in exchange for the present system of competitive banking is a banking monopoly under governmental control. Under such circumstances once the borrowing requirements of a customer were denied, for any reason whatever, he would have no recourse except through the channels of special pleading or political influence.

"One of the most prominent proponents of nationalized banking recently stated, as one of the points in its favour, that control of finance is a most essential step to control of the whole economy. With the truth of this statement as applied to nationalization of the banks I would most definitely agree. Set up a government monopoly of banking in Canada and the socialization of the rest of the economy would scarcely be more than a "mopping-up operation," For if a governmental bureau becomes the only source of day-today credit accommodation for Canadian industry and agriculture, the Canadian economy will have already lost its independence regardless of the extent to which any field of endeavour may continue to retain the outward appearance of free enterprise. This, I suggest, is a point that employees, as well as owners and management, may ponder. For if the Government, directly or indirectly, is to attain control of the entire productive facilities of the country, such an important element in production as labour cannot possibly hope that the vast regimentation involved would apply to everyone else and pass the workingman by.

"In its primary aspects the matter of nationalized banking is one of monopoly versus competition in the field of credit; and even within these limits it concerns everyone owning or dependent upon a Canadian enterprise that may have need of day-to-day or seasonal credit accommodation. In its broader implications the issue is that of individual liberty of action as opposed to the concept of a central Government supreme not only in the field of legislative powers and responsibilities, but in the spheres of business, industry and finance as well. This would inevitably mean the domination by the central authority of all bodies whether public or private which must have recourse to credit facilities.

THE BANK IN THE POST-WAR YEARS

"For 126 years this Bank has played an important part in the commercial and industrial development of the Dominion. In all that time our facilities have been freely available to the Canadian people in the exercise of banking functions, conducted in all their aspects, without bias or political prejudice, and in accordance with principles which experience has proven to be sound. In this, we have I think played a not unfitting part as the oldest representative of the Canadian banking system. Long traditions of soundness, sane and experienced management, fair and confidential dealing, plus the competitive spur to progressive outlook and efficiency, have all combined to build this system that is serving the public well. I am confident that your Bank is well equipped to do its important part towards meeting the problems and opportunities of the post-war years in a continued spirit of enterprise and helpfulness to the whole community."

Strong Financial Statement Showing Record Resources Presented by B. C. Gardner, General Manager

BANK SERVING 1,200,000 CUSTOMERS

Staff Now 58% Women—Relieving Many Men for Military Duty

With resources at the highest figure in the bank's history, the financial statement presented to Bank of Montreal shareholders yesterday by B. C. Gardner, general manager, reflected unprecedented strength and indicated the extent to which the institution was participating in the nation's war effort.

In submitting the 126th annual statement of the bank, Mr. Gardner commented briefly as follows:

"Our total assets now aggregate $1,313,065,000 as compared with $1,175,319,000 a year ago. Quick assets aggregate $1,036,610,000, or 83.81% of all liabilities to the public.

"Notes of and deposits with the Bank of Canada amount to $119,856,000 representing approximately 11.39% of all deposit liabilities in Canadian dollars.

"Investments, not exceeding market value, carried at $799,848,000, show an increase during the year of $115,701,000. This increase was mainly in our holdings of Dominion of Canada Deposit Certificates and other short-term obligations of the Dominion Government. Our holdings of Provincial and Municipal securities show some further contraction reflecting the lower borrowing requirements of these bodies.

"Current Loans and Discounts are little changed from the previous year-end figures. Our Commercial Loans continue to reflect the reduction in inventories, the shortening of credit terms, the reduced activities of companies engaged in the financing of durable consumer goods, such as motor cars, the inactivity of financial markets, and the reduction of private debt.

"In valuing our assets, ample provision has been made for all bad and doubtful debts and for depreciation of securities.

BANK SERVICES

"The services of the Bank have been maintained at a high level of efficiency in spite of the greatly increased volume of routine resulting from wartime conditions. The rise in bank deposits has been accompanied by a growth in the number of Current and Savings Account and we now provide banking facilities for about 1,200,000 customers under these headings. This increase has been accompanied by an even greater growth in the volume of transactions handled at our branches.

"In the loaning field the Bank has supplied, with Government co-operation, the necessary funds to finance operations of a character that would normally hardly qualify for banking assistance.

"In all of these operations we have little or no criticism from those who use our services and I should like to pay a tribute to our customers and to the public generally for their cheerful co-operation in these difficult times.

BUSINESS ACTIVITY

"The volume of Canadian business activity reached new peaks in the twelve months just closed. During the past five or six months, however, production has remained steady at a high level and it seems reasonable to expect that the index of general business in Canada will not show any sharp increase in the immediate future. Basically, this reflects the fact that we have reached, for all practical purposes, a condition of full employment of human and material resources. This does not mean that more intensive use of existing resources could not result in some additions to our aggregate output. It does, however, suggest that for the duration of the war at least, any very marked advance in one branch of industrial production is likely to be at the expense of some other department of the economy. Already lack of manpower has affected the output of Canadian industries, such as gold mining, lumbering and newsprint.

"The period of huge additions to wartime manufacturing plants appears to be past, with consequent reduction in the level of construction activity and the use of construction materials. On the other hand, the demand for raw materials for the new productive facilities brought into being has increased. Moreover, as the war progresses it brings changes in the requirements of the fighting forces which necessitate re-adjustment in the employment of our industrial facilities.

"With production and employment at a high level, retail trade has been very active but some signs of a moderate tapering off are in evidence. This is in part a consequence of curtailed inventories of consumers' goods, particularly in the durable goods categories, and is also the result of restraining influences of taxation and the voluntary savings effort undertaken by the Canadian people.

STAFF

"Of our male staff, 62% of those of military age have volunteered for and are now on active service. This total includes a large number not subject to military call-up because of their marital status, while a number of others have volunteered but have been unable to qualify on medical grounds. In August, 1939, 64% of our staff were officers, 30% stenographers and women clerks and 6% messengers. To-day the figures are 37% officers, 58% stenographers and women clerks and 5% messengers. I think you will agree that this is an important change in the composition of our staff.

"We have been asked for and have loaned additional officers to the Government and we are glad to know they are acquitting themselves well in their new duties.

"It is a source of keen satisfaction to us that a number of our men now serving their King and Country have won distinction and decorations on the field of battle. Ten members of our staff are listed as prisoners of war and ten are reported as missing. Our thought are with their relatives and friends and it is our earnest hope that the day is not far distant when they will be returned safely to their families. I have to record with deep regret that thirty-six of our men have paid the supreme sacrifice. Their memory will enrich the traditions of our service and our deepest sympathy goes out to their relatives and friends."

"I should mention that already we have given a great deal of thought and study to the question of reabsorbing our men now on Military Service and plans have been prepared to enable us to fit them into their rightful places in our organization when they return. It is our expectation that because of the duration of hostilities and their long absence from civilian life, members of our staff on active service may require assistance in reestablishing themselves in civilian life and we are, therefore, prepared to provide financial help where the need is clearly indicated. They may be assured of a warm welcome back to our service.

B. C. GARDNER
General Manager

Staff Under Heavy Wartime Pressure

"By all standards the past year has not been an easy one for the Staff, who have worked long hours and have performed their many and varied duties with courtesy, efficiency and despatch. I cannot speak too highly of their loyal services. The increased volume of routine plus special wartime duties have entailed many extra hours of work. Especially are we mindful of the heavy pressure upon our Managers, Accountants and other senior officers who have had to train inexperienced employees in the handling of relatively senior posts, very often on short notice. We have been impressed with the way in which our women clerks, both permanent and temporary, have risen to the occasion. They are doing splendid work and, without them, either we could not have carried on our full banking services or we would have been forced to ask for the deferment from military duty of some of our experienced personnel."

—B. C. Gardner at Bank of Montreal Annual Meeting

CALLS FOR CLEAR THINKING ON POST-WAR PLANNING

"Underlying all the talking and thinking about post-war planning which we hear so much of today is the determination that out of this war there must come a better Canada; and that those who have fought and worked for victory must be assured of an opportunity as free and independent citizens to obtain and enjoy for themselves and their children the material benefits of the freedom they have helped to defend. No one will deny that in the accomplishment of these purposes there will be a place for governmental measures wisely conceived and administered. But I suggest that the real basis for full employment and decent living standards is a high and increasing productivity that will be possible only in a healthy, vigorous and flexible economy. We shall be in great need of initiative, imagination and inventive genius. And as we value our political freedom and our economic future, we must guard against the doctrine that the way to achieve the post-war objectives we seek is to confine the Canadian economy within the strait-jackets of governmental regulation, ownership and control. Such a doctrine ignores political and economic realities as well as some of the persistent frailties of human nature, and rests upon the assumption that government ownership and control are inherently 'right' and individual ownership and enterprise inherently 'wrong.' My hope would be that Canadians will never through indifference or lack of clear thinking, acquiesce in the creation of an economic order in which enterprise and initiative, and the spur of competition, are regarded as of little value and low reputation.

"The whole subject is one of vital national importance and I am confident that you, as proprietors of the Bank, would feel that it would have been remiss on my part if at the proper time and place, I had failed to state my views. This seems to me to be a proper time and a proper place."

—George W. Spinney at Bank of Montreal Annual meeting.

Annexation Hearing Notice Given Council

Official notification to the council last night of the intention of the Ontario Municipal Board to hear the North Monaghan annexation proposals here on Thursday, December 16, beginning at 1:30 p.m. inspired only a passing comment by Alderman Bradburn.

"A resident of Brioux Avenue asked me today why that street was not going to be taken in with the rest," Alderman Bradburn said. "I told him it was simply because the residents had not petitioned for it, and if they desired annexation they would have to apply for it."

A rural resident of North Monaghan recently remarked to the Examiner that the farmers of the township would probably prefer to lose the entire suburban area."

Brioux Avenue extends from Park Street to Monaghan Road south of the A. Wander Limited plant, and the Claradу residents' petition does not cross Park street, from the east.

"If the city takes in Claraday and Confederation School, and the west side and May's school, we are going to be left with a school problem for the people living south of Lansdowne Street and west of Park Street. Their children would have to go all the way to Brealey's School west of the Kawartha Golf Club. Either that, or we should get some allowance with which we could build a new small school of our own in that south section."

Hospitals Request Public Stop Visits

The prevalence of flu throughout the city has led hospital authorities here to follow the steps being taken in other cities to keep the infection from invading the hospitals. Authorities at both St. Joseph's Hospital and Nicholls have asked the general public to curtail visits to the hospitals. Hamilton and Windsor have gone further and quarantined them.

"In view of the prevalence of influenza in the city, the shortage of hospital accommodation and need of keeping what is available at top efficiency, both hospitals are asking the public to stop their visits to the hospitals. It is requested that no one should visit patients if he or she has a respiratory infection, or is not feeling well," it was stated.

"It is also asked that in the maternity cases only one member of the family, husband or mother, should visit the patient and that in other cases only the immediate family in good health should be present."

Because of the difficulties the shortage of nurses is imposing on both hospitals, students and staff alike are being guarded as much as possible so that they will be able to carry on. If a large number became ill it would be impossible to fill their places in the hospital, because all available nurses are already on duty.

Peterborough Club Elects Officers

T. O. Donaldson was elected president of the Peterborough Club at the directors' meeting Saturday afternoon. Ivan T. Lillico was elected vice-president for the coming year and Col. D. J. Lawrie is secretary-treasurer.

The members of the directorate are: T. A. Mackay, J. F. Strickland, K.C., D. T. Diplock, Judge S. L. Smoke, H. T. Cranford, T. O. Donaldson, W. C. Hughes, Gordon Monkman, Ivan T. Lillico, Fred S. Potter, Gordon R. Langley and John R. Marshall.

RECOGNIZES NEPHEW

In a picture carried on Monday night in the Examiner of two soldiers standing in front of a theatre in Campobasso, Italy, Dr. H. J. Long of this city recognized one of the men as his nephew, Sergt. F. C. Ralph, of Toronto.

BUS BYLAW ADOPTED

The bus company's bylaw providing a ten-year franchise to Border Transit Limited was passed without comment by the council last night. Its terms had been thoroughly considered in committee, and will be referred to the electors for their approval on New Year's Day.

LIGHT FIRE BILL

Fire loss for November was $35, reported to the council last night by Chief Gimbleth. Although this amount was negligible the fire department received fifty-five alarms during the month, 45 by telephone, seven by alarm boxes and three verbal calls.

PARKING RESTRICTIONS

Motorists are warned that the section of the traffic bylaw prohibiting parking on the south side of Charlotte street between Aylmer and Water streets during certain hours is now in force. Parking is not allowed between 11.30 and 1 o'clock and from 4.30 to 6 p.m. daily except Sunday on both sides of Charlotte street.

DRIVERS OFF

Many bicyclists went off the street this morning on account of the slippery pavements, increasing the demands made upon the Peterborough Bus Lines. But to add to Frank Mitchell's troubles two drivers were off as well as three men in the shop who might have taken the busses out, all victims of the flu. Wm. Mellis, head of the Selective Service, has been scouring the country for bus drivers for Mr. Mitchell, but so far has not been able to get him the temporary help.

GRAND JURORS.

The members of the Grand Jury for the present Sessions of the Peace are: F. R. J. MacPherson, who was chosen foreman by his associates; John T. Arnott, 136 Sophia Street; John W. Ashmore, 412 George Street; William D. Campbell, 521 Gilmour Street; Oliver Church, South Burleigh; J. A. K. Comstock, 295 Simcoe Street; Harry Fife, Asphodel; Hugh Leeson, Smith; J. R. S. McLeod, 391 George Street; Roger Shadgett, 464 Patterson Street; W. B. Tucker, Norwood; Peter White, Belmont-Methuen; Harold Baptie, 554 Bolivar Street.

TO READ REPORT

The annual report of the Children's Aid Society, received by the council last night, was passed on to the finance committee for its study, as suggested by Alderman Gordon.

FLU HAMPERS EFFORT

The flu which is still circulating around the city has kept attendance at the Blood Donors Clinic at a lower rate. There were 55 reported Monday and these included donors from Minden, Fraserville, Lakefield and Lakehurst.

A MINOR ACCIDENT

Cars driven by Harry Finnie, 199 Charlotte street and Mrs. Dorothy Northey, Brown street, met in collision on the King street parking lot Monday and Finnie's vehicle had the right front door and rear fender damaged by the impact.

WATCH DATES

The Post Office reported today that mail and parcels for the United States has begun to arrive in answer to the Post Office request that citizens get things away earlier this year. Postmaster Lacheur reiterated that the deadline set for sure delivery was December 10.

HEADLIGHT BROKEN

In a collision with another vehicle driven by R. H. Knox, R.R. 9, Douro, a truck driven by Jack Robson, 426 London street, suffered a broken headlight Monday. The accident happened at the east end of Charlotte street near the Duffus building.

A WEEK'S REMAND

Owing to the fact that Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., is engaged at the General Sessions of the Peace, charges against a dozen men of having been "found in" in a common gaming house had to be enlarged when they were called before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in police court this morning. Inspector Reid asked for a week's remand in all the cases and it was granted.

SAYS CORNER DANGEROUS

R. B. Baker, 108 Park Hill Road, proposed in a letter to the council last night that four-way stop signs should be placed at the intersection of Park Hill Road and Armour Road. Signs are set on Armour Road, but traffic flows fast in and out the other highway, and is a danger, especially to children entering and leaving Nicholls Oval. The council asked City Engineer Parsons to enquire into the cost of flash signs which are used in some places by the Ontario Department of Highways.

Bethune Drain To Cost $400

To lay the surface drain on Bethune street desired by the residents of Fleming Place will cost $400 as a local improvement and they "pay the whole thing themselves." Recently it was said the row of houses front on Bethune, but the popular opinion is that they look to the east. The railway on Bethune interferes with the flow of surface water and the garages at the rear, or may be it is the front, are four inches below the water level.

City Engineer Parsons told the council Monday night the only aid to the residents would be a $400 surface drain. The "Pomander Walk" folks do not seem to be making much headway with the city hall. They asked for their front road to be fixed up, graded and so on, but it is a private street and although Alderman Dutton was inclined to accede to the appeal, probably nothing was done on that side and now the Bethune front will involve $400 for fixing.

DOCTORS ON CALL

The Peterborough Doctors are observing Wednesday Afternoon as a Half-Holiday throughout the year. Those on call on Wednesday Afternoon and Evening of this week are Dr. W. Gordon, Dr. C. M. Scott, Dr. Moffatt, Dr. Moir.

Ministers Arrange For Week Of Prayer

The December meeting of the Peterborough Ministerial Association was held at the Y.M.C.A. on Monday. Those present were Dr. E. W. Young, chairman, Reverends F. W. Craik, W. A. Filer, J. F. Everson, E. W. Rowland, H. J. Mahoney, J. H. Sutcliffe, Fred Horton, Major A. W. Dixon.

Several matters of interest were discussed, including the radio services broadcasted from CHEX. The secretary was instructed to write the E. L. Ruddy Co. complimenting them on the erection of the beautiful poster display on some of the billboards in Peterborough, especially the "Come to Church." Every life needs an altar and faith for testing times.

The following schedule was arranged for the Week-of-Prayer services in January, 1944. Monday, January 3—Mark Street; Tuesday, January 4—St. Paul's; Wednesday, January 5—All Saints; Thursday, January 6—Park Street; Friday, January 7—St. Andrew's; Saturday, January 8—Salvation Army. An offering will be received each night in aid of the Ministerial Association. Dr. W. J. Gallagher, secretary of the Canadian Branch, World Council of Churches will be the guest speaker.

Major A. W. Dixon gave an address on the "Art of Illustration in Every Day Life."

Canteen Fund At C.G.E. Gives Fund $500

Responding to a call at the Canadian General Electric Co. Ltd. which gave no fore warning of its nature, the secretary of the Peterborough and District British War Victims Fund was much enheartened to receive a bountiful donation of $500.00 towards the special gifts for Christmas now being raised.

This splendid gift comes from the Canteen Fund which has already done much to help the fund, for it is recalled on one occasion how it made the handsome gift of $1000.00, which up until recently was the largest single donation to be ever received, and has as yet still to be superceeded by any other single gift.

Then again, they have given two other gifts, each in themselves of a three figure volume and worth more than just passing mention, so that the Canteen Fund may truly be said to have played a prominent part in total of $5,896.23 that has now come to the fund from the large industrial plants presided over by Ian F. McRae as works manager.

Bombers Overhead

A very naive remark by Tom Glover "That how forunate we are that the Lancaster Bombers which had recently flown over our heads were friendly ones, and not such as those which had and were pouring destruction on the people in Britain from the skies" is worthy of much reflection on the part of all people in this land, who have been saved this horror due only to the stalwart hearts in Britain who refused to be cowed into submission in this manner, and thus saved this part of the Globe from a similar fate.

Then Norman Crowe whose John Henry also appears on the cheque as treasurer, who looked on the transfer ceremonies in smiling approval remarked, that he hoped that coming at this time for the purpose of giving cheer to bombed victims in Britain for Christmas, it might prove the inspiration and forerunner of many others to follow, apart from the good the contribution would do on its own account.

The episode of the Bombers flying overhead had more than a passing interest for the C. G. E. employees for reasons that are possibly well known, and the writer was reminded that they had a mission of worth while proportions in addition to their destructive potentialities, for one of them had taken 18 tons of mails to the members of the forces overseas.

Saturdays Market Effort

The nice sum of $14 was realized by Mrs. Rufus Payne of 592 Water St. who supplied the stall on the market with varied knitted goods of her own making, and sponsored their sale herself, in addition to which tickets were sold for two prizes of boxed Christmas greeting cards, which realized a further $1.80 for the fund. The draw was made by Mrs. Margaret Brooks of the Examiner office staff and resulted in 1st prize going to Mrs. Hutchison of R.R. 11, Peterborough, and 2nd prize to R. J. Lawes of the London Life staff.

This is the third year Mrs. Payne has conducted an effort of this nature for the fund, and plans are now made to hold a second event on December 18th or the same purpose at the market stall.

In the realm of personal giving, a splendid continuous supporter in the person of Mrs. William Shannon is listed with the usual $5.00, and another twenty-seven cents comes from a youngster who sent in this amount in the Santa Claus mail to Radio Station CHEX for the children in Britain.

William H. Fox Drops His Rank

HALIFAX, Dec. 7.—(CP).—Flt.-Lt. William H. Fox, command legal officer for Eastern Air Command, is one of a number of R.C.A.F. administrative officers who have volunteered recently for transfer to air-training, dropping their rank to do so.

A graduate of the University of Western Ontario and Osgoode Hall, he practised law in Toronto and Peterborough until his enlistment in January, 1942. Well known to radio listeners, he announced the Ontario Catholic hour on Sundays over CBL, Toronto, for four years. In Halifax he was associated with the R.C.A.F. "Wings Over Canada" program.

Must Work Harder

TORONTO, Dec. 7 — (CP). — Mrs. Robert J. Marshall, president of the Ontario Provincial Council of Women, told delegates to the Council's annual meeting yesterday that women must intensify rather than relax their war effort now that victory is in sight.

Tires Scarce

TORONTO, Dec. 7.—(CP).—R. C. Berkinshaw, president of the Polymer Corporation at Sarnia, Ont., yesterday told the 17th annual meeting of the Automotive Transport Association of Ontario there will be a dearth of tires for the next two years but, during that time, there should be a steady improvement in tire availability.

Rare Operation

MELBOURNE, Dec. 7 — (CP)—A United States army surgeon, Dr. Paul Gebauer, has given a chance of life to a two-year-old Perth boy by performing a rare heart operation. The delicate-operation was devised by an American physician in 1937 and is believed to have been performed only 24 times in the world. It was expected the boy's heart would be normal as a result of the operation.

City Council To Appeal Gee Decision

The city council decided Monday night to appeal the dismissal Monday night by Magistrate Gee of the action against Richard Hall Limited on a charge of operating a drygoods store contrary to he city's early closing bylaw.

"We ought to try to maintain what we think was the intention of the bylaw," said Alderman Gordon, moving the resolution which Alderman Cotton seconded.

Alderman Gordon said the position taken by Richard Hall Ltd. was that their business was properly classed as a novelties rather than a drygoods store. "They are increasing the working hours of their employees by staying open Saturday nights contrary to what we expected in the closing bylaw." Alderman Gordon said the Pattenick store was following the same course.

City Solicitor Huycke said he had received excellent support from Police Inspector Reid, the city's assessment department. "The case had a fair trial, but it is in your hands. I am not in favor of appeals in every case."

Mr. Huycke said he had laid two charges, one under the ladies' wear shop early closing and the other under the drygoods store closing. "I thought the latter was the stronger, and went on with it. When it failed I dropped the other case."

He explained that an appeal could not be heard until the next sessions of the County Court in April, and would lie dormant until then.

"Some years ago Hall's Store was assessed as a departmental store, but they have since succeeded in having themselves called a novelties store with Kresge's and the others in that class. The easiest way of having early closing would be by a petition of the novelties stores."

The resolution was referred to the legal committee for consideration in the meantime.

Milk For Britain

Employees of the Dominion Woollens and Worsteds have contributed $50 to the Milk for Britain Fund. They are the first to make a Christmas contribution to this fund, although contributions have been coming regularly from the employees of the Brinton Carpet Company. Fifty dollars will purchase 500 quarts of milk for the children of Britain at a time when the need was never so great as it is at present.

Six True Bills Returned In County Court

The court of the four homicides in traffic accidents was reduced to three as the Grand Jury struck one of them from the list this morning, returning six true bills to Judge Smoke as the General Sessions of the Peace opened with the trial of Helen Girard, charged with false pretences in an insurance application following a residential fire at Norwood last May.

The Grand Jury freed William Fawcett, who was accused of reckless driving in the death of James Brook, 6, on Park Hill road, November 24. This was one of four cases arising out of fatal highway accidents. Three remain on the docket. The jury reported "no bill" in this case, and also in the case against Theodore Desantel of indecent assault against a girl of 13.

In addressing the jury Monday afternoon Judge Smoke told them he would not be displeased if "you see fit to return 'no bill,' but it is your responsibility." Circumstances of credibility were mentioned as a weakening factor in this case.

"Not in my recollection have there been so many cases arising out of deaths," His Honor said.

First Witness

William Parcels, Norwood constable, was the first witness in the first case before the court, the trial of Helen Girard.

W. L. Elmsley, local insurance adjuster, said he interviewed Helen Girard at Norwood on February 2. She listed among household goods lost in the fire, dinner set, silverware set, radio, four pairs of curtains and so on.

Barbara Sisco, stenographer with Ephgrave and Elmsley, insurance agents, identified Miss Girard's claim with its affidavit.

G. N. Gordon, defense counsel, asked witness, "You knew she had moved from one house to another in Norwood without notifying the insurance company and Elmsley advised they were not liable to pay?"

"I knew that," Miss Sisco answered.

"When you knew that why did you tell her to go out and get some additional information with her claim?"

"On instructions from Mr. Elmsley."

"You knew Elmsley was advising the company to repudiate the claim?"

"Yes."

"What was the object of having her make an affidavit to something you knew was untrue?"

"When the claim information was amended you knew then the radio and other goods were not in the fire?" Crown Attorney McElderry asked.

Miss Sisco: "Not definitely."

"Was it a suspicion?"

"Yes."

Ken McCannon identified the used radio Miss Girard had bought for $39.

Maurice Ketcheson, formerly employed as outside salesman for Schneider's, recalled selling the accused a set of dishes and flatware, 121 pieces in all.

Cars Badly Damaged

Considerable damage was done to two automobiles in a traffic accident at Hunter and Aylmer streets Monday.

Dr. H. Mitchell was driving his car south on Aylmer street and another car driven by Lawrence Shealey, 328 Euclid avenue was travelling west on Hunter street. The two vehicles met in collision at the intersection and as a result of the crash damage estimated at $300 was done to the automobile of Dr. Mitchell while the other car was damaged to the extent of possibly $65.

Neither driver was injured in the accident.

According to the police report Shealey's vision of southbound traffic may have been affected by a square of cardboard in the right-hand window of his car.

High Standard Of Morality Is Required To Maintain The Home

Through the Grand Jury Monday afternoon, Judge S. L. Smoke addressed an appeal to the mothers and fathers "of this fair city and county to do whatever may be in their power to so educate and supervise their children that, in the days to come, our moral health will remain at a high standard, and our offspring may be a credit to this great Empire of which we are a part."

This was a literally off the "record" allocution by His Honor as Judge of the city and county of Peterborough, for the simple reason that the record itself was concerned with the criminal and civil actions comprising the heaviest docket Judge Smoke has been confronted with since his appointment to the local Bench.

In his formal address to the Grand Jury Judge Smoke dwelt upon its functions as part of the British way of living since the days of King John, and he extended his remarks to the traditional right of the subject before he courts of justice. However, as a further preface to his comments on the cases before the present Sessions of the Peace and on the other actions to come before the Court, Judge Smoke deliberately digressed at considerable length and with manifest gravity of utterance to speak to the parents of rural and urban Peterborough on the subject of juvenile delinquency in the serious tone of exhortation sounded in the introductory paragraph quoted above.

His Honor paused on the theme of the duty imposed upon the citizens of the Grand Jury, in the following long and carefully weighed parenthesis:

"You and I as citizens of a free country have a further duty to perform of a more local nature. We should not, in the greater struggle now facing us, allow of our institutions at home to break down. Our home is one of the most sacred institutions and only by the maintenance of a high standard of morality can that sacred institution be kept together. One has only to read of the activities of our own Children's Aid Society to realize the extent of the increasing immorality which exists in our own county.

Two Murder Cases

Juvenile delinquency is becoming a problem and I am sure that this must be as much a worry to you as fathers of this county as it is to the courts. So far it seems that no adequate means of punishment has been found to deal with such cases. True most of the delinquency of the juveniles from a criminal standpoint is confined to minor offences, but if you have been reading the press lately you will have seen that at least two children of fourteen years of age are now in custody charged with murder.

I am sure that you would be ap-

Thinking of you. Don't worry. Everything in perfect shape." The origin of the cablegram was not disclosed.

Believe Father Of Dead Girl Is Still Alive

HALIFAX, Dec. 7.—(CP).—Spurred by a report that Cmdr. F. M. Johnson had been seen in mid-town Halifax, police to-day pressed their "dead or alive" search for the vanished Royal Navy officer whom they believe to have slain his young daughter here last week.

One focus of the week-long man-hunt moved to the downtown area about the little grocery store of Arthur C. Burke, who claimed he had talked yesterday with a civilian-clothed visitor he identified from photographs as the wanted officer.

The storekeeper quoted the man as saying, "I'm in very great trouble," as he asked for a drink of liquor.

The commander and his daughter —nine year old Nadia — vanished from their home together last Wednesday, after Johnson had written at least two notes indicating he planned to kill the girl and himself because of his grief over the condition of his wife, critically injured in a traffic accident n New York city.

Two days after the disappearance the girl's body, weighed with stones, was taken from the northwest arm of Halifax harbor, near the Johnson home. She had been beaten over the head.

Last seen alive in a canoe on the arm, Johnson at first was supposed to have drowned himself, and the arm has been searched unsuccessfully by divers for his body since Wednesday.

Lt.-Col. G. Melton Named To Borden

Lt.-Col. George Robert Edgar Melton of Peterborough recently has been appointed general staff officer at Camp Borden. Lt.-Col. Melton is a native of Norfolk, England, who came to Canada as a boy and enlisted in the Canadian army as a private at the age of 17. A few months after Colonel Melton arrived in Canada in 1914 war broke out. In the following year, although under enlistment age, he succeeded in joining the 93rd Battalion, later incorporated in the 21st Infantry Battalion, C.E.F. He serve throughout the war with this unit and was discharged after the armistice with the rank of sergeant.

During the years between the war Col. Melton was in the automobile business at Peterborough. His chief interest outside of business life was in the Non-Permament Active Militia. Shortly after his discharge he joined the Peterborough Regiment, N.P.A.M., now the Prince of Wales Rangers, and rose to the rank of major before the declaration of war in 1939. Secondary hobbies were golf and fishing, but the militia came first.

Early in 1940, the then Major Melton was called out for active service and posted to the instructional staff of the Royal Military College at Kingston, in June, 1941. Later he was officer commanding the company commanders' course at R.M.C., and when the field officers' course was organized in 1943 he was placed in command and promoted to his present rank. He transferred to Camp Borden late in November to take over the post he now holds.

Ottawa Studies Proposals On Social Lines

Social Security, Health Insurance and National Fitness Dealt With In Schemes Put Forward in 1943.

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Dec. 7 — (CP). — Blueprints for Canadian social security were prepared in Ottawa this year.

Vigorous study was given proposed steps to be taken before and after the war ends, to ensure every Canadian has a basic minimum income regardless of age, occupation, place of abode or sex.

Last year saw presentation to the House of Commons committee on social security of a lengthy report by Dr. L. C. Marsh, research adviser to the government Reconstruction Committee, on a suggested social security program for the Dominion.

Dr. Marsh estimates that assurance of a basic income to all Canadians would cost about $1,000,000,000 a year, and that another $1,000,000,000 would be required during the first year after the war for work projects to fill the gap between demobilization and restoration of the national economy to a peace basis.

The Marsh plan envisioned children's allowances, increased unemployment insurance benefits, unemployment assistance to uninsured, free medical care for all Canadians, sickness benefits, maternity benefits for employed women, increased old-age pensions, disability pensions for unemployables, and funeral benefits.

Health Insurance

A national health insurance plan was outlined to the House of Commons by Pensions Minister Mackenzie, setting forth proposals for allocation of the costs between the Dominion and the provinces. The total cost was estimated at $256,186,000 with $131,436,000 to be met from public funds and the remainder from contributions.

The individual contribution to the plan was estimated at $26 a year with no person required to pay more than 3.7 per cent of his income on behalf of himself and his dependents.

Ultimate decision on the insurance plan rests with the provinces who have jurisdiction over health matters in their own areas, but the Dominion purposes leadership through grants-in-aid.

A national physical fitness program was approved by parliament. It provides for establishment of a national council on physical fitness and creation of a fund to which the Dominion will contribute $250,000. The program includes the organization of sports on a nation-wide scale.

Social security and reconstruction proposals were examined in detail by house committees. The social security committee suggested further studies and is expected to continue its work in 1944.

Urge Resources Survey

The reconstruction committee recommended an immediate survey of Canadian natural resources to determine their nature and extent and other requirements, to permit a major post-war program to provide employment and "promotion of a better balanced Canadian economy."

The committee said a housing program was essential to eliminate slum conditions, with the government obtaining authority to finance or assist in financing better homes.

Debate in parliament indicated general support of social security programs by the various political parties. The Progressive Conservatives had Dr. Charlotte Whitton undertake a detailed analysis of the Marsh report, in which she commented it attempted to direct Canada along the blueprints of the social security plan for the United Kingdom prepared by Sir William Beveridge whereas the Canadian situation demanded "evolution of realistic measures grounded deep in the character of this country and its people."

ALL-TIME RECORD

For folk with short memories who seem to think that the mild weather Peterborough has been enjoying in recent weeks is something out of the ordinary, it is recalled that thirty years ago yesterday the weather was so balmy that the steamer Rainbow established an all-time record for late navigation by running a trip from Rice Lake to Peterborough. Those were the days when the river boats made Saturday trips to this city for farmers attending the market and in 1913 the conditions were so fine and the river so free of any signs of a freezeup that the Rainbow made the voyage on the first Saturday in December and brought 90 passengers from Rice Lake and points along the river.—C.

Northend Men Protest Design Of Home

Authoritative definitions of a story and a half house, arrayed by R. G. Cornell, John M. R. Fairbairn and Walter R. L. Blackwell, served only to convince the city council and themselves as members of a deputation of the rightness and propriety of their protect against the new house John M. Paris is erecting on O'Carroll Avenue, part of a restricted building area in the Normal School section.

But, the house is an accomplished fact, or at least advanced to the roofing stage as reported at a committee meeting last week, and an active sense of fairness to the owner countervailed the intent, if not the precise letter, of the bylaw.

The construction of the house goes on, just as Mr. Paris conceived it out of one of those home journals which described the example as a story and a half. The alternative was to order Mr. Paris to tear off his roof and extend the vertical walls to the somewhat indeterminate height of half a story, and he could finish it as he wished. But, as previously reported, he had been issued a building permit and the work had proceeded into the roof boarding stage before it was noticed that he was not complying with the bylaw, or as T. J. Carley, K.C., on behalf of Mr. Paris, pointed out last week, as the bylaw was probably intended to require, but failed in exactness of definition.

Alderman Bradburn, a flu patient last week, when Mr. Paris and Mr. Carley explained their case, said that from reading the report of the discussion he considered the council should stand behind its bylaw, and that Mr. Paris should be told that he would have to comply with it. He moved an amendment to Alderman Cotton's motion to adopt the finance committee recommendation permitting Mr. Paris to continue the erection of his house. Not one of his associates raised a seconding hand.

"They wouldn't listen last week," Mayor Hamilton observed.

"We listened, but we didn't act," Alderman Gordon said.

2,500 Workers Get 5 Cent Increase

HAMILTON, Dec. 7 — (CP). — International Harvester Company of Canada here yesterday announced the regional War Labor Board has approved its application for permission to increase wages and salaries of all employees by five cents an hour.

Approximately 2,500 employees are affected, in the company's local plants and the plant at Chatham, and sales branches at Toronto, London and Ottawa. The increase is effective from the week beginning September 26 last.

The approval affects only employees in Ontario and the company will apply for permission to make similar increases in other provinces in which it operates.

High Standard

palled by the evidence which you would hear if you were the jury trying the case, indicating the knowledge of sexual matters acquired by a thirteen-year-old girl who will appear before you as a crown witness in one of the cases with which you will have to deal. How much better it would be if our children were given the proper supervision in the home instead of being allowed to gain their social education on the street and later in our juvenile courts and institutions. Through you I appeal to the mothers and fathers of this fair city and county to do whatever may be in their power to so educate and supervise their children so that in the days to come our moral health will remain at a high standard and so that our offspring may be a credit to this great Empire of which we form a part."

Palladium Of Freedom

In beginning his address, Judge Smoke recalled several of the ancient statutes of liberty. One was a law passed originally in the twenty-fifth year of the reign of Edward 1 in the following words:

"No man shall be taken or imprisoned nor prejudiced of life or limb, nor be disseized or put out of his freedom, franchise, or liberties, or free customs, nor be outlawed, or exiled, or otherwise destroyed, unless he be brought in to answer and prejudiced of the same by due course of law; nor shall the King pass upon him, nor condemn him, but by lawful judgment of his peers, or by the law of the land; and the King shall sell to no man, nor deny or defer to any man, either justice or right."

This, of course, is based on what is known to use as the Magna Charta and is as important to us as individuals as is the Atlantic Charter, of which we hear so much today to nations.

There will also be found the following law passed in the reign of Henry III: "It is provided, agreed, and granted, that all persons, as well of high as of low estate, shall receive justice in the King's court; and none from henceforth shall take revenge or distress of his own authority, without aware of the King's court though he have damage or injury, whereby he would have amends of his neighbour, either higher or lower."

This is known as the statute of Marlbridge and is also as important as the law passed in the reign of Edward I, and it is upon this law that the root of justice throughout the British Empire is based. It is one of those things for which we as an Empire fight today and for which our sons and daughters lay down their lives. British traditions prescribed that British people shall make their own laws and shall have free access to the courts of the land and that they be not subject to those tyrannies which are today imposed upon overrun Europe. We as British people who have seen good in laws passed by the Mother of Parliaments and who have seen fit to retain those laws, owe a duty to the state to maintain those laws. You have seen summoned here today to perform a duty which you owe to the state to assist in the maintenance thereof.

The Cotton report was adopted.

Alderman Dutton said he had moved to permit Mr Paris to proceed with the house "on the grounds of common fairness." The bylaw, in his opinion, was ambiguous. It prescribed that no house in the restricted area should be less than one story and a half, but it failed to define what a story and a half actually constituted. Mr. Paris had presented only a ground plan of the house, but he was not asked for a detailed plan.

On that point, City Engineer Parsons said Mr. Paris told him the house was to be a story and a half, "and I took it for granted that it would be what we intended it to be as a story and a half."

And that was the crux of the controversy at both hearings. Mr. Paris is building two dormer windows in the front of the roof looking in upon two rooms upstairs, but the outside vertical wall does not lift beyond the first story. And Mr. Carley previously stressed the omission of a defining clause.

"It was evident Mr. Paris acted in good faith," Alderman Dutton said. "I hold no brief for him. I don't know him, but I feel we ought to be fair to him, and all we can do is to amend the bylaw."

City Solicitor Huycke was asked for his opinion. His reply was to the effect that if it were a matter before a court, the meaning would have to be determined by the presiding judge. "I am not prepared to say what would happen. I think we would have a 50-50 chance."

Mr. Corneil reminded the council that other residents of the area had their assessments increased by $100 immediately after the restricting bylaw was in force, and additional taxes were paid for the protection it was presumed to guarantee. Others had to increase their floor area to comply with the bylaw, thereby entailing additional expense.

The definitions quoted by the deputations indicated that according to their texts a half-story consisted a vertical wall of part the full height of the story, the rest of it being allowed for by the slant of the roof.

One of the suggestions from the several discussions was that a building inspector should be engaged on a full time basis, and that the City Engineer could not be expected to find time from all his other duties to make frequent rounds of all buildings in process of construction.

The amendment to the bylaw was ready last night, but it was pointed out that no definition of cottage and bungalow roofs were included, and to anticipate any further John Paris incidents the draft should go to the Board of Works for consideration. The motion by Alderman Bradburn and Curtis was adopted.

Flu Mild Type Doctors Claim; 3 Die In West

By JOHN DAUPHINEE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Dec. 7 — (CP).—Influenza-type colds—and some real flu—are hitting hard at Canadians from the Pacific coast to Quebec; and health authorities are agreed there's not much anybody can do about it.

The Maritimes seemed free of any serious problem, with medical authorities in Nova Scotia reporting there was "no epidemic, just seasonal colds," and Prince Edward Island's Deputy Minister of Health, Dr. B. C. Keeping, saying he knows of no influenza cases in his province.

"If you could shut yourself up in a glass case you could probably escape," Dr. J. J. Heagerty, Dominion director of Public Health Services, said today. "But if you mix with people you may catch cold or flu at any time."

Doctor's Advice

He did list, though, three ways to improve your chances of skipping sickness of this type:

1. Keep warm; 2. Eat plenty of nourishing food; 3. Get as much rest as possible.

And he had this advice for the man, woman or child who catches cold:

"Get to bed. You'll get better faster and avoid spreading it to others."

In 1918 influenza took heavy toll of life across Canada. The present semi-epidemic, apparently most severe in central Canada isn't the same thing and deaths are not numerous.

"This is really an outbreak of colds of an influenza nature, said Dr. Heagerty. "The true influenza is caused by either an 'A' virus or 'B' virus and neither of these has appeared in this outbreak in any number of cases sufficient to indicate prevalance."

At Quebec, Dr. J. Forest of the provincial health department in a statement said influenza is "very prevalent" in all districts. Most cases were too mild for doctors to be called regularly.

At Montreal one school was closed and two large hospitals — the central divisions of Montreal General and Royal Victoria—barred for two weeks all but emergency cases because of shortage of medical personnel due to illness.

Civic medical officials said colder weather is expected to bring relief.

Three deaths from flu have been reported in Winnipeg but the low mortality indicates the minor character of the type of influenza prevalent there.

In Saskatchewan, Alberta and Manitoba, health officers reported many severe colds but flu cases generally were said to be of a mild type.

Daley Opposes Federal Program

TORONTO, Dec. 7 (CP)—Labor Minister Daley of Ontario last night expressed disappointment at Prime Minister King's announcement of a federal proposal in his Saturday night broadcast of a labor code applicable to war industries only.

"We are very disappointed," Dr. Daley said. "It is our firm opinion that no proper distinction can be drawn between what is a war industry and what is not a war industry. A Dominion code should apply to all industry."

Attorney-General Leslie Blackwell, who represented Ontario at the Ottawa conference, said Ontario's position had not changed nor would it be changed, but he wished to study the Dominion plan before commenting upon it.

Queen's Park sources last night indicated that Premier Drew prepared a statement before leaving for the United Kingdom which anticipated Mr. King's announcement and protested against it.

LAC. ARNOLD LOBB

SGT. WELLINGTON LOBB

Two sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Lobb, Norwood, are serving in the R.C.A.F., one in Canada and one overseas, both having enlisted at the same time in August of 1942. LAC. Lobb is still stationed in Canada and formerly worked in Toronto. His wife and son George live in Hastings. Sgt. Wellington Lobb, who has been overseas since September, is an air gunner, who graduated at MacDonald, Man. Sgt. Lobb's chum, PO. Frank Haddlesley, also of Norwood, was wounded recently and received the D.F.C.

FO. RALPH JOHNSTON

The Canadians attached to the R.A.F. in Italy are taking no chances on having Christmas pass them by and FO. Ralph Johnston son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Johnston, McDonnel street, writes that members of his squadron have begun miniature ranching for the occassion.

"Already we are looking forward to a good Christmas. On our stock farm we have one sheep two pigs (small but growing rapidly) and three turkeys. We had a dozen chickens but they died, probably from the bully beef. But the pigs are as happy as a couple of porpoise in a mill pond.

"All over Italy they are singing this melody 'Where Do We Go from Here.' It won't be long before we win this blinkin' war, but where do we go from here? The first thing I did upon my arrival in this country was to go shopping and a wonderful time was had by all. Now I am well stocked up in clothes and everything else. I bought a couple of the loudest pairs of pyjamas I have ever seen and for the present I am enjoying the sensation of buying a thing when I want it."

Lots of Fruit

FO. Johnston continued saying that it was a great improvement on his last place. The food is much better and the men get oranges, lemons, grapes and good solid apples. They also have almonds, chestnuts, walnuts, currants, raisins and all are in abundance. They can purchase 2½ lbs of nuts for 10 cents.

Although many of the boys who are on active service left school to enlist, they have not forgotten to look ahead to the post war adjustment. This airman is considering furthering his education and is doing everything in his power to be in a position to pick up the threads of civilian life, as are so many others.

"Italy on the whole is a pretty fair spot so far. Bags of fun and all that stuff and a good job. Nobody could wish for more. I am happy and getting ready to enjoy myself when I get home."

PTE. THOMAS S. ROGERS

A member of the Cameron Highlanders, Pte. Thomas S. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rogers of Douro, has been serving overseas for two and a half years. Prior to enlisting with the Highlanders in Ottawa, he was employed at the Peterborough Lock Company.

Enjoying a furlough, Able Seaman Harold J. Bray, R.C.N.V.R., is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bray of Birdsall. Prior to enlisting in the Navy, he was a brickmaker at the Curtis Brothers.

Word has been received about another promotion for Petty Officer J. C. Ward, E.R.A., who was formerly employed at the Collegiate Institute. After a leave in the summer he was advanced to an Engine Room Artificer when he qualified and since then he has been recommended for a chief's rating and he has passed his axaminations.

"I have met a few of the boys from Peterborough," he wrote, "and they are fine. I hope the Collegiate can still use a good chief engineer after this is over. for I am getting plenty of experience and we have a good ship. The officers are exceptionally good and the crew get on well together, and that means a lot on a ship like ours."

Petty Officer Ward has been in the Navy for some time and during his travels has seen considerable action.

Canadian Women's Army Corps personnel will soon receive trades training as wireless operators and will be employed at fixed wireless stations, Defence headquarters announced recently.

Thirty candidates each month will be assigned for a course at the Canadian Army Signals Training Centre at Barriefield, Ont.

Chief Petty Officer Kenneth Williams, RCNVR., son of Mr. W. W. Williams, 263 Engleburn Ave., has been serving aboard the H.M. C.S. Athabaskan which felt the sting of the new Nazi glider bomb in an attack in August. His brother, Cpl. Hector Williams, is serving in Italy.

There's nothing like being a Wren in the opinion of Wren Nellie Smith of the WRCNS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byers Smith 228 Perry Street. She has been transferred from Preston to H.M. C.S. Cornwallis and is a captain's writer. Wren Smith was formerly employed in the Genelco office, and although she has suffered a little from sea sickness she still thinks the navy's the best place to be.

O S Albert Brooks, who has been home on two-week furlough has reported at headquarters in Ottawa. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Brooks, McDonnel St., and before enlisting he worked at a number of factories, Westclox, C.G.E., Quaker and lastly at the Johnston Motors. O/S Brooks enlisted in April of this year.

6 French Dodgers Caught By Police

COCHRANE, Ont., Dec. 7.—(CP). —Six French-Canadian bush workers appearing in police court here yesterday on National Selective Service mobilization charges were each fined $25 and costs or one month in jail.

Leo Labelle and Alfred Theberge were charged with failing to re-register last spring, while Charles Lefebvre, Florian Binet, Gerard Marois and George Roy were charged with failing to notify the registrar of change of address.

Magistrate E. R. Tucker said he fixed the imprisonment alternative at one month as a lesser term would be insufficient to prevent men from hiding in the bush when their services were required by the army. The men will be taken to the North Bay military camp at the expiration of the sentence.

Death Taxes

TORONTO, Dec. 6.—(CP).—Executors of the will of Nathan L. Nathanson, motion picture executive who died here last May, said yesterday succession duties amounting to more than $700,000 will be paid to the Dominion and Ontario governments from the estate probated at $3,536,000. Each government will receive about $350,000.

"JAP" TACTICS FOILED

SOME "WISE GUY" players are like the Japs, who thought their "Pearl Harbor" perfidy of two years ago today was something they could get away with. Just as the Nips are being thwarted, so sometimes are those bidders who hop into an immediate No Trump game because they think the opening lead will be in the suit they just heard bid. The Japs now are getting something they didn't expect, and so on occasion do these bidders, who find after an unexpected lead that they bit off something they could not chew.

East realized that South's bid could be on only one particular type of hand—a long string of solid clubs and the diamond A, predicated on the expectation that West would lead a diamond, the suit his partner had bid. But, when East doubled, his partner properly interpreted this as a request for a lead of some other suit, which is just how East intended it.

West selected the spade J, so that three prompt tricks in that suit and two in hearts beat the contract.

This deal was in a duplicate game. Where more normal bids came, South played the hand in 3-Clubs or East in either 3-Diamonds or 3-Spades, which can't be made. The only contract whereby East and West could get a plus score by over-bidding 3-Clubs would be 3-Hearts, which would work because that suit was divided on a 3-3 basis between the opponents. Nobody got into that, however, so that at every table North and South scored on the plus side except this one, where South tried his fancy 3-No Trumps bid.

20,000 Workers Needed To Cut Pulpwood

TORONTO, Dec. 7 (CP).— Paul Kellogg, acting president of the Newsprint Association of Canada, said today in a (Canadian Club) luncheon address here that the pulp and paper industry estimates it needs "20,000 extra men from prisoners-of-war or the armed forces in order to be sure of sufficient pulpwood supply."

He said that to help maintain the pulp and paper industry's supply of manpower, the industry had been reclassified into "B" category under national selective service labor priority ratings. Stressing the necessity of maintaining the industry's output, he said that when Canada seeks to resume international trade at the end of the European war "it is pulp and paper which offers the best prospect of fulfilling the essential role of being again our primary source of exchange."

Potash Scarce

OTTAWA, Dec. 7 CP). —Potash available for fertilizer purposes in Canada in 1944 will not exceed 35,000 tons—about 80 per cent of the quantity used in 1943—and 1944 demand for fertilizer containing potash is expected to increase, G. E. Peart, fertilizer administrator of the Agricultural Supplies Board, said today. Rationing of potash for 1944 already is in effect, he stated.

Lindsay Flier On Plane That Bagged Sub

By LOUIS V. HUNTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 7 (CP Cable).—The tradition that the captain of a Coastal Command aircraft takes over the controls when a submarine is sighted or attacked denied to J. R. Frizzle of Berwick, N.S., a chance of realizing the ambition of his service lifetime during a recent action in the Atlantic in which three enemy U-boats were sunk in one day and six in eight days.

He is sure though his chance will come.

"Friz" was the senior officer in rank in an R.C.A.F. Sunderland and was at the controls at the moment a submarine was located.

He sighted the U-boat at almost the same time as Flying Officer A. Menhaul of Lindsay, Ont.

But Frizzle, recently appointed commanding officer of one of the newest R.C.A.F. Sunderland squadrons, was flying this time as third pilot in a flyingboat of another squadron and in accordance with general procedure handed over the controls to FO. A.H. Russell of Edmonton, captain of the aircraft.

Russell then attacked the U-boat. He bore through rain and fog and into enemy fire from the underseas craft. His depth charges blew the conning tower several feet into the air. Oil and about 15 bodies were seen shortlly afterwards.

"It was a perfect attack," Wing Cmdr. Frizzle said today. "I checked the depth charges while Russell got into position and I stood beside him as second pilot as he took the aircraft down in poor visibility to make the kill."

Mackenzie King Takes Trip South

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 (CP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King arrived in Washington by train today, after an overnight trip from Ottawa, and said in an interview the Teheran and Cairo declarations "mark the dawn of a new world."

Mr. King arrived at 1:30 p.m. His private car was parked on a railway siding. This afternoon he saw Leighton McCarthy, Canadian Ambassador-designate to the United States, and tonight he was to dine with State Secretary Cordell Hull.

Mr. King planned to remain in Washington overnight. No special significance was attached to his trip. He said he was going to try to find some sunshine down south. Where he will stay and how long the visit will be are not definite as yet.

Pearl Harbor Attacked Two Years Ago

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 — (CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King, relating the achievements of Canada's armed forces, wrote in an issue of the Army and Navy journal that the Canadian Navy "continued to dominate the waters of the North Atlantic" and played a major part in combating the U-boat menace.

In an issue dedicated to the second anniverasry of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, Mr. King said "When the full story of the year's victory over the German U-boat is told, high praise will go to our sailors and their able and gallant collaborators of the Royal Canadian Air Force."

Navy Secretary Frank Knox said the year 1944 "might well produce some of the heaviest naval fighting this war has yet seen," adding that "many major elements of the Jap fleet have not yet seen action."

Knox said Allied naval successes in 1943 resulted in defeat of the German U-boat campaign in the Atlantic, destruction of one-third of Japan's surface fleet and accomplishment of the greatest warship building program in history by American industry.

In the same issue, State Secretary Cordell Hull said that hemispheric solidarity, closer diplomatic ties between the United Nations and successful action to forestall Nazi attempts to use the French fleet had all a part in 1943 military accomplishments.

Guelph Hero Said Missing

GUELPH, Dec. 7 (CP). — First Canadian to drop a bomb on Germany in this war and the first Guelph man to be decorated, Sqdn. Ldr. Herbert Montague (Tubby) Robertson, 25-year-old holder of the D.F.C., is missing after air operations against the enemy.

Notification that he had failed to return from operation was contained in a telegram received today by his sister, Mrs. Roy Chappell, from the R.C.A.F. casualties officer in Ottawa.

Sqdn. Ldr. Robertson was awarded the D.F.C. early in 1940 after an attack on the Ruhr Valley. In a low-level attack, his crew dropped bombs squarely on the target. The aircraft was tossed 300 feet in the air by the explosions.

His citation later said that the decoration was awarded "for remarkable courage and presence of mind when his aircraft was endangered." He suffered a head injury which kept him in hospital three months.

Sqdn. Ldr. Robertson returned to England eight months ago after acting as an instructor in Western Canada for more than a year.

Visitors Banned At 5 Hospitals

HAMILTON, Dec. 7 — (CP). — Visitors were banned to-day from five local hospitals until further notice as a result of an outbreak of influenza in the city.

The order affected tre General Hospital. Mount Hamilton Maternity Hospital, St. Joseph's, the Mountain Sanitorium and the Ontario Hospital. Medical wards of the General and St. Joseph's are taxed to capacity.

Reports to-day indicated an increase in number of cases and in severity of the disease. Officials said it was the same type as the disease which took a heavy toll in an outbreak in 1918.

Bicycle Sheds At PCVS Ordered

A subject of many ponderous discussions during past meetings of the Board of Education, the matter of erection of a bicycle shed at the Collegiate was finally authorized by members at a special meeting held Monday night.

While the actual permission has been granted to proceed with the building of the sheds, it is expected that it will take some time to actually begin operations. It was moved by D. V. Canning and F. Reed that five bicycle sheds be built at the Collegiate at an approximate cost of $1,000 to accommodate approximately 200 to 250 bicycles.

An estimate of the space required in the proposed new City Buildings was mapped out by the Property committee, recommending that 4,400 square feet of floor space, plus sufficient space for a Board room in the new building be allotted. It was also decided to engage an architect to make a survey on the possibility of altering the girls' dressing room at the Collegiate with a view to better ventilation and more accommodation.

The appointment of a secretary for Inspector Wightman in the person of Miss Nancy Lane was confirmed by the Board. The appointment dates from December 1 and her salary is based on $65 a month plus the cost of living bonus. Miss Lane is to receive three weeks vacation.

The recommendation of the Property committee that Wilfred Wood be appointed to the caretaking staff at the Collegiate at a salary of $1,080 a year plus the cost of living bonus, was also confirmed.

Mrs. Beverley Howard, who has been acting as a school nurse, was granted a three-months leave of absence without pay and the secretary was authorized to advertise for a substitute, on a motion by Mr. Carley. It was felt that it would be difficult to obtain a qualified Public Health Nurse for a temporary period and the Board decided this was the best solution at the present time.

Fire Sweeps Apts. Firemen Rescue 8

TORONTO, Dec. 7 (CP).— An aged woman was carried down a smoke-filled stairway and seven other tenants fled to the street today when fire swept through a three-storey Yorkville Avenue rooming house in midtown Toronto. Damage was estimated at $3,000.

Street car traffic was disrupted for more than half an hour and as a result hundreds of Torontonians were late for work.

Mrs G. Profitt was trapped in her bedroom when flames roared through the walls on the second floor but she was carried to safety by firemen. None of the tenants was burned or injured.

Flu Kills 376 Across Britain

LONDON, Dec. 7 (CP). — Influenza claimed 736 lives in London and other large cities in Britain during the week ended Nov. 27, it was disclosed yesterday more than tripling the number of fatalities recorded during the previous week.

Health authorities describing the current influenza wave as the worst since that of 1937, which caused 2,000 deaths weekly at its peak, acknowledged that the number of cases was rising steadily.

Prayers were said in northern churches Sunday for the recovery of victims.

16-Year-Old Girl Killed In Hotel

WINNIPEG, Dec. 7 — (CP). — City police today investigated the death of attractive 16-year-old Grace Edith Cook whose body was found yesterday in a downtown hotel room, 12 to 24 hours after she had been strangled.

Police announced they were holding Albert Westgate, who was paroled last June after serving 14 years of a life imprisonment sentence for the murder of Mrs. Lottie Adams of suburban St. Vital in 1928.

Westgate, held in custody without charge, helped the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Cook, search for Grace.

He took them to the hotel where he had seen Grace Friday night, police said.

Provincial coroner, Dr. Russell Gordon, said the girl evidently had been strangled with bare hands. There was no evidence of criminal assault.

Court Finds Prosecution Failed To Show Hall's Drygoods Store

Declaring that the prosecution had failed to show that the store was a drygoods store, Magistrate E. A. Gee in police court Monday afternoon dismissed a charge against Richard Hall Limited of operating a drygoods store during hours prohibited by the city's early closing by-law.

The hearing of the case in which there was considerable local interest lasted most of the day and City Solicitor W. F. Huycke, K.C., who prosecuted, called nine witnesses. City Clerk E. A. Outram was the only witness called by K. D. McLaren, K.C., of Toronto, who appeared for the defendants.

At the afternoon session Mr. Huycke wound up his case for the prosecution by calling R. J. Goring of the R. Fair store. Cecil Wasson of Dickson's and Robert Ross to give expert evidence as to what constituted a drygoods store.

Mr. Goring said that a lot of other things besides drygoods were sold in drygoods stores and he would regard them as drygoods when so sold, although they would not be so ordinarily.

"I would not begin to say just what drygoods are nowadays," Mr. Ross stated.

At the conclusion of the prosecution's case Mr. McLaren moved for a dismissal, saying that the prosecution had totally failed to make out a case. "I submit there is no case for us to answer," the defence declared.

Magistrate Gee replied that there had been evidence by two witnesses that 53 per cent. of the floor space was taken up with drygoods.

Called City Clerk.

Mr. McLaren then called City Clerk Outram to the box and asked him if he had checked up the hearing before the local Court of Revision in 1926 of as appeal against the Hall store being designated as a department store.

Witness replied that he had and the finding of the court had been that the firm was not conducting a department store but carrying on as a retail merchant.

"From your general knowledge," asked Mr. McLaren, "would you say that the business the Hall store is carrying on is similar to that carried on by Kresge's, Woolworth's and the Metropolitan store?"

"No, I would say that it was not." was the reply. "In my opinion the Hall store is not a novelty or variety store. I would say that it more closely resembled a departmental store than anything else."

"But you would not describe us as a drygoods store?" The answer was in the negative.

List of Stores.

At the request of Mr. Huycke the witness produced a list of stores furnished the police commission by Chief Newhall. It failed to show the Hall store as listed among the drygoods stores in the city.

"If we are running a drygoods store we are guilty and should pay the penalty." said Mr. McLaren. "We were open and we made sales. But we submit that we are not a drygoods store and do not come within this by-law. That was our studied opinion before this action arose. We are law-abiding citizens and we want to stay within the law. But we submit this by-law does not apply to us. Not a witness called by the prosecution described us as a drygoods store."

In his argument Mr. Huycke stressed the fact that the evidence showed that 53 per cent. of the of Max Sloan and Bert Graham Hall floor space was used for drygoods.

In giving judgment Magistrate Gee remarked that often a store that started out as a drygoods store kept adding so many lines that eventually drygoods formed the small end of the business. He found that the prosecution had failed to show that the Hall store was a drygoods store and therefore dismissed the case.

Another charge of operating a ladies' furnishing store in prohibited hours was also dismissed when Mr. Huycke announced that he would offer no evidence.

Too Many Quitting

TORONTO, Dec. 7 — (CP). — G. C. Sharpe, regional employment officer, National Selective Service, told the Automotive Transport Association of Ontario in convention here on Monday too many men are being fired and too many are quitting the trucking industry for medical reasons on the grounds that working conditions are adversely affecting their health. He said: "This evidence of instability can be traced back directly to personnel conditions."

WAR WORK DEMANDS THIS Vitality Element

NO OTHER NATURAL CEREAL GIVES IT SO RICHLY

With less meat today, wise women are happy to know that by serving Quaker Oats for breakfast, they can give their hard-working family a rich source of meat's main element—protein. No other natural cereal is so rich in this vital factor for energy and growth as whole-grain oatmeal. And it is richest of all natural cereals in Vitamin B_1 needed for sound nerves and energy! No wonder more families than ever are calling delicious, hot breakfasts of Quaker Oats daily a "must" for wartime diets.

Why VICKS VapoRub Is So Good For Relieving Miseries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home-remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason...

The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often most of the misery of the cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

CHRISTMAS SPENDING CAN BE PATRIOTIC

We all like to remember our friends at Christmas. But if we spend too much money buying gifts, we risk making scarce things scarcer and perhaps even depriving people who really need them. By putting a lot of our gift money into War Saving Stamps we make sure our friends will be able to get just what they want after the war when goods are plentiful again.

Turkey Casts Lot With Allies To Enter War at Early Date Britain to Get New Airbases

Conference Ends With Inonu In Perfect Accord

By JOHN F. CHESTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

CAIRO, Dec. 8 — (AP). — The three-day conference which Prime Minister Churchill, President Ismet Inonu, and President Roosevelt concluded Monday was viewed here to-day as fore-shadowing events of far reaching significance in the Middle East and Mediterranean areas.

Conclusion of the parley was announced last night in a communique which stated that the three government chiefs had studied the general political situation, "examined at length the policy to be followed" and found that their nations are bound "by the closest unity." The conference was held in Cairo, December 4, 5 and 6.

The somewhat vague declarations of friendship and "closest unity" were desired by the Turks it was understood, but the fact that the statement went this far was regarded as highly significant.

Behind it lay possibilities ranging from complete abandonment of Turkish neutrality to cession of air or other bases or less active help.

May Not Be Soon

The best guess in Cairo — and it was a guess based on some supporting information— was that Turkey would not actively enter the war in the near future, unless a direct cause was given by Germany.

Few here believed that the three days of conferences—at least one of which was attended by the British - American general staffs —were an empty-handed gesture or that the three government heads did not have something definite in mind in placing the following words in the communique:

"The study of all our problems in a spirit of understanding and loyalty showed that the closest unity existed between the United States of America, Turkey and Great Britain in their attitude toward the world situation. The conversations in Cairo have consequently been most useful and most fruitful for future relations between the four countries concerned."

The Soviet Ambassador to Turkey, Sergei A. Vinogradov, joined most of the sessions, but, while the communique asserted that the "traditional relations of friendship" between the Turks and the Russians were reaffirmed there was no mention of Russia in that part of the communique which declared the

Give Bonus

WINDSOR, Ont., Dec. 8—(CP).—City Council decided last night to pay bonuses to Windsor's municipal employees out of $35,000 in surplus funds. Employees receiving up to $1,500 a year will be paid $80; those receiving $1,500 to $2,100 will receive a $40 bonus.

Ankara Expected To Announce War Decisions

LONDON, Dec. 8 (CP)—A declaration by the Turkish Government defining the country's stand more conclusively in the light of the Inonu-Churchill-Roosevelt conference in Cairo was viewed here today as likely to come from Ankara in the near future.

First reports, meanwhile, indicated that the terse communique emphasizing Turkey's "closest unity" with Britain and the United States at the conclusion of the three-day conference would hit Hitler's tottering Balkan satellites with explosive force.

A Turkish declaration, clarifying anew the country's position in the European war, might conceivably follow a meeting of the Turkish parliament to hear the reports of President Ismet Inonu and Foreign Minister Numan Menemencioglu on the conference.

A German broadcast recorded by Reuters News Agency said the two statesmen would make such reports at an extraordinary session of parliament today, while the London Daily Mail declared that a declaration was expected to be made in Ankara "in the next few days."

The Ankara radio said that "large-scale operations and a decisive battle are very close at hand." The broadcast, recorded by Reuters, said the Cairo communique "can be summed up in these words; it is a complete agreement on the problems of war and peace."

Britain Wants Air Bases To Retake Islands

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER and WILLIAM FRYE,
Associated Press Staff Writers,

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8—(AP).—Deeds, rather than words, are expected by informed observers here to bring out the full significance of Turkey's newly defined role as an associate of the Allies fighting Germany.

The impression gained from the latest Cairo communique is strong, that this role is to be one of great importance. At the strategic moment when her help will count most Turkey probably will enter the war.

Whether that moment is close at hand or in the indefinite future is a question that can be answered only by Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt, President Ismet Inonu or Turkey, or their ranking advisers and Russian associates.

That her destiny eventually will lead Turkey into military partnership with the Allies is regarded as probable for two reasons—her strategic position in relation to the Balkans and her desire for a full voice in the peace councils.

The machinery for action is present in the Anglo-Turkish alliance, and the significance of the Cairo meeting, announced last night, may lie in the reaffirmation of this alliance by the Turkish Government not only to Britain but to America and Russia as well.

Turks Hold Key.

Broadly speaking there are three main avenues of military approach to Germany: (1) Across the English Channel and through Belgium and Northern France; (2) across the Adriatic and through Northern Yugoslavia; (3) through the Aegean Sea and the Balkans.

Only in the Aegean area have the Allies had little hope of successful attack without the co-operation of still another country. For with the Germans entrenched in Greece and in the Aegean Islands, Turkey holds the key to a drive in this area.

Airfields on the western rim of Turkey would outflank and make possible the quick conquest of such islands as would have to be taken if a thrust into the Balkans were planned. Turkey itself, in fact, is a bridge from Asia to Southeastern Europe, and the European section of the country, across the Dardenelles, Sea of Marmora and Bosphorus, is a ready-made bridgehead in the Balkans.

Britain all along has followed a policy of not requesting Turkey to act until they were prepared to give her every assistance with arms and especially air forces. It seems doubtful that the Cairo conference would have resulted in a public announcement of Turkey's political solidarity with the Allies unless Britain now feels confident of her strength in that area.

Big Contribution.

The greatest contribution Turkey could make to the Allies, however, would be the cession of air bases and permission to use the Sea of Marmora and its excellent ports, including Istanbul, to land Anglo-American forces for an offensive

Workers Ask Mosley's Return

LONDON, Dec. 8—(CP Cable).—More than 1,000 delegates from war factories throughout Britain held a "put Mosley back" demonstration at the Houses of Parliament Tuesday—the second since late November when a delegation went there to protest the Government's release from detention in Holloway Prison of Sir Oswald Mosley, pre-war British Fascist leader.

About 50 leaders of the delegation were allowed into the central lobby of the House. One spokesman said Mosley associates were causing trouble in factories where Fascist slogans had been chalked up. Another warned that "the cauldron is on the boil among workers in Sheffield."

Meanwhile the General Executive Council of the powerful Trades Union Congress announced it regretted its inability to accept the validity of statements made in Parliament regarding the release of Mosley and his wife.

The House last week sustained the Government in its action releasing Mosley and heard Home Secretary Herbert Morrion declare it was on medical grounds.

Nazis Launch Yugoslav Push

LONDON, Dec. 8 (AP)—Marshal Erwin Rommel's Axis forces have launched an offensive against Yugoslav liberated territories and their Bosnian-Serbian thrust has broken through into the city of Prijepolze, the headquarters of Gen. Josip Troz (Tito) said today.

Yugoslav Partisans mounted a successful offensive of their own in Croatia, killing 300 Germans and capturing booty. Tito's communique charged that the Germans were "perpetrating great atrocities" on Macedonian civilians.

Pro-Nazi Croats and Chetnik units were reported in the ranks of the Axis forces, and Rommel was said to have augmented his attacking divisions with reinforcements rushed from Greece, Albania and Austria.

Gardiner Requests Farmers Keep Bacon At 1942 Level

OTTAWA, Dec. 8—(CP).—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said today before the closing session of the Dominion-Provincial Agriculture Conference that Canadian farmers should seek to maintain the 600,000,000-pound level of 1942 in providing bacon to the United Kingdom next year.

Mr. Gardiner said he hopes "every possible effort" will be made to achieve that objective.

In 1943 the Dominion's aim has been to provide the United Kingdom with 675,000,000 pounds. On October 22 Mr. Gardiner announced bacon shipments to Britain would be not less than 450,000,000 pounds in each of the next two years, under a new agreement.

(Rt. Hon. J. J. Llewellin, British Food Minister, told the conference yetserday that if no more than 450,000,000 pounds were shipped in a year he might have to cut the British bacon ration from four to three ounces a week.)

Mr. Gardiner placed on the record a statement he made in Regina December 1 stating that in view of the advice given Canadian farm organizations by the British Ministry of Agriculture representatives the government would not be justified in asking farmers to continue to produce hogs to the level of last year until the end of the war.

"The point of that statement is that we were advised that we would be wise to keep in mind that when the war is over the British market which we are now supplying to the full will have to be shared with others," Mr. Gardiner continued.

"That is obvious.

No Decided Change

"That, however, does not suggest a decided change this year.

"Our considered opinion is that Canadian farmers should this year endeavor to maintain the 600,000,000-pound level of 1942 in deliveries to Britain.

'Our opinion is, too, that we should and will have the co-operation of every packing plant and other slaughterers of hogs in bringing that about.

"We would hope that while Britain is prepared in time of war to accept inferior bacon and ham as a matter of necessity, it will be

Japs Capture Chinese City

CHUNGKING, Dec. 8. — (AP). — Fall of the ancient city of Changteh after bitter fighting in which both sides suffered heavy losses was announced by the Chinese High Command yesterday, and it was acknowledged here today that the setback represented a severe economic and military blow to China.

Loss of the city opened the prospect of a new Japanese drive on Changsha, capital of Hunan Province which the invaders thrice before have tried unsuccessfully to take At the same time the victory gave the Japanese control of the "Rice Bowl" region and cut the Hunan-Szechwan supply line, thus depriving the Chinese army of one of its principal sources of supply.

The Chinese communique announcing the fall of Changteh said that little more than 300 men of the Chinese 57th Division had survived the bloody battle, which ended Dec. 3.

The Chinese High Command estimated Japanese losses up to Dec. 2 at 10,200 killed and wounded.

Reds Retreat Few Miles Near Bulge

Desperate Assault With Tanks Gives Nazis Edge

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Dec. 8 — (AP). — One of the most desperate German tank and infantry assaults launched during the seven-weeks' battle for the Kiev bulge has forced the Red Army to retire from several towns in the Chernyakhov-Zorosten area, but the Soviet troops have scored important gains southwest of Kremenchug and almost completely enveloped Znamenka, vital rail junction in the Dnieper bend, a Russian communique said today.

Russians advices said that approximately 1,700 tanks had been hurled into a narrow sector west of Kiev by Field Marshal Fritz Von Mannstein.

The Nazi gains in the Kiev bulge however, were offset by the Russian gains to the south. Here three Red Army columns were driving on Znamenka from separate directions and one already was within four miles of the town's gates, the communique indicated. Fall of this strategic rail junction which front dispatches said was apparently inevitable, would tend to disrupt the whole German communications and supply system in the vast area below Kiev, and would undoubtedly help to relieve the enemy pressure on the Kiev salient.

16 Forts Taken

Sixteen German strongholds fell before the Soviet advance below Kremenchug, the communique reported. One of them was the railroad station of Pantayevka, ten miles southeast of Znamenka, marking a 12-mile gain along the railroad from Alexandriya.

With the battle for Znamenka reaching a decision, front dispatches pointed out that the Soviet armies under Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky now were less than 140 miles from the Odessa-Lwow railway to the west, key to all the German communications in the Ukraine. Krivoi Rog, enemy - held manganese centre southeast of Znamenka, loomed as an early objective on the Red Army schedule.

Adverse weather in White Russia, where Soviet advance columns are converging on the rail centres of Zhlobin and Rogachev, northwest of Gomel, has temporarily prevented them from taking advantage of the favorable conditions created in this and other sectors by recent Russian successes.

The Germans piled up a considerable superiority in tanks west of Kiev. Front dispatches said the Russians were battling against great odds but holding on. Russian artillery was striking the neaviest blows at the onrushing foe. The Soviet 152-millimetre mobile guns were said to be taking a deadly toll of German tanks.

Izvestia reported the Red army had taken up strong positions in a new defence line in the Chernyakhov area, 80 miles west of Kiev.

There was no note of alarm in dispatches from the front. Correspondents said the Germans appeared to be throwing everything they could spare into the Kiev battle, and consequently were running into

Husband Takes Blame

WINDSOR, Ont., Dec. 8 — (CP).—Edward Lord, 36, of Windsor, was fined $20 and costs in court when he pleaded guilty to a charge laid by the Children's Aid Society that he and his wife had left their two-and-one-half-old child in their locked, unheated car while they attended a downtown movie November 23. A similar charge of neglect against his wife was withdrawn when Lord took full responsibility.

Wheat Acreage Remains Same

OTTAWA, Dec. 8 (CP)—A. M. Shaw of the Federal Agricultural Department, announced today at the Dominion-Provincial Agriculture conference that it has been decided to recommend that the Canadian wheat acreage in 1944 be kept at the same level as in 1943. The 1943 acreage was 17,486,000.

An increase of four per cent in 1944 oats acreage from 1943 has been suggested, but the conference had agreed to make the increase six per cent, Mr. Shaw said. Last year's oats acreage was 15,407,000.

The preliminary suggestion placed before the conference was that barley be left at the 8,397,000 acres of 1943, but the conference had agreed to a one-per-cent increase for 1944.

Mr. Shaw said corn for husking was urgently needed and an increase of 56 per cent in the acreage of 257,000 acres had been suggested but the conference had felt an increase of 53 per cent was all that could be assured.

It was agreed hay and clover acreage should be held at the 1943 level—9,815,000.

The alfalfa acreage of 1,544,000 also was unchanged.

All possible fruit would be required and the crop should have the best possible care.

For potatoes a production of 105 per cent of 1943 was indicated but, Mr. Shaw said a production of 110 per cent would be preferred. It was better to face up to a surplus than to err on the side of scarcity with such an essential food.

Agriculture Minister A. C. Taylor of New Brunswick said he "feared very greatly for the potato grower," if a 10-per-cent increase in objective were fixed on top of the increase attained last year.

Premier Walter Jones of Prince Edward Island said his province had a small crop this year but had this crop been good it would have been useless "because it is impossible to ship the small crop we have, owing to a shortage of cars."

Allies Aiding Tito's Warriors

LONDON, Dec. 8 (CP)—The Partisan warriors of Gen. Josip Broz (Tito) are receiving the greater part of the support which the British government is affording Yugoslav forces fighting the Germans, Richard K. Law, minister of state, told the House of Commons today.

"Our policy is to support all the forces in Yugoslavia which are resisting the Germans." Law said.

"As things are, we are supporting the Partisans forces, giving them more support than we are giving Gen. Draja Mihailovic for the simple reason that the resistance of the Partisan forces is very much greater."

Law said he had no official information on the formation of a provisional government by Tito, or of its relations with King Peter's government, which is recognized by the British government.

"Our policy," he said, "has always been to allow territories, when they are liberated, to choose their own form of government." He declined to amplify the statement.

Boche Contest Every Foot As Allies Advance

By NOLAND NORGAARD
Associated Press War Correspondent

ALGIERS, Dec. 8 (AP) — The Allied Fifth Army has captured the summit of lofty Mt. Camino, routed the Nazis from three villages southwest of Mignano, and recaptured Monastery Ridge in bitter fighting to win heights overlooking the road to Cassino and Rome, it was announced today.

Official reports from Lt.-Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters said the enemy had been shoved back to the fringe of ridges on the northern and western edges of Mt. Camino and Mt. Maggiore by the steady, savage thursts of British and American troops.

The 5th Army's blows into the deep German winter line toward Cassino were accompanied by fresh gains on the 8th Army's Adriatic coastal sector.

Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's forces crushed repeated Nazi counter-attacks, and reported limited advances in the area of the Moro river, where British tanks and infantry have crossed the stream.

Evidence of severe German casualties in defence of this coastal sector came with discovery that Field Marshal Albert Kesselring had thrown the 90th Armored Grenadier division into line there to relieve the 65th Infantry Division. The 65th was so badly smashed that one of its battalions lost all its officers, emerging with only a Sergeant-Major left to command.

Continued rain and fierce enemy defence slowed the British advance, and the Germans threw a heavy artillery bombardment at Allied-held Lanciano, key highway junction on the inland road leading toward Chieti.

Every foot gained in the 5th Army's newest advance was yielded only after desperate and costly defence by the Germans. When British troops in sharp battle ousted the Nazis from the summit of Monastery Ridge—which the Germans had re-

Bombers Raid Andaman Isles

NEW DELHI, Dec. 8 —(CP)—U.S. heavy bombers have made a raid on the strategically-important Adaman Islands in the Bay of Bengal as part of continuing day and night Allied air attacks on southern Burma, it was announced today.

Four-engined bombers pounded Japanese installations on Chatham in the Andaman group on Monday, a communique from the southeast Asia headquarters of Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten said, and during the attack shot down one of a group of enemy fighters which attempted to intercept them.

The Andaman Islands, British owned, lie off the lower tip of Burma where they would of necessity figure in any Allied offensive plans against the Malay peninsula or Sumatra. They are the western-most points occupied by Japan in the Indian Ocean.

The communique, covering action for the last eight days, told of repeated raids by both the R.A.F. and U.S. planes on Rangoon, Mandalay, Akyab, Prome, Heho and other Japanese strongholds in Burma. Targets were mainly road, rail and river communications and airports.

Twelve Allied planes are missing and 18 of the Japanese have been knocked down.

French Ready For Battle

Newly Equipped Units Want To Attack

SOMEWHERE IN NORTH AFRICA, Dec. 4 (Delayed)—(AP).—Units of the re-born and re-equipped French army may soon help to claw a hole in the underbelly of Hitler's fortress Europe.

Members of a French expeditionary force, who have been training for weeks on the edge of the desert, hope they will have a chance to shove back the Nazis and clear a pathway into their homeland.

This fight, a struggle on more or less equal terms, is what most of them have been awaiting for more than three years.

"Just give us a chance on equal terms," a young Poilu said.

For him, as with most of his comrades, it's been a long time since he last saw home. He was in service in 1939 and was shipped to North Africa after the armistice. He hailed the landings of the Allies in 1942 and almost happily went back into the war, fighting doggedly and well against the Germans with antiquated rifles and horse-drawn field guns.

Since then he has been receiving large quantities of uniforms, guns, transport and machinery from the Allies.

Turks and Reds Settle Old Differences

Swing Of Turkey To Allies Removes Stumbling Block

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The winning of ultra-conservative Turkey into "closest unity" and complete "identity of interest" with Britain, the United States and Russia, represents one of the major bloodless victories of the war, for there are few places of greater strategical importance than the territory and waters under Turkish control.

There's a double significance in this event, which was the outcome of a meeting between Turkey's president Ismet Inonu and Messrs. Churchill and Roosevelt in Cairo. Apart from the moral and perhaps material strength acquired by the Allies, this agreement seems to me to mean that there must have been an ironing-out of long-standing and dangerous suspicions between Ankara and Moscow. This thought is strengthened by the fact that while Marshal Stalin himself couldn't be present, he joined in inviting Inonu to the parley, and thus gave the session his official blessing.

Old Enmity

The handshaking between the Muscovites and the Turks is a matter of greater moment even than the further cementing of the Anglo-American and Turkish friendship. That's so because the hard eyed way the Russians and the Turks have watched each other play their cards has made other nations uneasy.

The rub has been, of course, that the Turks control the Dardanelles——the Strait which provides the only gateway the Russians have between the Black Sea and outside waters.

Naturally Moscow has wanted to ensure her perpetual use of this waterway.

So it's good to see the Turks and Muscovites smiling at each other. The pot of gold at the end of that rainbow will be a friendly adjustment of the status of the Dardanelles.

Does this Turko-Allied agreement mean that the Ottomans are going to join us in the war?

Turkey would appear to have given their outright allegiance to the United Nations. The indications are that Ankara is prepared to get into war with both feet, if the Allies really need this additional military aid. Such a situation might arise from the projected all-out offensive against Hitler, and a call from the Allies likely would set the Turkish armies marching.

Modern Army

However, while the Turks have been modernizing and re-equiping their forces with the aid of Britain and the United States, they still lack the equipment they would like for war against the Hitlerites. Also, Turkey's territory in Europe, north of the Dardanelles, is vulnerable to heavy assault from the Germans occupying the neighboring Balkan areas. Furthermore, the Nazis hold the Aegean Islands off the Turkish coast, and the great, straggling city of Istanbul (Constantinople) lies wide open to attack by German bombers.

So I think we can say that the Turks probably are on call for active service, if and when needed. Meantime one could expect that they at least would grant the Allies valuable bases and free passage through Turkish territory if we should need it.

To Pursue War Criminals

Refuge In Neutral State Is Out

LONDON, Dec. 8 — (CP). — Viscount Simon, chairman of the United Nations Commission for Investigation of War Crimes, told the House of Lords yesterday that no criminal who takes refuge in a neutral state will have any legal right to say "Here I am and here I stay."

"There is no such thing in international law as a right of asylum attaching to an individual," he declared. "It is part undoubtedly of the sovereignty of any state to admit such foreigners, but the state is at perfect liberty to eject them again."

Simon disclosed that the United Nations Commission had been set up in London and that meetings already had been held at the Foreign Office.

His pronouncement followed a denunciation by the Archbishop of York of the horrors he said he had seen while in Russia.

"We want to get at the men who have corrupted and perverted the youth and manhood of Germany and who are responsible for these crimes," the Archbishop said. "If Hitler managed to escape it would be a monstrous outrage against justice."

Boards Oppose Sale Of Wartime Houses

TORONTO, Dec. 8—The Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards yesterday passed a resolution opposing the sale of war-time houses to the present tenants or others and will immediately ask the Federal Government to make no disposal of these properties until the war is over. They will also suggest to the Ottawa authorities that no attempt be made to convert such houses into "so-called permanent dwellings."

Association spokesmen announced that a committee will be appointed today to supervise the preparation of a brief which will be submitted to Prime Minister W. L. M. King, Supplies Minister C. D. Howe, Finance Minister J. L. Ilsley and various interested municipalities.

The brief will point out that these wartime dwellings are of a temporary construction type, built in sections, are without basements or solid foundations, lack other features essential to sound and permanent construction. It was claimed in addition that these homes have a monotonous similarity, that would create ultimate postwar slum areas.

Emergency Measure

Realtors also will remind the Federal Government that such one-family residential units were, and are being, constructed in various urban communities throughout the Dominion on the premise that this was an emergency wartime measure to relieve a temporary housing congestion caused by the sudden influx to certain industrial areas of wartime workers.

Fighters Rip Enemy Convoy

LONDON, Dec. 8 — (CP Cable) —R. C. A. F. Beaufighters flew through a hail of anti-aircraft fire from ships and shore guns Tuesday to attack an enemy convoy off the Norwegian coast. The raid left a coastal ship and escort vessel in smoke, the Air Ministry said. All the Caandian planes returned.

The anti-aircraft fire was described by PO. K. S. Miller of Montreal as "the heaviest we ever experienced."

Other Canadians in the attack included FO. F. A. Fair, Kingston, Ont.; and Flt. Sgt. D. R. Andrew, Gananoque, Ont.

One German plane appeared while the attack was in progress but left after a few futile bursts of cannon and machine-gun fire.

Shatter Records

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 — (AP). — Subsidairies of the United States Steel Corporation shattered more than 2,000 production records in turning out 60,000,000 tons of steel since the United States entered the war two years ago, Irving S. Olds, chairman of the corporation said yesterday.

taken in a counter-attack the day before—they found it littered with German dead. Monastery Ridge is one of the foothills leading to the top of Mount Camino from the south.

From positions on all the dominating heights of both Mount Camino and Mount Maggiore, 5th Army guns now command the southern part of the road and valley between Mignana and Cassino, in which the Liri river flows into the Upper Garigliano.

Three Villages Fall

The three fortified villages from which British units knocked the enemy were Camino, Acquapendole and Cocuruzza, three to five miles southwest of Mignano.

(An NBC broadcast from Algiers said advanced U.S. units of the 5th Army now were 1½ miles from Camino plain, where tanks can be used.)

U.S. medium and fighter bombers yesterday twice attacked Civitavecchia, 46 miles northwest of Rome and principal German supply base on the Italian West coast, but the day's spectacular achievement came when American flown Spitfires met a dozen Nazi fighters over the battle area, downing six and damaging two more without any American losses.

Pounding Adriatic coast supply lines, medium bombers attacked railway yards at Pescara, dive-bombers smashed the town of Viacusa, and R.A.F. Kittybombers blasted German gunposts west of Orsogna.

Planes also dropped food to troops in virtually inaccessible mountains on the 5th Army front.

The exact value of these drives could not be evaluated properly, but an Allied Headquarters spokesman said British and American troops had taken "the most important features in that area, roughly five miles wide and five miles long."

Equally bitter fighting was being met by Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's troops along the Moro River, where the enemy was apparently out to stop the advance at any cost.

The thrust that carried the 8th Army across the swollen Moro touched off a tank battle, one of the few to be fought in the rugged Italian countryside, that cost the Germans four tanks.

Extent of this thrust was not known, but apparently it placed the 8th Army within 13 to 14 miles of the Adriatic port of Pescara, terminus of a major highway to Rome.

The drive, however, was being held up beyond the strongpoint of Orsogna, about 10 miles from the Adriatic, and around Guardiagriele, 3½ miles southwest of Orsogna.

Peterborough Women Elected To Office

TORONTO, Dec. 8 — (Special). —Mrs. C. M. Scott, former president of the Local Council of Women in Peterborough, was today elected vice-president of the Ontario Provincial Council of Women at the annual meeting now being held here. Mrs. E. Wand, another former president of the Peterborough Council, was elected treasurer of the Ontario body.

CRITICAL BATTLE RAGES—Formidable Nazi forces, reinforced with a number of armored divisions, according to Moscow, are savagely pounding at the Russian line in the Kiev sector. To the north, Red Gen. Rokossovsky's armies are driving in on Zhlobin in a two-pronged offensive, while his most southerly units are moving closer to Mozyr. West and south of Dnepropetrovsk Soviet tank forces have cut the railway between the important junctions of Smela and Znamenka inside the Dnieper River bend in a swift lunge which overran 22 towns and rail stations.

Bombs Neutralize Rabaul's Value Traffic To Jap Base Reduced

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Dec. 8—(AP)—A slackening in naval activity observed at Rabaul lent emphasis today to the official assertion that the Japanese are finding their once-proud New Britain Island air and sea base too hot to handle.

While Allied bombers poured loads of explosives on the invasion-threatened island with incessant fury, a spokesman for Allied Headquarters said aerial observation had shown a noticeable drop in naval traffic at Rabaul.

This tied in with the recent declaration of Rear Admiral Robert Carney, chief-of-staff for Admiral William F. Halsey, the United States South Pacific fleet commander, that Rabaul, on the northeast coast of the island, is untenable to the Japanese and "we have complete control in the waters."

Rabaul, with its excellent deep-water harbor, 6 airdromes, is Japan's best base south of Truk, which is in the Caroline Islands 800 miles away. Pounded repeatedly by bombers, its neutralization would constitute a major victory.

On New Guinea itself the sharp ground fighting for Wareo on the Huon Peninsula remained static as to position but Allied bombers raked enemy concentrations.

Eight large enemy rafts loaded with supplies were destroyed by light naval craft in New Guinea coastal waters, and a cargo ship loaded with fuel was hit and seen to explode off Kaimana, Dutch New Guinea.

Nazi Tactics Spell Failure

NAPLES, Dec. 8—(AP).—German actions in Italy are a confession of fear and failure in the opinion of Andrei J. Vishinsky, Soviet delegate to the Allied Advisory Council for Italy, who said the Germans were duplicating the tactics they have employed in Russia.

Vishinsky, during a two-day visit here, expressed particular interest in the type of demolition work and destruction carried out by the German army as it was forced northward on the peninsula and also inquired about atrocities against Italian civilians.

"It is the same policy they are pursuing in Russia," he said.

"We can tell from studying their demolitions as they lose towns and cities whether they expect to be able to retake those places. When they simply run amok dynamiting and burning everything, we know they don't expect to come back."

7,000 Flu Victims

TORONTO, Dec. 8 — (CP). — Thomas E. Johns, assistant superintendent of schools, said yesterday between 7,000 and 10,500 pupils of city public schools were 'flu victims in the last two weeks. He said at least 100 teachers are also absent as a result of the epidemic, which shows no signs of abating.

Obituary

GEORGE CAREW

EAST EMILY, Dec. 8—(ENS)—One of Emily's most highly respected citizens, Mr. George Carew, passed away recently in his 81st year. He had spent his entire life in this neighborhood except for three years spent in Harvey township. In 1891 he married Maria McGregor of Bobcaygeon, then moving to Harvey where they resided for three years afterwards moving back to Emily on the Peterborough-Lindsay highway on the same farm where they had lived ever since.

Left to mourn the loss of a loving husband and father are his wife, two daughters and two sons, Mrs. George Bannon of Omemee, Mrs. Lockhart Wright of Emily, Calvert and Johnny on the homestead and fourtene grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Sid Shaw of Red Deer, Alberta and one brother Sam on the third line of Emily. One daughter, Mrs. Pierie Lowes, predeceased him some years ago.

The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon and was attended by a large circle of friends and acquaintances from the surrounding district, Rev. R. M. Patterson officiating.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful showing to the high esteem in which he was held by his many friends.

The bearers were Charles Mills, Milton Sherin, Harold Harrison, Cecil Casey, Wilfred Jackson and Isaac Guthrie.

Friends attended the funeral from Niagara Falls, Toronto, Lindsay, Peterborough, Dunsford and Bobcaygeon.

Raps Pussyfooting On Post-War Plans

TORONTO, Dec. 8 (CP) George S. Mooney of Montreal, executive director of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, told the annual conference of the Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards today that "there is too much pussyfooting about post-war plans," and declared "we can't build a post-war world on slogans and speeches."

More listing of public works by municipalities was not enough, he said. Specifications and drawings of projects should be properly valuated and approved by communities as being socially useful and economically sound. These blueprints should be available for immediate use when the war ends.

Harold E. Manning, president of the Ontario Property Owners' Association, also addressed the meeting and declared "The burden of taxation on land in Canada must be reduced." He urged that real estate taxes be borne by home owners and occupants alike.

Protestant Chaplain

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Dec. 8 — (CP).—Rev. H. C. Cox, formerly rector of the Church of St. Martin-in-the-Fields, Toronto, yesterday assumed duty as Protestant chaplain at the officers' training centre here, succeeding Honorary Maj. P. J. Dykes, who has been transferred to the Canadian signals training centre at Vimy Barracks, Kingston.

Woman Driver Faces Serious Charge

The death of Private Fred Hinton of Toronto in a traffic accident on No. 7 Highway west of Norwood was recalled in outline by Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., in customary prelude of narrative to the jury selected for the trial of Laura Storms of Otonabee which began this morning, the third day of the General Sessions of the Peace.

The indictment of Mrs. Storms was reckless driving, in a manner dangerous to the public. Private Hinton was one of a party of Toronto young people who had spent the holiday week-end at Trent Bridge, and were returning homeward about 6:45 p.m. Labor Day when the fatality occurred.

Mr. McElderry described the home-going holiday party as a little cavalcade, two motorcyclists followed by automobile. They were west bound several miles west of Norwood when the accident happened.

Private Hinton was on the left motorcycle, and Madill on the right. The car following them was driven by Frank Deacon, 20, Toronto, and occupants with him were his sister, Mrs. Hinton and Mrs. Madill. The automobile driven by Mrs. Storms passed the party on their left in the same westerly direction, toward Peterborough.

G. N. Gordon, K.C., was counsel for the defendant.

Took Photographs

Fred Cripps, first witness, identified photographs he had taken of the motor-vehicles at the place of the accident.

Frank Deacon, began the account of the accident.

"I was driving the car about 35 miles an hour when the automobile passed us from behind. It threw up dust and small stones in the faces of the cyclists."

Mr. McElderry—"Did you see that?"

"Yes, I did," Deacon replied.

"After Mrs. Storms had proceeded 1,000 feet or more up the road," he continued in reply to Mr. McElderry, noticed Hinton increased his speed and drew up even with her car. Then I saw the automobile swerve from the north side of the gravel highway toward the south side."

Crowded Off

Mr. Deacon said Hinton's motorcycle was forced into the ditch at the south side of the road, and he was thrown head first among boulders and killed. The automobile also went into the ditch about 35 feet beyond the cycle.

Some mention was made about beer consumed during the week-end. "Let's clear that up," Mr. McElderry said, and elicited from Deacon the fact that he had bought six quarts of beer in Toronto on Saturday. It was drunk that evening by the group of five young people, and no other supply was obtained.

"That was all we had," Mr. Deacon said.

Dr. Carleton Testifies

Dr. H. G. Carleton, Peterborough, formerly of Norwood, said he was called to the place of the accident about 8 p.m. The soldier was dead of a severe fracture of the skull, at the left side of the head. The accident happened on the hill east of the Indian River School.

Norman Madill, Toronto, in the blue of the R.C.A.F., estimated the speed of the Storms' car at 55 to 60 miles an hour.

"I'd say we were going about 45 miles," he told Mr. McElderry. "Mrs. Storms car came up from behind and passed us. It raised a cloud of dust and gravel in our faces."

"Have you any idea of its speed?" Mr. McEldery asked.

"Judging from our speed, she was doing 55 to 60 miles. We wanted to get home, it seemed to be threatening rain, and we were going at about 45 miles an hour."

"After the car passed us, Hinton went ahead of me and caught up with it. She was on her own, right side of the road about seven or eight hundred feet ahead of us. I saw the back of the car seem to slip toward the right side of the road. It straightened out, and the back swung to the north side again and then right across the highway, off the road and into the ditch."

Mr. McElderry—"What happened to Hinton?"

"He was taken off the road along with the car."

Was Angry

Witness said to Mr. Gordon, "Hinton left me to catch up with the car and give them the devil."

Lloyd A. McClure, traffic officer and provincial constable, said he reached the scene of the accident at 7:10 p.m. It was twelve miles east of Peterborough. Hinton, the soldier, lay dead near his motorcycle in the ditch on the south side of the road.

Officer McClure described wheel marks he observed on the highway leading to the cycle and car in the south ditch. They indicated the automobile had travelled 122 feet from the point of a presumed impact to the south edge of the road. He also noticed indentations on the left side of the automobile, a gouge on the left door he believed was made by the stand on the rear of the cycle and a dent on the front fender by the rubber handle of the cycle. A motorcycle of the same type as Hinton's fitted exactly into the several gauges on the left side of the car.

Hit Boulder

The cycle had crashed against a big boulder in the ditch.

The officer said the first marks of the Storms' car tires which he could discern on the road were eight feet from the south ditch.

The trial is continuing.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 8 — (CP). — Continuation of Monday's good buying by shippers, commission houses and other locals, aided by strength at Chicago, boosted rye to higher levels yesterday on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange with the May future climbing to a new seasonal high.

Wheat export transactions during the session involved 350,000 bushels of No. 2 Northern purchased by the United States Commodity Credit Corporation.

The May rye future reached its new high by touching $1.17⅞ in dealings near the close of business.

A statement issued yesterday by the Board of Grain Commissioners said the amount of wheat, oats, and barley shipped to United States ports since August 1 totalled 114,000,000 bushels.

Closing rye quotations were ⅛ cent lower to ⅝ cent higher.

105 per cent after this discussion.

The tomato objective was not settled, as further information was required on the amount of canned tomatoes likely to be needed.

Maple syrup and honey objectives were both up and this was "all to the good," said Mr. Shaw.

He said the provinces mainly interested in cheese production—Ontario and Quebec—should seek to slow up the reduction in cheese production. Those studying the situation believed inducements to production in the form of bonuses and the like would have to be continued, either in their present or in a modified form, for the duration of the war.

The butter production objective for 1944 had been set at 97 per cent. of the 313,724,000 pounds produced in 1943, although it had been hoped production would be 316,000,000 pounds.

A cheese production objective of 167,800,000 pounds had been suggested for 1944, an increase of 5.8 per cent. from 1943; but the conference had felt production could only be 93 per cent. of this year's output.

The evaporated whole milk objective for 1944 was 178,000,000 pounds, the same as in 1943. A small decrease in the 1943 condensed whole milk production of 24,000,000 pounds was considered probable.

Whole-milk powder and skim-milk powder objectives for 1944 were the same as in 1943—116,800,000 pounds and 24,000,000 pounds respectively.

The production objective for eggs in 1944 was 367,500,000 dozen, an increase of 10 per cent. over 1943.

A gain of 14 per cent. in production of poultry meats, to 33,000,000 pounds, was desired in 1944.

Mr. Shaw said an increase of nine per cent. in honey production was sought in 1944, in addition to the 33,520 pounds produced in 1943.

A 34 per cent. increase in maple syrup production was sought. The 1943 production was 2,299,800 gallons.

Miss M. Burnham, OBE Is Laid To Rest

Miss Mary Vivienne Burnham, O.B.E., granddaughter of the late Dr. George Burnham of Peterborough and the late Sir Sidney Smith of Cobourg, died in Toronto Monday, and was buried in Little Lake Cemetery today, Canon W. P. Robertson officiating. She was 59.

A graduate of Havergal College, Miss Burnham went overseas in 1916 with the Canadian Convalescent hospital, being located at Dieppe to the end of the war. She was mentioned in dispatches. Returning to Toronto, she was in charge of the hostel for returned soldiers' families, later taking a course in social science at the University of Toronto.

She was subsequently appointed supervisor in the Women's division of the Canadian immigration department at Ottawa and was honored with the Order of the British Empire in 1935 for her work as supervisor in this department. Miss Burnham was well known across Canada as a speaker on immigration matters, previous to the illness which necessitated her resignation in 1937.

She is the daughter if the late Dr. and Mrs. George Burnham of Toronto and a brother, Dr. Howard H. Burnham lives in Toronto.

Mr. Gardiner said an effort would be made to obtain a longer term contract than that signed covering the next two years.

Princess Pats Trick Huns In Mine Battle

By LOUIS V. HUNTER
Canadian Press War Correspondent

WITH CANADIAN FORCES IN ITALY, Nov. 4.—(Delayed).—(CP). —The Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, renowned as a great patrolling battalion in the First Great War, is living up to its reputation in Italy. Without meeting the Germans in a major engagement, young but war-tested scouts, snipers and riflemen patrolled some 250 miles in four weeks in some of the most difficult country Canadian troops have seen.

Men of this famous Western Canadian Battalion are so good at their job they have earned the congratulations of high army officers on several occasions. Generally working through hills and woods away from the main roads they have carried out innumerable patrols that forced the Germans to back up, sometimes more quickly than the enemy planned.

A number of times the battalion has been keyed up for a full-scale attack on German positions, but when zero hour approached the enemy had flown and the Canadians were able to walk into their objectives almost unopposed.

A number of platoons turned in exceptional performances. A story is told about men of a platoon led by Lieut. D. Munro, Carstairs, Alta., who watched Germans mine a road and then sneaked in and removed the mines. The Germans returned and laid more mines and the Canadisn removed them again. The Germans repeated their performance, but this time the Canadians left the mines and when the Germans came back to mine the road again they were blown up by their own mines.

During various minor engagements the Pats men wiped out a number of German machine-gun posts, killing small groups of Germans, wounding and driving off the others. On one patrol the Germans shot and wounded a Canadian trying to reach a companion who had been hit.

Two Fliers Die In Plane Crash

SIMCOE, Ont., Dec. 8 (CP)—Two students from No. 16 Service Flying Training School at Hagersville were killed Tuesday when their plane crashed on the farm of Dudley Snively, one mile northeast of Waterford.

The crash occurred after two planes collided in the air. The other plane, however, was able to keep altitude following the collision and was successful in getting back to the air school with a hole torn in the fuselage.

Russell Lampkin, Waterford storekeeper, who was an eye witness to the collision in the air, saw a piece drop off one plane and a few seconds later it plummeted to earth.

The townsend township fire department was notified and a number of firemen responding under Fire Chief Tench of Waterford. Fortunately the wreckage did not catch fire.

When the plane crashed one student was thrown clear of the aircraft, the other being found in the wreckage.

Next of kin have been notified and names will be released shortly.

London Becomes City Of Many Oddities

By DOUG HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 8 (CP)—This London of 1943 is the sort of place where commodores ride bicycles and excite not the least attention unless the bicycle has new tires.

It is the sort of place where the word foreigner is on the way out.

It is the sort of place where there are seven European governments and as many or more colonies of their exiled people; the sort of place where a young Netherlander marries the girl who escaped their native land three years before he did, and has waited for him since.

It is the sort of place where hundreds still take their tattered possessions and their shabby selves and sleep in the tube stations night upon blitzless night.

It is the sort of place where 10 thousand lonely soldiers roll like a wave to the sinful beaches of Piccadilly, where they stand four deep sometimes before the bar and drink the weak beer of wartime Britain; and talk and sing and get high.

London is the sort of place where you can tell how long a Canadian soldier has been overseas by the way he looks at the direction signs on the underground.

It is the sort of place where young German refugees sing the songs of the fathers they probably left behind in a concentration

Judge Dismisses Emmery Appeal

COBOURG, Dec. 8 — (ENS).—Judge J. C. M. German yesterday allowed the motion and dismissed the appeal in connection with the case, Rex vs. Emmery, a liquor conviction of Magistrate Gee of Lindsay. The motion was made by Crown Attorney Harry Deyman in county court the day before, for an order dismissing the appeal entered by the defendant. The motion was on the grounds that the appeal should have come before an earlier court. A. R. Willmott of Cobourg, who was acting as an agent for W. J. A. Fair, Peterborough solicitor, asked that the appeal go on, basing his argument on an Ontario appeal case in which the presiding judge held that an intent to appeal should override a technical objection. Offsetting that was the decision of a higher court in Alberta.

Young Farmers More Interested

COBOURG, Dec. 8— (ENS). — Livestock judging competitions for young farmers have done much to interest farm boys in their work, states R. C. Banbury, Northumberland County agricultural representative. In Northumberland County of recent years the activity has been confined to clubs conducted at various agricultural fairs and participating in the Belleville livestock judging competition. Recently Mr. Banbury accompanied by Wesley Down and Alfred Gooding of Hilton, assisted E. A. Summers, Durham County agricultural representative with his annual competition. Thirty-six boys participated and some excellent livestock was seen at the farm visited. When the war is over and more young men and time available, Northumberland County would de well to consider re-establishing a contest of this kind, states Mr. Banbury, as it is good training in the knowledge of livestock, and has a particular part in developing the junior farmer in his sphere of knowing, growing, and showing livestock.

Thomas Walker Is Laid To Rest

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 8 (ENS)—Funeral services for the late Thomas Walker, former postmaster and station agent at Hoards, were largely attended on Tuesday afternoon. The late Mr. Walker passed away at his home at Hoards on December 4.

Although he had been in failing health during the past year, he had been confined to bed for only a few days. A native of Campbellford, he was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Walker, and was born in the township of Rawdon on June 22, 1857. He spent the greater part of his life farming in Rawdon township on the family homestead till 1900 when he moved to the residence of the late Thomas Walker, an uncle, where he farmed until 1916, when he moved to Hoards Station. At Hoards he was the first station agent and postmaster up to the time of his death.

Mr. Walker was of Scottish descent and a member of Burnbrae Presbyterian church. He was highly esteemed by a large circle of friends in this district. He leaves to mourn his loss his widow and one son, Roy, of Rawdon, and one daughter, Mrs. Preston Hall (Helen) of Oshawa. The funeral was conducted from the family residence by Rev. Donald McKay and interment was made in Burnbrae cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. Donald Sharp, W. J. Snarr, John Shaw, Carman Gunning, Alex. Calberry and Ross Anderson.

William Boulton Dies At Cobourg

COBOURG, Dec. 8.—Funeral services will be held to-day at Cobourg for William Boulton, 61, former superintendent of agencies for Western and Central Canada Confederation Life Association. He died Sunday at Cobourg, where he had resided since his retirement in 1939. He was for some years a resident of Toronto.

Mr. Boulton joined the Confederation Life Association at Vancouver, B.C., in 1917 as a representative. Later he served overseas with the Y.M.C.A. in the first Great War. Returning to Canada in 1920, he was appointed special representative at Toronto, and three years later manager of the Peterborough division, with offices at Peterborough. In 1929 he was appointed superintendent of agencies for Central Canada with headquarters in Toronto, and in 1934 also assumed the post of superintendent of agencies for Western Canada.

In 1930 Mr. Boulton visited the Far East investigating insurance possibilities and as a result a branch of the association was opened at Shanghai. He retired in 1939 because of ill-health. He was a member of the Masonic Order Scottish Rite, Rotary Club and the United Church.

Surviving are his widow, Janet A. Livingstone Boulton; a daughter, Mary, with the Women's Division, R.C.A.F., and a son, William.

Kinsmen Club Given Wood Lot

MARMORA, Dec. 8 — (ENS).—Mr. H. R. Pearce of Marmora made a bequest of a 200-acr woodlot to the Kinsmen Club of Marmora the money received from the sale of the lot to be applied to the local fund for "Milk for Britain."

This lot is situated on Beaver Creek, ten miles north of Marmora and, since the situation is in the centre of the deer country and is exceptionally good fishing grounds, it is expected that a sale would be made to persons interested in the building of a hunting and fishing lodge.

It is estimated that the lot contains 1,000 cords of wood of which 80 per cent is soft wood and the remaining 20 per cent hard wood. The lot is accessible for the cutting and drawing out of wood.

Kinsmen Bring Fast Moving Variety Show

A group of ar workers at the Massey-Harris plant who thought they would like to do something for the troops got together a few months ago and their efforts have resulted in a fast-moving show "Combines of 1944" which is being brought to Peterborough December 17 under the auspices of the Kinsmen Club and proceeds will go to War charities.

After recruiting talent throughout the plant, the act was organized to appeal to the taste of individuals in the audience and the result is an entertaining variety show which has been doing the rounds in Ontario and Western Canada since last October, giving more than 100 performances and playing before 140,000 people.

Their first performance was given at No. 1 Manning Depot, R.C.A.F., Toronto. In their 1942-43 tour only five performances were given for the general public, and for their 1943-44 itinery only eight have been allotted for public performance. They will visit the Training Centre here on December 16.

Star Performers

Acting as mistress of ceremonies is Betty Robertson, who features the piana accordion and piano accompaniments and specialities are handled by Dorothy Moncrieff, whose flying fingers have captivated audiences.

Included in the program are several spirited dance numbers including Cordova with her Spanish interpretations, Lillian Courage and Norma Lawrie in rhythm in motion, and Meta and St. John who entertain with acrobatic and novelty dances, the highlight being their adaptation of the Apache dance.

June Barrett is the soloist with the voice which has sung its way into the hearts of her audiences across Canada. Her semi-classical and favorite melodies have been hits wherever she goes. The chorus of nine girls, June Huehnergard Elsie Woodend, Wilda Cosburn, Shirley Anderson, Norma Lawrie, Shirley Alexander, Marguerette Clarke, Grace McCutcheon, Margaret Munro and Lillian Courage, adds much to the revue.

Genial manager of the show and comedian is Pat McIntosh, who has a good selection of songs and produces plenty of mirthful quips. In addition, Beth Watson, who specializes on the bagpipes, drums and saxophone, tops off an evening packed with entertainment.

Military camps all over the country have expressed their appreciation of the Massey-Harris Variety show and here are a few of their comments:

FO. E. Kershaw, No. 5 I.T.S., Belleville, wrote: "On behalf of the commanding officer and personnel of this station, I wish to express a sincere appreciation of the excellent show which was presented." Petawawa Camp said: "The consensus of opinion was that it was one of the best shows to visit the camp." Little Norway found it a first class performance which the airmn enjoyed immensely and an R.C.A.F. detachment at Suffield described it as a particularly fine brand of entertainment such as they do not often have in that camp. Mount Hope station audience found that the show was beautifully dressed and went with a swing from start to finish and was a polished performance.

Tickets may be purchased from any member of the Kinsmen Club and the show will be held in the Brock Street Arena.

Campbellford Chief Is Cleared In Selective Service Round Up

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 8 (ENS)—Police Chief George Hardy appeared before council on Monday night to give an account of his part in the Selective Service round-up here on October 7. He was questioned particularly as to the list of those who he ordered to report before the officials of the Board and satisfied council that much of the criticism directed at him had been misplaced. In answer to questioning by Deputy Reeve MacMillan, sole remaining member of the once three-man police committee (two other members resigned three months ago following a disagreement concerning police matters and subsequent charges that the balance of council was not supporting the committee), the Chief explained that Selective Service officials had provided their own list of men to be rounded up and on top of this had instructed him to bring in all male citizens from 16 to 65 who were not in essential work. Chief Hardy emphasized that he was only assisting the officials in their work as he felt it was his duty to do. In reply to the Deputy Reeve's question as to whether he had kept a record of the work he had done on this occasion the chief replied in the negative, claiming he had not felt it was necessary to keep such a report in this instance.

"Did you hand in any names?" asked Mayor Long.—"No, I did not."

"Did you ask the Selective Servic to come her?" queried Reeve Calver.—"No, I did not. There was no reason why I should want them to come here."

In response to further questioning the Chief declared that to the best of his knowledge no one was called in who was not on the original list.

No New Clothing

At this stage Councillor Donald came to the support of the Police Chief, declaring he had been treated unfairly by the police committee as he did not even have a decent uniform to wear.

"That is the first I have heard of it," declared the Deputy, who was irked by the accusation and challenged Councillor Donald as to why he had been sitting at the council table for the past twelve months without mentioning it before if he had known this. Councillor Donald made no reply. It was revealed the Chief had got his last uniform in 1941 and his great coat was purchased by council six years ago. Councillor Mason, who at that time was chairman of the Police committee, said a coat had been ordered a year ago but was subsequently cancelled when the merchant failed to make delivery after a great deal of delay. Members agreed the Chief should be entitled to a new uniform each year if he required it, but felt it was his duty to bring the matter to the attention of the Police committee. On motion the purchase of a uniform and great coat was left with the Deputy Reeve with full power to make the necessary purchase.

Councillor Mason, a member of the wood purchasing committee revealed 80 cords were now on hand to tide over citizens in case of a fuel shortage during the winter. Councillor Fowlds brought up the matter of paying members of the Water and Light Commission. He said there was a feeling among citizens that they were as much entitled to payment as the members of council. It was pointed out that there was no provision in the Municipal Act for payment to Commissioners and further discussion was postponed till the Statutory meeting.

In response to a communication from C. H. Davidson who agreed to make provision for free skating and provide the rink for school hockey teams, the usual grant being the equivalent of the 1944 taxes on the land and building, was made. A letter from the county road engineer directed Council's attention to the fact no roads would be plowed this year with county equipment unless the practice was instituted at the start of the snow season. Rates for this service were quoted and on motion of Road and Bridge Chairman MacMillan who commented "It is not going to cost very much anyway," the clerk was instructed to notify the County that connecting links were to be plowed.

Obituary

MRS. GEORGE BENOR

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 8 — (ENS). — Mrs. George Benor, well known to residents of both Campbellford and Peterborough passed away unexpectedly at her home here at four o'clock Monday afternoon. Though she had been ill for some time early last spring, the deceased lady had apparently made a good recovery and when her death was announced the news came as a distinct shock to all.

Born in Roslin, she was a daughter of one of the town's pioneer merchant families. She came to Campbellford with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Carnahan as a girl and her father for many years operated a drygoods business here. She married George Benor in the year 1899 and they made their home on Booth Street till 1914 when Mr. Benor went to Peterborough as District Manager of the North American Life Insurance Company. While living in that city Mrs. Benor was a member of All Saints' Church and she was active in the Ladies' Guild. She removed to Campbellford following the death of her husband in 1934 and has made her home here since that time.

Mrs. Benor is survived by one daughter, and only child Mayme at home. A brother, W. J. Carnahan died here seven years ago. The funeral was held today from her late residence on Front street and was conducted by Rev. W. J. Lennox of Christ Church. Interment was made in the family plot in Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The many friends joined in paying tribute to this kindly lady whose death marked the passing of one whose generous and cheerful disposition had endeared her to countless residents of this town. The pall bearers were Messrs. George West, Hilton Beatty, A. C. Connor, A. J. Armour, T. J. Craighead and H. Coxwell.

Submits a Suggestion

The presentation of a "Gift" is one way of expressing our feelings to "Loved Ones" and "Friends." That "Gift or the neglect of that gesture, on the one hand, will bring "Happiness" we know—on the other hand, our thoughtlessness may hurt some one who right now more than ever needs the lift our remembrance may bring. We naturally do not suggest needless spending, but it does behoove us, particularly at this time, to be most careful when compiling our Christmas lists, to take into full consideration those of our "Friends" whose family circles have been disrupted by the absence of some loved one Overseas or away from home "On Duty" in the service of our country. Anything that we can do to "lighten their load" by this type of expression of Friendship should not be neglected. Your Tamblyn Drug Store can be of great assistance to you in this respect, as their stock comprises a wide variety of beautiful and practical "gift Items" priced in keeping with the spirit of economy which the Wartime Budget requires.

No News From Teheran

The most careful examination of the text of the declaration issued at the Teheran Conference reveals nothing which we did not know before. The Conference was of the greatest significance; indeed, it was probably the most significant conference of this war, and one of the most significant conferences in modern history, but it will be a long time before we know anything of the actual decisions which were made there. The conferees have told us that their plans for the destruction of German power are complete, and with that knowledge we must bide our time.

The announcement which followed the Cairo Conference raised our hopes. The conferees there gave us a promise that they would defeat the Japanese, and they also told us what plans they had made for the countries now under Japanese domination, and to what size they meant to reduce the Japanese holdings in the Pacific area. With that definite and cheering statement still fresh in our minds we had hoped that the declaration from Teheran might tell us what the leaders of the United Nations had in store for Germany, but it did not do so.

It would be foolish, of course, to think that Churchill, Stalin and Roosevelt have no clear plan in their heads because they have not admitted the whole world, including the enemy, to their confidence. "The common understanding which we have here reached guarantees that victory will be ours", their statement says, and it continues: "And as to the peace, we are sure that our concord will make it an enduring peace".

Although the statement is in the most general terms it has the ring of unshakeable confidence; we may be sure that the fate of the United Nations is in the hands of men who are working in perfect accord and who have complete trust in one another. We can never be sufficiently thankful for the fact that this critical hour in human history has brought forth three men who are able to work together. The peace conference after the last war brought together a group whose aims were divided, whose personalities were frequently antipathetic and jarring, and whose mandate from the nations they represented was often questionable. It will be worse after this war; exiled governments and factions of all kinds will be represented at the peace table and the possibilities of disastrous quarreling will be manifold. It will be then, more than at any time during the war, that the solidarity of feeling among Stalin, Roosevelt and Churchill will be of vital importance to the cause of the United Nations.

The statement from Teheran, cryptic and uncommunicative as it is, speaks well for that unity of feeling. It is unlikely that the three men are agreed on every point about the conduct of the war and the settlement of the peace. But it is clear that they are in complete unanimity on all the big and essential issues, and that the dissensions and importunities of lesser men will not budge them. We shall have to wait to see what they mean to do, and what plan they have to defeat the enemy, but we wait with the assurance that they, more than any other three men who are in powerful positions at this moment, are worthy of our unstinting trust.

The Current Slang

We like to keep our ears pricked up for anything which is new in slang and colloquial speech. Editors have a tendency to develop a ponderous, pseudo-Gibbonian style for the expression of their opinions, a style which employs neither literary English nor the language of the street; for prophylactic reasons, therefore, we like to know the words which are newcomers to the language.

In the past two or three years there have been some interesting developments in what may be called High School Slang; not long ago we read an article on the subject which was written by a girl of High School age, who was reporting what she believed to be the latest advances in the speech of her contemporaries. The word 'corny', meaning whatever is sentimental or obvious is not new, but we were interested to hear that a corny remark may be greeted with cries of 'Harvest it!' The strongest expression of interest or approval is 'Murder', and 'on fire' means superb. Of course everybody knows that a 'wolf' is a young man who imagines that he is irresistible, but it may be news to you that A.W.O.L. may mean 'a wolf on the loose'; when a fastidious girl meets a wolf she may 'ice up', and her coldness will drive the wolf from her door. A 'gruesome twosome' means a boy and a girl who are in love, but a girl who has no acknowledged preference, and who is attractive, may be called a 'military objective'.

Some High School Slang is not as new as it looks. To be 'hep' means to be knowledgeable or vivacious, just as it did forty years ago; it may be new on this continent to call a dull young man a 'drip', but the English have done so since 1920. And to say that someone is in a 'tizzy' when they are over-excited has been recognized English since about 1850; it is just getting to the High School crowd now.

Some of the newer slang does not seem to have any sense about it, and will quickly fall out of use. To call an attractive young man 'Jackson' may be hilarious now, but it will not be so in five years time, nor do we see much future for such expressions as 'You shred it, wheat', meaning, 'figure it out for yourself'. But to tell someone to 'stand up closer to the mike' when they are mumbling seems to be a very useful colloquialism.

Few things age so rapidly as slang, and whoever wishes to be in the latest fashion should change his slang as often as he does his motor oil. We have all met those pitiable oldsters who talk about 'deevy' parties, and say 'Not on your tintype' and 'Yes sirree, bob' when they want to be racy. Perhaps thirty or forty years from now there will be men and women who still go about saying 'You shred it, wheat', to a mystified younger generation.

Sociological Note

There are a great many societies in the world which take themselves with the utmost seriousness, but which seem to outsiders to be playing various sorts of funny games. Consider, for instance, the American Sociological Society, which has just had its annual jamboree in New York; it has discovered that among men and women who are fifty years old or more, and whose marriages have remained intact, there is a lower rate of crime than among people of the same age who are either unmarried or divorced. Now that might be taken as a recommendation for the married state, if it were not that the Society was eager to add that this reckoning does not include homicide; indeed, the middle-aged man or woman who suddenly commits murder is usually married, and the victim is usually his married partner. As a boost for marriage that is decidedly unfortunate.

But what we want to know is, who benefits from this carefully acquired piece of information? Or does the Society collect such titbits merely for the love of strange lore? Most experienced police chiefs, we suspect, could have told them that many middle-aged men murder their wives, without making a scientific fuss about it.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Wartime secret: over 6,000,000 pounds of peanuts were used this year in making peanut butter. Don't spread it around.

"Teheran Conference To Make Future Wars Impossible", says a headline. Yes, but let us not be so foolish as to call this "the war to end wars".

"Queues Line Up At Winnipeg Bootleggers" says a headline. After they discovered the futility of lining up at the government stores, no doubt.

A writer to the press suggests that reckless truck drivers be curbed with "good stiff fines". Why not a few good stiff bars?

Needles, we see, are now being manufactured from pressed straw. That should ease the difficulty of finding one in a haystack.

Some benefactor of the human race has invented a "silent channel" for the juke box. You put a nickel in the appropriate slot and you purchase silence for the length of time which would otherwise be consumed in playing Pistol Packin' Momma. The next move will be to invent a gadget which puts the air-conditioner out of order and allows a little real ozone to circulate.

Review of Christmas Books

By
SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

IN this column I hope to give you some idea of the books which might prove acceptable Christmas gifts to your friends. Of books which have been previously reviewed I strongly recommend these three novels—"None But The Lonely Heart," by Richard Llewellyn, "The Forest And The Fort," by Hervey Allen, and "Gideon Planish," Sinclair Lewis. Perhaps you may wish to follow the fashion and give "A Tree Grows In Brooklyn" by Betty Smith, or "Kathrine," by Hans Habe; certainly you will not go far wrong with either of them.

OF the season's biographies, one is head and shoulders above all others: it is "The Duke," by Richard Aldington, a brilliant study of the Duke of Wellington, published by Macmillans; I shall review it at length in the course of a week or so, but I am anxious that it should have a prominent place in this list, for I am sure that it will give the greatest pleasure to any of your friends whose tastes incline toward history. But if you want something with more contemporary flavour, you should look over "The Torch of Freedom," a book published by the Oxford Press containing short accounts of twenty great exiles, ranging from Ovid and Tycho Brahe to Lenin and Stefan Zweig; it is edited by Emil Ludwig and Henry Kranz, and the brief studies are written by celebrated exiles of our own day, Andre Maurois Jan Masaryk, and Count Carlo Sforza among them. The same publisher offers "Twenty-Five Troubled Years" by F. H. Soward, the Under-Secretary of State for External Affairs at Ottawa; it is a scholarly and concise study of the years 1918-43, and invaluable to those of us who are not quite sure what course of events brought us to our present pass; I recommend it highly.

OF books which chronicle the events of this war, the best by far is "Wind of Freedom" by Compton Mackenzie; it is a history of the invasion of Greece by the Axis powers, published by Macmillans. Mackenzie's knowledge of Greece and the Greeks, his skill as a writer, and his intimacy with diplomatic and military procedure all give this book authenticity, and save it from that flatulence which so often mars the work of war correspondents. It is salutary for us to read this book and learn the extent of our debt to the brave men and women of Greece. Another war book, published by Mussons, which is of particular interest, is "Letters From England," by Margaret Culkin Banning; written in the form of letters to her daughter, it is a record of a journey to England in 1942, and it is an excellent picture of a country at war, seen through the eyes of an American woman. If you have any determined warriors, either of the actual or armchair variety, on your Christmas list, you might give them the Modern Library Giant, "Clausewitz On War," the classic which has been the basis of military strategy and philosophy for a hundred and twenty-five years; it is the ideal book for all paladins of the typewriter and the microphone.

FOR sheer entertainment, the best Christmas book is "Long, Long Ago," the last collection of the writings of the late Alexander Woollcott, which Macmillans have just brought out. Personal reminiscences, crimes and whimsicalities are presented in the familiar Woollcott style; this is a first-rate bedside book. The theatrical quality of the writing does not make for solid reading, but for a series of titbits it is hard to beat. As for poetry, "The New Treasury of War Poetry," edited by G. H. Clarke, is your best buy, or you may prefer Audrey Alexandra Brown's "Challenge To Time And Death," the latest book of one of our more accomplished Canadian poets.

AN unusually interesting war novel is "Retreat From Rostov," by Paul Hughes (Macmillans); it is a long book—586 pages—and it gives a remarkably full and interesting fictional account of one of the great campaigns of the present war. Collins also offer an excellent war novel in "Spear Head," by John Brophy, whose "Immortal Sergeant" has been so well received. Its theme is a Commando raid on the Norwegian coast. Mussons have two war novels, "And We Shall Build," by Stella Morton, a story of a family at war, and "Decency Of Hate" by Humfrey Jordan, a well-told story of the war at sea.

LET me end with a group of novels, all better than ordinary. First is "Grand Crossing" (Mussons), by Alexander Saxon, a story of how a young man finds his own soul in Chicago; it isn't much of a soul, but the story of his search is interesting. The remaining books are published by Oxford. I particularly recommend "Winter Harbour" by Bernice Richmond; it is not a novel, but a record of the experience of two people who buy a lighthouse on the Main Coast; it has, however, the character of a novel, and a good one; it might have been wiser if the author had omitted the photographs which go with the book. "The Golden Serpent" is by Ciro Allegria, the brilliant South American novelist, and it is a splendid story of native life along the banks of a treacherous but fascinating river. Last of all is "The Locusts," a tour de force by a refugee writer named Otto Schrag, who has learned English during the past two or three years, and has written a rich novel of American pioneer life; his people are good, but the locusts who are the real protagonists in his drama are better.... There is a Christmas selection; I shall perhaps add a little to it next week.

Unconsidered Trifles

There appeared in The Muggleton Times the following advertisement: "If John Jones, who deserted his wife and babe some twenty years ago, will return, the said babe will knock the stuffing out of him."

William: "The idea of his calling his book an historical novel! It doesn't agree with history even in the slightest particular!"

Frederick: "And so may be quite true, old man!"

A young woman, travelling alone, and unused to the ways of the world, had left her home on an early morning train to visit a friend in Fifeshire. It had been a tiring journey, and just before reaching Dunfermline she had fallen asleep.

Waking up, she turned to an old gentleman on the seat behind her and said, "Will you please tell me if we are on this side of Dunfermline or on the other side?"

"We are on this side," he said.

And she settled down again, entirely satisfied.

Post-war Rationing

(THE PRINTED WORD)

THE suggestion that it may be necessary to continue rationing in Canada for some time after the war is over is not precisely the best way to enlist support for present restrictions. Normally Canada has an exportable surplus of foodstuffs, and even though some shortages exist now, the civilian population is eating regularly and well. When the inevitable wastes of army catering are removed, when there are no longer losses of cargoes through enemy action and when more manpower is available for agriculture, there seems to be no reason why we cannot ship large quantities of food to relieve distress in Europe and still have plentiful supplies for our own people.

Of course, some few may celebrate the declaration of peace by a wild orgy of pork and beans, salted peanuts, bananas or other dishes now strange to the Canadian palate. Restraint of this tendency is better left to individual consciences and digestions than to the authorities at Ottawa. In some candy factories it is the custom to allow employees to eat all of the product they desire, and it is usually found that a new hand loses appetite for sweets after a week.

The suspicion cannot be avoided that the noble idea of feeding impoverished Europe is somehow connected with a desire to maintain employees of the Rationing Administration in their jobs. It is not among the most expensive administrations supported by the taxpayer, but neither is it the cheapest. When parliamentary control of public finance is re-established, the representatives of the taxpayers will be expected to get busy on the task of reducing expenditures, and that should mean demobilization of large numbers of temporary civil servants. Parliament will have no mandate to continue paying out the taxpayers' money for services that the taxpayers actively dislike.

Canada can do her share in feeding Europe if Canadian farmers are encouraged to produce the needed surplus and are guaranteed a margin of profit on their labour. Continuance of rationing would hinder rather than help increased production. Neither rural nor urban Canadians will feel like working hard at their jobs if they must continue to support indefinitely the non-productive employment of thousands of civil servants, whose functions have become obsolete.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS....

A GREAT deal of harsh criticism is being directed at women war workers because they are so undependable. They are here today and gone tomorrow in defence plants, even as they are in our kitchens, and no boss can any more tell when a lady riveter is going to take a day off to have a new hair wave and beauty treatment than the housewife can prognosticate whether the cook is going to come to get breakfast, or absent herself to attend a marked down bargain sale.

The spotlight has been turned on this condition of affairs by a recent report of the War Manpower Commission which sets forth that out of every two women hired in war plants during the labor shortage areas in June, one quit her job, and this has raised a great outcry about women's lack of patriotism and their failure to do their bit for Uncle Sam in his hour of need.

No doubt these charges are in many cases well-founded and that there are plenty of women who only heeded the call of their country when it called upon them to dance with soldiers and sailors, or to wear a snappy uniform, or to make enough money to buy the finery they had always craved, and that, having acquired their mink coats and worn out their slippers dancing with school boys who stepped on their feet, they left winning the war to somebody else and returned to their bridge games.

But the main reason why women have proven broken reeds on which to lean in wartimes is not that they are not patriots, but because they are women, and women, no more than men, possess the power of being in two places at one and the same time and performing simultaneously two different and complicated lines of work.

And that has always been the trouble with a woman. When she took a man's job, she didn't escape from her job as a woman. She merely saddled one on top of the other, and the inevitable result was that she did them both badly and eventually broke down under the double load.

War has worked no miracle that has changed this axiomatic rule of human behaviour. No matter how much a woman's heart surges with patriotic fervor, it doesn't give her any more physical strength, or put any more hours in her day, or keep her children from getting hungry, or make the baby capable of changing himself, or keep her adolescent boys and girls from wandering the streets in search of excitement, instead of staying at home and reading an improving book.

It is a cruel and a heart-searching necessity that confronts the woman who must choose between her duty to her country and her duty to her family, but it is a choice that the wife and mother has to make because she cannot serve them both, and no one has a right to censure her if she decides that she can accomplish more good by keeping her own home together and bringing up her children to be decent citizens than she could by making bullets or airplanes.

Yielding to the temptation to make more money than they have ever had before, or carried away by war hysteria, hundreds of thousands of women have forsaken their homes and turned their children out on the streets to go into war work. Starry-eyed propagandists have made them believe that it is no trick at all for a woman to combine being a boss riveter and a model wife and mother.

But the reality is very different. It is a nerve-racked woman, overspent with work, dragging herself from the night shift or the day shift to a cluttered house, forcing herself to slap together a makeshift meal for her family before she stumbles into bed and falls into the sodden sleep of exhaustion.

It is a husband looking with distaste and disillusion at a dirty woman in slacks, who has none of the daintiness and charm of the girl he married. It is children who have gotten beyond control and are running the streets and having their characters formed by its ideals. It is a house that is no longer a home and to which the police only too often brings a delinquent boy or girl.

Can you wonder that the women, even those who go into war work from the most patriotic motives, give it up when they see that it is wrecking their homes, ruining their children, losing them their husbands? Can you blame these women for thinking that true patriotism begins at home?

I hold no brief for the unmarried women of mature years, who are healthy and strong and who have no responsibilities, who refuse to help their country when it needs them to take the place of fighting men. Let them be drafted as the men were. But spare the women with young families to rear. They have answered even a higher call than that of Uncle Sam.

Four Fasting Animals

The cat which survived a 41-day voyage as a stowaway without food, producing four kittens into the bargain, must certainly be a rare specimen of endurance, though the licking of cosmogene from a crated engine no doubt helped to keep the wolf from the door. But the annals of the animal world contain fasting feats even more remarkable.

Passing over the case of the Liverpool dog buried during a blitz which survived after 20 days without food or water, the first of the really notable records is that of the marine iguanas from the Galapagos Islands, which obstinately refused food for three months before giving up their hunger strike. This, however, has been beaten easily by a 25-foot python in the London zoo, which declined all food whatsoever for 18 months and was none the worse when it began eating again.

A Madagascar boa-constrictor, however, turned even this record into small beer by existing, in similar conditions, in the Paris Jardin des Plantes for four years and a month. The world's record so far is held by the blind newt, the Proteus, one specimen of which spent five years between two meals. The record for a man, by the way, is 60 days.—Manchester Guardian.

He's a Pacifist No Longer

Romain Rolland, French author and pacifist, whose death was announced this week, was dying when he arrived in Paris a week ago from a concentration camp in Northern France, says the Swiss Tribune de Geneve. Shortly before his death at his home he told intimate friends, "After all I experienced this past year it is better that I should never be able to write again. I would have to revoke all the works I have ever written and urge you to employ force against force."—Canadian Churchman.

Hard To Believe How Time Flies

DECEMBER 8

1913 Only a handful of candidates have so far been spoken of in connection with the municipal elections.

The city council is considering the advisability of having the garbage collection done by city staff.

The tango wave has reached Peterborough and class of 40 has been formed to learn the new dance.

Harold Hill is elected a member of the Alma Mater Society of Queen's University.

W. Clifford is elected as council commander of Sherwood Forest Camp, Woodmen of the World.

1923 Robert Graham, aged resident of Fraserville, is found dead in a wood near that village.

The Examiner reports a number of canoeists paddling on the river with the thermometer climbing to 51.

Oak doors donated to All Saints Church in memory of Orville Crowe are dedicated by Rev. R. B. Grobb.

Eggs were selling at 65 to 70 cents a dozen on the market here today.

The Lakefield Rink Company has applied to the village council for a bonus to help meet the cost of operation.

1933 The new Immaculate Conception Church is dedicated by Archbishop M. J. O'Brien of Kingston.

Joseph Bell, president, denies the report that the local C.C.F. intends entering municipal politics.

Dr. Bert Faulkner of Belleville addresses meeting here in the interest of James Hawthorne, Liberal candidate for this riding for the Legislature.

Fifteen unemployed Campbellford single men are sent to road jobs at Kaladar.

A. Bishop is chosen as president of the North Monaghan Ratepayers' Association.

1918 Pte. E. S. Childs of Havelock has died in the Kingston Hospital.

Vincent Eastwood, member of the Board of Education, announces that he will not be a candidate for re-election.

Sergt. V. A. Henry and Driver George Hutchinson who were war prisoners in Germany have been liberated.

Herbert Edmison who was formerly in the drug business in Peterborough is dead in Winnipeg.

City council has finally decided to have the aldermanic nominations at night, instead of in the morning.

A Bible Message

Now the sojourning of the children of Israel, who dwelt in Egypt, was four hundred and thirty years. And it came to pass at the end of the four hundred and thirty years, even the selfsame day it came to pass, that all the hosts of the Lord went out from the land of Egypt.... And the Lord went before them by day in a pillar of a cloud, to lead them the way: and by night in a pillar of fire, to give them light; to go by day and night....

But the Egyptians pursued after them, all the horses and chariots of Pharaoh, and his horsemen, and his army, and overtook them encamping by the sea, beside Pihahiroth, before Baalzephon. And when Pharaoh drew nigh, the children of Israel lifted up their eyes, and, behold, the Egyptians marched after them: and they were sore afraid: and the children of Israel cried out unto the Lord....

And the Lord said unto Moses, Wherefore criest thou unto me? speak unto the children of Israel, that they go forward: but lift thou up thy rod, and stretch out thine hand over the sea, and divide it: and the children of Israel shall go on dry ground through the midst of the sea.... And Moses stretched out his hand over the sea; and the Lord caused the sea to go back by a strong east wind all that night, and made the sea dry land, and the waters were divided. And the children of Israel went into the midst of the sea upon the dry ground: and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left....

Thus the Lord saved Israel that day out of the hand of the Egyptians. (Ex. 12: 40, 41; 13: 21; 14: 9, 10, 15, 16, 21, 22, 30.)

International Cuisine

Although it may be a bit too early for gourmets to stage an appropriate celebration, all indications point to a notable reciprocity program in national cuisines after the war. Service men and women now overseas may be expected to return with more than a few favorite dishes, while people with whom they have been consorting will have learned much about Yankee cooking.

India's notable range of curried dainties, Austria's stuffed cabbage leaves, Norway's meat and fish puddings, Holland's bounteous rice and meat spread, called rijsttaffel, France's economical pot-au-feu stew, Spain's rice fish and meat paella and even Japan's beef and vegetable sukiyaki may conceivably be placed on post-war menus here at home.

Foreign folks, by reason of economic conditions, have trained themselves to thrift and the avoidance of waste in foodstuffs. In this connection, a government annnouncement that Americans waste nearly as much food each year as goes into lend-lease shipments has its moral—Boston Herald.

Widow Dies in Time

Once upon a time we knew an invalid widow who, in 1934, had an income of $3,400. She lived comfortably in a well-furnished house with two attendants. Her tax for that year, after deducting the full 10 per cent for charitable givings, was about $73. If today she had the same income, the tax would be $1,083. But as she was over 65, there would be no compulsory savings portion, so she would have had a tax of a scant $900—a mere 26 per cent of the income.

The lady, if still alive, would probably have to move into an institution, for the tax could not have maintained both the home and the necessary attendants.

It will be argued in defense of this high tax, that it would be higher in Britain. But Britain in normal times has fewer indirect taxes. The iniquitous 8 per cent sales tax—something which Mr. Ilsley calls the poor man's tax and which he inherited—has never been imposed in the Old Country.—The Printed Word.

Was Treated Well By Japanese Woman Evacuee Declared On Arriving In Peterborough

By JEAN STENTON
Examiner Staff Reporter

"I am so happy to be back in Canada and I can assure you that I have been well treated by the Japanese," Mrs. Myrtle Burgess, who was a passenger aboard the Gripsholm said today as she laughingly confided, looking the picture of health, that she hadn't lost a pound since she had been detained and her big worry on homeward trip was that she would put on weight.

Safe in the arms of her anxious family who have not heard from her for two years, Mrs. Burgess is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. E. Lane, 319 Simcoe Street, and is joyfully celebrating her reunion. These two sisters have not met for 15 years and they have a lot to catch up on.

Up until the people of the International settlement were interned, Mrs. Burgess worked in a clinic, acting as a secretary and doing the clerical work for the several doctors in Shanghai for seven years, and she has been in China for ten years. She loved her job and is hopeful that she may again obtain a position in a doctor's office.

Honor Homeland

Mrs. Burgess was held in Shanghai in a 'civil assembly centre' along with many of her friends and she said they managed to keep surprisingly busy with housework and other regular jobs. One of the scenes which remains most vividly with her is a little celebration the Canadians held in the camp on Dominion Day. They organized a tea in one of the halls, because the weather was bad, and although it was against the regulations to sing patriotic songs, the Canadians talked about their homes which were situated in different parts of Canada.

Because her husband has remained behind in Shanghai, Mrs. Burgess was not at liberty to discuss anything about her camp. She is a tall gracious woman with a friendly smile and a sparkling charm which adds to her attractive personality. Although she has been cut off from her family for so long, she is not in the least down-hearted and is looking forward to visiting another sister in Winnipeg when she leaves Peterborough after Christmas.

Well Cared For

"The people in the ports where we stopped on our way home were wonderful to us and I particularly like Port Elizabeth in Africa and Rio de Janeiro. Nothing was too good for us, and I wish I could do more than say thank you. Although Port Elizabeth is small, I love it and the people took us right into their homes, and saw that we had short sight seeing drives. In Rio de Janeiro, three Canadian companies banded together and took us for a tour of the city on street cars and later arranged for us to have tea at a small club.

"The most important item in the minds of the feminine members of the repatriates was that of getting new clothes. At every port the government arranged to advance money so that those who wanted to could make necessary purchases. And we had a wonderful time in the shops, although it became rather embarassing because if we even suggested getting something, people went ahead and bought it for us.

"The Red Cross had clothing supplies of warm sweaters, slacks sox, mocassin shoes and other items waiting for us on the ship and we picked up more at the ports. Some of us, like myself, were not too badly off, but others were glad to take advantage of them. In our shopping, we were rather surprised to find that the styles had changed so little since we saw our last fashion magazines," Mrs. Burgess said with feminine vivacity.

Red Cross Helps

The Gripsholm passengers are loud in their praise of the way they were looked after on board ship. The meals were plain but nourishing and Mrs. Burgess said that nearly all the passengers had been putting on weight. When they arrived in Montreal, the Red Cross had set up tables in the station and they had sandwiches, coffee and fruit for them.

Although her work in the International Settlement in Shanghai brought her into contact mostly with "foreigners" (those who were not Chinese) she spoke highly of Chinese loyalty and said that these people had most amazing memories. Her husband had been in China off and on since about 1905 and it was frequent occurrence when they wandered into small stores to have the proprietor say "Master do you remember me? I knew you when you were at such and such an address."

Will Carry On

Asked whether she noticed many changes in Canada since the time she had sailed from Vancouver to China, she replied that she had not been here long enough to find out, since she only arrived at the week-end after Mrs. Lane had met her in Montreal. Since her home is in Western Canada, she remarked that she would be able to tell more when she had been on familiar ground.

In the meantime until the day comes when her husband can rejoin her, Mrs. Burgess is going to make a new life for herself and live for the future.

St. Paul's W.A. Names Officers

BETHANY, Dec. 8 — (ENS).—Many were absent through illness from the annual meeting of St. Paul's W.A. held at the rectory. Letters were read from Miss Kingston with thanks for remittance paying pledges in full. Treasurer reported cash on hand $20.43 and $293.29 in the bank, with proceeds from the bazaar $130.83 and $7.28 expenses. It was also reported $26.10 worth of goods had been sold during the year. The association voted $100 for parochial relief work to the wardens, moved by Miss Nesbitt and Mrs. Price.

Lunch committee for the next meeting is Mrs. Price, Miss Nesbitt, and Mrs. Perry. The place of meeting will be announced later.

Mrs. Mason presided for election of officers as follows President, Mrs. Mason; vice-president, Mrs. secretary, Mrs. Jarvis.

The following committees were nominated: Dorcas, Mrs Kennedy, Mrs. R. Reynold, Mrs. Stevenson; Sewing, Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Gribble, Mrs. F. W. Reynolds; Wool, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. O. H. McGill and Miss Nesbitt; Visiting Committee, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Fred Reynolds. The igloo was opened and counted $2.03 and the missionary box $5.16.

Mrs. Mason and her assistants served refreshments and Mrs. Price tendered a vote of thanks to the hostess for her hospitality.

Personals

Mis Muriel Arkles, teacher of the Public Room, who has been ill for the past week at her home at Colborne with the flu, returned to duty this week.

Mrs. Wilden of Pontypool visited friends on Sunday at Bethany.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ferren of Cavan were guests of Mrs. Richard Fallis on Sunday.

Mrs. Lloyd Kennedy, accompanied her brother, Otto Spencer, to Peterborough recently.

The War Bridge Club are meeting at the home of Mrs. Mason Thursday evening.

Japanese Claim 193,000 Killed

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 — (AP).—The Tokyo radio said today an Imperial headquarters communique claimed the Japanese army had killed or disabled 193,000 Allied soldiers on the South Pacific and Aleutian fronts from December, 1942, through November of this year.

The broadcast, recorded by The Associated Press, asserted, moreover, that 2,728 Allied planes were destroyed on those fronts during the same period and 158 ships were "accounted for." The communique was represented as saying the Allies had a total strength of 400,000 men in those areas.

The Japanese losses for the period were placed at 32,962 killed and 313 planes lost.

Must Not Scrap Free Enterprise

TORONTO, Dec. 8 — (CP). — Ontario Highways Minister Doucett said here last night that the average Canadian has no desire to become a servant of the state and looks forward to owning his own home or place of business with a minimum of interference from the state.

"It would be a shocking state of affairs if the system of free enterprise were to be scraped while our young men are overseas fighting for that system," the Minister told 500 members of the Automotive Transport Association of Ontario in annual meeting here.

"Canadians do not intend to make the government the master of the people instead of the servant of the people," he said. "There will not be the abandonment of a system that has its defects, but is rapidly being amended and is suited to the temperament of Canadians."

50,000 Homes

TORONTO, Dec. 8—(CP). —A proposal that the construction industry build 50,000 houses a year after the war as part of private enterprise's contribution to post-war reconstruction is a suggestion of the National House Builders' Association in planning for peace, it was revealed last night in a pamphlet distributed at a dinner meeting of the association's Toronto chapter.

Pete McArthur's Fairmiles who have not lost a game in the Y.W.C.A. House League this season and Steve Csumrik's Frigates who have yet to win one are billed to clash in a Dominion Life Trophy series game at the Y.M.C.A. gym tonight at 7.15 o'clock. It should be an interesting tussle at that. Although the Frigates haven't had much luck so far this season they have made their games close and they would just as soon start their winning record with a victory over the Fairmiles as over any other organization. On the other hand the McArthur bunch want a win to stay on top of the heap and keep pace with the Algerines, the other unbeaten team in the league. The two Military Training Centre teams are billed to meet in a Friday night affair and if they stage that game the Soldiers will have to dig up some new talent. So far a few of the players have been juggled back and forth between the two outfits but now that the two camp teams are drawn against each other the situation is something else again.

Belleville electors had an opportunity at the municipal elections Monday to vote for two candidates for the council who are well known to Peterborough Central Ontario League baseball fans in the person of Harold Woodley, former league umpire, and Claude Tice who used to score for the Belleville club in its palmy days. Both were aspirants for the Belleville city council and Woodley who was an alderman last year was re-elected but Tice failed to make the grade. He ran on the strength of having reported the doings of the council for fifteen years but why a newspaper man who had watched the aldermen perform for that length of time ever wanted to be one will be a mystery to most members of the profession. However Belleville sportsmen lost a golden opportunity. If they had both Messrs. Woodley and Tice operating at once in the city council there would be nothing in the way of concessions to sport that would be denied. The rest of the boys would just naturally have to give the pair everything they wanted in self defence. They could run a two-man filibuster that would set a new record in that respect.

Plenty of Hockey

There is evidently going to be plenty of junior hockey in the Belleville district judging by the following from Ken Colling's Belleville sport column: "From Marmora comes word that a junior O.H.A. club will be sponsored in that village and the good people of Marmora and Deloro are seeking affiliation into the local O.H.A. group along with Stirling, Trenton and Belleville. No doubt they'll be admitted with open arms, but as the provincial puck body demands a covered rink for all O.H.A. games the Marmora team will doubtless have to use the nearby Madoc rink for their home ice, which also is quite in order. Then FL. Buff Horton long since has entered a junior hockey team from the No. 8 Manning Pool base recently opened at the Trenton R.C.A.F. main station, so as the picture now stands there are clubs already entered from Marmora, Stirling, Trenton and the Air Force without mentioning Belleville. Here's where the rub comes in—could three clubs procure playing dates at the Hume Arena in a seven-teamed group? Home and home games for a seven-club loop means a schedule of 42 games without mentioning anything pertaining to group playoffs. At this rate of statistics it would mean 18 home dates for three Belleville teams, which means a powerful lot of junior hockey for Belleville. In the event FL. Horton's junior Flyers chose the Hume Arena as their home ice, then it would boost this figure to 24 games here."

Peterborough cricketers who thought at the beginning of last season that they would be up against a shortage of cricket balls but were saved by the fact that a reserve supply turned up unexpectedly will be interested in learning that the situation is so serious in the Ottawa Valley that they have decided to carry on next summer by using baseballs in place of the regulation cricket ball. An Ottawa exchange has the following on the unusual decision: "The cricketers are feeling the pinch these days. You can take this for granted after hearing what transpired at the annual meeting of the Ottawa Valley Cricket Council. The council went on record as authorizing the use of baseballs in place of cricket balls if necessary. If some member of the O.V.C.C. had come up with a suggestion of this kind a couple of years ago, he would automatically have become Unpopular Member No. 1. That is, only long enough for the council to give him the old heave-o. These aren't normal times, however, and the cricketers used old baseballs in practice this past summer. Cricketers claim the different horsehide cover on baseballs is not as hard as the covers on cricket balls but admit that, in a pinch, baseballs will serve the purpose."

McCready Bows To Texan; Hogan Defeated

Big Karl Davis used his deadly step-over toehold twice to win an unpopular decision over Earl Moose McCready in the feature bout of last night's Tunney wrestling show at the Brock Street Arena, with the crowd giving Referee Herb. Maxwell the assist on the deciding fall.

So incensed were the fans at the failure of the official to make the Texan break the hold that gave him the win that a section of the crowd practically chased Maxwell to the dressing-room.

The end came suddenly. McCready had the Texas Terror in trouble on the ropes and the referee ordered him to break. The Moose did so and found himself in chancery from a toehold as Davis took advantage of the opportunity. While the crowd howled for Maxwell to break the hold the Texan pinned McCready's shoulders to the mat and the popular favorite was counted out. The official's failure to make the big fellow from the Lone Star State break clean was responsible for McCready's defeat and the fans didn't like it a little bit.

It was the more disappointing because McCready had outwrestled and outfought the Texan all the way through. Contrary to expectations Davis, probably realizing that he could not hope to get away with the same kind of rough stuff that he had handed out to Pierre DeGlane a week ago, stuck pretty closely to wrestling. As a result the two giants of the mat game had a merry duel in which a lot of clever holds and releases were demonstrated. Davis tried to resort to his favorite strategy of working on his opponent's legs but for a long time it looked as if he were not going to have much success. The Moose was too smart for him, kicking out of danger or turning the tables on

Nine Navy Men Among All-Stars

NEW YORK, Dec. 8 — (AP).—The Navy took over United States college football this year. The Army didn't encourage football among its men taking the special courses in many schools or there might have been a struggle.

The annual Associated Press All-America team announced today includes nine Navy students, one West Point (army) star and a running back who was discharged from the army just before the season opened.

This is the team:

Ends: Joe Parker, Texas and Ralph A. Heywood, Southern California; tackles, Jim White, Notre Dame, and Pat Preston, Duke; guards, John Steber, Georgia Tech, and George Brown, Junior., Navy; centre, Casimir Myslinski, Army; backs, Bob Odell, Pennsylvania; Creighton Miller, Notre Dame; Otto Graham, Northwestern; Bill Daley, Michigan.

Myslinski and Miller, a Notre Dame senior, are the only two not in training for the United States navy.

If there was any surprise in the selection it was the absence of Angelo Bertelli, Notre Dame's great passing quarterback. Bertelli was unable to finish out the season, having been called into the Navy.

Notre Dame, voted the top college team in the country, placed two All-Americans — White and Miller— and would have had Bertelli on top for certain had he finished the season.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

Florida will not see major league baseball squads next Feburary for the second year in succession but sufficient players have migrated to the Orange State to spend the winter that it would not require many more to re-establish the pre-season training camps.

Johnny Nee, veteran scout of the New York Yankees, cannot keep away, seemingly, from the peacetime camp of the Yanks at St. Petersburg. Among other arrivals are pitcher Paul Derring of Cincinnati Reds and Paul Waner and Johnny Cooney of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Truett (Rip) Sewell, who displayed the "blooper" ball with Pittsburgh Pirates last season, and outfielder Gerald Walker of the same club are wintering among the Everglades.

The Florida baseball colony also boasts owner Donie Bush of the Indianapolis club, umpire Bill Klem of the National League and umpire Butch Henline of the Internation loop. Dazzy Vance, former Brooklyn hurler, and Joe Stripp have also been noticed.

Flies Mosquito

Norwegian-born Flt. Sgt. Ole Bakkelund, who won the Dominion Ski championship at Fort William in 1939, now is with a Canadian Mosquito squadron overseas, it was reported from London last night. He has joined the ski club of Great Britain and hopes to compete in Scotland this winter. Prior to enlistment he was employed at Timiskaming, Que.

Pitcher Morton Cooper of the St. Louis Cardinals, who had been reclassified 1A in the draft, yesterday was ordered to report at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., Monday for medical examination. His brother, catcher Walker Cooper of the Cards, was accepted for army service November 17 but is awaiting induction.

Howard Moss, outfielder of the New York Giants who played for Jersey City during last season yesterday was traded to the Baltimore Orioles of the International League for catcher Joe Becker, no cash being involved.

New York state derived revenue of $19,306,140 from horse racing during the past season, an increase of 84 per cent over the 1942 total, it was announced at Albany yesterday. The six per cent tax on pari-mutuel betting brought $18,511,987 during the 222 racing days compared with $9,808,819 for 356 days of racing in the previous year.

Mahaffy Discharged

MONTREAL (CP)—Hockey-player John Mahaffy, property of the Canadiens in the N.H.L. and formerly with the Montreal Royals, has been discharged from the army, it was announced last night. There is a possibility he may be turned over to a war-weakened pro club.

Hamill Leading Senior Scorers

TORONTO, Dec. 8 (CP).—Robert (Red) Hamill, playing coach of Kingston Frontenac Army, has regained the scoring leadership of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior "A" circuit, it was announced today. Hamill has 10 goals and 10 assists for 20 points, four more than Johnny Conick, last week's leader, and Doug Runions, both of Hamilton Majors, who are tied for second place with 16.

A three-way deadlock exists for fifth place, with Blink Bellinger of St. Catharines, Giesebrecht and Gar Peters of Kingston Army all even at 12 points each. Joe Klukay of Toronto Navy and Red Doran of Kingston divide eighth place with 11 counters and Norm Tustin of Toront R.C.A.F. has 10.

Leading Scorers are:

By CHARLES EDWARDS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, Dec. 8 —(CP)—Red Dutton can't get over the wonder of it. Six weeks ago the National Hockey League was just a headache to its managing director. Club managers were combing the country for military-exempt players and still couldn't find sufficient talent to operate. Life for Dutton was a jumble of jangling telephones, wailing managers, selective service forms, border-crossing permits, a critical press. The fact Red survived is proof of his executive talent and his physical resiliency. All of a sudden the jigsaw fell together and what a pretty picture it now makes. N.H.L. gate receipts are up 11 per cent and attendance is up seven per cent over last year, the record season.

No wonder Dutton believes in Santa Claus. A couple of days ago in his comfortable Montreal office Red leaned back in a chair and fairly barked with optimism. He figures the record attendance all around the circuit is proof war-time operation is justified. Now he's look toward the war's end and a mighty expansion of hockey. Plane travel will eliminate distance and cities all over the continent will have major hockey. Transoceanic plane travel for hockey is also likely. Clubs will have their own transport planes.

Professional hockey will reach previously untouched fields in United States. Already there is an application for a franchise from Los Angeles. Other central and far-western United States cities are interested. But Red doesn't think the United States will take major hockey entirely away from Canada. Montreal and Toronto will remain important centres and air travel may make it possible for other Canadian cities to enter.

Dutton envisions clubs playing every night in the N.H.L. with as many games in the season as in the major baseball leagues. Clubs would carry two complete teams, one playing one night, the other the next.

Dutton didn't like some of this column's comments on professional hockey and said so. Dutton is pretty frank and undoubtedly honest in all his conversations. It's a relief to a newspaperman to find a sports executive who talks from the shoulder without figuring the angles first.

As we finished our talk, Red's third and youngest son came in—an 18-year-old in navy uniform, heading east in hopes he'll soon see active duty. Dutton was mighty proud of the boy but there was pain in his eyes as the youngster said good-bye and hurried to a train. Red's other two sons, Flt. Sgt. Joe, 23, and Sgt. Alex, 20, both are missing in action with the R.C.A.F. overseas.

Bud O'Connor On Top Again

MONTREAL, Dec. 8.— (CP). — Canadiens' Buddy O'Connor is back alone at the top of the National League scoring race, thanks to another of those spurts that have twice brought him to the top in the official weekly figures.

O'Connor added two goals and seven assists during the last week to shoot to the head of the pack after going pointless and dropping to seventh place the week before. His 26-point total put him one up on Doug Bentley and Bill Mosienko of Chicago and Bill Cowley of Boston.

Mosienko and Bentley each picked up five points during the week to remain tied for second place, with Cowley dropping back to join them after leading the race a week ago.

Cowley Up 3.

Cowley gained three assists to maintain leadership in that department despite the big climb of O'Connor. The Boston play-maker shot his assist total to 20, one more than O'Connor and four more than Elmer Lach of Canadiens.

Mud Bruneteau of Detroit still led the goal-getters although he went pointless in the week's official figures, which do not include last night's Detroit-Boston game.

His 15 goals gave him a single goal margin over Boston's Herbie Cain, who in turn was two up on Gerry Heffernan of Canadiens.

Heffernan was the week's greatest gainer in the goal division, boosting his total by five—four of them in one game when Canadiens whipped Detroit 8-2. Greatest threats to the goal leaders were Bentley with 11, Mosienko and rookie Fern Majeau of Canadiens with 10 each.

Mike McMahon of Canadiens and Pat Egan of Detroit, split the penalty "honors," each with 32 minutes.

Bruins-Wings In 6-all Tie

By The Canadian Press

Two "streaks" which will be claimed as records if they last long enough remained intact today in the wake of a 6-6 stalemate between Detroit Red Wings and Boston Bruins.

The deadlock, achieved last night before 7,500 fans in Boston Garden, left Bruins undefeated in six games on home ice this season while also protecting Detroit's undefeated string against Boston. Red Wings had defeated Boston in five previous clashes, once this year and four straight in the 1942 and 1943 Stanley Cup finals.

Six consecutive goals sent Detroit into a 6-2 lead after they spotted Boston the first two counters, but Bruins came bouncing back to tie the score with four quick tallies starting at 7:06 of the third period.

Cowley at Top

The uprising was set off by the rookie Russ Kopak, recalled from Boston Olympics of the Eastern States League, and concluded at 17:27 by playmaking Bill Cowley, who scored one other goal for the Boston Bruins but failed to get an assist. The two points he picked up boosted him into first place in the individual scoring race, one point ahead of Buddy O'Connor.

Other Boston goals went to Don Gallinger, Herb Cain and Johnny Crawford. Carl Liscombe connected twice for Detroit and the other Red Wings to beat Bert Gardiner in the Boston net were Adam Brown, Pat Egan, Carl (Winky) Smith and Syd Howe.

The result failed to affect the National Hockey league standings. Boston remained in fourth place, one point behind Toronto Maple Leafs and Chicago Black Hawks, who are tied for second, and one point ahead of fifth-place Detroit.

Boston—Goal, Gardiner; defense, Clapper and Crawford; centre, Cowley; wings, Boll and Cain; subs, Gallinger, Guidolin, Calladine, Hollett, A. Jackson, H. Jackson, Kopak.

Young Woman Is Guilty False Pretenses

Mrs. Helen Girard, 22, was found guilty Monday evening of false pretences in an insurance claim on household goods destroyed in a fire at Norwood January 29 last, by a trial jury in the General Sessions of the Peace Monday evening, and was remanded in custody by Judge Smoke for sentence at the conclusion of the Court.

Hearing the evidence was completed around four o'clock, and was followed by addresses to the jury by G. N. Gordon, K.C., representing the accused, by V. J. McElderry, K.C., Crown Attorney, and by Judge Smoke's charge and outline of the law applying to this first of six criminal actions which will probably extend through the entire week.

Mrs. Girard was charged with having included in a list of her household effects, a radio, six lace curtains and sets of silver and chinaware which she drew up in a claim upon the insurance company, and which were found by investigators six months later in a rooming house on Aylmer street in this city.

Her explanation and defense was first that she had placed these articles in an automobile several days prior to the fire with the intention of going to Barrie to set up light housekeeping for a while, but the "car froze up" the next day, and second, that a Norwood insurance agent, Mr. Pakenham, so she alleged, had told her that by transferring her residence in Norwood from one house to another without notifying the company had invalidated her insurance policy. On that understanding, according to her story, she did not think it mattered whether she listed the articles shown in Court as exhibits.

Mr. Packenham was ill at his home in Norwood yesterday and could not attend the trial, as stated in a letter from his physician. Mr. McElderry stressed the Crown evidence indicating that a week after the fire, which reduced the tenanted house to ashes, the insurance company had written its Peterborough adjuster that it was prepared to pay Mrs. Girard's claim if it was generally regular. In two claims on the company, he pointed out, she had listed as lost in the fire the articles displayed in Court.

Found By Investigator

Mrs. B. F. McCarthy, the first witness for the prosecution at the afternoon sitting Tuesday, testified that the accused and Floyd Emery, representing themselves as Mr. and Mrs. Emery, rented a room in her Aylmer street house June 6. In July, an investigator called at the house during the absence of the room tenants, unlocked the door with a key he produced, and took away the goods exhibited in Court.

Mrs. Myrtle Adams, Norwood, said she knew the accused for more than a year. They were next door neighbors. On the day before the fire witness called at Mrs. Girard's home and saw her packing articles in a large box. She said they were some of Mr. Emery's belongings which he was going to take away. Witness remembered that the china set was not in the cabinet where she had previously seen it.

"On the night of the fire she came into my place and suggested a game of cards. She had a pack in her pocket. She and I played. Her face was black, mostly on one cheek and forehead. It was like a smudge. I smelled smoke after a while and got up and looked at my stove. I went to the door and saw smoke between the two buildings. She said it must be my house."

Witness said the Girard house was burned down. For damages to her own rugs and other smoke effects Mrs. Adams received $89.60 insurance from the Economical Insurance Company.

Mr. Gordon—"The same as Miss Girard's?"

"Yes."

"Did you discuss her claim?"—"No. I told her what I got."

Searched The Debris

R. E. Nelson, Toronto, special agent for the Fire Underwriters' Investigation Bureau, said he engaged several men at Norwood and spent several days sifting the ashes of the house. He found a few knives and spoons, two cups but no saucers, and no part of the body of a radio.

Mr. Nelson said he made searches on warrants at Norwood and Barrie, and finally at Peterborough on July 21.

"We found a radio wrapped in a gunny sack, china dishes in boxes with the tops nailed on, and silverware in a club bag."

Mr. Nelson said Mrs. Girard made a statement at the police station to him and Inspector J. A. Grant of Toronto.

"Is Grant a police officer?" asked Mr. Gordon.

"He was acting as an inspector of the Fire Marshal's Department."

The statement was made in the detectives' room, in the presence of Grant and Nelson. N. Rishor was present while identifying the silver and chinaware.

"And she was alone and hadn't the advice of a lawyer?"—"That's right."

"Did you know she was an illiterate woman; that she did not get by the second book?"—"I didn't know that."

Nelson read the statement signed by Mrs. Girard on July 21 in which she acknowledged the radio and other goods were taken away from the Norwood house by herself and Emery on the day before the fire.

"At that time you knew the company was aware they were not legally liable for payment of insurance?"

"I pointed it out in my report."

Mr. Gordon—"Because she had moved from one house to another without notifying the company?"

Mr. Nelson—"The company was prepared to pay her claim if the matter was in order."

John A. Grant, Toronto, inspector for the Fire Marshal's Department, said he wrote out Mrs. Girard's statement. It was signed by her.

Accused On Stand

Mrs. Girard testified she was 22 years old, and mother of one child. Her husband has been overseas since April, 1940. She lived in Peterborough, working at the C.G.E., before going to Norwood. Floyd Emery was there part of the time.

She said the radio, silver and chinaware were packed in a car, to go to Barrie, but the car froze up the next day. She went to her sister's home at Barrie and later to Toronto, and Emery went to Alaska.

"When he came back in April we moved to Peterborough."

Mrs. Girard said all her household goods except the articles in court were lost in the fire. Two days after the fire, Mr. Packenham, Norwood insurance agent, told her, she continued, she could not collect on her insurance policy, because it was invalidated by her moving from one house to another without telling the company.

Mrs. Girard said she had made out a list of all the goods lost in the fire, and Mr. Elmsley suggested an allowance of fifty per cent.

The radio, silver and chinaware were not in the fire. They had been put in the car to go to Barrie.

Mr Gordon—"Did you strike them off the list of all your goods?"—"No."

"Why?"—"Because Mr. Packenham told me several days after the fire my policy was no good, and I didn't see any reason for removing them from the list if the policy was no good. Anything they gave me, if that was so, would be all right, because they didn't have to."

"What was the value of all your goods?"—"I can't guess. They were worth a lot to me."

"I thought you could tell us whether they were worth $200 or $300."—"They'd be worth that."

To Mr. McElderry Mrs. Girard admitted she had been living with Emery, and her child was with the parents of her soldier husband.

"And your separation allowance was cut off because of your conduct?"—"No, I sent it back."

"Is it true you were put out of a Barrie house because of your bad behavior?"—"No, it was not."

Mrs. Girard declared that the list of goods she had written out for the insurance adjuster was what she had owned. "I put them down as from the rooms where they had been."

'And knowing that these goods in court were not there at the time of the fire?"—"I put down what he asked for."

Accused said her statement of proof of loss amounted to $700.

"I knew I couldn't get it all, so I put in the full amount."

"And you wrote in some of these articles here?"—"Yes."

Mr. McElderry in his address to the jury said that in February the insurance company wrote their Peterborough agent that they did not care to take advantage of a technicality about Mrs. Girard's change of residence in Norwood. He also suggested doubt of her statement alleging that Mr. Packenham had said her insurance policy had become invalid, and that the insurance adjuster had told her to make a list of all the goods she had owned. The reasonable assumption was that she was told to make a list of the goods destroyed in the fire.

through the Merich Valley into Bulgaria.

Opening the Aegean and the use of the Dardanelles-Marmora-Bosphorus area, would clear the most favorable invasion route into the Balkans, the Merich Valley, which leads past Adrianople into the heart of Bulgaria, almost to Sofia. A simultaneous large-scale attack on Salonika probably would have a good chance of success, permitting a second drive up the Vardar Valley toward Yugoslavia.

The vital strategic value of these valleys is as well known to Nazi as to Allied commanders, and they are strongly defended.

The strength of Allied forces available to launch a Balkan invasion, assuming Turkish co-operation, is a secret known only to the High Command.

Any Estate Plan today must take account of Taxation

DIVIDE . . .

The income tax on a single income of $10,000 a year is considerably greater than the combined tax on three separate incomes of $5,000, $3,000 and $2,000. By a division of your estate income through your Will you can in fact increase the net return to your family and this may be a point worth taking into consideration. It is one of the many technical points in which estate planning abounds. We invite you to consult our Officers; you will incur no obligation.

Bonus On Bacon Discussed By Provinces

OTTAWA, Dec. 8—(CP).—Provincial representatives were understood to be considering Agriculture Minister Gardiner's suggestion that a bonus to maintain bacon production be shared by the provinces and Federal government as they awaited announcement of 1944 crop objectives, expected to be made today before the Dominion-Provincial agricultural conference.

At yesterday's sessions, some delegates estimated that Britain will need 600,000,000 pounds of bacon instead of 450,000,000 in 1944 if she is to hold her bacon ration at four ounces a week, and Mr. Gardiner's suggestion of a bonus came as the question of boosting bacon production to meet British requirements was under discussion.

Canada has contracted to deliver 450,000,000 pounds of bacon annually to Britain during each of the next two years, and in a review of farm output objectives for 1944 consideration was given the matter of meeting British requirements to an extent greater than the contract figure.

Col. J. J. Llewellyn, British Food Minister, said the Canadian farmer need not fear that through extensive hog production his post-war market would slip away from him, and added that if no more than 450,000,000 pounds of bacon are shipped next year the British bacon ration may have to be cut from four to three ounces a week.

Col. Llewellyn's statement, delegates said, might be factor in consideration by the provinces of the suggestion they share a bonus to encourage hog production next year.

Protect Farmers

Agriculture Minister Gardiner has said previously that while farmers are assured of a market for the hogs they produce, the Dominion government does not feel justified in asking them to increase output with the prospect that Britain may turn elsewhere for her supplies after the war.

Prairie delegates said that if production is to be maintained on the 1943 level, higher prices should be announced soon so breeding programs can be arranged.

The beef cattle objective is expected to be set higher than the 1,197,315 head recommended last year. It is believed this objective can be attained, placing major shipments to the United Kingdom and other Allied nations in prospect for 1944.

The conference is expected to recommend increases in oats and barley acreages to maintain the large livestock population in Canada, and greater production of oil-bearing crops such as flaxseed, soybeans, sunflower seed and rape seed.

existence of "closest unity."

Among the significant events of the conference were two last-minute meetings of Inonu and Turkish Foreign Secretary Numan Menemencioglu with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and the British Ambasador to Ankara, Hughe Knatchbull-Hugesson.

These sessions apparently drew Inonu in on the same subjects discussed by Eden and Menemencioglu in Cairo when the Foreign Secretary was returning from the October Tripartite conference in Moscow. There was wide speculation at that time that possible cession of Turkish bases to Britain on roughly the same basis as use of the Azores was acquired from Portugal had been under discussion.

Hog Producers Must Get Price Increase

TORONTO, Dec. 8 — (CP). — Ontario hog producers will have to get 2½ cents a pound more for bacon, either by higher prices or through a subsidy, Charles W. McInnis of Iroquois, Ont., president of the Ontario Hog Producers' Association, said on Tuesday.

He was addressing a gathering of hog producers convened here to discuss measures to protect their industry and maintain a steady supply of bacon to England.

"Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Federal Minister of Agriculture, had agreed to some price asked once, but had not been strong enough in the Government to make his promise stick," said Mr. McInnis.

He suggested that "some sinister influence must be at work when the domestic trade is tossed into the laps of the packers, who by agreement among themselves are allowed to make discounts on certain hogs without regard for the producers." Extra cost placed on packers as a result of hog slaughtering regulations was being partly borne by hog producers.

Mr. McInnis said hog prices in Toronto were lower by 15 cents a hundredweight than those in Montreal.

H. McKinney, president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, said the 120,000 hog producers in Ontario would be assisted by the Federation in securing price floors and better methods for financial credit.

Berlin Casualties

BERNE, Dec. 8 — (AP).—The Gazette de Lausanne, in a dispatch from Basel on the German border, asserted today that recent Allied bombings of Berlin had resulted in the deaths of 250,000 persons. The number of injured cannot be estimated, it was said.

Louis L. Lang Gets Top Award

OTTAWA, Dec. 8 (CP).— Louis L. Lang, president of an Ontario insurance company (Mutual Life) to-day was awarded the silver wolf, highest service decoration in the gift of the Boy Scouts Association, for "exceptional services" to the movement over many years.

The presentation was made by the Governor-General, Chief Scout for Canada, at the semi-annual meeting of the Association at the Dominion Headquarters here.

Mr. Lang first became active in the Boy Scout movement in 1922. In 1933 he was named District Commissioner for South Waterloo, Ont., and in 1934 District Commissioner for North Waterloo as well. He has continued since then as Commissioner for the two districts.

In 1934 he was named to the Canadian General Council of the Association and was elected to the executive committee in 1937. He is also a member of the Ontario Provincial Council.

Suggests Tests For Couples Before Marriage

OTTAWA, Dec. 8 (CP)— Compulsory blood tests for couples planning marriage, for pregnant women and for men and women entering employment were advanced to-day at an international conference here as means of wiping out venereal diseases in Canada.

The compulsory tests were urged by Dr. E. Lalande of Quebec and by Dr. Gordon Bates, General Director of the Health League of Canada, in addresses to delegates who opened a four-day meeting yesterday.

Dr. Lalande salad the tests, coupled with a move to educate the public and the medical profession on venereal diseases and with attempts to rehabilitate prostitutes, would do a great deal to prevent the spread of the diseases.

Most of the speakers urged that more wholesome recreation be provided for men and women of the forces on week-end leave.

Lieut. H. G. Baker, control officer for the Royal Canadian Navy, said that if the millions the Canadian public pays out annually for care of venereal disease cases in and out of the armed forces were spent on building new recreational centres, the spread of venereal diseases would drop considerably.

Boards Oppose

The Ontario group also went on record that, while recognizing the need for proper housing of Canadians in healthful surroundings, they opposed the granting of Federal Government subsidies by means of exemption from municipal taxation and believed that such a course would be ruinous to municipal taxpayers already overloaded with taxes which the realtors felt, were not properly applied.

Regarding representations of present Federal Government agencies suggesting a plan to construct large numbers of houses, mostly for low income groups, to be subsidized by taxation concessions, the association went on record as being anxious to co-operate to the greatest extent with the undertakings involved in postwar reconstruction but demanding full representation on any committees studying the matter.

It was resolved that the Ontario Association recommend to the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards appointment of a committee to formulate a brief on postwar housing to be ready for submission at the March, 1944, convention or sooner.

Are They Wolves?

OMEMEE, Dec. 8— (ENS). — Farmers in the vicinity of Omemee are much worried about the ravages of wolves among their sheep. One farmer reported having lost 13. Hunters have been searching for the wolves but so far none have been bagged.

Hog Producers Await Answer

TORONTO, Dec. 8—(CP)—The Ontario Hog Producers Association is waiting today for an answer from the Federal Government to several resolutions passed here yesterday at an Association meeting, including one asking that the price set under the British bacon contract be raised to $20 a hundredweight. The price now is aout $17.15 in Toronto.

Among other resolutions passed was one asking a statement on the amount of feed grains available within the next eight months, and another that the economics division of the Department of Agriculture investigate hog-producing costs. The member said official figures now are at variance with actual costs.

The Ontario Agricultural Iniquiry Committee was asked to investigate the differences between the price negotiated on the bacon contract between Canada and Britain; the amount paid to processors; the amount deducted for use by the Meat Board; the amount paid (if any) for marketing and what amount is allocated to pay producers.

County Council Gives $500 To War Victims

Pressing onwards towards its special goal to give cheer to the people of Britain who have suffered through air raids over that country, the Peterborough and District British War Victims Fund is able for the second day in a row to be able to report a donation of $500, which this time comes from the Peterborough County Council through the Clerk-treasurer, Mrs. J. A. Spurway.

This grant was voted some time ago, and in keeping with their usual custom, payment was reserved until the various Townships sent in their financial returns, and undoubtedly it now comes at the most propitious time, when the fund is engaged on raising its big objective to help for the blessed season of Christmas.

Having appeared twice before the County Council when in session, the secretary of the fund appreciates very much the response made by Warden P. J. Mather, and all the members of the council of whom Messrs. Johnston and Archibald have been particularly kind in the interest they have taken in the fund operations all along the line.

This response on their part gives all the people of the County a little representation in the special gifts for Christmas which undoubtedly will receive the approval of all their constituents, so to them all the fund management would express its sincere thanks.

Horticultural Society

For the third time this year, the Peterborough Horticultural Society has made a donation to the fund, this being the largest and perhaps as representative of the whole society of any received to this date.

The contribution was made possible when the Society gave the members an option between receiving a premium of seeds, plants or other horticultural necessities, or their value to be given to the fund, and this contribution of $20.25 comes entirely from that source, so it can be seen that a considerable number took advantage of this opportunity to help the fund, for out of a membership fee of only $1.00, it can readily be understood that the premium value could not be very large.

Bridgenorth United W. A.

The district surrounding the city looms larger in today's list by reason of four other contributions recorded, two of which go to the credit of the Bridgenorth United Church W. A. through their treasurer Mrs. M. Telford, both of which were for $5.00, one of them being specially designated for the Children's Christmas Cheer Fund. This group gave assistance in a similar manner to the gifts sent a year ago for the same purpose, and it is recalled that their Primary Sunday School Class has been a continuous contributor to the fund.

Then Mrs. H. McMahon of Crawfords Grove has gathered together another donation through the saving of the odd change from Mr. McMahon's pay cheque, this time amounting to $6.00, which will also go on its way to spread a ray of sunshine into the lives of those who have suffered in the front line in Britain.

The boys and girls at Confederation school, just outside the city limits have been splendid workers for the fund on many occasions, their efforts showing how conscious they are of the need as demonstrated in their willingness to sacrifice their own pleasures that others less fortunate may benefit. The tiny tots of Grade 1 through their teacher, Miss Vera Squire, have given another $2.00, and there was one instance where a little boy given 10 cents to buy a chocolate bar by his grandmother, brought it instead that the boys and girls in Britain might have one in his stead.

False Report

KITCHENER, Ont., Dec. 8 (CP) —Called to investigate a case at nearby St. Jacobs in which a young girl was said to have been "set upon" and attacked viciously by a dog running in a pack, police found the animal was of the lap dog variety and the girl had not been touched.

Thirst Priority

WINNIPEG, Dec. 8—(CP). —The staff of a downtown restaurant took a holiday today. A sign, in big block letters, explained why. It read:

Closed from 9 to 9
So we all can make
The liquor store line.

Previously, the restaurant's chief advertisement was "We never close."

15-Year-Old Boy Charged With Car Thefts

A fifteen-year-old Campbellford boy appeared before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in juvenile court this morning on a charge of having stolen an automobile belonging to Mrs. Melville Morrow from in front of the Canadian Legion here last Friday night, and another count of having been involved in the theft of a car stolen in Havelock the other day.

Two older boys also suspected of having been mixed up in the two car thefts are being held at Cobourg where they will face other charges.

The juvenile, who was brought back from Campbellford Tuesday by Detective Sergt. W. E. Meagher and Officer Archie Menzies, was remanded for a week.

Mrs. Morrow's car was stolen from Murray street Friday night and was recovered Saturday by Lindsay police after it had been abandoned in that town.

Five Tires Removed From Stolen Car

Peterborough police have the third case within the last few days of an automobile having been stolen and stripped of some of its accessories.

A car belonging to Major James McGrath was taken from near the Armouries, and when found later in North Monaghan it was discovered that the four wheels had been stolen. Another machine taken from Albert street was minus a new battery when located in the same area as the McGrath automobile.

James Hurlburt, 29 Carlyle avenue, Ottawa, a guest at the Empress Hotel, left his car parked on the market square last night and early this morning it was found to have been stolen.

Shortly before 9 o'clock this morning two wood-cutters working in Burnham's woods came across the stolen machine where it had been abandoned. Detective Sergt. W. E. Meagher and Constable C. J. McGillen investigated and found that five tires were missing from the car.

Crop Improvement Officers Returned

Reports of the success of plans made a year ago to improve pasturage were given at the annual meeting of the County Crop Improvement Association held in the Department of Agriculture Tuesday night, when the old officers were re-elected.

The slate presented for 1944 shows Alexander Huston as president, Gordon Hancock as vice-president, and F. C. Paterson as secretary-treasurer.

A number of the members tried out pasture improvement projects during the year along with varieties of hybrid corn, which most farmers are using now. The difficulty has been to locate the best type from the many varieties which are flooding the market. Some of the members had experimented with corn for husking and had some good results to show what had been done in the county, in spite of a bad start due to the late spring.

The association also discussed growing corn for grain. Formerly the farmers in south-western Ontario grew nearly all the corn for grain, but now some new types have been developed that will ripen within 85 days, much earlier than the older brands, and it would be feasible to attempt it in this district, it was decided.

A strong representation will be present at the meeting of the Ontario Crop Improvements Association when it meets in Toronto on February 7, 8 and 9. This meeting is always widely attended because of the important contribution it makes to farming activities.

Mrs. Lorne Reynolds Hostess to Farm Forum

Farm forum of Central Smith met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Reynolds. The attendance was smaller than usual due to illness. Discussion was brisk on the health project. It was decided that not enough preventative measures are taken to insure health. Everyone should have regular examinations by his or her doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Telford will be host and hostess for the next meeting.

To Pay Debts

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont., Dec. 8 —(CP).—James J. Leary of Denver, Colo., secretary-treasurer of the United Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (C.I.O.) International Union, announced last night that the union will present its Kirkland Lake local with a $19,000 cheque shortly to discharge debts incurred in the 12-week Kirkland Lake strike of 1941-42.

Grand Jury Is Commended For Its Work

In dismissing the Grand Jury Tuesday morning, Judge Smoke told them he was amazed that they had been able to conclude their work "in the time in which it was done."

The eight cases referred to the Grand Jury required many witnesses to be called, but the jury was able to make a report on each of them, finding true bills in six of the eight.

"I am pleased with the way you have carried out your duties," His Honor said.

His Honor was speaking of the performance of the Grand Jury in accepting eight bills Monday afternoon and returning to him their decisions on all of them for the opening of the court Tuesday morning.

"I know many witnesses were subpoenaed, and that means a lot of work. I am satisfied you have given the court your best consideration, and also, from what I know, your decisions have been reasonable and proper. With a great deal of satisfaction, I commend you for the work you have done. I am also pleased to note that you have seen fit to accept my suggestion that no elaborate inspection of the public institutions of the city and county was necessary. You have visited the jail and found everything in satisfactory condition. I am sure that the public will be glad to know that a body of citizens like you are satisfied the jail is in good condition. I thank you for the time you have given to your duties, especially in these days when time is so valuable, and again for the part you have taken in the administration of justice in the county of Peterborough."

The Grand Jury's report was presented by F. R. J. MacPherson, foreman.

Six New Members Join Foresters

Court Peterborough No. 29, Canadian Order of Foresters, held an initiation with six members being admitted at last meeting. The Court was honored with the presence of District Deputy High Chief Ranger from Oshawa, Bro. H. B. McCabe, and also Bro. P. Perrin, Superintendent of Organization from Brantford. Sixty members were in attendance, including visitors from Oshawa, Whitby, Bowmanville, and Lakefield.

The degree work was done by a visiting team from Whitby under the leadership of Bro. Cal Braun from Oshawa. The degree team entered and all members joined in singing "Abide With Me." The six members were then initiated.

Bro. Cal Braun addressed the Court, and also Bro. P. Perrin and Bro. H. B. McCabe.

Bro. Hemsley sang a few solos, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Guy Peel, after which all sat down to a dinner prepared by Messrs. Hamilton, Kelly, Peel, Weames, Nichols, and King.

Japs Maroon Crew Helpless In Lifeboat

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8 (AP).—Cadet Midshipman Maurice W. Price said two 300-foot Japanese submarine sank the cargo vessel on which he was a crewman, then:

"They stood by until our ship went down. Then they took from our lifeboats all our charts, signal lights, rations, sails and masts and broke our oars. Afterward they submerged and disappeared."

Price said 11 of the crew of 41 of the S.S. Henry Knox, sunk last June in the Persian Gulf, still are missing. Two others died in lifeboats.

Corrected Vote

COBOURG, Dec. 8 — (ENS).—An error was discovered yesterday morning in connection with the vote in the municipal elections. When corrected it was found that in one polling sub-division, thirty more votes were coming to Cecil Wilson who defeated Harry McGuire for public utilities commisser. The corrected total is Wilson 764, McGuire 248, or a majority for Cecil Wilson of 516.

Blame The War

TORONTO, Dec. 8. — (CP).—Judge H. S. Mott, addressing an open forum on delinquency held by the Provincial Council of Women, said social disturbances such as juvenile delinquency are inevitable under present conditions, but described as "promising" the interest being aroused in the problem.

STILL SEEK COMMANDER JOHNSON—Commander F. M. Johnson, missing Halifax naval officer, and his nine-year-old daughter, Nadia, whose body was found in Halifax harbor. Before the tragedy they were great friends. The search for the missing naval officer has been spurred on by a report from a Halifax grocer that he saw a man of Johnson's description in his store, five days after the disappearance of the two.

Commander E. R. Willis of the U.S. Navy, close friend of Commander Johnson who received several pages from Commander Johnson's notebook mailed to him in New York. Among other things the notes said, "Now I let go, taking in instantaneous departure, the small one with me." Both commanders married Russian women.

MRS. EARL G. WELLWOOD

Mrs. Earl G. Wellwood, 637 Aylmer street, who has been ailing since September, passed away at her residence Tuesday evening in her 53rd year. Prior to her marriage she was employed in the city clerk's office for 10 years.

Born in Peterborough, Hazel Irene Wellwood was the daughter of the late Dr. J. B. Pentland and Sarah Clegg. She was educated here and took an active part in George Street Church work. Mrs. Wellwood played in the Sunday school orchestra and was corresponding secretary for the "Mission Monthly" for the Presbyterial.

Surviving are her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Otto Mackey and Miss June Wellwood, of Peterborough, and one son, AC-1 Earl P. Wellwood, stationed at Montreal. There is also one sister, Mrs. Harry M. Dulmage, of Peterborough.

The remains will rest at the Belleghem Funeral Home, 190 Hunter street, until 11 a.m., Friday, when they will be moved to George Street United Church for service at 2 o'clock. Rev. H. J. Sutcliffe will officiate in the absence of Rev. H. L. Roberts, and interment will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

THOMAS BAXTER HENRY

The funeral of the late Thomas Baxter Henry, 595 Douglas avenue, who was an Orangemen for 76 years, was held Tuesday afternoon from the Nisbett Funeral home under the auspices of the Orange Order. Rev. H. J. Mahoney assisted by Rev. William MacDonald conducted the service.

Mr. Henry, who was 92, came to Hope township at the age of 10 from New York, and had resided in Peterborough for 43 years. He had been employed in the Armature department of the C.G.E. for 32 years and belonged to the Royal Black Perceptory and L.O.L. Lord Nelson No. 1175.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. A. Heckman of Peterborough and Mrs. W. D. Byers of Lakefield and one son, William T. Henry of Peterborough. His wife, formerly Annie Lockington, predeceased him.

Pall bearers were all Orangemen: George Sexsmith, William Lockie, Walter Collins, Alfred Johnston and George Rutherford. Interment was made in Little Lake Cemetery.

A. CHARLES WELCH

A former employee of the Quaker Oats who retired two years ago, A. Charles Welch passed away Tuesday at his residence, 718 Water street. He was in his 68th year.

Born in London, England, he was the son of the late Emmanuel Welch and Sarah Welch, and he has lived here since reaching Canada 38 years ago.

Surviving are his widow, formerly Louisa Bedman, two sons, Harry and James, and three daughters, Mrs. Beatrice Stephens, Mrs. R. Johnston (Kathleen) and Mrs. Samuel Buckton (Hazel), all of Peterborough. There are one brother in England and 18 grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. from the residence, with Major Alfred Dixon conducting the service. Interment will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

WILLIAM JAMES FARR

BEWDLEY, Dec. 8—(ENS)—William James Farr of Toronto, who has been staying with his son, Percy Farr of Rice Lake Inn, for the past few weeks, passed away suddenly over the week-end here. He had just recovered from an illness and then took a dose of flu shortly before he died.

The funeral was held Tuesday from the Brown Brothers Funeral Home at 2 o'clock. Interment was made in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

JOHN ALFRED FRENCH

An active worker in the Salvation Army, John Alfred French, 58, died this morning at his home, Third avenue, R. R. No. 3, Peterborough, having resided here for 38 years.

Born in Leeds, England, son of the late John Leeming French and Clara Waterworth, Mr. French was employed as a machinist at the C.G.E. until 1930. He was a member of the Salvation Army Band, and some years ago belonged to the Songster Brigade. During the last war he left Canada with the 93rd Battalion and went to France with the 247th.

He leaves to mourn his passing his widow, formerly Rebecca Bray; two sons, LAC Leslie French, R.C.A.F.; Herbert French, Salvation Army bandmaster at Galt; and one daughter, Lieut. Dorothy French, of the Salvation Army in Wallaceburg. There are three brothers: Harry, of Windsor; James, of Peterborough, and Alwyn, of Toronto.

The funeral service will be held Friday from the Nesbitt Funeral Home, 247 Charlotte street, at 2 p.m., to the Salvation Army Temple, with Major A. Dixon officiating. Interment will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

SHOULD HAVE BYLAW

On a charge of failing to obey the traffic lights at Chamberlain street and Monaghan road to which he entered a written plea of guilty in police court this morning, Gordon Meservy was fined $2 and $1 costs. The charge was laid under the North Monaghan bylaw and Magistrate Langley suggested that the court should be provided with a copy of the bylaw.

SHUT-DOWN MACHINE

FORT FRANCES, Ont., Dec. 8.—(CP).—A newsprint machine, capable of producing 21,000 tons of paper annually, will be shut-down in the Fort Frances mill of the Ontario-Minnesota Pulp and Paper Company, Limited, Jan. 1.

Mill officials said a shortage of pulpwood supply was responsible. A larger machine, with a yearly output of 36,000 tons, will continue operation.

Court Dismisses Fraud Charge

Rendering judgment in a case in which two days had been taken up in hearing the evidence Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., in police court this morning found Frederick Stadnik, alias Frederick Thibault, Belmont township farmer not guilty on a charge of having attempted to obtain under false pretences the sum of $771.39 from the Farmers' Central Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

Magistrate Langley in his judgment pointed out that in order for the crown to succeed it was necessary to show that the accused had made false statements as to the amount of his loss in the fire which destroyed his barn last September, that he knew the statements were false.

Reviewing the items in the claim that the crown had alleged to be false, the magistrate took up each item, including 100 hens, three halters, 125 empty bags, a set of harness, 60 loads of mixed hay, seven loads of oats, ten bags of barley and six of rye, in detail and declared that he could not find that any one of those statements were false and that therefore the charge would be dismissed.

T. J. Carley, K.C. defended Stadnik and the prosecution was conducted by V. J. McElderry, K.C.

WomanContests Mayoralty Of St. Catharines

The first woman ever to run for mayor in the history of the city of St. Catharines, on New Year's Day, is Miss Estelle B. Cuffe, sister of Mrs. Claire H. Stuart, 583 George street north. If elected she is going to see that citizens of the municipality take a more active interest in the workings of the council for the betterment of the community.

Miss Cuffe, daughters of Mrs. B. Tarleton Cuffe and the late Mr. Cuffe of St. Catharines, formerly of Peterborough, was born and educated and attended the Normal School here. After her graduation she taught at May's School for a time and during the last war around 1917, she gave up teaching and worked for Ryerson Ritchie in the Chamber of Commerce.

In a short time, this energetic woman moved to St. Catharines where she taught for about twelve years and then was an exchange teacher in Edmonton. While there she gave up teaching once more and entered the employ of the Sun Life Insurance Company and shortly returned to St. Catharines.

Has Been Alderman

Since she had always taken an active interest in civic organizations, it was not too long before she ran as a member of the Board of Education and was elected and she served for several years in this capacity until she advanced to the position of alderman on the city council in 1938 a position she has held up until the present time.

In spite of the handicap most women encounter when they first enter what has been purely a "man's field" Alderman Cuffe declared that she has never been treated with anything but the utmost courtesy since she joined the council ranks, and that her companions have proven to be good friends.

In accepting the nomination for mayor, Alderman Cuffe made the following statement:

"I am in hearty accord with the Junior Chamber of Commerce in getting people out to vote. A municipal election is the place to make a start and no real progress can be made until people awaken. I propose to speed this awakening by having more discussions and decisions made in open council and periodically having public meetings throughout the year to review council activities and to give rateplayers an opportunity to ask questions.'

Mrs. Stuart declared she was very proud of her politically minded sister and is keeping her fingers crossed about the election.

New Wage Order Comes Thursday

OTTAWA, Dec. 8 (CP)—Labor department officials said today release of the government's new wage-control order, originally expected today, will probably be delayed until tomorrow.

Along with the order, the department proposes making public a memorandum explaining differences between the new regulations and those now in effect.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced the new order in a radio address Saturday night.

Agriculture Inquiry Resumes Sessions

TORONTO, Dec. 8 (CP). — The Ontario agriculture inquiry commission resumes sessions at Queen's Park on Monday and Tuesday of next week, when they will discuss setting of the sugar beet prices for 1944, the price being set for this year at $10 a ton, growers arguing they cannot produce sufficient to keep plants operating under $12.50 a ton.

Discussions will also arise on Premier Mackenzie King's floor price arrangement, and reports will be heard from the farm labor, farm credit and live stock committees which have been delving into these problems.

10-Year-Old Boy Convicted Of Murder In 1850

Arising out of the case of Mrs. Hubert charged with murdering her husband at Nassau and upon which charge she is now awaiting trial The Examiner gave the interesting information that no woman had been convicted of murder in Peterborough, but that three had been charged but were acquitted. One of these was at the end of the last century and two of more recent dates, viz 1916 and 1922.

However at an early date in our history a tragic case was heard on May 4, 1850, at the Peterborough Assizes before Mr. Justice G. Sullivan. A boy named George Young, only in the eleventh year of his age, was put on trial for the murder of a little girl only four years old.

The case is reported in the Peterborough Weekly Gazette of that date but the account does not go into details of the crime. It stated that the circumstances attending this shocking murder were of the most cruel, heart-rendering nature and presented a case probably without a parallel in the annals of crime.

No defence was attempted to be put up. The jury pronounced him guilty and he was sentenced to hang on the 26th June next.

This sentence was reduced to life imprisonment but Young died in prison at an early age.

There was another murder trial at the same Assizes which caused a great deal of local interest. It was generally referred to as the Mariposa murder.

Owen Connolly, James Kelly, William Foley and John Coulthard were charged with the murder of Donald Chisholm, a tavern keeper of Coulter's Corners, Mariposa. After a two days' trial in which 20 witnesses were called Owen Connolly was convicted and the other three acquitted.

The brawl arose owing to the refusal of Chisholm to supply the accused man with liquor.

Wives Dealt Blow By Courts

LONDON, Dec. 8—(CP).—British courts, which recently ruled that money saved by a wife in her housekeeping accounts belongs not to her but to her husband dealt wives another jolt today.

A magistrate in Tonbridge, market-town southeast of London, ruled that a husband has the right to decide who is to enter his home, including in-laws. The case before the bench involved a wife seeking a separation from her husband who was employed out of town. Coming home for occasional week-ends, she charged, he objected to finding her sister there as an overnight guest.

The chairman of the bench dismissed her application, ruling that a "wife must realize that a husband is the master in his own house," and is entitled to rule on those who cross his threshold.

Rotate Names

TORONTO, Dec. 8 — (CP). — The civi elections committee is not overlooking the power of suggestion in their effort to give every candidate an equal chance in the January 1 municipal elections. The committee recommended a rotating system of listing the candidates on the ballot paper to prevent one candidate having the permanent advantage of being listed at the top under the alphabetical system.

The class will hold a Christmas party in the Parish Hall on Thursday, December 16. A donation was sent to Mr. F. G. Mann for the Christmas Cheer Fund, and the monthly collection was taken for the British War Victims' Fund. The meeting closed with a prayer by the president.

St. Andrew's WA Reviews Work Names Officers

The slate of officers for 1944 was presented to the meeting of the Women's Association of St. Andrew's Church, held Tuesday afternoon in the ladies' parlor. The meeting was preceded by a delicious "pot luck" luncheon, and Mrs. J. W. Wharry expressed the thanks and appreciation of all present to Mrs. F. E. Johnston, convener for the luncheon, and her committee.

The executive for the Women's Association of St. Andrew's United Church for the coming year is as follows: Honorary President, Mrs. E. W. Young; President, Mrs. I. T. Lillico; First Vice-President, Mrs. J. W. Wharry; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Ford Turner; Third Vice-President, Mrs. F. W. K. Harris; Secretary, Mrs. J. Turnbull; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. D. Crawford; Treasurer, Mrs. V. Hamilton; Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. R. S. Cotton; Pianist, Miss E. Scott; Assistant Pianist, Mrs. L. M. Brooks.

Joint conveners for the committees were named, and are as follows: Property, Mrs. J. Marshall and Mrs. H. R. H. Kenner; Buying, Mrs. F. L. Robinson, Mrs. A. Moir, and Mrs. K. S. Wightman; Flowers, Mrs. R. Lewis and Mrs. J. Heffernan; Red Cross, Mrs. C. Waite and Mrs. E. R Shirley; Ways and Means, Mrs. J. R. Marshall and Mrs. Paige Rowell; Social, Mrs. E. Hawley; Visiting, Mrs. F. W. K. Harris.

After the luncheon, the ladies adjourned to the ladies' parlor, and Mrs. I. T. Lillico, the president, took the chair to conduct the annual meeting. Excellent reports were read by the various conveners, giving tangible proof of a most successful year.

The convener for the flower committee reported a total of 30 bouquets sent to sick and ailing members of the church during the year. Flowers were also provided by the committee for the decorations when the nurses of Nicholls Hospital were entertained, and the flowers were then divided and sent to sick members.

The Red Cross report listed 244 articles which had been made by the ladies, and sent to the Red Cross, and the other reports were of equal excellence and interest.

A short executive meeting had been held prior to the regular meeting, and the executive had decided to put two motions before the group. The first was the question of the distribution of the remaining funds in the Association treasury after all oustanding bills had been paid, and the sum of $50 set aside for the beginning of the new year. It voted that the remainder of the funds be given to the board of managers of the church to carry on their work.

The second question was whether the flower committee should continue to buy plants for sick members of the church for Christmas, and it was decided that this thoughtful gesture be continued.

The cent-a-day method of giving was highly praised, and a vote of thanks to the collectors moved. The secretary was asked to send a letter to Mrs. I. Keefer, wishing her a sp[illegible]y recovery.

Mrs. Lillico turned the meeting over to the Rev. E. W. Young, who conducted the election and installation of officers.

Dr. Young then led in prayer for the new executive, and the meeting closed with the singing of a Christmas carol and the benediction.

Mother, This Home-Mixed Cough Relief Is Splendid

Saves Real Money. No Cooking. Real Results.

To get really surprising relief from coughs due to colds, you can easily prepare a medicine, right in your own kitchen. It's very easy—anyone can do it—needs no cooking, and tastes so good that children take it willingly. But you'll say it's hard to beat, for quick results.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, and pour it into a 16 oz. bottle. Then add your syrup. This gives you 16 ounces of really splendid cough syrup—about 4 times as much for your money. It never spoils, and lasts a family a long time.

And for real, quick relief, it is actually splendid. It works in three ways—loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

British Women Demand Better Homes

By MARGARET ECKER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 8 (CP). — The banner across the front of the theatre read: "Women of London—Fight Today For the London You Want Tomorrow."

And there was not any doubt that the 1,000 women who jammed the theatre were ready to battle for a better London, with better health, better homes, better sanitation and better opportunities for their families.

The women were members of the London Women's Parliament, most of them thirty-ish, all of them vigorous, all of them workers and the wives of workers and fighting men.

As one overalled speaker put it: "Before the war we stayed in our homes—such as they were. If the roof leaked, if the sanitation was so bad our children took ill, if we had no place of recreation, we complained but we did nothing.

"Now England has asked us to assist in the war effort by doing jobs we've never done before. They have taught us what woman power is. Now we're going to organize and show parliament we are going to get what we want—better homes."

A Canadian reporter covering women's clubs from Montreal to Vancouver hears miles of talk and ponderous resolutions. But she doesn't hear anything like the cockney-speaking women of London.

Most of the delegates representatives of community groups, unions and factory workers, were well under the average age of a Canadian club woman. All of them spoke well and decisively—and briefly.

Most of the debate centred around a bill on housing presented by Elizabeth Denby of the London County Council.

Here are some of the things the bill—and the women of London—want after the war:

1. Homes big enough for individual privacy, with modern cooking, heating and sanitary facilities—homes designed by the women of England to meet their needs.
2. A chance to build these homes themselves, as well as design them.
3. Furniture that is inexpensive sturdy and attractive.
4. Rent control and the compulsory upkeep of property by the landlords.

Sacred Heart CWL Planning Bazaar

The decision to hold a sale of home cooking and other home-made articles on December 15 was made at the monthly meeting of the Sacred Heart Catholic Women's League held recently, with Mrs. Frank McCarthy in the chair.

The meeting opened with the Catholic women's prayer, and reports of the sick and serving committees were read. Three quilts and three nightgowns have been sent to the Red Cross, and cigarettes have been sent to boys of the parish who are now overseas. A total of 180 parcels have been sent to boys and girls from the parish who are serving in Canada.

A short program of entertainment was presented. Gerald O'Rourke sang and played his own accompaniment on the guitar, and Alphonse LeVasseur played the drums. Peggy Johnston tap-danced to "The Wooden Soldier," played by Alphonse LeVasseur on the drums, and Miss Leone Cairns danced "Turkey in the Straw." The meeting closed with a prayer for the boys overseas.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, December 9

According to the lunar transits this should be a fairly active day if the energies and resources are utilized for the purpose of gaining steady progress in routine affairs, but there is a sign accelerating the social, domestic, affectional rather than the purely realistic and workaday. Pleasure, merrymaking and extravagant outlay of energies and funds in hospitality or celebrations may prove irresistable. Similar qualities might be applied to influence business.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may feel disposed to exercise its personal influence, assets and endowments on the pursuit of happiness, in entertainment, celebrations or other hospitable expressions, rather than in strictly commonplace workaday labors. The lure is toward the expansion of the social, artistic, domestic or affectional life, although similar impulses might be applied to some lucrative efforts in business. In the latter there may be menacing factors calling for precaution. Shun extravagance and schemes in all relations.

A child born on this day although being sound, stable and dependable yet may have its social should have a happy, successful and professional aspirations actuating its endeavors. However, it and esteemed position in life.

Christmas Dance Being Planned

Arrangements for the annual Christmas dance, to be held Christmas night, December 25, at the Staff House, were completed at the December meeting of the Major Bennett Chapter, I.O.D.E., held Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Orma Lacheur, 550 Gilmour street. The regent, Miss Margaret Preston, presided.

A contest, on "What Do You Know About Canada" was conducted by Miss Mary Skitch, Echoes Educational Convener, and a committee of three members was named to look after the camp library campaign for the Chapter. Miss Jean Doris is in charge of soliciting books, Mrs. Clare Sullivan is in charge of the collection of books, and Miss Orma Lacheur is in charge of publicity.

It was moved that the chapter donate $10 to each of the following national war funds: Polish Relief Fund, Sailors and Mine Sweepers, Prisoners of War, and British Children and Clothing.

It was announced that members of the chapter will assist at the Blood Donors' Clinic next week. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Ruth Kingan, 46 Benson avenue.

Henry Couple Wed 60 Years

MARMORA, Dec. 8 — (ENS).— Residents of Marmora for the past fourteen years, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Henry quietly celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of their wedding at their home here Monday. Mr. Henry is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Henry of Monteagle Township, and if living next January will celebrate his 90th birthday. Mrs. Henry, some years his junior, is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Castle Hawley, pioneer settlers in Bancroft. The ceremony they recalled took place at the home of Mrs. Henry's parents on December 6, 1883, the officiating minister being the late Rev. Mr. Scamble, Presbyterian minister at Detlor.

Folowing their marriage, they farmed in Monteagle Township for about 45 years. Mr. Henry told the Examiner that there were scarcely any farms for miles in those days, nothing but bush. In addition to deer, the presence of wolves, bears and wildcats was frequently noted, and Mrs. Henry added that there were hardly any young people to be found. Mrs. Henry's parents were of Canadian stock, while Mr. Henry's father came to Canada from Sligo, Ireland, and his mother was born in Canada of American parents. They have one son, Seymour Henry of Marmora, who with his wife and members of his family quietly spent the day with them.

ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION—Your cookery columns are always of great interest to me and inspiration, and have been for a long time. Recently I made some candied peel from lemon rinds which could be improved on. Could you tell me how to do this with lemon, orange, grapefruit, etc.? Does one cook rind first in water or steam, or put them straight into a heavy syrup?

Kindly reply as soon as you are able, as it might help others short of these commodities for Christmas cooking.

Enclosed is to be my Christmas pudding in wartime—what my pudding may lack in fruits can be made up with an especially tasty sauce.

LILLIAN G.

Wartime Christmas Pudding

(Contributed by Lillian G.)

Three-quarters cup flour, 1 large cup breadcrumbs, or a little more, ¾ cup chopped suet, ¾ cup sugar or a little less, 1 cup grated carrot, 1 cup cut prunes (dried kind as for stewing), ½ cup homemade candied lemon and orange peel. (Piece of last year's Christmas cake, soaked in fruit juice—1½ cups if possible—do not run through grinder) 2 tablespoons molasses, 2 eggs, spices and salt to taste, 1 teaspoon baking soda, a little lemon juice, and 2 teaspoons jam, sour or sweet milk to moisten well, but not make slack, or breadcrumbs will not hold firmly in shape during cooking. Cook about 5 or 6 hours. Serve with caramel or brandy sauce.

NOTE—If you have not cake, or even a bit of mincemeat, it will be very good without. Ground apple would help.

Candied Orange, Lemon Or Grapefruit Peel

ANSWER:—Use the skins of four large oranges, or 6 lemons or 2 large grapefruit. Cover the skins with cold water, heat to boiling point and drain. This removes most of the bitter flavor. Cover again with fresh cold water, and cook slowly until the skins can be easily pierced with a fork. Drain and cool. Scrape off loose white skin with a spoon and cut the thick peel into thin strips with the scissors. Mix together 1 cup sugar and ½ cup water. Stir over a slow fire until the sugar dissolves, then cook without stirring until it threads, or reaches 242 deg. Fahr. Add the peel, and coog slowly until it is transparent around the edges. Lift from syrup with a skimmer, and roll at once in granulated sugar. The syrup may be colored pink or green, and flavored with mint or any flavor.

(NOTE:—If the candied peel is to be used in place of candy at a bridge party a fancy container may be made from a half grapefruit, put through the same process as above, only left in its cup shape.)

Thank you very much for the wartime pudding and for the suggestion to get the peel in the paper in a hurry.

2 WAYS TO MAKE PRECIOUS JELL-O and JELL-O PUDDINGS Go Farther

UNFORTUNATELY, due to wartime conditions, no housewife is getting all the Jell-O and Jell-O Puddings she would like to get. But when you are able to get either, you are sure of satisfaction. Use them carefully and make them go as far as possible. Here are two ideas to help you.

JELL-O CUBES WITH CUSTARD

2 cups hot water
1 cup custard sauce
1 package JELL-O (Strawberry, Raspberry or Cherry)

Dissolve Jell-O in hot water. Turn into shallow pan. Chill until firm. Cut in cubes. Pile cubes lightly in sherbert or parfait glasses. Pour custard sauce over the cubes of shimmering Jell-O. Serves 6 to 8.

Easy, isn't it? And here's an idea for Jell-O Puddings:

JELL-O TRIFLE

1 package JELL-O PUDDING
(any flavor, but vanilla is specially good)
6 or 7 squares plain cake
Home-made jam

Prepare Jell-O Pudding as directed on the package. Spread top of each square of cake with jam. Place squares of cake in individual dessert dishes. When pudding is cool, pour over cake and chill.

This recipe gives 6 or 7 servings of as delightful a dessert as you ever tasted. You can thank the unvarying quality of Jell-O Puddings for that full, rich flavor—that smooth, creamy consistency.

TWO GRAND DESSERTS—limited in supply just now, but unchanged in quality.

Political Year Marked By Rise Of New Groups

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Dec. 8—(CP)—Newer political parties claimed progress in Canada in 1943 but older groups which have elected federal governments in the past promised them a battle when the next election is called—perhaps this year.

Ottawa observers said the outstanding event of the political year was the C.C.F. showing in the Ontario provincial election in August when it captured 34 of the 90 legislature seats, running second to the Progressive Conservatives with 38 and leaving the former Liberal office-holders with only 15.

The C.C.F. did well in House of Commons by-elections, winning two out of four—in the Saskatchewan constituency of Humboldt and in Selkirk, Man., both representing gains from the Liberals.

Activity of another newer party, the Bloc Populaire, was being watched by the politically wise. The Bloc has confined its efforts to Quebec and in the Stanstead by-election, there succeeding in electing its candidate to give it a house membership of four.

Liberals Busy

The older parties were not idle. The national council of the National Liberal Federation held a two-day convention in Ottawa last September and Prime Minister Mackenzie King and other cabinet members heard the views of Liberal supporters from coast to coast. The federation passed a series of resolutions suggesting social security, labor relations and other steps to the government. Mr. King said an early election was not planned, but noted certain developments which he said might bring it about sooner than was expected.

Elected in 1940, the King government may not go to the country until 1945.

John Bracken, Progressive Conservative National Leader, spent an active year travelling Canada extensively to obtain the opinions of Canadians before seeking a seat in the House, where the party has been led for a year by Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative member for Peel, Ont.

In October Mr. Bracken enunciated a detailed program for agriculture to be undertaken by a Progressive Conservative Government if elected. His supporters took this to mean their leader has decided on the major policies he will suggest and probably is ready to take the party command in the House.

Four Senators died during the year, and four new Senators were appointed. Senator G. P. Graham and Senator Louis Cote, both of Ontario, and Senator Jules Edouard Prevost and Senator P. E. Blondin, both of Quebec, died.

Appointments were Senator J. P. McIntyre, Prince Edward Island; Senator G. P. Campbell, Ontario; Senator W. M. Robertson, Nova Scotia, and Senator J. F. Johnston, Saskatchewan.

New Cabinet Ministers.

Works Minister Fournier, Fisheries Minister Bertrand, and War Services Minister LaFleche took their places in the House as members of the Cabinet for the first time when the 1943 session opened. In addition to Gen. LaFleche, two other new members were introduced: S. H. Knowles (C.C.F. Winnipeg North Centre) and Frederic Dorion (Ind. Charlevoix-Saguenay).

During the six-month sitting of Parliament the war and war measures were of paramount importance in discussions. Some $5.500,000,000 was voted to be spent in 1943-44, all but about $563,000,000 for war purposes. The direct war appropriation was $3,890,000,000 and $1,000,000,000 was approved for "mutual aid."

Legislation approved widened the coverage of the Unemployment Insurance Act, increased the basic maximum rate for old-age pensions and increased the pay for women in the services.

Because of war conditions, Parliament asked that the readjustment of House representation on the basis of the 1941 census be postponed, this request going to the United Kingdom Parliament where it was approved. At the close of the year the Liberals had 140 House members, the Progressive Cnservatives 39, the C.C.F. 11, and New Demcracy 10.

Diplomas And Prizes Presented To Pupils Of Millbrook School

MILLBROOK, Dec. 8 (ENS). — The Town Hall was filled to capacity on Friday evening for the annual Commencement of the Continuation School, over on hundred dollars being taken in through the sale of tickets beforehand, and at the door. The program was opened with the pupils massed upon the platform, singing a group of songs, including "Hello Everybody, glad to see you here," and the M.C.S. theme song.

Homer Oullette, musical supervisor, was the accompanist of the evening, with Kathryn Elson playing for the folk dances, and the chair was taken by Percy Stinson, chairman of the school board, who extended a warm welcome, and mentioned the fact that the Continuation School Inspector's report spoke in the highest terms of the staff, and the work being done. Mr. Stinson also referred to the fact that so many of the boys and girls from the local school are now in the armed forces, and are serving in the four corners of the earth.

"Looking over the list of those who have gone from Millbrook we see that at least ninety per cent were formerly pupils of the M.C.S., and we have every reason to be proud of their record." There was a hush over the packed house as the chairman referred feelingly to the three boys, Jack Arundel, Kenneth Harker and Harold Howson, formerly of the Continuation School, who have paid the supreme sacrifice in the present war. "And still more will be called, and will go out to serve in the armed forces." Mr. Stinson's eldest son, Jack, has been overseas for over three years now, having enlisted in the R.C.A.F.

Diplomas Presented

The presentation of diplomas was an outstanding feature, Miss Honor Gibson, B.A., performing this service for pupils of the Lower School, the list including: Dorothy Coulter, Mary Sanderson, Mary Blair, Melba Ball, Russell Kennedy, Alvin Tate.

For the Middle School, Miss Francis Walley, B.A., presented the ribbon-tied roll, these pupils being: Donald McKnight, Laureen Jewison, Ella Best, Bruce Stewart, Marguerite Powell, Barry Fee, Lola Gardiner, Kathryn Elson, Vera Fallis.

Upper School graduates included: Martha Belch, Mary Whittington, Wilda Harker and Audrey Wood; Mr. C. E. Wilson, B.A., principal, presenting the diplomas.

A former teacher, Mrs. W. R. Howard, presented the Howard Shield, which goes to the pupil having the highest standing in the senior matriculation class, Wilda Harker, now a student at the Peterborough Business College, being the winner of this award. The chairman also announced that Wilda had won the Duncan McCarthy scholarship, the competition covering a considerable area in this section of Ontario, and the honor carrying with it a substantial cheque.

Lieutenant William Deyell, now enlisted for active service, and a former Continuation School pupil, presented the Allen Scholarship, which carries with it a cheque for fifty dollars, to the winner, Barry Fee, the stipulation being that it goes to the boy with the best all-round record in the school. Lieutenant Deyell won this award himself in his school days, and he also presented the Mirror-Reporter Shield to the winner, Roy Dawson, high boy in Grade 9, in the absence of the donor, J. H. Barringer, who was unable to attend.

Valedictory Address

Laureen Jewison gave the valedictory address, urging the juniors to be assured that 'school days are the happiest time of life, though, while in progress, the opposite often seems to be true,' and paying tribute to the teachers of the graduating class. An old English folk dance, going back to the time of the Stuarts, followed, the girls who participated looking attractive in white dresses with wide black girdles, and going through the complicated movements with rhythm and grace; they were: Mary Blair, Marian Rowe, Laureen Henderson, Esther Armstrong, Melba Ball and Leone Manley.

The dances were directed by Francis Tickner and Betty Moncrief, with assistance from Miss Walley, and a second one, an old-time minuet, in which old-fashioned costumes were worn, brought an insistent demand for a recall. Those taking part were: Mary Blair and Laureen Henderson; Leone Manley and Marian Rowe; Francis Tickner and Betty Moncrief; Esther Armstrong and Margaret Elson. A dumb bell exercise by Mary Sanderson and Betty Moncrief, was another popular number done with faultless precision, the girls wearing pill-box hats in matching lines of red, white and blue satin ribbon, their white blouses, and red, and blue short pleated skirts, together with the ribbons fluttering from the tip of the 'bells' carrying out the patriotic idea perfectly.

Completing this part of the program was a tap dance cleverly executed by Francis Tickner, and again the demand for an encore had to be met. Two plays rounded out the full program, that of the juniors being "The Man in the Bowler Hat," and that chosen by the seniors being quite up-to-date with the title: "Blackout." Both were directed by Miss Honor Gibson.

For the junior play, the title role was taken by Donald Guthrie, and the burlesque was supposedly a rehearsal of one act of a larger play, directed by the Man in the Bowler Hat, a search for the Rajah's ruby being the plot involved. Roy Dawson and Rosemary Stinson were John and Mary; the hero who refused to tell where the ruby really was, Donald Trick; the heroine, Joan Martin; the chief villain, determined to have the ruby, Teddy Sisco; and the Bad Man, who tortured the hero, trying to make him tell, Fraser Carr.

For "Blackout," the scene was an English coastal village, with the layout at the Inn, Donald McKnight (Hedges) being the inn-keeper; The story centred around the search for a German spy, Kurt Jensen (Donald Harkness), finally exposed together with his accomplice, Angela Reuther (Kathryn Elson); assisting in the search were a London Bobby, Constable Cadwallader Entwistle (Ted Stinson), and Derrick Smithson (Jack Greer), official in manner and with his badge hidden under his coat lapel. Guests at the hotel who were anxious to reach America included Eva Darling (Mary Sanderson), who apparently had been mixed up in other spy activities, and who complicated the situation generally each time she came into the picture; Mrs. Cuthbert St. John (Betty Thornton), and her daughter, Kit (Francis Tickner), secretly married to Lieutenant Nigel Fleming, of the Royal Artillery (Russell Kennedy); Eddie Wade (Donald Edmunds); and Jefrey Linden (Willoughby Belch); the new maid, Annie (Dorothy Coulter), came in for a share of blame when she fell going upstairs pulling aside the dark curtain which helped maintain the blackout.

The program was repeated before a full house on Saturday evening; part of the proceeds go to the Junior Red Cross.

Santa Claus Juggled In Australia

By J. E. HOLDWORTH
Canadian Press Correspondent

SYDNEY, Australia, Dec. 8 — (CP Cable)—Australians are having a good laugh about a federal government department and its Christmas war bond advertising campaign.

Regulations last year forbade publication of normal shop advertisements referring in effect to Christmas, New Year and Easter gifts. Now a series of government loan department advertisements, prepared for a "Christmas savings campaign" and advocating giving loan bonds or loan savings stamps instead of Christmas gifts has been withdrawn. A substitute will be issued.

The Sydney Morning Herald said they were recalled "because they contained a portrait of Santa Claus as an opponent of thrift and the war effort."

The Sydney Sun said "the hurried withdrawal of the advertisements is the final touch of absurdity in the Father Christmas embargo. Instead of making the time-honored saint work for us he is being frantically pushed behind the bars of a concentration camp."

No Raisins

Wartime shortages will interfere with Christmas. It is impossible to buy currants and raisins in this country, an exporter of dried fruits, for Christmas puddings and pies which are normal fare even if Christmas occurs in the midsummer here. Poultrymen say it will be almost impossible to obtain fowl for civilians although army camps will have it. Even Christmas cheer will be scarce, although Australia makes large quantities of beer and spirits.

These shortages are due to lack of manpower for production and transport. The press points out, however, how much better off Australians are than the people in tightly-rationed Britain.

Fuel Scarce

The coal situation also is difficult as a result of stoppages at individual mines. Householders have been asked to cut consumption of gas and electricity by one-fifth and railway services have eben reduced.

Mount Julian Ladies Pack Eight Boxes

MOUNT JULIAN, Dec. 8 (ENS). —The ladies of the Red Cross met at the home of Mrs. John Northey last week, and packed eight boxes for members of the armed forces serving in Canada. The BEEFY FLAVOUR of BOVRIL

Why ARE NEILSON'S CHOCOLATE BARS SO SCARCE TODAY?

● Neilson's famous chocolate bars are being produced in the maximum quantity in accordance with Wartime restrictions on the use of raw materials . . . and in the same excellent quality as always. However, on account of their great popularity, more people want to buy them than ever before, and it is these many more people after the available supply that make Neilson's Chocolate Bars so difficult to obtain!

Neilson's Quality remains as always —the highest!

Funeral service on Thursday, December 9 from the family residence, 718 Water street at 2 p.m. Major A. Dixon officiating. Interment, Little Lake Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM

GABLE — In loving memory of mother who passed away on December 8, 1942.

As I gaze on your picture that hangs on the wall,
Your smiles and your welcome I often recall,
I miss you and mourn you in silence unseen,
And dwell on the memories of days that have been.
Dear is the grave where mother is laid
Sweet is the memory that never will fade.
Flowers may wither, leaves fade and die
If some do forget you—never will I.
—Fondly remembered by family.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. George R. Carew and family wish to express their sincere thanks and appreciation to the attending doctor, Rev. Patterson and the many kind friends and neighbors who sent flowers or in any way contributed to help lighten their burden in the loss of a dear husband and father.

camp, where they dance an Alpine dance or tell a Bavarian joke and enjoy an evening together so much it makes you happy just watching them.

It is the sort of place where you may find yourself telling the bus conductor the names of the stops because the conductor may be a girl handed the job under the latest Bevin decree and you know the route far better than she does.

London is a place where the queue is becoming a public failing, where they can't find enough homes to go around but there are hundreds of houses with "To Let" signs out, where people bet on anything from the dog races to the probability of an air raid alert.

Japs Under-rated Nipponese Claim

LONDON, Dec. 8 — (CP). — Saburo Kurusu, special Japanese envoy who was in Washington conducting "peace negotiations", two years ago when Japan attacked the United States, had this to say of the war to-day in a Tokyo interview broadcast by the Berlin radio.

"It is a fallacy to believe that recent defeats have increased war weariness of certain classes in the United States to such an extent as to lead them to lay down arms.

"As long as President Roosevelt is holding the reins of government the end of the war is not in sight.

"The war against Japan seems to have been considered a kind of an experiment in the United States. They didn't seem to have realized the war against China, far from exhausting Japan, actually increased her war production. Both Anglo-Saxon powers underrated Japan."

Civic Employees Win Union Contract

TORONTO, Dec. 8.—(CP).—Three Toronto municipal associations—the Toronto Firefighters' Association, Civic Employees' Union and Toronto Municipal Association—representative of some 4,000 civic employees other than members of the police force, were certified as collective bargaining agencies by Mr. Justice C. P. Plaxton in Ontario Labor Court Tuesday.

The three applications, unopposed by the city, were presented by Arthur W. Roebuck, who filed with the court a city by-law declaring the Collective Bargaining Act was applicable to civic employees.

Bruins Finish Strong

Boston Bruins are still unbeaten at home this season although they came perilously close to it last night when they had to come from far behind to tie the Detroit Red Wings by scoring four late goals to sew up the count. The Bruins scored the first two goals and looked to be well away but Jawn Adams' hirelings got rolling then, were in front 4 to 2 at the end of the second period and when they added two more counters early in the last session apparently had the decision all tied up and wrapped. Then the Bruins struck and Kopak, Gallinger, Cain and Cowley all drilled pucks past Jimmy Franks to save the day for the Boston crowd. Red Wings had won five games in a row over the Bruins, including a clean sweep in the Stanley Cup series so the Rossmen are probably claiming last night's showing as a moral victory. Incidentally the tie left the Bruins only a point behind the Leafs and Black Hawks who are tied for second place.

* * * * * *

The National Hockey League has released a statement to the effect that 176 former N.H.L. players and reserves are now in the armed services. Rangers are credited with 42, the Leafs with 31 and Boston with 26. By reserves is probably meant players on whom the various National League clubs held strings and there is no attempt to break down the figures to show how many are in that class and how many were actual playing members. The statement would have been much more interesting if it were to announce just how many of the pro hockey players have seen any active service. The feeling is general that up to now at least the number of cash-and-carry performers actually to come to grips with the enemy has been decidedly small. Certainly the casualty lists have failed to indicate any signs of their presence in actual theatres of war.

Sporting Chili Con Carne: Instead of three junior teams this season Belleville hockey interests have decided to amalgamate them into one.... That will undoubtedly result in a stronger team but it will not do as much to develop young material as the original three clubs would have done.... The Belleville team expected to be grouped with Trenton R.C.A.F., Marmora, Tweed, Stirling, and the Trenton town team....Mort Cooper has been classified as 1A by the American Army and has to report next Monday....Bill Calladine failed to pick up a scoring point in last night's game....Russ Kopak, a rookie from the Boston Eastern League club managed to drive home the goal that started the Bruins on their last minute rally to sew up the game....Pick Hines' Navy team are not having much fun. They were beaten 10 to 6 by Air Force last night, another one of those high-scoring affairs that makes one wonder whether goalies and defence players are being rationed. Certainly markers are a dime a dozen these days.

30,000 Laborers Build Road Across Persia

By THOBURN WIANT
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW DELHI, Dec. 5 (Delayed)—(AP)—Approximately 1,000 trucks now are hauling military supplies from India into Russia over a new 800-mile East Persia (Iran) route which was entirely hand-made by pick and shovel by an army of 30,000 men, women and children supervised by a staff representing 15 nationalities.

The Indian representative of one supply organization said "the quantity of supplies—jute, rubber, hessian copper, tin and mercury—which India can send to Russia is limited only by transport facilities available."

"We expect," he added, "a substantial increase in the number of trucks shortly."

The road, which is complementary to routes through Central and Western sections of Iran for British and American supplies, once was a rough track. Now a broad motor highway stretches along 600 of its 800 miles, bringing India's vast resources within a few days journey of Russia's southern frontier.

The East Persia route was completed in three months. The rush job was necessitated by the German advance in the Caucasus. It was hand-made because no machinery was available.

Water and food for men and animals were carted hundreds of miles by camel as the road pushed forward.

One of the British officers who supervised the work said that "in spite of all the odd nationalities and widely differing engineering practices of the four foreign contracting firms, everyone got along fine."

The British officer said "we had Greeks, Yugoslavs, Belgians, Russians, Turks, Italians, Bulgars and Rumanians, not to mention Persians, who did most of the laboring."

Murderer Confesses Killing Daughter

AUGUSTA, Ga., Dec. 8 (AP) — Solicitor General George Hains of Georgia said today that Isaac West, 58-year-old textile worker charged with murder in the death of his seven-year-old daughter, Barbara, confessed he threw the child into a lake on Nov. 19.

A coroner's jury had returned a verdict of accidental death soon after the body was recovered but detectives began an investigation after insurance claims were filed.

"Hains said he had been informed West had been married four times but that his first three wives and several of nine children were dead.

The solicitor declared West did not explain the reason for his action other than to say "I must have been crazy."

Gas Coupon Thefts Put Four In Jail

TORONTO, Dec. 8 (CP).—Magistrate R. J. Browne to-day fixed bail totalling $17,000 for three men and a woman charged with illegal possession of gasoline ration coupons.

The four—Donald Ward, 32, Dorothy Eismer, 32, Gordon Prince, 28, and William Mason, 31—were arrested by R. C. M. P. officials last night. Police said the gasoline coupons are worth at least 25,000 gallons of gasoline.

Bail for Ward was set at $10,000, for Dorothy Eismer $3,000, and for Prince and Mason $2,000 each. Miss Eismer was released in court when bail was provided, while the three men returned to custody.

Gospel Reader Gets One Month In Jail

GUELPH, Dec. 8 — (CP). — David Michea, who described himself as a "gospel reader," today was fined $100 or one month in jail when he was convicted of failing to report his change of address.

Michea's plea as a conscientious objector recently was turned down at Brantford, Ont. The court ordered that he be escorted to the nearest military training centre.

Two Westerners On Casualty List

OTTAWA, Dec. 8 — (CP). — The Royal Canadian Navy in its 217th casualty list of the war containing two names today reported the death from natural causes in R.C.N. hospital at Sydney, N. S., November 11 of Able Seaman Jack Henry Bible who father lives at Edmonton.

The navy also reported that AB. Thomas Bernard Smith of New Westminster, B.C., previously reported missing on war service now is presumed dead as of Aug. 27 last.

Tree Casualty

DENVER, Dec. 8—(AP).—Christmas trees being scarce, R. M. Sealock thoughtfully eyed the blue spruce he had planted in his back yard. Finally, though, he bought a tree, much smaller and scragglier. He went out again to admire the one growing in his yard. All he found was a stump.

Canada To Pay UNRRA More Than 90 Million

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Dec. 8 (CP)— While Canada's financial contribution to the relief of liberated territories through the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration likely will be limited to about $90,000,000, the value of goods supplied from Canada will probably greatly exceed that figure.

This was one of the conclusions reached by L. B. Pearson, minister-counseller at the Canadian Legation in Washington and one of the Canadian representatives at the first meeting, ended last week, of UNRRA's council at Atlantic City.

Mr. Pearson was in Ottawa today and discussed the council meeting informally at a press conference.

He said the $90,000,000 figure was based on one per cent of the national income, which UNRRA would recommend that participating countries contributed. It would have to be approved by parliament.

The figure included Canada's share in administration costs, as well as the contemplated share in contribution of supplies. Administration on UNRRA would probably run between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000 during the administration's life.

McCready Loses

the Texan with a smartly-applied scissors.

Cradle Hold Does It

McCready had a decided edge in the early stages and was well in front of the badman from the south. He finally took the first fall with his spectacular rocking-chair cradle hold after 18 minutes. He and Davis exchanged a series of punches and then after staggering the Texan with an elbow smash the Moose suddenly clamped old rocking chair on his bewildered opponent and trundled him around the ring before pinning his shoulders. It was the McCready special worked with perfect timing and effect.

Davis returned to his attempted toe-hold tactics in the second round but for some time hadn't much luck. Finally however he succeeded in getting a grip on McCready's left knee and bending it across the ropes. The Moose finally got loose but hurt his knee in releasing himself and from then on he was at a disadvantage. Davis sensed his opportunity and softening McCready up with a sudden punch to the jaw slapped on his step-over toehold and put on the pressure so effectively that McCready was eventually forced to concede the fall, squaring the match after 11 minutes battling.

McCready Limping

McCready was still limping when he returned to the ring for the third round but he fought just as grimly as ever and was more than holding his own until Davis' failure to break clean and Maxwell's failure to notice that he hadn't brought the bout to an unexpected end. Just before that McCready looked like a sure winner when he applied a flying scissors that appeared like curtains for the Texan. Twice Davis launched flying tackles at McCready only to miss when the Moose dropped to the floor and let his opponent go sailing by. When the Terror tried it the third time McCready switched to a flying scissors and pinned Davis' shoulders. He managed to break loose at the count of two and took refuge in the ropes and it was then that he turned defeat into victory by cashing in on Maxwell's laxity. The third fall came in six minutes and the referee had to do some hustling to reach the dressing-room with many of the fans calling for his scalp.

Hogan Belted

For once in his life Rowdy Dick Hogan was cheered by Peterborough fans last night when he tackled the big masked Czar in the semi-final bout but the applause did not do the Housepainter much good for he was belted into submission just the same. The Czar took the bout in 17 minutes by the simple strategy of felling Hogan with a punch to the jaw and then pouncing on him for the fall. Of course the whole crowd was not with Hogan. There were a few fans who wanted to know how he liked taking his own medicine as the masked giant bounced him around the ring, drop-kicked him, slipped in the odd punch and in general treated Mister Hogan as that gentleman has been handling all and sundry. The Czar was too big and powerful and while Hogan did manage to get in some of his pet specialties they didn't seem to bother the Hooded Horror very much and he finally ended it in a hurry by bringing one up from the floor.

Al Bunny Dunlop and Pierre DeGlane wrestled thirty minutes to a draw in the opening bout and contrary to expectations the Toronto strongman failed to give the French grappler the works. Possibly his style was cramped by the fact that Bert Maxwell was in charge of the bout for the last time the two met in Toronto Dunlop was disqualified for undue roughness. Of course Bunny worked in some of his unorthodox stuff and gave DeGlane a few bad moments but the Frenchman also took a hand at doing the pitching and he had Dunlop saying uncle at times. The most action really came after the final bell when DeGlane waded in and swung lefts and rights to Dunlop's head. The Toronto boy fought back and when DeGlane toppled over he got a rough passage in the corner before the gladiators were separated.

Bert Maxwell refereed the three bouts with Fred Scates in his usual dual capacity of announcer and times.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

SEVEN DIFFERENT ROADS

YOU HAVE a choice of seven different kinds of bids when you hold a tremendous solid suit, with a side ace in that which has just been used as an opening bid by your right-hand opponent. One is the gambling bid of 3-No Trumps if you expect that suit led. A second is a pass, intending to enter the bidding later. A third is a minimum overcall, expecting to rebid plenty. A fourth is to bid one less than you can make, in the hope of luring a double later. A fifth is to bid exactly what you expect to score. A sixth is to leap to the limit of the sacrifice you expect later to try, and a seventh is to make psychic calls of other suits, hoping finally to buy the contract in your own doubled.

North: ♠ 6 4 3 2 ♥ 10 3 ♦ 7 6 4 2 ♣ Q 7 3

West: ♠ J 9 7 ♥ A K Q 6 2 ♦ Q J 10 8 5 ♣ None

East: ♠ K Q 10 8 5 ♥ J 7 5 ♦ A K 9 3 ♣ 10

South: ♠ A ♥ 9 8 4 ♦ None ♣ A K J 9 8 6 5 4 2

(Dealer: East. East-West vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
1♠	5♣	Dbl

Where anything else was tried on this deal, in a big duplicate game, East and West reached 6-Spades and made the contract, with the single exception of one table, where South sacrificed at 7-Clubs and got set three tricks doubled. This South, with his immediate jump to 5-Clubs, was the only one who managed to shut West out of showing his suit lengths.

At the other tables, after East's 1-Spade, the calls by the South players included 2-Clubs, 3-Clubs, 4-Clubs, 3-No Trumps, 2-Hearts, 2-Spades and 1-No Trump, the last three, of course, being psychics by not-vulnerable players who expected to bid the clubs later. None of these, however, kept East and West from bidding the small slam in one suit or another, all making it except where South then sacrificed at 7-Clubs.

As a consequence, the South player who bid 5-Clubs at once, and was set only one trick doubled, got the best score of all the pairs playing his direction.

Canada Declares War On Veneral Disease

By DARCY O'CONNELL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Dec. 8 (CP).— Pensions Minisqtr Mackenzie said today at the opening meeting of a four-day international conference on venereal diseases that Canada is determined to wipe out the plague of gonorrhoea and syphilis.

"Gonorrhoea and syphilis present the greatest single public health problem in the country, and war must be waged on them." said the Minister.

Mr. Mackenzie was kept from the conference by illness and his address was read by Dr. R. E. Wodehouse, Deputy Pensions Minister.

Air Minister Power and Navy Minister Macdonald pledged the support of the armed services in the fight against the diseases, and Assistant Surgeon-General J. R. Heller of the American Public Health Service told of venereal disease control in the United States.

6 Objectives.

Mr. Mackenzie expressed hope the conference, attended by representatives of the United Kingdom, United States, Australia and Canada, will lay the basis "for an all-out attack."

Physicians and public health administrators should have six specific objectives, said the minister:—

1. Wholesome, dignified health education concerning gonorrhoea and syphilis;

2. Adequate diagnostic and treatment facilities for all persons suffering from venereal disease;

3. Early adequate prenatal care, including blood tests for expectant mothers to remove once and for all the tragedy of congenital syphilis;

4. The suppression of quackery and charlatanry in the treatment of the venereal diseases;

5. General health examinations, including blood tests for syphilis, before marriage;

6. Effective measures to deal with persons and community conditions associated with the deliberate spreading of venereal disease.

Air Minister Power said venereal diseases cause the loss of more time in the armed forces than any other kind.

"The fact that this meeting is possible shows that the department of pensions and health and others realize that the plague must be combatted," said Maj. Power.

Engineering Group Wins Safety Star

MARMORA, Dec. 8 (ENS)—The monthly meeting of the Deloro Safety Committee was held in the Electric Shop, Monday afternoon, with R. A. Elliott presiding.

For the suggestions committee, G. Brooks reported seven being received in the past month, and for the competitive committee, H. Rennie said that five of these had been given an award and that the star went to the Engineering Department. C. H. Buskard gave the report of the inspection committee, and C. Watson was appointed floating member for December. E. Brady brought in the report of the health and investigation committee. With presentation of the monthly statement of the benevolent relief funds by C. H. Buskard and the report of the publicity committee by J. H. Hemphill, the meeting adjourned.

Do What Your Doctor Does If Child Is Listless

Because the tongue is the upper end of the stomach and bowels, it is usually the first thing a doctor looks at when he examines a sick child. He knows that a coated tongue and bad breath is a danger signal —a warning of an upset condition below, which may lead to real illness.

Don't you take chances look at your child's tongue and check the breath every day! And at the first sign of bad odor on the breath or a coated tongue, give Children's Own Tablets. Small, pleasant-tasting tablets made especially for youngsters from runabout age to 15 years, they are wonderfully effective in helping to clean out harmful wastes and sweeten sour, upset stomachs. Council Names Poll Officials

HASTINGS, Dec. 8 (ENS).—At the regular meeting of the Hastings council which was held on Friday a bylaw was passed appointing deputy returning officers and polling clerks for the municipal election. For polling booth No. 1, on motion of C. Lynch and S. Stevenson, J. C. Wilson and I. Bonds, Jr. were named, polling booth number 1A, A. T. Lynch and William Whitred and polling botoh No. 2, J. L. Doherty and James Calberry.

The pay for deputy returning officers was set at $4 and for poll clerk, $2.50.

On motion of C. Lynch and I. Bonds the clerk was instructed to advertise a nomination to be held on Monday, December 27 at 12 to 1 p.m.

Bylaw No. 824 re Bell Telephone Company and municipality was given its three reading and passed.

I. Bonds and Charles Lynch moved that a cheque for $16 be returned to the provincial treasurer which was an overpay by Mothers' Allowance.

On motion of I. Bonds and S. Stevenson the accounts for relief of $16 and $10, were ordered paid.

Reeve Kelly brought up the question of collecting paper of all kinds which the government claims is very urgently needed. It was decided to have a collection of papers tied in bundles on Wednesday, December 15. Any persons in the village having bundles of paper are to leave them on their verandahs or on the sidewalk in front of their home, and they will be picked up on the afternoon of the set date.

The following accounts were ordered paid: William Wellman, salary constable, $25; William Wellman, salary, town hall, $8.33; William Wellman, town hall, $9; George Lynch, salary, fire department, $7; Bell Telephone, fire chief, $2.19; Bell Telephone, town hall, $3.11; J. C.C.F. Is Socialist Party, Coldwell Says But Not The Socialism Opposed By Catholics

OTTAWA, Dec. 8 — (CP). — M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. Leader, said Monday night in a statement that the C.C.F. "is not Socialist in the way defined and condemned by the Catholic Church.

"The C.C.F. is a Socialist movement in exactly the same manner as the Labor Parties of the British Commonwealth and the Anglo-Saxon world are Socialist," he said.

(In a statement issued by the Bishops' Committee for Social Action, Most Rev. J. C. McGuigan, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Toronto, said on Sunday night the Catholic Church opposes Socialism, which he defined as precluding the right of private property.)

Mr. Coldwell's statement follows:

Although I regret the controversy which has arisen regarding the right of Catholics to support the C.C.F., it may eventually serve a useful purpose in clarifying both the position of the C.C.F. regarding ownership of private property and the attitude of the Catholic Church toward the C.C.F.

The unfortunate feature about it is that it infects a denominational controversy into the political arena. However, since this has been done, more or less surreptitiously, by promoters of the Liberal, Conservative and social Credit Parties for a long time, it is perhaps well that the question should be aired publicly now.

I do not think there is any doubt as to the meaning of the statement issued recently by the Catholic prelates; it defined the type of Socialism which the Church condemns. If there were any doubt the statement issued by Archbishop McGuigan would surely dissipate it.

No Change by Violence.

The C.C.F., like the Labor Parties of Great Britain, Australia and New Zealand, all of which are supported by members of the Catholic church whose right to do so has never been questioned, does not propose change by violence, does not deny the right of ownership of private property and does not declare that all wealth belongs to the State or the Government.

On the contrary, we condemn the present social order because many millions own nothing and are exploited by giant organizations who own and control the essential means of life upon which the welfare of the people must depend.

The C.C.F. has ever asserted that it desires more property necessary for the welfare of the individual family, personally and privately owned by the individual family.

On the other hand, property upon which our community well-being depends ought to be owned either, as in the case of a great public utility, like electricity, by the State, or, as in the case of the marketing or distribution of certain consumer goods, by co-operative endeavor.

Quotes Official Book.

The recently published book, "Make This Your Canada,' written by David Lewis, national secretary of the C.C.F., puts it as follows:

"If a private business (1) is in no position to exploit the public, (2) shows no signs of becoming a socially dangerous vested interest, (3 is being operated with reasonable efficiency under decent working conditions, and (4) is ready loyally to play ts part in the fulfilment of the national plan, there is no social or economic reason why its ownership should not remain in private hands."

I hope that this statement will settle this matter since it is entirely based on all authoritative pronouncements made by the C.C.F. from its inception.

The C.C.F. is a Socialist movement in exactly the same manner as the Labor Parties of the British Commonwealth and the Anglo-Saxon world are Socialist; it is not Socialist in the way defined and condemned by the Catholic church.

One Dies, 5 Sick From Bad Meat

OTTAWA, Dec. 8 (CP). — An autopsy performed on the body of Mrs. Celina Bergeron, 67, who died Sunday night at her home has failed to reveal causes of death, but indications point to meat poisoning, it was learned last night.

Five other persons, believed to be suffering from a similar cause, now are in hospital. They are Mrs. Bergeron's two nieces, Yvette Labelle, 22, Mrs. Jean Paul Prest, 27; and Mrs. Prest's three children, Aline, nine, Raymond, eight, and Pierrette, two. Hospital authorities said last night they were out of danger.

Mon How, Chinese proprietor of a laundry next door to the Bergeron home, was found by an employee lying dazed on his bed, and examination at hospital revealed he was suffering from a form of poisoning, leading to the belief the others were similarly affected.

Coroner Dr. Harry Dover said present indications pointed to contamination in the meat eaten by Mrs. Bergeron at supper.

Indian Famine Followed By Epidemics

By PRESTON GROVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW DELHI, Dec. 8 —(AP).— A faint ray of hope in the shape of military aid which is improving the food situation has appeared at least in the agonizing famine disaster which for six months has borne down upon 60,000,000 of India's 400,000,000 people, but now disease has followed hunger to claim its toll.

A survey of the situation as it stands today shows that control of widespread epidemics has replaced starvation as the No. 1 problem of Eastern India.

No reliable famine fatality figures have been published but estimates based on the information available place the figure at somewhere between 20,000 and 70,000 deaths a month for the last five months.

But military aid, in the form of trucks bringing rice and doctors to fight disease, has brightened the picture somewhat. Hundreds of soldiers in trucks push into rural Bengal Province with rice. Five hundred civilian and army doctors with precious medicine have been on the job long enough to see encoouraging results.

While the arrival and distribution of rice brought at least temporary relief to the starving and dying people of Bengal the Viceroy, Field Marshal Viscount Wavell — who is devoting most of his time and energy to the problem—began tackling two dangerous developments.

Epidemics in the wake of the famine are increasing in the country villages and striking down people faster than starvation killed them. Bengal's bumper rice crop is ripening quickly but only a limited number of able-bodied men are available to harvest it. Cholera, typhoid, malaria and dysentery seem likely to have left manpower in Bengal too weak in numbers to harvest the largest crop in years.

Salvage Expert Finds Bonanza In Axis Hull Filled With Brandy And Nazi War Medals

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (AP). — Commodore William A. Sullivan, the United States Navy's salvage expert, likes to remember the holdfull of medals his men recovered from one vessel because they are tokens of Axis failure.

Back in the United States from the Mediterranean area for a visit, Sullivan told this story:—

When the Allies took Ferryville, on the Tunisian coast, they found among other wreckage in the harbor the Italian ship Ombrina. An Allied air raid had detonated her cargo of TNT, with entirely satisfactory results. But, by some chance, the cargo in the after hold remained intact—thousands of medals and a supply of brandy, with the bottles unbroken by the blast that blew the ship to pieces.

The medals were intended for presentation to Axis soldiers when they completed the conquest of North Africa. Sullivan wasn't sure what the brandy was for.

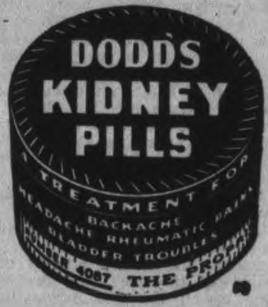
Canning Industry Has Bad Year

TORONTO, Dec. 8 (CP)—T. J. Medland, president of the Ontario Canned Foods Association, told an Association meeting here today that if ainple notice had been given concerning prices to be set for canned goods, and the size and quantity of containers that would be available, "it is fairly certain that the packs would have been larger" this year.

He said that the Association submitted recommendations on prices and subsidies for vegetable packing last winter, and on fruits May 1 to the Federal government but "the actual prices and subsidies were not forwarded to the industry until August 12, long after some packs already had been placed in cans."

He termed 1943 "a most disappointing year" for the canning industry, and that "growers sowed hundreds of acres of peas and corn which were never harvested and which were a total loss..." He said that the balance of the crops ran only from 35 to 40 per cent of normal.

Mr. Medland said the canning industry should know within a few weeks the government-set conditions under which it will have to operate in 1944, in order to make the necessary contracts and arrangements with growers.



Help the Young People To Health - Happiness

What a common sight to see a young person whose bloodless face and feeble frame are evidences of poor circulation and weakness where bounding health and rosy cheeks should reign.

Young people in such a condition are generally of an anæmic nature and require a preparation containing iron to improve the blood content.

Milburn's Health and Nerve Pills meet this requirement, as they contain three concentrated forms of iron of an easily assimilated nature together with other valuable ingredients indicated for building up the system and helping to improve the blood content.

HUNS MASS TROOPS ON TURK BORDER

Allies Push Steadily Nearer Rome

Montgomrey's Men Eight Miles From Pescara Port

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press War Correspondent

ALGIERS, Dec. 9 — (AP).—British troops have stormed and taken a ridge near captured Mount San Croce, 2½ miles to the southwest of the summit of Mount Camino, and are pressing on toward the Garigliano River a mile beyond, Allied headquarters announced to-day.

Lt.-Gen. Mark Clark's 5th Army troops, pushing down the western slopes of Mount Maggiore and of Mount Camino, where they have breached the mountain walls to the valley leading to Rome, wiped out all by-passed enemy pockets except on the northwestern tip of Maggiore incline and the village of Rocca D'Evandro, nestled against Camina, it was stated.

Farther to the northeast, American troops attacked and captured high ground west of Venafro, despite fierce resistance supported by heavy German artillery fire, and still farther north wiped out lines of Nazi pillboxes west of Filignano, in the westward push across the mountain backbone flanking Cassino.

Counters Futile

Improved weather and subsiding floods favored the fighting on the 5th Army front where it was disclosed the village of Calabritto on the northwestern slopes of Mount San Croce had changed hands several times in recent days before finally falling into firm Allied possession.

In the Venafro area the Germans launched several sharp counter-attacks, but the Americans prevented them from having conclusive results.

Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's 8th Army fought through downpours to improve its positions in the Orsogna area, 10 miles inland from the Adriatic, where both the sides used tanks in clashes throughout yesterday. Prisoners were captured from a German Alpine unit operating in the mountain areas.

(An Algiers radio broadcast said Gen. Montgomery's men had forced a new crossing of the Moro River in this area and had advanced to with in eight miles of Pescara, the Adriatic terminal of the trans-peninsula highday to Rome. A Morocco radio broadcast said the 8th Army had reached the suburbs of Ortona, about 8 miles south of Pescara.)

Montgomery Has Fire-Power to Sweep Huns But Bad Weather Delays Knockout Blow

TORONTO, Dec. 9 —(CP)—The weather in Italy is working "hand-in-hand" with the Boche," Matthew Halton, CBC war correspondent said today in a cable from 8th Army headquarters in Italy.

Lt.-Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery has enough fire-power to obliterate the enemy from his positions just beyond the Moro River —if only the weather would allow him to mount the attack, Halton wrote. Many vehicles are bogged down if they leave the roads and rivers are flooded.

A company of infantry fought like demons against great odds in a day-long battle Tuesday, he said. They took 59 German prisoners and killed or wounded 70. When surrounded by enemy tanks and infantry in a counter-attack, they fought their way out with incredibly small losses.

Turkish Leaders Say Little Admit Friendship For Allies

By WILLIAM B. KING—Associated Press Staff Writer

ANKARA, Dec. 9—(AP).—Foreign Minister Numan Menemencioglu said yesterday that President Ismet Inonu's conferences in Cairo with Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt had led Turkey closer to the Allied camp.

But he avoided the natural inference that this meant Turkey was nearer to participation in the war.

The Foreign Minister made the first authoritative statement since Inonu's return from Cairo. It had been eagerly awaited in the hope it would shed new light on just where Turkey stands in the war.

While he told Allied and Turkish newspapermen that Turkey's foreign policy remained unchanged following the Cairo conference, Menemencioglu added:

"Our conference was so intimate and friendly that we can say our relations to-day with America and Russia are almost the same as with England," with which Turkey has an alliance.

"Our alliance with England emerged from the conference considerably strengthened," the foreign minister continued, laying great stress on the word "considerably."

He said that five minutes after they met President Roosevelt and President Inonu were like friends of 40 years' standing.

"We have come back from Cairo very content and satisfied. The conference was one of the most important events of this phase of the war."

Wears Broad Smile.

The Turkish President arrived in Ankara yesterday to find an enthusiastic welcome awaiting him.

I have seen the President several times at public functions but never have I seen such a broad smile on his face.

The President was expected to devote a full day to conferences with his Cabinet Ministers and party leaders—and perhaps the military as well—in order to give them a first-hand account of what occurred and what decisions were reached at Cairo. It was expected any official announcement would be delayed until after these talks.

President Inonu's trip still is still generally interpreted here as one of the final developments to head Turkey into full-scale war as a partner of the United Nations against Germany."

Military Attend

A Turkish communique issued on the conference made no mention of military personnel or military discussions at the meetings, but there is an understanding here that military men actually were present. (An official Cairo announcement said that two aides de camp, wearing civilian clothes, formed the only military part of Inonu's entourage.)

The Turkish communique said Inonu's participation in the Cairo talks was a "striking manifestation of the alliance which unites Great Britain and Turkey and the solid friendship between Turkey and the United States and Russia."

There was general belief here that Inonu had been invited to the conference to discuss war plans for this part of the world, but a small group was said to maintain that Inonu had declined to put Turkey on a full war footing on the grounds she was not

Chinese Retake Changteh In Night Battle

CHUNGKING, Dec. 9—(AP)—The Chinese high command announced today that Chinese forces had recaptured the strategically important city of Changteh in Hunan province, which fell to the Japanese Dec. 3 after many days of bloody fighting.

The victorious Chinese stroke provided another decisive turn in the bitter battles in which China's vast and important "rice bowl" area is a major prize. Loss of Chantegh last week had opened the prospect of an enemy drive on Changsha, capital of the province.

A special Chinese communique this morning announced recapture of the city.

"News has just been received," it said, "that Chinese troops in northern Hunan re-occupied Chantegh at 4 o'clock this morning. They crossed the Yuan River last evening and broke into the city through its east and west gates early this morning."

Win At Several Spots

United States aircraft, which played a part in the defence of the city were said to have had a hand in its recapture.

Only a few hours before the special communique announcing the Changteh success, the Chinese high command had reported recapture of the town of Tehsan, a few miles to the south on the railway linking Changteh and Changsha.

A communique said Tehsan was taken by the Japanese Dec. 6. An immediate counter-attack by reinforced Chinese forces regained the town.

Chinese troops swept back the enemy on still other fronts, breaking into the important Japanese base of Singyang in southern Honan province and entering the suburbs of Suishien in Hupeh province. Yesterday's communique said a Japanese attack near Kingshan, 60 miles south of Suishien, had been beaten back.

State Of Emergency Exists All Traffic Halted Fear Stab At Dardanelles

Balkans Nervous Expecting Invasion By Allies At Several Points; Turks Ready To Block Any German Move

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 9—(AP).—Turkey and Germany have stationed troops along the opposite sides of the Turkish border facing Bulgaria and Greece, a state of emergency has been declared along the boundary and all traffic has been halted, reports from Berne, Switzerland, and Sofia, Bulgaria, said today.

Dispatches said the border measures had been ordered as nervousness over a possible Allied invasion mounted throughout the Balkans.

The newspaper Svenska Dagbladet's Berne correspondent said that the possibility was not being overlooked of a German invasion of European Turkey to reach the Dardanelles, especially in view of reports that the Allies have promised increased assistance to Russia by way of the Dardanelles.

He quoted reports from Ankara and a Sofia dispatch from the southeastern Europe information bureau that the state of emergency had been declared along the border.

The Svenska Dagbladet correspondent said a strong detachment of Turkish troops had taken up positions along the entire border, and that two German divisions had been moved up to the Bulgarian border against any attempted Allied invasion through Turkey.

Other Berne reports said there was tense expectancy throughout southeastern Europe that Turkey would take a more active part in the war.

Turks Get Planes

Large supplies of weapons and hundreds of planes were reported to have reached Turkey recently.

Reports from Berlin said some sources there expressed the belief that the talk of a Balkan invasion might be part of an Allied nerve war to screen even more important operations in other theatres.

Disturbances within Bulgaria and roundups of hundreds of persons by the German Gestapo and Bulgarian Army Police were reported also, and a Budapest dispatch to the Stockholm newspaper Social Demokraten said many arrests had been made following demonstrations at Sofia.

The newspaper said it had learned from private sources that the situation was desperate in the Bulgarian Army, with many soldiers deserting to the Greek and Yugoslav guerilla forces.

Swedish correspondents in Berlin quoted a foreign office spokesman as saying that Germany still has a non-aggression pact with Turkey and expected to make no comment on the Inonu-Churchill-Roosevelt talks until the Turks make some move or declaration.

713 Canadians Killed; 2,625 Wounded

OTTAWA, Dec. 9 (CP)—Deaths among Canadian Army personnel in the Mediterranean war theatre from July 10 to Nov. 23 number 713, with the grand total of casualties 3,533, defence headquarters announced today.

The period covers the campaign in Sicily in July and the advance from the toe of Italy.

Altogether the wounded total 2,625 and the missing 195.

Casualties in Sicily were much heavier for the Canadians than in the more prolonged operations which have since taken place on the mainland, the statement indicated.

The dead in Sicily numbered 475 and on the mainland 238. Wounded in Sicily numbered 1,814 and 811 were wounded on the mainland. Of the missing, 150 were reported from Sicily and 45 from the mainland.

An army spokesman said it is not known whether these Canadian casualties were included in the total of British casualties reported from London yesterday for the operations in Italy. These figures gave British losses from Sept. 3, date of invasion of the mainland, as: dead 3,212; wounded 9,709; missing 3,153.

Lumping British and available American figures together, the London dispatch placed total British-

Nazi Losses Heavy In Yugoslavia

LONDON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Yugoslav Partisans fought stubbornly to check Marshal Erwin Rommel's new offensive in Bosnia today as the Germans threw fresh troops in to their drive to crush the Partisan armies, according to a broadcast bulletin from Gen. Josip Broz' (Tito's) headquarters.

The communique said the campaign is costing the Germans heavily in men and reported that the Yugoslavs have launched an offensive of their own in the Idia sector in Slovenia, 23 miles from Llubljana and the site of Europe's second-largest mercury mines.

Yugoslav Partisans smashed German railroad lines in this area, the bulletin said, adding that traffic is at a standstill between Ljubljana and Trieste and throughout the adjacent coastal sectors.

Destruction of a bridge on the Llubljana-Trieste line and the taking of prisoners and quantities of broadcast that the German offensive war material were reported.

The Berlin radio asserted in a had routed some Partisan columns in Montenegro, killing 200 Yugoslavs and taking 2,000 prisoners.

Japs Massacre 50,000 Chinese Refugees Kidnap Thousands Of Girls Aged 9 to 15

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9.—(AP).—Dr. Ralph Phillips, returned missionary, told a State Legislative committee yesterday that he saw Japanese take 50,000 Chinese from a refugee camp he and his wife had helped to operate near Nanking, "herd them together and shoot them down."

Some, he said, were only slightly wounded and were burned alive when Japanese set fire to the mass of bodies.

"The Japanese also took many thousands of young girls between the ages of nine and 15 and turned them over to 58,000 Jap soldiers for a week," he testified.

"Those girls who still were alive at the close of that week were put to death in the most cruel and unspeakable manner."

He and his wife, who about 17 years ago founded "Phillips House," a missionary home in Hong Kong, returned to the United States in 1941.

Revised Wage-Control Order To Be Effective Feb. 15

OTTAWA, Dec. 9—(CP).—Labor Minister Mitchell today made public a revised wage-control board, providing for incorporation of the cost-of-living bonus in basic wages, and altering the method of handling wage adjustments with a view to tighter stabilization of the cost of living.

Employers are required to have rates of pay adjusted in accordance with the new order from the first payroll period commencing on or after Feb. 15, 1944.

As forecast by Prime Minister Mackenzie King in his radio address last Saturday night, the order bases future upward wage adjustments on rectification of "gross inequality or gross injustice." Coupled with that is the ability of the employer to pay an increase without raising prices.

6-Member Board.

"Similar provisions are made with regard to wage decreases," the Labor Minister's statement said.

Previously wages might be increased if they were found to be low as compared with those "generally prevailing for the same or substantially similar jobs" in the same or a comparable locality. That procedure no longer is necessary.

Mr. Mitchell said the National War Labor Board, now comprising three members, will become a six-member board. One shall be chairman and one vice-chairman. The other members are to be "representative of (though not officially representing) the general public (two members), employers and employees respectively."

"In order to secure uniformity of practice, the National Board is given closer supervision over the Regional War Labor Boards, which are required to report all their decisions and directions to the National Board for review."

The order provides that every employer is required to establish basic wage rates for his employees by including in existing authorized wage rates the amount of the existing authorized cost-of-living bonus.

In the case of hourly-rated employees, the amount to be added to the basic wage rates will be arrived at by dividing the amount of the authorized bonus by the number of normal working hours in each week.

May Appeal Changes.

When payment is on the daily rate the increase will be made by adding the proportion of the daily amount of the bonus; and if a weekly rate by adding the amount of bonus.

If payment is on a monthly rate, the increase will be on the basis of multiplying the amount of the weekly bonus by 4 1-3.

The National Board is required to review decisions and directions of regional boards and may "of its own initiative," vary or revoke such decisions or directions.

Any person interested in any decision or direction of a regional

Tories Resent CBC Action Against Bracken

OTTAWA, Dec. 9—(CP).—A controversy upon the merits of the policy followed by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's Board of Governors in dealing with broadcasts by leaders of the various political parties has arisen following the corporation's decision not to carry over the air a speech by John Bracken, National leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, at Hamilton tomorrow.

In an exchange of correspondence with Ross M. Brown, director of public relations for the party, Dr. Augustin Frigon, acting general manager of the CBC, said the corporation would make its national network available to Mr. Bracken "on the understanding that the address is not of a political nature, but will be in the form of a report of stewardship."

(The correspondence was made public yesterday by Dominion headquarters of the Progressive Conservative Party).

Letters Fiery.

In a letter to Dr. Frigon dated Dec. 8, Mr. Brown said that, as had been indicated previously, Mr. Bracken would be speaking Friday of his plans for "our Canada of the future" as well as giving an account of his stewardship of the past year.

"In its proper connotation," Mr Brown's letter continued, "anything which Mr. Bracken says in this connection either of the past or future, could be considered of a political nature...But may I make plain to you that we consider Mr. Bracken's discussion of his plans 'political' in the widest interpretation of the word. It is not our purpose to leave you under any misunderstanding in this regard."

In a subsequent letter to Dr. Frigon, Mr. Brown said that while he would forward a complete text of Mr. Bracken's address when it was available, he "regretted very much"

Christmas Bonuses Not To Exceed $25

OTTAWA, Dec. 9 — (CP). — Christmas bonuses are still legal under the Government's new wage control order— providing they do not exceed $25.00.

The order provides "no employer shall make any gratuitous payment or other gift of any kind whatsoever having a pecuniary value, other than a monetary Christmas gift not in excess of $25.00."

Employers who paid bonuses in excess of $25.00 prior to November 15, 1941, may continue to do so, providing the current payment does not exceed the established bonus.

Reds Retreat Again At Kiev Bulge

Fighting See-Saws Along Dnieper Both Show Gains

By HENRY CASSIDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Dec. 9 (AP)—Smashing Red Army gains which outflanked the strategic Dnieper Bend rail centre of Znemanka and severed the important Znemanka-Nikolaev railroad threatened the encirclement today of tens of thousands of Germans concentrated on the west bank of the Lower Dnieper River.

Russian tank forces spearheading infantry columns outflanked Znamenka by capturing the town of Sharovka, 15 miles to the south, after a swift 15-mile advance from Pantaevka, a Soviet communique announced. Soviet troops also cut a branch of the Znamenka-Nikolaev road running eastward to the iron and manganese centre of Krivoi Rog, which the Germans have been tenaciously holding for weeks against repeated Russian thrusts.

Today the Germans held but one rail escape route from Znamenka, a line running west to Kirovograd, and this was threatened by yesterday's capture of Elizavetgradka, 13 miles northeast of Znamenka and five miles north of the Kirivograd spur.

Against these Red Army successes, gained in the bitter cold of the Russian winter, troops of Gen. Nikolai Vatutin's First Ukrainian Army in the Kiev bulge north of Chernyakhow were falling back before a mighty German drive which frontline dispatches said was powered by upwards of 2,000 heavy tanks. It was the second Russian retreat in this sector in two days.

Vatutin has moved in mobile artillery over miles of hub-deep mud roads to meet the onslaught and front advices said his lines remain intact, although a "number of populated places" had been evacuated in favor of strong positions on a new defence line.

A Berlin broadcast claimed that the Germans in 48 hours had advanced 25 miles northeast of Zhitomir in the Kiev bulge. Advances also were claimed south of Korosten. The German communique said "stubborn resistance" was encountered.

The German communique emphasized the fighting in the Dnieper bend where the Russians were declared attacking under cover of a dense fog. A transocean dispatch said "the battle is swaying to and fro" in mire caused by late autumn rains in the general area bounded by Cherkasy, Smela, Znamenka and Kremenchug.

The Germans admitted "small penetrations" in their White Russian lines between the Privet and Berezina Rivers and said that the Soviets were massing for a new assault on Rogachev.

Britain Accepts Spain's Apology

LONDON, Dec. 9.— (CP).—The British government has received an apology from the Spanish government for insults to the British vice-consul and members of nis family at the hands of uniformed Spanish Falangists at Zaragoza on Nov. 19, it was learned to-day.

Gen. Francisco Gomez Jordana, Spanish foreign minister, has conveyed his government's apology to Sir Samuel Hoare, British ambassador, with assurances the guilty Falangists would be punished.

Britain demanded the apology after learning that uniformed members of the Government party broke into the consulate and heaped abuse upon the British vice-consul and his family.

Sweden Denies Death Of Ciano

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 9—(AP). — The Rome correspondent of Goeteborg's Handelsoch Soefartstidning reported today that Count Galeazzo Ciano, former Italian Foreign Minister, will be tried soon with five or six other former members of the Fascist Grand Council which ousted Mussolini.

The court session will be secret, the dispatch said, and the location of the trial was undisclosed. (This indicated there was no basis for rumors heard several days ago along the Swiss-Italian frontier to the effect that Ciano already had been tried and executed by a firing squad. The Berlin radio has denied these rumors.)

Britain Takes Stern View

Dissension In Yugo-Slavia Irks Allied Heads

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP).—Possibility that Britain may adopt a sterner attitude toward King Peter's Yugoslav government in Cairo was seen in diplomatic quarters here today following the disclosure that Partisan leader Tito is now getting the bulk of British support in Yugoslavia.

Tito, whose real name is Josip Broz, heads the Yugoslav Partisans who recently formed their own provisional government opposed to that of King Peter. The King's government is recognized by Britain, the United States and by Russia.

Dissension between Tito's force and the rival Chetnik troops of General Draja Mihailovich (King Peter's Minister of war) has been a sore spot to the Allies and becomes increasingly acute as the time for an expected Balkan invasion nears.

Minister of State Richard K. Law told Commons that it was the policy of Britain to prosecute the war against Germany in every way and "we are giving the Partisans more support than Mihailovich for the simple reason that resistance of the Partisan forces to the Germans is very much greater."

Informed sources here construe Law's statement as a warning to the Mihailovich faction to get on with the fighting.

Allies to Avoid Mistakes of 1918

Conference Manoeuvres United Nations In Advantageous Position

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

When you put the microscope on the unqualified Allied decisions of Cairo and Teheran to smash Japan and Germany, it becomes apparent that the United Nations have been manoeuvred into a highly-adventageous position, both as regards the conduct of the war and the enforcement of the peace.

The way things stand our enemies have a choice of these alternatives:

1. A fight to a bloody finish. 2. Unconditional surrender, which means holding their noses and swallowing any medicine we hand 'em.

Under either alternative we shall have avoided the Allied mistake of 1918, when we agreed to an armistice and as a result got a half-baked peace which was bound to result in another war. I dare say that right now the Allies could get a similar bid for peace from the German people by angling with appeasement bait, but the edicts of Cairo and Teheran seem to mean that we don't want bids thus purchased.

To Be Done Properly

We could have had a real peace after the last war by coupling of Wilson's 14 points with an unconditional surrender which would have sent Allied troops of occupation marching through Unter Den Linden. We now have the Atlantic Charter and the Four Freedoms as assurance of justice for all—but this time the Allies are going to see that their just peace is not sowed on stony ground.

This program of carrying the war through to a finish may mean fighting somewhat longer. By ensuring lasting peace, however, it will be immeasurably cheaper in lives, material resources and disorganization of society.

While it may seem better not to hand the German people engraved invitations to sue for the peace, there would seem to be no reason why we shouldn't encourage Hitler's satellites to abandon him.

Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary all have been trying to escape Hitler's clutches for a long time. These little countries are terrified that they may get caught in an Allied-Turkish drive up through the peninsula. There's nothing to be lost in encouraging them to quit, thereby pulling the props from under the Fuehrer in southeastern Europe.

Suffers Breakdown

BRADFORD, England, Dec. 9 —(CP)—The Bishop of Bradford, Rt. Rev. Alfred Blunt, has suffered a nervous breakdown "and gone away for a complete rest," it was announced today at a Diocesan conference. The Bishop brought the romance between King Edward VIII and Mrs. Wallis Wartfield Simpson into the open with a critical sermon Dec. 1, 1936.

Form Crown Assets Firm

To Dispose Of All Surplus War Materials

OTTAWA, Dec. 9 —(CP)—Establishment of a "crown assets allocation committee" which, with the proposed "War Assets Corporation Ltd." will operate in the disposal of surplus war equipment and supplies, is provided for under an order-in-council made public today.

The proposal to create the corporation was announced by the prime minister Nov. 30.

The new committee will include representatives of the departments of external affairs, munitions and supply, defence, finance and public works, and the prices board. On it also will be a full-time paid member who will be chairman, and representatives of labor, agriculture and the householders of Canada who will be chosen by the governor-in-council.

The president of the War Assets Corp. will also be a member.

Munitions Minister Howe is authorized in the same order to proceed with incorporation of War Assets Corp. as a crown company. He may advance to it a maximum of $5,000,000 for working capital and other purposes.

Japs Lose 6 Ships, 72 Planes As U.S. Carrier Force Slashes at Marshall Islands

Full Scale Buttle Gives Americans Navy-Air Victory

PEARL HARBOR, Dec. 9 (AP). —Japan's hard hit navy and air force, trying to bolster the Marshall islands against possible invasion by Allied forces on the adjacent Gilbert islands, have lost six more ships and 72 more airplanes.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced U.S. carrier task forces raked the enemy-held island group last Saturday in a moonlight attack, sank two light criusers, one oil tanker and three cargo transports, downed 72 Japanese planes which rose to intercept the attackers and then beat off a seven and one-half hour assault by the heavy torpedo bombers as the task forces left the scene.

One United States ship was slightly damaged, Nimitz said and "light" aircraft losses were sustained.

Three Others Hit

In addition to the six Japanese ships sunk, Nimitz said a troop transport and two cargo ships were damaged. Presence of the troop ship indicated the enemy may be attempting to reinforce the Japanese garrisons on the islands. Nimitz did not say, however whether the troop ships was loaded or empty.

Wotje, principal Japanese base in the Marshalls and Kwajalein Atoll were the main targets of the raiders.

Of the 72 planes shot down, 64 were destroyed in combat with the United States carrier aircraft.

After the raid, Japanese airmen made nuisance raids on forces in the Gilberts.

Commander of the raiding force on the Marshalls was Rear Admiral Charles A. Pownal, who also headed the raid on Marcus island far to the northwest, last August 30.

858,860 Aussies Now In Uniform

SYDNEY, Australia, Dec. 9 — (CP Cable.) —Prime Minister Curtin, in a review of Australia's achievements since outbreak of the Pacific war two years ago to-day said that enlistments for the three fighting forces were 858,860.

Of these, he said, 607,000 were volunteers to fight anywhere, the others being in the conscripted militia which may be used only in Australia and Pacific territories as outlined by Act of Parliament.

The working male population in direct war work, he said, is 118,100 and women 191,000.

Nazis Expect Invasion Thrust

CAIRO, Dec. 8 (delayed)—(AP)—Recent Allied air assaults on targets in Yugoslavia, particularly in Croatia, apparently have convinced the Germans and their satellites that the Allies are planning an invasion thrust against the Dalmatian coast, advices from Istanbul said today.

These reports said the Croatian puppet premier, Ante Pavelic, and Field Marshal Milan Nedic, commander of Serbian elements fighting beside the Germans, had been summoned to Semlin to discuss with the Nazis measures to be taken to meet the threat.

Hans Neybaucher, German delegate general to the Balkans, was said to have been present at the meeting.

Recent Allied bombing raids have been concentrated largely on harbors along the Dalmatian coast and on railways leading inland from Fiume and Suska. The Istanbul reports said the raids had been highly successful and that communications between Croatia and northern Italy had been badly disrupted.

Red Cross Nurse Honored By King

LONDON, Dec. 9—(CP)—A gentle, gray-haired Red Cross nurse—Mrs. Edith Bennett McLean—who has braved gunfire and undergone imprisonment in a German prison ship and concentration camp has been cited by the King for her courage.

Mrs. McLean was aboard a British passenger ship in the Indian Ocean when it was attacked by a German armed raider and its captain mortally wounded.

The nurse, who saw service in the last war, dashed to the ship's bridge and took up her post at the captain's side. While shells exploded around her she applied a tourniquet to his shattered legs. Just before the captain died in a lifeboat, he instructed her to tear up his secret papers, which she did, in defiance of their Nazi captors.

With the rest of the ship's company who survived the attack she spent nearly three months as prisoners on a tanker which was tender to a German pocket battleship, believed to be the Admiral Scheer. Later they were transferred via Bordeaux to a German prison camp, and repatriated this spring.

Girls' Club Shown How To Use Patterns

SPRINGVILLE, Dec. 9 (ENS).—The second meeting of the newly-formed junior girls' club was held at the home of the leader, Mrs. Gordon Robinson.

The president, Eleanor Whitfield, occupied the chair. The roll call, read by Audrey Kelk, was responded to by a point to remember when buying material.

The name for the club is to be the Springville Stitch and Chatter Club.

Mrs. Robinson led a discussion on the different types of dresses and the material suitable for each. How to use a pattern and how to adjust it, according to size, was demonstrated. The members learned how to make bound button holes.

The next meeting, on December 15, will also be held at Mrs. Robinson's.

Crediton Merchant Pays High Tribute To Syntona

Suffered Constantly With Acid, Upset Stomach; Gas, Nausea and Heartburn. Had Pains in Shoulders and Arms. Nerves Were Tense; Couldn't Sleep.

The sponsors wish to acknowledge the many encouraging reports recently received and are happy to know that this great herbal compound is bringing better health and happiness to so many local men and women whom the readers of this page know personally. To-day, we take pleasure in quoting the experience of Mr. Freeman W. Morlock, well-known shoe merchant of Crediton, Ontario. Read this sincere statement:

"In the past year or so, I suffered greatly with acid indigestion, gas and heartburn. I was subject to sharp cramps and there was almost constantly a full, uncomfortable feeling in my stomach and chest. After eating, there seemed to be a lump in my throat and sour liquids would rise from my stomach and make me feel nauseated. More recently, pains set into my shoulders and arms, and my nerves began to trouble me, so I couldn't sleep well.

"I was advised to take a good tonic and having heard about how Syntona helped friends of mine, I began taking it a few weeks ago. In that short time Syntona has done for me everything that was claimed for it. I can eat heartily now and my food digests without any of the former trouble. I got relief from the rheumatism in my shoulders and arms, my nerves are more relaxed, and I sleep better. I think Syntona is a grand medicine, and I have already recommended it to many of my friends."

MR. FREEMAN MORLOCK

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store. Find out how it will help you, too.—(Advt.)

Bombers Tearing Great Holes In Island Forts

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Dec. 9 — (AP)—One of the most sustained air bombardments of the Southwest Pacific war is levelling Japanese shore defences on New Britain Island in the very area where it is open to invasion by Allied troops on New Guinea.

Since the last week of November, more than 1,300 tons of explosives have ripped at gun positions and supply dumps even as Australians enlarged the potential jumping off place on New Guinea in hard fighting on the Huon Peninsula.

The bombardments were opened against Gasmata, an air base and plantation area on the south-central coast which was hit with more than 400 tons in six raids. It also was shelled by destroyers.

Then the bombers switched to the Cape Gloucester area on New Britain's western tip and 195 tons of bombs were dumped there.

No Plane Opposition

In all these raids, the only opposition mentioned has been anti-aircraft fire.

The bomber sector is on the opposite end of the 300-mile-long island from Rabaul, once Japan's biggest air and shipping fortress short of Truk in the area.

In the Huon Peninsula campaign, the latest reports told of Aussies extending their hold along the coast north of Finschhafen while in the inland jungles other ground forces appeared on the verge of capturing the trail juncture village of Wareo.

In the Northern Solomons, as United States ground forces on Bougainville extended their beachhead at Empress Augusta Bay, the American Air Force kept nearby enemy bases inoperative with raids on north and southern ends of the island and on the east-central coast at Kieta.

British Girls' Legs Warmer This Winter

LONDON, Dec. 9—(CP)—Many British women who bravely faced last winter with bare legs will wear stockings this year, due to the recently lowered coupon value.

This year three coupons will buy two pairs of semi-fashioned stockings. Last year, two coupons bought one pair of the finer, full-fashioned stockings but English women have become attached to the more sturdy, less glamorous mesh tubes.

Stylists over here say that although wartime stockings may not do anything for a girl's legs, they are actually longer wearing and of better quality than peacetime legwear.

elled route to Greece again yesterday, attacking enemy airfields at Elevsis and Tatoi, west and north of Athens, respectively.

Bitter fighting also continued on the 8th Army front, where Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's troops were reported by the Berlin radio as assaulting enemy positions on the eastern slopes of the Maiella mountains west of Casoli, approximately 15 miles from the Adriatic.

Official accounts of the fighting noted fierce enemy resistance, that was causing German commanders to lose heavily in attempts to halt the British advance. Badly smashed in the attempt was the crack German 69th infantry division and it has been replaced. One battalion was said to have lost every officer.

An Allied bombing force ranged far northward to attack harbor installations and shipping at San Stefano, 80 miles northwest of Rome.

The air command said that in both this and the raids on the Greek airfields the targets were well covered.

Lose 7 Planes

Two-engined bombers, in triple forays, hit the railway centre at Orta, inland north of Rome, Civitavecchia, port 45 miles northwest of the Italian capital, and the Yugoslav port of Split. Light aircraft shot up enemy ground positions and communications in the battle areas.

Four enemy aircraft were destroyed during the day's operations and seven Allied planes were missing.

One heavy bomber was lost on the Elevsis raid where thousands of fragmentation bombs were sprinkled among concentration of German planes, many of them large transports.

Bombers also scattered destruction among planes at Tatoi, a base for German Junkers 88 twin-engined bombers.

Several ships in the harbor at San Stefano and railroads nearby were hit by other formations and heavy smoke indicated a tanker was set on fire. A large explosion indicated an ammunition dump on the docks was hit.

Four railway bridges between Orbetello and Montalto de Castro were bombed.

British Victories Cause Savings Drop

LONDON—(CP).— British military successes have resulted in a "disturbing" drop in small savings in the last four months, from £15,-500,000 ($69,750,000) to £11,500,000, says Lord Kindersley, chairman of the National Savings committee.

"We must get our saving results into step with the tremendous efforts which the fighting forces are making, and the still greater efforts which they will soon be called upon to make," he said.

Mrs. P. D. Ross Dies Active In Red Cross

OTTAWA, Dec. 9 —(CP). — Mrs. Mary Ross, wife of P. D. Ross, publisher of the Ottawa Journal, died early to-day. A semi-invalid for some years, she was in her 70's.

The former Mary Littlejohn, Mrs. Ross was married in 1891, the year her husband purchased the Ottawa Journal.

For many years she was prominent in activities of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, the Canadian Red Cross Society, and Ottawa Women's Canadian Club.

Guard Uses Belt To Attack Bull

CHESTER, England, Dec. 9—(CP)—Pte. G. Griffiths' Home Guard training came in handy when an infuriated bull charged down a side street here, endangering a number of children playing on the sidewalk. He stood his ground and attacked the bull with his belt, diverting its attention and enabling the children to escape. He was gored during the battle and had to be taken to the hospital.

When word reached Lt.-Gen. E. C. A. Schreiber, general officer in command, Western Command, an order was issued expressing the general's appreciation of the Home Guard's courage.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Dec. 9—(CP).—Dr. S. S. Lumb of Bancroft, 60 miles north of here, in his warden's address to Hastings County Council yesterday, criticized the disparity between prices paid farmers for their produce and the rising cost of labor. He advocated the proposed price floor for farm prices as a remedy.

Fleet Units Dominate Coastal Area

Cairo Conference Indicates Action Brewing

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press War Correspondent

LONDON, Dec. 9—(CP Cable)—Allied invasion of the Balkans, which may be one dramatic development of the Cairo Conference between Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and President Inonu of Turkey, could involve troops from the Central Mediterannean force including Canadians now in Italy in considerable strength.

Even if Turkey would not enter the war, one phase of a Balkan attack could be made from Italy because it is only about 100 miles across the Adriatic to the Yugoslav coast. This would be a feasible night run for invasion craft.

Practically all the Canadian forces in Italy are highly trained in invasion operations and there are several British divisions in the Central Mediterranean skilled in assault from the sea.

Barges Available

During September large fleets of landing craft were concentrated in the Central Mediterranean for the Allied landings at Reggio Calabria and Salerno and these craft have not been used since except for the comparatively small landing by British forces at Termoli on the Adriatic in the early stages of the Italian campaign.

The fleet might now be earmarked for operations against the Balkan coast.

British naval craft have been up and down the coast unmolested for the last few months. British army laision officers now are established with the Partisan army of Gen. Josip Broz (Tito) in the Yugoslav mountains and islands along the board may appeal to the National Board, if leave is granted by the Regional or National Board.

The National Board may authorize or direct an employer to increase a wage rate established under the new order only "if and to the extent that the National Board finds that such increased rate or range is necessary to rectify a gross inequality or a gross injustice and is almost consistent with the ability of the employer to pay the increase in cost to which such increase may give rise in the business or industry in which the rate or range is to be paid, without increasing the price of the product therefrom or of the services rendered therein."

The National Board may direct an employer to decrease a single rate or the rates within a range established by him under the order only "if and to the extent that the National Board finds that the rate or range is so high that it is unsound or causes gross inequalities.

The National Board may direct an employer to introduce or extend an incentive-wage system in the place of or to be paid in conjunction with a time-wage system for any occupational classification where the Board considers that such action is practicable and that it will increase the volume or quality of production without increasing the employer's cost of production per unit.

Employer Has Leeway.

Without direction from the National Board, an employer may increase a wage rate paiad to an employee to the minimum wage rate for such employee establisned at any time by powers conferred under Provincial minimum wage legislation, if such minimum rate is not more than 35 cents an hour, or such higher rate per hour established for such an employee under the legislation on Nov. 15, 1941.

The order provides "more rigid" penalties for both employers and employees for violation or evasion of its provisions, Mr. Mitchell said.

Any employer who causes a lockout of his employees to deter or prevent employees making an application to a War Labor Board constituted under the order, or who fails to comply with directions given under the order, is liable to a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $5,000, or to imprisonment for not less than one month or more than one year, or to both fine and imprisonment. Each payment of wages to an employee in contravention of the order will constitute a separate offence.

In any prosecution under the order concerning the payment of wages by an employer, the burden of proof that the payment was in accordance with the order will be on the accused.

Every employer who discharges, threatens to discharge, or discriminates against an employee who has given any information to a War Labor Board on wages or rates, or has taken part in an application to a Board, is liable to similar penalties, provided it will be a good defence if it proved the actions complained of were not concerned with any application to a Board.

Every employee who strikes to obtain an increase in wage rates established under the order, to secure an alteration in employment terms which would increase the rate or for the purpose of obtaining a direction from a War Labor Board or influencing its decision will be liable to a fine of not less than $25 and not more than $100, or to imprisonment for not less than one month and more than three months, or both such fine and imprisonment, in respect of each day in which he participates in a strike. No fine of more than $1,000 or imprisonment for a term of more than one year may be imposed.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Dec. 9 — (CP). — Rye futures followed an irregular trend yesterday during a fairly active session on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, with American houses making large purchases.

Wheat trading was almost a blank although reports from Lakehead ports said vessels were still loading grain for eastern destinations. Final rye prices were ¼ to ⅜ cent a bushel higher.

Some of the American buying in the rye pit was believed to be in connection with the inter-market spreading with Chicago.

The May future received the most attention by traders and at one stage hit a new seasonal high of $1.17½.

Call Married Men

LONDON, Ont., Dec. 9 —(CP).—Married men who are 30 years of age are now receiving notice to report for medical examinations preceding call-up for compulsory military service, officials of the Mobilization Board for Division "A" (Western Ontario) said Tuesday. Thirty-year-olds are in the top bracket of married men subject to call-up under present regulations. Single men may be called up to 40 years of age.

Ralston Visits Italian Front Line

WITH THE CANADIANS IN ITALY, Nov. 26.—(Delayed).—(CP Cable.)—Canada's Defence Minister, Col. J. L. Ralston, was within range of enemy artillery to-day as he concluded his visit to the Canadians in Italy by driving miles through mountains to the forward area where the troops have been patrolling in rain, mud and cold weather.

Only an hour or two before his arrival, German guns carried out ranging shots in the area and one shell dropped on a neighbouring ridge.

Ralston extended his visit to the Canadian fighting area by a day to make this forward trip after his original request for a look at the men on the front line had been turned down by the Canadian commander on the ground that it might distract the troops from their work.

that the "existing regulations of the Corporation leave themselves open to the interpretation which you feel compelled to place upon them.

". . . Mr. Bracken has said things which need saying in this Canada of ours, and they will be said in spite of the CBC's prohibition against the network broadcast of his words. The day will come when the people will no longer tolerate these conditions and changes will be made."

The CBC then said in a statement that its decision not to broadcast Mr. Bracken's forthcoming speech was "not a case of censorship but of acceptance of broadcast material in compliance with the stated policy of the CBC."

Mr. Brown, in a statement issued on behalf of the Progressive Conservative party last night, said "it would require the politics of a governor of the CBC to straddle the conditions thus imposed on Mr. Bracken or any other political leader who was not subservient to the Liberal machine," and added, ". . . . if that is not official licensing of Mr. Bracken's tongue then the standard dictionaries will require re-editing."

DUCHESS IS ILL.

LONDON, Dec. 9.— (CP).— The Duchess of Kent is ill with influenza, a wave of which has been spreading through Britain in recent weeks, it was disclosed to-day. A bulletin said the illness is "taking a normal course."

Meanwhile the King, who became ill earlier in the week, was reported making good progress.

John A. Smith Passes Away

CAMPBELLFORD, Dec. 9 (ENS) —A clerk and merchant in this town practically his entire lifetime John A. Smith, 72, passed away at his home on Sebastopol street Wednesday morning, following a lengthy illness. A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith the deceased spent his entire life in Campbellford and got his introduction to the retail trade when as a boy he began working in the general store of the late Adam Dinwoodie. From there Mr. Smith went to work for the late W. A. Hume and was a clerk in this store for nearly 15 years. About 1908 Mr. Smith and his brother-in-law, George Haig, formed a partnership known as Smith and Haig and they operated a grocery and china business which they sold ten years later. From that time until about a year ago, when his health began to fail, Mr. Smith was employed as a clerk at the J. A. Irwin store.

Mr. Smith married Elizabeth Haig of this town about 45 years ago. He was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. There survive besides his widow, one son, Joseph of town, a sister, Mrs. Charles Horseman, and two brothers, James of Campbellford, Joseph of Cedar Creek. Mr. Smith had the respect and friendship of many local citizens and his passing removes one more of the town's familiar figures from its business section.

The funeral will be conducted from the family residence on Friday afternoon by Rev. J. O. Ralston, and interment will be made in Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Roseneath W.M.S. Reaches Allocation

ROSENEATH, Dec. 9.—(ENS).— The Christmas meeting of the W M.S. of the United church was held on Tuesday afternoon in Mrs. C W. Varcoe's home. Mrs. R. Crego, president, presided and following the Scripture reading by Mrs. Andrew Brown, told the story of the Nativity.

"A Gift to the Christ Child" was the title of a story told by Mrs . Brisbin.

In a business session the treasurer, Mrs. J. A. Nichol announced the allocation of $165.00 had been reached. It was decided that a special offering be taken at the January meeting and given to the building fund of the church at Batawa.

Mrs. A. J. Campbell read 'Song From Heaven,' a condensation from the book, 'Silent Night' by Hertha Pauli, telling of the origin of the hymn 'Silent Night,' written in 1818 by Father Joseph Mohran, Austrian

Tighten Rationing

TORONTO, Dec. 9—(CP). —Rationing in Canada is likely to become tighter, John O'Neill of the Prices Board said last night in an address to the Weston Business Men's Association. He stressed that approximately 750,000 of Canada's 12,000,000 population had been taken from production jobs to serve in the armed forces.

Flemings Group Send Christmas Boxes

HASTINGS, Dec. 9 — (ENS).— Mrs. Herman Johnston was hostess to the Red Cross of the Fleming's Circle for their regular December meeting. There were eight member present and two visitors. The president, Mrs. H. Johnston presided. The ladies quilted a fancy Dresden Plate quilt for a lady in Toronto. It was decided to send a Christmas box to each of the boys both overseas and stationed in Canada from their group, A Pot Luck dinner was enjoyed by all those present. The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Forde and will be a pot luck dinner and quilting.

A fowl dinner was enjoyed recently in the town hall by the patrons and directors of the Ormonde Dairy. After the dinner, Jack Marshall's orcehstra provided music for round and square dancing which was enjoyed by a large crowd. Fred Lynch, president of the board thanked all responsible for the successful evening.

Y.P. Joint Meeing

The Young People of St. Andrew's Presbyterian and the Saint George's Anglican Churches met at Trinity United Church to hold a joint meeting.

There was a large number of young people present and the president Leonard Metcalfe of Trinity United Church welcomed the guests. The presidents of each of the other societies replied.

92 Blood Donors At Clinic In Cobourg

COBOURG, Dec. 9—(ENS)—Ninety-two blood donors were on hand for the clinic held yesterday in the basement of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The response was very gratifying in view of the large number who are laid up with flu. Mrs. J. W. Spragge was in charge of the general arrangements and Miss Beryl Kelly was in charge of the nurses. The following nurses assisted at the clinic:

Mrs. M Larkin, Miss M. Kernaghan, Mrs. L. Gemmell, Mrs. A. Labrash, Mrs. E. Henry, Mrs. D. Arkless, Miss D. Ryan, Mrs. N. Erskine, Mrs. H. Hoselton, Mrs. J. Skitch, Miss E. Burnham and Mrs. D. Downs.

William Boulton Is Laid To Rest

COBOURG, Dec. 9—(ENS)—The late William Boulton, Confederation Life Insurance executive, who died this week in Cobourg General Hospital, was buried yesterday afternoon in Cobourg Union Cemetery. Rev. W. P. Woodger of Trinity United Church conducted the funeral service.

Mr. Boulton was born in England and was educated in England, Canada and the United States, being a graduate of Columbia University with B.A. Ph.D. degrees. He was connected with the Confederation Life Insurance Co. for many years, and when he retired about five years ago he was superintendent of agencies. For the past four years he has resided in Cobourg, but previously lived in Toronto and Peterborough.

The late Mr. Bolton travelled extensively throughout the world, including the Orient and was a brilliant conversationalist. He was a Scottish Rite, 32nd degree Mason and was affiliated with the Peterborough Lodge. He is survived by his widow, Janet A. Livingstone; a daughter, Mary with the R.C.A.F. stationed at Victoria, B.C. and a son, William at T.C.S., Port Hope.

Vegetable Growers Assist War Effort

Although there have been only 17 members of the Vegetable Growers Association during the past year they have piled up a fine record in raising money for war purposes. From vegetables donated and sold, the group made $75, which has been divided three ways between the Red Cross Navy League and among boys overseas who are former members or sons of members. This was announced at the annual meeting held this week.

The officers of the group were reappointed for the coming year and the slate reads: President, Fred Stenson; vice-president, John Kitney; 2nd vice-president, Alf Johnston; and secretary-treasurer, F. C. Paterson.

The group appointed John Kitney as official delegate to attend the Ontario Vegetable Growers Association which is meeting in Toronto February 2 and 3, and Herb Doig is chairman of the committee to look after overseas parcels.

Warn Canadian Legion On Refugee Question

TORONTO, Dec. 9 — (CP). — Legion members and others should refrain from signing petitions being circulated with a view to influencing the Federal Government to admit "an unstated number of refugees from European countries," Major Everett Bristol, District Council of the Canadian Legion, said in a statement Tuesday. The statement said the Legion takes the stand that immigration should be carefully regulated to give preference to people of British stock "or of other nations who shape our democratic ideals and who can be readily assimilated into our national life."

Education More Than Knowledge

HAVELOCK, Dec. 9 — (ENS). — The Christmas meeting of the Havelock Home and School was held this week, with the vice-president, Miss Nellie Watson, in the chair.

Miss J. McDermott read the Patriotism Pledge and Christmas carols were used in the community singing. The program for the January meeting will be put on by the Norwood teachers. The Home and School entertainment in the Town Hall had to be postponed, and will be held after the New Year.

The health convener, Mrs. C. Price discussed 'Beware of Colds and Influenza," outlining their symptoms, how to avoid them and general treatments of same. The School Christmas concert is to be held December 21, and a Christmas cantata will be put on by the pupils. The attendance shield for this meeting was won by Miss N. Watson's room and the pupils of the junior choir sang "Merry Christmas" and "Light the Christmas Candles." Mrs. William Smith recited "Should Women Propose?"

The guest speaker was Rev. Father C. J. Carroll, Norwood who discussed "Matters of Education," which he said, in a board sense of the term, means more than learning of knowledge and includes development of self and of one's character and teaches people how to live. The junior choir concluded with "Good King Wenceslas" and "Christmas Secrets."

NEW York, Dec. 9.—(CP).— The BBC to-day quoted Mrs. Churchill a ssaying thta the Aid-to-Russia Fund which she sponsors has reached almost £4,500,000 ($20,025,000) The broadcast continued that the Prime Minster's wife said the fund had touched the "mainspring in British hearts."

Institute Plans Nutrition Talk

HAVELOCK, Dec. 9 (ENS) — A demonstration lecture on nutrition is to be put on by the Department at the request of the Women's Institute in January. The two adjoining branches of Trent River and Belmont will be invited to co-operate for this event, it was decided at their meeting.

Complete details of the St. John's Ambulance course were explained, and the matter was laid aside for consideration. The branch decided not to apply for the Legislative grant this year. Miss Minnie Williams made an appeal for the Peterborough and District British War Victims' Fund and $10 was voted to this cause.

Remember Shut-Ins

The treasurer reported the receipts of the last dance at over $34, to be used in the general fund of the branch. The Property committee were authorized to rent the dishes for a wedding in the near future, The sum of $5 was voted for the Christmas Cheer boxes for the elderly shut-in people of the village.

Mrs. Charles Taylor was the program convener for the meeting. The roll call was answered with a gaily wrapped Christmas treat for the cheer boxes. Christmas carols were sung, with Mrs. R. McCutcheon at the piano. A detailed report of the convention in Toronto was given by Mrs. Robert Jones. Miss Joan Taylor gave two piano solos "Farmyard Frolics" and "Little Spring Song." Refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

Close 37 Schools In Chatham District

CHATHAM, Ont., Dec. 9 (CP). —Dr. G. Berry, Medical Health Officer for Raleigh and Tilbury East Townships, in an effort to check a wave of influenza he described as "severe but not dangerous" reported to-day he had closed 37 schools throughout his district until after the New Year holiday.

The step was taken as a precautionary measure.

The Medical Health Officer also warned the public to avoid public gatherings. A dance scheduled to be held at Merlin last night was cancelled.

Municipal Election Results

Several Ontario municipalities have had their elections, and the results are particularly worthy of study because this year the C.C.F. has made a strong bid for municipal power. Party strategy was weak in this matter; municipalities like to keep party politics out of local government so far as they can, and the attempt to elect men on a C.C.F. ticket was resented. The results are now well-known: in Mimico, where the C.C.F. offered a full slate for the town council, all its men were defeated; the same thing happened in London; again, in Guelph all the C.C.F. candidates were defeated; the four socialist candidates in Scarborough Township were defeated; in North York Township the three C.C.F. men who ran for municipal boards were defeated; in Sudbury the party candidate for the mayoralty was defeated. But the C.C.F. did have one important victory; in the large and important industrial city of Hamilton, they elected their candidate for Mayor. It is true that Mr. Sam Lawrence has had long experience as a controller on the Hamilton City Council, and was probably elected because he is popular and able; but he is a C.C.F. mayor, even though he has little party support on his council. Ontario will watch Hamilton with interest to see what, if anything, a C.C.F. mayor can do in such circumstances.

In the municipalities where the figures are available, there has been a much larger vote than in recent years. In many Ontario municipalities — perhaps in a majority — a vote of 30 per cent. of the electorate is by no means uncommon. We do not hesitate to call this disgraceful. Where only 30 per cent. of the electorate is sufficiently interested to register a vote, the municipality obviously deserves a local government which is only 30 per cent. efficient. The C.C.F. scare has wakened up a few more voters and brought them to the polls. If the supposed threat of the C.C.F. subsides the interest of the electorate will presumably subside too. It seems that most people have to be threatened by a radical party before they will turn out and vote. Presumably a great many of them have voted for a maintenance of the status quo. If they were really interested in progressive and enlightened municipal government they would not vote only when they were under threat of socialism.

In matters concerning municipal government the majority of the electors seem to be oppressed by apathy and inertia. They cannot be bothered to take an interest. It is long past the time for the municipal electors of Ontario to wake up. Merely defeating the C.C.F. at the polls is not good enough. They must demand, and get, better municipal government than the C.C.F. could possibly give. As we have said many times before, it is not merely enough to keep the C.C.F. out of power; we must show that we can handle the power we have more efficiently and wisely than they could hope to do. If we cannot, it is obviously undemocratic for us to deny them their chance. Rule by the inert and apathetic cannot be tolerated.

What Is a Story And a Half?

A discussion which has arisen in the City Council about a house which is being built in the Classic Hill district shows clearly that this city needs a building inspector on its municipal staff. A bylaw relating to buildings in this district says that dwellings there must be at least a story and a half in height; the house in question has two rooms contained in its roof, and the man who is building it maintains that these rooms constitute a second story, and he has legal opinion to back him. The city bylaw which demanded that houses in the Classic Hill district be a story and a half in height meant that the walls of the upper story should be at least four feet high, but the bylaw was so carelessly worded that this specification was not included in it. The man who is building the house is undoubtedly doing so in good faith, but he might justly be said to be building a bungalow with an attic, and his house does not look as though it contained a story and a half.

A difficult situation has now arisen: must he add four feet to his walls, or is he to have the benefit of the carelessly-worded bylaw? The Council does not seem anxious to press the matter, but the residents of Classic Hill have their rights to be considered. They pay additional taxes for the protection which the bylaw was supposed to give them, and their assessments were raised when the bylaw came in force. If the bylaw is worthless, they have reason to feel that they have been unfairly treated. The city promised them something, and accepted payment for it, and is not now prepared to deliver the goods. If the house is built according to its original plan these citizens might reasonably apply for a lowered assessment and a refund of taxes.

In small cities there is often a reluctance to apply building regulations firmly, and that is why so many small cities present a jumbled appearance to visitors; higgledy-piggledy building is at fault, and real estate investment is depreciated as a result. The building of fine homes is also discouraged.

If the city had a building inspector this embarrassing situation could not have arisen; the blame in the case must rest upon the City Engineer, who did not see complete plans of the house before issuing a building permit. As it is, we do not think that the city council is behaving justly toward the property-owners on Classic Hill. If the house in question contravened fire regulations it would have to be altered, and there would be no question about it; but because it contravenes a regulation of taste, the Council seems unwilling to bestir itself. If this case sets a precedent the Council will never be able to pass a bylaw regulating the nature of houses again.

Body And Mind

Wars often bring great advances in medical knowledge, and sometimes they force the medical profession to accept ideas which have previously been uncongenial to it. Two American Army doctors, Col. William P. Corr and Capt. Edward P. Boland, have been engaged in a most interesting piece of research in a California hospital; investigating 450 cases of arthritis among soldiers they have found that one-third of them arise from purely mental causes. The men have the physical symptoms of arthritis, and the pain, stiffness and swelling of the joints which they suffer are entirely real, but the cause is not to be traced to anything physical. In a report written for the Journal of the American Medical Association they express it thus:

> "In our experience, malingering (feigning illness) has been uncommon in contrast to the frequency with which somatic (body) symptoms develop unconsciously as a means of escape from the unpleasant things associated with military service.
> "Our attempts to salvage these patients with psychogenic rheumatism, and to return them to either full or limited duty have been largely unsuccessful."

Increasingly it is realized that much disease springs from psychical, rather than from physical causes. The investigation of the influence which the mind exercises over the body is necessarily slow and cautious, but it is far enough advanced now to convince the most sceptical that vast fields of investigation lie ahead, and that new methods of treatment must be found to meet the new discoveries about the cause of disease. Not only in army life, but in civilian life, the discontented, or the ill-adjusted, or the ill-directed mind can play fantastic tricks with the body in order to gain its own ends. Slow as progress in this direction will be, a new conception of mental hygiene will evolve in time, to teach us to keep our minds, as well as our bodies, in good health. In our present civilization we worry about our bodies continually, but our minds are allowed to take their own course unless they break down completely.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Feathers are found to be full of proteins. It's only a matter of time before somebody will want us to eat our Christmas turkey unplucked.

"News of F.D.R. in Africa Carried By Grapevine" says a headline. But, remarks the Windsor Star, it seems to have reached Washington on the gripevine.

Twenty-one thousand bags of Christmas mail have arrived in Britain for our men and women in uniform. That's a lot of the best kind of Christmas cheer.

A paper in Georgia, we see, printed this item: "Mrs. Oscar Maddox is able to be up after being in bed for some weeks with malaria, to the delight of her friends". Just one of those things which could have been more fortunately expressed.

Planning for Post-war Plenty

By DR. PAUL WEGNER

EVEN when she stood alone, the world's bulwark against Hitlerism, Britain had already begun to plan for the years ahead. Today she has many schemes for a better post-war world. A well organized machinery, set up by her Government two years ago, is centralizing all those plans and guiding them into the proper channels.

The chief of the "General Staff" for post-war planning is Sir William Jowitt. Though his official title is Minister without Portfolio, his task is, in his own modest words, "to try to organize and co-ordinate the work of reconstruction which is being carried out by various Departments of State." His predecessor was Mr. Arthur Greenwood, who took up office on January 6, 1941. From that date Britain has been officially engaged on systematic post-war planning. Sir William Jowitt followed Mr. Greenwood in office on March 4, 1942.

He presides over a Ministerial Committee, facing the task of working out practical schemes of reconstruction. Two other committees, one dealing with external matters and the other with internal ones, assist.

WHEN a post-war problem comes up, the machinery begins to operate in this way: First the Ministry primarily concerned is asked to analyze the problem and suggest methods of dealing with it. Next the suggestions are passed on to either the external or internal committee, as the case may be, for further consideration. This committee examines the particular problem from a wider point of view than is possible by the specialized Departments. Then the proposals are brought before the Ministerial Committee under Sir William Jowitt, and if a conclusion of importance is reached, it is passed to the War Cabinet for approval. Sir William Jowitt has also the right to ask a particular Department to study of problem.

At the beginning of this year a special Ministry of Town and Country Planning was set up in order to control the proper use and development of the land in England and Wales and of the kind of buildings to be erected. Up to that time town and country planning had been in the ordinary run of the large number of tasks, but now, as the Lord Chancellor, commenting on the creation of the new Ministry, said, "we are recording in Parliament our resolve and intention that it should be regarded as a first class subject, calling for the undivided attention of a Minister of the first rank."

This Minister is a member of the Ministerial Committee presided over by Sir William Jowitt, and the decisions reached by the Ministry of Town and County Planning will be dealt with by the Ministerial Committee in the manner common to all the other specialist Departments of State.

THERE are also links with Mr. Eden, the Foreign Minister, who is responsible for "seeing that studies" are made of the particular problems (political, territorial and economic) likely to arise at the Peace Conference." If in their wider aspects these problems are brought under general consideration, they, too, come under the purview of Sir William Jowitt whose responsibility it is to study and to co-ordinate them. That was the definition given by Mr. Attlee, the Deputy Prime Minister.

Lord Selborne, Minister of Economic Warfare, went a step further in saying: "Sir William Jowitt is at work mainly on domestic problems, but there are one or two problems which cannot be described as strictly domestic which he is also tackling. Though his main sphere is in the domestic field, even in our domestic problems there are many points which interest our Dominions and our Allies, and Sir William Jowitt sees that the fullest exchange of information in these matters takes place."

Sir William Jowitt gave the following description of his duty of co-ordinating the different recommendations: "You have to get a policy which all Departments concerned agree to, and therefore my task is to see that the proposals which the Ministers of particular Department put up are so moulded or modified, if necessary, as to fit in with the interests of the Government and of the country as a whole."

NOW a word or two about the principles which govern the considerations of reconstruction. The Ministerial Committee pre-supposes in its plans "a social and economic structure designed to secure equality of opportunity and service among all classes of the community." The Committee takes also the economic needs of other nations into consideration, in particular the problems of adjusting "the free life of small countries in a durable international order." Sir William Jowitt declared above all that complete and unqualified victory will be the necessary foundation for any reconstruction work at all, and he demands an international system which secures us from aggression.

He takes a short-term and a long-term view of the post-war problems. His short-term view is that the immediate post-war period must be one of acute difficulties. He visualises a period of shortages of all kinds of material and the continuation of rationing and economic control for a time.

But after that period he anticipates a "period of very good trade and a very fair prospect of reaching and holding a very great advance in our standards and the standards abroad." He stressed the necessity of making maximum employment of the people the supreme aim. "To that end all our policies should be subordinated. We should allow nothing to stand in the way of our successes in the fight against unemployment. The more efficient our industry becomes, the more likely we are to succeed in that fight.... The more prosperous other nations are, the more prosperous we shall be ourselves."

In its endeavours to secure a quick and efficient change-over to peace-time conditions when the time arrives, the Government is vigorously assisted by private groups, organizations, societies, associations, research departments, trade committees etc. About 37 programs and pamphlets have appeared on questions of education, about 22 on housing and town planning, more than 30 on agriculture, industry, trade, shipping, aviation and employment.

However much they differ, they all serve the same objective—a better Britain and a better world.—

ALARMED BY KITCHEN OF TOMORROW

We're more than a little disturbed by this kitchen of the future that the magazines and papers are playing up so much lately. We prefer the old-fashioned kitchen, a rocking chair completely surrounded by wonderful odors.—(D.N.T., in the Springfield, Mass., Union)

Truly Beautiful and Australian

BUT what is typical Australian scenery? It is, I think, "the bush," but the bush varies! The term is one which has a most elastic meaning, stretching to cover almost any area outside the towns and cities, no matter where located. Two fairly distinct kinds of bush characterize Australia reasonably well, however; the hilly bush and the interior plains.

The former is chiefly found near the coast, and good samples of it can be glimpsed on a journey between the great cities of Sydney and Melbourne. It consists of low, rolling hills, grassed to the top, interspersed with large grassy valleys. Trees are scattered about in fair profusion, and the total effect is of a land which has at some remote time been tamed by man but which has escaped him to go its own way once more. This is not, of course, the case at all, for when it is pasture country it is just as man found it, except that he may have "ring-barked" some of the trees to give the grass a chance....

The interior plains differ from the hilly bush chiefly in their flatness and, when you get far into the inland country, by their dryness....This bush is reasonably well grassed and dotted with trees, occasionally in quite dense clusters, but not infrequently there are patches of bare ground, either sandy earth or clay. The patches of clay, known as clay-pans, are often extensive enough to be natural airports—I have boarded planes on such ports—and travelling by automobile over this roadless country the motorist can pick up considerable speed when crossing them, say fifty miles an hour....

The bush is beautiful in an eerie way; it is never, to my mind, melancholy; it is rather almost unbearably and unreasonably cheerful when bathed, as it usually is, in incredibly bright sunshine. Really to see the beauties of Australia—and especially of the bush—one must retrain one's eye. Only when native-born painters appeared did the true appeal of the country get transferred to canvas. When clearly seen—when intruding memories of other beauties are put aside—it is magical. It is beautiful. And it is Australian. There is even an occasional surprise. Sometimes one will see a tree apparently covered with large pink and white flowers. As one approaches, the flowers take wing; they are galahs. —From "Introducing Australia," by C. Hartley Grattan. (New York: John Day.)

DOROTHY DIX SAYS....

DEAR MISS DIX: Is there a real and true friend in this world today besides your mother? If there is, I have yet to see her. So many times I have been disappointed in people I thought were my friends but found out differently. I need a friend, but the girls where I work and meet elsewhere have so many different moods I cannot tell whether they like me or hate me, and I often wonder if they realize how they are hurting me, physically and spiritually.

In this world I still believe that your pocketbook is your best friend, and that only a mother will stick by you through thick and thin. What do you think?

ONE WHO IS SEEKING A FRIEND.

ANSWER: It has been said that to have a friend we must be friendly ourselves. Nothing is truer than that. And if you will look about you, you will see that the people who have no friends and who are always complaining about the lack of friendship in the world are those who have lived shut up in themselves all their lives and made no effort to attach any human being to themselves.

You will find a pertinent example of this in the old people you know who are always weeping and wailing over their loneliness and complaining about how they are neglected. They see themselves as victims of the heartlessness of the world, yet these very same people, when they were young, never considered anything but their own selfish pleasure.

They never held out a helping hand to a poor person. They never gave a hard-working girl a pretty party frock. They never bothered to write letters of condolence to those who were in trouble, or send wires of congratulation to those who had some good fortune befall them. They never kept their friendships in repair, as Benjamin Franklin advised, and so when their hour of need came they found they had no friends.

On the other hand, you know plenty of old people who are coddled and made much of, whom people go to see when they are sick and send flowers to, or make little treats for, because they bound to them the hearts of all who knew them by a thousand ties and kindnesses.

I think that if you are friendless it is because you are asking for friendship instead of giving it. You feel that these girls with whom you work should kowtow to you and make much of you and consider your moods and tenses. But why? Have you ever done anything for them that would rate this consideration from them? Have you ever tried to understand them, or to even make yourself agreeable to them? Haven't you, in truth, always been a little scornful of them and held yourself superior to them? Have you ever asked yourself why they should want to be friends with you?

The whole world is hungry for friendship. It is the one thing that we go seeking all our lives, but we never find it unless we carry a talisman in our hands. And that talisman is LOVE and HELPFULNESS. Apply that to any one of these girls and you will find that it will work.

Undoubtedly one's pocketbook is a good friend to have, but don't forget that friendship is one of the things that isn't sold over the counter. It is always a gift. Some of the loneliest people in the world are the richest.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a football player. Sport critics consider me pretty good, but my game is being spoiled by a bunch of awed little kids. While playing no fellow minds who is watching, but after the game it is rather difficult to be called upon to write autographs and be introduced to youngsters who are goggle-eyed over my victories.

When I was playing for a high school team it was bad enough, but now I am on one of the service teams it is very embarrassing. I am teased quite a bit by my teammates when they see my face get a brick red when kids nudge each other and whisper and point every time they see me. What shall I do?

BEET ROOT.

ANSWER: Eat it up, son, eat it up while you can get it. It won't last long. There is nothing in the world that fades out quicker than a football halo. One day you are sitting pretty on top of the world, and the next day, where are you?

So make the most of the adulation of the little boys. You will never have any sweeter incense offered you before you because it is so sincere and has no self-seeking in it. Write as many autographs as they want and be nice and gracious about it. Some of the biggest shots in the sporting world do not think it beneath their dignity to cultivate their public. They know it is the price they must pay for their popularity.

And say, now Bub, all joking aside, don't you get a kick out of being pointed out on the street and hear people say: "That's HIM."

Between East and West

For nearly three hundred and fifty miles Dalmatia largely conforms to the old definition in Euclid of a straight line — length without breadth. In some parts the limestone mountains crowd right down into the sea, in others they grudgingly retreat, and a strip of level land appears on which towns and villages may be built, and where the soil may be cultivated. Here East and West meet, the wave fo Turkish invasion spent itself on the eastern shore of the Adriatic, while Venice waged an endless struggle against every invader for the command of that sea. The islands which mask the coast the whole way from Pola to Ragusa were the haunts of pirates, for the inhabitants of certain villages followed that ancient profession from generation to generation and preyed on Christian and Moslem with impartiality. In the north the coast is low and the mountains distant, but with every mile they creep nearer and nearer to the sea, until in the south they come down barren and stony sheer into the water, making a wild and splendid coastline, their very bareness enabling them to catch and hold every shade of colour, from blue and purple in the high noons to the pink and crimson of the southern sunsets.—From "Romantic Cities of Dalmatia," by Muriel Currey. (New York: McBride.)

Voltaire's Stand

Wonder if C.C.F.ers agree with Voltaire's view: "I wholly disapprove of what you say and will defend to the death your right to say it." The C.C.F. doesn't like criticism and might, if they had the power, try to close the mouths and stop the pens of those who disagree with its policies. Remember the Alberta movement that clamored for freedom and liberty and then sought to stop the newspapers from saying anything derogatory of it!—Lethbridge Herald.

Hard To Believe How Time Flies

DECEMBER 9

1913 A. H. Stratton has announced himself as a candidate for the council in No. 2 Ward.

Four cases of scarlet fever and four of diphtheria were treated in the Queen Mary Isolation Hospital last month.

John Morrison of Peterborough is badly hurt when struck down by an automobile while crossing a Winnipeg street.

There were no criminal cases on the docket when the General Sessions of the Peace opened here today and Judge E. C. S. Huycke is presented with a pair of white gloves.

W. H. Hill announces that he is retiring from the Water Commission after 12 years service.

1923 Three Toronto men are arrested by provincial police on a charge of burglary at Millbrook.

Judge Ward gives judgment in favor of Chief Newhall, stating that the city should pay his wages and that the council has not the right to cut the estimates of the commission.

Sir John Martin Harvey and his London company are to appear at the Grand in "A Cigarette Maker's Romance."

Victoria Lodge No. 379, Loyal Orange Young Britons has been organized in Peterborough.

For the second year in succession the Belmonts by defeating De Laval, 14 to 10, take the indoor softball championship.

1933 Margaret Lytle and Harry Marsh are named as principal girl and boy at the Collegiate commencement.

It was 14 degrees below zero here at 8 o'clock this morning, the coldest of the present winter.

Peterborough police form a Benevolent Fund with Sergt. Arthur Thomas as chairman and Inspector Reid as treasurer.

William Irvine one of the group of Western members of parliament is to address a C.C.F. meeting here.

Yrgo Laurilla, acquitted of murder in Cavan township, has been sent to Halifax for deportation.

1918 The thermometer climbed to 45 today and it was more like a spring day, according to the official weather observer.

Andrew Graham is elected council commander of Sherwood Forest Camp, Woodmen of the World.

Ladies' Auxiliary of the G.W.V.A. think there should be a war memorial as well as a club-house for veterans.

Rev. Dr. W. A. McKenzize of Colborne is elected moderator when the Peterborough Presbytery meets here.

The Trades and Labour Council endorse the candidature of J. J. Hartley for the Utilities Commission and Alex Murray, M. H. Gainey and Robert Morrison for the council.

A Bible Message

Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his understanding. He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaseth strength. Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall: but they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint. (Isa. 40: 28-31.)

Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ.... And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.

As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith. (Gal. 6: 2, 9, 10.)

Unconsidered Trifles

We've found that efforts to buy cheap apples and oranges have proved fruitless.

Husband: "My dear wife, I have taken you safely over all the rough spots of life, haven't I?"

Wife: "Yes, I don't believe you missed any of them."

"How'd you get along with your wife in that fight the other night?"

"Aw, she came crawling to me on her knees."

"Yeah, what did she say?"

"Come out from under that bed you coward."

Grandpappy Morgan, a hillbilly of the Ozarks, had wandered off into the hills and when supper time came and he failed to return, young Jake was sent out to search for him and bring him in. Jake located Grandpappy standing quietly in a clump of bushes.

"Gittin' dark, Grandpap," said Jake

"Yep," said Grandpappy.

"Supper's ready."

"Yep."

"Ain't ye hungry, Grandpap?"

"Yep."

"Wal, ain't ye comin' home?"

"Nope."

"Why not?"

"Cain't."

"Why cain't ye?"

"Standin' in a ba'r trap."

Doubly Wrong

Commander Gene Tunney, sometime world's heavyweight champion, now physical fitness director of the U.S. Navy, says "physical requirements for fighting this war are more exacting than they were for World War 1"—"and in this war, troops are incomparably better."

Most people who know will say Tunney is wrong on both counts. No test of physical fitness in this war has been more rigorous than that of the last. Nor would anyone in this country pretend that the troops of today are "incomparably better" than those of 1914-18. What the facts may be in the case of the troops of the United States we do not know—but we do know that the men of the old Canadian Corps fought amid conditions of indescribable hardship, and that they stood the test magnificently.

Young Gene Tunney did a little "marineing" with the U.S. Navy in the last war. He had no personal experience with conditions faced on land by the troops in that conflict. — Halifax Mail.

Polish Flier Recalls Escaping Huns

TORONTO, Dec. 9 — (CP). — PO. Z. M. Groszek, Polish liaison officer at Malton Air Observer School, recalled six incidents when he and eight other hunted men escaped from the enemy and aided the underground by rounding up 70 prominent German and Italian army and government officials at Casablanca a few hours before the invasion of North Africa.

Groszek was torpedoed in the Atlantic while crossing with 3,500 Italian prisoners of whom only a few survived. After five days in a lifeboat they were picked up by a U-boat and taken to Casablanca. Groszek was taken to a hospital when he "played sick" and with the aid of the underground, made his escape.

Dressed in civilian clothes with "passes" issued by the underground the party, including two other Polish officers, a Greek, two Frenchmen and an Englishman, was issued a list of people they were to pick up.

The roundup was carried out with clocklike precision and the enemy officials were lined up. They thought they were going to be shot but they were only searched. As a souvenir of his escapade PO. Groszek now wears a brown leather belt and in his pocket is a wallet the "gift" of a German captain.

COUNT SEIZED—Sent to the United States on his own admission by the Gestapo in 1940 and paid $1,000 on account for information he was expected to furnish to the German government, Count Nava de Tajo (ABOVE), international society playboy (also known as Carlos Calor Vejerano Y Cassina) was arrested in New York by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as a Nazi agent. Today De Tajo, said to be a nephew of the Duke of Alba, came to the U.S. in the guise of an inspector for a steamship company. Information to the German intelligence was to be sent in letters he was to write to his father in Spain.

Sets Up Girls' Home

TORONTO, Dec. 9 (CP)—Toronto Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church in Canada yesterday adopted a proposal to establish a preventive home for delinquent girls in a College Street home formerly devoted to Jewish activities.

Miners' Leader Takes Crack At Labor Board

CALGARY, Dec. 9 (CP)—Robert Livett, president of District 18, United Mine Workers of America, last night defended the Union's action in the November strike of 8,500 Alberta and British Columbia miners in commenting on criticism made by the National War Labor Board.

(The N.W.L.B. Monday granted wage increases of $1 a day and holidays with pay to some 12,000 Nova Scotia miners, in line with awards to miners in Alberta and British Columbia, and expressed sharp criticism of the Royal Commission which boosted the Western rates and of the U.M.W.A. executive.)

"The National War Labor Board would be well advised to devote its attention to the speeding up of its own work rather than criticizing the Royal Commission," Mr. Livett said.

The Commission, said Mr. Livett, had dealt expeditiously with the District 18 appeal "in strange contrast to the dilly-dallying methods of the Labor Board."

In reply to the Board statement that the demands on which District 18, U.M.W.A. executive called a strike were never at any time before the Board, Mr. Livett said this was true. "Our past experience with the War Labor Board has taught us that it was useless to expect a decision from the Board without months of delay and if we had made our application to the Board I venture to say that we would still be awaiting a decision."

Red Cross Gets Plane Ride To U.S.A. For Soldier Whose Wife Is In Iron Lung

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 9—(AP).—Cpl. Marvin Wilson, in India, knew only that his wife was ill and wanted him to come home.

The United States Army said no.

Then the 21-year-old Air Force repairman learned she was an infantile paralysis victim, kept alive in an iron lung while awaiting their second child.

"The Red Cross really got busy, and our field chaplain put in some strong argument," Wilson recalled gratefully. "On Thanksgiving Day I have a lot to be thankful for, when our plane set down in Miami!"

Now physicians who had despaired of Mrs. Wilson's life report "an amazing turn for the better," since her husband's arrival.

The baby is expected before Christmas, they said, but already the 20-year-old wife can be removed from the respirator daily for as long as the baby's delivery would require.

Farm Forum Meet In Savigny Home

Stewart Hall Forum met this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Savigny. "How Stands Health" was the subject of the broadcast and the discussion that followed.

This was the first of a series of broadcasts on "Planning for Health." The findings of the discussion were that Canada as a nation is badly in need of a satisfactory national health plan.

The highlight of the evening was an enlightening and interesting talk on the work of the Victorian Order of Nurses. This was given by Mrs. R. R. Stewart, a member of the Order.

Following a half hour of recreation, consisting of a contest, the lunch was served and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thorn have invited the forum to their home for December 13.

JUDGE LANDIS SAYS COX BAN STILL STANDS—Judge Landis, LEFT, shown at Hotel Roosevelt, New York, decreed that the baseball ban on Bill Cox, RIGHT, which prevents him from holding any office in organized baseball, still stands. Cox, former president of Philadelphia Phillies, and his lawyer, Lloyd Paul Stryker, CENTRE, asserted that his admission concerning wagers on baseball games involving the Phillies, were part of a trap to test "the loyalty of partners in the club."

Algerines Upset Soldiers In Basketball By 56 to 32

Joe Stewart's Algerines took over sole possession of first place in the Y.M.C.A. House League last night by defeating the Military Training Centre team 56 to 32 while the hitherto unbeaten Fairmiles took a surprise loss at the hands of Steve Csumrik's Frigates to the tune of 38 to 26.

Close checking on the part of the Frigates was responsible for the downfall of the McArthur outfit. They never could get an attack rolling properly and as a result sustained their first defeat of the season. The Frigates shot better too and took more advantage of their scoring opportunities with Steve Csumrik setting the pace for his team by scoring 14 points. Frigates won by outscoring their opponents 24 to 12 in the first half and the best the Fairmiles could do after the rest was to split 14 baskets with the winners. McArthur was tops for the losers with 10 points.

Frigates 38—S. Csumrik 14, Edger 6, Collins 2, Estlick 2, Blackburn 6, Frank 4, Seabrooke 4.

Fairmiles 26—J. Csumrik, Courtney 4, McCuaig 3, McArthur 10, Baird 8, Ellis 1.

Referee—Tony McIlveen.

Joe Stewart, setting up a new record for the season, had too much scoring power for the Soldiers in the second game. He tossed in a total of 17 baskets for 34 points; scoring enough in fact to have beaten the Military Training Centre single-handed. The final count was 56 to 32, with the Algerines in front at half time by 24 to 9. The Camp team opened up a 3 to 0 lead in the opening moments but Stewart's accurate sniping soon wiped that out and opened out a wide lead. The Soldiers did better from a scoring viewpoint in the second half but at that couldn't prevent the winners from adding to their half way margin. Oscada with nine points was top scorer for the Military Training Centre. The teams:

Algerines 56—Joe Stewart 34, Al. Stewart 2, Jones 4, Griffin 4, Davis 8, Thomas 4.

Military Training Centre 32—Chambers 5, Partington 4, Kropp 6, Oscada 9, McIlveen 8.

Referees—W. Edger and S. Csumrik.

SPORTS-Day by Day

By FRED D. CRAIG

There will only be one game in the Ladies' Basketball League at the Y.W.C.A. tomorrow night but it should be a real battle with the C.G.E. team clashing with the Y Cadets. Both teams need a win in this tilt in order to keep within reaching distance of the unbeaten Transports who are out in front and the St. John's outfit in second place a half game behind. Generals were tossed for a loss by the Transports last week and they are anxious to pick up their winning stride and get going again while the young Cadets are full of enthusiasm and are improving every time out so that they are likely to prove keen opposition for the Electricians. The single game will get under way at 7.30 o'clock sharp. Transports and Normals had been scheduled to meet tomorrow night, too, but the members of the Normal School team have been teaching in the country schools this week and will not be available for a game. The postponed affair will likely be pulled off on Monday or Tuesday night. St. John's get the bye this week.

Perhaps this city will get about as much publicity from the fact that it is not going to have any hockey club this winter as it would have from the presence in the O.H.A. of a Peterborough team. For instance Ted Dormer, a Peterborough boy who is with the United States Navy sends home this clipping from an American sport sheet: "While most fans are worrying about who will play on their favorite team this coming season, there is a hockey team in Peterborough, Ontario, Canada, ready to go, with a strong lineup but no rink to play in. Last year they played in Lindsay, 25 miles away, but the wear and tear on players and fans was too much. It is doubtful if they will operate this year, so don't feel too badly if your favorite team is undermanned and has trouble getting players. You could live in Peterborough."

It Will Be Terrific

Karl Davis the big Texan who managed to beat Earl McCready here Tuesday night with more than a little help from Referee Bert Maxwell is clamoring for a bout with Whipper Billy Watson. "They claim he's the best you got up here" snarled the chesty Davis, "and I'd like to take a crack at him without wasting my time fooling around with a lot of punks." However Promoter Frank Tunney has other ideas. Davis may get a chance at Watson later on but in the meanwhile the Toronto matchmaker thinks that it's up to the grappler from the Lone Star State to show that he's really as good and as tough as he loudly claims to be. And so Tunney has matched the big Davis with the battering Pole Jan Gotch as the main attraction for next Tuesday night's show. "Gotch had three terrific bouts with Whipper Billy Watson before the champ was able to clearly demonstrate his superiority," said the promoter yesterday in announcing the Davis-Gotch clash, "and he is just the baby to make this fellow Davis prove his claim that he is too rough, tough and nasty for the boys in the wrestling game up in this part of the continent. Davis is big and strong and experienced all right but Gotch in his bouts with the Whipper showed that he has plenty of moxy and I miss my guess if he doesn't give the Texan more than he is looking for when they meet here."

* * * * * *

And so two of the roughest customers to show here all season are being tossed in against each other and the result should be a riot. Davis did not turn on the rough stuff against McCready the other night but in his argument with DeGlane the week before he came up with all kinds of illegal tactics. There is no doubt that he will have plenty of unorthodox wrestling to use against the Pole and he will need it for Gotch has amply demonstrated here that he can and will dish it out against all kinds of opposition. Gotch came near taking Whipper Watson apart in their three meetings here and if he uses the same tactics on the big Texan the result should be some of the toughest battling the Tunney entourage has produced. They are one-man riots, both of those stormy petrels and everything will probably go, including the ropes if the rink staff doesn't take the precaution of having them reinforced for the occasion.

Tossed Out of the Window

Chick Appel, Stratford sports writer has been making some pertinent comments on the scrapping of the constitution by the O.H.A. officials. Says Chick: "Brantford Lions seem to be doing alright by themselves with the O.H.A., because they also introduced another new face in Turner, who played on the defence for them, Saturday night. The understanding here is that no new players can be signed after December 1, unless they are military replacements, and so far nobody appears to have heard about the Lions losing any signed players this season to the armed forces. The only loss they sustained, so far as is known, occurred during their last game Saturday night, when George Edwards, the Brantford homebrew, was sandwiched between Ezinicki and Batten and suffered a broken collar-bone. Perhaps the Lions' management anticipated the injury and used Turner as a replacement. Last winter shuffling of hockey players from amateur to professional ranks and back again gave the sporting public quit a laugh. Not from any reason of glee but rather from the loose manner in which the amateur code was being openly violated."

* * * * * *

"Apparently the sim-pure aspect of hockey was tossed out the window for the duration, mainly for the benefit of the National Hockey League, and it is evidently being done again this season," continues the article. "Only Saturday night night Jud McAtee of the St. Catharines Saints, senior O.H.A. entry, played for Detroit Red Wings at Montreal against the Canadiens, and gained an assist on both goals scored by Jack Adams' club. Few people object to Jud played for the Wings and then reverting to the Saints, least of all this observer, but it does exemplify just how far the amateur hockey governors are extending themselves to cater to the pro puck promoters. There is such a thing as co-operating with the major league solons so that hockey in both field is able to keep its head above water, but there is also such a thing as leaning so far towards the moneyed ranks as to become a detriment to the simon-pure organizations."

Sporting Chili Con Carne: Winnipeg Bombers and Hamilton Wildcats each received $3,993 as their share of the Grey Cup final gate....And even in these days of war wages that isn't exactly hay, neighbors....Entries in the intermediate A series of the O.H.A. close next Wednesday but that does not mean a thing in Peterborough....Johnny Godfrey, popular defence man of the Petes has gone railroading....He has shifted from the express service and is now in the Sudbury area as a trainman. He'll probably try to work in the odd game of hockey, too, for Johnny sure does love Canada's national winter pastime....Dolph Camilli has signed a two-year contract to manage the Oakland Pacific Coast League club....They have women in the wrestling game now....In a recent show across the border the feature bout was between a Vitriolic Brunette and a Dizzy Blonde....There is a tip for Mister Tunney....Roy Covert is playing with Peoples in Toronto and Doc Dafoe scored three goals for Mahers. Old Music Hall Is Victim Of War

LONDON, Dec. 9 (CP). — The Montpellier Music Hall, one of oldest landmarks at Walworth, a London suburb, has disappeared, victim of the war. It was hit by a bomb in 1941 and lay in ruins until a demolition squad cleared away the debris.

"The Monte" as everyone called it, was famous as the place where promising performers got no pay, but paid for the privilege of appearing on the stage.

Make Men Work

TORONTO, Dec. 9.—(CP)—Canada "must never again spend $35,000,000 a year to take care of men in idleness" as in pre-war days, the Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards was told last night by Mitchell F. Hepburn, Indepeident Liberal member of the Ontario Legislature for Elgin riding.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

The Boxing Writers Association of New York announced its decision to award the Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque for 1943 to the 4,019 boxers of the United States who have been or are wearing a uniform of the armed services, the annual presentation to take place at the organization's annual dinner Jan. 19. Acceptance will be made by "fighting boxers" representing ringmen in each branch of the services. In previous years the plaque, in memory of The Associated Press writer who was killed in 1938 during the Spanish Civil War, had been presented to an individual: Jack Dempsey, Billy Conn, Henry Armstrong, Joe Louis and Barney Ross.

Sport records show 18 boxers have been killed in action during the present war; seven others met accidental death after entering military service; nine are missing in action and approximately 40 have been wounded. About 500 of the 4,019 enlisted boxers are conducting physical training and recreational programs at home and overseas and aboard naval ships.

James C. McCullough, 80, former semi-pro baseball player and sportsman of Transcona, Man., died in Winnipeg yesterday. His birthplace was Kincardine, Ont., and had moved west 24 years ago.

Frank Dunlap of Ottawa, a student at St. Michael's College, Toronto, has been granted immediate reinstatement by the C. A. H. A. after playing two games with the Toronto Leafs in the N.H.L., it was announced last night by president Frank Sargent of the hockey body. He will turn out with St. Michael's junior O.H.A. team.

Appendicitis

Pitcher Bucky Walters of the Cincinnati Reds underwent an appendectomy yesterday in a Philadelphia hospital and was reported progressing favorably. Walters had to forego the trip with the base ball party to Alaska because of the ailment.

President C. L. Laws yesterday announced the signing of Dolph Camilli of the New York Giants as manager of his Oakland club in the Pacific Coast League. Oakland gave the Giants an option on shortstop Bill Rigney, now in the navy, as part of the deal.

Secretary W. A. Hewitt of the O.H.A. announced today entries in the intermediate "A" and junior "B" series would close Wednesday December 15, club entries to be sent to his office, Maple Leaf Gardens, Toronto, before that date

Cooperation

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9 — (AP).—Mrs. Louis Schor, expectant mother, sprained her ankle. A bystander, Mrs. Laura Swartz, offered to drive her to a doctor's, and she was lifted into the car. En route, the driver said, "Your car has good brakes." "Heavens," cried the passenger, "this isn't my car. I thought it was yours."

Marg Selkirk Chalks Up 717 High Triple

Scores in the Ladies' City Five-Pin League this week were not as high all around as usual but the Outboard Marines came through with a nice team total of 2984, rolling 1015 and 1058 in their first two games.

Marg. Selkirk of Westclox won individual honors for the week by clicking for a high three of 717 with F. Margueratt of Outboard Marines second with 692. Incidentally that total won for the Outboard Marine star the blind score prize for the week. The blind score was 679.

You'll see a bright girl named Dolores Moran when the Bette Davis-Miriam Hopkins picture, "Old Acquaintance," comes along. She has just enrolled in the philosophy class of a California university. In 1941 she was spotted by a talent scout at a lodge picnic and after two years of posing for publicity stills got a real chance. Her father operates a small movie house and has received permission to bill Dolores above the stars when the picture plays there. . . Martha Scott, a young lady who played old women until she got a chance to be her glamorous self in "Hi Diddle Diddle," wants to be her age in films from now on. From the aged characters of "Cheers for Miss Bishop" and "Our Town" to the young beauty who falls into John Wayne's arms in "In Old Oklahoma" is quite a change. . . Ronald Colman, the acme of dignity, made his theatrical debut playing a banjo at a smoker when he was 16 years old.

The coming of sound ended his career, his voice not being suitable. But many old-time fans won't soon forget "The Egg Crate Wallop," "The Ol' Swimmin' Hole," "The Tailor-Made Man" and "The Clodhopper" . . . Home Clubs Win All Games Since Nov. 21

By The Canadian Press

In the National Hockey League 16 league games since November 21 not a single team has managed to win on the other fellow's ice. Home clubs have won 14 of the contest and settled for a split of points in the other two.

In home games over the stretch Boston Bruins have won four and tied one, Chicago Black Hawks, Montreal Canadiens and Toronto Maple Leafs took three and lost none and Detroit Red Wings won their lone engagement.

Even New York Rangers made the grade, scoring their only point of the season with a draw against Canadiens in their only appearance before home fans since November 21.

Home teams face a stern test, however, in the only games scheduled this week. Toronto entertains the league-leading Montreal Canadiens Saturday while Rangers are at home to Boston Sunday. Rangers also play at Boston Saturday, while two other Sunday contests send Canadiens to Detroit and Toronto to Chicago.

Montreal Teams Battle To 4-all Tie

MONTREAL, Dec. 9 (CP) — Montreal Royals and Montreal Air Force fought to a 4-4 tie in a Quebec Senior Hockey League fixture here last night. As a result of the draw Air Force moved in a first-place tie with idle Quebec Aces while Royals remained in the cellar, a game behind Ottawa Commandos.

Jack Stewart paced Air Force with two goals and an assist while Harry Watson and Kenny Mosdell scored the other Air Force goals. Connolly, Smart, Campeau and Farmer were Royals' marksmen.

JEFF HEATH — JIM BAGBY — RUSS PETERS

BASEBALL TRADE WINDS BLOW — These three members of the Cleveland Indians are linked closely with trade rumors at the annual major league baseball meeting in New York. The three players involved, according to reports, are Outfielder Jeff Heath, Pitcher Jim Bagby and Infielder Russ Peters.

TORONTO, Dec. 9 (CP)—Flt. Lt. Syd Halter, president of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, indignantly denies this columns comment that the Union died in 1937 when the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association withdrew its support in a dispute over definition of an amateur. Syd states the A.A.U. was active until the war and lapsed into a "state of suspension" only because the great majority of its affiliated players have enlisted. "We'll be back after the war as active as ever," says Halter, a Winnipeg barrister in civilian life. The Amateur Union's great problem at the moment is to find a secretary to succeed John Leslie, whose death occurred last week in Edmonton. "Even though our major activities were suspended, John continued to carry on considerable correspondence right to the end," said Halter. "He was one of the most valuable sports executives in Canada with his great capacity for understanding and his wide knowledge of sports. We shall find it difficult to replace John Leslie."

Scoring Record:

Joe Sadler's seven goals here last Saturday as St. Michael's beat Toronto Young Rangers 12-1 in the Junior O.H.A. may have been a modern scoring record for Class "A" hockey. Last year Church Russell of Winnipeg Rangers scored six goals as the club won the Manitoba Junior title by beating St. Boniface 12-6. Sadler's splurge was not an all-time record, however. Frank McGee scored 16 goals for Ottawa Silver Seven in a Stanley Cup game in 1905, Joe Malone fired 10 for Quebec Bulldogs in 1913 and Dick Irvin, now coach of Montreal Canadiens, scored nine for Winnipeg Monarchs in an Allan Cup game against Toronto Rowing Association in 1914.

Round and About:

There's a rumor Red Dutton will be offered the National Hockey League's permanent presidency but that he will refuse. . . Charlie Sands, handed a terrific insult when given his outright release by New York Rangers, who could use almost any kind of hockey help may take a job coaching in Los Angeles. . . Glen Harmon, Canadiens defenceman, has invented a knockdown card table for use on railway coaches. Now that teams have to travel in day coaches they have to supply their own table tops and Harmon's four-piece model can be carried in a travelling pack.

Barons Crushed By Hershey Team

By The Canadian Press

Hershey Bears crushed Cleveland Barons 4-1 last night to strengthen their position atop the American Hockey League with 24 points. Indianapolis Capitals downed Providence Reds 6-2 on home ice in the night's other game.

The Barons—leaders of the western section—are in second place, three points behind Bears who have won 11 games in 15 starts this season. Bears' record includes a pair of draws and a pair of losses, Cleveland has won nine games and tied three in 16 starts.

Earl Bartholome, Cleveland's star centre, saved them from a shutout with a goal in the last period when Bears' goalie, Nick Damore, was flat on the ice away from his net.

Versatile Gaston Gauthier paced the Bears to victory with two goals —both in the second period—while George Pearson and Ross Knowles scored in the first period.

Red Kane scored two goals in the Indianapolis victory, other Cap counters being provided by Bernie Ruelle, Tony Buchovich, Vic Lynn and Roy Glover. Hec Pozzo and Johnny Gagnon got the Providence goals.

Sports Spice

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sport Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 — (AP). — It's easy to blame almost anything on a war—it can't argue with you —and that may be why some oldtimers in sports profess to see some similarity between recent rumors about gambling by professional football players and baseball's great scandal of 1919.....No proof has been brought up to support these rumors and there probably isn't any basis for them....Still there are certain similar conditions that might weaken the public's confidence in pro football....The foundations of the Black Sox affair were laid during the war years, when there was a free and easy attitude toward money and gambling and when many athletes felt they'd be too old to return to sports after the fighting ended....Those same sentiments prevail to-day (take a look at the figures on race track gambling) and while rumors can be heard, it will take more than denials and offers of rewards to convince all the public that they have no foundation.

Proof of the pudding:

Baseball recently tossed out Bill Cox for what many people might think was a harmless practice of backing his own team to win.... And by taking this step it strengthened its place in public esteem.... From here it seems that Football Commissioner Elmer Layden would do well to follow the vigorous example of Judge Landis and conduct a thorough investigation of every rumor....If he already has tracked them all down, it's up ot Elmer to tell the public exactly what he has done and why he doesn't believe any of those yarns.

Launching an idea:

When the New York Boxing Writers met yesterday to award the Eddie Neil Memorial Trophy it was suggested that an effort be made to have his name included among the sports celebrities and war correspondents for whom Liberty shops have been named....To those of us who knew Eddie and worked with him it seemed that nothing less than a battleship would do until a letter was read from Mrs. James J. Corbett in which she said that if the former heavyweight champion were alive nothing would please him more—not even winning the title from John L. Sullivan—than having one of these ships carry his name....As Eddie Neil probably would have said: "Anything good enough for Jim Corbett is good enough for me."

Fractured Arm

PROVIDENCE — (AP). — The disqualification against Jackie Wilson, former Pittsburg featherweight champion, was withdrawn at a hearing yesterday of the State Boxing Commission when he produced X-ray photographs showing a fracture of the left arm. He had been charged with pulling his punches in Monday night's fight with Tony Costa of Woonsocket.

Famous Diver Coming To YMCA

"Conky" Kellam, world famous swimming and diving performer is to appear here next week. He will put on shows at the Y.M.C.A. pool on Wednesday and Thursday, December 15 and 16.

"Conky" Kellam has played at the San Francisco and New York world fairs and recently appeared at the "Fair for Britain" in Toronto. He was a member of Billy Rose's famous "Acquade" in New York. He is one of the outstanding water comedians on the American continent. Weighing three hundred and thirty pounds he floats like a cork and has been called "the human sea elephant."

"Conky" will introduce many new and novel stunts in the water which will include the "Leap for Life," the difficult "Seven Glass Juggle," water boxing act, and four of the ming strokes. Members of the Y.W.C.A. Finettes Club will appear in the evening performances. Kellam has issued a challenge to any four swimmers to box with him in his water boxin act, and four of the huskiest Y.M.C.A. swimmers have accepted the challenge. This should be a real battle. In one of his acts he eats a banana under water.

The whole show is a clean and fast-moving performance that will appeal to children and adults alike. Four performances will be staged at the Y.M.C.A. Pool.

The Wednesday evening show will be open to adults and the Thursday evening show is being reserved for men of the Armed Forces. Two special shows for boys and girls will be held on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons after school. This is an opportunity to see the finest display of swimming ever put on in Peterborough.

Wood Shortage Plagues Meaford

MEAFORD, Ont., Dec. 9 (CP). —Meaford council yesterday sent word to the Ontario Fuel Control Board stating "a serious shortage of fuel exists in Meaford and the town council has been unable to purchase wood fuel to remedy the situation."

Council said that a "black market" exists for the few cords of wood that are available.

Reeve Riley said that some months ago Meaford's fuel situation was revealed to the fuel controller in Ottawa and an official of the office was appointed to look into the situation. Tuesday Reeve Riley said, the official said Meaford's situation was "just one of those things."

Council criticised a letter received from the region Fuel Wood Controller in Ontario which stated that "if there is any possible shortage" the Board might make plans to counteract the condition.

"It is apparent the Board has been 'passing the buck' in taking no action in our complaint," said the reeve.

Plans For Peace In Sierra Leone

FREETOWN, Dec. 9 — (CP) — Sierra Leone is going ahead with plans for the development of secondary industries. A sub-committee has been set up and it is hoped that means of employment will be established that will be complimentary to the scheme for land reclamation and settlement already in hand.

The proposed industries include soap-making, boat-building, fish canning, brick making, the production of improved products from local tobacco, furniture making and the making of chocolate for local consumption.

Brutal Murder Shocks Denver

DENVER, Dec. 9 — (AP). — A United States army cook insisted today he was drunk and remembered nothing about a three-year old girl whose ravished body was found under the kitchen sink of his suburban apartment.

The soldier, Sgt. Frank Martz, 33, of Port Logan, is charged with murdering Kathleen Ann Geist after luring her from a tavern on Monday night with soft drinks and the promise of a fluffy, stuffed toy rabbit.

District attorney Richard Simon in a statement to newsmen, related:

While Kathleen's mother, Mrs. Ann Geist, 27, played a mechanical game with friends in a tavern Martz enticed the little girl to his apartment.

There "Martz struck Kathleen on her head with a blunt instrument . . . some time thereafter he took a stout cord . . . wrapped it around the little girl's neck, choking her. He thereafter ravished and raped the little girl evidenced by many scratches, teeth marks and other wounds on the body."

Want More Liquor

Canadians Consume More Food During War Than In Peacetime

OTTAWA, Dec. 9 (CP) — While other nations have eaten less under the stress of war, fortunate Canada has eaten more.

In a summary of per capita supplies of food moving into civilian consumption, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics today compared the 1943 consumption of primary foods, estimated from preliminary figures, with that in the 1935-39 pre-war period.

On the basis of 1935-39 equalling 100, the 1943 consumption of milk and milk products, excluding butter, was 118; meats, including cured and canned, 112; poultry, game and fish, 112; eggs, 124; oils and fats, 106; potatoes, 107; tomatoes and citrus fruits, 120; grain products 104.

The wartime pinch was felt in only a few products. The civilian consumption of sugars and syrups in 1943 was 82 per cent of the pre-war use; pulses and nuts, 93; fruits and fruit products apart from oranges, 91; leafy, green and yellow vegetables, 98; other vegetables 96; and beverages—tea, coffee and cocoa—97.

"Supplies of food moving into civilian consumption in Canada throughout the war period have, with relatively few exceptions, increased over pre-war," said the Bureau.

Adequate Production

Despite increased exports of a number of important agricultural commodities and substantial demands for military services, the production of most foodstuffs has been adequate to meet these demands and to leave increased quantities available or the civilian population.

"Steady increases in employment and payrolls have increased the demand for food generally and periodic shortages have occurred in certain areas despite the increase in the National average figures."

"Transport difficulties also have been a factor in the development of regional shortages of individual foods."

Consumption of milk and milk products has increased substantially in the war period, particularly in the case of fluid milk. Cheese consumption has remained constant respite a sharp increase in production. All the additional supplies have been shipped to the United Kingdom.

Total supplies of meats have risen materially with the main increase occurring in beef. As meat rationing did not come into effect until May, 1943, and as consumption was heavy during the early months of the year, the effects of rationing are not reflected in the 1943 annual average figures.

The consumption of pork in 1943 was approximately the same as in the post-war period, and additional supplies provided by a spectacular gain in hog production all were made available to the United Kingdom.

Increased slaughterings of hogs has resulted in a substantial increase in available supplies of lard throughout the war period. After substantial increases in 1940 and 1941, the figures for sugar show the effect of rationing in 1942 and consumption has been further reduced in 1943.

The civilian per capita supply figures were calculated after adjusting the total production figures for imports, exports, changes in stocks, marketing losses, seed, feed, non-food industrial uses, and supplies going to the armed forces. The final figures of civilian supplies then were divided by the total civilian population.

All amounts were calculated at the retail stage of distribution except for meats which were at the wholesale stage. Amount of food actually eaten would be somewhat lower because of losses and wastes occurring after the products reached the hands of consumers.

With other sweet products in short supply, the consumption of corn and other syrups in 1943 was 140 of the pre-war period. The use of tomatoes rose to 250 per cent. of pre-war and fresh citrus fruits to 150 per cent.

Now—She Doesn't Feel Tired The Way She Used To

...And WHAT a Difference In Her Figure and Pep!

The pepless, exhausted feeling, common to many women, is often due to low blood count. Lack of sufficient red corpuscles, resulting from iron deficiency, may be robbing your body of vital oxygen. And you must have plenty of oxygen to help explode your energy and give you "going power".

Get Dr. Williams Pink Pills today. They are world-noted for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with blood count up, most people regain that glorious feeling of health and energy that gets them out of the old rocking chair into the activities they need to help restore a youthful, fit appearance. Don't delay—ask your druggist for Dr. Williams Pink Pills at once.

Club Fun Night Brings In $250

SPRINGBROOK, Dec. 9 (ENS). —In a well-rounded program which sparkled with fun, the Springbrook War Service Club gave another boost to its war service work before a large audience at the Orange Hall. The Fun Night climaxed a quickly organized canvass of the district, and this together with the gate receipts, and the proceeds of a raisin guessing contest brought over $250 into the coffers of the club. This is in addition to the funds totalling over $950 which were raised and expended in the past three years.

By unanimous vote the club executive, including Mrs. H. Mumby, president, George Thompson, secretary, and Mrs. George Williams, treasurer, was re-elected for another year, and appreciation for their leadership was expressed by Reeve W. J. Tanner of Rawdon Township.

Musical Program.

Lorne Johnston as chairman kept the show rolling along. Highlights of the evening included the guitar and accordion duets of Gordon Bateman and Mel Gibson, the songs of Joseph Jackson, the proficiency of Councillor Wilfred Spencer in gobbling up a plate of whipped cream in a novel contest. An interesting feature was a debate arranged by Grenville Meiklejohn on the subject: "Resolved, that a man can do a woman's work better than a woman can do a man's work." The verdict was given by the judges to the negative side, represented by Mrs. Clayton Thompson and Mrs. J. R. Holden, who debated against George Williams and Percy Ray.

Presentation of handsome wrist watches was made by the Service Club to two servicemen, Jack Haggerty and Gordon Cassidy, while Nathan Bronson received a wrist watch and pen and pencil set on behalf of his sons, Berle Bronson now in naval training in Quebec and Malvern with the Canadian Army in England. A wrist watch is also to be forwarded to Pte. Wesley Cooper, now at Halifax. The door prize was awarded to Mrs. Orrie Barton of Springbrook, who held the lucky ticket.

The rest of the program was as follows: Chorus, pupils of Springbrook School; solo, Percy Ray; tie-tying contest, won by Harper Bateman and Miss Doris Thompson; solo, Rev. J. R. Holden; duet, Mrs. Lorne Johnston and Jack Baker; quiz contest supervized by Lorne Johnston; duet, Miss Vera Ketcheson and Miss Marjorie Prest; solo, Jack Baker; quartette, Mrs. George Williams, Mrs Lorne Johnston, Jack Baker and Rev. J. R. Holden; crosscut sawing contest for ladies, a tie between Mrs. Wellman and Mrs. Barton, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Clayton Burkitt; duet, Marjorie and Lillian Haggerty; musical novelty, Mrs. Johnston; lemon eating contest, won by Edward Bateman; blindfold pie eating contest, won by James Johnston and Mrs. R. McKeown; auction sale, staged by Charles Wellman.

Chetniks Will Fight Partisans

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 9 (AP). — The Zurich correspondent of the Stockholm newspaper Dagens Myheter reported to-day that Gen. Draja Mihailovic had issued a proclamation declaring his Chetniks would fight the Partisan forces of Gen. Josip Broz (Tito) as enemies of the Yugoslav Government in Cairo.

The Partisans on Saturday announced establishment of a provisional government within Yugoslavia in opposition to King Peter's Government. It is headed by Dr. Ivan Ribar, with Tito chairman of a new committee for national defence.

The Zurich correspondent, who said he was a personal friend of Mihailovic, asserted he had received a letter from the Chetnik leader stating:

"We never attacked the Partisans except in cases when my people attacked them for plundering, but when these Partisans officially stand against King Peter, we see in them our enemies the same as the Germans, Italians, Bulgarians, and the troops" of Nazi puppet Premier Milan Nedic.

Mihailovic denied any collaboration with the Germans, Italians, or Nedic forces, and said that as the Minister of War in King Peter's Government he was trying to defend the Government's interest.

King Peter in Cairo on Sunday denounced the Provisional Government of Ribar and Tito.

Cavan Farm Forum Guests Of E. Snider

CAVAN, Dec. 9 (ENS). — The Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Snider, with twenty-four members present, and Mr. Herb Morton, secretary, in charge.

The subject, 'How Stands Health,' was discussed. Mr. Leslie Pritchard gave his report on the rural life conference, which was held in Orono on December 2. The conference was attended by W. Swain, L. Pritchard, H. Morton, and S. McCamus. Thomas Tripp, D.D., of New York, spoke at both sessions, his subject being "The Church in Rural America." Other speakers were Mr. Stewart of Canadian Confederation of Agriculture, and R. A. Cameron, secretary of F.C.F.C.

Miss Malone was in charge of recreation period. Lunch was served. The next meeting will be at Mr. Len Hibbard's, and the subject will be "Government Health Plan."

Personals.

Miss Barbara Staples of Springville and Mrs. Don Ada (nee Joyce Trumpour), of Peterborough, were week-end guests of Miss Barbara Argue.

Pub Run By Vicar To Keep 'Em Sober

CARLTON - IN - CLEVELAND, England, Dec. 9 — (CP). —When Canon J. L. Kyle, became vicar of this Yorkshire village 35 years ago, he said it was "the most drunken place in the whole country," so he bought the village pub to control the people's drinking habits.

One of the first things he did was close the pub on Sundays.

Canon Kyle, who had become known as the publican vicar, died recently, aged 87. He maintained ownership of the pub until his death.

Engineers Leave Trade Mark Across England

By FRANK FLAHERTY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Dec. 9 — (CP). — Canadian army engineer have left permanent marks on the English countryside through their wartime activities, Brig James L. Mellville, former engineer commander who now is chairman of the Canadian Pension Commission, said to-day.

The marks include arterial highways, by-pass roads and airfields. The Canadian sappers also made important contributions to exploitation of Britain's mineral resources by operations in the tin mines of Cornwall and exploration for minerals and ores in many parts of the island.

The speed with which one special job was carried out by a Canadian road construction company amazed the British contractor and government department concerned. A large excavation more than 60 feet deep had to be made in a subsoil of sandstone and blue clay. It looked like many months for the contractor's pick and shovel gang.

Canadian tractors, bulldozers, scrapers and pneumatic drills were moved on to the job, three-hour shifts were started and in two weeks the excavation was complete

Strides have been made in the technique of demolishing obstacles of all kinds. Tunnelling companies of the Canadian Engineers have demonstrated their skill and under Lt. Col. C. A. Campbell, former Ontario Minister of Public Works, have gained an enviable reputation, Brig. Melville said. Their work in Gibraltar, the Cornish mines, in Scotland on the water power developments, and in search for new minerals, have been a "great contribution to the prosecution of the war."

Germans Claim Crimean Victory

LONDON, Dec. 9 — (CP). — The German high command to-day claimed Rumanian forces have won the bridgehead area established by the Russians at Kerch in the Crimea, wiping out the Soviet landing troops in a three-day battle and taking 2,000 prisoners.

The war bulletin said heavy fighting continued south-west of Kremenchug, where the Russians are cutting deeper into the Dnieper bulge.

A Berlin broadcast asserted the Russians lost 8,000 dead and many prisoners in the battle west of Kiev and that the Nazis seized large quantities of war booty.

In the Dnieper Bend south of Kremenchug, the broadcast said the Germans shortened part of their line."

Reuters News Agency reported the Red Army had thrust within two miles of the centre of Znamenka in the area to the north and had advanced eight to 10 miles in the last 24 hours in the sectors south and west of the rail junction.

Pay For Crime

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 9 — (AP). — Pleading guilty to a charge of drunk driving, Edward W. Cain, 45, a chauffeur, was fined $300 and given five years' probation with the proviso: He must pay the $286 funeral bill and buy a $55 tombstone for Juarez Tostado, allegedly killed by Cain's car.

LONDON (CP). — Between the end of June and the end of October more than 4,000 refugees arrived in Britain, many without visas.

Chinese Given 7 Years In Pen

TRENTON, Dec. 9 — (CP). — Pleading guilty to eight charges of auto theft, theft of goods, and obtaining money under false pretences in various sections of the province, Harry Lowe, a Chinese, was yesterday sentenced to a total of seven and a half years in Penitentiary.

Wanted by provincial and municipal police since 1940, Lowe was recently taken into custody by the Kingston police and brought to Trenton for trial. Entering a plea of guilty on all charges, accused preferred to be tried in Trenton Police Court.

On the first charge of obtaining $550 through false pretences at Chippawa, Welland County, Lowe was handed a two-year term; for theft of a car at Toronto, he received one year; theft of watches at New Liskeard, one year; charge of fraud at Geraldton, one year; a charge of fraud at Toronto, six months; theft of an auto at Trenton, one year, and for theft of money and obtaining goods falsely, he was given a six-months term on each count, all charges to run consecutively.

Nazi Jailed

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 —(AP)—The Rio de Janeiro radio said today that Hans Otto Meyer, arrested some months ago in Brazil and charged with being the leader of a German spy ring which communicated Allied shipping movements to enemy submarines, had been sentenced to two years in prison. Ten of Meyer's associates await sentencing, said the broadcast.

Are You a Sufferer From Rheumatic Pains?

These pains come from an inflammation in the muscles and are generally caused by a deposit of poison in the blood called uric acid which produces the irritating and painful effect that causes many days and nights heavy with pain.

During the past 60 years Canadian people have found that by purifying the blood stream, Burdock Blood Bitters aids them to enjoy freer body movement with less rheumatic pain, as B. B. B. helps to tone up the system and clear up the uric acid in the blood, and probably help fortify the system against future attacks.

Warden Annoyed Over Hog Situation

CHATHAM, Dec. 9 — (CP). — Warden Gordon Knights told the opening of the December session of Kent County Council yesterday that Agriculture Minister Gardiner had "broken faith" with the farmers of the Dominion over the hog situation.

"The production of swine has always been a big industry with Kent farmers and if the Minister wants them to quit raising hogs, they can soon do it," he said.

He declared the Council had written the Minister regarding the situation but his reply didn't pertain to hogs as much as to feed.

Bulgar Leaders Meet In Secret

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 — (AP).—The Bulgarian parliament met in secret session last night to discuss "important problems in the field of domestic and foreign policy which have recently emerged" a Hungarian news broadcast said today.

The broadcast, recorded by the United States government monitors, added that "nothing is yet known about the discussions and it is learned that nothing will be published."

An Istanbul dispatch to the Stockholm newspaper Allehanda, yesterday said there was great nervousness in Sofia as a result of the Allied war councils in Cairo and Teheran and that many persons there expected Bulgaria to break with Germany.

The dispatch added that Bulgarian minister to Berlin, Moscow and Turkey are all home for conferences and that a Russian military mission is visiting the Bulgarian capital.

OBITUARIES

MISS ADELA BARKER CLEAK

BANCROFT, Dec. 9 (ENS)—The funeral of the late Adela Barker Cleak was held from her residence Monday. The Rev. Robert McLaughlin of St. Paul's United church Bancroft, assisted by Pastor Harvey, conducting the service. Interment was made in the family plot at Mount Pleasant cemetery. Pallbearers were: W. A. Davy, Emerson Laundry, Lorne Reid, Walter Mullett, William Chatterton and Oswald Fuller.

The late Miss Cleak was born in England, coming to this country with her parents when but a girl, her parents being pioneers of Hastings county. She lived for awhile in Belleville, spending the rest of her life in Bancroft. Miss Cleak was a music and art teacher and contributed much to the cultural life of this community, and taught in Sunday School and was organist in the United church for years.

The late Miss Cleak is survived by one sister, Mrs. Chester Davy and family of Vineland, Ontario, two nephews, J. E. Cleak of Windsor and Percy Cleak of Spedden, Alberta; also one niece, Mrs. George A. Weese of Kelfield, Saskatchewan.

MRS. CHARLES MEEHAN.

DOWNEYVILE, Dec. 9—(ENS). —The death of Mrs. Charles Meehan, which took place in Detroit, Mich., was heard with deep regret by all her relatives here at Downeyville. The late Mrs. Meehan (formerly Mary Ryan) was born in Downeyville 72 years ago, and was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. Ryan. She received her education here, was married here, and a few years ago moved with her husband and family to Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Meehan died after a long illness, passing away only two weeks after her sister, the late Mrs. Jas. D. O'Brien, who was buried in Downeyville. She was highly esteemed and during her residence here was valued and faithful member of St. Luke's choir and her beautiful soprano voice was heard with delight by all.

She is survived by her husband, Charles Meehan, one son Charles, and three daughters Margaret, Hazel, and Phyllis, all living in Detroit, and two brothers Joseph Ryan of Chicago, Ill., and Albert Ryan of Peterborough. She was also a cousin of the late Mrs. David Morrissey, who died here on Sunday. Her many friends here extend sympathy to the bereaved family in their loss.

coast.

For some time Allied aircraft from bases in Italy and the Middle East has been supporting the Partisans by bombing specific targets.

An actual Allied landing on the Yugoslav coast would not be difficult for trained formations, and if the high command has decided on such an operation several divisions should be able to get established ashore without suffering heavy losses.

However, dissipation of their forces has always been opposed by the Allied commanders in the Mediterranean and unless the Russians break through from the east or a British-American force attacks from the south, an Adriatic venture would be a major gamble. Much of such a campaign would involve slow mountain fighting, as in Italy, and there is the question whether it would be worth the effort.

But the Turkish situation and the threatening Balkan blow-up holds public attention here, and after the breathtaking developments of the Cairo and Teheran conferences anything might happen.

The strategy in Italy might even change rapidly from continual pressure on German divisions to gradual holding operations near the Rome line to allow concentration on another operation to exploit enemy difficulties in southeast Europe.

BABY'S CONSTIPATION SERIOUS IF NEGLECTED

BABY'S daily movements are something of which absolutely accurate track must be kept. When he misses something must be done at once. Constipation is serious for baby.

Mrs. John T. Reid of Hespeler, Ont., has this to say: "Having had seven children and having used Baby's Own Tablets for all seven, can say they are the best and gentlest regulator for children—safe and effective for the tiniest infant. BANK CLEARINGS.

Another million dollar week was reported to-day by the secretary of the Peterborough Clearing House when the total bank clearings for the week amounted to $1,016,721.

A LINEUP NEEDED.

The Government's in-and-out store had an early patronage this morning that needed the services of a police officer to get a lineup formed. The rush fell off, however, before noon.

BICYCLE STOLEN.

Albert Bradley, Adeline Street, left his bicycle at the rear of the Braund store, Charlotte Street, this morning, and when he went to get it an hour and a half later discovered the wheel had been stolen.

NOTICE

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Friday evening, at 8 o'clock. All interested are requested to be present.

EMPLOYMENT QUESTION.

The Kiwanis Club will hear a discussion on employment at the weekly meeting when Gordon Langley addresses them on "What Is Industry's Share of the Responsibility for Providing Full Employment?"

BOARD MEETS HERE.

The application of residents of the section of North Monaghan east of Park Street for that portion of the township to be annexed to the city of Peterborough will be considered by the Ontario Municipal Board at a meeting to be held here on the afternoon of December 16.

THREE ALARMS.

Three minor fires brought out the members of the Department in the last few hours. At 6:43 p.m. Wednesday there was a chimney fire at the home of A. Allen, 155 Stewart Street. Someone got a little excited at 12:19 this morning and reported a fire under the eaves at 405 London Street, residence of A. Gorman. When firemen arrived they found that the light shining on the ice had given the illusion of a fire. The third call came at 7:16 this morning when a truck at 270 Charlotte Street, backfired or had a short circuit. There was no damage.

CHECKING LIGHTS.

There are complaints that many motor vehicles travelling the city streets at night are without taillights or having their lights so badly placed that the licence plate is not visible. City police have been instructed to check on all such cars and charges will be laid unless the conditions complained of are remedied.

WASTING TIME

Employees at the Post Office have been watching the special section reserved for Christmas cards with a jaundiced eye. Although the deadline for the United States Christmas delivery is Friday, only a few bundles of cards have been tied up and handed in at the wickets. The small white packages have not begun to make a sizeable allotment.

CELEBRATE LATER

A number of boys whose ditty bags have been shipped from the Women's Auxiliary to the Navy here, have found out that they will be home for Christmas and so they will be able to have a second Christmas when they return to their posts, where the bags will be awaiting them.

FRACTURES HER ANKLE.

Falling on the sidewalk on Aylmer Street, near Simcoe Street, on Wednesday night, Mrs. Lena Clayton, 246 Antrim Street, sustained a fracture of two bones in her right ankle. A motorist who saw the woman lying on the sidewalk notified firemen in the nearby Fire Hall and the police were called. Mrs. Clayton was removed by ambulance to St. Joseph's Hospital.

INFORMATION WANTED.

The city Police Department has received inquiries as to information in regard to the whereabouts of Amy Westwood, a former Dr. Barnardo Home girl who at one time was a resident of Peterborough. She came to this country in 1886, and the communication states that she would be about 68 years old now. She was employed at a number of places, including the home of David Thornton in Omemee, and the last address given was the residence of the late William Hill, 31 Union Street, Peterborough. Any information that might be helpful will be appreciated by the Police Department.

Obituaries

MRS. MARY KEARNEY.

Requiem high mass was sung in St. Peter's Cathedral on Tuesday morning for Mrs. Mary Kearney, 569 Elm Street, a well-known resident of this district. Many friends and acquaintances attended the mass, which was sung by Rev. Father Marocco with Rev. Father J. Lynch officiating as deacon and Rev. K. Malane as sub-deacin.

The pall-bearers were Thomas Cavanagh, Ennismore, Joseph Torpey, Robert Walker, Daniel Harrington, John E. Galvin, and Stephen McDonald.

Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery, Young's Point, and the service at the graveside was conducted by Rev. Father Malane.

MICHAEL GEARIN.

WARKWORTH, Dec. 9.—(ENS).—There passed away at his late residence in Percy township to-day, Michael Gearin.

Deceased, who was in his eighty-fifth year, had been in his usual health until a few days ago. He was born in Alnwick township and all his life has been spent in and near this community, where he was well-known and highly respected. He retired from farming about seven years ago.

Besides his sorrowing wife, formerly Nellie McCann, he is survived by one daughter (Kathleen) Mrs Ambrose English and four grandchildren, Helen, Joan, Jimmie and Willard English.

The funeral will be held from the residence Saturday morning to St. Jerome's church, Warkworth, for Requiem Mass at ten-thirty.

Interment Warkworth Roman Catholic cemetery.

MRS. GEORGE SEXSMITH

Mrs. George Sexsmith, 590 McCannan avenue, passed away at her home on Wednesday in her 61st year, after an illness which lasted for three years.

Born in Havelock, she was the daughter of the late Joseph Pacey and Elizabeth Cummins, and has lived in Peterborough for about 35 years. Besides belonging to All Saints' church, the late Mrs. Sexsmith was a member of the Peterborough Chapter of No. 161 Order of the Eastern Star.

She leaves to mourn her passing her husband, one daughter, Rose, and one son, Percy, of Peterborough; two sisters, Mrs. John Leask of Havelock and Mrs. James Sexsmith of Lindsay; and three brothers, Henry and Frank of Harcourt and Robert of Peterborough.

James Stillwell Is Reported Missing

Leading Cook James Stillwell of the Royal Navy, who lived in Peterborough until eight years ago, has been reported missing on active service, according to word received by his grandmother, Mrs. S. Stickles, 280 McDonnel Street.

He is the son of Mrs. C. G. Stillwell of England and while in Peterborough lived on Brown Street, and attended May's School and St. James' Sunday School. His mother was notified that he was missing October 28, two days before his 23rd birthday. James Stillwell enlisted when war broke out and for the past three years has been in the East, and was expected home shortly.

In a letter from his mother, it was stated that her son still heard regularly from his chums here. Mr. and Mrs. Stillwell lived in Peterborough for about 16 years until the former's health necessitated a return to England.

550 More Killed

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 — (AP).—The BBC said last night that 550 person were killed and 12 villages destroyed in a new earthquake in Central Turkey. An earthquake November 27 in north central Turkey killed 2,919 persons and destroyed 3,321 buildings.

SAILORS AREN'T FORGOTTEN THIS CHRISTMAS, thanks to the excellent work done by the Peterborough City and District Women's Auxiliary of the Navy, who have just finished packing and shipping more than 400 well-filled ditty bags. The Christmas packets went to Sailors and Wrens on 71 ships in Canada and overseas, and contained an amazing variety of Yuletide goodies and practical items. ABOVE, a group of the Auxiliary are shown in St. John's Parish Hall with the bags heaped high on the tables. They are, from LEFT to RIGHT: Mrs. Ed. Graham, Mrs. George Groombridge, Mrs. S. Gillespie, Mrs. F. Honour, Mrs. Roy Pilling, Mrs. G. H. Moore, Mrs. Fred Board, Mrs. Gordon Eason, Mrs. Fred Craig (convener), Mrs. A. Chartren and Mrs. Thomas Littlefair.

407 Ditty Bags Have Been Packed For Peterborough Boys In Navy

St. John's Parish Hall was a hive of industry this week as members of the Peterborough Women's Auxiliary to the Navy packed and shipped 407 ditty bags to Peterborough and district boys serving in the the Navy in Canada and overseas. A regular assembly line was organized to speed the packing and even with that number, it was felt that many more were missed because names were not submitted.

There were eight Wrens included in the Auxiliary's list and they are trying to see that their gifts have a true feminine touch. 41 bags went overseas, and 366 went to Canadian ports for distribution. Friends and organizations outside the Auxiliary donated 81 of the ditty bags leaving 285 for the Auxiliary to handle, and the members were delighted with the bags that were turned over to them. In addition, the Separate Schools donated 400 articles for the bags, and most of them were used in overseas parcels. There were also 72 names of boys definitely listed on ships which leave Canadian ports.

Auxiliary members spent a whole day at St. John's sorting and packing the parcels so that Peterborough sailors will be able to celebrate Christmas and know that the people at home have not forgotten them.

Nice Parcels

The average ditty bag contained the following articles: writing paper, envelopes, shaving cream, razor blades, tooth paste, tooth brush, wash soap, hand soap, Christmas cake, candy, peanuts, gum, cigarettes (unless specially requested not to include them), comb, safety pins, package of caramels, some books, black and white thread, mending wool and shoe polish.

For the entire year, the Auxiliary had used every means at its command to get names and addresses of city and district boys so that their list can be kept up to date. In spite of that, the Auxiliary has felt that some of the families have shown a decided lack of enthusiasm. It has been roughly estimated that 600 sailors have gone from here, and only 407 names are on the list.

Adding emphasis to the lack of interest, one of the Auxiliary executive received thirteen calls on Wednesday, the day after the bags had gone, notifying her of changes in address. With the exception of two, all had had the new address from one to two weeks. While the boys will eventually get the bags at the new address, they will be delayed for some time.

Employees Of Dominion Woollens And Worsteds Give $150 To BWVF

It is only in recent years that industrial plants have come to promote a system in their works for the supplying of refreshment to their employees during the working hours, and that they must have proved beneficial from both a moral and physical standpoint to the workers themselves as well as to the company is evidenced by their growth in more ways than one.

In this, from the writer's experience, there has been no attempt on the part of the companies interested to capitalize on this in a financial way, for the profits have gone into a fund from which the benefits reacted either to the employees or the public welfare at large, for which the workers themselves in a measure received the credit for.

The Peterborough and District British War Victims' Fund has had good reason to speak well of these various funds for on many occasions it has benefitted in no mean way through their having been operated, the latest of which in a splendid amount of $150 comes from what is known as the "Milk Fund" in the Bonner-Worth Mills of the Dominion Woollens and Worsteds, Ltd., presided over by D. G. H. Melton, works manager.

This cheque for the amount named was forwarded by T. Williams, associated with G. T. Reader as treasurer, is one in a series which have come from the same source, and it is recalled that only as recently as last September they sent $50 in connection with the R.A.F. soccer match held here, so their fund has done its share in helping various war efforts, and will have a nice stake in the special donations to be sent to the British Isles for Christmas.

Personal Donations.

The desire to help the distressed has probably had a more distinct urge at Christmas time in a personal way than at any other time for longer than probably anyone living can remember, but in this as in other things it is notable that those whose acts for the whole of the year testify their sympathy for the unfortunate, are also to be found take a leading part in such acts at this time of the year.

It is less than one month ago that all the Hills family on Weller Street were listed in this column for the fund, and today they all appear again, while other personals are listed from Mrs. DeGraw and another friend of the children in Britain under the names of "O.C."

Church and School Groups.

After operating the fund for three years on a daily basis, one gets to know the numerous individuals and groups who have helped before, and so it is with certain knowledge that it can be said all three groups list today have given to the special Christmas donations on previous celebrations of this great event.

Of these, the Women's Friendly Bible Class of St. John's Church have supported the fund on various occasions, while the Buckhorn Presbyterian Church Sunday School was among last year's contributors, as was also the Black Squirrels' Junior Red Cross of Mount Julian School taught by Mrs. William Church.

This latter group is composed of twelve very young folk by name of Ethel, Daphne, June and Dorothy Northey, Joan Wilson, Morvel Church, Mary Ellen Fowler, Erma Lane, Russel and Elwood Booth, with Jack Booth as treasurer and Marie Wilson as secretary, a ten-year-old girl who showed quite some intelligence in forwarding the postal note and its accompanying letter.

This Friday night, another dance is being held in the Community Hall at Cavan to give the fund additional support in continuance of the splendid help that has already come to it from this one place through Mervin Kinsman, who represents the fund there.

Small Children Are Witnesses In Court Action

Judge Smoke turned back the pages of the community's records to another item of unfinished business, the death of Barbara Fry, on July 19 last along the Inverlea Park stretch of Park Hill Road. And under his supervision twelve men of the city and county chosen by the order of the state were assigned to the duty of deciding whether Robert Hawley of Glenalda, Chandos, driving easterly past the park that summer evening, was guilty of recklessness as an element in the roadway accident which snuffed out the life of a little girl, Barbara Fry.

Nine-Year-Old Witness

Patricia Lewis, 9, of 235 Northcliffe Road, Toronto, who had lived at 87 Park Hill Road last June was called to tell the trial jury what she saw that evening when one of her little playmates was fatally injured by a passing car. Only her statement was taken. Judge Smoke suggested to Crown Attorney McElderry that she hardly appreciated the nature of an oath.

Patricia said she and some other girls had been playing in the newly-cut park hay and were on the south side of the street when the accident happened.

Barbara Fry was only 3½ years old, and was visiting in the neighborhood.

"She went out of the lane beside house No. 75 and stepped on the road running. I saw a car coming and I called to her to come back. I looked to see if she got over, but I couldn't see anything. I didn't see the car strike her. There was a crowd in front of house No. 61, nearer the river.

Dorothy Dilman and Audrey Wilshaw, both 10, said they were with the group of little girls playing in the hay. They had been throwing it on each other, and piling the fragrant grass on some of their playmates. When Barbara started across the street, Dorothy and Patricia, on the south side, called her back.

"I think it was Patricia called her," Dorothy said to Crown Attorney McElderry. "We thought she might get hit. Barbara kept on going. I saw a car go by. It had something on it I couldn't see. I think it was on the back of the car. The next I saw was Barbara lying on the road."

Audrey Wilshaw said she thought a silver part of the car hit Barbara, and she slid down the road on the pavement.

Had Been Drinking

Mrs. Hazel Dilman arrived at the place of the accident at 7:15 p.m. and saw a crowd in the street. The little girl, Barbara, was lying on the pavement.

"I did not know who Mr. Hawley was, but he offered to drive us to St. Joseph's Hospital. I could tell he had been drinking because I could smell it from him. I'd say it was beer."

Hawley jammed on his brakes during the drive to show they were working. He said it was the first time he had ever hit any one."

Police Constable McGillen testified that Barbara Fry died at 4:30 p.m. of the day after the accident. He and Constable John Stevenson responded to the accident call on Saturday, June 19, arriving at 7:20 p.m.

The little girl was lying on the pavement 11feet 6 inches from the south curb. The street is 27' 1" from curb to curb. The child was cut on the back of the head and a hip was broken.

"Mr. Hawley told me he was driving the car that struck the child. I could tell he had been drinking. I could smell it."

P.C. McGillen said the car had a silver steel bumper. He examined the car.

"There was nothing to indicate what part had hit the child."

Spirea Bushes

To G. N. Gordon, defense counsel, witness said he noticed spirea bushes along the south boulevard, probably 16 to 18 on the street east of Water street. One of them was in front of house No. 75 and to the west of its lane out of which the child had toddled to the street.

P.C. Archie Menzies was at the police station when Hawley was brought in by a policeman.

"Did you notice anything about him?" Mr. McElderry asked.

"The man had been drinking," witness replied, and to Mr. Gordon, he said he did not think Hawley was intoxicated.

P.C. John Stevenson testified he had driven Hawley's car from the hospital to the police station "because he was in a highly nervous condition."

Witness said he could smell beer on Hawley's breath.

Police Inspector Reid concluded the Crown's case at noon.

Fish And Game Cases Adjourned

Four cases under the Fish and Game regulations were enlarged when they were called before Magistrate E. A. Gee in police court this morning.

Percy Edwards and Ernest Lean, Haultain, were charged with carrying rifles in the Peterborough County Game Preserve, but owing to the fact that Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry could not be present, Fish and Game Overseas V. Windsor of Apsley, who laid the charges, asked for an adjournment.

W. J. Arthur Fair, who represented the two men, suggested an adjournment until after Christmas, but finally it was decided to enlarge the cases until December 23.

Another charge against Edwards of obstructing Overseer Windsor in the execution of his duty was also adjourned to the same date.

William Clinton and William Davis, both of Burleigh township, were charged with hunting and killing deer in the game preserve, but it was stated that John A. Bradshaw who was to have defended Clinton was a victim of the prevailing flu epidemic and accordingly there was an adjournment in the two cases until Thursday of next week.

Town Threatened

WINNIPEG, Dec. 9. — (CP). — Steinbach, a town 40 miles southeast of Winnipeg with a population of 1,500, was threatened with destruction by fire early today when flames swept through two large buildings and a house, causing property damage of $50,000.

Bucket brigades, formed by more than 300 townsmen, prevented further spread of the flames after a hardware store, grocery store and the home of A. R. Penner had been destroyed.

Live Turkeys, Geese And Ducks Listed In New Ceiling Prices From War Board

OTTAWA, Dec. 9. — (CP).—The Prices Board, in an order effecttive to-day, has brought under ceiling prices live turkeys, geese and ducks—now approaching the peak of their marketing season—it was announced last night. Maximum prices had previously been fixed for live chickens and other fowl.

The order sets out maximum wholesale prices per pound at which producers or wholesalers may sell live birds in the packing period in December.

For turkeys this is 31 cents in Ontario. For Old Tom turkeys the ceiling is four cents a pound lower.

For live geese the ceiling is 21 cents in Ontario. Maximum price for live ducks is two cents a pound higher than for live geese.

FO. Hugh Fallis Returns From Malta Patrol

The shortage of food and the bomb battered streets which met him at every turn, are two of the most vivid impressions retained by F. O. Hugh Fallis, who has returned from overseas after serving in the Mediterranean area and in England. He is visiting his wife, formerly Margaret Lytle, 324 Rubidge street until after Christmas when he will be posted to Eastern Canada.

In his own words, the food situation was pretty grim, both for service personnel and particularly for civilians. Many of the island's residents carried on a pool system and he declared it was a pathetic sight to see women turning over their rations to Victory kitchens which put everything together and the contributors called later with small pails and picked up the hot food. No one had to worry about what to do with unused food.

Arriving in Malta last year one day after the blitz "officially" ended, F. O. Fallis spent four months there and his crew did not have much time to loaf around. He said that the fighter pilots were up and down all during the day, and the bombers were on duty all night. In the time he was stationed there, there were only five nights when his bomber was not out on a mission.

Raided Ships

Because he was the navigator-observer of a torpedo bomber, his main activities were confined to raiding enemy shipping lanes between Africa and Sicily, and along the coasts of Greece and Sicily. Although RCAF reports from overseas have told of how this plane reached its base more than once badly damaged with flak, F. O. Fallis said that he had not seen any more action than anyone else and remained reticent about details.

FLYING OFFICER HUGH FALLIS

Although Malta took a terrific pasting, this airman said it was amazing that there were as few casualties and as much left standing as he found. He attributed this largely to the wonderful caves which were used as shelters and the fact that many homes were built right in to the side of the rock cliffs. Every block showed the signs of the bombardment, but the people carried on cheerfully, and never wasted any time getting into the shelters. Fires did comparatively little damage becouse most of the buildings were of stone, he declared.

He also served in Africa for two months and left there just after El Alamein, which he characterized as a "good show." Describing it as a magnificent sight, F.O. Fallis said that none of his group knew the show was on and the night it started they could see the barrage 70 miles away and thought it was a running convoy battle in the Mediterranean.

After his crew had completed 200 hours of operational work, they were broken up when the American pilot wished to transfer to the United States Army Air Force, and Hugh Fallis returned to England in March where he took up staff duties and instructional work.

Meet At Bank

"If your want to meet some of your old friends in England there is no better spot than to hang around the bank for a while. Sooner or later someone you know will arrive. Because Canadians in the R.C.A.F. are scattered around so much, it is luck when you do contact them. I knew PO. Freddie Weir Omemee and William Wildman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Wildman, Aylmer street, as both were on Malta. About a month ago I met Jack Campbell and William McMullen, the latter was formerly in the C.G.E.

"The thing I noticed most when I came home was the menus. They shocked me. In England you rarely find more than one cut of meat listed, and after dinner starts that soon is a minus quantity. Although there are a lot of imposing items in French written down, they all add up to the same thing when you come to order. Prices too are much more expensive. There is no doubt in the minds of the English people as to the outcome of the war and they are conscious of what the score is in no uncertain terms."

FO. Fallis, who was formerly employed at Campbell's Dairy, is a nephew of Senator Iva Fallis.

120 Boxes Are Sent Soldiers

Following on the heels of the Navy Auxiliary, the Peterborough Women's Active Army Auxiliary packed 120 boxes for soldiers and C.W.A.C. girls outside of Ontario, but stationed in Canada, on Wednesday at St. John's Parish Hall.

The Army Auxiliary has been working through churches and other organizations to get a complet list and have had good co-operation. Their boxes include: Christmas cake, chocolate bars, gum, life savers, chocolate drinks and tooth powder.

As another treat for army personnel, sponsored by the Citizens Committee, the children of men in the Army, Navy and Air Force will be entertained at a theatre party at the Regent Theatre, Friday morning, December 24. The Auxiliary has been notifying army children through the schools, and it is planned that each one attending will be given a small gift.

Woman Is Freed By Jury In Soldier's Death

A verdict of "not guilty" by trial jury of the General Sessions of the Peace before Judge S. L. Smoke, acquitted last night Mrs. Laura M. Storms, 99 Aylmer street, of reckless driving in the Labor Day accident on Highway No. 7, twelve miles east of Peterborough, in which Private Fred Hinton of Toronto was almost instantly killed.

Judge Smoke said he had no quarrel with the verdict as he dismissed the jury at 7:30 o'clock. They retired shortly after 5:30 o'clock, and were ready to report at 6:45, but the Court was adjourned for an hour at 6:30, and had bide their time until its brief resumption.

In his charge to the jury, Judge Smoke commented that in the circumstances as disclosed by the evidence there was some grounds for reasonable doubt.

The substance of Mrs. Storms' defense was that when Hinton, on a motorcycle, caught up with her car, and shouted "what the hell do you think you own the whole road," she was so surprised that "I lost my head" and could not clearly remember exactly what happened.

The defendant and her two daughters, Wilma and Irene, and Clarence E. Ruttan, were the occupants of the car, with Mrs. Storms driving toward Peterborough after a visit to Newburgh, seven miles north of Napanee.

The evidence of Madill and Deacon was to the effect that they were travelling at 35 to 40 miles an hour when the automobile passed them at 55 to 60 miles, according to their estimate. A cloud of dust and gravel was blown in their faces by the automobile, and Hinton raced after it, drew alongside, and then fell back to let an approaching car from the west pass. He then pulled up beside the car again, and yelled his salute at Mrs. Storms.

The last witness for the Crown, Colin Althouse, testified that as he was driving toward Peterborough east of Norwood, a car which he identified as that driven by Mrs. Storms passed hml, coming from the east, at a speed which he said was around 65 miles an hour.

G. N. Gordon, K.C., was defence counsel, and the prosecution was conducted by V. J. McElderry, K.C.

Says Speed 30 Miles

Mrs. Laura Storms, defendant, was examined by Mr. Gordon. She said she was a widow ten years, and had lived in Peterborough nine years. On the afternoon of the accident she left Newburgh, 7 miles north of Napanee. In the car with her were her daughters, Wilma and Irene, and Mr. Ruttan. She recalled having passed the two motorcycles and automobiles. Her estimate was that the cycles were travelling 30 miles an hour and she passed them at 35 miles.

"I noticed in the miror a motorcycle was coming behind me. It seemed to be flying because he was wearing a raincoat and it was flying out behind him.

When he got up beside me he shouted: "What the hell do you think you own the whole road?" My left window was down.

When he turned his head toward me. the cycle turned with him and I pulled to the right to get away from him. I got in loose gravel on the right side of the road. I pulled back to the left. He hit me in some way. I tried to get back and went across the road into the south ditch."

Mr. Gordon—"What caused your car to go into the ditch?"

"I lost my head and control of the car; I was taken so much by surprise"

Mrs. Storms said she did not apply her brakes as her car was going into the ditch.

She had been driving automobiles for seven years and had no previous accident.

Mr. Gordon—'What could you have done to avoid the accident that you didn't?"

"Nothing."

"After the accident Mr. Madill told me his pal (Private Hinton) had left him to give me the devil; but he was gone before Mr. Madill had a chance to answer him."

Mr. Gordon—"You heard Mr. Althouse say you were driving at 55 to 60 miles an hour when you passed him. What do you say as to that?"

"I never drove that fast in my life."

To Mr. McElderry, defendant said she could not remember clearly what happened after Hinton spoke to her.

"You were not surprise when he drew up beside you because you said you saw him in the mirror?"—"I thought at first it was an officer, and something might be wrong when I saw him coming behind."

"If you thought he was an officer, you would not be surprised if he spoke to you?"—"I wasn't expecting anything. He pulled up and shouted in at me. His car turned toward me as he spoke and I pulled to the right."

"You hadn't struck him up to that point?"—"No. I pulled away from him."

Mrs. Storms said: "I tried to right my car, and the motorcycle turned into my car, and struck the side, and then my car went into the ditch. I was so confused I don't know when the motorcycle hit."

Car Swung To Right

Irene Storms, daughter of the accused, and Clarence Ruttan, who were in the car with the accused, corroborated her testimony.

"After the soldier hollered at Mrs. Storms I noticed the car swung to the right and got into the gravel. That is what swung the car," Mr. Ruttan said.

Mr. Gordon—"What do you mean by swung the car?"

Mr. Ruttan—"The rear swung more to the north side of the road, and she had to pull it back."

"That is all I remember," he added. "I didn't see the motorcycle after he spoke."

Both witnesses said Mrs. Storms passed the cycles at 35 miles an hour. The prevailing speed for the trip was about 36 miles an hour, Ruttan said. He described Mrs. Storms as a good driver.

To Mr. McElderry he said he owned the car.

"You hav esaid there was nothing Mrs. Storms could have done to avoid the accident after the cyclist velled?" Mr. McElderry asked. "If she had just stayed on the road, there would have been no accident, would there?"

Mr. Ruttan—"No."

Witness said the cyclist pulled up even with the car, dropped back to let a car from the west pass, then drew up even a second time.

"When the car turned toward the ditch there was nothing the cyclist could do but hit the car?"—"No."

Wilma Storms estimated the prevailing speed of the car during the trip at 40 to 45 miles an hour.

Tradition Fights To Remain In Face Of War

By DOUG HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 9.— (CP).— The veneer of tradition which coats so much of British life has cracked here and there in the war, but where it can persist and not compromise the frugal dictates of the time it still exists.

The abridged pomp of the opening of the ninth session of this prolonged Parliament offers that lesson in variety.

Few were the spashes of color. The King wore the uniform of an admiral of the fleet. The Queen wore black velvet. There were no scarlet and ermine robes or coronets.

Two M.P.'s appeared in top hats, and their's was true adherence to the past. They were representatives of the City of London and it is a custom dating back many years for the city members not only to wear silk hats but to sit on the overcrowded treasury bench on the first day of the session.

An even older tradition was broken when, for the first time in history the vaults and precincts of Parliament were not searched by the yeomen of the Guard before the arrival of Their Majesties. In their stead a guard of honour of the Home Guard went through the ritual of observing a precedent that came in when Guy Fawkes went out.

On still another point, tradition remained shattered. That was in the Royal mode of travel from Buckingham Palace. Since 1939 Their Majesties have made the journey in a single closed car. In peace the trip was a pageant in itself, a picture of glittering royal coach, six splendid horses and brilliant uniforms which told the history of England in form and heraldic design.

Royal Horses Work

The Royal horses today are full time workers on one or another of the Royal farms or gardens.

William Strang's appontment to the European advisory council was the climax of the career of this son of a Scottish farmer who migrated to Essex.

As an ex-village schoolboy who had done well, he made good headlines. As a foreign office success, he was lauded by those who don't like to think that all such men must have gone to Oxford, Cambridge, Harrow or Eton.

Before his new appointment, Sir William—he was knighted at the time of the appointment — was second senior of the six assistant under-secretaries of state.

Financially, the job meant a raise from $7,650 to $10,125 a year.

Sir William speaks German, French, Italian, Russian and Serbian.

Col. C. W. Belton Buried Wednesday

TORONTO, Dec. 9 (CP) — Funeral services will be conducted here today for Col. C. W. Belton, 82, one-time superintendent of Victoria Hospital, London, Ont., and former chairman of the Federal Appeal Board at Ottawa, who died at his home last Monday. He had been ill for some time.

Col. Belton graduated from Trinity College, Toronto, and took a post-graduate course in Edinburgh. After returning to Canada he was for a short time superintendent of the London Hospital and then entered private practice.

Prior to the First Great War he was appointed to the permanent Army Medical Corps, and served in a number of cities, including Kingston, Ont., Fredericton, N.B., and Ottawa.

During the last year he served on the Pension Board in Ottawa before his appointment to the Appeal Board. He retired 12 years ago and moved to Toronto.

Funeral services are being held at the home of his son, J. R. Belton. His widow also survives him.

To Survey Indian Health Services

LONDON, Dec. 9—(CP)—The government has appointed a committee headed by Sir Joseph Bhore, to investigate public health in India, both curative and preventive. The committee, part of a plan for postwar reconstruction in India, will survey the whole field, including health and medical relief services, health education and propaganda, industrial conditions in relation to health and nursing services.

Problems relating to women and children will be a major aspect of the inquiry. The committee, in the words of Sir Joseph, "has not been called upon to produce a short term plant to meet an emergency, but to suggest lines of development for the next 50 years."

Council Of Women Would Keep Mothers With 'Teen Age Children Out Of War Jobs

TORONTO, Dec. 9 (CP)—The welfare report presented to the annual meeting of the Ontario Provincial Council of Women last night said the "full $28 a month old age pension should be given to all pensioners, married or single, and the present plan of penalizing the thrifty who have managed to buy a little home should be abolished."

The report was prepared by Mrs. Granville Tomey of St. Catharines, Ont., who died suddenly last week-end.

It suggested also that one way to curb juvenile delinquency would be to discourage mothers with school-age children from going into industry.

Mrs. George Cockshutt of Brantford, convener of citizenship, warned that "the present apathy and neglect towards voting, as evidenced by the small vote of the August provincial election, points to the danger of being governed by minorities."

Mrs. Fred Underhill of London spoke briefly about laws for women.

Pseudo Soldier Forges Cheques

WINDSOR, Ont., Dec. 9 —(CP)— Windsor police today pressed their search for a man, reported to be wearing the uniform of a Canadian Army captain, who has been passing worthless cheques in banks here for the last two days.

Officers said he had used four different names—R. A. Adamson, J. L. O'Shea, J. L. O'Keefe and J. L. O'Reilly—and has successfully cashed worthless cheques for $25 and $50. A cheque for $100 is being held by one Windsor bank.

Police described the man as about 29 years old and wearing a uniform with the Distinguished Conduct Medal, two medal ribbons and an overseas service patch on his uniform.

It is believed he is a member of the army with a lesser rank absent without leave.

Mitchell Warns Worse To Come

OTTAWA, Dec. 9 (CP)—The worst phases of the war are yet to come, Labor Minister Mitchell said today in an address to the Dominion-provincial agricultural objectives conference here.

"Let us not know impart to our people any false sense of security such as prevailed in the years before 1939," he said.

Last year the government had approached the agricultural season with some alarm but it had been possible to remove the crop with more expedition than was anticipated. Alarm had also been felt over the manpower situation in regard to coal and some other products, but the policy of "negative compulsion" and genuine co-operation by all concerned had overcome the difficulties.

Owing to a policy of moving men from the farms to the woods after the crop was taken off, as many men now were in the woods as at this time last year, meeting what promised to be a serious shortage of manpower in the lumbering industry.

Mr. Mitchell thanked provincial agricultural departments for the co-operation given to selective service during the past year and assured them that any practical suggestions for improvement in arrangements would be welcomed.

New Rotary Club Formed In Fenelon

LINDSAY, Dec. 9—(ENS)—A new Rotary Club was organized in Fenelon Falls with Charles McInnis as president. Members of the Lindsay Rotary Club attended the first meeting and an official welcome was extended the new Rotarians by District Governor Harmen E. Rice of Huntsville.

Other officers of the Fenelon Falls Club are: Vice-president, Max Brandon; secretary, A. C. Welk; treasurer, W. J. Moore; directors, George Allen, Mossom Robertson, Dr. J. Graham, Dr. Foster Graham.

J. C. Cooper of the Canadian General Electric Scientific Experimental Department addressed the meeting on the modern science of electronics. The speaker explained the operation of television and its probable use after the war. He also mentioned the system used in the detection of aircraft and the probabilities of bombing by radio.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

Down All Saints'

Reporter Bobby Lebarr was on the job again this week with his regular tidbit, we only wish there were a few more like him in the other packs and troops in the city.

Some 23 Scouts under the leadership of three officers had another enjoyable and interesting evening. The main items of instruction was signalling and second class work. Only one test was passed showing Bill Roebottom coming through tops in his second class first aid.

Hello Sacred Heart

Well, well, and if we didn't hear from our old friends down south this week-end. Congratulations Baloo on your score at the piano. If you can play on the hearts of those Cubs like your fingers tickled those ivories the other night, you will soon have the best pack in town paying homage at your feet. But back to business, woodwork was the main item of interest during the past meeting as Akela must needs be absent for the next month through night work. Jimmy Clark had the honor of leading the opening grand howl and Carl Meagher did the same honors at the end of the meeting. Those new Chums Marcel Maynard, Michael Drum, Gerald McMurray, Tommy McLean, Bob McCoy, Ronald Coulison and Walter Woodhouse are sure getting their teeth into their tenderpad work and we are looking forward to some investiture ceremonies in the near future.

Out The West End

Still waters run deep they say, yes and we have not heard from St. Andrew's for some time, but we felt all along that Scouter Johnson was still on the job. Even though he is working hard at school and in his spare time at one of the local stores, Allan is plugging away and keeping alive the Scout end of the group through which he travelled as a cub and scout. Good going Allan.

At a recent investiture ceremony the following boys, all of which I believe are former cubs, took their Scout promises and added their names to the world-wide list of the Brotherhood of Scouting: Trevor Bull, Douglas Fanning, George Fanjoy, Richard Barnsley and Henry Dinsdale. Good hunting to all.

Over the River

The 2nd Armour group, that is the Cub end, sure is going to be second to none so far as sending in their weekly reports is concerned and Akela Butcher should be congratulated on his fulfillment of that part of the work.

Hewitt Hamilton led the opening grand howl. Two games were enjoyed, locomotive racing and "obey orders" with instruction of test work following. The jungle dance of the "Death of Shere Khan" was practiced.

Akela and Baloo are making plans to visit a pack every week and take the sixers and seconders with them that the boys' interest will be opened up on the other packs and groups and that some information may be garnered for the advancement of the pack in general. Last Friday only one sixer and one seconder turned up and visited St. John's Pack.

We would ask the cooperation of the parents to make it possible for the sixers and seconders to attend these other meetings, notice of which will be given the boys every Tuesday night.

St. John's

We are going to get a new slogan for this pack as being the most visited pack in the city. It has been our pleasure for the past few weeks to have as visitors members of the armed forces who were former scouts or scouters. Last week Akela Bill King and Baloo Elmer Pearse with two of the boys from St. Luke's and also Mr. Arthur Bacon who was present at he investiture of his son David into the Cub movement. Douglas Laird, who has been with the pack for some time placed his feet firmly on the Cub trail.

Some of the visitors were put to work during the instructional period and the lads took part in the games with the pack. Bobby Craw passed his message; Ian Blaiklock passed Union Jack and physical exercises; John Biddle, leap frog; Albert Cunningham, model; and Donald Searles passed for his toymaker's badge. There were 30 Cubs present and three leaders.

Baloo gave notice that the meeting on Friday, December 17, will be a Christmas party at which every Cub is requested to bring a small gift nicely wrapped, the gift must not exceed 15 cents in value. Some of the boys will also be requested to bring cookies and sandwiches. The parents of the Cubs are invited to attend this meeting and join their sons in their frolics. If you too would like to bring gifts, do so. It will be all the more fun. The pack will not meet on December 24 or 31 but will resume activities on Friday, January 7.

Returns Slow Coming In

We regret to have to publish the fact that most of our scouters are mighty slow in co-operating with headquarters in filing their annual registrations. Up to the present only returns received are those from 1st St. John's Pack, 2nd St. Luke's Pack, 5th All Saints' Complete Group, 8th Troop St. Andrew's, complete, 10th St. James' Troop, 13th Mark Street Troop. A cheque was also received from another Cub pack but there were no papers for the renewal of charter or application for Cub leader and no list of Cubs. So that the cheque is being held by the secretary of the local Association until these aforementioned papers are secured. I wonder how many of the leaders realize that if the renewal of charter is not made by December 31 that new badges, etc., cannot be secured from headquarters. Let us all get busy.

That Name

Still no names have been put forward for the new hut out at the Scout grounds and I am thinking that the B.P. hut will have to be chosen. This name was mentioned by Frank R. Pammett in a letter from out west.

To Make Survey Of V.D. Cases

OTTAWA, Dec. 9.—(CP).—A national survey of existing venereal disease cases in the Dominion will be undertaken shortly by the Pensions Department, Lt.-Col. D. H. Williams, venereal disease control officer for the Canadian army, said to-day in an interview.

Col. Willliams, attached to the Pensions Department, said the survey will cover the civilian population only. The number of civilian cases in mental institutions, hospitals and under treatment elsewhere will be compiled during the survey, expected to be completed early in 1944.

Records of cases in the armed forces have already been compiled. The number of such cases has not been made public recently, but Air Minister Power said in the House of Commons last session that he understood about 20,000 cases had been discovered among members of the forces.

Figures compiled during the civilian survey will be made public, Col. Williams said, to impress upon the people the need of fighting the disease.

The survey will be conducted in the same confidential manner as present-day cases of the diseases are treated, he said.

C.B.C. Refuses Bracken Broadcast Right

OTTAWA, Dec. 9 (CP)—Dominion headquarters of the Progressive Conservative party said today in a statement that the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has "denied" facilities of its networks to broadcast an address of John Bracken from Hamilton Friday night, anniversary of his election as leader of the party.

The application originally was granted, said the statement, on the understanding the speech was "not of a political nature." When advised of the nature of the talk, it said, CBC officials refused to permit the broadcast without "substantial changes" in text which Mr. Bracken refused to make.

"CBC officials said his criticism of the government could not be permitted," said the statement.

"This is an intolerable situation," a Progressive Conservative headquarters spokesman said, "When, under the guise of regulations of the Board of Governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, these officials undertake to censor the words of a political leader in Canada.

"Mr. Bracken plans to deliver his address in Hamilton as scheduled, and he will not be intimidated by anything that has happened with the CBC. He will say everything to which the CBC objected, and he will be content to let the press of the country deliver his address to the people of Canada.

Warsaw Women Held Candle Light Service

WARSAW, Dec. 9 — (ENS). — Twenty-three women attended the joint service of the W.M.S. and Women's Association in the United Church on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. George Taylor, president of the W.M.S., presided for the business and devotional period. The treasurer reported $111.08 of the allocation raised

A nominating committee, composed of Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. Arthur Edwards, and Mrs David Tucker was appointed and they are to prepare a slate of officers and present it at the January meeting. Mrs. Howard Ray gave a most interesting paper on "Temperance." She said that strong drink was not the only way of intemperance, but immorality, lust for money, excessive living, etc. "Man made laws will never solve the temperance problem, but the will of God. Be ye filled with the Spirit of God, and there is no room for intemperance."

A delightful candle-light service added much to the program, Mesdames H. Ray, S. Clysdale, A. Edwards, and Mrs. D. Miller acting as missionaries spreading the light over the world, and led the procession, while Mrs. David Tucker sang "The race that long in darkness pined." A dainty lunch was served by the W.M.S. at the close of the service.

Wants Farm Bloc

LONDON, Ont., Dec. 9 (CP) — Gordon Newell, Elgin county councillor, yesterday urged formation of a "farm bloc," parallelling that in the United States Senate, to represent the Canadian farmer's interests at Ottawa. He was addressing the Middlesex county council at the opening of its December session.

Havelock People To Keep Holiday On December 27

HAVELOCK, Dec. 9 — (ENS)— A request to the citizens of Havelock to observe Monday, December 27, as a public holiday, was placed in the Havelock Standard by the Reeve at the request of the Village Council, at their December meeting Monday night. All members of the Council were present and Reeve Seeney presided.

In the matter of the indigent account for hospitalization, that the clerk notify the county clerk this be accepted and to notify them that this patient had left an estate, and that if this account was placed there it would likely be paid.

By-law 512 setting Monday, December 27, as nomination day was adopted on motion of Councillors Sanderson and Leeson.

Returning Officers.

A by-law appointing Mrs. Robert Jones as deputy returning officer for Poll No. 1, and Mrs. Lena Williams as poll clerk for Poll No. 1 was made, on a motion by Councilors Sanderson and Leeson, and also that Mrs. William Platt be appointed deputy returning officer for Poll No. 2 and that Miss Eliza Wright be poll clerk for Poll No. 2 was moved by Councillors Leeson and Sanderson.

Councillors Sanderson and Martin moved that the relief officer's report be received and the account for $6.00 be paid.

Accounts Paid.

The following accounts were ordered paid:

W. J. Akins, November salary and telephone, $87.50; Harry Tinney, street work and sand, $8.15; I Anderson, wood for hall, $36.00; Beatrice Dewey, Foley estate, $8.00; H. B. Puffer, telephone account, $3.08; County of Peterborough, 1943 county rate, $2,580.50; Provincial Government, insulin indigent, $1.49; Havelock Hydro Commission, hall lights, $10.86; Provincial Treasurer, marriage licence, $20.00; Dorothy McMillan, October expenses for Ration Board, $22.40; Caleb Coon, grading and catch basins cleaned, $21.36.

Council adjourned and will meet again December 15.

Writers In Uniform Allowed Extra Time

TORONTO, Dec. 9—(CP)—Service men who write are to have an extra year in which to produce in the intervals between battle action their entries for a $2,500 prize offered for the best book produced by a member of the United Nations forces.

The award, offered by Macmillans in celebration of their centenary, was to be given on the basis of manuscripts or plans for books of fiction or non-fiction submitted up to the end of 1943. The firm now announces that "recognizing the arduous nature of service in the armed forces during the past year and the distance from London and New York of the position of many units of the British and American forces, it has been decided to postpone the closing date...to December 31, 1944."

Canadian service personnel between the ages of 19 and 35 are eligible for the main prize, for smaller awards; and for a prize of $500 if the main award is won by a non-Canadian.

Sergeants Do K.P.

CAMP LEE, Va., Dec. 9 —(AP)— Eighteen privates of Headquarters Company at the Quartermaster School here received unexpected yuletide gifts this week—from their company sergeants. They were scheduled for kitchen police on Christmas Day, but when they glanced at the company bulletin board, their names were missing. The company sergeants' names were posted instead.

Newsmen Told Papers Have Tremendous Task

CAIRO, Dec. 9 —(AP)— Field Marshal Jan Christian Smuts, Prime Minister of South Africa, told a press conference to-day that "things are shaping for victory but a great war is still in front of us."

"I have the feeling that things are on the march," the Prime Minister said. "I sensed it in England. Something is taking shape before us that is still dim. But we have seen what happened in Russia. We have seen what is stirring in the Far East, where things have been asleep for thousands of years.

"The elements are on the march, gentlemen."

Field Marshal Smuts addressed a group of 70 war correspondents in the press room of the Cairo conferences, in which he was a participant.

He told the correspondents that after the war newspapers would have to play an important role "in seeing that there is no repetition of this disaster — that we forge something more firm than the old order."

"The old world is dead and the significance of this war is that it is the first step to new opportunities in which the press must play a greater part," he said.

Field Marshal Smuts declared that the great Allied conferences had "achieved unanimity far exceeding our expectations. Everything is in order and movig to the greatest conclusion for the century of centuries."

"Heavy fighting lies ahead of us," he said.

"The danger that Russia, Britain and the United States might win the war but not achieve absolute co-operation needed for winning the peace has been averted."

He advised newsmen not to pry into the secrets, saying "you are on a knife edge. A word dropped on the wrong side might cause great harm. By your silence you are helping to victory."

Credit To Eisenhower

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (CP)—Air Vice-Marshal W. F. McNeece Foster last night credited Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower with welding the British and American armies into a closely-knit unit "which has never been remotely approaching by any Allied forces in the past."

Need Russia

MONTREAL, Dec. 9 (CP) — Sir Bernard Pares, professor of Russian at London University, yesterday told the Women's Canadian Club that "without Russian co-operation there can be no lasting peace."

"So Helen's Joined the Air Force"

"Yes, and she gave up a grand job"

"She had a marvellous job you know. Whatever made her give it up?"

"Well, Helen thinks a lot. She used to make little remarks which showed she wasn't quite happy.

"For instance, she said one time that the good salary she earned seemed like profiteering since her job wasn't connected with war work.

"I guess it was really on her mind. She enlisted five weeks ago and says she's never been happier in her life because she knows she's really "pulling her weight" at last!"

Does your conscience "act up" the way Helen's did? Ask it how your war effort stacks up next time you read of the glorious exploits of our fighting men.

How to Feed the Family Though Absent Daily

By MARY MOORE

DEAR MARY MOORE: "I am an office worker as are all of my children. There are six of us and our hours are pretty much alike with the exception of my son whose hours change every week. This makes it necessary for me to try and find some way of cooking and keeping palatable a menu for one meal which must be prepared hours ahead of time. The only way he will eat potatoes is to bake them. Warmed over vegetables on the whole are definitely out. We leave the house at eight in the morning and do not return until half-past five at night. Could you give me some ideas as to what might be done in methods of cooking. Often my son must have his supper at five as he goes to work at six and does not return until half-past ten at night."

This is a tall order I know, but I must find the way out some way, and I hope you will be able to help. I must mention that I use the regular type coal and wood stove.

Well . . . so he's going to make it hard for us by objecting to all but baked potatoes? That IS a puzzler!

However, I am so grateful to you for making me face this issue I can forgive your son for being difficult (but if he must limit himself baked potatoes are the best he could have chosen for nutritive reasons).

A fireless cooker is your salvation. I know, because I have tried in a small way the same job as you are hoping to do—feeding your family although you are absent.

Fireless cookers can be homemade—I am having literature on this subject forwarded to you.

A triple decker steamer is also an excellent investment.

I was going to suggest that you have your son look over the following menu suggestions, but on second thought have decided it would be much better for you to ease into your new program without any remarks. Most men have very little imagination about food because they don't work with it and he might develop prejudices before he ever tried your minor masterpieces.

Menu No. 1

Spareribs or Pork Hocks steamed over Beans
In Triple-Decker Steamer
Cole Slaw (in tightly covered dish
Steamed Raisin Pudding
(Steamed on top shelf of steamer)

NOTES: I assume that you can regulate your range so that the fire will stay in all day.

In the bottom of the cooker place soaked white beans — enough for whole family would be 3 cups when dry. Add small amounts of salt, pepper, mustard, sugar, a few slices onion and plenty of water, and place in bottom of steamer. On second shelf place pork hocks or spareribs; on third shelf prepared pudding.

You will note that drippings from meat will flavor beans.

Your son will have his vegetables raw in the form of slaw this meal—but to retain vitamins coat the slaw immediately with mayonnaise and cover tightly. Keep it in refrigerator and leave him a note regarding it.

His last minute co-operation is a must.

Menu No. 2

Fricassee of Lamb
Macaroni
Shredded Raw Carrots and Celery
Stewed Prunes

NOTES: This is a fireless cooker meal.

To prepare the lamb cut shoulder of lamb in 2-inch cubes, roll in flour and saute in hot fat until seared and golden on all sides. Season with salt and pepper, pour over about 2 pounds of it 1 large tin of tomatoes, transfer immediately to bottom of fireless cooker and cover. Prepare macaroni by bringing to boiling point and immediately standing in fireless cooker over the fricassee of lamb in water to cover. Stand soaked prunes over the macaroni. Cover and put insulation in place immediately—according to instruction for fireless cooking.

If your son cares to stand the prunes out of the cooker one hour ahead of his meal and serve them into a dessert dish, there will be room temperature by the time he eats them.

Menu No. 3

Chicken a la king (in top of double boiler)
Head Lettuce Salad—French Dressing)
Baked Potatoes Baked Apples

NOTE: Prepare chicken a la king and place in top of double boiler over plenty of water—and place on warm, but not hot, part of range to keep warm enough to eat.

If your son is awake at 4 o'clock in the afternoon you could set the alarm clock to ring to remind him to put the scrubbed potatoes in the oven, and the prepared baked apples—to bake at high temperature for ¾ to 1 hour.

Menu No. 4

Spanish or Swiss Steak with Onions, Carrots, Turnips
Tomato Jelly Salad with Lettuce and Celery
Chocolate Steamed Pudding or Boston Brown Bread and Honey or Apple Butter

NOTES: The only difference between Spanish and Swiss steak is that Spanish steak requires tomatoes for its cooking liquid—Swiss merely calls for water which forms a nice brown gravy. Precook the steak by rolling flour and browning in hot fat, salt and pepper it, cover with either water or tomatoes, add raw vegetables and immediately transfer to fireless cooker and cover with lid and insulation. Stand chocolate pudding (uncooked) over steak on second shelf—replace insulation and that's all until mealtime.

The salad things should always be well covered.

Menu No. 5

Split Pea Soup
Brisket Point of Beef
Canned Peas
Celery and Apple Salad
Dried Apple Sauce

NOTES: Place soaked split peas in bottom of steamer with plenty of water, and the usual flavorings—shredded celery, salt, pepper, onion, and allow the juice from the brisket which is steaming above it to drip down on it. On the third shelf place soaked dried apples in plenty of water with some sugar and a few gratings of lemon rind, covered well. This applesauce from dried apples could be stood out of the cooker to cool off it your son cares enough to do this an hour before meal time.

Another method I hesitate to recommend, because I do not know how well you can control your oven, is to bake meat such as a roast or stuffed tenderloins, or meat balls, in your large roaster, and surround it with vegetables such as onions, carrots, potatoes with skins on (he might just happen to like these), covered very well, and put in oven of 225 deg. Fahr., with just enough water to prevent burning but not enough to make them steamy. Write to me if you need further fireless cooking help.

This Week's Best Wartime Recipe

Contributed By Mary Moore Readers

DEAR MARY MOORE — I have been making the following recipe up for economical mayonnaise for some years, but it is dawning on me that there are many cooks who are not aware of it. It is a fifty-fifty mixture of boiled dressing and mayonnaise and is smooth and delicious. I mix it with ground meat for making sandwiches for the lunch boxes for my family—and I use no butter on their bread. They want no other.

Economical Mayonnaise

(Sent in by Dolly McQueen)

Two tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons flour, 1 cup boiling water, 2 beaten egg yolks, 1 teaspoon each mustard and salt, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 cup oil.

Melt the butter, stir in the flour until blended, then the boiling water, stirring over low heat for about 3 minutes after it is thick. Chill. Mix together the beaten yolks, mustard, salt and start adding the cold oil, 1 teaspoon at a time, beating very well between additions until the mix thickens, then add 1 tablespoon oil at a time, until the cup is used up, and mayonnaise is nice and thick. Add chilled boiled mixture to it, mixing very well. Then add the lemon juice and vinegar. Taste it—you may want a little more salt and some white pepper but they are optional.

D. McQUEEN.

I think you are right about this—it does make the fillings go further for sandwiches—thanks for your help.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, December 10

EVENTS OF major importance and far reaching issues, probably arising suddenly and from secret sources, are predicted from the ruling planetary influences. It would be well to be prepared for queer, subtle and intriguing developments in these, which may be shrewdly or intuitively handled with imagination of ideals figuring to promote sound creative programs. The novel and original, or unconventional may assure long-range results, but in all be conservative with funds, tmie and physical or nervous energies. Deal with secret bodies or groups and do not be surprised at sudden upheavals or estrangements.

Those whose birthday it is may look for a year of large and important issues of far reaching or radical influence upon the fortunes. There may be need of cautious, shrewd and secret operations in meeting peculiar unforeseen and sudden situations which might produce upheavals, separations or disaster if not met with insight, imagination, clever vision and careful tactics. Be economic with finances, energies and resources, and use finesse and tact in critical positions.

If Born To-day.

A child born on this day may have many unusual and peculiar talents and intuitions, with originality, artistic or other creative skills of high order. Though surprisingly successful it may also suffer sudden reverses.

Personals and Social

BACKGROUND FOR CHRISTMAS—Alfandri, top-flight Canadian designer, excells in this version of the new dinner dress. The bodice breathes formal famininity with black lace over shell pink satin. The short skirt is practical with fabric saving lines and suggestion of front fullness. The fabric is of high quality — a rayon crepe, sturdy but beautifully supple.

Group of Young Ladies Knit 100 Pairs of Socks

Although they didn't know how to knit and attacked the project in fear and trembling, 35 girls, who wanted to do their part in the war effort, have been unknown godmothers to many Peterborough boys in the services, and they celebrated the end of 3½ years service Wednesday night at a tea in Trinity Church.

The original group consisted of a Sunday School class of twelve girls who felt that although they worked all day they would like to make some concrete contribution to the war. Since only a few had ever done knitting their efforts produced some peculiar articles at first, but they valiantly kept on until their record for Christmas parcels this year stands at 100 pairs of socks for church boxes and 21 pairs for other men who have no families to keep them supplied. The average attendance is about 16 girls.

In the beginning, members of the group worked on refugee articles which were turned into the Red Shield, and as they became more experienced, some of the hardier souls began on socks and sweaters for the armed forces. The first socks knitted resulted in all the girls being called into consulation in figuring out the rules and regulations, but now it's just routine.

Letters Are Thanks

Miss Myrtle Sargent, leader of the group, acted as chairman and outlined the growth of the organization and the expansion in their work. While most of the girls are business girls, she said that now several are married and still keep up their attendance at the weekly meetings. Boys in Canada, Newfoundland and other areas overseas have benefited from their gifts and their greatest delight is found in the letters from the boys passed on by the War Services unit.

These girls formed a group without a name and without a constitution. It is not a regular church group, for there are girls from nearly every denomination included in the membership and they work together in perfect harmony. At tde present time, acting upon urgent request from the Navy League, they are working on a quota of white wool medicated sox which are used by shipwrecked sailors to prevent infection. Winter and summer, without publicity, the work goes on.

The program was carried out mostly by members and included the following numbers: a sextette made up of Mrs. Gordon Harle, Mrs. C. Kearns, Miss Mignon Mayneord, Mrs. Peggy Nevison, Miss Grace Sargent and Miss Marie Kearns sang "Just Awearyin' For You" and "Rose of Tralee;" Miss Mayneord whistled "Thine Alone" and "In The Garden of Tomorrow;" Miss Hazel Wilson played a piano solo "Valse" by Chopin; Mrs. Peggy Nevison sang "Friend O' Mine" and "Little Mother Of Mine;" Miss Betty Craig, guest artist, recited "Letters From England," The Furnace Door," "The Grumbling Soldier," and "Washing Behind The Ears." Mrs. A. LeClair accompanied the soloists.

Make Presentation

During the program, Miss Audrey Garside presented gifts to Miss Joyce Harris and her mother, Mrs. S. Harris, for the work they have done in the past 3½ years. Miss Harris has been treasurer and looked after the wool, and her mother has received the finished products, washed them, made any corrections and pressed them during the same period.

The tea room was decorated in Christmas vein with green and red candles scattered around the room and on the tea tables in silver holders. Mrs. Harris and Mrs. T. Sargent poured tea and refreshments were served. Friends who had helped the girls with their work and who had entertained them at their homes, were guests.

Crowe—Fallis

BETHANY, Dec. 9—(ENS)—A quiet wedding was solemnized recently at the United Church parsonage, Bethany, when Miss Ethel Mae Fallis, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fallis, Manvers Station, was united in marriage to Charles Crowe of Peterborough.

The bride was attired in a street-length dress of sky blue silk jersey with matching hat and Miss Alice Fallis, youngest sister of the bride, who acted as bridesmaid, wore a dress of rose crepe and black accessories. Mr. Roy Holms attended the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding dinner was served to the guests. Wedding bells with white streamers surrounded the table centred by a large wedding cake. Assisting in the serving were Mrs. John Lorne and Miss Elsie Webb of Peterborough.

The couple left on a trip to Belleville and points east and on their return they will reside at 232 Edinburgh street, Peterborough.

Miss Mary Winn Becomes Bride Of Joseph Clark

A suit of turquoise blue wool, with matching shoulder-length veil and accessories, and a corsage of Johanna Hill roses, was the wedding costume of Mary Ethelreda Winn, when she became the bride of Joseph Alloyouis Clarke. Rev. V. G. McFadden officiated at the ceremony, which took place recently in St. Luke's church, Downeyville.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Winn, and the groom is the son of William Clarke, and the late Mrs. Clarke, of Lindsay.

Mrs. Walter Herlihey was organist, and during the signing of the register, Miss Marie Cloutrin, of Toronto, sang "Ave Maria," "On This Day," and 'Oh Beautiful Mother."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attended by her sister, Miss Reta Winn, who wore pale pink wool, with matching shoulder-length veil, black accessories, and a corsage of American Beauty roses. Mr. Francis Winn was best man, and the usher was Stephen Winn, cousin of the bride.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, and guests were present from Toronto, Lindsay, Peterborough and Downeyville. Later Mr. and Mrs. Clarke left on a trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls, and points west; the bride travelling in a navy blue dress, black coat and accessories. On their return, the young couple will reside in Peterborough.

C.G.I.T. Girls Hold Rally With Banquet in Y.W.C.A.

Miss Dorothy Young, of Toronto, who is United church Director of Girls' Work, was guest speaker at the C.G.I.T. banquet and rally which was held at the Y.W.C.A. Wednesday afternoon and evening. Miss Young came to Peterborough at the request of the Peterborough Girls' Work Board, and addressed 100 girls and 15 leaders, representing all the Protestant churches in Peterborough.

Miss Young, who was introduced by Miss Marie Casey, president of the Peterborough Girls' Work Board pointed out in her address that C.G.I.T. girls have priorities in the field of health, truth, and religion, and urged her audience to develop healthy bodies, keen minds, and practice the Christian way of living.

In giving a little of the history of C.G.I.T., Miss Young told the girls that this idea was started in the First World War, because people began to be conscious of the needs of teen-age girls. In 20 years, this plan has grown to be a movement of over 40,000, and has spread to other countries of the world.

The theme of the rally was the need for interest in the needs and problems of young girls today, and Miss Young carried out this idea in her address.

Miss Jean McIntyre, president of the C.G.I.T. Girls' Council, was chairman for the banquet, and three advisory members of the Girls' Work Board were present: Miss L. Brownscombe, of the Y.W.C.A., Mrs. L. J. Pettit, and Miss Mary Ellis. Miss R. Young, superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, was also present.

A recreational period was held prior to the banquet, and Miss C. Littlefield and Miss R. Keefer, of the Y.W.C.A. were in charge of the games and songs. A singsong and table games were also enjoyed at the banquet table, and were planned by Miss Loretta McDougall.

Following the banquet, the leaders held a conference, and the problems of girls in Canada today were discussed, and possible solutions were suggested.

Miss Young spent a few days in Peterborough prior to the rally, and while here, made a survey of the work done in the teen-age field. During her stay, she was a guest at the Y.W.C.A.

NOTICE

NOTICE OF BY-LAW TO BE SUBMITTED TO VOTE OF MUNICIPAL ELECTORS OF PETERBOROUGH AT THE NEXT ANNUAL ELECTION.

THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PETERBOROUGH by By-law 4361, passed December 6th, 1943, is submitting to Vote of the Electors's proposed By-law 4360 to authorize the execution of an agreement with BORDER TRANSIT LIMITED.

To secure an expression of the Electors' approval or disapproval of the proposed By-law the following question will be submitted to the Electors:

"Are you in favor of the By-law granting a Franchise to Border Transit Limited to supply Bus Transportation in the City for the next Ten Years?"

The Votes of the Electors will be taken on this proposed By-law at the same polls and during the same hours as the Voting at Municipal Elections on New Year's Day. The City Clerk shall sum up the Votes given for and against the By-law at 11 o'clock in the Forenoon of January 3rd, 1944, at his Office in the City Hall.

If the assent of the Electors is given to the proposed By-law, this fact will be taken into consideration by the Council when it comes before the Council for passing at the Council's meeting on January 17th, 1944.

The Mayor, or some member of the Council appointed for that purpose by resolution, shall attend at the Office of City Clerk for the purpose of appointing, if so requested, two persons to attend at the final summing up of the votes by the Clerk, and one person at each Polling Sub-Division on behalf of those interested in promoting the proposed By-law, and a like number on behalf of those persons interested in opposing the proposed By-law.

The Agreement between the Corporation of the City of Peterborough and Border Transit Limited which the proposed By-law, if assented to by the Electors, authorizes the Council to execute, contains certain clauses, summarized as follows:

1. Subject to stated conditions the Corporation of the City of Peterborough (the Corporation), grants to Border Transit Limited (the Company) an exclusive passenger transportation franchise for bus service in the City for the period of ten years commencing January 1st, 1944.

2. During the full term of the franchise the Company agrees to maintain and operate a fleet of not less than fourteen (14) buses for carrying passengers on certain scheduled routes in the City, and in North Monaghan Township, operating said buses daily, except Sundays, from at least 6 o'clock in the morning until 11:30 o'clock in the evening, and at certain stated times on Sundays.

3. The Company's buses shall be of reasonable design and type, and shall be kept in good repair, clean inside and out, and properly lighted and heated as required. The Company shall operate additional buses as deemed necessary.

4. The Company shall pay to the Corporation an annual license fee of $500.00 during the life of the agreement, and in addition the Company shall pay to the Corporation a percentage of its gross passenger and advertising revenue which exceeds $50,000.00 per annum; the percentage of payments by the Company being as follows:

On gross revenue exceeding $50,000.00 and less than $75,000.00 — 2 percentum per annum.

On gross revenue exceeding $75,000.00 and less than $100,000.00 — 3 percentum per annum.

On gross revenue exceeding $100,000.00 and less than $125,000.00 — 4 percentum per annum.

On gross revenue all over $125,000.00— 5 percentum per annum.

Payments to be made in two instalments semi-annually, and the City Auditor shall audit the Company's gross revenue account and supporting records each year.

5. The speed and service necessary on each of the Company's bus routes and the number of buses required shall be fixed and altered as circumstances require by agreement between the Corporation and the Company.

6. The Company may charge and collect the following fares:

Adult Fare—8 cents cash or 4 tickets for 25 cents.
Student Fare—5 tickets for 25 cents.
Children under 12 years—Fare, 3 cents cash; and such fares may be changed only with the consent of Council by By-law.

7. The Company must observe all Traffic regulations in the operation of its buses and keep its buses adequately insured.

8. The Corporation shall maintain its streets on which the Company's buses operate in a reasonable state of repair and reasonably free from snow and other construction, and shall provide such bus stops as the Company may properly require, and so regulate traffic that the Company's buses may operate efficiently.

9. If the Company desires to sell its assets or property, the Corporation has the first option to purchase, and if the Corporation does not desire to exercise this option of purchase the Company agrees not to sell its assets to any person or company who is not acceptable to the Corporation.

10. The agreement also provides for the arbitration of any dispute or difference or question between the Company and Corporation.

DATED at Peterborough, this Ninth Day of December, 1943.

I CERTIFY that this is a fair and reasonable synopsis of the proposed By-law 4360 and the agreement it authorizes.

E. A. OUTRAM,
City Clerk.

CANADIANS SMASH MORO RIVER LINE

GermanDefencesOnDnieper Crack Open As Red Army Reaches Hub Of Railways

Znamenka, Heavily Fortified Nazi Bastion Cuts Last Of Four Railway Lines And Bring Offensive Against Kirovograd

By EDWARD D. BALL—Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Dec. 10—(AP).—The Red Army has captured Znamenka, hub of a system of railroads linking the Dnieper River Bend with the area south of Kiev, Premier Marshal Stalin announced today in a special order of the day.

The Soviet column that smashed into the town was one of several driving through crumbling Nazi defences in the Dnieper Bend.

The capture of the heavily-fortified German bastion cut the last of four rail lines centring in that town and brought the weight of the Russian Dnieper Bend offensive directly against Kirovograd, the next stronghold in the path of Red Army forces threatening to outflank Krivoi Rog.

Stalin's order of the day said Znamenka fell after three days of fierce fighting and termed the town a "powerful strong point in the German defences in the Kirovograd direction."

Whole Position In Peril

Loss of Znamenka to Soviet forces striking across the snowy Ukraine left the whole of the German position west of the lower Dnieper in Peril.

The town, some 60 miles northwest of the iron ore city of Krivoi Rog, fell yesterday, Stalin's announcement said.

With the new victory the Russians control railroads running northwest of Smyela and Fastov, south of Nikolaev and east to Dnepropetrovsk.

Tank and infantry forces which had closed in from three sides were aided in the final assault by airborne troops.

Red Army units south of Kremenchug threatened to capture the junction of Dolinovka, the fall of which would outflank Krivoi Rog from the west. The Germans were offering considerable resistance.

The strong Russian drive down the Znamenka-Nikolaev railroad swept beyond Mederovo and moved within 25 miles of Dolinovka.

The loss of Dolinovka would just about close out the Krivoi Rog salient, for the Germans would then have to rely on one strained railroad and snow-blocked highways for supplies.

The Nazis have lost their communications between this group in the Dnieper Bend and those fighting in the Cherkasy sector and others battering the Russian lines west of Kiev.

Heavy snows and blizzards were sweeping many sectors of the long Russian front, holding up operations in vast areas. This is the beginning of the real Russian winter, which is late this year.

One Soviet spearhead has reached a point but 15 miles east of Kirovograd, the Nazi stronghold between Cherkasy and Nikopol, the dispatch said.

Field Marshal Fritz Von Mannstein's combined tank, infantry and air assault against Russian positions northeast of Chernyakhov in the Kiev bulge was checked yesterday as the Red Army carved out new gains to threaten the key enemy bases on Kirivograd and Krivoi Rog in the Dnieper Bend sector, a Russian communique announced today.

Brilliant defensive tactics by Gen. Nikolai Catutin's first Ukrainian army thwarted Von Mannstein's attempt to crack the Soviet lines west of Kiev, Moscow said, and the Germans recoiled before point-blank Soviet artillery fire.

The successful Soviet stand was disclosed after Vatutin had fallen back for the past two days to new defence lines. The persistent German attacks have failed to tie up

Air Offensive Reaches Knockout Stage

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10 (AP).—The first official indication that the R.A.F. and U.S.A.A.F. air offensive against Germany has passed the preliminary phases and entered on the final knockout stage preparatory to a land invasion was made public today.

Col. Ray W. Clifton of the United States army air forces and instructor at the command and the general staff school at Fort Leavenworth, discussed the classic "four phases" of strategic bombing in a survey written for the school's monthly military review.

"The bombing of German-occupied Europe can be considered in the third phase now," he said, the fourth phase being that in which "the air will paralyze the production and movement of the enemy war supplies and support the ground forces making a landing."

At the time he wrote (just prior to the massive November air raids on Berlin) Clifton said the air offensive already had reduced the German manufacturing capacity by at least 35 per ment, diminshed the power of the Luftwaffe and forced it into a weakening defence and had seriously damaged German civilian morale.

1,500 a Month

"Germany's production facilities, have been so hurt by our bombing that she is able to produce about 1,500 planes a month, of which a large percentage are fighters," he said. "The reason for the large percentage of fighters is

Yugoslavs Take Town Of Biograd

LONDON, Dec. 10 (CP)3—Hard-hitting Partisans of Marshal Josip Bros (Drug Tito) have captured the fortified town of Biograd, 16 miles southeast of the Croatian port of Zara and have clipped the Germans and their satellites for heavy losses in another thrust near Kremen in Serbia, a Yugoslav war bulletin announced by radio today.

The communique admitted that the Partisans were still on the defensive in Bosnia, but claimed they have taken a heavy toll along the enemy's rail and supply lines in that province, killing more than 200 men in one action alone.

The German version of the fighting, as broadcast by the International Information Bureau, claimed the Nazis have occupied the town of Vlasenica, 30 miles northeast of Sarajevo, and were mopping up Partisan forces in Eastern Bosnia and Northern Croatia.

Another Nazi broadcast, this time from the Budapest radio, said the Germans had ordered a complete blackout for Zagreb, the Croatian capital.

Snowball Thrown At Crossing Hits Engineer Train Stalls On Grade Blocking Traffic

BROCKVILLE, Dec. 10—(CP).—A snowball yesterday tied up traffic for half an hour on the eastbound track of the Canadian National Railways main line here.

Soldiers in training here halted at a railway crossing while a freight train was pulling eastward up a long grade. A snowball, said to have been thrown by a soldier, struck the engineer, George Poirier, of Brockville, on the head, and he was stunned when knocked from his seat in the cab.

Railway officials reported to police that the train stalled on the grade and held up traffic moving toward Montreal for half an hour.

3 Canadian Legations Are Elevated To Embassy Rank

OTTAWA, Dec. 10—(CP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced today completion of arrangements to elevate the Canadian Legations in the Soviet Union, China and Brazil to rank of Embassy. The Legations of these countries in Ottawa will assume the same status.

No changes will be made in personnel of the Canadian missions in the three countries, said Mr. King's statement.

L. D. Wilgress, present Minister, becomes Ambassador in Moscow; Maj.-Gen. Victor W. Odlum, present Minister, becomes Ambassador in Chungking; and Jean Desy, present Minister, becomes Ambassador in Rio de Janeiro.

"The change in rank will have effect with respect to each mission upon the presentation of the letter of credence of the Ambassador," said the Prime Minister.

When it was announced several weeks ago that Canada and the United States had decided to elevate their respective legations in Washington and Ottawa to Embassy status, it was stated here that similar action by Canada was contemplated with respect to several other countries.

Russia and China were specifically mentioned at that time, but the action had not been anticipated so rapidly.

Newer Missions

The Missions to Brazil, China and Russia are among the newer ones in Canada's growing diplomatic service and all three countries are represented by missions here.

Mr. Wilgress prior to his appointment to Moscow, was deputy Trade Minister.

Gen. Odlum is a veteran of three wars—the Boer war, the First Great War and the present conflict. Before his appointment to China he served for a short time as Canadian High Commissioner in Australia.

Mr. Desy is one of the few career men in the Canadian Diplomatic Service who have so far reached the top rung of the ladder. He became Canada's first minister to Belgium and the Netherlands, heading missions in both Brussels and the Hague before occupation of the Low Countries by the Germans.

Allies Prepare To Hit Japan In Aerial Push

CHUNGKING, Dec. 10—(AP).—Gen. Liu Wei-Chang, the Chinese strategist, said today "a counter-offensive against Japan has been decided upon by the Allied high commands and the time for its launching is near at hand."

Gen. Liu, who is a high official of the National Military Council, added that the Chinese victory at Changteh would have "an important bearing on future Chinese resistance and the impending Allied counter-offensive."

Japanese air forces are preparing for an expected United States air attack on the Japanese mainland from bases in China, the Berlin radio said today.

A D.N.B. German news agency broadcast heard by The Associated Press quoted a spokesman at Japanese headquarters in China as declaring the United States fliers were "getting orders to bomb the Japanese mainland and communications between Japan and the mainland" and the Japanese "are getting ready to encounter the enemy air force."

"The situation in China has become more confused and more serious," the spokesman was quoted as adding, "and therefore is receiving greater attention."

Japs Sink U.S. Ships Before Ships Built

LONDON, Dec. 10 — (CP). — Tokyo propagandists are sinking American battleships as fast as they are launched, and months before they are ready to put to sea.

The Berlin radio, quoting a Tokyo report, announced today the sinking of the 45,000-ton U.S.S. Wisconsin "in one of the biggest sea battles off Bougainville."

The battleship Wisconsin was launched three days ago at Philadelphia. She still has to be fitted with guns and other fighting equipment.

Heavy Bombers Batter Crete

CAIRO, Dec. 10 (AP) — R.A.F. heavy bombers struck at enemy installations on German-occupied Crete Wednesday night, leaving large fires raging among harbor buildings on that strategic island southwest of Greece, a communique said today.

In other fighter-bomber sweeps during the week at Nazi supply lines in the Aegean Sea, a motor vessel was attacked and left smoking at Porto Lago, on Leros Island, and a number of sailing vessels were left sinking south of Samos Island.

The attacks cost one R.A.F. plane.

Malta Given Scroll By Roosevelt

President Visits Historic Isle On Trip Home

VALETTA, Malta., Dec. 10 — (AP).—Travelling by plane, President Roosevelt visited this bomb-marked British Mediterranean base on Wednesday, presented its people an illuminated scroll on behalf of the American people, and declared the United States would stand staunchly with the British Empire and other allies after the war to make "it a victory worthwhile."

En route from the series of epic conferences in which he and Prime Minister Churchill engaged in the Middle East, the President arrived in a huge four-engine troop transport with an escort of 20 fighters. His visit followed one by Prime Minister Churchill who called at Malto en route to the Cairo conferences.

The scroll, which eventually will be cast in bronze and placed in Valetta's main square, saluted Malta and its defenders for "valorous service far above and beyond the call of duty" during the dark period while Axis aircraft kept the island under a virtual constant alert.

Arrives Wednesday.

In June of this year the King also visited the gallant little island, cruising well within range of Italian-based German bombers to carry out his tour.

The President's plane touched on the world's most bombed airdrome at 9.50 a.m. Wednesday.

Mr. Roosevelt was accompanied by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Admiral William D. Leahy, the President's chief-of-staff; Harry Hopkins, Lt.-Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, commander of the northwest African air forces; Rear-Admiral Ross T. McIntire, the President's personal physician; Maj. John Boettiger, and Maj.-Gen. Walter B. Smith, Eisenhower's chief-of-staff.

(The London Daily Herald yesterday reported "strong feeling in London that President Roosevelt might visit there "before American troops leave these shores" and participate in a final roundup of plans for the invasion of Europe from the west.)

A guard of honor, including an R.A.F. unit, 50 British marines, 50 Royal Navy men, and 100 United States and Maltese troops, lined upon the airfield with a Royal Artillery band to welcome Mr. Roosevelt, first president of the United States ever to visit the island.

Greeted by Gort

First to greet the president was Field Marshal Lord Gort, commander-in-chief of Malta.

With Lord Gort, the president stepped into a jeep.

As the jeep came to a stop in front of the guard of honor, the band struck up "The Star Spangled Banner." The president took the salute and the Stars and Stripes broke out on the mast behind the guard.

Addressing himself to Field Marshal Gort, the troops and the people of Malta, President Roosevelt said:

"Nearly a year ago the Prime Minister and I were at Casablanca shortly after the landings by the

Deer Are Canny

PARRY SOUND, Dec. 10—(CP).—A herd of 40 deer have made their home in the mile-square enclosure around the Canadian Industries Limited plant at nearby Nobel. A recent drive to chase them out failed when the wily animals returned to the enclosure, where they are protected from hunters by a heavy wire fence and armed guards.

Overtime Work Pays More Under New Plan

By JACK WILLIAMS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Dec. 10. — (CP).—Merging of the cost-of-living bonus with basic wage rates, an important part of the government's new wage-control policy announced yesterday, will result in small increases of pay to some workers through payment of higher overtime rates.

Piece-rate workers who exceed their normal output also stand to benefit by the bonus becoming part of their basic wage.

The establishment of a new rate including the bonus is effective Feb 15.

Under the cost-of-living bonus scheme now in effect, the bonus is based on a set amount each week, varying from 95 cents to $4.60, depending on the circumstances in each plant. No additional bonus is paid because an employee works overtime.

Accompanying the new order are rules to be followed by employers in establishing their new rates Following these rules a worker who now receives $1 an hour for a 40-hour week and a weekly bonus of $4 will, after Feb. 15, have a basic rate of $1.10 an hour, making his total income for the 40-hour week the same as at present.

When it comes to overtime rates, however, he stands to gain. If, say, he receives time and one-half for overtime, his present overtime rate is $1.50. With the addition of the bonus to his basic rate his overtime rate becomes $1.65 an hour—an increase of 15 cents.

The same principle is applicable to piece-rate workers. The bonus they now receive will be added to the amount they normally earn and the piecework rate adjusted upward accordingly, so their normal earnings will remain the same. But if they exceed their normal rate of production they will, in their additional remuneration benefit from the inclusion of the bonus in their basic rate.

Curbs Increases.

Against the payroll increases which will result from this change, top officials expressed belief to-day that the new order provides an effective means of halting "pyramiding" of wage structures. It has been evident in recent applications to War Labor Boards that an increase granted to one important group of workers immediately becomes the basis for demands for higher rates from other groups.

The new order restricts national and regional War Labor Boards to granting increases in pay only where "gross inequalities" or "gross injustices" are apparent. While the actual operation of the order will depend on the interpretation which the Boards place on these words,

German Mountain Defences Pierced By Infantry Establish Firm Bridgehead

Allied 5th Army Captures Village Clean Entire East Bank Of Garigliano River In Drive On Rome

By EDWARD KENNEDY—Associated Press Correspondent

ALGIERS, Dec. 10—(AP).—Canadian troops of the 8th Army have smashed forward on an eight-mile front after forcing a new crossing of the Moro River near Italy's Adriatic shore, the Allied communique announced today.

The Canadians, who were engaged in heavy fighting, were strongly supported by armored units and aircraft, the communique said.

"There was fierce fighting in the vicinity of San Leonardo is some 12 miles from the Adriatic coast, on a highway running inland from the port of Ortona through Orsogna.

The Canadians, who were not identified by units, were said to be firmly established in their bridgehead, the second such foothold that 8th Army troops have gained across the stream.

Meanwhile at the Tyrrhenian end of the front Americans of the 5th Army have captured another ridge, Mt. Sammucio, in the upper sector of the Garigliano line. Americans and Germans fought hand-to-hand in mists hugging the top of the 3,000-feet high mountain.

The Canadian attack along the Moro sector began at 4 p.m. on Wednesday after a heavy air and artillery bombardment and was reported making good progress with armored support.

Biggest Push Yet

The Canadians were leading the 8th Army in what appeared to be the major Canadian effort of the campaign.

The fighting raged throughout Wednesday night and all day on Thursday as Canadian infantry and tanks ran into elaborate enemy defences and methodically wiped out strong points against stiff resistance.

One result of the drive was evidenced when frontline observers saw four villages just behind the German lines go up in flames.

These were Torricella, 21 miles inland and seven miles south of Casoli, and Pescocostanzo, Rivisondoli and Roccoraso, all in the same general area about 37 miles inland and north of Isernia.

These towns were in an area being flanked by the Canadian thrust nearer the Adriatic coast. Apparently the Germans, having abandoned hope of holding them, were following their customary practice of putting them to the torch.

The smoke could be seen from points many miles behind the Allied lines.

(The Algiers radio said the second bridgehead across the Moro was in the vicinity of Orsogna, about 10 miles inland, and previous radio reports indicated the 8th Army was within about eight miles of Pescara, the eastern end of the trans-peninsula highway to Rome. The German high command admitted the Allies had captured a series of ridges on both sides of the Via Casilina in the Mignano sector of the 5th Army front and that the German front had been withdrawn a few kilometres).

Wiping out opposition with rifles, pistols, knives and grenades, the Americans installed themselves in the strategic high position overlooking the fortified villages of San Vittore and San Pietro.

These villages are six and seven miles, respectively, southeast of Cassino, and the way was opened for a smash toward that strategic gateway to Rome, now that the German hold on Mignano Pass has been broken.

The Allies now firmly occupy the entire eastern and southern bank of the Garigliano River from Rocca d'Evandro to its mouth, a distance of 14 airline miles.

At the same time, it was disclosed that the Allied 5th Army had cap-

Canadian Units Spearhead 8th Army Push

By ROSS MUNRO
Canadian Press War Correspondent

LONDON, Dec. 10 (CP Cable) — Canadians now are leading the 8th Army advance up the Adriatic coast on the right flank of the Italian front.

The attack north of the Moro River on a wide front of eight miles, announced today by Allied headquarters at Algiers, appears to be one of the major Canadian efforts of the campaign so far.

Canadian infantry are in the forefront of this new thrust with tanks from a Canadian armored formation supporting them.

Heaviest fighting has been along the coast road leading from San Vito through San Leonardo to Ortona and on to Pescara which port is possibly the ultimate Canadian objective.

There were fierce tank battles especially near San Leonardo which is about a quarter of a mile north of the Moro and two miles from the mouth of the river.

Hurry Tank Reserves

The Germans hauled tanks of 26th panzer division from the 5th Army front in western Italy, through mud and mountains to try to block this new threat by the 8th Army.

While the Allied communique did not announce capture of San Leonardo, is it probable this battered village has fallen to the Canadian who have pushed along the main road to Ortona where fighting now is reported in the outskirts of that coast town, 12 miles south of Pescara.

This is the first time Canadians have fought in actions north of the Sangro River. Previously they have been operating in the Apennines, in the headquarters of the Sangro on the 8th Army's left flank.

Japanese Lose 40,000 Men

CHUNGKING, Dec. 10 — (AP).—The 40-day battle for China's rice area, climaxed yesterday by the Chinese recapture of the key city of Changteh, cost the Japanese 40,000 casualties, Maj.-Gen. C. C. Tseng, Chinese Army spokesman, declared to-day.

Tseng said the Japanese had lost 15,800 killed and 25,000 wounded in the battle in which all but 300 men of the Chinese 57th Division were reported casualties.

Bitter fighting still raging northwest of Changteh between sizeable Chinese and Japanese forces will have a decisive effect on the campaign in Central China, Tseng said.

American Air Headquarters, meanwhile, disclosed that American airmen had strongly supported the Chinese forces in their successful drive to recapture Changteh.

Jaws Tighten Inexorably on Hun Armies

Pot Boiling In Balkans Expected To Overflow Anytime

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

There's a Chinese proverb that he who rides a tiger finds it difficult to dismount, which describes rather accurately Herr Hitler's increasingly dangerous effort to ride the untamable Balkans.

The Nazi all highest is in despair of keeping his seat, and he dare not let go, for fear of being torn to pieces. His position has become more grave with each passing hour since the Turks, in a manner of speaking, partook of honey and water in the Allied camp, thus making a traditional Balkan gesture of friendship which has further disturbed the Fuehrer's satellites.

Bulgaria, Germany's key ally on the peninsula, is reportedly veering further away from the Reich. Many people in Sofia, the capital, are said to expect their country to jump to the side of the United Nations if there's an Allied invasion of the Balkans with Turkish support.

Color is lent to this report by the fact that the Bulgarians, while theoretically at war with Britain and the United States, are still at peace with their fellow Slavs of Russia. This bond of race is strong. Indeed, another report has it that a Muscovite military mission is in the Bulgarian capital, and if that's true it speaks volumes.

Would Expose Flank.

If the Hitlerites lose their grip on the Balkans, this will uncover their southern flank facing the Red armies. Such a development would force the Germans to pull back their entire battle line in Russia until the right flank was west of the gateway into the Balkans. That would carry them at least to the line they occupied through the heart of Poland when Hitler knifed Russia in 1941.

If an Allied invasion of France should catch Hitler while he was in the midst of such a gigantic retreat, he would face catastrophe. It would quickly force him back to his own frontiers, both east and west, for the final showdown. Such a situation might easily arise, the way things are moving now.

Brig.-Gen. Horace Sewell, British military expert, points out that the main object of German strategy is to keep the fighting as far away from the homeland as possible. That's why Hitler is pouring German lives so prodigally into the Russian war-mill—to delay retirement of his line as much as possible. That's why he now is straining to keep the Balkans in hand. That's why he has been clinging to his winter line through the mountains of Italy so doggedly.

Delay Father Draft Bill

Refuses Manpower Head's Plea

WASHINGTON, Dec, 10—(AP).—President Roosevelt has approved the father draft bill, designed to delay induction into the armed services of men who were fathers before the United States entered the war.

The action was announced by the White House today. The place at which Mr. Roosevelt acted was not disclosed.

The President had been urged by War Manpower Commissioner Paul V. McNutt to veto the legislation. The President's approval raised a question as to whether McNutt would resign his position.

The legislation removes from McNutt authority over administration of the selective service system.

The authority, vested in Maj.-Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the selective service director, came under McNutt's directives previously.

Censorship Code Revised

Eliminate Government Restrictive Requests

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10—(AP).—Announcing a liberalization of voluntary censorship restrictions on the United States press and radio, Director Byron Price today placed in his own office of censorship greater responsibility for clearing material for publication and broadcast.

This fundamental change in censorship policy, Price said, "means, in effect, that the office of censorship will itself undertake to act as an appropriate authority under the codes" by passing on material in restricted categories whether or not it has been announced officially by other government agencies. The office of censorship will not, however, originate news.

Issuing to a press conference revised censorship codes for the press and radio, Price said numerous restrictive requests of the government had been eliminated in the interest of encouraging a more liberal presentation of war news.

Naval Sweep Turns On Nauru Island

Americans Have Busy Week In Central Pacific

PEARL HARBOR, Dec. 10.—(AP)—Aggressive United States' air craft carrier task forces have demonstrated an ability to strike quickly in widely-separated areas by pounding Nauru only four days after blasting the Marshalls.

Nauru, phosphate producing island 500 miles west of the newly-won Gilberts, not only was bombed by carrier planes but also was shelled by guns of warships on Wednesday, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz reported last night.

Last Saturday, more than 700 miles to the northeast of Nauru, a big task force, including several carriers, sent out planes which levelled defences at Kwajalein and Wotje in the heart of the Marshalls, sank two enemy cruisers, an oil tanker and three cargo ships and downed 72 planes.

Between Nov. 18 and 24, many of these same carriers sent planes out on repeated raids, first to soften up, then to support the ground forces which successfully invaded the Gilberts on Nov. 20.

Now naval authorities have disclosed that the fighters in one of the carriers in the Marshalls raid Saturday were the same group which on Nov. 11 near Rabaul, New Britain, shot down 67 out of 70 Japanese planes in successfully protecting a big flat top.

As was the case immediately after announcement of the Saturday attack on the Marshalls, there were only brief details on the Nauru assault supplied in the first communique. "Strong forces on the Pacific fleet" delivered it.

In all these operations, the navy has reported the loss of one escort carrier, the Liscome Bay, in the Gilberts.

Malta Given

British and American troops in North Africa and at that time I told the Prime Minister that some day we would once more control the whole of the Mediterranean and that then I would go to Malta.

"For many months I have wanted on behalf of the American people to pay some little tribute to this island and to all the people, both civil and military, who during three years have contributed so much to democracy, not just here but all over the civilised world.

Job Nears End

"So at last I have been able to come. At last I have been able to see something of this historic land and I wish I could stay, but I have many things to do.

"I may tell you, though, that during these past three weeks the Prime Minister and I feel we, too have struck blows for the future of the human race and so in this simple way I am taking the opportunity to do what all the American people would join with me in doing."

After this talk the President read the following from the scroll in a handsome wooden case which he said was "a citation from the President of the United States speaking on behalf of all the American people":

"In the name of the people of the United States of America I salute the Island of Malta and its people and its defenders who in the cause of freedom and justice and decency throughout the world have rendered valorous service far above and beyond the call of duty.

Malta Stood Alone

"Under repeated fire from the skies, Malta stood alone and unafraid in the centre of the Sea, one tiny bright flame in the darkness, a beacon of hope in the clearer days which have come.

"Malta's bright story of human fortitude and courage will be read by posterity with wonder and gratitude through all the ages.

"What was done in this island maintains all the highest traditions of gallant men and women who from the beginning of time have lived and died to preserve civilization for all mankind. "Signed Franklin D. Roosevelt, President, Dec. 7, 1943."

The President dated the scroll Dec. 7, the day before his visit, because it was the second anniversary of the United States entry into the war.

"The United States will proceed until the war is won," Mr. Roosevelt told his listeners. "But more than that we will stand shoulder to shoulder with the British Empire and our other Allies in making it a victory worthwhile."

Replying, Lord Gort said the people of Malta were "very sensible of the greatness of this occasion" and that it was a day they would never forget.

Wheezing in the Chest Points to Bronchitis

The principal symptom of bronchitis is a dry, harsh, hacking cough accompanied by a rapid wheezing and tightness across the chest.

There is a raising of phlegm, especially in the morning. This phlegm is at first of a light colour, but as the trouble progresses becomes yellowish or greenish.

You may find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a remedy to help stimulate the weakened bronchial organs, relieve the inflammation, soothe the irritated parts, loosen the phlegm and mucous, and aid nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulation.

Modified Form For ARP Planned In City

It has been decided to carry on the Civilian Defence Committee (ARP services) in Peterborough in a modified degree now that the danger of air raids in Ontario is negligible, and although three services, fire, police and medical will continue the work they have been doing right along, the efforts of the group will be directed into community projects, Max Sloan, head of the ARP, announced to-day.

At a meeting held this week by the C.D.C. augmented by heads of special services and the divisional wardens of the Wardens service, it was decided to request the various services to carry on both civilian defence work and other community projects suited to the abilities of each service, and to convey the appreciation of the Council and the committee to the personnel of the organization.

The City Council at its last meeting passed a resolution stating "that after due consideration we recommend that the Civilian Defence Committee be carried on in a modified form and that they be asked to do so." The members were unanimous in this decision, and expressed their thanks to the members of the ARP for their faithful efforts in the past.

May Use Equipment.

Any of the C.D.C. organizations which continue to function without Government help, will be allowed to keep and use all the equipment now on hand, which should greatly benefit the community, Mr. Sloan said. The C.D.C. has also been asked to keep its records available in case an adverse military situation occurs, so that the Government may know what trained personnel is available.

"Those doing fire and police work will carry on their training with the regular city services. There are more than 200 trained medical workers and it is planned that the women will maintain at least one first-aid post and the men's section will also have one. The wardens service will carry on helping the Red Cross secure blood donors, at their request, and with the salvage work, aided by the transportation and other services. They will also take part in any community effort in which their help is requested."

Less Than $1,100 was spent.

The head of the ARP here explained that less than $1,100 was spent in Peterborough on civilian defence in the past year, 50 per cent less than their allotment. The City Council gave $1,100 and the Government grant was an additional $1,100, and he declared with the present operations now being planned the cost will be exceedingly small, and at the same time the community will have the use of the valuable equipment on hand.

Brig.-Gen. A. Ross, C.M.G., D.S.O., director of the C.D.C. for Canada, was to have met the executive here this week, but due to his illness the meeting had to be cancelled until after the New Year.

Stratford Man Charged In Car Fatality

Only with change of persons and place and slight reshuffling of the jury, another reckless driving fatality was reviewed this morning as the Sessions of the Peace began the fifth day of its enquiries and decisions.

William Locke of Stratford was accused of negligence and driving in a manner dangerous to the public in an accident on Sunday July 18 west of Hastings in which Grover Kerr, a well known resident of that village, was mortally injured. This mishap occurred several miles from Hastings on the low road to Villiers, Keene and Peterborough.

Jurors Released

Empanelling of a jury was completed in fifteen minutes, and the other members of the petit jury were told by Judge Smoke that they could go for the day. His Honour instructed them to return on Monday December 20 when the present extraordinary sessions will be continued. Two more cases remain on the criminal list of the docket, and the court has not even taken a look at the civil brackets.

G. N. Gordon Defends

Opposing counsel today were Crown Attorney McElderry, and G. N. Gordon representing the accused.

"I found two cars locked head on," Provincial Constable A. Grayling, Havelock, testified. "They were both on the south side of the road. The car that was driven by Locke was on its wrong side of the road. I reached the place of the accident at 2.30 p.m. With Locke in his car were his wife, Grover Kerr and Mrs. Kerr, and Miss Terrill."

On An "S" Turn.

The driver of the other car was Ralph McQuaig. The accident occurred on an "S" turn in the road, not a provincial highway.

Mr. McElderry told the jury the Locke car in making that turn had in some manner "got on to the wrong side of the road and into the path of the other car."

Locke was driving toward the west and McQuaig was going toward Hastings.

Almost Head-On.

Officer Grayling said the front left parts of each car to the centre of its radiator were in contact.

"The front left wheel of the Locke car was four feet from the grass on the south side of the road and the rear left was 1 ft. 3 in. from the south side," the constable said. "The car was pointing in a northwesterly direction. The front and rear right wheels of McQuaig's car were in line, one foot three inches from the south side of the road, and in its proper lane of traffic.

Witness told Mr. Gordon the accident happened between 12.30 and 1 p.m. I received a telephone call at Havelock at 2.05 o'clock, and I got there at 2.30.

Witness said McQuaig told him he did not see the Locke car until it was a few feet in front of him. A third car had passed prior to the accident, flinging up heavy dust.

All Injured.

All the occupants of Locke's car were taken to hospital, also Mrs. McQuade. McQuade went to Hastings doctor for treatment.

Grayling said he saw McQuade at 4.30 p.m. that day at his house. He learned that on the day before the accident McQuade had got 36 pints of beer, one quart of whisky and one quart of wine. He also found that McQuade did not have a driver's permit.

McQuade said he had turned in his permit to the Oil Controller the morning of the accident.

Lots of Bottles.

Witness said that bottles around the McQuade place indicated comparatively recent use and decanting.

Mr. Gordon: "Was Keogan in McQuade's car?"—"Yes."

"His birthday was celebrated the night before?"—"I dont know."

William Wellman, Hastings Chief Constable, testified he reached the place of the accident about 1 p.m. or later. Nobody was there then.

The right front wheel of McQuade's car was on the grass, and the left hind wheel four feet from the north side. "The car was angling across the road, blocking it. I decided to move the rear of McQuade's car 4 or 5 feet to let the traffic go by. It was on Sunday. The left front wheel was between the fender and radiator of Locke's car."

To Mr. Gordon, witness said he went to the scene of the accident with Eddie Jones, proprietor of the Clarendon Hotel, John Wilson, and Vern Fleming.

Routine Trip.

"Mr. Jones gave me the message but I wasn't investigating the accident. When I got back to Hastings I telephoned Officer Grayling. We moved the McQuade car about four feet to the south to let traffic go by on the north side. We didn't move the other car, I did not know who owned it."

"Did you find out why McQuade didn't have his driver's licence?"—"No."

Mr. McElderry: "What part of the McQuade car did you move?"—"The rear end."

"Was the front of the car moved?"—"No."

Ralph McQuade, driver of the east-bound car, said he lived two miles west of Hastings. He moved to that place last June.

To Mr McElderry, witness said he was driving the car, with his wife beside him, and John Keogan and four children were at the rear.

"When I came out to the road, Cecil Lynch, whose place is across the road from me, came out of his lane. He turned east first, and I followed him."

Was Very Dusty.

"What about dust that day?"—"It was quite dusty."

"What side of the road were you on?"

"The south side."

Witness said the Lynch car went out in front of him 300 yards or thereabouts when it reached the turn.

"As I turned the corner I saw the Locke car coming at me. It's right wheel was about one foot from the south side.

"Where was your car?"

"On the south side. I'd say not more than a foot or a foot and a half from the grass."

McQuade said the crash happened almost in an instant. It was practically head on. He was driving at the rate of 25 to 30 miles an hour.

Moderate Speed

"What about the other car?"

"I don't think it was going at any great speed."

McQuade said he suffered five broken ribs. "I saw Locke out of his car on the side of the road. I didn't notice any injury to him. I asked him why he didn't keep on his own side. He didn't say anything. He seemed dazed. My wife was bleeding on the forehead."

Mr. Gordon asked McQuade about the Saturday night at his home. Witness replied that he and wife were there, with Alfred Lemoire and his wife, Ted Lemoire and John Keogan. They consumed thirty-six pints of beer, a twenty-six ounce bottle of wine. The stock was bought in Peterborough Saturday afternoon. McQuade denied that it was a party, and that they were celebrating Keogan's birthday. That anniversary had been a week or so earlier.

"When you started out Sunday morning what condition were you in?" "I was in good condition. I got up around 8:30 and looked after one thousand to fifteen hundred chickens."

Witness said he did not drink anything Sunday morning.

Divorced

McQuade said he had been in Sarnia for a time.

"After your first wife got a divorce from you?" "Yes."

"And you didn't leave an address and no one knew where you were? I suggest that you absconded from Peterborough?" "No."

"She and her lawyer were after her costs?" "No; I paid them shortly after the thing was through."

Mr. Gordon—"You paid your own law costs, but not a dollar of hers?" "I don't know what you mean."

Mr. Gordon—Well, we'll leave it at that."

"What was the date of the divorce? Was it three or four years ago?" "About that."

"And your second wife was co-respondent in that case? She was a defendant with you?" "Yes."

As to McQuade's license to drive, Mr. Gordon pointed out that it was issued on August 13, 1943.

"What were you doing without one before that date?" "I guess I had none."

"Did you tell Constable Grayling you sent your driver's license to the gas controller?" "Yes. I had to."

"Well your driver's or chauffeur's license for 1943 is dated August and this accident happened in July?" "Yes."

"So you had no license?" "No."

McQuade said he was driving to Hastings to take Keogan there and al to deliver a chicken."

The case is continuing.

Allied Forces Capture Wareo

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Dec. 10—(AP).—Allied forces striving to clear the Japanese from the Huon Peninsula, potential jumping off place for the invasion of New Britain, have captured the important strong point of Wareo.

The triumph was achieved by Australians who thus blasted the enemy from their hub of supply and defence lines in the New Guinea jungles 12 miles northwest of coastal Finschhafen.

At the same time, Allied airmen struggled through bad weather to keep up their raids on New Britain, which already has felt the explosive effect of more than 1,300 tons of bombs in the past two weeks.

New Britain, 70 miles across the Vitiaz Straits from Allied forces on New Guinea, lies astride the sea lanes leading to the Philippines.

The capture of Wareo, announced today, permits the Allied forces in New Guinea to straighten their lines and continue their dogged fight to clear the Huon Peninsula for a possible New Britain invasion attempt.

Wareo is a steeply-sloped natural stronghold rising 1,000 feet from the jungle lowlands. Without stopping at Wareo, the Aussies pushed on northward and re-established contact with the retreating enemy. Other Allied forces moved northward along the coast from Bonga.

A secret switch across the front to the coastal sector was skilfully carried out by the Canadians and they joined in the Moro river crossing operation Wednesday afternoon. Fighting has been going on ever since in foggy weather.

The German 90th Panzer Grenadier division which replaced the weakened German 65th infantry division in that sector is likely the principal Canadian opposition in addition to tanks of the 20th Panzers.

The enemy had elaborate defence system in the hills north of the Moro and the attack must have been difficult. Strong air support and heavy Canadian and British artillery concentrations were necessary to enable the infantry to break the German positions.

Revenge Stroke Due Soon Germans Told

By DON WHITEHEAD
Associated Press War Correspondent

WITH THE ALLIED 5TH ARMY NEAR MIGNANO, Italy, Dec. 9 — (Delayed)—(AP) — German front line soldiers are pinning their hopes of a victory for the Fatherland on a great offensive next Spring, which they call "Vergeltungschlacht"—a war of revenge.

They are told—and they believe—that Germany is husbanding its forces for one great and final desperate attack.

Prisoners volunteered this story today while being questioned by United States Army officers.

Every shortage is explained to the German troops in terms of saving material for the war of revenge.

It seemed incredible to me that the Germans could believe those things. But they do.

Out of 169 prisoners questioned, however, only 15 said they still thought Germany could win the war.

Jehovah Witness Is Ordered Turned Over To The Militia

COBOURG, Dec. 10 — (ENS) — Finding that the accused had not been a full-time minister during the period which he had at first professed to be, Magistrate R. B. Baxter yesterday found Thomas J. Sproat, Jehovah's Witness, guilty on a charge of not keeping national mobilization authorities informed of his change of address. Sproat, whose home is in Grand Valley, was arrested by local R.C.M.P. last month. When he appeared in court at that time, he claimed exemption from military service on the grounds of being a minister of the Gospel. Following his conviction yesterday he was turned over to the R.C.M.P. for escort to the nearest military training centre.

"When you first appeared before me," stated Magistrate Baxter, "you claimed exemption as a minister of a religious denomination. I have given consideration to the written argument filed by your counsel and I have made a transcription of the evidence in order to make sure of the accuracy of my notes. I have arrived at a decision. You claimed exemption as a minister of a religious denomination and the onus is on you to satisfy this court you are a minister. You were asked why you considered yourself as such and you replied, 'I was baptized and consecrated my life to full time service the same as Jesus Christ when baptized in the Jordan.' Twice you testified that you were a minister in 1939 You were not sure whether you became a minister in October or November of 1939, but that it was in the fall. I asked you what you did in October of 1939 and you said that you were a bread salesman as well as part-time as a minister. In December of 1939 you said you were doing the same thing and in January of 1940 you told me that you were preaching and also were an auto salesman. In March, April, December of the same year were still a minister and an auto salesman. You admitted that you went into full-time service as a minister in September of 1941. But you said that in November of 1939 you were on a full-time service as a minister. Yet you, in view of your later testimony, expect me to accept your statement that you were a full-time minister at that time. This shows the sincerity of your covenant. I don't believe that the regulations can include your work and I find you subject to the regulations and therefore guilty."

Corporal Karl Lockwood of the R.C.M.P. drew the attention of the court to regulations wherein it was specified that in the event of a conviction the accused would be handed over to the R.C.M.P. forthwith, or on the completion of sentence, to be escorted to the nearest military training centre.

J. K. Brower of Toronto, counsel for Sproat, informed the court that 10 or 12 Jehovah's Witnesses had been sent to army camps where attempts to get them into uniform and break them down to accept army regulations, had not been successful in a single instance. When defence counsel went into detail as to the alleged methods used in one case to force a Jehovah's Witness to don a uniform, Magistrate R. B. Baxter refused to permit the matter to be discussed.

"That is something which is not before the court and I don't believe that the military authorities would countenance such methods," declared the magistrate.

"I am not going to send this man to jail but am turning him over to the R.C.M.P. to be taken directly to the military authorities. If he is as sincere as he says he is, he should be able to convince them," said the magistrate.

Damage Judgment

COBOURG, Dec. 10.—(ENS). — Judgment for the plaintiff for $296.34 and costs was handed down by Judge J. C. M. German in country court yesterday, to Leon Rammell of Bowmanville, greenhouse owner. The defendant was the Central Wholesale Florist Co., of Toronto. Plaintiff claimed $321.34 for sale of hydrangeas to the defendant, balance owing on a shipment of $766.39 of these flowers. Defendant stated that the buds in some instances failed to come out but plaintiff alleged in reply that the fault lay in the failure of the defendant to look after the flowers properly after their arrival.

Petit Jurors Report Daily

Jury duty in the current General Sessions of the Peace has been more sharply and continuously impressed on the men of the city and county whose names were drawn by lot some months ago by prescribed method. Petit juries have sometimes drawn only the formality of reporting their presence at the opening of Court. But, the present Sessions have been the heaviest in the experience of Judge Smoke, and the jurors are going to have a week of realization of their importance in the administration of justice.

They answered to the jury roll call Monday afternoon and the first panel of twelve men was selected for the true bill action that began Tuesday. Some of them found their numbers up for duty on Wednesday and again for the thrid case Thursday. When the morning prospect indicated a day's hearing of evidence by the twelve men in the jury chairs, their companions were permitted to depart for the rest of the day but were required to return at 10 o'clock the following morning.

The entire petit jury panel was as follows:

Harry B. Adams, 25 Cricket Place; E. Bruce Aikin, 162 Aylmer Street; E. W. F. Aitchison, 232 Mark Street; Colin Althouse, 10 Benson Street; Edward Austin, 114 Dufferin Street.

John Bateson; George H. Burns, 288 Burnham Street; Gordon H. Brown, 661 Armuor Road; John H. Brown, 543 Bethune Street; Malcolm Bullied, Chandos.

P. Chamberlain, Otonabee; George Clarke, 51 Maria Street; James Comstock, Asphodel; John Coulton, 423 Downie Street; Clifford Coward, Otonabee; Stanley Curtis, Otonabee.

George Douglas, 130 James Street; Allen Gill, Lakefiled; William Hawthorne, Lakefield; James Holland, Ennismore; Milton Ingram, Harvey; V. W. Lancaster, North Monaghan.

Garbutt Mann, Bridgenorth; George Middleton, Smith; Allan Milburn, Smith; G. Norman Moncrief, North Monaghan; J. McCulloch, 415 Water Street; James McMartin, 398 Aylmer Stree.t

Judge Smoke will adjourn Court at the conclusion of today's session for one week, resuming on Monday, December 20.

2 Registration Cards

COBOURG, Dec. 10 — (ENS) — Donald Ellis of Jasper was fined $10 and costs for being drunk when he appeared in court yesterday The charge was laid by Constable Frank Atkinson of Brighton. Ellis was also charged with having two registration cards in his possession and on this charge he was remanded until Monday. The extra registration card belonged to a Smiths Falls man who lost $52 along with his registration card and wallet. Ellis stated that he found the card in the street last spring but that it was not in a wallet nor was there any money with it.

Roads Are Very Icy

GORE'S LANDING, Dec. 10. — (ENS).—Icy roads have made driving most dangerous throughout the township the past few days. The truck of stage driver Earle Shearer slipped into the ditch at the watering trough near Camborne on Tuesday and was only pulled out with considerable difficulty. Thomas Fowlie's car also skidded into the ditch at the foot of Pine Hill Rice Lake is frozen over but is still unsafe for skating.

Police Solves It

HAMILTON, Ont., Dec. 10 (CP).—Mrs. William Callaghan of Hamilton, perturbed by the presence of a skunk on the premises, notified police. Sgt. William McNair arrived and found the offensive animal in an ash can. He carefully put the lid on, weighted it with cement blocks, and advised Mrs. Callaghan to have her husband punch a hole in the can, insert a hose, and drown the skunk.

Robert Hawley Acquitted Of Reckless Driving

Robert Hawley of Chandos township was acquitted in the Sessions of the Peace Thursday afternoon of reckless driving in the accident July 19 on Park Hill Road, near Inverlea Park, in which Barbara Fry, three years old, was fatally injured and died the following day.

A verdict of not guilty was brought in by a trial jury, after deliberating half an hour, and Judge Smoke dismissed Mr. Hawley, a Glenalda farmer past sixty years of age.

To the jury His Honor said: "I think that on the whole you have arrived at a proper verdict. There was very little evidence on which could be based a conviction on this charge."

And to Mr. Hawley His Honor said: "I don't wish to say anything that would make you feel worse than I am sure you do feel. I think the accident must have been a great source of worry to you. I am sure that in the future, in passing such places where children are playing, you will come to a stop, if necessary, to proceed safely.

As a matter of fact it might be well for the City Council to see that signs advising the public to beware of children on that street. I am sure that signs are in place in other parts of the city where they are less required than on Park Hill Road."

The prosecution was directed by Crown Attorney V. J. McElderry, K.C., and G. N. Gordon, K.C., conducted the defense.

Robert Hawley was driving easterly on Park Hill Road, along Inverlea Park, about 7 p.m. on Saturday, July 19, setting out for home after one of his infrequent visits to Peterborough. He took the Park Hill Road route to call on a granddaughter on the east side of the river. His explanation of the accident to the jury that his attention was chiefly attracted by children playing on the north side, or park side, of the street, and that he did not see the little girl "toddle out" to quote Mr. McElderry, from the south side. Mr. Hawley said that a spirea bush, one of a row extending easterly from Water Street, along the south boulevard probably accounted for the fact that he did not see Barbara Fry as his automobile struck her, eight feet out from the curb, as she was crossing toward the Park.

Reeve Albert Hall and several other Chandos farmers gave character evidence for Mr. Hawley as a man of good reputation whom they had known respectively for 25 to 40 years.

Hawley's statement that he was driving at only 12 to 15 miles an hour was undisputed, and there was no suggestion of speed in any of the evidence.

Mr. McElderry stated to the jury that there was negligence by Hawley in neglecting to look to the south side of the street, as well as to the north. "Why did he not see her before his car hit her? She toddled eight feet out from the curb. If he had blown the horn of his car that would have been a warning to all the children. A prudent man would give his horn a toot to make sure any child would hear it."

Judge Smoke remarked that there was no evidence that Hawley did not sound the horn.

"If he had done so," Mr. McElderry said to the jury, "would it not have been the first evidence he would have given, that he did sound the horn."

His Only Accident

Mr. Hawley said he had farmed at Glenalda all his life. He is a widower, and with him are his mother and grandson.

"I have a son and daughter in Peterborough and come into the city five or six times a year. This was the only accident I've had in fifteen years of driving. The car was in good condition. I had the brakes adjusted at Apsley a week before the accident."

Mr. Gordon: "Where had you been that day?"

"At my son's place, Gordon Hawley."

"Was anybody with you?"—"Yes, Earl Weese. He is in the army in Nova Scotia."

Witness said he was driving on Park Hill Road about 12 to 15 miles an hour. "About half way to the bridge I noticed some small children on the Inverlea Park side. I kept watching them for fear they might run across the street."

"Did you notice anything on the south side?"—"No. There were bushes on the boulevard."

"Did you see any children on that side?"—"No."

"What was the first thing you noticed as you drove along?"—"I felt a bump on the car."

"What did you do?"—"I braked the car slowly, stopped and went back to see what I had hit."

"Why did you brake slowly?"—"Because the brakes were grabbing."

Witness said he found the little girl on the pavement.

Mr Gordon: "Something was said about the smell of beer. Tell us about that?"—"I had two glasses of beer at my son's before I started for home. They were small kitchen glasses."

"Did they have any effect on you?"—"None."

"Police say they could smell it?" —"I guess they could."

"Was there anything you could have done to avoid the accident?" —"There wasn't anything I could have done."

Mr Hawley said he did not see the little girl, Barbara Fry.

To Mr. McElderry accused said he knew children played in the park. He went that way to visit a granddaughter on the east side of the river.

Mr. Hawley said he was keeping an eye particularly on the north side

OUR OLD HOME TOWN

by F. H. Dobbin

Old Peterborough through the eyes of our forefathers . . . a witty commentary on the ways and fashions of early Ontario folk . . . a rollicking book of anecdote and reminiscence.

Old timers will remember some of the familiar scenes and ways recalled in this book by the former editor of the Peterborough Examiner. Others will get a kick out of seeing life as it was in Ontario a hundred years ago—What did the well-dressed women of a hundred years ago wear? How did they light fires in those days? Here, too, is the story of early elections in Ontario, how whisky sold at a shilling a gallon and was guaranteed free from headaches, the story of Red Fife wheat. . . . and a host of pen portraits of men and women who helped to make Peterborough and Ontario.

Taking Canada To The Troops

We have often expressed our conviction in these columns that the National Film Board is doing a splendid job for Canada, and recently we discovered another proof that we are right. The Film Board sends many of its productions abroad to entertain our troops, and they are all popular. But by far the most popular of all these films is West Wind, a colour film based on the life and work of Tom Thompson.

Tom Thompson was one of the greatest of Canadian painters. Born in Owen Sound, he learned the technique of the painter working as a commercial artist in Toronto. Then he gave up his commercial work, and went north to the Algonquin Park district to paint the country which he loved, and he worked strenuously for four years before his career was cut short by a drowning accident. But in those four great productive years Thompson recorded the beauty of the Canadian landscape as no painter had done before him, and as few have done since his time.

In West Wind, which was made in collaboration with the National Gallery of Canada, Thompson's landscapes and the country which he painted are shown in a film which combines great artistic merit with popular appeal in unusual fashion. It is no wonder that our men abroad, some of whom have not seen Canada for four long years, ask for this film again and again. The bravest man may suffer from the wasting pang of homesickness, and West Wind brings him, for twenty minutes or so, the land which he loved as it is and as it appeared to a man who loved it also. In the highest degree this film shows the bonds which link the artist, the common man, and the land which has inspired them both.

The great success of West Wind is a triumph for the Film Board. Working with a small budget and a minimum of equipment it has done great things. And its best achievement has been to take the essence of Canada to her men abroad, to refresh and solace them.

Saving On License Plates

The Provincial Highways Department has decided not to issue new metal license plates for the coming year, but to provide motorists with a sticker which is to be displayed in the lower left-hand corner of the windshield. The old plates will be kept on the car. Obviously this is a good idea. It will save many tons of metal which we need for other purposes. The rumour goes around that the U.S. is thinking of a similar economy, and that it would save 15,000 tons of steel for that country. That is a saving which no one would dare to call petty.

The idea is such a good one, indeed, that we think it might be adopted permanently. Instead of changing license plates every year, why not give a car an identifying number to be displayed back and front as long as it is in use, and then put a sticker on the windshield to show that the license fee has been paid for the current year? There is no more sense in wasting steel in peace than in war. There would be practical advantages to the plan beyond the saving of metal. It would make the identification of stolen cars easier, and it would make it easier for the motorist to remember the number of his car. The plan would not appeal to those whose yearly ambition is to get as low a license number as they can manage, but they are not numerous, and would doubtless be glad to sacrifice their hobby in the public interest.

The Virtuous Skunk

The Trenton Courier-Advocate has taken up the battle for the sadly maligned and unjustly aspersed skunk. There is a skunk expert in Trenton who has told the paper that when a skunk is caught in a trap his fellow-skunks will bring him a bed of leaves to lie on, and food to eat; "name any other animal, wild or tame, that is so considerate of its own at a time like that", says the Courier-Advocate. We frankly admit that we cannot do so.

But then, we have never spoken ill of skunks. They are attractive little creatures, they are useful in keeping down various sorts of insects, and they are not harmful unless they are disturbed. The skunk only performs its characteristic practical joke when it feels itself to be in danger; approach a skunk with friendly caution and it will be perfectly amiable, albeit reserved. Indeed, we have heard that a lady once dwelt in our capital city who kept a skunk as a pet, and named it after a celebrated manufacturer of perfume. Skunks, we venture to say, are more sinned against than sinning.

The man who is showered by a skunk will never forget the experience. But when the pungent smell has abated and drifted through the woods it is by no means unpleasant. There are many worse smells than skunk. That strong musky whiff is as characteristic of the Canadian forest as the smell of pine needles.

Short of meeting a skunk at close quarters and being showered by it, nothing is much worse than to frighten a skunk, or run over one, with a motor car. Let the owner scrub and sluice his chassis as he will, the smell will cling until it wears off; during the wearing-off period the driver is likely to be a shamed and uncomfortable man. So when you see a skunk hurrying across the highway, your best plan is to stop dead until it is out of the way. It may be rushing a bed or some provisions to a trapped friend.

The Sword Of Stalingrad

During the Teheran Conference Prime Minister Churchill made an historic presentation to Premier Stalin. As the representative of His Majesty King George VI he handed over to the Russian leader a Sword of State commemorating the great victory of Stalingrad. The sword, a handsome example of the swordsmith's art, was made in the great British steel city of Sheffield.

We venture to predict that the Sword of Stalingrad will be a cherished possession of the Russian people. First of all, it is a tribute to Russian valour and tenacity of purpose. Second, it is a sign of friendship between two great peoples. Finally, it is a gift from the most powerful of reigning monarchs, and we think that the Russians realize what a source of strength the monarchy was to the people of Britain during the year in which they stood alone against the enemy. The Sword is a symbol of many great things.

The Battle of Stalingrad occupied three months, during which all the United Nations watched with awe the indomitable and gallant defence which turned miraculously to an offence. After holding the ruins of their city, the Russians made a move to encircle the Germans; the Germans thought that they could break the ring which formed about them by attacking the Russians in the south, but they failed, and in all 330,000 German officers and men were encircled and captured or killed. Hitler had boasted that he would take Stalingrad, and it looked as though a German victory would be easy. For no reason other than the Russian determination that it should not be so the easy victory was turned to a crushing, costly, deeply humiliating defeat.

Stalingrad was named in honour of Josef Stalin, the man of steel. Stalingrad held like steel. And now Stalingrad has been honoured in a token made of the best British steel. What could be more fitting?

NOTE AND COMMENT

Butter can be made from grass, says a scientist. Cows have preserved the secret for centuries.

The hippopotamus, says a zoo note, has the second largest mouth in the animal kingdom. Can't compete with Goebbels, of course.

"Eighth Army Seizes Junction of Parallel Roads To Rome", says a headline. These meetings of parallels are just another sign that we live in a changing world.

England's famous Punch reports: "A road-sweeper in the West End of London recently found what he thought to be a worthless string of glass beads. He was right".

After the war, we learn, floors may be made of glass. Well, we shall just run downstairs in order to see where that collar button has got to under the dressing-table.

Let us bear in mind this recent statement made by the Canadian Prime Minister: "The one hope of the enemy is to hold out until the United Nations show signs of weariness under the strain of war. Any sign of weakness or indifference in any of the free countries will encourage the enemy to hold out longer".

The Peterborough Of The Past

By
SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

IT IS not every day that a book is published about Peterborough. Indeed, it is not every town which has a book written about it at all. We may think it is an important event in the city's history, therefore, that the publishing firm of Dent have brought out "Our Old Home Town," a book of reminiscences of the past of Peterborough by the late F. H. Dobbin. Although the book has greater interest for Peterborough people than for outsiders, we hope that it will be widely read in Canada. The story of the growth of this city from a pioneer settlement is not only a good one in itself; it is typical of a hundred such stories in Canadian history. Anyone who wants to recapture the feel of the past hundred years in Canadian life will find what he wants in the pages of "Our Old Home Town."

THE late Francis Hincks Dobbin was well known to the people of this city as the editor of the "Review," as a member of the City Council, and as a man who could be asked to undertake any task which demanded enthusiasm and driving force. But apart from his public character he was known to a large circle of friends as a man of long memory, salty humour, and a keen appreciation of the ironies and vicissitudes of circumstance. He watched Peterborough grow, and aided in its growth, and that growth was a source of pride to him. But he also knew the peculiar forces which influenced that growth, and he had what can best be called "the lowdown" on many of the most interesting developments in the town. As everyone knows, neither the best stories nor the whole truth ever break into the history books, though they occasionally come to light in volumes of reminisence. "Our Old Home Town" is such a volume.

MR. DOBBIN will be remembered as a Conservative of the most intransigent kind. How he came to be so is explained in the first chapter of his book. It was an accident. His father was a Baldwin Reformer, and was probably known to his contemporaries as a Whig. When he apprenticed his son to the printing trade he naturally made his arrangements with the "Examiner," the paper which supported his chosen party; indeed, he was so convinced that this matter was obvious, that he simply told his son to go to the printing office one Monday morning, and start to work. But young Francis went to the "Review," instead, and there drank so deep at the wells of Toryism that he was lost to his father's party forever. As he points out, it is just that easy to make a bigoted Tory of a bigoted Grit.

POLITICS plays an important part in Mr. Dobbin's recollections. No one will deny that politics were more entertaining and stimulating in his day than they are in ours. Party feeling ran high, and the town was as sharply divided between Grit and Tory as it was between Catholic and Protestant. The violence of the local newspapers in support of their parties was as unrestrained and as gaudy as that of the rival papers which Mr. Pickwick found in Eatanswill. Abuse and vituperation of the most libellous character was the prop and stay of political oratory and journalism. On election days free fights were common at the polls; indeed, they were expected as decent tributes to the intensity of party feeling. Nowadays a distrustful law orders that all liquor stores and beverage rooms must be closed on election days, but in the era of more robust politics the candidates simply issued orders to the saloon and hotel keepers to treat everyone who applied in their names; fired by whisky and partisan feeling some of the campaign supporters of those times performed prodigies of impersonation. Often they were not content to accept the verdict of the polls, and would seek out the winning candidate and his adherents, and fight them to a finish in the streets. Mr. Dobbin recalls an occasion when a house on Charlotte Street—then luridly named Hell Street—was completely dismantled by a disgruntled election mob.

BUT by no means all his recollections are of a political colour. The pioneer crafts of candle-making and weaving are recalled; the first visit of a circus to Peterborough is recorded; a number of the characters who gave the place a characteristic flavour in its early days are described. There is no aspect of Peterborough life which Mr. Dobbin does not deal with. The cultural life of the early community is admirably touched off. For the men, discussions in Stephenson's store and in the many saloons sufficed; as always in pioneer settlements they left the fancier flights of learning and the arts to their womenfolk. And the women, after the custom of their day, sacrificed to the Muses by arranging church sociables and concerts. In 1845, on the 12th of September, a Bazaar was held to raise funds for communion plate for St. John's Church, and in the evening it concluded with a concert of vocal and instrumental music; a Baron DeFleur "was expected to preside," but whether he did so or not we cannot say.

PHYSICIANS are a rarity in pioneer communities, and the nineteenth century was the heyday of the patent medicine. Tiger Pills, or Poor Man's Doctor, were sold in great quantities, as were also such nostrums as Winer's Vermifuge and Sherman's Worm Lozenges. Tonics were common, most of them being made of herbs preserved in alcohol; the latter were especially popular with temperance advocates, as they provided stimulation without actually being indictable as booze. Soothing syrups, guaranteed to still the soul of the most rampageous infant, were sold in quantity; being strong decoctions of laudanum or opium, it is no wonder that they "soothed" babies. One wonders, indeed, if a strong diet of opium in infancy was not the cause of some of the acknowledged peculiarity of an older generation. And of course there was Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which, Mr. Dobbin asserts, was drunk by the quart in the Peterborough of his youth. Did the imbibers, we wonder, sing that gay old ditty—

Now let us drink a drink a drink
To Lydia Pink, a Pink, a Pink,
For she's a benefactor of the human race;
She invented a Vegetable Compound
That's efficacious
In every case.

WE hope, and expect, that "Our Old Home Town" will enjoy a wide popularity in this county. It is local history of the very best sort. The Peterborough of an earlier day can hardly be conjured up from the pages of Poole, but they are vivid and colourful in the recollection and records of F. H. Dobbin.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

GREETINGS FROM ABROAD

EDITOR EXAMINER: Sir,—Having lived in Peterborough for a number of years and having had some darned good times there, I thought I would like to send my best wishes, through the medium of your paper, to all my friends for Christmas and New Year. My wife also joins that sentiment with me. We have been over in England now about ten years and am anxiously looking for the war to end so we can return to Peterborough.

This last four years have sure been some experience for us. I was a 93rd man in the last war and thought that bad enough, but the blasting and bombing in this is terrific. Two years ago we slept in our air raid shelter for a about one year. Old Jerry used to raise hell then, but now we raise hell with him. I have nothing but admiration for our airmen. Only those who know can tell how it feels to hear them going out at night. Nothing but a continual roar for hours and you look up at the sky with a lump in your throat and whisper "Good luck boys and God bless you."

To see flares, shells, tracer bullets and searchlights is something we did not see last time and I hope we shall never see again after this war. When war broke out I went to work in a sheet metal works but met with an accident and was directed elsewhere. Now my job is to entertain and instruct the troops, mostly the latter. I am sorry I cannot tell you more. Regarding air raids I may say we have been lucky. We have only had a shell in the roof of the house. Some of these raids have a humorous side, such as the old lady who was calmly cleaning the front doorstep of her house after all the windows and the roof had been blown out. But the tragic side is really a sad picture.

Refering to the Canadians and Americans, there are some critics over here who still argue as to what "these Yanks and Canadians have done." You hear some people here say, "Oh they've got plenty over there. They don't go short." This makes my blood boil and I ask them "Where the bacon and meat came from they have had this week?" "How many bales of Red Cross supplies, mobile canteens, mobile hospitals, parcels for bombed out people and other gifts have come from Canada and America?"

In conclusion I would like to express my sympathy with those who, at the Christmas gathering cannot help thinking of someone over there who is not coming back. A Merry Christmas to all and God bless you.

C. ROBINSON.

P.S.—I shall be pleased to hear from anyone who may be interested.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS ....

JUST now we are having an epidemic of homesick brides and if you have tears to shed, prepare to shed them, for in all the length and breadth of the land there are no more piteous and miserable creatures than they are. Of course, nostalgia isn't a fatal complaint. In time they will recover from it, and perhaps forty years from now they will be able to laugh at their sufferings, but for the moment they have touched the bottom of despair and disillusion and disappointment.

This is not what they expected of marriage. This is not what they married for. When they started off so blithely on their honeymoons, they thought that they were exchanging Mama's fussing and Papa's bossing for freedom, and life in a dull little town for the bright lights of a city, and they would never get off of the merry-go-round of parties and night clubs and theatres. And, anyway, just being with Tom, Dick, or Harry would be all they would need to make them happy.

But somehow their dreams failed to click the way they expected them to, and by the time they had combed the rice out of their hair and unpacked their wedding presents they began to have a little gone feeling at the pit of their stomachs. It is all very well to be emancipated from parental authority, but freedom didn't look so good when they discovered that the reason they could do as they pleased was because nobody knew or cared what they did. Maybe backdoor neighbours were a nuisance at times, but they were better than the stony stare of strangers who acted as if they were about to call the police if you so much as said good morning to them.

And even their husbands were so changed that the wives scarcely knew them. No longer were they the impassioned lovers, wooing them with honeyed phrases and showering upon them lovely gifts. They treated them just like their Papas did their Mamas. They took them for granted. Criticized their cooking when they had burnt themselves to a crisp trying to make a cake that wouldn't fall.

And the men were tired when they came home at night and didn't want to step out, and seemed to think that all that a girl, who had always had dates to burn at home, wanted to do was to sit up and look at them read the paper. And so the brides bedewed their pillows at night with their tears, and wondered whatever made them give up their families and friends and homes for this.

Probably there isn't a woman who left her own home to go to live with her husband in some strange place, who hasn't gone through this awful ordeal of homesickness. Many a one has told me how she walked the streets of a city until she was footsore because she felt less lonely in crowds than she did shut up in a room alone. Another has told how she spent day after day at the movies just to take her mind off of her misery, until she acquired a permanent distaste for the cinema. And another has often told me that just to have something to do and to keep from going crazy she ripped up her whole trousseau and made it over by hand.

And it doesn't help to better the situation for the homesick bride's husband to have no sympathy with her, and to be bitterly affronted by discovering that he isn't enough for her, and that she isn't perfectly happy just spending her time waiting for him to come home at night. She has him. What else could a reasonable woman desire?

He forgets that at home she lived in a big family where there was constant coming and going and something doing; that every face she saw was a friendly one that smiled at her; that she was the moving spirit in all the town activities, and that in the strange city she is nobody, and so lonely that she is even grateful to the butcher for talking to her about the price of pork chops.

The homesick bride has always been a pathetic figure. Now she is a tragic one, for the war is turning her out in mass production and the country is flooded with thousands of girls, many of them mere children, who are following their husbands around from camp to camp, with no one to take care of them, often with not even a place to lay their heads.

They are strangers in a strange land of whose manners and customs and local prejudices they know nothing. Many of them are too ignorant of social usages to know how to make friends, or to recommend themselves to acquaintances. They can see little of their husbands, who are going through intensive training for the battles ahead of them, and so the poor, forlorn, little creatures sit alone, with nowhere to go, nobody to speak to, nothing to do, waiting—waiting—waiting for the sound of a step that cannot come to them.

Surely if we have a Christian duty, it is to show some friendliness and try to cheer up these lonely, homesick brides. For they can starve for companionship just as much as they could for bread.

American Aircraft

We hear German complaints of their aerial inferiority on certain sectors of the Russian front, and though Russia will owe most to her own fine planes it may be that the tilting of the balances, the actual gaining of superiority, came with the American Airacobra. As a fighter it has defects, yet one Soviet group using it shot down thirty-three Germans for the loss of three—proof of the effective use of a fighter one-half of whose total production has been sent to Russia. Our own aircraft have much to do with the wasting of the German West and with the successes in South Italy, but it is the Americans who have brought plenitude and the wide and easy margin. In the Far East American aircraft have the field almost to themselves, and the broken bases and wrecked supply lines of Japan show how much of the war here is air-borne.—Manchester Guardian.

New Scottish Enterprises

The new enterprises on which the country has embarked are of a kind that has forbidden publicity in present circumstances, yet no survey of the national resources which ignored them or tended to minimize their importance could have any practical value. For better or worse a complex of light industries has been added to the old basic trinity of coal, steel, and shipbuilding, and the effects will be lasting. They are already apparent in the west of Scotland.—Glasgow Herald.

Hard To Believe How Time Flies

Vincent Eastwood, J. J. Duffus, J. J. Hartley and W. H. Moore are all probable candidates for the Utilities Commission.

Judge E. C. S. Huycke in addressing the grand jury at the General Sessions exresses a hope for a closer union of the English-speaking peoples.

E. A. Peck is elected president of the Children's Aid Society at the annual meeting of that organization.

Word from England says Lieut. J. F. Strickland is quartermaster of the 3rd Reserve Battalion there.

A Bible Message

Then the children of Judah came unto Joshua in Gilgal: and Caleb the son of Jephunneh the Kenezite said unto him, Thou knowest the thing that the Lord said unto Moses the man of God concerning me and thee in Kadesh-barnea. Forty years old was I when Moses the servant of the Lord sent me from Kadesh-barnea to espy out the land; and I brought him word again as it was in mine heart. Nevertheless my brethren that went up with me made the heart of the people melt: but I wholly followed the Lord my God. And Moses sware on that day, saying, Surely the land whereon thy feet have trodden shall be thine inheritance, and thy children's for ever, because thou hast wholly followed the Lord my God.

And now, behold, the Lord hath kept me alive, as he said, these forty and five years, ever since the Lord spake this word unto Moses, while the children of Israel wandered in the wilderness: and now, lo, I am this day fourscore and five years old. As yet I am as strong this day as I was in the day that Moses sent me: as my strength was then, even so is my strength now, for war, both to go out, and to come in. (Joshua 14: 6-11.)

Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations. Before the mountains were brought forth, or even thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God....For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night. (Ps. 90: 1, 2, 4.)

Unconsidered Trifles

"What is political economy, dad?"
"To be perfectly candid, son, I can't tell you. Sometimes I think there isn't any such thing."

After completing his program of raids, the young R.A.F. pilot was enjoying a spot of leave in civvies.

As he passed along a busy street a determined-looking lady eyed him coldly and handed him a white feather.

"Pardon me madam," he asked politely, "but are you moulting?"

It was one of those days when there was nothing doing in the bank branch in a small town. The staff had got through somehow with tea and talk until it was time to close.

"Three o'clock," said the manager at last, addressing a junior. "Run and close the front door."

The junior returned in a few minutes and said: "Excuse me, sir, it is closed. We forgot to open it this morning."

Judge: "Did you see the shot that was fired?"
Witness: "No, I only heard it."
Judge: "That is not sufficient evidence. You may retire."

As the witness left the stand and while his back was turned to the judge he laughed out loud. At once the judge recalled him for contempt of court.

Witness: "Did you see me laugh?"
Judge: "No, but I heard you."
Witness: "Insufficient evidence, your Honor."

The shopman went patiently through the whole stock of his blankets, but his prospective customer paid scant attention, every few moments gazing around the shop as though she imagined she was being watched.

"A kleptomaniac," thought the shopman. "I'm sorry, madam," he said aloud, "but I've shown you every blanket in the place. If you—"

"Oh, it doesn't matter, today," was the reply. "I came in mainly because I expected to meet a friend here and er—"

"Really?" said the perspiring shopman, "if you think your friend is amongst the blankets, madam, I shall be happy to go over them again for you."

Race Betting Sets New High Record

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 (AP)—The nation's racing, which was being mourned as a casualty of war just a year ago, was a live enough "corpse" during 1943 to take a record-smashing financial ride into the stratosphere, with betting of nearly three-quarters of a billion dollars.

Reports of the war-time dearth of racing were so greatly exaggerated as a matter of fact, that although four states were amputated from the scene during the year, and one other was cut to just a mere shadow of its former self, the 16 survivors kept the mutuel machines going with a grand total of $710,779,432 in wagers, compared to the $563,579,895 in 1942.

And with this ride on a dollar sign to new all-time highs—$147,199.537 more than the 1942 total—there was a corresponding boom in state revenue from the sport that New York Commissioner Herbert Bayard Swope says is also a big business. Spear-headed by New York astonishing totals, the 16 operating states "cut in" for a fancy $32,534,484.30 in revenue from the turf. This bankroll was $7,847,102.59 more than the states' "end" in '42.

Although Illinois, New Jersey, Massachusetts and Michigan hit new "tops," and California came more than half-way back, to its gaudy pre-war days, the real gravy on the washed potatoes was provided by New York. "Two-buck bill," and his cousins, "five-buck" and "ten-buck," shovelled $264,635,711 in on the oat-burners during the 190-day Empire State season, not only skyrocketing some $110,000,000 over the 1942 total, but also netting the state's cash registers $19,050,692.

Let Them Fish

While Luke Appling was busy winning the American League batting title for the White Sox last summer, he left a caretaker in charge of his Georgia farm....Along about midseason, the caretaker wrote asking what he should do about the neighborhood boys who persisted in invading his property to reach a favored fishing hole...Luke promptly wired back: "All right for kids to fish but don't let them know it. It would spoil their fun."

The Y.M.C.A. House League is picking up in interest as the schedule progresses and the battle for top position grows keener. Joe Stewart's Algerines swept into first place alone Wednesday night with a win over the Army while the Fairmiles who were neck-and-neck with the Stewart outfit absorbed an unexpected defeat at the hands of the Frigates. Both the leading teams will be in action tomorrow night when the weekly double-header will be staged and the games will have an importnat effect upon the standing. Algerines clash with Gord Johnston's Cruisers in the opening game on the card, scheduled for 7:15 o'clock, while the Fairmiles have Harry Currie's Destroyers as their opposition in the second tilt. Both should be good battles with the Fairmile-Destroyer clash in particular looming up like a tough duel. Destroyers cannot afford to lose any more if they want to make the playoffs and the Fairmiles on the other hand need a win to keep within reach of the leading Algerines.

There will only be one game in the Ladies' Basketball League at the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium tonight instead of the customary double-header. It brings together the C.G.E. Generals and the Y Cadets and will be staged at 7:30 o'clock. Both teams want a victory and the result should be an interesting struggle all the way. The Cadets would like nothing better than a victory over the more experienced Generals and they will work their heads off trying to accomplish that feat. Generals who had a chance to knock the Transports out of first place last week and failed need a victory to keep at the heels of the second-place St. John's team and also to get back into their winning stride. With a lot at stake the two teams should stage a game that will be well worth while. The Transport-Normal game which was originally scheduled for tonight and had to be postponed will be staged next week.

He'll Get A Surprise

This loud-talking battler from Texas, Karl Davis, who declares that wrestling in Canada is too soft and characterizes most of the mat artists he has seen up here as "punks" is likely to change his mind after he has clashed with Jan Gotch here next Tuesday night in the feature bout of the weekly Tunney show. The Pole should be an opponent right after the Texan's heart for he likes to play rough all the way. Gotch is one of those wrestlers who believe that the rules do not mean a thing and who argue that there is no use bothering about science or finesse when a well-placed kick or a rabbit punch or a neat bit of strangling when the referee's attention is wandering will get results far more quickly. Whipper Watson declares that he hasn't met any one any tougher for a long time than the Pole proved to be in the three local battles with the British Empire champion. He had Watson all at sea at times with his unorthodox stuff and the Whipper had to call on all his mat knowledge and strategy to finally emerge a winner. Gotch was ahead of the champ at that most of the way and the fighting qualities he exhibited indicate that if Davis is looking for a pushover here next week he is in for a rude awakening.

* * * * * *

It should be a thrilling clash. Davis, one of the biggest grapplers to show here is a mat star who has fought tough brawls all over the continent and he has the size and strength to back up his own ideas of how wrestling should be carried on. Like Gotch the rules do not mean anything to him, except a challenge as to how many ways in which they can be broken. And the Texan hands out the rough stuff as if he really enjoys bouncing the other fellow around and punching all ambition out of him. He snaps his punches like a prize-fighter too and for a big fellow moves fast and strikes quickly. He will have poundage on Gotch and that should help him but the Pole has demonstrated that he doesn't back up, no matter how formidable the opposition. Davis will have to do something more than look tough to have any effect on Gotch who has only one style no matter how big his opponent may be and that is to stay in there punching. The two bad men should stage one of the wildest meetings of the whole season.

Only One Team

Ken Colling has the following interesting comment in his sport column on the junior hockey situation in Belleville where three junior outfits have amalgamated: "Junior hockey was given the green light at an organization meeting held at the Hume Arena Monday when Tom Fluery was named president and Wally Berry secretary and treasurer of the Belleville Juniors. Wiser heads saw the folly of attempting to operate more than one junior hockey team in Belleville, but in an effort to assure the 'teen aged lads desirous of playing the game a couple of juvenile teams will be organized for the under-18-years group who fail to obtain berths on the local Junior "B" team. Representation from three different groups attended the meeting that lasted well over three hours. Belleville Redmen, Belleville Arenas and St. Mikes A.C. were on hand seeking to sponsor junior teams here. However, only the names of 23 'teen-aged hockey players could be arrived at, so the question of three local teams are definitely out and later one team was agreed upon. Reports from Sam Curry's village indicate Tweed may be seeking admission into the local junior O.H.A. group after affiliating with the parent body. Regardless, the district is assured of the largest O.H.A. grouping in many years. Besides Trenton, Belleville and Stirling from the 1942-'43 loop, FL. "Buff" Horton has entered a junior "Flyer" squad from the No. 8 Manning Pool Depot at the Trenton R.C.A.F. base and Marmora is also a new starter, so with Tweed in the field a six-teamed group will operate."

How the hockey picture in Peterborough has changed is shown from a paragraph which appeared in this column of The Examiner just ten years ago in which it was pointed out that this city would have at least 65 organized hockey teams during that winter. That is in vivid contrast to the situation today which finds Peterborough with no O.H.A. representation and with nothing as yet done to organize 'teen age competition. In the winter of 1933-34 Peterborough had intermediate and junior O.H.A. squads, two teams in the East Peterborough League, six or seven teams in the City League, two dozen outfits in the various divisions of the Church League, possibly a dozen in the South-end League, half a dozen in a West-end loop, eight in the C.G.E. shop league and half a dozen School League clubs. There will be shop league hockey this season at the C.G.E. rink when the weather conditions permit but otherwise there is not much left of the list of flourishing loops in existence only a decade ago.

Sporting Chili Con Carne: The two Military Training Centre cage teams are scheduled to meet in a Y.M.C.A. House League game at the Y gym at 7:15 o'clock tonight....Canadiens have loaned players Mahaffey and Gauthier to the Rangers....They may help some but hardly enough to pull the New Yorkers out of the cellar....In the last 16 N.H.L. games the visiting team has failed to win....That makes it fine for the home fans all around the circuit....Fresco Thompson is out as manager of the Montreal Royals....The Intercounty League has held a successful annual meeting and is looking forward to a good season next summer. It is to be congratulated on keeping baseball alive in its section of the province....Earl McCready's knee is still giving him trouble as a result of the twist over the ropes he got in Tuesday's show here. The Moose wants another crack at Karl Davis as soon as the injured leg is better....Bob Pastor has called off his bout with Gunner Barlund scheduled for Denver next week. Pastor says he is not in proper fighting condition. He is now a boxing instructor with the United States Army.

Horse Trouble

SPOKANE, Wash., Dec. 10 — (AP).—Great Northern's No. 6 was a bit late into Spokane. The trouble, said the engineer, was a horse with a one-track mind. The animal trotted onto the track three miles out of town, and cantered leisurely along in front. The engineer fumed, whistled, slowed and even stopped, several times. The horse even negotiated a 1,474-foot bridge, 160 feet above the water, before he finally quit the rails.

Mat Villains To Meet In Torrid Tilt

Something new in main wrestling bouts will take place here next Tuesday night when Karl 'Kripler' Davis wrestles Jan Gotch, the Polish Sensation. Peterborough fans have seen many a bout here in which mat villains have been matched against more sportsmanlike opponents. But next Tuesday's main bout brings together two of the most outstanding dyed-in-the-wool badmen the wrestling game has ever produced.

Gotch stirred the populace here to a frenzy in his matches with Whipper Billy Watson and now along comes Karl Davis from Houston, Texas, who looms up as an even more ruthless mat desperado. When Davis injured Earl McCready's leg here the other night, he did it in what the fans decided was a highly illegal manner. Furthermore he gave big Earl such a torturing twist that McCready, although anxious for another chance, decided it would be better to give his torn cartilage a chance to heal before tackling this Texas Terror once more. McCready feels rather bitterly about the way Davis used the ropes to add more power to his step-over toe-hold. The usually sunny-tempered Earl is plenty disgruntled.

In the meantime Frank Tunney figures he has made an excellent match from the standpoint of the fans. With Gotch and Davis piling into each other the fans can certainly sit back and enjoy this one with the satisfaction that no one they like is getting hurt. Besides the excitement in the main bout Matchmaker Tunney stated last night that he also hoped to have another famous mat star on Tuesday's program.

To Pilot St. Paul

ST. PAUL — (AP). — President Walter Seeger announced yesterday Ray Blades, former manager of Columbus and New Orleans baseball teams, had been signed as 1944 pilot of the St. Paul American Association club, succeeding Francis Parker, who is slated for the Army.

BOWLING STAR—Walter Ward, the Cleveland bowling star who has been making a tour of service camps, took time out to roll in the National All-Star bowling tourney in Chicago and take first place with a 12-game total of 2,529 pins for a 210 average.

The Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10 —(AP)—The directors of Madison Square Garden met in solemn session last week and decided not to purchase the Yankees....A lot of folks could decide that without holding a meeting as long as the price stands at $4,000,000 or so, but the Garden directors' reason was that they didn't want to take on added problems of management at this time...Considering the Garden record, it was a good idea. The arena's three big money makers are boxing, which failed to prosper from the time Tex Rickard died until the promotion was "sublet" to Mike Jacobs; hockey, a sort of stepchild handled by a virtually independent organization; and basketball, pet propect of Ned Irish, who worked up to become active president on the strength of that game's success.

One-minute Sports Page:

Several Florida cities which never have entertained major league baseball clubs already are sending out feelers about getting them for spring training after the war....According to President Holcombe Ward of the U.S.L.T.A., tennis has raised "no less than $10,000 and probably nearer $20,000" for the Red Cross through week-end tournament....Red Dutton estimates that at least 2,000,000 people listen to the Saturday night hockey broadcasts from Toronto....And probably all of them second-guess the referee.

Jockey Killed In 3-Horse Spill

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., Dec. 10 — (AP). — Apprentice Jockey Joseph W. Pannell was killed in a three-horse spill in the eighth race at Charles Town Race Track yesterday.

Crushed under a pile-up on the club house turn, Pannell was pronounced dead from a broken neck on arrival at the Charles Town Hospital.

Two other jockeys, Ken Robertson and Vincent Bracciale, suffered slight injuries.

Pannell was to have been the principal witness in a hearing today before the Maryland Racing Commission on a charge against Jockey Matt Quinn of having offered a $150 bribe to Pannell to pull a mount in the recent Marlboro meeting.

The hearing originally had been scheduled for last Tuesday, but was postponed when Pannell notified the Commission he could not appear because of illness.

Patrol Judge Charles Gormley, stationed at the club house turn, said Pannell's mount, Five-o-Four, ran up on the heels of Janegri, stumbled and fell. Inmate, ridden by Bracciale, went down with Pannell's horse and Purport, Robertson up, crashed into the tangle.

It was the first fatal accident at the Charles Town track since it began conducting race meets in 1933.

Pannell, 19, was the leading jockey at the recent Marlboro meet, riding 16 winers in 10 days.
